OPA Places Pound Price Tops on Meat

FLASHES of LIFE

By Associated Press

By IRVING PERLMETER

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—OPA today put specific limits on retail prices of lamb and mutton, effective April 15, and said housewives would find them "in most cases less than the prices which consumers have been paying recently."

Similar prices on retail pork went into effect on April 1. Today's standardization of top prices by the OPA was designed by the price administration to help reduce the cost of living and to protect the public from price gouging.

Meat shortages, the chairman explained, seemed to elicit the choicest of the public's wrath.

WHOM?

WEST HAVEN, Conn., April 5—News it is said that Arthur Gioromoni is all out for the war effort. But there's one aspect of the nation's production that he brought a $75000 to stop.

The foundation, the chimney and the walls of his house are rapidly deteriorating, he claims, because every time a 30-ton piece next door goes "boom," so does his house.

Petaim Asks for Aid to Germans

LONDON, April 5 (AP)—Marshall Henri Philippe Petain's long radio address since the fall of France has been today as a plea for the French people to support his collaboration with Germany.

Today, Petain continued his "unjust" to accuse his puppet government of raising France's misfortune and charged the nation's exiled leaders who are working for its freedom with being "rebels."

MADAME CHIANG EXHAUSTED

LOS ANGELES, April 5 (AP)—So exhausted by her transcontinental tour that a physician was called in for consultation, Madame Chiang Kai-shek was advised to remain secluded in her hotel suite today, resting for her scheduled trip to San Diego tomorrow.

Thirty thousand enthusiastic fans waited her speak in Hollywood yesterday.

Fortresses Sink Badly Damaged 7 Jap War Ships

By DON CASWELL
GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, April 5 (AP)—Flying Fortresses sunk or badly damaged seven Japanese warships and five cargo vessels in three consecutive nights of raiding the enemy's supply base at Kavieng harbor on New Ireland, a communiqué said today.

It was the greatest toll taken by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's bombers since the 22-ship score in the battle of the Bismarck sea early last month. The final attack at Kavieng yesterday completely destroyed or damaged the enemy concentration, the communiqué declared.

Planes were low when MacArthur's raiders used a low-level technique in which heavy Fortresses dipped under the clouds to drop bombs and then rose to escape their own flames. One report called the method "skin-bombing," with the big planes acting like torpedo-torpedoing aircraft.

The raids were made with the aid of fast night fighters able to dash in and out of the Kavieng harbor to prevent enemy interception. All U. S. planes returned safely.

The actual score of the raids for April 4-5 was 1000 tons of shipping sunk, a heavy cruiser, destroyer and a 6000-ton cargo vessel left sinking, eight destroyers and four merchantmen totaling from 2500 to 3000 tons were damaged. Results on three other warships and a cargo ship could not be observed. Twenty-six bombers participated.

Heavy anti-aircraft fire caused only scattered damage to the bombers which used 500-pounders mostly.

New Guinea Successes
Ground and air successes against the vital Japanese-held north and east New Guinea coastline also were reported. The slow but steady clearing of enemy strongholds now includes the Markham area, 20 miles from the Japanese border in Northwest New Guinea, reports said. This represents an advance of about 90 miles of Salamaua, major Japanese base.

The mid-day communiqué said Soviet artillerymen repulsed enemy attacks against the Izyum bridgeheads overnight, knocking out 200 German tanks and killing about 200 Germans. Izyum is about 70 miles southeast of Kharkov.

In the Belorussian area, 125 miles north of Izyum, the Russians again repulsed German attacks, knocking out a head-on and threw the enemy forces back, wiping out about a company of troops, the communiqué said. A number of prisoners was taken.

On the front west of Moscow, a detachment of German infantry attacked an enemy position and killed 70 Germans in hand-to-hand fighting. The communiqué said, but was not clear whether they reached the Soviet defenses.

