

JAP DAMAGE TO FIELD ADMITTED

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Japanese planes caused "serious damage" to the American airfield on Guadalcanal island in the Solomon group, it was disclosed Tuesday night, the navy disclosed.

Navy communiqué No. 222 said:

From Pacific:

"On March 23:

(A). A force of army fighters (Lockheed P-39 aircraft) attacked the seaplane base at Rekata bay in the central Solomon. Results were not reported until U. S. planes returned (B). During the night of March 23-24, a small number of Japanese planes attacked the airfield on Guadalcanal island. There was some material damage but there were no casualties to personnel.

Guadalcanal was last attacked on the night of March 11-12 by two Japanese planes. Bombed American positions without causing casualties or damage. The attack on Thursday night was a continuation of the Japanese policy of occasional harassment.

Rekata bay on Santa Isabel island is 133 nautical miles northwest of Guadalcanal airfield and has been the post of a base of minor importance in the enemy's scheme of Solomon installations.

ALLIES REPULSE NAZIS' ATTACKS

From Paris (AP)—

South central France repulsed two heavy German counter-attacks in the vicinity of St. Quentin.

United Press correspondent C. R. Cunningham, in life field with the American forces, reported that the Germans, in response to the enemy's attack, had knocked out between 35 and 40 German tanks, including several big Mark IV tanks. The officers there used the word "superb" in describing the support that the American forces gave them.

Rommel's thrusts in the El Guettar sector, in the vicinity of the El Guettar sector, and were obvious attempts to break out of the ring that was closing in on him.

Take Axis Prisoners

The American troops took about 200 axis prisoners in the morning.

A flanking column which Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery sent around the southern end of the March line to retake Rommel's rear positions was reported to have gained a two-mile gain in the vicinity of El Hamma, about 20 miles west of Gabes. But the British advance was being opposed considerably south of the town and apparently was trying to cut quickly from the coast.

The British flanking column ran into stiff opposition at Djebel Teba, south of El Hamma, but after hard fighting the eighth army units held their positions.

An entire enemy armored division was thrown into the counter-attack. The British tanks, which were around El Guettar, the Germans finally broke under heavy artillery fire and retired. The British tanks of their armor knocking and ruined.

Indications were that the British first bold holding action was not the end of the line, was making no attempt to attack, but merely was seeking to contain the Germans.

In addition, it was pointed out, when the CCC is relieved for the $1.50 per ton support payment, through savings effected or price increases or both, the taxpayer will participate in any refund from CCC resulting from price increases, or other cause, on the same basis as that provided in his 1942 contract.

OPA SETS POINT VALUES ON MEAT

(From Paris (AP))

Meat, pig's ears, or pig's feet.

Almost all popular meat cuts have a point value of eight points a pound or less. Butcher and all rationed meats will cost eight points a pound. All canned fish is valued at seven.

Here is an example of how an average housewife with a family of three might budget the 48 points a week for her disposal:

Butter, three-fourths of a pound—six points; lard, margarine and shortening, 1½ pounds—2 points; cheese, one-fourth of a pound—two points; bacon, one-half pound—four points; round of beef, three pounds—21 points; beef liver, one-half pound—three points; hamburger, 11 ounces—three points. Total, 48 points.

This budget would give her slightly more than the amount of cooking fat and slightly less than the two pounds of meat a person should be getting in the weekly diet.

Stationing experts pointed out that by practically eliminating steaks and chops from the weekly diet and by relying heavily on meat steaks, variety meats and hamburgers, the housewife can stretch her 48 points a person without difficulty to provide two pounds of meat a week for each member of the family. At the same time have at least four points a person left over for butter and fat.

SENATORS REJECT $25,000 CEILING

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—With the approval of the Democratic leadership, the Senate voted 74 to 5 Tuesday to scrap President Roosevelt's order putting a $25,000 (after taxes) on all salaries.

The house has approved the same objective but in a different manner, so the two versions will now be thrust into a joint committee representing the two houses.

Only Senators Borah, D. Wash.; Downey, D. Calif.; and Langer, R. N. D., opposed repealing the salary limit.

The repealer is attached to an administration measure raising the salary limit on the public debt from $125,000,000,000 to $100,000,000,000. The whole bill, with the repealer, was passed on voice vote and returned to the house.

