Patton Aims At Junction With British

By EDWARD KENNEDY
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, April 3 (AP)—Grim waves of American infantry took against the rugged and heavily-mined axis defenses protecting Marshal Rommel's inland flank which lay wedged between the United States army corps to the west and the British eighth army on the gulf of Gabes.

On the steep slopes of the barren brown hills east of El Guetar, Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., renewed his attacks to clear the enemy out of positions now blocking the expected junction of the Americans with the British.

The Americans, who learned of the art of war the hard way against the most skilled opposition, made a sudden bid for a break-through early yesterday when a tank column traversed a narrow track across an enemy mine field along a road leading toward the coast.

Many German tanks immediately counter-attacked, however, and the American armor pulled back to let the infantry recover operations for warding off a gap in the enemy defenses.

Front dispatches reported some German tanks were knocked out and several others were damaged before the tank battle was broken off.

General Eisenhower, after the Tunisian front, returned from the Tunisian front to report that the British and American forces were "continuing to make satisfactory progress" in their campaign to smash the axis out of Africa.

He said every British and American soldier "had a right to draw pride and inspiration" from the record of the allied troops in Africa, who had driven Marshal Rommel from his Tunisian fortifications, and were now in the process of pushing the "eventual" complete defeat of all our enemies.

NAZIS BUILD UP EUROPE DEFENSE

Governor-Lauds State Guard And IVR; Charts Objectives

High praise for the Idaho state guard and the Idaho volunteer reserve is given by Gov. C. A. Brannan in an official greeting and directive received by commanders of county's two state guard companies and the commander of the county IVR battalion.

The governor's message said: "It is reassuring to me as chief executive, and I am sure also to the people of our great state, to know that we have two organizations ready on a moment's notice to serve in any emergency which may arise."

The message, addressed to officers and enlisted men of the state guard and the Idaho volunteer reserve, applies to the guard unit in Twin Falls, to the IVR guard company in Idaho Falls, Kimberly and Twin Falls.

Sera Active Summer. Advising both organizations that "we have an active summer ahead" for them, the governor declared he wishes the state guard to stand by for any military assistance that may be needed although he does not anticipate any such eventuality. The volunteer reserve, he indicated, should be ready for any call that might arise along a number of lines.

Outlining what he termed "just a few of the things we have in mind and for which we urge you to especially train yourselves," Governor Brannan listed these:

1. Possible assistance in event of floods, by evacuating victims and using helpings.

2. Forest protection.

3. Sabotage protection if called on (with inference pointing to guard duty).

Further strong emphasis indicating the governor's personal interest in the IVR came following a telephone conversation between Brannan and IVR leaders, including Lt. Col. L. W. Polson, county battalion commander.

General Sends Orders. Accompanying the governor's message and directive, as received here, was a directive from Gen. M. G. McConnell, head of the state military department, ordering state guard and volunteer reserve to take the necessary action to be prepared for the objectives Brannan listed.

To the guardsmen, General McConnell reminded that in the past the organization has been ordered to active duty in various strikes.

Efforts of the guard companies, he said, should be centered on training.

TERROR TACTICS HIT AT GERMANS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, April 3 (AP)—The Germans, colorful native Moroccan troops are using terror tactics on the Germans in northern Tunisia which put the enemy to shame.

Using their razor sharp knives they swoop down silently upon the enemy, plant their knives deeply in his throat, then disappear. They repeat the process dozens of times, usually working throughout the night.

British first army, in its drive toward Bizerte, has accepted the crafty, reverse-acting natives as war allies and is putting them to most effective use.

Fight Day and Night

The Germans can run and climb all day in the wooded hills and then fight all night. And they can vanish into the hills on short notice.

All they want is more Germans to kill.

The Germans take their name from the designation of a company of about 100 men. Three Germans or companies make up a battalion or a regiment.

