

AVIATORS BRING IN INJURED DUO

Twin Falls civil air patrol officers Sunday morning brought in two injured aviators from the Indian Creek area. The aviators were brought in by the local CAP members still engaged in the search.

The injured men, Nos. 7 and 8 of a nine-man crew, were brought out of the rugged mountain area around Indian Creek by a Cessna 441, flown by Lieutenant A. Dean, flying commander of Twin Falls, and Charles Reeder, Twin Falls airport manager and flight instructor. The rescued men were taken to the Word family air base hospital.

Base Shifted

Word family air base Monday also revealed that the base for the rescue plane helping in the search has been moved from Challis to the Indian Creek landing field. Later army ships are being sent to Challis but shifting of the smaller planes it was said, would give them a full hour more in the air before their fuel capacity on each searching flight.

Rescuers Still Missing

Although only one of the nine-man crew is still missing, two army fliers and a forest ranger are lost in disappearance of one of the rescue planes. No trace has been found of this unit, but word from the Twin Falls aviators indicates belief that their plane is somewhere near the Indian Creek area.

Weather halted flying Friday and Saturday, with Dean and Reeder marooned at Indian Creek in company with an army doctor en route to the rescue. Dean and Reeder were taken to the Indian Creek area by a Cessna 441, flown by Lieutenant A. Dean, flying commander of Twin Falls, and Charles Reeder, Twin Falls airport manager and flight instructor. The rescued men were taken to the Word family air base hospital.

Engagement Told

The engagement of Miss Irene Callen, Jerome, to Nicholas Louis H. Serr was announced recently. (Staff Engraving)

Coming Marriage Of Irene Callen Is Told at Dinner

JEROME, April 12 — The approaching marriage of Miss Irene Callen, to Louis H. Serr, midshipman in the navy, was announced to a group of friends during a dinner party, arranged at the suburban residence of Miss Callen's parents in Jerome.

Miss Callen is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Callen, and is a graduate of Jerome high school. She is a sophomore at Whitman college, Walla Walla, Wash.

Midshipman Serr, a son of Lieut. A. I. Serr and Mrs. Serr, Missoula, Mont., former residents of Jerome, will be graduated from the U. S. naval academy at Annapolis, Md., in June.

Spitting fashions decorated the home for the occasion and the table centerpiece was an arrangement of three small flower holders of blue sweepstakes on a miniature plateau. Place cards were mirrored booklets which displayed mounted snapshots of the betrothed couple, who will be married in June after the bridegroom-elect is graduated from the academy.

Out-of-town guests and college mates of Miss Callen were Miss Virginia Sierra, Twin Falls, and Miss Helen Bell, Seattle.

Uncle Sam Asks Women To Sacrifice for Bonds

By RUTH MILLETT (NEA Service)
We women have been called to our country's service. Uncle Sam says he desperately needs our help. He wants each one of us, no matter how small or how little money passes through our hands, to work out a victory budget and live by it.

The most important item on a victory budget is war bonds. Every other dollar must be made to contribute to it. Every dollar must be squeezed until it means a good percentage for war bonds. This means sacrifice. It means giving up here and putting out there. It means hard work, simple and economic living. It means managing in the old-fashioned sense of the word.

The day is past when we could take our extra money and put it into war stamps and bonds and feel the glow of pride that comes from doing our duty.

We are asked now to put Sally's music lessons—or the new dining room furniture—we would so love to have—on the difference between luxury and simple but nourishing food—into war bonds.

We are asked to get along on a rock bottom economy so that we can fight Uncle Sam every cent that we can possibly turn over to him.

He needs our money to equip the men who are risking their lives on the war's fighting fronts. He needs it not just occasionally, when we have a little extra that we don't know what to do with, but every day.

He will pay it back, and with good interest later on. And when we get an urge to spend for little luxuries, we can think about the time when Uncle Sam will pay us back and we can do as we like with our increased savings.

But we shouldn't have to think very often of that, and we won't if we remember one thing—that living by a victory budget is one way we can be sure that we are helping to fight the war.

HITLER, MUSSOLINI CHART DEFENSES

LONDON, April 12 (UP)—Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini at their conference last week mapped the defense of Europe against the invasion—or invasions—decided to leave to the highly-specialized units in Tunisia for a last desperate stand, reports from the conference.

