

Yanks Fighting for Foothold on Islands

In Strong Offensive

By WILLIAM F. TYREE

PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 22 (UP)—American invasion forces backed by a strong fleet and covered by a canopy of planes battled today to crush two Japanese outposts in the Gilbert islands in the first phase of a mid-Pacific offensive on the flank of the trans-ocean road to Tokyo.

Hand-to-hand fighting with Japanese defenders was believed raging on the narrow, sandy beachheads on Makin and Tarawa, atolls of the Gilberts, which lie astride the equator some 2,400 miles southwest of Honolulu.

A terse, undated communiqué issued by Adm. V.

A map showing the Aleutian Islands chain, including Kamchatka, Kiska, and Dutch Harbor. The map also shows the USSR, Alaska, and the Bering Sea. A scale bar indicates 0 to 1000 statute miles. The map is labeled with 'USSR', 'ALASKA', 'KAMCHATKA', 'KISKA', 'Dutch Harbor', 'BERING SEA', 'ALEUTIAN ISLANDS', and 'PARA MUSHIRO'.

A map of the Pacific Ocean showing island groups and distances. The map includes labels for Japan, Tokyo, Hawaii (Midway, Wake, Honolulu), Marshall Islands (Marshall Is., Gilbert Is.), Caroline Islands (Truk), Mariana Islands (Guam, YAP), and Bonin Is. Distances are marked: 1200 miles between Tokyo and Bonin Is., and 900 miles between Bonin Is. and the Mariana Islands. A compass rose is centered on the map. An arrow points from the text 'The attack on the strong Japanese naval airbase of Truk, in the Caroline Islands' to the Truk label.

American marines have smashed ashore on the Gilbert Islands (arrow) in the first step toward Tokyo via the South Pacific land trail. The landing will enable the Americans to enlarge their offensive against the great Jap naval base at Truk (flag). Troops have landed on Makin and Tarawa islets in the Gilberts and are battling to strengthen their footholds.

COLUMBIA, Penn., Nov. 22 (P.A.)—A Pennsylvania congressman, a lieutenant commander and seven army fliers were killed last night in a series of airplane crashes in Pennsylvania.

Rep. J. William Dittler, R., Penn., chairman of the Republican national congressional committee, and Lieut. Cmdr. J. J. Hunsicker, U.S. Navy, were among the victims. The plane carrying Hunsicker was en route to a training area on New Britain's Saturday eve- ning when it crashed, killing the pilot and six passengers. The plane carrying Dittler crashed on its way to a training area on New Britain's Saturday eve- ning when it crashed, killing the pilot and six passengers. The plane carrying Dittler crashed on its way to a training area on New Britain's Saturday eve- ning when it crashed, killing the pilot and six passengers.

Dittler, who lived at Ambler, Pa., first flew in 1915. He was a pilot in the army during the war and was killed in 1922 and received a Congressional Medal of Honor.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—

Henry B. Steagall, D. Ala. chairman of the Senate subcommittee on transportation, was executive officer of the Willow Springs, Ala., Army Air Corps station, and was serving in the naval reserve for 15 years.

Steagall was riding in a transport on a routine flight from Birmingham to London when the four-engine propeller plane crashed in flames. Two other members of the flight, Capt. Robert E. Smith, 40, of Birmingham, and Capt. James H. Smith, 37, of Birmingham, were killed in a dash near the wreckage. They were taken to a military hospital at Wiesbaden, Germany, and died from shock.

Two paratroopers said they were unable to determine whether the two survivors had parachuted to safety.

Henry B. Steagall, D. Ala., chairman of the Senate subcommittee on transportation, was executive officer of the Willow Springs, Ala., Army Air Corps station, and was serving in the naval reserve for 15 years.

Steagall was the leader of the House subcommittee on the administration's food aid program.

He was born at Colpton in Dale County, Ala., in 1900. He served in the Alabama legislature, and had been in the U. S. House of Representatives for almost 30 years.

