BELT-TIGHTENING STARTS FOR U.S. NEW RAISONS

By IRVING PERLMUTTER

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—War-time belt-tightening is really hit home today as rationing of meat, butter and allied products began. New coupon code this year prevented fruits and vegetables also went into effect.

The average American, who has been one of the world's biggest per capita consumers of meat, could buy pork, beef, lamb or mutton today only on the 10 points of the red A stamp in his No. 2 ration book. Sixteen points will buy two pounds of steak this week—it is available—but most people will want to use some of those points to buy other cuts of meat and also butter, lard, cheese, vegetable shortening, canned fish and salad oil.

Tough on Housewife
Meat-planning problems of the housewife were doubly tough because many of the coupon values of processed foods that she tried so hard to learn during the last four weeks were changed, some up and some down.

On the bright side, she could buy prunes, raisins and other dry fruits and apple juice without coupons. She could also buy other fruits and vegetables and dehydrated soups. The old standby of canned baked beans was higher in point value than other items. It was difficult to buy canned fresh lima beans, catsup and canned applesauce, fruit salad and cocktail, peaches and pineapple.

Summarizing the kitchen ration in effect today, the coupon situation was as follows:
Here's Summary
Meat, Cheese, Canned Fish, Butter, Lard and Other Fats and Oils—This week use only red A stamp in ration book No. 2. This stamp is valid for one pound of meat, one pound of cheese, one pound of canned fish, one pound of butter, one pound of lard, and one pound of other fats and oils.

Processed Fruits and Vegetables, Canned Soups and Beans—This week use only red A stamp in ration book No. 2. This stamp is valid for one pound of processed fruits and vegetables, one pound of canned soups, and one pound of beans.

British Capture Nazi Paratrooper in Tunisia

The German paratrooper being captured by soldiers of the British first army in Tunisia was one of a "packet" of axis troops rounded up following a skirmish near Sidi Jenein, in the "Tally-ho" corner of northern Tunisia.

Russians Wipe out Nazi Wedge on Kharkov Front

MOSCOW, March 29 (AP)—Russian troops, for the second time in 24 hours, wiped out a German wedge in the Kharkov front today while comrades to the north seized four hamlets in the defense ring around Smolensk.

(There was no Soviet confirmation of the German claim to have recaptured Sevsk, 85 miles northwest of Kursk. At last Russian reports a fortnight ago, the Russians were fighting west of Sevsk.)

The fighting in Russia everywhere was on a dispiriting scale as spring rains battered roads into quagmires and streams overflowed their banks, hampering fields and forcing the German to retreat. The midday communiqué prefaced its breakdown on the fronts with the announcement that there were no substantial changes on any of them.

Along the middle curve of the upper Donets river, the communiqué said, the Russians permitted the German to drive a wedge into their lines, then encircled and annihilated it in an enveloping movement from the flank. The German left 200 dead.

The Sunday midnight communiqué said a Soviet counter-attack wiped out a German advance that had carried to the edge of a village north of Chuguev, 25 miles southwest of Kharkov. Here 300 of the enemy were killed and a tank and self-propelled gun destroyed.

The rupture of all German attempts to cross the Donets was reported to the high command. Batter at Smolensk
On the central front, the Russians were battering the main German defense lines defending Smolensk. Three of the newly-captured towns lay south of Belzhitsa, northeast of Smolensk, while the fourth, seized in hand-to-hand fighting, was believed to be to the east of the axis bastion.

The communiqué said a German counter-attack south of Belzhitsa was repulsed with the loss of 1,000 men. The reason for the German attack was a German thrust back into the town of Rostov, red air force planes and Russian gunners were credited with fighting was believed to be to the east of the axis bastion.

Rommel's Forces Retreat North After Heavy Losses

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, March 29 (AP)—Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Mareth line defenses have collapsed under the pounding of the British eighth army and his forces are retreating northward with heavy losses. It was announced today.

Scattered pockets of resistance were left behind, but Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's infantrymen were reported mopping them up, one by one, as allied aerial squadrons joined ground forces in powerful attacks along the axis escape corridor.

The Mareth line broke on a 25-mile front at three points, ranging from 20 to 30 miles from the axis supply port of Gabala.

Beset by powerful forces forward and the desert flanking column at El Hamma in his rear, Rommel yielded. He ordered his forces to retreat northward, and the Mareth fortifications yesterday and dispatches said that every strong point of that 40-mile-long "little Maginot" line was now in allied hands. These were the strong holds on which Rommel depended to delay the closing of the allied noose.

