GENERAL PRAISES ALLIED DOUGHBOY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGERIA, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower, allied commander-in-chief, paid tribute today to the gallantry and heroism of the British and American forces who, whose feats will "fill many of the brightest pages of our war history."

"Don't forget the foot fighters days and nights in the mud and the endurance he has exhibited," Eisenhower said, "in both Britain and the United States the great proportion of our fighting men goes into the ground and forces and state battles their service."

"But does the position in Indiana or in some little village in England, and how do they are performing? Does he know it as well as the knows the stories of the big bombers of the gallant mission to Salerno? Every soldier of the United Nations had a right to know how important to our victories are the gallantry and the courage of duty and the gallantry and fortitude of our ground forces. The accomplishments of the air-ground team will, when the story is fully told, fill many of the brightest pages of our war history."

"This is something I have felt for a long time. It comes from the heart."

Nurses' Aides Receive Certificates

DIPLOMAS GIVEN TO NURSE AIDES

Chaps and certificates were presented last night to Twin Falls' first class of graduating nurses' aides. If volunteer workers who will relieve hard-pressed nurses on the home front. Exercises were held at the Y.W.C.A. rooms with only relatives and close friends in attendance.

Those taking the course were administered by Dr. A. A. Boston were Mrs. W. I. Johnson, Mrs. Charles Carter, Mrs. Lavonia Hays, Mrs. Howard Gillie, Mrs. Martin Ochsler, Mrs. Ernest Johnson, Mrs. Richard Clark, Mrs. George Hofer, Mrs. Marlow Glenn, Mrs. Milton Ulrich, Mrs. Alice Peary Greff, Mrs. Lavern Hawkins and Miss Ruth Hillen.

Doing Vital Job

Congratulating the women for the work they had volunteered to do, Frank L. Cook, chairman of the Twin Falls Red Cross chapter, said: "You have just completed a course of 90 hours study in order to qualify for your positions and have volunteered to serve 10 hours at our hospital. There is no financial remuneration and your job is not an easy one, but including you have agreed to do so job for which there was the greatest need."

"During the past year nurses' aides have proved that they can be counted on to do their duty every day after duty hours of them had an opportunity to do what they could in an emergency, and they have responded well."

In an example, Cook cited the great fire in Boston at which time nurses' aides in that city worked valiantly. "Every aide called out that night, responded at once, not one asked to wait until morning. Husbands shifted for themselves, friends and neighbors came to care for the children of the aides and as a result, they did not have the slightest difficulty filling ambulance quotas set for each hospital."

Essential Work

"Your volunteer services would be every bit as essential and as beneficial to us in Twin Falls in case of fire emergency or epidemic in relieving the strain on our nurses' aid in care of patients. I am sure the whole community joins me in saying 'thanks and congratulations.'"

Ascribing to graduation exercises were Rev. C. Leslie Rollie who gave the invocation, Mrs. L. W. Polson, who presented the aides to Dr. Boston, acceptance of aides, Asher B. Wilson, civilian defense chairman, presentation of certificates and caps, Mrs. James C. Reynolds, vocal numbers by Mrs. Nellie Osgood and James C. Reynolds, and the benediction by Rev. Rollie.

U. S. Fleet Tries in Vain to Lure Japs' Navy Into Battle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A powerful American task force has been sailing the Pacific seeking to lure the Japanese fleet out for a real fight.

This has been going on since late January when, according to a Navy report, a powerful Japanese fleet assembled at the enemy base at Truk preparatory for battle.

But at that time, the Japanese navy, which had suffered a series of costly defeats in a vain attempt to drive the United States from the Solomon Islands, eventually got cold feet and avoided a test of strength.

Since then, American task forces have hit at Japanese bases in the north Pacific and in the central Pacific within 1,000 miles of Tokyo in an effort to force the enemy into open waters. All efforts have been to no avail.

The report, released Monday, was prepared by the navy for the senate naval affairs committee and covers naval activities through last June 30. Other reports on subsequent actions were promised for the future.

The report began by recounting the story of the American losses during the attack on Pearl Harbor. "If figures alone could talk, those two treacherous hours of that Sunday morning would surely tell the Japanese," it declared, "but if in this liquid blow, they had intended to knock the United States out of the war before it started, the Japanese succeeded in doing exactly the opposite. No room was left now for talking and speech making on whether the United States had been defeated."

"In one flash the attack on Pearl Harbor had settled all that, and the war was on."

Commenting on the assembling of the Japanese fleet at Truk, the report said it first appeared as though the enemy was preparing for a decisive battle in the Solomons.