West of Rostov, it was reported, the Germans attempted to carry out a resupply mission, but were repulsed before they reached the Soviet defenses.

GERMANS SEIZE FRENCH LEADERS
LONDON, April 5 (AP)—Three French leaders, including the republic of France—Edouard Daladier, Louis Blum and Gen. Maurice Gamelin—have been taken to Germany by the German government as hostages and removed to a German prison to prevent their escape, the communiqué said. The German government said the three leaders were taken to a prison in Berlin.

Both Daladier and Blum were former premiers of France and Daladier was commander-in-chief of the French army in 1939-40. The communiqué said the three leaders were taken to a prison in Berlin.

RAF Batters Kiel After U. S. Planes Raid Paris Plants

LONDON, April 5 (AP)—A large force of U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators attacked industrial targets near Antwerp, Belgium, with good results in daylight today, following up yesterday's American attack on the Renault works near Paris and a heavy RAF night attack on Kiel, Germany, it was announced tonight.

By WILLIAM B. DICKINSON
LONDON, April 5 (AP)—British four-engined bombers "in great strength" battered Germany's big naval base at Kiel last night to round out a week-end of around-the-clock Anglo-American aerial attacks on Hitler's European fortress, the air ministry announced today.

Only a few hours after 89 Flying Fortresses bombed the Renault automotive and arms works in a Paris suburb yesterday, the British armada of night raiders cascaded on after ton of demolition and fire bombs hit the shipbuilding yards and naval installations of Kiel.

The ministry's use of the term "in great strength" in describing the raiding force was taken as an indication that several hundred of Britain's biggest bombers participated. However, it was understood that the raid was not in the 1,000-ton bomb class.

Heavy clouds made full observation of results impossible, but several large fires were seen in the target area, the air ministry communication said.

Twelve planes were lost. It was the first raid of the war on Kiel, which last was attacked the night of Oct. 13, 1942.

The attack was another blow at Germany's submarine campaign, which allied authorities have acknowledged is hampering the making of strength for the opening of a second front in Europe. Kiel is probably the most important center for the building and outfitting of U-boats in Germany.

Doolittle's Bombers Hit 21 Vessels

By DANIEL DE LUCE
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, April 5 (AP)—U. S. Flying Fortresses smashed Naples in the greatest raid of the war against that Tyrrhenian sea supply port yesterday as the American second army corps repulsed a German counter-attack in the El Gualar sector and continued the drive toward a junction with the British eighth army, it was announced today.

Nearly 100 of the four-engined Fortresses from Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's northwest African strategic air force struck the show with the raid on Naples, the first against the base from the French north African bases.

Naples had been raided five times by Liberators from the middle east, but sources here said yesterday's attack was four times as heavy as any of the previous forays.

All planes returned safely. It was officially announced that 21 ships were hit in the harbor of that axis supply port, as well as an oil tanker, a floating dock and a cluster of small vessels. Explosives losses by the Fortresses hit 21 aircraft parked on the Capodichino air field nearby.

Only one army observation plane of Fortresses had attacked the port of Cagliari and air fields of the Italian fleet in an attempt to snarl the axis lifelines across the Mediterranean to Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's army in North Africa. The Italian high command, in a communiqué, said that the raid also got back to its base.

The Italian high command, in a communiqué, said that the raid also got back to its base. The Italian high command, in a communiqué, said that the raid also got back to its base.

What was taken as the most striking evidence of the raiding of the ship was the continuing business through the noon hour, when ordinarily calls per minute drop out of the jaws of the day.

WORLD CURRENCY PLANS OUTLINED

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. today outlined to the administration proposal that the United States participate in the creation of a new international currency on the gold standard after the war.

Morgenthau presented administration monetary proposals to an extraordinary secret session of the senate committee on foreign relations, banking and currency, and postwar economic policy and planning.

Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley, Kentucky, said afterward that the plan was "a general discussion but that the program is so tentative that he could not discuss it in detail."

