Twin Falls High Choir, Orchestra Present Concert

Before a backdrop of a huge American flag, members of the orchestra and a cappella choir of the Twin Falls high school presented their annual spring concert Tuesday evening.

Unusual feature of the program was the appearance of four student conductors. The concert opened with the "Overture to Oedipus at Colonus," Schmidt, led by Miss Nadine Boettcher. Miss Grace Wiegman then directed the orchestra in the "Bereavement" by Joseph, Godard.

Burtion Albertson, employed at Hink, took over the leadership of the cappella choir in the absence of his sister, Miss Marjorie Albertson, director of the group. Their first selection was the unique "Ezra Song" by L. Laux in which several members of the choir sang the "echo" from a far corner of the balcony. This followed "The Willing Swan," Gibbons; "I Am the Wind," Dawson; and "September Water Color," McKay.

Richard H. Smith took up the baton to lead the orchestra in the first movement of "Symphony in B Minor," No. 8, Schubert.

A group of spirituals was the final offering of the choir. "Go Not Far From Me, O Lord," Morgan; "Listen to the Lambs," arranged by Dell, and "Hear Me Pray," arranged by Wright.

Miss Duhila DeWitt led the orchestra in the "Ballet Music, La Gioconda," Ponchielli; Overture to "The Barber of Seville," Rossini, conducted by Richard Smith provided the finale to an evening of fine music.

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP)—Paul S. Willis, president of the grocery manufacturers of America, urged food manufacturers to use advertising to help the government in the war effort is not yet appreciated by the government or the public.

He said thousands of men are leaving the farms under the delusion that they can contribute more to the war effort by working in a factory.

In a drive to muster the full strength of the food industry's newspaper advertising belted a public information campaign. Willis said he had mailed copies of a pamphlet on "war effort" advertising to members of the association.

Titled "How Industry Can Cooperate With the U. S. Crops Corps Information Plan," the pamphlet gives detailed instructions on how manufacturers can tie their advertising into the plan to recruit 5,000,000 farm help volunteers this summer.

Probe Asked After Maritime Head OK

Soft Suit Is Basis for "Two Season" Wardrobe

By ROSELEEN CALLAHAN, NLA Staff Writer

This is probably the latest suit you ever wore. Women who want a warm "two-season" Easter outfit that will not only carry them through the spring but which they can wear next fall and under winter overcoat, will find the suit their best bet.

Highlighted in all collections, this season are the soft suits which may be worn all year around and for any occasion. Possessing beautiful detailing and time-lasting fabrics, they take to accessories like a kitten to cream.

Worn with a hand-made sheer blouse and flower hat, they appeal spring. Or complemented by a metallic skirt, they make a perfect costume for fall festivities. Pick a dark color and the simplest of styling, and you'll have a suit good this year and a year or two to come.

Gray, I-A in this year's color classification, lays claim to being tops for year-round suitability. Team it up with sparkling white accessories, and it shouts Easter. Switch the white for black blouse, belt and gloves, and presto, it's fall fashion at its best.

LABOR SITUATION IN IDAHO BETTER

BOISE, March 31 (AP)—Idaho's farm crops can be saved and food production hopes realized if farmpeople, school children and all others come to the assistance of the farm in filling in the gaps left by current labor shortages. Governor Bottolfsen has told workers in filling in the gaps left by current labor shortages. Governor Bottolfsen has told workers in filling in the gaps left by current labor shortages.

Members of the state farm labor committee, reported to the chief executive after an all-day conference, advised the governor that current reports show the labor situation to have improved somewhat over the conditions anticipated earlier in the year, to the extent that if as much help is received from non-farm sources this spring as was available last fall, the spring peak labor needs can be met.

They emphasized, however, that demands on non-farm workers again will be necessary.

Bottolfsen Gratified
Governor Bottolfsen, commenting on the report, said it is gratifying to learn that even in our outlying communities where help will be needed the most we will be able to do more by helping ourselves than we would have been able to by relying on an influx of laborers from other states.