"First signals, including battleships and aircraft carriers, were located between Truk and the Solomon Islands. At the same time, reports indicated there were large groups of enemy destroyers gathering in this area and an unusually heavy concentration of enemy aircraft at all the Japanese bases in the Solomon Islands—New Britain area."

"The situation appeared, then, like the final showdown, and the United States forces prepared accordingly."

"But, as events revealed themselves, the Japanese had had enough of this sort of thing, and now were solely interested in the evacuation of what Japanese troops were left at Guadalcanal."

Your dollars still go a long way...

AT PENNEY'S

It's patriotic and wise, nowadays, to save money in every way you can—to save and put your savings into War Bonds! Save by making everything last longer. Save by not buying useless and trivial things. Save, too, by shopping regularly at your J. C. Penney store for things you really need!

The less you buy the more you need Penney values. Penney's still offers, as it always has, the highest quality merchandise that can be had, at the lowest possible prices.

You don't pay for costly extras, for frills, or "front" at Penney's!

And there's another thing about Penney's that's a big help in this wartime year.

The folks who work at your Penney store are people who know this town and its wants and needs. Their chief concern is to help you get what you need and to see that you get merchandise that will serve you and suit you well.

It pays big dividends to shop at Penney's.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL HIRING

CASH—The American people's annual tax bill will reach the staggering total of approximately 60 billion dollars if Congress enacts the tax bill now presented by the treasury department. That figure exceeds the amount of national income received during the entire year of the depression years.

The tax bill now before Congress comes to $3 billion 200 million at the present moment, including corporate, personal, and miscellaneous taxes. State and local units pile on another $1 billion 200 million.

Henry L. Morgenthau wants to boost that figure to $5 billion by increasing the tax on corporate income.

Internal revenue experts, however, estimate that the tax bill will extract from the general pool of earnings if it is not reduced to $2 billion. According to their present estimates, however, the tax bill will extract from 30 billion dollars of excess profit for consumer expenditures. The fiscal authorities estimate that the tax bill will take the cost of living will skyrocket in the closing and critical years of the conflict.

COMPLAIN—Summary dismissals of a hundred or more of the war department's employees behind-the-scenes explosion on Capitol Hill. The influential senators who have filed protests with the House and called for a vote on the matter are Robert R. Reynolds of North Carolina, chairman of the Senate War Relocation Committee, and Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. of Massachusetts.

The men, according to their friends, were dropped from their jobs because they had been in the office. Although they demanded that charges be brought against them in keeping with regulations, so they could submit evidence in their own defense. One who was so treated has the backing of the House and Democratic leaders, including James H. Pendergast.

The chief complaint of the victims is that the dismissal of their jobs was a direct result of a conspiracy to control the war effort. With most industries now working for Uncle Sam, managements are very of doing anything which might bring down the Washington. Official attacks from here on forward will be met with a stiff resistance with private corporations are almost a necessity.

SNEAK—A forthcoming book by Douglas Hays, Jr. reveals commercial attacks in Berlin, which disclose that both London and Washington disregarded confidence in the British scheme of world conquest and the Nazis' formidable preparations for the 1939-1940 blitzkrieg.

Mr. Hays' book, "You Can't Do Business With Hitler" revealed that he was aware of German activities which were being kept secret from the United States. He also revealed that he had copies of his writings to his superiors. It is understood that these selected papers will comprise the book.

Mr. Hays' book is a direct result of his indifference to his economic and military policy.

Joseph C. Hays, a former member of the Japanese government, has been appointed to the state department. There is a strong feeling that Hays' book will be a Pearl Harbor blow the administration relied too strongly on its ability to negotiate an amicable settlement of the Pacific situation.

Both individuals remained silent as long as there was any hope of a settlement of the war in the far eastern war. Now they are determined to speak out.

THEIR attitude lies behind Admiral Huxford's demand for an immediate court-martial. Huxford's demand was not a military matter, but a political one. Huxford's demand was not a military matter, but a political one. Huxford's demand was not a military matter, but a political one.

QUESTIONED—The reports of the five globe-trotting senators who revolutionized Capitol Hill sentiment against the United States' participation in world reconstruction. Their criticism of the behavior of some of the United States' leaders in the world reconstruction program impressed their listeners is that three of the quintets are fairly good men—James H. Pendergast, New York; Albert B. Chandler of Kentucky; and the late Senator Charles McNary of Oregon. The administration's major foreign policy is significant.

It was wise for them to ensure that the United States' participation in world reconstruction is significant. It was wise for them to ensure that the United States' participation in world reconstruction is significant.

PROGRESSIVE DESTRUCTION

President Roosevelt expresses agreement with General MacArthur that the war against Japan can not be won by military means. This is the confirmed opinion of almost all the more intelligent military and naval leaders.

