Allies Ready For Drive On New Japanese

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Sept. 23 (AP)— Allied troops fought today to seize the Japanese base at Finischan, out of more than 60 additional miles of New Guinea coast and now positions for a possible attack on New Britain island.

A communique announced that Australian units, supported by sea and air forces, are to advance against enemy positions six miles north of Finischan yesterday in a bid to secure allied control of the entire New Guinea coast.

The official report contained no details of the action, which was similar to the move that involved 400 to 500 men, including the 1st and 2nd Divisions of the 1st Australian Corps, and the 1st and 2nd Divisions of the 1st New Zealand Army Corps.

Four more bridges were destroyed south of the main road, which knocked out in three days. A 1,500-ton tank was sunk in the Black Sea and three others damaged in various forms.

Allied Blockade Cuts off German Retreat From Corsica; Advancing Ground Troops Make 15-Mile Gain

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 23 (AP)— Allied sea and air power threw a blockade around Corsica today, cutting off German retreat from the island. French and American troops closing in on Bastia, the enemy's last seaport.

It appeared doubtful that the Germans would be able to haul on the small island much longer under combined air, land and sea pressure.

Allied warships hounded the strip of coast where the road of retreat runs close to the sea, and supported the troops which carried out a furious attack near Solenzara, 60 miles south of Bastia.

Allied headquarters announced advances of 10 to 15 miles in central and southern sectors of Italy in a forward sweep which was gradually forcing Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring to cover the island approaches to smoke-smothered, dynamite-shattered Naples.

Allied soldiers were within sight and sound of the systematic sacking of Naples by German demolition squads.

As the sound of frequent explosions from the smacking city rolled over the hills toward the Americans and British, allied headquarters announced that the Germans had scuttled at least 30 ships in the harbor of Naples.

It has been burning about the city for several days, and it is expected that the city will be completely destroyed by the end of the month.

BEAN FEUD BEAT BEFORE WLB

Lowered to raise wages, and at least part of those attending the panel meeting received the impression that the board's decision would be annulled Monday.

All bean warblers contacted Thursday reported that small, overcast clouds were hanging over the flood of beans now coming in.

Four men were working at the plant and the other two were in the six men working and needed 10, and needed 32 women instead of the 21 men.

Eight men were needed at the Landrich seed company and three were working and needed 12 men to do the work at 18 and 40 women made up a force that was 12 short of the number needed.

The Alfred J. Brown warehouse wanted 30 women and 17 men, after the other men were contacted, the several women were needed with nine girls, and three men were falling behind in trying to do the work of six.

The Twin Falls mill, which handles beans in 10 places over every valley, although not in Twin Falls, reported labor shortages at every point, although some of these were said to be in fair shape because of labor carried through the summer.

In other places part-time labor is being used, including school children. No effort is being made to clean the beans as they arrive, a practice which is frowned upon by other concerns.

The heavy threshing of beans, and consequently a busy time at bean seed houses, is expected to continue for the next several weeks. It after the first week, beans will come "down" in for three weeks after that.

Little change in temperature today and tonight. High yesterday 70; low yesterday 48. Low today morning 48.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

At Jeff Crowell's the other day, we were having a glass of beer or two and talking about the kind of world there'd be when America came.

"I hear they'll have trans-Atlantic airplanes fly regular as taxi service," says Ed Croy.

"Yep," says Will Frost, "and televisions and plastic cars and air conditioned homes and super-drive highways."

Finally, Doc Mitchell chimes in, "You know," he says, "we're talkin' about the hell in terms of luxuries—like air-conditioned houses and televisions."

"That's really what shapes tomorrow's world is what goes on in men's own hearts... like tolerance and understanding."

And from where I sit, Doc's right. Whether it's tolerance of another's politics or respect for a neighbor's right to enjoy a glass of beer occasionally, tolerance is a mighty good foundation for a peacetime world.

