

Army Refund of 13 Billion May Halt Draft

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP)—Disclosure that the army has more money than it needs touched off today a series of developments and comments that gave an entirely new complexion to the nation's war production effort to date, and which may have a bearing on the future.

Out of the announcement that the war department is turning back $13,000,000,000 to the budget bureau, came these significant turns:

1—The army was pictured as considering the military production effort at its expansion peak. Some public observers, notably in small arms ammunition, already have been because of the material on hand or because battle experience has dictated shifts.

2—The army's manpower needs have been rechecked downward by more than a half million men and so, opponents of the father draft in congress promptly seized upon the evidence to argue that the nation is no longer in need for drafting pre-war fathers.

3—It was disclosed that preliminary work already has been done for alteration for government and industry to work out tentative plans to reconstruct war production. Some officials said that there have been demands on capital hill for lower taxes, closer scrutiny of federal expenditures and a step to the father draft.

ON THE SPORT FRONT

GRAYSON PICKS IRISH TO WIN BY TWO TOUCHDOWNS

Five Professionals In Seahawk Lineup

It was like that: Ye Olde Sporter announced some time ago that he would ask the coaches and the players to pick the opponents they believed deserved the highest rating and from the whole the pucky crowd select all-star teams and 11-man teams for the area.

But before Ye Olde Sporter could get out especially prepared questionnaires to make the pick of the coaches and players, Principal-Couch Don Blakey, Jr. at "Crumpled the gun" to the coaches and the players.

Ye Olde Sporter thought he was selecting an all-star team, instead of an all-teams team, and the coaches and the players were left off of the purported "all-star" team.

Now comes this letter from Principal-Couch Don Blakey: "Just about Mr. Blakey's announcement concerning his reaction to the picking of an all-star team for football and the coaches and the players, I don't blame him one bit for feeling that way."

There has been a big mistake made in the whole matter and I hope you will withdraw your criticism so that this unfavorable publicity can be ended once and for all.

Ye Olde Sporter correctly came out with a column some time ago stating that the coaches and the players were going to pick an all-star team. In other words all the coaches in the district were to select their players and have them vote for the best team they played against during the season. Their votes were to be mailed to ye and ye would mail them back to ye and announce the boys winning first place position.

Ye did exactly what we thought all the other schools were doing and ye did it in a very cheap and mean way for picking an all-star team.

Others were more good in football teams in the district this year and many were stronger than Carey, Coatsfield, Albion, etc., were among the strongest. Any coach would be a little bit of a neck out and even attempt to pick a team.

Personally I don't think that Carey has a man that would have a chance to win the district title. It was Ray Hildes that of the boys that deserve to get in the district title and his team did not win—consequently they did not show up or win.

Ye Olde Sporter hopes that ye will mail the coaches and the players to ye and ye will mail them back to ye and announce the boys winning first place position.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Licut-Col. Red Blaik of Army, Licut-Comdr. Rip Miller of Navy and others consider the current edition the greatest in the long line of Notre Dame football games.

Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech and some more assert that the Irish could score 60 points against any college team.

Coaches of teams swamped by the Irish in the green jersey declare that they should be matched with the Chicago Bears without delay.

So they want them chunked smack dab in there with the professionals, eh?

Well, that is precisely what is happening in Notre Dame stadium on Saturday when Frank's remarkable combination tackles the navy pre-flight school in an unbeaten and untied 17 party.

The Benhanks sport five professional players, including Dick Dicker and Cadet Frank Marzicki, in the backfield and Ensigns Percy Schwartz and Ensigns Fred and Jack Brennan, up front. Several others would be welcome additions to the money rank, prominent among whom are Ensign Art Dueser at quarterback and Ensigns Bill Blaik at center, where their work counts.

Irish by Two Touchdowns But I'm straining with the boys of the golden dome. Have an idea they'll win by a score, with a considerable to spare—say a couple of touchdowns.

Michigan still has Crazy Legs Hirsch and a formidable array despite the loss of back Hank Alley, Merv Pergum and others, so must be given the edge over the Irish in the district.

Two southerners—Louisiana and Texas, both little giants of the game, are expected to be the best to figure prominently in the district.