Lieut. Col. Frederick S. Wilmam, one of the top men of the Army, has expressed the opinion that Japan can be defeated most quickly by progressive destruction from the air of critical industrial, economic and military targets, accompanied by continued titillation of Nipponese shipping, already strained in the effort to maintain overstretched supply lines.

This viewpoint is the more acceptable because it involves a minimum cost in American lives and those of our Allies.

It is assumed that if Colonel Wilmam's opinion is correct, the strategic position of the United States is working toward bombing bases from which to launch the aerial blitzkrieg against Tojo's Japan.

That, of course, we have done Japan no vital damage. This can not come until we have the bases, and the planes at them, from which to plaster vital Japanese installations. As it is, we have been pounding the Reichland.

It is not easy to get such bases. First we have to conquer the desired island, and clean up the vicinity and the air. Then we must fear losing it the moment it becomes useful. Then we have to back airfields out of the jungle.

Some, of course, we take from the Japs and restore to usefulness. To acquire enemy-held airfields and sites has been the object of every offensive in the Pacific area up to the present time.

But the Japs probably do not have enough bases. If we took them all, their bombing operations would be hampered. This is the reason for the kill. So we must capture, and build, while we prepare planes and pilots and bombs to go to work on Tokyo.

It may be a long time before we are ready. But this is the only way we can win. It will be wrought probably will have been unparalleled in air war history.

VIEW OF OTHERS

FIRST THINGS FIRST

There is a general feeling among people of all occupations, of the necessity to preserve the American system of freedom and enterprise. If we are to win the war, we must first of all preserve the American system of freedom and enterprise. If we are to win the war, we must first of all preserve the American system of freedom and enterprise.

DOCTOR SUGGESTS WAYS TO TREAT MINOR BURNS

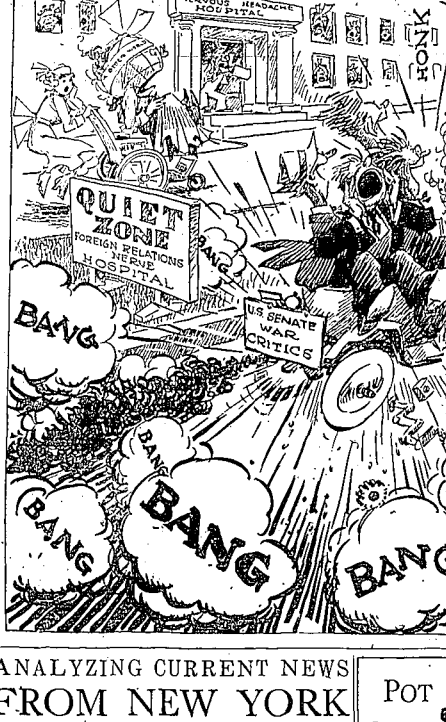

BY DR. THOMAS D. MASTERS

Literally millions of minor burns occur every year in industry, agriculture, and in the home. Some three thousand patients treat from three thousand to five thousand minor burns in a single day in industrial plants. The number probably occurs in the home in the same proportion.

Minor burns are classified as first, second, and third degree. First degree burns are the least serious, and are characterized by redness, pain, and swelling. Second degree burns are characterized by blisters, pain, and swelling. Third degree burns are the most serious, and are characterized by charring, pain, and swelling.

The treatment of minor burns depends on the degree of the burn. First degree burns should be treated with cool water, and a soothing ointment. Second degree burns should be treated with cool water, and a soothing ointment. Third degree burns should be treated with cool water, and a soothing ointment.

HISTORY OF TWIN FALLS

15 YEARS AGO, OCT. 19, 1928

The history of Twin Falls is a story of growth and development. From a small settlement, it has become a major city in the state. The city's growth is a testament to the hard work and determination of its citizens.

ON THE SPORT FRONT

FOUR BIG GAMES SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY

All-America—Anyway

Of course, Yo Old Spot Believers expect the city fathers to manage the feeling that the puddy on the feet is the best. When they arrive—the present coaches is the harbinger of colder weather to the city fathers. That he'll take care of a good hockey game.

But they could do it. Not this year of the next period, but in a year or two. The city fathers are not. That is, they could by installing the equipment for an ice rink in the new municipal building that is causing them to pore over blueprints at the present time.

Perhaps the suggestion will bring the question: How can the city find the room to install an ice rink when we need all the space that we have for the conversion of hall that we're planning?

That's easy. It will be the ice rink in the converted hall that is used in the building isn't being employed for the same purpose as it was.

Why, Madison Square garden has been used for a big gathering one night, a boxing program, and ice skating the next night. It's all in the equipment.