Steagall had been instrumental in securing the continuation of the economic controls helping draft the first and second price control bills.

His death, however, came while he was on his way to London.

LD S LEADER, 87, LAUDS HARD WORK

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 22 (AP)—Hard work never hurt anybody. President Heber J. Grant of the Latter-Day Saints church said today on his 87th birthday.

Simply marked the anniversary of the gray-headed leader of nearly 1,000,000 Mormons the world over.

A few hours at this office, in a stately building across the street from where his birthplace stood, and a family dinner marked the occasion.

100 His Goal
Expressing a hope to live to be 100, President Grant said "any man who is healthy and strong should work hard for at least 10 hours a day. If his regular employment does not require that much time he can find ways of improving himself and doing his job better."

President Grant criticized drinkers, contending use of alcohol "tears down health."

For 25 years he has been president of the church and for 28 years prior to that he was a member of the Council of Twelve Apostles.

Although ill-fated in recent years have sapped his strength he still spends a part of every day at his office.

President Grant was born in 1856, nine years after the Mormon pioneers settled in Salt Lake valley. His father died when he was 3 years old, and during his boyhood he aided in the support of his widowed mother.

Rose Rapidly
He rose rapidly in the church and just as rapidly in the business world of the intermountain region.
At 24 he was president of Toole state, supervising several congregations of Mormons. At 28 he became a member of the Council of Twelve Apostles. He established the Japanese mission of the church in 1901 and was named president of the European mission in 1904.
One of his early jobs was as messenger boy in an insurance office. From that beginning he climbed to the presidency of more than a half-dozen insurance and financial institutions. He is a director of the Union Pacific railroad.

Pupils Earn $1,723
EDNEY, Nov. 22—A total of $1,723 was earned by Eden grade school pupils who picked potatoes during a four-week harvest season. First and second grades earned $77; third and fourth grades, $237.20; fifth and sixth grades, $524; and seventh and eighth grades earned $603.

General Praises Rupert Sergeant For Pacific Job

AT AN AMERICAN BASE SOUTH PACIFIC, Nov. 22—Staff Sgt. Harold H. Stanley, 27, son of Henry Stanley, Rupert, Ida., has been commended by Maj. Gen. C. F. Thompson, base commanding officer, for "very meritorious performance of duties as assistant telegraph and telephone section chief." The citation reads:
"For several months he indefatigably performed his duties with complete disregard for hours. He supervised and directed the activities of his section to permit the transfer of switchboard equipment from local battery to common battery. In torrential rains he personally attended to expeditious trouble shooting so that this command at all times has had superior telephone service. He not only maintained telephone machines whose number was out of proportion to the number of men he had for this type of work but he trained men in a number of units in the maintenance of telephone equipment. He rendered valuable service in the installation of carrier terminal equipment and composite telegraph circuits, although he had no previous experience with this type of equipment."
Sergeant Stanley, who entered the army Oct. 16, 1941, is a graduate of the signal school at Fort Monmouth, N. J. He has been overseas more than 18 months. Sergeant Stanley, while attending the University of Idaho, was a member of the varsity football team.

The Appalachian mountains are estimated to have come into being over a period of about 75,000 years.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Kaiser deals with labor in two different ways. He refers to divisions of troops and officers to do battle with unions because that saves him the detail work of negotiating with individuals so, back in May, 1941,

He made a closed shop contract with the AFL crowd, and the union was OKed, just when there were only 71 shipbuilders at work. Max Meyers told me with the proper tone of voice that he didn't think they would quibble about it men. They may have been protesting at the corners of a hotel at the time but contract was made. Other closed shop contracts followed and the CIO was frozen out.

This AFL union is the Kansas City, Kan., crowd run by an old guy named A. Francis. He is such a way that his son, Harold, is shipbuilders at work. Miss Meyers says there were only 66 but we won't quibble about 10 men. They may have been asleep at the corners of a hold at the time the count was made. Other closed shop contracts followed and the CIO was frozen out.