"The attack was launched on the axis supply line, the axis army's main position, south of El Hamma and has forced the enemy to withdraw from the Mareth line," the communiqué said in opening its account of the victory.

The southern front developments were reported with allied gains bold at the great and in the north. United States troops made progress yesterday through difficult country east of El Qusair in one movement of the push toward the Mediterranean coast. The Gaba line.

"In the Maktaria and Foudouk areas, the axis forces were forced to retreat northward," the communiqué said in opening its account of the victory.

CHICAGO "BLACK MARKET" BARED

CHICAGO, March 29 (UP)—The Chicago Sun said today that an "enormous black market" in gasoline threatens to disrupt rationing in Chicago.

The Sun said it had learned by investigation that one out of every four gasoline stations is willing to sell gas to motorists who claim to have used up their stamps.

The Sun said its investigations also disclosed:

- "Evidence of widespread activity in the buying and selling of ration tickets."
- "The most every station operator willing to sell gasoline in exchange for loose coupons of all types."
- "Not a single retailer who paid any attention to the fact that cars did not have even a ration sticker on their windshields."
- "Motorists and retailers completely disregarding the section of the rationing regulations which require entering the correct automobile license numbers on the back of each ration ticket."
- "The Sun said it also had discovered 'widespread acceptance of ration tickets which were not yet valid.'"

Michael P. Mulcahy, Chicago division chief, said that the investigation, said however, that the regulations are being enforced, and there is no 'black market' in gasoline in Chicago."

Some Stores Low

The problem of buying meat also was complicated by a last minute rationing of meat. Many stores had no more of a little on hand.

But the shortage and uneven supplies of meat that caused rationing in the first place, the situation was aggravated because thousands of people bought up all the hams, roasts and other meats available for a last minute rationing of meat. As a result, the rationing of meat, which was supposed to be a last minute rationing of meat, will take time before the supply throughout the entire country is adjusted.

SHAKEUP HINTED IN NAZI CIRCLES

By JACK FLEISCHER
STOCKHOLM, March 29 (UP)—The sudden deaths of two German diplomats tended today to substantiate reports of an impending shakedown in the Nazi foreign ministry, possibly involving the ouster of Joachim von Ribbentrop.

Reports have become more persistent lately that Ribbentrop had lost the favor of Adolf Hitler and was either on the way out or would be "kicked upstairs" to a new, but insignificant position.

These reports came from various sources closely connected with Berlin and were given credence by the deaths—both within a few days—of Hans von Molke and Hans von Helldorf, long-term friends in the Nazi foreign ministry.

Molke, German ambassador to Spain, died at Madrid last week while recovering from an operation for appendicitis. Helldorf, a high official of the Berlin diplomatic staff, was executed for opposition to the Nazi government.

Both had served in the German embassy at Warsaw before the outbreak of war. Molke was ambassador and Helldorf was first secretary.

It was reported that Helldorf was the weekend, that possibly may be linked with the shakedown in the Nazi foreign ministry.

It was believed here that Ribbentrop has become involved in trouble with the Nazi hierarchy or else that Hitler desires to replace him merely for an outward showing of a reorganization of foreign policy.

Both Field Marshal Hermann Goering and Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels intensely dislike Ribbentrop, but the latter foreign minister until now had maintained Hitler's confidence and also had the strong support of the Gestapo chief, Heinrich Himmler.

It would be foolish to believe that Hitler has suffered any change of heart regarding foreign policy, which certainly maintains the Nazi character—but he might have hopes of pulling a diplomatic maneuver to upset Hitler's plans.

TETON MONUMENT PROBE REQUESTED

BOISE, March 29 (UP)—The Idaho state Chamber of Commerce has asked the state congressional delegation to investigate circumstances of the presidential order creating a new Teton national monument in Wyoming, contending that "an important national precedent is involved."

In a statement by Secretary Earl W. Murphy, the chamber said it believed the action "should be challenged by those who still believe that executive authority should not be used to obtain objectives that have been definitely disapproved by legislative authority."

Congress in 1934, the chamber said, declined to vote on a proposal to include in a national park area the region embraced in the new monument. The area includes the Jackson Hole area of western Wyoming and adjacent Grand Teton national park.

Idaho is interested, the statement explained, because water from Jackson lake is used for irrigation in this state.

