SWEDEN'S DISPATCH BLUNT TO BERLIN FOR MINING WATERS

STOCKHOLM, April 24 (AP)—The Swedish government, announcing the discovery of German mines in Sweden's territorial waters, sent a blunt note to Berlin today warning Germany about the mine-laying and expressing dissatisfaction over the Nazi answer to a protest against the mining upon the Swedish submarine Draken by the German merchant ship Alkiret.

The government announced the Swedish navy will take measures against any German forces laying mines in this nation's territorial waters as well as against ships which fire on Swedish vessels.

While the formal note to Berlin mentioned only that the mines would be taken, qualified observers believe the order meant that officers had been instructed to open fire to protect the neutrality that has safeguarded Sweden from the war.

The note demanded assurance of the Nazis that steps would be taken to prevent a repetition of such incidents as the attack on the Draken.

It was disclosed that during the search for the missing Swedish submarine Draken, submerged German mines were discovered inside the three-mile territorial limit in the vicinity of Marstrand.

The Swedes have taken steps to remove the mines, the statement said.

The note said that it was "undiplomatic" for the Alkiret, that of the Draken and that the action, together with the mine laying, constituted a violation of Sweden's neutrality.

POWER MAN HITS AT BOARD ORDER

BOISE, April 24—C. J. Strick, president of the Idaho Power company, Saturday termed an "unwarranted" criticism by a federal bureau, the SEC's order calling for dissolution of the Electric Power and Light company under the public utility holding company act of 1935.

Electric Power and Light corporation was organized in 1923 by Electric Bond and Share company. Its present properties include Utah Power and Light company and part ownership of the Idaho Power company.

A brief in the case has been filed in the circuit court of appeals, Boston, Mass., seeking to set aside the order. A similar action was entered by the American Power and Light corporation.

Strick said it is unfortunate that the securities and exchange commission has read into the so-called public utility act a harsh interpretation which calls for punitive persecution of this company and other utilities.

Ample Labor for Beet Crop, Employment Service Finds

Assurance that there will be ample labor to handle a Twin Falls county beet crop as large as that of last year came last night from Howard Staples, manager of the U. S. employment service office here.

Staples' encouragement to farmers still undecided on sugar beet planting areas as indications showed that only 3,200 acres of beets are to be planted in the county this year, compared to 4,500 acres last year.

The combined facilities of the U. S. employment service and the county extension service will provide adequate labor in this locality to plant, cultivate and harvest a beet acreage at least equal to that of 1942, Staples asserted.

Commonly Will suffer from the drought. He pointed out last night that the county extension service will provide adequate labor in this locality to plant, cultivate and harvest a beet acreage at least equal to that of 1942, Staples asserted.

The hired reduction in beet planting will result in shortening of the sugar factory run in virtually direct proportion.

National Jaycee Head Coming For Junior Chamber War Meet

The Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce will be host to William M. Shepherd, Pine Bluff, Ark., national Jaycee president, and representatives of the local organization in Idaho at the state Junior Chamber of Commerce Challenge War Conference at the Park hotel, May 2 and 3.

John Q. Adams, Jr., and Charles Sieber, Twin Falls Jaycee president, are co-chairmen of the general committee planning for the annual meeting, which this year will be concerned with little but problems of the war.

This conference will be devoted to the needs of the war, said Adams last night, and the planning of projects to be carried out in war programs. Special emphasis will be given to plans for Jaycee activities during the war and after it is over.

The highlights of the convention will be the banquet Monday night, which will close the two-day program with National President Shepherd as principal speaker.

The war conference will open with registration in the morning of Sunday, May 2, at the Park hotel, which will be headquarters for the affair. Business meetings will be held Sunday, and there will be a "get-together" for members and wives Sunday night at the hotel.

Business sessions will be held during Monday, and the conference will end with the banquet Monday night.

In addition to the Jaycee business meetings, there will be Junior Chamber of Commerce auxiliary meetings held during the two days. Adams last night urged all local Jaycees to register for the conference, because attendance of the na-

FARMER ASKING CHANGE OF PLEA

Permission to withdraw a plea of guilty in justice court at Buhl was requested Saturday by a farmer, District Judge J. W. Porter Friday by Roger Hansen, Buhl Judge Porter took the motion under advisement.