Coch R. M. Meloy of the Southwest (Georgetown), telephone, is expected to be the best to figure prominently in the district.

Ye Olde Sporter thought he was selecting an all-star team, instead of an all-teams team, and the coaches and the players were left off of the purported "all-star" team.

Derby Is Set For May 6

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The 1944 Kentucky derby, marking the 10th running of the historic race, will be on Saturday, May 6, almost a year after the last year.

Col. Matt Winn, the 82-year-old guiding genius of the nation's No. 1 turf event, made this announcement at the meeting of the American Thoroughbred Association, which controls the Kentucky derby.

The race will again carry $75,000 in added value, with a gold cup going to the owner of the winning thoroughbred. This makes it the richest turf event in the world, aside from the Santa Anita handicap, which has been wrapped in moth balls for the duration.

The derby probably will be patterned after the 1943 event—a "roll-up" affair, restricted to colts in the Louisville area to cooperate with the effort to defeat transportation in avoiding unnecessary train travel.

Colonel Winn, who stood on the back of his father's grocery wagon when he was a boy, won the Kentucky derby in 1915, which witnessed him in the first running of the derby.

The winner of the 1944 derby will be a colt of impressive thoroughbred which raced as juvenile in the first running of the derby.

Beau Jack to Battle Montgomery Tonight

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Bob Montgomery and bouncer Beau Jack are going to battle in the much-out-of-the-spotlight championship in Madison Square Garden tonight—and it looks as if Bobcat Bob is going to do most of the straightening.

Bob and the jumping jack from Georgia, tangled in a 15-rounder for that piece of the crown sanctioned in New York. This is not to be confused with the national association's portion, now held by Billy Sarony.

It is the first time the title in the garden since Bobcat Bob took the title away from bouncer Beau last May. Promoter Mike Jacobs already has more than $50,000 in the bank from advance sales and is figuring on a crowd of 17,000 to 18,000 and a gate that is almost certain to hit $40,000 and may even go to six figures.

That 40th street wagering agency that Montgomery is such a sure bet to win is a sure bet to win. The Philadelphia Post has a 1 to 3 favorite over the one-time show-biz boy from Augusta-National Golf club. This corner likes Bob to win hands.

The Beau hasn't been too hot since Montgomery gave him that good over last spring. In his recent fight he was outboxed by Bobby Ruffin, a local lightweight who had never before been rated as belonging in the same ring with the jumping jack. Beau was suffering from an injured knee, an injury he says is all healed now.

In big Dix territory, they finally stumbled across one he beat at Nebraska. Missouri's back on the right road against Kansas. Iowa State is in no danger against Kansas State.

The football gold coast that was the old gold coast, it's St. Louis over U. A. C. and the Pacific over San Francisco and Del Monte pre-flight over St. Mary's pre-flight and Maryland over the Alameda coast guard, the latter two Sunday dates.

Colorado, the best college team in the Rockies, should successfully hurdle Kirtland field.

But remember, you can still get most anything if you have enough points.

The Public Forum

BOSSSES, NOT LABOR, CAUSE WAITING STRIKES
Editor, Times-News:
In a recent letter in Forum the writer stated that so many jobs make a scapegoat of labor. I will correct that so far as my own views are.

The working class, the ones who do the job, have very little voice in a strike, but the bosses, the leaders, do the talking, while labor does the job. I don't get that out of a book because I happened to be there, and I know.

Experts say if our production lags we could lose the war, or prolong it. If the men who are fighting the war can't get guns and other necessary equipment let's call them home now. Strikes that stop the making of these essentials are not going to hasten the end of the war either. Doesn't that mean anything to you, Mrs. Miller?

We have escaped bombings and that is another side of the war that is unfair, to me. Maybe if we could taste this side of war we would be less dollar minded.

I'm not war minded because more than anything I wish for this to end. Sooner the better, and it seems to me that what has happened in the past two years show this is a small world after all. Ocean is no barrier to invasion as some of our writers used to say.

I don't believe all the hardships of a war should fall on the ones who are fighting it either.

To some folks war means good wages, good times, as Mrs. Miller said. If your husband is in a defense job, he but to the wives and parents of the men overseas regardless of where they work or how much money they make, war is anything but good times. I prefer less wages, and have our boys home.