This AFL union is the Kansas City, Kan., crewmen's union by its own name. A. Franklin is such a way that his son, Harold, gets the tremendous racket in the agent's commission on the sale of the insurance, the members are obliged to charge, if the scribs don't keep up their insurance payments. The president's hand doesn't get his graft right on the line every month, they get into bed, stands him up and he is required to turn them out of the yards. The President is a racketeer, running this racket ever since 1926 and back in 1929 the executive committee came to a boil over the racketeer, threw the old gent out of office. The council said the insurance company was delinquent in its payments.

168,000 in insurance claims and that the company said the main reason was that after the old money had got his dough there wasn't enough left to take care of all the widows and orphans. But, after the same, through the operation of that type of acal-model Tammany politics to comply with his contract with the union and the union's constitution, excludes Naylor from full membership, but of course just have to pay fees and dues just the same.

BIG 5 AND BIG 7 RETURN TO REGULAR CONFERENCE CAGE PLAY

Schedules Suspended Last Year Because of Rationing

The two major high school conferences—the Big Five and Big Seven—will bring their cage basketball back to a regular conference sport this winter as the result of action taken by the National Basketball Association last year.

Because of the rationing of gasoline and tires last year, the schedules of the Big Five and Big Seven conferences were suspended for the 1942-43 season. The two conferences played basketball during the 1942-43 season, but the schedules were suspended because of gasoline and tire rationing.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (U.P.)—With Sammy Baugh and Luckenbach both being cooled off during the battle royal of the Chicago Bears and the Washington Redskins and Chicago Bears, professional football's second was virtually over. Only two records were broken. But the myth of the Bears' invulnerability was broken also, a legend that they couldn't lose in regular league games. After 24 straight scheduled contests without a defeat over three seasons, a mighty Chicago Bears toppled before the Redskins yesterday, 21-7.

Thanksgiving Thoughts in a Pantry

It's Thanksgiving Day, and I'm ashamed. Ashamed because I never knew what Thanksgiving meant until now.

My food was something I always took for granted, like air. Meals were only a regular, pleasant habit. Just something to eat, and what about it?

I know better now.

I've seen pictures—heart-rending pictures—of little kids in Poland, in Czechoslovakia, in Greece. Kids with pipe-stem arms and legs, their ribs almost breaking through their skins, their eyes big and haunting you with pleading for a scrap to eat. A scrap of anything.

And they could have been my kids.

I've heard eye-witness stories of men and women slaving with bayonets at their backs, and beaten when their production wasn't sufficient to suit a Nazi ... because they were weak and faint from gnawing, endless hunger.

And they could have been my Sally and me.

So now I know what food is. It's life. It's strength. It's courage, and hope. It's sacred because it IS all these things.

Thank God there's enough in this land to keep American kids and their parents well and strong enough to take care of the fighting men who stand between us and those who would strip this country, too. Even enough to help a bit in feeding desperate, heroic people abroad who are fighting OUR fight.

I'm sorry I ever wasted food. I didn't understand what food can mean. But now I know.

Thank God for my food ... for making its preciousness plain to me.

I'm going to increase it every way I can ... use it wisely and frugally and honorably ... preserve it for future needs ... and take no man's share from his mouth or the mouths of his kids.

THESE ARE YOUR DUTIES:

1. Produce Food. where and when you can. Farmers are urged to meet farm goals. City families are urged to plan a bigger Victory Garden, to help out on a farm or in a food processing plant if possible.

2. Conserve Food. Can and preserve food. Cut waste. Stretch your food supply by substituting plenty of scarce foods. Balance your meals for good nutrition.

3. Share Food. Put the war's food demands first. Share the supplies willingly with your armed forces, your Allies, your neighbors.

4. Play Square with Food. Accept no rationed foods without giving up ration stamps. Pay no more than top legal prices under any circumstances.