The case is the appeal of Hansen from a fine of $100 and a 90-day jail sentence assessed at Buhl for what the justice court record shows was a violation of the ordinance permitting stock to run at large in a herd district last February. The Buhl case was brought by R. H. Love and A. A. Ahlin, partners.

Earl E. Walker, Twin Falls, attorney for Hansen, said his client deprecates that he pleaded guilty as shown by the court record.

Also pending is a case filed by Hansen against the plaintiffs in the first case, in which Hansen seeks a reduction in the fine to $50, which is said to be held by Love and Ahlin. In this suit Hansen contends that the parties failed to comply with statutes regulating the taking up of estrays, and that former district attorney here may have, at one time existed.

FOUR CINCINNATI ERRORS GIVE CARDINALS 2-1 VICTORY

First Bird Run In 27 Innings

CINCINNATI, April 24 (AP)—Four errors by the Cincinnati Reds today gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 victory, taking advantage of three mistakes in the first inning to win their first score in 27 innings of the infant season.

Mid-season pitching by Elmer Miller in his seventh game today went for aught, while it was not until the eighth that the Reds were able to connect with Harry Gumbert, who started for the world champions. Then, Max Marshall's single drove McCormack's double over the fence to bring Howard Krenz to the scene and the Cardinals' home tally came with Marshall scoring. Eddie Miller bunted out on an attempted squeeze play.

The Cards really made hay in the sixth. Duke Gerns flied, Stan Musial singled and took second as Eric McCarroll fumbled the ball. Ray Sanders walked, Lenzie Perry fumbled Ken O'Dea's grounder and the game was filled. Harry Walker flied and all runners fled. Then Musial dashed for home, was momentarily trapped but when catcher Ray Mueller dropped Bert Haas' return, he scored.

The Cards' second run, in the eighth, was manufactured on successive singles, with one out, by Musial and Sanders. Musial took a lead on Eddie Miller's fumble of Sanders' ball and scored as Mueller misplayed for a passed ball.

Mrs. Rogers Averages 187 to Win Pin Tourney All-Events

Mrs. Ruth Rogers today had emerged as Twin Falls' bowler of the year.

Not only is she finishing up the season with a better than 170 average in league play, but Mrs. Rogers' Friday night emphasized her supremacy over the women's tennis field by winning the all-events in the annual tournament of the women's city association.

The all-female event was won from the tournament with a 1,684 scratch total for the all-events—an average of 187 for the day's games. She rolled 616 in the team event, 855 in the doubles and 912 in the singles. Her best single game was 231 in the doubles and 205 in the singles.

Mrs. Henry Hunter, who was runner-up to Mrs. Rogers in the all-events with 1,507—a few pins less than a 170 average, and Mrs. Rogers in league play, finished 569 in the doubles and 512 in the singles.

Miss Rogers' participation also went to Mrs. Henry. Allotted a handicap of 16 pins a game, she totaled 1,614. Her best game was 205 and 212.

Her second was Mrs. Ruth Hoop with 580, including 35 pins a game. Her best game was 212.

Her third was Mrs. Iola Wagner with 517, including 17 pins a game handicap.

Doubles Winners

Mrs. Ruth Rogers and Mrs. Henry were the doubles winners with 1,601, including 35 pins a game handicap. The duo total the former captured a 557 total.

Mrs. Rogers and Dorothy Groves were second with 1,412, including 30 pins a game handicap. Mrs. Rogers received only two pins of the handicap total. Mrs. Henry and Esther Alban finished third with 1,082, including 41 pins handicap.

On the Sport Front

By GEORGE F. REDMOND

The Ye Old Sport Scrivener goes on record as being unalterably opposed to the recommendation of the state athletic association that the participation of each football player be limited to three-fourths of any one school.

Why? Because he wants as many American boys as possible to get into contact sports. He believes that the state association is hoping to attain by the institution of such a rule, the association says, the army has recommended it as in keeping with physical fitness program.

The rule won't attain that object, it will deter the smaller schools, of which Idaho has many, out of regulation football, or into state-man game. These schools generally have just a few players over the required 11. The rule means that a minimum of 11 will be necessary.