Usually they fight in groups of six or 12 men, and they are at their best when on foot, using their rifles and machine guns next by themselves.

The Germans were formed by French intelligence officers 20 years ago as territorial troops, without any definite endowment, to patrol Moroccan and act as a supplemental police force.

Considered Terrorists

After the fall of France when the German armistice commission stipulated French North African forces of fighting equipment, Gen. Maxime Weygand ordered the units to consider the Germans as terrorists. Thus they were not subject to the commission's terms.

They are led by French officers and musicians. Into the Goums ranks have gone many veteran French soldiers, especially members of the foreign legion, to help them in their training.

Hubert Peck's Music, Songs Score Hit on Pacific Island

American symphony and swing music reign on the south sea island, and a Twin Falls soldier-musician is in a large way responsible for this revolution in rhythm.

He is Capt. Hubert W. Peck, 219 Eighth avenue north, one of 34 men who comprise the concert band of an infantry regiment and one of 14 members of the regiment's dance orchestra. He plays the tenor saxophone and clarinet with the concert band, and is a composer and arranger as well. Because he arranges most of the music for the dance band, it is the arrangements which have largely been the introduction of the regimental music Pacific to American music.

Played in Hollywood

While a student in the University of California, he was a member of the school's concert and R. O. T. C. bands. Prior to entering the army, he played with the Twin Falls municipal band, a number of local dance orchestras including the one at Sun Valley. Inducted into the army in August, 1941, he has been the basic training at Camp Wolters, Tex., and then reported to the regiment.

He has composed two popular songs, "I'll Let You Go" and "I Won't Let You Go," which are popular among the American soldiers on the island. He can also play the piano and organ. His wife, Margaret Peck, is a nurse and lives at 123 Walnut street in Twin Falls.

Almost every night of the week, the infantry band members aboard army trucks and goes out to some point of the island where a crowd of American soldiers is gathered under the stars to hear local musicians. One night it may be a minstrel show, another night a vaudeville show, still another a minstrel musical program by the concert band and dance orchestra.

Don't Need Women

The lack of feminine talent does not daunt the band. When one of its shows called for a night club chorus, the four basket-bunches took over the role. The band makes its own props and costumes out of whatever material is at hand, prepares its own arrangements, and writes its own scripts.

The dusky natives of the island, a naturally musical people, didn't resent the intrusion of American music among the soft strains of their own songs. They're among the band's most ardent fans and are present in large numbers at all of its performances.

The police officiated at burial in Twin Falls cemetery.

BANKHEAD SEES VETO OVERRIDDEN

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Sen. John H. Bankhead, D. Ala., predicted today that the senate will vote "overwhelmingly" Thursday to override President Roosevelt's veto of his bill to exclude farm beneficiaries in compensating the poultry formula.

Bankhead's forecast was made after a series of conferences with President Edward A. O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau Federation, representatives of several land grant colleges who have interested themselves in the agricultural situation, and senators determined to write the measure into law.

Debate on the veto should not take long, Bankhead said.

"The house are too well known," he added. "I don't intend to take up much time myself and none of the other senators plan to, either. The whole issue should be decided by Thursday night. Certainly there will be no filibuster."

Even Democratic Leader Allen W. Barkley, Kentucky, conceded that Bankhead will get the necessary two-thirds vote in the senate. But he thinks the larger "city vote" in the house makes the farm bloc's situation there doubtful.

After the senate vote, the next move will be another visit by farm organization leaders to the White House Wednesday with a threat that the house will override the veto.

Quit Rubber Job

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Rubber Director William M. Jeffers said today he will resign on July 1, if the synthetic rubber program "is all set" by that time, and return to his duties as president of the Union Pacific railroad.

If the program encounters further difficulties, he said, he will remain on the job as long as necessary.