Reference in the official Axis communiqué on the Hitler-Mussolini conference was to "defense of the European and African theaters of war from the west and from the east," and to a "last desperate stand" against the conference.

Complete Mobilization
"Complete and total mobilization of all prevailing economic and military reserves of the Axis was discussed," a Transocean news dispatch broadcast over the German radio said.

A determined survey of continental reserves which was drafted for the occasion strengthened the conviction of the Axis taking part in the conference that the new deployment of strength will not be impeded by enemy action.

The Axis decision to evacuate as many highly specialized units—airborne troops, engineers and signal experts—as possible from Tunisia was believed to represent a complete evacuation.

Reports reaching Madrid said that Germany favored a large-scale Dunkirk evacuation, and that the Axis on grounds that it might involve heavy losses to the Italian fleet, was opposed to such a move before it would be needed to combat an allied invasion.

Air Evacuation
Under the compromise arrangement, it was understood: the thorough evacuation of key units would fall on transport planes, though some ships might attempt night dashes over the 150-mile route from Bizerte to ports in Sicily.

German and Italian infantry and artillery forces then would be left to carry out a last-minute defense in the hope that allied invasion plans would be knocked off schedule.

Hitler and Mussolini, along with their military, naval and political chiefs, conferred last Wednesday through Saturday, presumably at Brenner pass through the Alps, where they met.

"In the course of the broad exchange of views which took place on this occasion, the general political situation, as well as all questions pertaining to the common conduct of the war, were examined in the communiqué said, and complete agreement has been reached on the measures to be taken in every field."

Here's the New Revised List of Draft Rankings

WASHINGTON, April 12 (UP)—The revised draft classifications announced today by selective service are:

- 1-A, available for military service.
- 1-A-O, conscientious objector available for noncombatant military service.
- 1-C, member of land or naval forces of the United States.
- 2-A, man necessary to the war production program.
- 2-C, man deferred by reason of his agricultural occupation or endeavor.
- 3-A, still a student.
- 3-B, man with child or children deferred by reason of maintaining bona fide family relationship.
- 3-C, man with dependent who is engaged in agricultural occupation or endeavor.
- 3-D, man deferred because induction would cause extreme hardship and privation to a wife, child, or parent with whom he maintains a bona fide family relationship.
- 4-A, man 45 years old or over, who is deferred by reason of age.
- 4-B, official deferred by law.
- 4-C, neutral aliens requesting relief from liability for training and service and aliens not acceptable to the armed forces.
- 4-D, minister of religion or divinity student.
- 4-E, conscientious objector available for work of national importance.
- 4-F, Unchanged.
- 4-F, physically, mentally, or morally unfit for military service.
- 4-H, man deferred because his age group, 38 through 45, is not being accepted for military service. Men in this group are now being classified according to their status in the school-attendance or vocational training class. A man falling into the 1-A class, for example, is classified 1-A-H.

SUBSIDIES LOOM ON PRICE FREEZE

WASHINGTON, April 12 (UP)—Congress may be asked to provide government subsidies for both producers and distributors as a means of implementing President Roosevelt's new price-freezing program designed to hold the line against inflation.

The administration already has tested the temper of congress. Leaders said today, on the possibility of making incentive payments to farmers to encourage production of some crops and found no great enthusiasm.

But Senator George D. Aiken, Idaho, said he could see no alternative. If the President's order is to be carried out in its terms he is told, then for the administration to seek authority for "incentive payments" in congress does not seem to give.

Other legislators said there was no doubt that if the President accomplishes a roll back of some prices, such as he discussed in his statement, that the cost of living would have to be provided for distributors as well as producers.

The President said that the cost of living depends on congressional action. He pointed out that some prices already are above the 1942 level at a maximum in the available act, declaring that some of these could and should be rolled back.

Senator O'Mahoney, D. Wyo., said he was convinced that any roll back of prices on farm products would cause a loss of production. He declared:

"We cannot continue to roll back the cost of producing food on the farm and hope at the same time to feed the world as well as our own army, navy and civilian population," he declared.

Army Exams for Hunt Volunteers

HUNT, April 12 — An examining team from the Butte (Mont.) Indian station headed by Major M. M. Campbell of the Army medical corps will begin giving medical examinations today morning at the project hospital in the Minidoka relocation center to more than 300 Hunt volunteers.