Another bad feature of the three-quarter rule would be the possible forcing of a coach to use players not in the best of condition, possibly from injuries.

It also would force a further hardship on the small school, in most instances the small school's whole offense is centered around one or two good boys. It is these good boys that give the small school the opportunity to play larger institutions. That means their football activity will be restricted to schools of their own size—again minimizing the greater activity in contact sports sought by the army.

Every coach wants to use as many boys as possible. He doesn't have to develop his boys for the seasons to come. And, too, he generally tries to do the sporting thing with his brother coach. He desires to use his best gifted players in order to give a beaten opponent a chance.

The rule will be fine for the larger schools that give their large football squads.

The association will give the schools of the state a chance to vote on the proposal before instituting it. That's good. Ye Old Scrivener believes it will be voted down overwhelmingly.

The schools will be then given

Texan Nips 21-Year-Old High Jump Record in Drake Relays

DES MOINES, Ia., April 24 (AP)—A Texan named Pete Watkins, standing 6 feet 4 1/2 inches, propelled his 204-pound frame over the bar at 6 feet, 8 inches today to smash the Drake relay carnival's high jump record that had withstood assault for 21 years.

This 22-year-old athlete from Texas A. and M. erased the record of 6 feet, 6 inches established by Harold Osborne of the University of Illinois in 1922. Osborne, now an assistant coach at his alma mater, was among the 8,000 spectators thrilled by Watkins' performance and was quick to congratulate him.

Reigning state Olympians A. and M. and Howard Debus, Nebraska, both scoring doubles, shared high individual honors with the record-breaking Watkins, while the University of Illinois' 11-pointing runner was completely dominated. The relay events by winning five of them in the two days of competition.

Debus won the 120-yard high hurdles in 1:46 seconds after winning the broad jump yesterday with a leap of 24 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Debus won the javelin with a throw of 189.95 feet to add to his victorious toss of 153.48 feet in the discus yesterday.

Old timers attending the 34th annual relay classic could not recall when a team dominated the discus-throwing events as completely as Illinois did. The Illini captured the sport and distance medals over the opening of the program and the mile, two-mile and four-mile events today.

Rice Sets New Penn Record

PHILADELPHIA, April 24 (AP)—Clegg Rice took up where his understudy left off today and showed 20,000 fans at the 49th University of Pennsylvania relay carnival the only record-breaking performance of the two-day meet.

Making his outdoor start of a campaign he hopes will lead to a series of meetings with Sweden's Gunder Hagg, Rice ran off from his field in the two-mile race.

His time of 9:12, while it was nowhere near Hagg's unofficial world record of 8:17.8 or even Rice's own indoor mark of 8:51, was more than good enough to beat the carnival mark of 9:17.6.

The former Notre Dame speedster came in after another Notre Dame ace, Ode Hunter, had turned in a series of crowd-pleasing performances. Hunter eliminated a two-day job by running a 4:29.9 anchor mile in the four-mile relay to give the Irish a 20-yard margin over Penn State.

Indians Defeat Tigers in 9th

CLEVELAND, April 24 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians came to life with a three-run rally in the ninth inning today for a 3-2 triumph over the luckless Detroit Tigers.

Jeff Heath and the Tigers' general manager played equal parts in the ninth as Cleveland triumphed over pitcher Al White, who had led the clubhouse in two innings against the Cleveland outfield center.

The Indians' three-run rally scored a timely two-run single and scored the winning tally after two Detroit errors.

Walks, Fly For Sox

ST. LOUIS, April 24 (AP)—Omer the dead ball better, the Chicago White Sox scored their winning runs without a base hit today as they defeated the St. Louis Browns, 3-1, behind Ed Smith's six-hit pitching.

With the count knotted at 1-0 going into the eighth, Julius Rothenberger, who was safe on an error and Wally Moses walked, filling the bases.

The losing Denny Galehouse was removed, but his relief, George Caster, landed a free stroll to Dick Kuhn's error, for six runs in the eighth.