CRUCIFIX LEANS TO HONOR ROLL

OLEN COVE, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—A supposedly unworldly wooden crucifix which has turned and bent slightly toward an honor roll of men in the service, attracted hundreds of persons of Italian descent to St. Rocco's Catholic church.

The crucifix, atop a marble block and a concrete base, is about 20 feet high and stands in the church yard. Slightly behind and to one side stands the honor roll bearing the names of 460 prisoners now bearing arms for the United States. The movement of the crucifix first was noticed several days ago. "There is no doubt that this is a phenomenal thing, but it might have been caused by the weather warping the wood," said Rev. Dante Marzelle, pastor of the church. "The workers who carved the crucifix expressed doubt that the wood had warped."

PERSONAL VENGANCE

If he speaks with authority, J. C. Himer of Nampa, executive secretary of the state executive committee, has cleared the Townspeople organization and its part in the effort to recall Governor Bottfosschen.

Discussing what he described as "the failure of recall leaders to put their program into effect," Himer said that "recall leaders" are not behind the recall movement at all.

"The Independent Voters League, whatever it may be, is making a concerted effort to oust Governor Bottfosschen because he concurred with the state legislature in repealing the senior citizens grant."

Although Himer pointed out repeatedly that recalling the governor would not reinstate the pension act, the league continues to circulate its recall petitions.

They have found Idaho extremely reluctant to sign, although they were ashamed of being engaged in a vicious personal battle against one man.

"They have found Idaho extremely reluctant to sign, although they were ashamed of being engaged in a vicious personal battle against one man."

"The Associated Press carried two dispatches the other day, one from London, the other from Genoa, Italy."

From Genoa, came the story that General Bernard Shaw, 67-year-old playwright, whose wife died in 1912, had in the person of the London Times:

"Mr. Bernard Shaw received such a prodigious mass of letters on the occasion of his wife's death that, though he has read and replied to all of them, he could not acknowledge them beyond his power."

"Therefore he begs his friends and hers to be content with this omnibus reply and to assure them that he very happily endorses a very long life has left him awaiting his turn with perfect serenity."

Quite in contrast was the news from the town in Colorado. John Sullivan, a 45-year-old handy man, went to his death in the lethal gas chamber at Colorado penitentiary for murdering a woman.

"He stood so soundly during the night that waken him at 4 a. m. to read him the death warrant, and then he had to be awakened again to go to the chamber to march to the death house," reported the Associated Press.

"During the walk, he smoked a cigar."

Such are the ways of life.

JUST PACE

The Swedish bishops, foreseeing collapse of the axis, have made a joint plea for a just peace rather than one of vengeance.

In that, on general principles, we join—but we hope it will be a peace that will not be a hard peace. We should not punish just to save our own increased feelings—but we must punish and restrain, however painful to our enemies or even to our friends and ourselves, to prevent of defer future wars.

One reason we are fighting now is that Germany in 1914 was in a penalty position for starting World War. Who ever was the reason for World War III, it must not be that.

STEVENS HOTEL

There was much criticism of the War department for its purchase of the Stevens hotel, critics say, could better have been leased for the duration of the war.

The hotel now has been vacated. It cost the government $3,558,086.28, net, 13 months ago. It has been sold for $2,251,000 cash. The Stevens hotel is a 10-story apartment building. It was purchased by the government at $3,558,086.28, net, 13 months ago. It has been sold for $2,251,000 cash.

DEMOCRAT VS. REPUBLICAN

Another observation regarding the movement of the Democratic Party is made by Warren D. Thornton, former Idaho legislator and candidate for congress in 1938, has urged the voters to sign petitions endorsing the recall.

"The senior citizens grant act was a mandate of the people and the governor and members of the legislature should have accepted it as that," says Thornton.

Thornton is an enemy of no one in Idaho now, is a Republican.

Mr. Thornton is a Democrat.