There will be four doctors in the group and two enlisted men. Examinations will take two or three days. The volunteers who pass the medical examinations probably will be called to report to the Jerome service board within a week or 10 days. They will be inducted at Fort Douglas, Utah, and then sent to Camp Shelby, Miss., for training in a Japanese-American combat unit.

Daniel C. Roper Dies at Capital

WASHINGTON, April 12 (UP)—Daniel C. Roper, President Roosevelt's first secretary of commerce, died last night after an illness of several months. He was 76.

Roper, a native of Marlboro county, N.C., had been in virtual retirement since 1939, when he served briefly as minister to Canada.

After four years as a school teacher, Roper turned to politics, winning election to the South Carolina state legislature at the age of 25. When he became secretary of commerce in 1933, a post he held nearly six years, Roper brought to his cabinet job a long and varied experience in politics and law.

13 billion dollars must be raised!

of this national quota is $1,200,000

Our Government needs 1200 Twin Falls County Citizens who will invest $1000 each in democracy

Let's not kid ourselves about this job—our government needs 13 billion dollars and over one million of that amount must come from Twin Falls county. We've got to have "rolling" money invested to get this job done. We've got to interest at least 1200 citizens, taxing units, business firms, societies, clubs and lodges in investing at least $1000 apiece in the world's greatest project—democracy. And, we've got to do this within the next few weeks. So, within that time you may be called upon to invest heavy money—money which will buy government securities designed to meet your particular need of investment. When one of the volunteers, one of your own neighbors, call on you, be prepared to go the limit. We've got to put Twin Falls county over the top in the greatest, most important undertaking ever presented to our citizens. Of course we'll do it—that goes without saying—but make up YOUR mind now to get the job done quick!

THE GOVERNMENT of the United States is asking us to lend it 13 billion dollars in the next few weeks. We can do it. And we must do it. Every American must realize the truth:

In this, our toughest war, we've made a good start. We've trained a lot of men—made a lot of weapons—built a lot of ships.

But it's only a start. No man or woman among us would contend for a single instant that we're doing enough near to win this war.

We've Got to Build More!

We broke all records building 8 million tons of shipping last year. But grim-faced Army and Navy men will tell you that the 18 MILLION tons we're building this year still won't be enough!

We've Got to Fight More!

From now till this war is won, America must be on the offensive. In ever-increasing numbers, your sons, brothers, husbands must go into actual battle. Our losses have already begun to mount—and they will not grow less.

And We've Got to Buy More War Bonds!

Sure we're all buying War Bonds now. But we've got to help pay for our increased fighting and building . . . We've got to match, as best we can, the sacrifice of those Americans who are toiling and sweating on a dozen battlefronts—with the bloodiest yet to come. The blunt fact is this: to keep our war machine going, we've got to dig up 13 billion extra dollars this month. 13 billion dollars over and above our regular War Bond buying!

In the next few weeks you may be visited by one of the thousands of volunteers who are contributing their time and effort to this Drive. But don't wait for him. Make up your mind now that before this drive is over, you're going to march right down to your nearest bank, Post Office, or place where they sell War Bonds, and do your duty. And don't ever forget this: in doing your duty, you're doing yourself one of the biggest favors of your life!

For United States War Bonds are the greatest investment in the world—bar none. They're investments tailored to fit your particular situation. And they give you the chance of a lifetime to order and get the kind of world you want to live in after this war. Every cent you put in War Bonds now will help to guarantee plenty of peacetime jobs making peaceliving for every one of us.

For your Country's sake—for your own sake—invest all you can!

There Are 7 Different Types of U. S. Government Securities—Choose The Ones Best Suited For You:

United States War Savings Bonds—Series E: The perfect investment for individual and family savings. Gives you back $4 for every $3 when the Bond matures. Designed especially for the smaller investor. Dated 1st day of month in which payment is received. Interest: 2.9% a year if held to maturity. Denominations: $25, $50, $100, $500, $1000. Redemption: any time 60 days after issue date. Price: 75% of maturity value.

2½% Treasury Bonds of 1964-1969: Readily marketable, acceptable as bank collateral, these Bonds are ideal investments for trust funds, estates and individuals. A special feature provides that they may be redeemed at par and accrued interest for the purpose of satisfying Federal estate taxes. Dated April 15, 1943; due June 15, 1969. Denominations: $500, $1000, $5000, $10,000, $100,000—also $1,000,000 if registered. Redemption: Not callable till June 15, 1964; thereafter at par and accrued interest on any interest date at 4 months' notice. Subject to Federal taxes only. Price: par and accrued interest.