BERT A. SWEET
Candidate for Mayor

LOYAL I. PERRY
Candidate for Commissioner

W. W. THOMAS
Candidate for Councilman

The PEOPLE CAN NOW JUDGE for THEMSELVES

In all sincerity, the three candidates on the People's Ticket—Bert A. Sweet for mayor and Loyal I. Perry and W. W. Thomas for councilmen—have attempted to conduct a campaign that has been clean, honest and above board.

They have presented a constructive program for the benefit of everyone living in Twin Falls, without any attempt to line up one class of people against another. Neither have they stooped to any personal attacks upon the opposing candidate for mayor, to say nothing about besmirching individuals who are not even running for office.

It should be apparent to everyone that the present mayor has no fault to find with any of the three candidates on the People's Ticket other than his ruthless effort to picture them as pawns of several individuals whom he has libeled and vilified with false accusations.

If the people of Twin Falls will be fair with themselves, they know that Mr. Sweet, Mr. Perry and Mr. Thomas are neither the type that would serve as "stooges" for anyone, nor would they be a party to any platform that had any purpose other than working for the best interests of this community.

On the contrary, and much as the present mayor is attempting to distort that fact, these three candidates were chosen by a large group of respectable citizens—citizens representing every walk of life in Twin Falls, citizens who see a serious need for improvement in city government.

In offering alibis for those things he has failed to accomplish, it should be apparent why the present mayor is attempting so desperately to place the blame on certain individuals with unscrupulous, unsportsmanlike and absurd accusations, and why, in a round-about manner, he tries to hold these individuals responsible for the People's Ticket.

It remains for the people to decide for themselves whether they want a man for mayor who resorts to such campaign tactics as a means of seeking election for a third term, or one whose ticket offers a constructive platform and conducts its campaign in an honest, dignified, business-like manner.

LYDA SOUTHARD'S FULL YEAR ENDS

BOISE, April 3 (AP)—Lyda Southard, Idaho's most famous woman murderer, was virtually a free woman today with no strings attached. Today was the deadline of her one-year conditional release, but the state board of pardons, and Secretary of State George Curtis, mutual granters of a full pardon at the meeting which begins Monday.

No reports of violations of her release, granted April 1, 1942, have been received at the penitentiary. Among the conditions of that release were that she was not to exploit or publicize details of her past life.

Mrs. Southard was convicted of second degree murder in 1921 at Twin Falls for the arsenic poisoning of her fourth husband, Edw. P. Myer. Her previous husbands were Harlan C. Lewis, Robert C. Dooley and William McElfatrick, all of whom died a few months after marriage to the Idaho "woman Bluebeard."

She was arrested in Honolulu where she had married her fifth husband, Paul Southard, 2570 officer in the U. S. navy.

She escaped from the Idaho prison in May, 1931, and in the year before her recapture, had married her sixth husband, Harry Whitlock of Denver.

FARM PHOSPHATE CAUTION OFFERED

Farmers who are experiencing a shortage of phosphate fertilizers in achieving crop goals are cautioned by D. T. "Bert" Bollingbroke, county agent, about substituting heated phosphate fertilizers for the acid-treated phosphate products.

As a result of experiments and demonstrations conducted at the Aberdeen branch agricultural experiment station, and on farms scattered over the state, increases in alfalfa yields obtained from the heat-treated phosphates were very small compared to the increase in yields obtained by the use of other western treble or TVA superphosphate.

"These heated phosphate products were prepared by heating rock phosphates about 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit in the presence of air, steam, or both," Bollingbroke explained, adding that when rock phosphate is heated at temperatures lower than this no change in availability takes place.

"The application of rock phosphate, even though finely ground, has not produced increased yields." Copies of an extension department bulletin on the relative value of phosphate fertilizers are available at the county agents' office.

NEW STANDARDS SET FOR HOSIERY

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The war production board has decreed new standards for women's hosiery which it said would improve the wearing qualities of most stockings. But that the real shoe ones are out—they can be made if comparatively long-wearing yarns are used.

