

5-Point Plan to Prevent Strikes, Unite War Drive Presented 78th Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (P)—A five point legislative program, headed by enactment of a national service law, was recommended to congress today by President Roosevelt.

He proposed a national service act for the duration to "prevent strikes" and, with some exceptions, to "make available for war production or for any other essential service every able-bodied adult in this nation."

ACT ATLANTA, Jan. 11—The House left its pup at the Atlanta USO lounge New Year's eve—and never returned for him—might be expected to know the pup's doing okay.

Volunteers at the lounge took care of the dog after the quart of milk his master was consumed. After days of waiting the women dispatched of the sailor's return, and then there was the dog at her home.

His legislative program was proposed "in order to concentrate all their energies on the job of stabilizing the war and to maintain a fair and stable economy at home."

Act Deemed Necessary

At the time the executive said, "a form just and equitable whole."

Representative said he was convinced that a national service law was necessary.

"Although I am convinced," he said, "that all of us agree that without such a measure, I am certain that nothing less than total mobilization of the nation's resources would be necessary."

Hunger Strike at

Tule Lake Denied

TULE LAKE, Calif., Jan. 11 (UPI)—The army today denied reports that it would expel hunger strikers from the Tule Lake detention camp. The camp had staged a protest hunger strike.

Col. Vernon Anderson, who commanded the camp, said the hunger strike was in progress and that there had been no deaths.

"There is no question which could not be confirmed, said that 200 Japanese aliens had been engaged in a hunger strike for the past several days," he said. Sources here said the reports were started by circulation of anonymous letters.

The chief executive asserted it would be "impossible" to force the strikers to accept fair prices to the government.

On his third point, a cost of food for the government to "constitute a threat to the government," he said that the cost of food under the rationing and a celler rationing plan was "less than the cost of food under the prices that consumers are paying," he declared, and public hunger strikers were required to eat at least 100 grams of food per day.

He figures that the cost of food for the government is the present annual cost of the war.

The stabilization statute was renewed, he said, the country can expect "price chaos by summer and autumn."