First Batter Gets Only Hit

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Spud Chandler, 25-year-old right hander, pitched the New York Yankees to a one-hit, 1-0 victory over the Washington Senators before a sparse crowd of 8,157 in Yankee stadium today.

One of the men of Joe McCarthy's mound staff for several years, Chandler was picked for a double job by the first batter to face him, Ellis Glary, senior rookie third baseman, but thereafter set up.

Chandler rolled up seven strikes, getting centerfielder Stan Spence on strikes four times in the first and second innings.

He was in trouble only in seventh when the Senators filled the bases on three of the five walks Chandler gave up. Here a fast out the second game on the effectiveness of the rule—only in this case the second guessers will be right.

TO KEEP YOUR CAR IN FIGHTING TRIM

HAS it occurred to you that it may be more difficult to replace your automobile than to get new or recapped tires? There will be no new cars built until some time after the war ends. So it is especially important that you keep your car properly lubricated—that you have the battery checked frequently, even as often as you buy gasoline—that you keep your tires inflated to 32 pounds pressure at all times—and that you don't drive over 35 miles an hour.

We'll be glad to help you all we can to keep your car in good wartime condition.

Cubs and Pirates Bang out 20 Hits

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates continued to use the new regulation ball today, but found it enough for 20 home hits.

The Pirates got 12 of them but didn't have the pitching or fielding to catch and let, 6 to 3. The victory gave the Cubs a 1-0 lead in the series.

12 New Marks Set as Bobcats Take Meet

RUPERT, April 24—Twelve conference records were broken as Burley won the Big Seven track and field meet here yesterday afternoon. The invitational meet held a week ago, rolled up 69 points, 17 more than the Pirates, who finished second. Buhl was third with 26 and Jerome fourth with 14.

Oakley failed to win a point, while the other schools in the conference, Elliker and Gooding, are out of track this season because of a shortened school term.

Only three records set in the first conference meet held at Burley since 1931 survived the onslaught of the 1943 stars. They were 100 yards in 18.8 seconds set by Carlisle of Burley and 100 yards by Carlisle of Burley and Klink, Burley, the mile mark of 5:08 held by Jerome. The 100 yard record of 18 feet, one inch held by Oibson, Burley.

Four Repeaters Only four winners of 1942 came back to win their specialties yesterday. Carlton took the 100 yard race, but was a tenth of a second off the record. Evans, Burley, again won the 200 yard race, this time in 23 seconds, nine-tenths of a second faster than last year. Jerome took the mile race, this time in 5:10, eight and one-half inches, 11 1/2 inches better than in 1942. Oibson, Burley, also repeated in the 100 yard dash, but failed to beat his 1942 mark.

Jerome's score in the meet was 14-2. Leland Garner, Rupert, who was first in the 200 and broad jump, accounted for the century and the 100 yard dash for a point total of 13. J. W. Jett, Burley, snagged up 14 points with first in the high hurdles and high jump, led second in the pole vault and ran one leg in the medley relay.

Peterston Wins Two Events Peterson, Jerome, won both the 100 and 200 yard dashes. Peterson sprang the big upset of the meet when he won the quarter mile dash in 4:27, one and one-half seconds faster than last year's champion, Blach and Derlin.

The Burley medley relay team of Bell, Pace, N. Perkins and M. Perkins knocked more than 10 seconds off the previous record by running it in 4:07.5.

Many of the Big Seven athletes will compete in the invitational meet to be held next Friday at Twin Falls.

AFRICAN LOSSES 12,000, SAYS OWI

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The United States War Department today announced that 12,000 African soldiers had been killed in action during the war in the Congo. The figures were released in response to a statement earlier this week by Roane Waring, national commander of the American Legion who has just returned from Tunisia. He said that the Americans have paid a "terrible price" in the African campaign and that the army had announced all casualties suffered to date.

The war department said that its figures included the period from the initial invasion through the battle of El Gueter on March 15. It said that the army had captured El Gueter on March 15. It said that the army had captured El Gueter on March 15. It said that the army had captured El Gueter on March 15.

Since the beginning of the north African operation, Davis explained, "various war department announcements have reported a total of more than 10,000 casualties. Some of these have not yet been reported to Washington, but it is estimated here that the total from Nov. 7 to date will not run more than 12,000."

