How to Ruin Dresses and Lose Friends

It's tragic how some girls lose their friends and ruin their dresses because of poor cleaning and staining. And there's no excuse for it. If you save dresses, it's easy to save friends.

Use Ardel, the new cream detergent. It's the only one that doesn't remove the color from your dresses. Ardel is safe and dependable for these 5 reasons:

1. Does not irritate skin. Does not ruin dresses or men's shirts.
2. Prevents yellow-cream color. Helps spot perspiration safely.
3. A pure white, antiseptic, stainless soap.
4. No washing to dry. Can be used right after washing.
5. Awarded Approval Seal of American Institute of Laundering—used to make. Use Ardel regularly.

Ardel is the largest selling detergent. Sold at all leading toilet goods stores, 10c, 30c and 50c a jar.

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

During the troubles of wartime when fathers and big brothers are away from home, in the homes, wherever mothers have to take care of the children, the situation is a serious one. Mothers are faced with responsibilities and are often in a constant dread for their children's safety physically and morally.

Mothers sometimes do not know which way to turn to be able to give their children the best of the safest way and sometimes go to an extreme that destroys what they might have done.

There are days when danger seems to be everywhere and the mother is afraid to let her child out of her sight. A mother solves the problem by holding her child in her arms. "When school is dismissed you can come directly home and stay there. I'm not going to have you running out into the street and boys and girls and getting yourself mixed up in anything."

"No, You're going to no games. No, You're going to no parties. Understand. Once and for all. You are staying right here at home while I can see you."

Most children grow up with this one way of solving the problem. It rarely does the good hoped for. A boy or girl never gets the companionship and the interest of children his own age. If he does not have them, he does not grow into healthy youth and maturity. All children are not looking for ways to break the 17 Confinements. Some are like that, but many are not. The great number of children are healthy, willing to follow good leadership, happy to follow understanding guidance. Instead of holding a child prisoner, it is best for his growth and health to provide the conditions that permit him to associate with boys and girls his own age.

Nothing to hold a child prisoner. Children who have been reared in good homes are ready to accept the restriction since homes impose, and they are willing to help their mothers through three bad times, once they are taken into confinement and given responsibility. Treating young people of fifteen as though they had no common sense, no sense of duty, no feeling for family and friends is to decide oneself a failure in the field of child training.

Provide for healthy happy association of boys and girls. Give them places to hold meetings in, give them work to do, give them responsibility, give them encouragement, keep them active and interested and let them grow up as soon as possible. This presumes you on them and they must soon take over the duties of maturity. They won't learn then in jail-like homes. A middle course is best here as in most human relationships.