WPB issued, effective May 15, a yarn conservation order covering all types of hosiery and designed to save about 15,000,000 pounds of wool, rayon and cotton yarns annually. In the case of women's hosiery, however, slightly more yarn than previously will be required. But this will be a long-term saving, WPB said, because the stockings will be generally more durable and wear longer.

Style Prohibited

All pieces of women's hosiery now produced may be made, but the order prohibits manufacture of 50-denier, full-fashioned hosiery of ordinary quality—the sheerest and also the poorest wearing type. Stockings of equal sheerness may be made, however, of semishiny tenacity yarns, which have greater strength.

Greater reinforcement of heel, toe and top is required, too. To three-ply yarns are specified for heels and toe bands and fancy designs in the top are ruled out.

The lengths of full-fashioned hose are virtually unchanged, but tops are limited to three and one-half inches instead of ranging from two to four and one-half inches as in the past. The construction of seams, too, circular-knit rayon and cotton stockings also are made subject to new standards, but the following types are not affected:

Run-proof rayon mesh hosiery, lace and mesh hosiery, and combinations of cotton, wool, continuous filament, and spun rayon yarn stockings.

Seven Colors Allowed

Each manufacturer may make only seven colors, but these may be chosen by the consumer.

The men's hosiery rules limit the patterns of fancy half hose to those which were in actual production in January and February.

Fancy or novelty patterns for children's hosiery were ruled out for those actually in production for the entire last October and the present time.

Infants' ribbed long hose cannot be in any color other than white.

16,000,000 PAIRS DONATED

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Women have contributed 16,000,000 pairs of old silk and nylon stockings to Federal collection points in 100 cities in the last four months, the war production board reported. The women's hosiery was received in the massive container in which 15,000,000 pairs of old stockings, turned in to collection deposits.

Pennsylvania, with 120,000 pairs, led all states for the fourth month. New York was second with 112,000 pairs, and California third with 104,000. Pounds collected by other states included Idaho, 7,500.

They Are Telling the Story of WAAC Here

Lieut. Margaret Drane, standing, and Auxiliary Mildred Wilson, seated at the typewriter, are here to explain how Twin Falls women can help the war effort by joining the WAAC to relieve a man for the fighting front. Their mobile recruiting station, a trailer parked beside the Fidelity National bank building, will be open Sunday and Monday. (Staff Photo-Engraving)

WAACS Mobile Unit Arrives; Will Visit Buhl, Other Towns

The story of the WAAC was being told to many Twin Falls and Valley women Saturday afternoon and last night by two members of the army auxiliary organization who are here with the mobile WAAC recruiting station parked beside the Fidelity National bank building on Shoshone street east. They will be on duty here Sunday and Monday.

WAACS accompanying the unit are Lieut. Margaret Drane, Richville, Ill., and Auxiliary Mildred Wilson, Springfield, Mass. Two soldiers, Sgt. William Dixon and Pvt. Wallace Williams, are drivers of the car that pulls the trailer housing the recruiting unit.

The Twin Falls stop is one of a long itinerary which began in Salt Lake City, and will see the WAAC recruiting party in Idaho throughout most of the month.

Interest at Buhl

Stopping at Buhl Friday, the WAACS left a dozen applications blank with interested women, and appointed Mrs. J. Allen Pitt, whose office is in the Buhl building, as an honorary WAAC recruiter. From here the group will go to women who may wish to take a winter part in the war effort that they now are because of patriotism. Both cities serve in the WAACS had preference in war industry jobs for reasons other than salary.

The WAAC is doing as much for her country as the man who enlists in the army, declared Lieutenant Drane, "because she relieves a man for the fighting front."

Final Rites for Infant Daughter

JEROME, April 3.—Angela Des Erietta, seven-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Erietta, was paid final tribute at the Jerome funeral chapel, Bishop A. Lew Olsen of the L. D. S. church officiating. Interment was in Jerome cemetery, under direction of the Jerome funeral chapel.