Gowen Worker, 43, Dies After Fight

BOISE, March 29 (UP)—Two men were held in Ada county jail today in connection with the death of John Allen Tucker, 43, who died shortly before midnight Saturday at his apartment following a fight at a Boise night club.

The two are Billy Storey, 22, and Bill Foster, 33, proprietor James H. Blaine said an "inquest" probably would be held later this week. He added that an investigation into Tucker's death is continuing.

Coroner William McGinnis said an autopsy revealed Tucker, a Gowen field construction worker, suffered a broken nose, a frontal skull fracture and various cuts, bruises and abrasions.

Tucker was born in Carson City, Nev., Nov. 21, 1900. Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Georgia Stevens of Boise; two brothers, Clayton Tucker of Spokane, Wash., and William Tucker of Seattle, and a sister, Mrs. Reta Wyse of Boise.

WENDELL PALMER TAKES NEW JOB

BOURLEY, March 29—Wendell W. Palmer, county agent for Cassia county the past 16 years, has resigned his position here to take a job as relocation officer for the war relocation authority, with headquarters in Idaho Falls.

Palmer will take a 10-day training course in Salt Lake City and then will go to Idaho Falls. His wife and children plan to join him there.

As one of the outstanding county agents in the state, Mr. Palmer has built up farm crops and livestock herds to the value of millions of dollars. He is now president of the Idaho County Agents' association, and is the second man in Idaho to have received the certificate for distinguished service from the United States extension service.

Probably the most outstanding work under direction of Mr. Palmer has been the development of dairy herds. Several large herds have been developed here, and the average class of dairy cows is greatly improved. Several bull stud organizations have been formed with his cooperation.

In 1924 he organized the first wool pool and the first young lamb market in the state. In 1933 a hog pool was organized. In 1938 the pool was merged into the Cassia County Livestock Marketing association, which he manages.

Mr. Palmer has also been a leader

EDUCATORS SCAN SYSTEM AT HUNT

HUNT, March 29—Members of the South Central Idaho Schoolmasters and their guests—numbering approximately 175—inspected the school system of the Minidoka relocation center when they held a regular meeting here Friday night.

After having dinner in the staff dining hall, which was followed by a program, the group visited the hospital, several elementary school rooms and the high school.

Richard Pomeroy was the principal speaker at the meeting, held in the dining hall following the tour of inspection. Pomeroy is education director at Hunt, and president of the Idaho Education association.

The program following the dinner consisted of singing by a male quartet composed of Abe Hagihara, Masaru Horiochi, Mike Hagihara, and Yoshio Uchida, with Miyeko Hagihara as accompanist, and tap dancing by Lucy Teit and Yuki Sato, with music by Kyo Tsuboi.

It was announced that this was the last meeting of the organization for the year.

In attendance from Twin Falls were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Flett, Mr. and Mrs. Chancy W. Abbott and Mrs. Doris Stradley.

How to become an Aviation Cadet TODAY

An Announcement of Vital Importance to Every Young American Who Wants to Fly for His Country

* This announcement is made with the approval of the Joint Army-Navy Personnel Board.

Our Army Air Forces, swiftly and steadily expanding, are striking terror in the hearts of Axis leaders. No nation on earth has developed air power so vast or so deadly in its effectiveness. The fighting fliers who man those thousands of sleek new planes will play a mighty part in the final victory. And the opportunity to be one of them is still open to you!

Here is how you can become a U.S. Army Aviation Cadet

1. If you are 18 to 26 years old, inclusive, and have not yet been called for induction under Selective Service, you may apply at once at the nearest Aviation Cadet Examining Board to take your physical and mental examinations. No school or college credits are required. If you pass the examinations and are found acceptable, you will be given a letter to the Armed Forces Induction Station requesting your assignment to the Army Air Forces upon induction. You may then volunteer for induction through your local Selective Service Board. After induction you will be assigned for preparatory training, upon completion of which you will receive

2. If you have already been called for induction, you cannot apply direct for Aviation Cadet training. But upon induction, if you are assigned to the Army, you have the same opportunity open to every soldier, 18 to 26 years old, inclusive, to apply for Aviation Cadet training after you are in the ranks.
3. If you are 17 but not yet 18, you can now to your Aviation Cadet Examining Board and volunteer for enlistment in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve. If you pass the physical and mental examinations and are accepted, after you become 18 you will be assigned for preparatory training, leading to appointment as an Aviation Cadet. Enlistment under the age of 18 requires parents' or guardians' consent.