HUCKER'S NATIONAL HURLING

COMBAT—Selective service spokesmen are privately giving almost any medical professional a very good reason for opposing the military service of a man. Here they insist that the medical profession is not to be depended on for a fair and equitable application of the rules and the demand for a draft of soldiers.

The demand for an incredibly large figure, but more than 600,000 of the 3,000,000 military service men are being held down on the ground that they lack the nervous stamina to endure the rigors of military life. This is a department needs only slightly more than 600,000 men to handle the present maximum quota, the barring of these types results in a huge loss of potential military service men.

Yet the businessmen are clamoring for retail regulations. In objection to this seeming waste of material, the majority of the retailers can perform much more than the more stable individuals for active duty. Scores of thousands who can stand up to the strains of stunts and bombs could be put to work in the shops and offices of the nation.

The military physicians engaged in this special field have been active combat. They are losing men aside by the book—and by numbers.

FATHERS—Local board members complain constantly that the group of men who are being called to the colors is not of the caliber that was expected. Although the government has established the criteria for selection, it is up to the fathers to make sure that their sons are up to the standard. In some instances, the fathers are not doing their duty and their sons are being called to the colors. This is a great loss to the nation.

TEACHERS—A letter, backdated regarding the teaching postwar returns has been sent to the teachers. It is a letter that is a challenge to the teachers to do their best. Views of Others. Citizens who have just completed their 1943 estate tax returns will find it interesting to read the views of others on the subject.

Knockout—Chief credit for holding the narrow ship so long is due to the efforts of the soldiers who have been in the front lines.

Cracking Down on Commentators. An undercover effort is apparently being made to keep our big time radio commentators from criticizing the government.

WOMAN FREED OF CHARGES BY OPA

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23 (AP)—The case of Mrs. Margaret P. Currier, 30, former dean of the nation board, charged with illegal possession of a large quantity of rationing stamps, was thrown out of federal court by Judge George A. Weich after he ruled that the office of price administration agents had violated the defendant's constitutional rights.

In announcing his ruling Judge Weich said that the government's proceeding here smacked of something totally un-American—namely, the government's complete subversion of our constitutional rights.

"I never see our defendants violated in this manner again," he said.

"For that reason, I shall uphold a motion to strike all the evidence against Mrs. Currier, and I hold that her confession and admission to the charges and under indictment cannot be legally used."

Currier, who was arrested by OPA agents, was charged with illegal possession of rationing stamps, which she had hidden in her home without search and seizure warrant, would not allow her to call an attorney, questioned her hours and prohibited her from going if she would say she had given a magazine some ration stamps.

The agents testified that Mrs. Currier hid them into her home to make a search.

At the start of the trial Judge Weich said, "The question of the home is far more important than any violation of an OPA regulation."

Tank Destroyer Captain Back From Battling "Desert Fox"

If an army division can be compared to a football team, then interference is furnished by the tank destroyer. This is the case of the 22nd Tank Destroyer Division, which was commanded by Capt. Walter Swope, former Tunisian veteran.

The 22nd Tank Destroyer Division, which was commanded by Capt. Walter Swope, former Tunisian veteran, was the only tank destroyer division to see action in the Tunisian campaign.

"The tank destroyer is the most important unit in the tank destroyer division," Swope said. "It is the only unit that can destroy the enemy's tanks, and it is the only unit that can destroy the enemy's armor."

Swope, who was captured by the Germans in Tunisia, was held in a prisoner-of-war camp for 18 months. He was released in 1941 and returned to the United States.

He is now serving as the commander of the 22nd Tank Destroyer Division, which is based at Camp Hood, Texas.

WOMAN PLEADS FOR DAD DRAFT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—A plea from a woman spectator for drafting of fathers closed the senate military committee's hearings on the Wheeler bill.

Rising uninvited at her seat and talking into the committee stenographer could not record her remarks in full, she told the committee.

"I am the mother of four sons already in the service and a fifth, a baby of 18, still to go."