Other senators, however, said that Morgenthau had discussed a proposal to have the U. S. contribute 100,000,000 to the proposed international currency stabilization fund.

The fund would be used to contribute a proportionate share of their natural wealth, it was said.

Control of the fund would be exercised by the participating nations, according to the plan, with the provision, however, that no single nation would have more than 1/25th of the voting power.

CIO Head Warns Of Unemployment

MILWAUKEE, April 5 (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray today warned that 500,000 workers are threatened with unemployment because they produced more than the armed forces could use.

Surpluses in certain war production lines have become so serious that the war production board has been forced to devote at least part of its efforts to reducing idle workers to the manufacture of civilian goods, Murray said in an address today.

The department was alerted yesterday by Mrs. Thomas E. Sullivan, whose five sons—George, Francis, Joseph, William and Robert—were lost when the cruiser Decatur went down off Guadalcanal.

The survivors of the ship were named "The Sullivans," the first fighting ship named after a fighting family of World War II.

Neurological and psychiatric reports that industrial executives are suffering from nervous disorders and breakdowns. A new form of fatigue is developing in men owing to long sustained high pressure and overwork. At the start of the war, extraordinary personal effort and hours were necessary to switch factories from peacetime production. But the strain is becoming too tell on conscientious managers.

The public administration clearing house has released some geographical facts on this subject. It points out that two-thirds of the chief executives from business parties served in the armed forces in World War I. Among the governors, Vivian of Colorado, who had a recent scrap with the draft law, and the governor of New York, Franklin Roosevelt, the marine bricker of Ohio, Salmon P. They are about 300,000 in all, these, labor troubles and manufacturing schedules until they are in such a mental state that everyone who comes in contact with them also gets the jitters.

Doctors warn that the struggle is likely to last a number of years. Unless business leaders can preserve their energy and care for their health, they will become victims of war neuroses.

GERMS—Despite frequent warnings that an influenza epidemic is threatening, physicians have no evidence to support the fear. They point out that the plague is a mystery which runs in 30-year cycles. As in the first World War, it is great many years before the disease can be made immune. The disease must then be kept for a new generation before its ravages can be repeated. The disease, like gas house fumes which burst into flames, when the vapor is released, can be repeated.

Early in the World War II, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) was alerted to the prospect of city inhabitants being forced by air raids to endure the conditions of a concentration camp. Asher Wilson, Jr.,
Miss Shaughnessy
Wed at Stanford
PALO ALTO, Calif., April 5 (AP)—Marcia Shaughnessy, daughter of Coach Clark C. Shaughnessy, Pittsburgh football coach, and Ensign Asher Bolton Wilson, Jr., of Twin Falls, Ida., were married at Stanford chapel Saturday.

The couple left soon after the ceremony for a brief honeymoon. They planned to leave next week for New York where Ensign Wilson is stationed.

It was an all-white wedding. The bride wore a white slipper satin gown, due in princess style, and a veil over the face and cascading over her train. She wore a shower corsage of carnations, white exclamation and white roses.

The bride's sister, Junior, was maid of honor, and the groom's father, Asher B. Wilson, of Twin Falls, was best man. Shaughnessy gave his daughter away.

Following the ceremony, which was read by the Rev. Cecil Quade of Burlingame, a reception was held at the Allied Arts.

Five Liberator bombers recently made a long distance raid on the large coal and iron mines of Japan's coal and it is believed that this raid probably is out of commission for a year.

Student Pageant Theme Is Portrayal of Future

More than 300 students will participate in the pageant "Distant Beacons," a vision of the future, staged by the junior high school at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium in connection with world citizenship week under the leadership of the social living teachers.

In this pageant the young people are attempting to portray their idea of what the world of the future should be. The world of the future, according to the plot, is no longer a narrow road, but a composite, a combination of paths, all leading in the same direction. The theme demonstrates that for unity and brotherhood of man, literature, art, invention and the wonder that is the world are needed to build.