You may apply at the nearest Aviation Cadet Examining Board or write to The Adjutant General, Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. William Watt have returned from southern California where they visited relatives. Mrs. James H. Shields has gone to California to visit her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. La Vern Hunsaker are the parents of a son born at the Wendell hospital, March 26. Mr. Hunsaker has employed a nursemaid.

Mrs. Grace French will finish the year as teacher in the Lincoln building, for Mrs. Betty Lewis, who has resigned to go with her husband, Lieutenant Lewis, to Camp Polk, La. The annual congregational meeting will be held the evening of March 31. A pot-luck dinner will precede the meeting.

LET'S GO! VICTORY GARDENERS!

Victory Garden GUIDE

Realizing that America needs millions of Victory Gardens, the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce urges every member of our community to do his or her share in this great movement. America MUST have at least 6 million farm gardens and 12 million city, town and suburban gardens. Vegetables and fruits from these gardens will make a real contribution to the total civilian food supply, especially of those vital elements--the vitamins and minerals needed for sustained well-being. You, as a member of our community, are urged to do your part--Idaho is the garden spot of America--and as such we must put ourselves in a position where we may supply our own needs. We can--and will--to the end that our armed forces and metropolitan centers will be able to draw upon the commercial supply.

THREE BULLETINS AVAILABLE TO YOU TO AID YOUR EFFORTS

Here are three bulletins which will enable you to make the most of your efforts. Issued by the agricultural departments of the University of Idaho, they are available to you through the office of the Twin Falls County Agent, your seed dealer or your minister. The ministerial association is co-operating to the fullest extent in this nationally important program.

VEGETABLE GARDENING for home and defense. Extension Bulletin 132.

DEFEND YOUR VEGETABLES AGAINST INSECT ATTACKS. Extension Circular No. 77.

FREEZING PRESERVATION OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES. Defense Circular No. 27.

These bulletins will help you in the planting, cultivation and the final preservation of your vegetables or fruit. Highly important, you are urged to make full use of them.

Some DON'TS for Gardeners

- ★ DON'T START WHAT YOU CAN'T FINISH
Before you plant a garden, count the work involved even before seedtime and through to harvest. Abandoned gardens are a waste of seed, fertilizer, tools, insecticides and labor.
- ★ DON'T WASTE GOOD SEED ON BAD SOIL
Gardens need good, well-drained soil, not the usual kind of city lots where soil is usually stumps and rubbish. Places where weeds flourish are promising garden spots.
- ★ DON'T WORK THE GROUND TOO SOON
Starting too early will spoil the soil. When a piece of earth will crumble apart as you hold it or press it between your fingers, the soil is dry enough to cultivate. Make sure yours is.
- ★ DON'T USE TOO MUCH SEED
Crops seeded too thick will come up close together, they will need lots of thinning. Learn how to space the seed you use. Overseeding wastes seed and labor. Waste won't win.
- ★ DON'T PLANT TOO MUCH OF ONE THING
Too much of any vegetable, even if it comes from your own garden, is hard to take unless you are sure someone else can use the surplus you can't use. Plant a variety of things.
- ★ DON'T LET THE POLE BEANS BLACK-OUT THE BEETS
In fact, don't let any of the tall crops shade the short ones, whatever they are! Growing things must get sun. Plant climbers, like beans, to the north; short ones, to the south.
- ★ DON'T WIELD TOO HEAVY A HOE
Vegetable roots grow near the surface. They are tender, too. When you cultivate them deeply, you injure the roots and slow up growth. Shallow cultivation is the rule for gardens.
- ★ DON'T SPARE THE WATER--OR USE TOO MUCH!
Light sprinkling brings roots up to the surface. That's bad. Thorough soaking pushes down the roots, and keeps them down there where they belong. Soak only when the ground is dry.
- ★ DON'T LET THE WEED CROP WIN
Amateur gardeners often dream about dishes full of luscious fresh vegetables the moment they put their seed in. While they dream, the weeds sometimes become the major crop.
- ★ DON'T LET THE BUGS BEAT YOU
Gardeners must be on the alert from the beginning to end for insect armies and the onset of disease. Be ready with spray gun, duster and the proper death-dealing equipment.
- ★ DON'T LET ANYTHING GO TO WASTE
If your garden yields too much for you to eat or to preserve for yourself, see that someone else gets the left-overs. They'll help get the job of Victory done!