Other Securities: Series "C" Tax Notes; ½% Certificates of Indebtedness; 2% Treasury Bonds of 1950-1952; United States Savings Bonds Series "F"; United States Savings Bonds Series "G."

Your neighbor will call on you for your support in this great move. Be prepared to invest!

DARK JUNGLES

THE STORY: Allison Topping, society girl, is off to Guatemala, to run her father's chicle plantations. Barry Fielding, mining engineer en route to the same land in search of a quicksilver mine operated by the Queche Indian tribe, has tried many times to dissuade her. Allison saves Barry's life by swimming to him, knife in hand. Allison faints, Barry, though grateful to Allison, is angered by her refusal to listen to reason.

ALLISON AND BARRY CHAPTER I

For the next two days the Caribbean stretched as passive as a sheet of dark green glass under a cloudless sky. Allison, in a red leotard, sat still within her, she tried playing shuffleboard with the ship's captain but she could not hold her mind to the game. Her eyes kept sweeping furtively the length of the deck and holding on the door of cabin P. But it didn't open. Barry had kept to his cabin the last two days. Allison had seen the little Mexican cabin boy carry trays to the door at mealtime.

Breakfast was just over and Allison preceded Captain Hooker through the narrow corridor out onto the deck.

"What time do we dock tomorrow, Captain?" Allison smiled at the stout, heavy man who walked beside her.

"With a sea like this we should reach Puerto Barrios by 5 in the morning."

His eyes twinkled humorously as he shot the girl a side glance and caught the quick frown that crossed her face.

"Don't take it so seriously, Miss Topping. Quarantine doesn't open until 7. If you can sleep through the noise of unloading cargo I will see that you are not disturbed."

Allison laughed.

"Don't worry about my sleep. I'll have so much to do this trip I feel like a bear."

The captain laughed. He stopped as they reached the iron stairway that led up to the crew's quarters.

"Even a freighter captain has to make some pretense of working," he said lightly. "And this is when my day starts. Is there anything I can do to make you more comfortable?"

"Thanks, no. I think I'll take a couple of turns around the deck and then settle down with a book. Some people think they're good company."

She swung along the sun-bleached deck with long, easy steps. The play of the gold in her soft hair and hair and then poured down over her powder blue open-necked blouse, her canary skirt. Her flat-heeled shoes made her look smaller, less sophisticated. She had dressed carefully that morning. As she passed Barry's cabin she stopped heavily and slowly. But the door didn't open, and she went on to her own cabin. Back on deck with a book, she settled herself in a deck chair and tried to read. Her eyes kept deserting the pages, restlessly turning out over the calm sea where an early morning mist festooned itself like a curtain of sheer, blue gauze above the water.

She laid her head back and watched with half-closed eyes. She could hear only the low rumbling of the ship's diesel engines and the musical rippling of the sea as it slid along the ship's hull. Slowly the distant left her face. A mischievous smile appeared on her delicate lips. In quick decision, she lifted her purse from beside her chair and took out a pencil and notebook. She wrote the message slowly, carefully, and when she had finished, she read it through several times.

Allison opened her eyes sleepily in the total darkness of her cabin as she heard the rattle of the anchor chain. She lay quietly for only a moment as she heard

REJECTION LOOMS ON LABOR DRAFT

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—An informal poll of the senate military affairs committee today revealed that 10 of the 18 members are likely to oppose the Austin-Wadsworth national service bill.

Only one member—Sen. Warren R. Austin, R., Vt.—co-sponsor of the bill—would vote for it in its present form.

Some seven members believe that some type of draft-law legislation should be enacted, but a full vote on the bill is being held off until the spring.

The committee has been holding hearings on the bill since the beginning of March. Most witnesses have been opponents.

The poll of the committee showed the following lineup:

Against the bill—Chairman Robert R. Reynolds, D., N. C.; Edwin C. Johnson, D., Colo.; Lister Hill, D., Ala.; Sheridan Downey, D., Calif.; Albert B. Chandler, D., Ky.; M. C. Wadsworth, D., Wash.; H. R. H. Chapman, D., Mich.; W. V. George, A. Wilson, R., Ia.; Chas. McNair, R., S. D.

For the bill—Sen. Frank McNair, R., S. D.