The theme is built around Tennessee's poem, "Jockey Hall," and the quotation from the poem, "For I dipped into the future for a human eye could see, saw the vision of the world and the wonder that would be."

Parts of the past will be shown and the plot will point to the future to the four freedoms portrayed by Richard Bradley, Miss Barbara Price, Miss Dorothy Krenzel and Miss Mary Lou Smith. Singing and dancing groups will play an important part.

Throughout the production historical figures will be featured with the principal parts by Gerald Patters, Twin River, Grace Swallow and Miss Mary Lou Smith. Singing and dancing groups will play an important part.

Victory Ball Is Climax to Week Of Bond Drive

As a climax to the Twin Falls school victory week, a victory ball will be held Friday evening at the high school gymnasium with more than 100 couples dancing to the music of Keith Winter.

Blue and white streamers formed the ceiling and a huge flag was suspended at one end of the room. The queen's throne was placed at the other end.

A march was played during the introduction and the queen and the five princesses entered and the queen, Miss Bonnie Bingham, ascended the throne. The princesses, Miss Dorothy Krenzel, Miss Celeste Salomon, Miss Mildred Robertson, Miss Barbara Price, Miss Dorothy Krenzel and Miss Kathryn Graves, sat on either side of the throne. John D. Platt, principal, presented each girl with a defense stamp corsage and Miss Bingham with a crown.

The totals for the dance and for several bonds have not yet been completed but so far the high school has purchased $3,122 worth of stamps and bonds during the past week. This means that the goal, which was $3,000, has been exceeded and that the school will be able to purchase six more instead of the three planned.

... and what of our
YOUTH ... and LABOR?
Here's the answer of the
PEOPLE'S TICKET

Throughout this entire campaign, Bert A. Sweet, candidate for mayor, and Loyal I. Perry and W. W. Thomas, candidates for councilmen, have brought forth constructive suggestions for improvement in our city government. Suggested civic improvements and policies have been well defined in their published platform. Most important, probably, among all the problems facing our city's leaders are those of youth welfare and our labor group. The answer to these questions is found in the platform of these men ... and discussed more at length in the following paragraphs.

For many months, there has been an undeniable movement for the betterment of our youth. These men, all fathers of young men and women whom they hope will play their part in the future, are well aware of the need for some type of youth recreation. They have gone on record as favoring a Community Youth Center—a center which, at the same time, might afford an adequate common meeting place for the adults of our city too! But foremost in their minds has been the thought of our growing boys and girls—to this end they have pledged themselves toward a Community Center in fulfillment of that need. Such a project cannot come to pass tomorrow—as the next day—but the necessary groundwork can be accomplished now—and that's their intention if you will vote ALL THREE OF THESE MEN into office Tuesday.

READ THIS PLATFORM!

You'll find it the product of sound reasoning and clear thinking with real appeal for every Twin Falls family.

1. To lend all possible individual and community aid to the successful prosecution of the war, working in complete harmony with all national effort.
2. To lay the foundation for civic improvements, with special emphasis on a much-needed municipal auditor, a city auditor, necessary sewerage and water system extensions, and proper recreational facilities in all parts of the city with special aid to establish a community youth center.
3. To maintain a policy of strict economy in city government during this period of war when such improvements are impossible, but to do the preliminary planning and groundwork to make these improvements available at the first opportunity.
4. To lend all possible aid to the development of new and established industries in our community and to work in close cooperation with the farmers and stockmen of Magic Valley.
5. To conduct the city's affairs in an efficient, dignified, business-like manner with full unity within the city administration, and with a policy of law enforcement that is both effective and reasonable.