"I am pleased, also, that the state selective service leaders, in compliance with national selective service orders, have eased the tension by not calling up men who are needed in the vital work of producing food on our farms. I am confident now that we can all work together to get our harvest."

Counsellor Study Cited
J. W. Barber, secretary of the committee, reported that studies made by George Counsellor, showed that by use of Japanese, all available town workers, and increased use of school children, the planting, hoeing and thinning seasons needs could be met.

"We haven't yet been able to force exactly what this will be for the autumn," he said.

The situation apparently has eased somewhat because of reduced acreage to be planted in sugar beets, which require much attention, and because of the numbers of Japanese-Americans to be available for farm work from the relocation center at Tule Lake.

Victory farm volunteer groups in several schools in south central and southwestern Idaho promise to have students available for farm work, he said. In addition, it is proposed to set up one all-mother young camp in Canyon county to supply workers for farm needs, and in addition several shorter camps for periods of two or three weeks at needed-at peak seasons elsewhere in the state.

DECLO
Forrest Wayne Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Elliott, has enlisted in the navy and left for training at Camp Parrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Romaine Jensen and daughter, Providence, Utah, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alma Clark, Declo. They also visited relatives at Albion.

Ernest Ted Kelsey, who has been with the navy on duty in the south Pacific for two months, has returned to a Pacific coast port. He was with a sea plane tender, Sea Scouts that he sent home included a table cloth woven from the bark of the coconut tree, a woven basket and a miniature canoe. Ernest Kelsey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kelsey, Declo.

Edith Fisher, Salt Lake City, visited at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Fisher.

Clara Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wright, underwent a tonsil operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Military Police

Here's one of the most unusual pictures in the west. If not the nation—a Twin Falls man and wife who are both members of the army military police. They are Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Vanaunder, serving with the quartermaster's military police unit stationed at the Utah Q. M. depot at Ogden. (Staff Photo-Engraving)

They're Both in Uniform Now: Man, Wife Serve With M. P.s

When you call for Military Police in Twin Falls, you're likely to get two replicas—one masculine, one feminine.

Because Mr. and Mrs. Blair C. Vanaunder, longtime Twin Falls residents, are both uniformed members of the quartermaster's military police unit at Ogden. They're serving at the Utah quartermaster depot, their son, Donald, is with the U. S. engineers somewhere overseas.

Military service is nothing new to this unusual pair. Mr. Vanaunder served with the 42nd aviation section of the signal corps in World War I, and Mrs. Vanaunder was a member of the emergency unit in that war.

Both have been prominent in Twin Falls activities of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. Vanaunder was adjutant of Stenley chapter in 1937 and served vice-commander in 1938. Mrs. Vanaunder was commander of the D. A. V. auxiliary for two terms.

They have another son, Jack, who is in war work as a welder with the California Shipbuilding company, Long Beach.

"Mr. and Mrs. M. P." now home on furlough, will return to Ogden Thursday.

U. S. TRUCKS GET SEVERE RED TEST

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, March 31 (AP)—United States transport equipment is receiving its greatest test of the war as the whole Soviet-German front, a mass of mud and dish, challenges man's machinery.

Last year American trucks and men took part in the spring fighting under severe conditions, but American-made trucks in use there were few compared to the number here now.

Russian generals have said United States trucks bore the main burden in the offensive southwest of Stalingrad, on the Don and in the drives in the Ukraine. It is reasonable to assume they still are playing the same role.

Long Line of Trucks

I live not far from a road which connects with the front and day after day I see long lines of trucks with familiar American names going to and returning from the front.

A group of 25 stopped near the house and the drivers were awaiting arrival of a commander for further orders when I asked, "How are your trucks behaving in this mud?"

"Very good," said one fellow enthusiastically. "I go everywhere, no fail."

I told the driver I was an American newsmen.

Sends Americans Thanks
"Then you take it in your own hands for these trucks. Tell them they may be foreigners but they quickly are making themselves at home in our mud," he said.

The strain on transportation is terrible. One of the things needed most is spare parts for these trucks operated day and night in conditions seldom matched at home. Approximately 30,000 heavy trucks and about 20,000 jeeps are being used in Russia.