Thus it appears that unless there is a serious turn of events in the legislative situation, present plans for a compulsory labor program cannot get approval of the senate committee.

President Roosevelt has never mentioned himself in connection with the bill which leaves the administration officially uncommitted. But Secretary of War Henry Stimson and Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson have put the war department on record as favoring the War Manpower Committee Paul V. McNair, after insisting for several months that voluntary civilian manpower methods should be given first trial, recently said that he thought compulsory mobilization of the nation's labor force was inevitable.

It was only a question of time, he said, before the nation would be one of "wart and war."

Under the provisions of the Austin-Wadsworth bill men from 18 to 65 and women from 18 to 50—without specific exemptions for young men—would be drafted for war jobs commensurate with their abilities and training. The bill, if enacted, would be in effect until May 1, 1945.

NAZI FLIERS TRY WEAK REPRISALS

LONDON, April 12 (AP)—At least three Nazi planes were shot down in the English Channel last night as the Germans attempted weak reprisals for heavy Allied attacks in the Channel last night.

The British air force reported that a two-engine German aircraft off the air as it came in for a night landing, the air ministry news service reported.

In addition, a British intruder plane was northern France knocked down by a two-engine German aircraft off the air as it came in for a night landing, the air ministry news service reported.

The big RAF bombers did not resume the hammering of Germany and the occupied territories last night, but aircraft of the bomber command laid mines in enemy waters and two planes were lost, an air ministry communiqué said.

The Russian air blow Saturday night, which a Soviet announcement said damaged many "industrial and military objectives" and caused heavy fire and explosions, was the high point of a series which included a daylight attack by American Liberators from north Africa on Naples and Rome at dusk Saturday by six B-24 Superfortresses.

The raids over the low countries, which killed three German planes, two fighters were missing from the patrol presumably over the continent, a British announcement said.

The German communiqué said the planes were destroyed in flight over western occupied territory yesterday and that a few allied planes flew as far as the German frontier.

British torpedo and bomber command reported that five German planes were reported to have been destroyed. Another four were reported shot down by German light naval units off Norway and occupied western Europe.

Trees Placed at Relocation Area

HUNT, April 12—Several truck loads of shade trees donated by residents of Jerome and Twin Falls were placed in the Middlefork relocation center last week. Since the center is located on an area cleared of asparagus and beans of vegetation, the trees were welcomed by the residents. Volunteer crews following a uniform plan put the trees into the ground.

The center has made arrangements to have its truck pick up trees, cuttings, shrubs, bulbs and needs at the two towns. In Twin Falls they should be left at the bandstand in the city park on Shoshone street.

The Girls Behind the War Bond Workers

In preparation for the second war loan the Idaho state office of the victory fund committee mailed out 100,000 folders and workers' kits to prospective bond buyers and victory fund workers. They are, left to right: Barbara Green, Flora Alder, Patricia Dillard, Virginia Jensen, Beale Coleman, and Mrs. Theo. H. Wegener. Stacks of literature and packages of workers' kits as the picture was taken, but these were in the hands of workers Monday as the big bond drive got under way. Idaho's quota in bond purchases is $12,617,500.

We're Attacking--That's One Reason for New Bond Drive

(By NEA Service)

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—This 12-billion-dollar second war loan drive which starts April 12 is the biggest "push" Uncle Sam has made in three years here's why it's needed now: We are attacking.

Last year the U. S. Treasury made its first big bond drive. It was a success. It brought in the money needed to maintain millions of soldiers, and to keep their tanks, planes and ships moving in offensive combat.

The initiative in war costs more because attack means greater losses, repairs, replacements. U. S. fighting men have the offensive and they are going to keep it—in all existing fronts and on new fronts. Within the planned invasion of Europe begins in anybody's guess—but fighting money for it is needed now.

These new bonds can rightly be called "attack bonds," by John C. Egan. Officially, Uncle Sam calls them "combat bonds."

Treasury spokesmen, pointing out that food, transportation and munitions for men in battle cost huge sums, give a few figures to make that point comprehensible. One operating table for a hospital handling many casualties costs $400. One mine-clearing machine to clear a hundred acres of anchored mines before a ship moves costs $2,500,000.

Bigger Combat Weapons

Uncle Sam asks citizens to visualize new, bigger combat weapons and remember: If you can't get close enough to blow the tread off

Man, 26, Jailed After Posing as Woman 8 Years

CLOVIS, N. M., April 12 (AP)—Red Lashon Dooker, 26-year-old Texas man, was arrested today for posing as a woman for eight years.