"Somewhat less than 2,000 were lost in the landings in Morocco and Algeria; and it is believed that the Tunisian operations all told have probably cost our army nearly 10,000 in killed, wounded and missing. Now, that is a large number, and of course it does not include the losses of the British and French. But these are good-soldiered troops. They are highly trained, and probably at least as many more in killed and wounded."

The bloom is deep and the humor high in wartime Germany, the OWI has reported. Describing an article by the Swedish magazine, Vecko-Journalen, on Nazi Germany, OWI said it contained such statements as: "The German people aren't feeling the spring, since they no longer have any hope of a better future. 'What is the shortest joke?' one Berliner asks. 'The payoff line.' 'We will win,' is the payoff line."

DAVIS TRYING TO STOP REPRISALS

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Elmer Davis of the office of war information appears to be trying to stem the angry congressional demands for reprisals against loyal Japanese-Americans as payment for the execution of some of the Doullville fliers.

In his weekly radio review last night, he answered not only demands heard in congress to strip American-born Japanese of their citizenship, but the recent statement of military officials on the west coast that "a Jap's a Jap."

Davis said that thousands of Japanese-Americans who were born in the United States and educated in American schools are as proud as the rest of the country about the military officials on the west coast that "a Jap's a Jap."

LET'S QUIT PAYING TRIBUTE TO SUPERSTITION

Frequently we encounter people who are very much surprised to learn that our Alt Heidelberg Premium Pale is brewed here in the State of Idaho. "Why I never realized it was an Idaho product," they say, or "I always thought it was made in the East."

Perhaps the blame is our fault. Possibly we should feature Idaho more strongly on our labels. But the interesting thing to us is the all-too-prevalent notion, which seems to exist in the minds of so many Westerners, that an exceptionally good product must come out of the East. It seems to be sort of a superstition to which many Westerners pay tribute.

We honestly believe that Alt Heidelberg Premium Pale is at least as good as any other beer brewed in America today. There is no reason why it shouldn't be. We have an outstanding brewmaster who ranks with the best in the country. Few have been better trained or had a better background in the industry. We use only the finest ingredients available. No one anywhere can employ better skill than the many loyal employees that have been affiliated in the manufacture of Alt Heidelberg Premium Pale Beer.

And just as we believe that our product is the equal of any in America, so we feel sure are the products of many of our various Idaho neighbors.

Let's quit paying tribute to superstition! Let's realize that we of the West can do anything that they of the East can do—and many times do it better

Salmon Reservoir Opening May 1

BOISE, April 24 (AP)—The Salmon river reservoir in 700-foot depth will open to trout fishing on May 1, James O. Beck, director of the Idaho fish and game department, reminded fishermen today. The season is one of the earliest in south Idaho, and will continue until December 1.

Central trout season starts May 21 and lasts through Nov. 15. Most streams are expected to be higher than usual because of exceptionally heavy runoff.

Salmon reservoir in Idaho county has been open since April 1, but only recently was fishing possible. The reservoir was frozen on opening of the last few days but could be still muddy to that area.

April season will close in the south April 30 and will return July 1.