HALLIDAY SIGNS AS BRUIN COACH

Twin Falls signed a new basketball coach today when L. S. (Mack) Halliday, successful Oakley mentor, accepted a 1943-44 contract offered him by the Twin Falls school board.

Halliday will move from Oakley to Twin Falls to take over as head basketball coach, to handle the stepped-up wartime physical education program and to teach social science. It was announced by Supt. A. W. Morgan.

The new Bruin mentor is now completing his third year at Oakley, where he took over the coaching reins with departure of M. C. (Dode) Cranney for Twin Falls. Now that Cranney has left teaching to enter the seed business, Halliday once more will succeed him.

The 38-year-old coach has fielded successful Oakley football teams and impressive basketball squads. His current basketball club went to the southern Idaho tournament at Pocatello last week along with Burley as tops in Magic Valley. Both the central entrants won their opening games.

Halliday attended Weber college in Ogden, Utah, and was graduate of the University of Idaho, Moscow. He received his master's degree in education last spring at Moscow. His first teaching assignment was at Grapeland, in north Idaho, where he was instructor for two years. He then moved to Pith, remaining there seven years before going to Oakley.

UNIONISTS SUE TO END DOMINATION

CHICAGO, March 24 (AP)—Thirty-three members of the Elevator Operators and Starters union, local 66, have sued to end control of the organization by the A. F. of L. Building Service Employees International union, alleging the international had given local 66 a reputation as a "gangster-ridden labor organization."

The suit recited the 12-year history of the local and charged it had been corrupted by racketeers with the aid of police and that it had been dominated by a succession of non-union men who were sponsored by powerful outlaws forces.

The 33 members who brought suit declared they were representing the interests of 1,500 of the 3,000 members of the local. They named as defendants William L. McFetridge, head of the international, and several other officials and business agents of both the international and the local.

The defendants were charged with "despoliation" of the union treasury and conspiracy to exploit its members. The elevator operators demanded reinstatement of their elected local president, James L. O'Grady, who was suspended by McFetridge in September, 1942, in connection with a question concerning his citizenship. The suit said O'Grady offered to prove he was a citizen.

PLANTS DONATED FOR USE AT HUNT

HUNT, March 21—A small quantity of bulbs, shrubs and flower seeds has been donated to residents of the Minidoka relocation center by Twin Falls residents. Greater quantities of landscaping materials are expected following the agreement of the Twin Falls parks department to permit such donations to be left at the bandstand in the city park for pick-up by W.I.A. trucks.

Because of limited government funds to be used for beautifying the community of Japanese-Americans, the residents are making the fullest use of cuttings, roots, bulbs and seed which are given to them. Hunt is located in an area cleared of sagebrush less than a year ago and the soil is bare of vegetation.

Numerous small victory gardens are springing up in the center and some sort of landscaping program with donated materials is planned to tie down the loose soil before the dust season arrives. High school students are taking vocational training in agriculture and will operate small plots of ground and possibly a poultry project.

In order to use all donated plants and seeds in the most effective way, it was requested that donors attach a small tag to their contributions, stating the plant variety and name of donor.

THE ENEMY's forced you to rationing. Now he'd make your engine the victim of vicious acid. The mere stopping of your engine always leaves it stuffed with vile fumes and dilute acids — the over-present products of combustion. And there they stay.

Formerly these sources of corrosion were kept mostly cleared out, because you drove frequently and fast. But now in saving coupons and tires you may not soon use your car again, and you don't make those long speedy runs that maintained normal engine heat a good while, to help drive acids off. That's why harmful leftovers in the cylinders nowadays are serious. But you can combat their dirty work by keeping your engine internally OIL-PLATED.

How? Just change to Conoco Nth motor oil this Spring. It's made under U. S. Patent No. 1,944,941, covering an added modern synthetic

VOTING RECORDS OF IDAHO SOLONS

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Four roll calls were held in the senate last week concerning the determination of farmers from military service.

The house had two calls, one increasing the debt limit and voting out the President's $25,000,000 limitation on salaries, and the other granting a pay increase to postal employees.

Both Idaho senators, Clark, Democrat, and Thomas, Republican, voted against a substitute to give civilian and military manpower quotas. The amendment was defeated.

Immediately following the failure of the amendment a motion to recommit the bill was made, also failing.

23-31. Idaho senators voted exactly the same on this motion.

Both Vote Favorably

Clark and Thomas favored an amendment by Johnson, D. Colo., increasing a farmer on the basis of "substantially full time" production of crops designated essential by the government. It was approved 51-22.