JEROME FIELD TRIALS SET RECORD, OUTDRAW UTAH'S EVENT

Salt Lake Dog Wins Finale of Big Event

JEROME, April 5.—Despite wartime gasoline and tire rationing the inaugural day of the Jerome Field Trials and dog show which ended yesterday afternoon was the greatest spring trials ever held in Idaho, a check by Mel Evertson, the club president, revealed today.

Thirty-eight high dog stars of the intermountain region participated in the five events of the ten days. Evertson said this total, the largest since the first event of the Jerome Field Trials club which ended yesterday afternoon was the greatest spring trials ever held in Idaho, a check by Mel Evertson, the club president, revealed today.

Colored Boy Place Again
Colonel Boy, a black and tan, finished second in the all-around event of yesterday. The dog was owned by W. R. Williams, Jerome.

Vandale's Sex Place Again
Vandale's Sex, a female pointer, won the sex place in the all-around event of yesterday. The dog was owned by W. R. Williams, Jerome.

Many Dogs in Contest
The Jerome Field Trials was the largest dog show ever held in Idaho. The event was held at the Jerome Field Trials club grounds.

On the Sport Front

By GEORGE F. REDMOND

Looked over the Times-Sport front page with its title 'Sport Front'.

For that credit is due the sportsman of Jerome who started the movement a year ago.

There wouldn't have been any field trials, probably of the making of national wars, if it hadn't been for the sportsman of Jerome.

RESCUE ATTEMPT
CHAPTER XXIX
When Captain Carr saw Pat leave the sky train and realized that she was alone in the storm, he went mad with worry.
"Pat! ... Pat! ... Plane No. 10 ... PAT!"
He yelled at his radio which no longer was working.
"She cut loose!" he shrieked at Loraine, over their head phones.
"I did ... She dove right into this storm!"
"Jimmy, what are you doing?" Loraine shrieked back.
He didn't answer, but he put over the controls of the towing ship the pilot's, so that the sky train swung out in a long, spectacular arc. In a matter of seconds the tall rail-cars behind him were jolting crazily at the tow line.
Thump—thump—thump! The power ship bucked like an army tank in a forest. Up-and-down waves traveled over the long low line. Loraine screamed out at Jimmy again, and again he ignored her. He had a terrible fight with the elements here, and only a man of infinite daring could have done what he did. And a man with excellent equipment.
In about six minutes the train was flying smoothly again. Like some fantastic, imaginative dragon it streamed out of the dark bulk of the storm over Supersition mountain as Jimmy swung back toward to Sky Harbor home.
"Jimmy, where are we going?" Loraine demanded.
"Stop yelling, and look!"
"Look where? For what?"
"Look down. See if you can see any trace of Pat."
"But—but what could you do if you did see her again?"
He waited for several seconds before answering. "I don't know," he confessed, then.
He was straitening the train out when he heard a faint, faint, faint, faintly, and the train began to filter through and illuminate them. He saw his great ship with all the power possible, and he saw the once more he fled the radio dial.
"Captain Carr! ... Call Captain Carr! ... No seven plane calling Captain Carr! ... No four reporting."
"Hey! Jimmy shouted it. "You're through again. I get you now, fellows!"
He was elated that the static and storm had been left behind them. He tried frantically to control the ship but without success. Then he began looking for orders.
At 2,100 feet when they heard Sky Harbor. The air was windy but clear here. He told No. 10 to let go. Then each of the rail-cars, in turn. Their landing made a beautiful show and it was an extra attraction for those of the operators who had remained at the field.
When the entire "tail" of his power had left him, Jimmy beamed east once more.
"Oh Loraine, protected. Aren't you going to land Jimmy?"
"I'm going back to Supersition mountain."
"But no ... No no!"
"Stop yelling, Loraine! The worst of that storm has blown past there. We saw that much as we left it. If you take me back toward that storm, Jim Carr, I'll hate you the rest of my life! I'll never marry you!"
"Is that a promise?"
"You're going to kill me! You're better a complete fool!"
All at once Jimmy grinned wildly. "What about the engagement?"