MONTADORE
CHAPTER XVI
 His fever had been how miraculously disappeared during the night. Barry woke to the golden fragrance of a tropical morning. He lay weak but clear-headed. He lay listening to the faint chatter of monkeys, masters and mistresses and a variety of birds that flatched their bright throats about the entrance. "Good morning, Barry," said Allison. There was a bright smile radiating in her face as she sat up in his tray, laughing in her voice. She spread her hands for him and touched her cheek hand lightly to his forehead. "You're fine," she said with maternal joy. "No excuse for not coming out and looking after my own cats."
 "What are you talking about?" Barry frowned as he drank his chocolate juice. She took her side him laughing, her eyes had a "rage" about them. Her heart-shorn face which shimmered had now disappeared under a sunny tan.
 "Meet me out in the clearing and you'll see," she laughed.
 Barry drank his coffee and ate the two eggs with a flourish this morning. He felt stronger than he had for a long time and a surge of fresh hope went through him. Maybe he had thrown the spear for a real hit this time. He got up and put on his boots and hat for him and went out of the entrance.
 He saw a large thatched house on a hill with a broad veranda, from which could be seen the half dozen stacks of the chickens and the wide clearing that surrounded the massed entrance. Barry went to the side of the veranda and saw a man sitting to devour the many strands of chicken. Barry made his way unobtrusively down the broad steps of the veranda. The man's name was "Montadore," Barry recalled.
 Her eyes twinkled with mischief. "Montadore is our chief's younger brother."
 "Yes, my catwombed chicken," Barry retorted meekly.
 "You see?" she continued. "It's very naughty of them, but zapote trees don't grow all in one place. They go just where they please to live their lives."
 "Like you," retorted Barry.
 "Like me?" she laughed. "So we have to send out montadores to cut trails to the new grove. Rough boys, aren't they?"
 She and Barry joined the two montadores who stood in the sun near the hollow tree giving their report to Renato. They were powerful, high-looking natives, looking more like a ruminant, filthy animals than men after their long, grunting tackle with the jungle. Renato turned to greet Barry with a smile. "Sounds like we've found a full-sized grove from what they say," he said, his voice rising with satisfaction.
 "It's exciting!" Allison cried. "To go just out and discover your orchard?"
 "Thrilling maybe, but tough," mused Barry as the two montadores, now dimmed, moved heavily off toward their entrance. He gasped and returned to the hut by side him. Her violet eyes were wide and shining.
 "That's it," she was whispering. "That's the jungle. Thrilling — and tough. You can't roam your head off, but you can't face it. You have to fight every minute for your life."
 Barry's mouth dropped open in amazement. "Why, you scrawpy little varmint," he said.

MORGAN VS. NOW IEA'S PRESIDENT

BOISE, April 24 (AP)—A. W. Morgan, superintendent of schools in Twin Falls, is the new president of the Idaho Educational Association. He advanced to that position automatically from vice-president at the closing session of the 51st annual meeting of the organization here today.

Morgan succeeds R. A. Pomroy, education director of the Idaho re-education center, Hunt, L. L. Carlson, Lewiston superintendent, and Kenneth D. Dean, Geneva superintendent, were nominated for vice-president. Election will be by mailed ballot.

Special Session Discussed

A special session of the Idaho legislature may be necessary to prevent closing of schools next fall in opinion of many delegates. The proposal was advanced today at a telephonic assembly of the association, but was not acted upon.

Open discussion at the assembly revealed many of the state's educators feared a greater shortage of teachers resulting in closing of many schools.

The two methods of combatting the shortage, this discussion revealed, were general increases in teacher salaries and a complete reorganization and consolidation of school districts.

Salary Increase Sought

The legislature would be asked to provide more funds for salary increases and to provide the machinery for study by which the reorganization and consolidation could be made. Budgeting of budgetary and financial methods and policies would be included in the reorganization.

Secretary John I. Hillman said a new survey to determine existing teacher salaries will be completed May 20 or shortly thereafter. He pointed out that had increased teacher salaries 50 per cent and that Oregon had a minimum teacher salary of $1,200. The average teacher salary in Idaho is $720.

It was inferred that if the shortage is as critical as anticipated, Governor Bottolfsen would be asked to call the legislature into special session.

Reorganization Favored

The assembly went on record as favoring reorganization of school districts and for completion of the school equalization program through appropriation of more funds by the state. The last legislature appropriated $2,500,000 to the public school income fund. The I. E. A. requested $3,200,000 to complete the equalization program.

The assembly further recommended that teachers not certified under the liberalized re-employment permits after last summer classes at Alton and Lewiston and bring up on modern teaching methods.

The assembly followed the action of the executive committee and commended the state board of education for expanding the Alton and Lewiston normals to four-year institutions.

Wendell Estimates Over 200 Gardens

WENDELL, April 24—An estimated 200 gardens, believed to be more than at any time in the history of the town, will be planted this spring as residents go "all-out" in producing their own food.

The estimate was made by irrigation officials on the basis of reports from three men plowing land for the home gardens. They have not yet been able to fill all requests for plowing.

Bert Barton is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee which is encouraging the planting of victory gardens.