Dooker was held in jail at Clovis today awaiting transfer to state prison at Santa Fe to begin serving a 25-year term.

He pleaded guilty in district court today to a long list of crimes, including a daylight attack by American Liberators from north Africa on Naples and Rome at dusk Saturday by six B-24 Superfortresses.

HULL ASKS OKAY ON TRADE PACTS

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—Secretary Hull today urged renewal of the reciprocal trade agreements law in order, he said, to demonstrate that the United States will cooperate with other nations not only in war but in peace to come.

"The many people who look to this country with hope," Hull told the house ways and means committee, "are watching our action on this act with profound interest. We do about it will be looked upon as a significant point in the path they can expect us to follow."

"Repudiation of the trade agreements program or the curtailment of it in scope or time by amendment, would be taken as a clear indication that this country which in war is bearing its full share of responsibility, will not do so in peace. This might well weaken the ties which hold together the group of nations with which we are so vitally associated in the prosecution of the war."

Hull said trade agreements have been concluded with 27 countries and that of these "only tragic Finland is at war today with us. It is our ally, and even she is not at war with us."

"Of the others," he continued, "16 are now by our side at war with our enemies... six of the remaining 10 have broken off relations with the axis countries and are cooperating on our side in many ways... The remaining four are neutral."

Army, for First Time, Tells About Famed U.S. Bombsight

(Editor's note: The following dispatch contains a description of the famous Norden bomb sight, one of the most closely-guarded secrets in the allied arsenal. The author has just completed a tour of the U. S. army air force flying training command. For reasons explained in the dispatch the army has agreed to permit publication of this description of the bomb sight apparatus.)

HEADQUARTERS U. S. ARMY AIR FORCES FLYING TRAINING COMMAND, FORT WORTH, Tex., April 12 (AP)—The enemy undoubtedly has captured several of the famous Norden bomb sights and for that reason the secrecy surrounding the intricate device has been relaxed somewhat, according to Col. John P. Kenny, commander of the air force bombardier school at Midland, Tex.

But he added that there was no cause for alarm because it would take axis scientists two years or more to duplicate the bomb sight. Kenny said it was inevitable that one of the Norden sights should fall into the hands of the enemy because it is carried in nearly all of the American bombers which penetrate deep into enemy territory. Some of the bombers do not return and it is not always possible for the bombardier to carry out his oath to destroy the Norden sight rather than permit it to fall into enemy hands.

It is the great belief that the decision to transfer the Norden sight from the restricted category came as a great relief to bombardier schools and bomber stations everywhere. Previously it could be handled only by officers and had to be locked up every night. Now enlisted men can handle it and it can be left in the plane, though true direction and prepares the bombs for dropping.

When the run begins, the bombardier takes command of the ship. During the next 25 seconds the maximum time allowed in most combat runs, he becomes extremely busy. He must concentrate on his job even if anti-aircraft shells are bursting on all sides. Success of the entire mission depends on how well he uses those 25 seconds.

Lines up Cross Hairs

Squinting through a telescope, which is part of the sight, the bombardier is to line up two cross hairs inside the telescope so that they intersect across the target. Then he adjusts the sight so that even as the plane moves forward as three miles, the cross hairs remain on the target. The bombardier automatically stays on the target.

After he has set the cross hairs at the point where they appear to be stationary on the target, the bombardier looks through the sight to the "bombs away" through the telescope to the pilot, who takes over the ship and heads for home.

Handfuls of Parts

Taken apart, the sight becomes a great confusion of mirrors, prisms, lenses, gears, wires, bearings and countless other tiny parts. Making it easy to understand why the following is becoming a popular among aircraft men.

"Someday they'll be giving commissions to the bombardiers and leaving the bombardiers at home. Once you get the sight trained on the target—and it takes a good bombardier only 25 seconds of actual flying to do that—you literally can't miss. That was demonstrated twice at 6,000 feet and twice again at 500 feet. It was uncanny. No human could ever approach such accuracy."

Here's How

Here, roughly, is how the bombardier does the sight.

Before beginning the run on the target, he sets the sight for the desired altitude and level. He sets up 10 gyroscopes to spin with the axis perpendicular to the ground, lines up the sight with the plane's