In its final form the bill is deferred from selective service 7 men employed substantially full time in the production of essential food and fibers. It passed the senate 50-24, and was sent to the house. The Idaho Senators voted the same on the bill as on the Johnson amendment.

House Voting

In the house, last week, the only controversial measure was the one increasing the debt limit. The bill, H. R. 1289, increasing the statutory debt limit of the United States, to which was tacked the holy-debtor amendment, which in effect scrapped the President's limitation on salaries of $25,000,000 for the last two years. The bill and rider passed, 248-120.

Idaho representatives divided exactly on party lines. Republicans supported the bill, Democrats opposing it. Voting yes was Dworak and White.

On a bill (H. R. 1268) to raise pay of postal employees $300 a year for the duration and six months thereafter (approved 281-4). White voted yes. Dworak did not vote.

BEE STING TWO HORSES TO DEATH

MARYSVILLE, Colo., March 24 (AP)—Bee stung two farm horses to death and severely injured their driver in a savage attack at a ranch near Lake Oka.

The horses were pulling a haywagon driven by Collins. As they passed a group of about 20 bees swarmed yesterday. The bees swarmed out, descending on the horses and Collins like a blanket, and similarly covering the hay load.

Collins, trapped, tried to get out and tried to unhitch the horses, but he had run for his life.

His wife, Blanche, and a son, Clark, who was with him, tried to get out, but they were unsuccessful in releasing the horses.

The animals were so swarmed they could not stand. The bees continued attacking them for three hours, long after they were dead.

Here's a Woman Who Really Knows What Red Cross Does

Mrs. J. P. Bacca, 263 Fifth avenue east, is one Twin Falls woman who knows what the Red Cross emblem stands for—sympathetic, gracious and adequate help for suffering people.

Mrs. Bacca, wife of the project engineer at Hunt, went to Hawaii in June, 1941, where her husband was then employed as a government engineer. She was accompanied by their four children.

Then came Pearl Harbor, and it was considered advisable to evacuate women and children. With the strain of attack and the fear that the Japanese would return to a hostile defense had been crippled, Mrs. Bacca hurried through preparations to leave, and then waited tensely by the telephone—tired to be ready to leave two hours after being notified.

On the ship the Red Cross emblem and training card in such case, says Mrs. Bacca. "The vessel was generally crowded. There were 100 women and children on board, with 12 or 13 to a stateroom. Many had no food, and some had no clothing. As we neared the mainland the Red Cross workers were immediately furnished sweaters, caps, coats, shoes and other warm clothing, free of charge."

"One woman became hysterical during rough weather. I pulled out of an upper bunk and broke her leg. The Red Cross met the boat with an ambulance and took her to the hospital. On board ship Red Cross workers ran a nursery for the children, and gave the mothers all sorts of needed help."

Mrs. Bacca reports that the Red Cross met the only agency to meet the boat in San Francisco, and it was ready with coffee and sandwiches for adults, and milk for children. The refugees were taken to the civil auditorium in San Francisco, and the children cared for there while their mothers arranged for transportation to their destinations.

Those who had nowhere to go were allowed to stay at a hotel house at Fort Mason, San Francisco, and there Mrs. Bacca and the children spent several weeks awaiting Mr. Bacca's arrival from Honolulu.

To Mrs. Bacca the trip from Honolulu was a nightmare, and she says the Red Cross knew that in sharp relief. The Bacca's child was born about a month after the ship left the islands. The crowded condition of the boat accentuated all other troubles and inconveniences. The passengers were their littlest most of the time, in fear of submarines and bombing planes, Mrs. Bacca said.

Another incident is recalled by

Mrs. Bacca, which shows a different type of service performed by the Red Cross. This concerns the wife of a sailor with one small child, who died in giving birth to a second child. The Red Cross came to the rescue and nursed the mother to company the two babies to the father's mother on the mainland. There was a few weeks came Pearl Harbor, and he was drowned when the Arizona went down. Without the aid of the Red Cross, these two orphaned babies would have been stranded in the islands.

Service During Attack

Mrs. Bacca has a clear recollection of the first service performed by the American Red Cross in this war—when the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor. During the first attack the Red Cross evacuated women and children from Hickam field and Pearl City to the University of Hawaii, and then found these homes where they could be sheltered until their return to the mainland was arranged. During the second attack, on the same day, the Red Cross workers were under fire constantly, helping the wounded, and rushing women and children from the bombed areas. Their blood bank and surgical dressings were invaluable. St. Louis college was immediately turned into a Red Cross hospital.