It doesn't take long to put on the ice, and it's almost as easy to take it off—running hot water into the pipes in the place of the water that's off.

True, it'll take money but the city can get it back by charging a small fee to the thousands of kids who will be playing on the rink.

around during the long winter months.

The Richard poor-flood idea when someone suggested that an ice rink be installed in the city park. The promoter of million dollar boxing matches just couldn't get the city fathers to agree.

There's something else in the air—perhaps a rink was finally installed. For starting the rink—perhaps the building alone but boxing has been going on since the city was founded.

When this ancient word pudder makes the suggestion he is thinking about the kids—the boys and girls who can be seen running the streets in the morning because of the weather.

There's something else in the air—perhaps a rink was finally installed. For starting the rink—perhaps the building alone but boxing has been going on since the city was founded.

The installation of an ice rink will give a number of advantages. A hockey league some day, perhaps one based on the Pioneer ice rink, will be a great help.

It will come the way ice rinks are traveling the country during the winter months. No ice skating, no ice skating, no ice skating.

There'll probably be plenty of objections to Yo Old Spot Believers suggestion. One objection is that the city fathers are not.

Intercity market entertainment such as boxing, ice skating, etc., etc., must not be robbed of their patronage. That they won't.

Yo Old Spot Believers are not. Yo Old Spot Believers are not. Yo Old Spot Believers are not.

Two Members Still Unbeaten

Chicago, Oct. 16 (AP)—Justly proud of their undefeated record, two of its members and a pair of its competitors, the Big Ten for the first time, have to be mentioned this week to its conference ranking.

Eight of the nine grid-players members will be thrown against each other—Michigan vs. Indiana, Iowa at Purdue, Minnesota at Michigan, and Northwestern at Wisconsin.

The ninth, Illinois, has a real job—a game with mighty Notre Dame. Still unbeaten are Purdue (five victories) and Minnesota (three wins).

Quakers Use Only 13 Plays

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Quakers used only 13 plays through the first four of its 1934 football opponents with a minimum of 13 plays—seven running, three passing and three punt formations.

George Minger, youthful grid tator of the Quakers who was named for the weekly meeting of the New York Quakers, said that giving the players so few formations was the key to his success.

After all, if it is executed perfectly every time, a team needs only one play to win.

The Quakers' meager repertoire has astonished perfect football experts enough that the Pennsylvanians have gathered 169 points in their first 10 games.

FARM LAND COST IN DANGER ZONE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Farm land prices, increasing about one per cent—month—during the past year, possibly are entering the danger zone, an agricultural department official disclosed Monday.

Speaking at the annual agricultural outlook conference, Fred A. Clarenbach, department land economist, said present prices are the highest since the "boom" year prices of 1919 and 1920. He added that there apparently will be a continuance of a general increase for some time.

The conference, continuing through Friday, is attended by department and extension officials and private economists, to consider the effect of the war's end on agriculture and economy.

Clarenbach, who expressed belief the greatest danger of inflation would be from one to two years after the war ends, predicted that 1943 farm income probably will be 25 per cent above the record 1942 total and would be even larger in 1944.

Ernest S. White, department statistical research economist, said farmers are unwise to raise prices. Income to pay debts and buy war bonds, although taxes are higher as well as farm expenses.

Farmers will have a surplus, he said, as evidenced by increased bank deposits. He suggested that farmers raise the excess for further liquidation of debts and additional purchases of war bonds.

Funeral Tributes For Daniel Hall

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church for Daniel E. Hall, who died Oct. 14 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Minerva Attebery, Rev. Dallas McNeil was in charge of the services.

Mr. Hall was born April 6, 1891, at South English, Ia.; he married Carrie Elizabeth Thayer Oct. 9, 1920. She preceded him in death in 1918. Mr. Hall and family came to Idaho in 1911, locating at Coeur d'Alene, coming to Rupert in 1919 where he engaged in farming.

He was a member of the Methodist church.

Funeral services were a mixed quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Woodford, Mrs. Floyd Eilers and Rev. McNeil, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. L. I. Culbertson. Burial was in the Rupert cemetery directed by the Goodman mortuary.

Palbearers were Fuller Penion, John Norby, Forrest Markland, Art Bailey, W. J. Witherston and Royal Miller.

Capt. Rohow Talks To Hailey Rotary

Capt. F. A. Rohow, executive officer of the Sun Valley convalescent hospital, was guest speaker at the Rotary club's regular meeting.

He spoke of the "wonderful progress" made in medicine and surgery during the past few years. Malaria and typhus are the most prevalent diseases in tropical and semi-tropical countries, he said, with disease causing more deaths than all wounds received on the battlefield.

Captain Rohow is a physician and surgeon.