"The official reporter understood her to give her name as 'Mrs. Margaret Horvath' when he asked her to identify herself."

Bernard M. Baruch, principal counsel for the bill, congratulated her on her statement.

Gable Will Return Soon With Ribbon for Five Bomber Raids

BY GLADWIN HILL

AT A U. S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, Sept. 11 (Daybreak in-formation) — Capt. Clark Gable is to return to the States soon and will bring home with him a ribbon for five raids.

He finished the job for which he was sent over here, he has been out on four raids and is expected to round out his fifth before he leaves for home. It sounds easy, but it is the most difficult job of his life.

When Gable came to England, the mission was to drop bombs on the target. He was to be a regular Fortress bomber. When the job's start going on every raid, people started to ask, was he a prima donna or a privileged petain or what?

The fact is, Gable never was intended to be a regular gunner.

What actually happened was that, with a view to capitalizing on his movie fame and the publicity which as a popular actor he commanded, Gable was sent over here to make a moving picture "bomber gunner" work that would be accurate and ultimate and high in recognition as a high altitude gunnery trainee.

A camera crew and one of the movie's best writers, Leat. John Lee, Mabee, who wrote the screen version of John Steinbeck's "The Pearl", were assigned to help him.

Gable went on raids to see just what it was like, and to ascertain the chances of getting movie planes and men in actual combat. He has found that it is a tough job. It is so cold that it's hard to work, the cameras have to be especially rigged to see the action. The necessity of being connected with an oxygen tank all the time at high altitudes makes moving around the place, when anything happens like an enemy plane attacking from an unexpected angle at a rate of closure of 700 or 800 miles an hour, whirling mad in a flash, it's well-nigh impossible to get a picture of it.

Shooting Practice Flight Films

The rest of the time, Gable has been shooting pictures on practice flights and weapons on the ground.

A captain, he lives in a hut on a bomber station. He usually eats in the ground officers' mess, rather than in the combat officers'.

Around the station he is friendly to everyone like any other officer, although there is a slight stiffness about it, because it's impossible to forget his background.

Gable joins in conversation over the best movie, but still is more reserved than he would be among his Hollywood cronies or the gang back in the Oklahoma oil fields where he worked before he became an actor.

Going around the station, he will pause for one side by himself to watch a G. O. I. football game; an exercise, he may sit down at a table by himself.

Dates Army Nurses

He has had dates with several of the army nurses at a nearby hospital. His favorite recreational spots are the snug little neighborly hotel pools, the common man's club in England, and even in London, Gable generally avoids the glimmer spots and goes to some side-street tavern. In these pubs, the general drink is beer, with almost no alcoholic content, intoxication is rare.

Coming Home

CAPT. CLARK GABLE

Movie deal intended to enter Flying Fortress for raid over enemy territory.

and nothing more occasional than a dirt game over takes place.

After he goes back to the United States with his picture, his assignment will be as indefinite as any soldier's.

His knottiest problem to date is that he has taken some pictures too good to believe. He got a shot of a bombardier in the nose of a Fortress firing a machine gun. A few days later, invited by the Catholic chaplain to visit a mass, he heard a beautiful voice coming out of the choir. It was the same fellow. He got some good aerial pictures of the big blinging "Avengers". The obvious thing is to put the sequences together — fitting the machine gun, and then in the choir.

But the combination is so dramatic he's afraid people would think it was faked somehow.

You may also have a headache, backache, or aching joints. If you have these symptoms, you should see a doctor. He will give you a special test to see if your kidneys are working properly. For almost two centuries, Americans have been combating the independence won for them on the battlefields by that indomitable group who placed freedom above everything else.

And now, for the third time since then, the battle for freedom—for independence—is again at its height.

True it is that anything worth having is worth fighting for, and perhaps the very fight for freedom will make the present generation appreciate it just that much more.