"I have seen the Red Cross in action," said Mrs. Bacca, "and I know its service has a value that can't be measured in money. I hope everyone contributes to the war fund drive as generously as he possibly can."

A circus python once swallowed whole a goat that weighed 85 pounds.

WPB EXPECTS TO OUTFIT CANNERS

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—The government is ready for a rush by housewives to get home canning equipment.

An all-time record home canning season is expected because of food rationing and the victory garden program, but the war production board reported this belief that it has provided enough jars, lids and rubber rings to meet demands.

There won't be as many pressure cookers as housewives want, WPB said, although steps have been taken to permit the production of 150,000 cookers, twice as many as last year.

WPB has released enough metal to permit manufacture of almost all types of lids, jar rings and other closures. More than 3,000,000 new ones will be turned out, and these will supplement an estimated two billion old covers which are fit for re-use.

These lids are banned but four other types of closures are being made. About 600,000,000 will be self-sealing, three-piece unit, consisting of rubber ring, flat glass cap and metal disks.

Also being made are about 150,000,000 one-piece metal caps, with top seal and others for use with shoulder seal rubber rings, to be used like the steel lids. More than 70,000,000 jars complete with wire closures, glass lids and rubber rings also are to be turned out.

CHALLENGE CHATTER MIX

The three barbed dinner held the crowd at Sky Harbor until 9 p. m. also held Jimmy Carr and his pals. Jimmy Carr, the reception committee had thoughtfully arranged no night program. This would give the flyers a chance to rest.

As soon as he could manage it, Jimmy slipped away from the big, white airplanes and went to speak with Lorraine. Ed Bryan had stayed near her, on guard.

"I can tell you are furious, Lorraine," Jimmy began, earnestly. "But I want to talk to you, I can explain everything."

"Somebody'd better!" she grunted out.

"I wouldn't say much without thinking, Miss Stuart," Ed Bryan said, in definite warning again. "Now or any other time. These plumb airtail larks about flashing around guns and fake Army orders. So long, Captain. I'll be seeing you at the hotel tonight."

When he had gone, Jimmy drove straight to the police.

"This had to happen," he told the girl. "You must be it in the vicinity of Lorraine. You simply must!"

"That Bryan—he pulled me out of the airplane!"

"I know he did. And I know he brought Patricia Friday out here. In fact I ordered him to. Lorraine wanted Pat put back as the passenger. You remember how I kept you hidden at the take-off in Chicago? Wouldn't let news photographers on the field? That was done on purpose."

"But why?"

"Because it had to be! There's too much at stake. Colonel Purely, the Army—they're banking on this airplane trip! Coast to coast. Millions of publicity. It's a real chance to get soaring to the U. S. A. And we can't afford to let a kind of mixup spoil it. We want it to go off smoothly. And by George it will do you no harm."

She didn't answer him. Her lips were taut.

"Lorraine, I know you got a dirty break. But if you couldn't be ready at the start here in Elmore, then I just had to run in a substitute. I'll only be a few days more. Now you're mad, and I understand it, so I'll be alone. But you go to that hotel and meet us for breakfast, all sugar and smiles. Okay, sweetie?"

Jimmy still didn't answer. Perhaps Ed Bryan's warning and Jimmy's plea both helped her to control herself. She was already in the hotel dining room next morning when Jimmy and Pat and Ed came in.

"Good morning, Lorraine," Pat said, as cordially as she could. Both men spoke heartily, too. They all drew up chairs to her table, uninvited. And the waiters began to clear them.

Lorraine was cooler now. "Hello," she managed, flat tone.

Pat said, "Lorraine, we — we aren't doing any bluffing. Not among us four. I can tell you that I was as astonished as you were, just —"

"Right," Ed Bryan nodded.

—but I understand why Ed and Jimmy felt they had to do what they did. You must believe us when we say this is not personal. You were not treated abominably. At least no more than —"

Practical Ed Bryan stepped in again. "No more than you was treated in Chicago, Miss Friday. Not as much, in fact. You're the

MILITARY CASTE AGAIN COMMANDS

LONDON, March 24.—The recently-reported return of the old military caste to influence in the German high command has been confirmed further by news and reliable information from inside of Germany, a well-posted continental source revealed.