Many too Young

"So many applicants are either too young," said Lieutenant Drane, "we have young children. The minimum age limit for the WAACS is 21 years, and an applicant must have no dependents under 14 years of age. There is a chance that the age limit may be lowered."

The two members of the WAAC are making a particular appeal to

"World Citizen" Week Will See Varied Events

"World citizenship week," program inspired by the world citizenship movement, will begin this morning by observances in all Twin Falls churches.

The idea of the week was explained by Rev. G. L. Clark, chairman. "It is a movement, an ever increasing sentiment looking toward the removal of war as a policy of settling differences between nations, and implementing the methods of friendly, peaceable and legal procedure in international relations."

A parent, "Parent Becons," a vision of the future, sponsored by the social studies teachers of the Twin Falls junior high school, will be presented at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

The last Junior-Senior high P. T. A. study group of the year will take up the topic and the program includes an interpretation of world citizenship by the senior girls under the direction of Miss Helen Miller at the high school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday.

Kirby Page, noted traveler and author, will speak at the Christian church at 2:30 p. m. and again at 8 p. m. Thursday, April 8.

As a climax to the week's events Col. M. Thomas Trench, noted Chinese statesman, scholar and aid to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, will speak in the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. Friday, April 9.

Mark Machinery To Foil Thieves, Farmers Warned

An appeal to farmers and others to mark their machinery, tools and other articles so as to be able to identify them was issued last night by County Prosecutor Everett M. Swerley and Sheriff Warren L. Lowrey.

The shortage of metal goods has increased the theft of small tools and even farm machinery," he said. "A great deal of this can be recovered, but more frequently than not the stolen article will look too much like all other similar articles that it cannot be identified."

"We will be able to return a great many more stolen articles to owners, and obtain convictions for theft if the owner is able positively to identify the stolen property."

City dwellers are warned particularly to mark garden hose, as this is high on the petty theft list over the nation.

V-Mail Best, Servicemen's Kinfolk Told

People willing to make sacrifices in the interests of patriotic duty can actually perform one patriotic duty that is to their own advantage.

What is it? Use V-mail.

Postal and military authorities have gone to much trouble to establish the V-mail system, to insure prompt and certain delivery of letters from home to the millions of men in foreign service.

The advantages to you are many. Here are some of the things you should know about V-mail:

1—Converted to V-mail form, 1,600 letters make a package scarcely larger than a pack of cigarettes, which weighs about 1-650th as much as the original letters.

2—V-mail is considered just as important as ammunition; ammunition gets No. 1 priority, and V-mail gets No. 1 priority over all other types of personal mail.

3—Your letter is lost forever if placed in a box or left in a room. V-mail is not, another is made out forwarded, thus guaranteeing delivery of your message to loved ones.

4—Additional small portable V-mail stations are being established wherever possible, thus improving the already high type of service the V-mail affords you.

In a few short months, more than 100,000 V-mail letters have been delivered. They have arrived from Australia in seven days, and Hawaii in three days—and even faster service is promised.

V-mail forms can be obtained free at postoffices, or if you prefer they can be purchased at stationery, drug or department stores. (Use this important and certain service for your mail in loved ones in foreign service. Mr. Strunk said, and free value.)

Co. 6 Has Places Open to Recruits

With its membership list pared down by elimination of men who have not attended drills regularly, and by army drafting of more than a dozen, Co. 6 of the Idaho volunteer reserve now has places open for new recruits in Twin Falls, Capt. A. C. Carter said last night.

Although the IVIT unit is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, its members need not belong to that organization, the commander said. Any man wishing to assist in the IVIT work were invited to appear at Legion hall next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

Boys of 16 and 17 may now be accepted under legislative act. Captain Carter pointed out. Youthful of that age as well as those of 18, he said, will receive "valuable military training," that will assist them when they are called into the armed forces.