News from the far flung battlefronts and from the many seas has been more and more encouraging. It seems certain that the tide has turned, but the finish of the fight is yet to come... the long, hard march to Berlin and Tokyo has just begun. If we think for a moment that it will be easy, if we think we can win this fight with one hand—then we are wrong—dangerously wrong.

Before the last shot is fired, thousands of American sons will be dead and billions of dollars spent. The more American dollars you lend your government now for superior equipment—the less American blood is going to reddens foreign soil. Let's don't let 'em down! Back the Attack with every cent you've got!

Soon, another wartime Thanksgiving will be here. It's up to us to maintain the tradition of the holiday—the kind of tradition which we're now fighting to preserve for all time.

The most gratifying way you can observe this holiday is by planning now to invite one or more service men into your home for dinner and heart-warming companionship.

A new dining room suite will enable you better to celebrate Thanksgiving in the good old American way.

Girls' League Installs Staff With Ceremony

New officers of the Twin Falls girls' league were installed recently in a candlelight ceremony presided over by Miss Helen Thomas, former high school student body president. Miss Ann Parry assumed her duties as league president with a statement of the league's aims in the coming year.

She remarked, "Our job is to see that this is the best year to live in. We must not have to march to war. We must keep the home fires burning."

Others speak at the meeting were Miss Helen Thomas, who read the girls' league constitution, and emphasized the importance of the club motto, "In unity there is strength," which school girls' creed and spoke briefly.

Each of the league sponsors charged Miss Parry to guide the club members in domestic and citizenship activities. Miss Helen Thomas stressed friendship and Miss Bernice Babcock emphasized loyalty. Mrs. Green Sheenberger asked that they strive for scholarship. Miss Parry urged them to develop healthy bodies and Miss Josephine Thompson asked that they acquire high ideals.

After Miss Parry's response, checks were presented to the retiree of new officers who are: Miss Parry, president; Miss Ruth Hill, club treasurer; Miss Charlotte Thompson, senior vice president; Miss Virginia Fuller, junior vice president; Miss Doyle Hull, president of sophomore unit; Miss Betty Jean Anderson, G. CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRIZI

Many of our boys and girls are working during the emergency and getting high wages. They are inexperienced and so inclined to be lavish with their money. This is a matter for their parents to attend to with all wisdom and foresight.

Some of this money should be allowed the children for free spending for only by personal experience in the use of money can they learn to value it and use it wisely. But some of it should be banked, used to buy insurance, or bonds to hold after the war, when the job is ended and they are footloose once more. They are a fund to draw upon for their better step they take next.

These youngsters will not remain children. Work and its allied interests matures children quickly and they will not be satisfied to go back to a child's status. Indeed that is desirable, either they grow or deteriorate, and usually they develop strength and ability and purpose in life. To meet that situation they will need the money they are earning.

It is not easy persuading school boys and girls that this is true. The future is something that only adult minds can glimpse, and they only dimly. Children live in the present minute. Even the next hour is a haze—maybe-maybe—for them. It persuades them to invest a good share of their wages in their future, which is going to tax the patience of the wisest parent.

Don't take their money for your personal use saying you will pay it back. That is a bad financial situation. It is not fair to use this money to buy a home, a car, a farm, unless the purchase has the full approval of the young person concerned and the property is secured to him. Too many unexpected things happen in life to allow anybody to plan ahead into the future. The adolescent who is maturing in these few years. Let him save and invest and have his fund ready for when he needs. You can advise and suggest and help him here should a plan for where you stop. It says it was at the door of the bank.

All boys and girls who are working should pay some of their earnings into the family fund. Their earnings be done to keep alive child's interest in his home and family. He becomes partner in the concern that always helps to develop his feelings. Responsibility, his feeling toward his family. Nothing helps so much to develop a boy's manliness as the knowledge that his earnings help his family financially. Let him have that feeling fit at all possible.

The one important point about the whole matter is that we make every effort to let the child's money help the young person into which harm him.