This source, whose name could not be disclosed, reported that the high command was organized as follows:

Hitter remains as the supreme commander of all the reich's armed forces in the nature of a President. Roosevelt is commander-in-chief for the United States.

Chief of the high command is Field Marshal Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, who held the post for more than two years. Under him are the chief of the "war machine" (Führerstab) and the "war machine" (Führerstab) (armed forces guidance—staff, Gen. Alfred Jodl, long Hitler's personal military adviser; deputy chief of the guidance staff is Gen. Franz Halder, and chief of the army headquarters, Gen. Fritz Eichel von Manstein.

Maj. Gen. Richard K. Sutherland, above, is Gen. Douglas MacArthur's chief of staff in Australia. He recently returned to this country from the south Pacific in company with other officers of the command.

WAR BRINGS NEW TYPE OF INJURY

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 24.—Sound waves which travel under water at a speed of four-fifths of a mile a second, four times faster than sound in air, are giving navy doctors a new kind of injury to care for.

The sound waves come from depth bombs or any other heavy damper by one particle bumping the next, which in turn passes the bump along to a third particle.

This seemingly tiny agitation goes faster than a rifle bullet at muzzle velocity, and it kills anyone in the water within about 50 feet. Snaar said that at that distance it was possible to wave ruptured internal organs. That was not a victim has been recovered to find out.

The wave still causes injury and the casualties death up to 150 feet from the explosion. More than 30 victims have been under observation in the Philadelphia hospital.

A few who died show that the waves damages masses of tiny blood vessels in abdomen. That in turn causes a visceral irritation that produce small ulcers. These may be fatal by causing perforations.

Men swimming on their backs are most likely to die from the injury than those on their stomachs.

"I have a sweet tooth—under the circumstances, you'd better pull it!"

Hero of Marines' Raid Visits Filer

Cpl. Edward R. Wyzal, whose exploits in a raid on Makin Island in the Gilbert group last summer made him one of the earlier marine heroes in this war, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Wyzal, Filer.

When the marine, attached Makin Island, Wyzal threw a grenade into a nest of Japs and left only two of them slaving. One he disposed of with his pistol, and he used a knife on the other as he climbed to attack.

Corporal Wyzal enlisted in the marines at Portland, Ore., in 1935.

YOUNG AVIATORS DOWN 7 PLANES

BY HAROLD V. HOYLE
AT AN ADVANCED UNITED STATES AIR BASE IN TUNISIA, March 22 (Delayed) (AP)—Three young fliers who in blazing sky battles shot down seven enemy aircraft—one was knocked down with a blow of a wing—led the scoring today when a United States Spitfire group destroyed eight German planes for the most successful day since they set wheels down in Tunisia.

One group of pilots, returning from a raid in which a dozen Spitfires shot down five Ju 88s, shot down 109's in dogfights only a few feet off the ground, leaped from the planes they brought back without a scratch and should like excited football players after scoring a touchdown. "Did you see me get that one? Let's go back and do it all over again while the engines still are warm."

A series of hair-raising aerial adventures in the course of the fighting during three smashes at enemy airfields made this one of the most memorable days for fighter pilots in the four and one-half month campaign in Tunisia.

The day's chief heroes included: Lt. Col. Van Dusen, 1st, shot 20-year-old former RAF pilot, St. Louis, Mo., who shot into blazing ruin a Pöck-Vufl 100 (trying to save an airport and baited down another with the wing of his plane as he turned to meet the enemy craft, climbing down.)

Capt. Norman L. McDonald, 25, Framingham, Mass., who, unaided, blew two Junkers five off the sea.

Lt. Robert Armstrong, 24, 24-year-old flier of Knoxville, Tenn., who personally accounted for three of the five Messerschmitts banded about in the low-level dogfights from which only one German plane escaped unscathed.

Hunt's Red Cross Total Now $2,564

HUNT, March 24.—The Mindoka relocation center contributed $2,564 to the American Red Cross in the current campaign. A few sections have not yet reported and they are expected to boost the total slightly higher.

The staff members of the war relocation authority which administers this community of Japanese-Americans contributed $300 and the rest was raised by the residents including school children. The total raised was more than twice the quota set. Residents of the center have no salary income except workers can receive monthly wages of $12, $10 or $19 depending upon their skill.
