BOISE, March 4 (AP)—Governor Bott today signed into law a measure appropriating $150,000 for supplemental public assistance payments and house and service chambers at the capitol resounded only to the footsteps of porters cleaning up after the 27th legislature's second special session which adjourned early in the day.

The colon was in sharp contrast with the noisy close of the special session in which senate and house alike heard determined and at times vituperative debate on the question of how funds should be obtained for raising teachers' salaries.

To study bills

Bottolini indicated his signature on the remaining bill of the second special session would not be automatic.

"I'm going to give all of them thorough study before I sign them," he said, "I understand I have 10 minutes to go over the details of the measures were drawn makes it necessary for me to go over them carefully."

The governor, Lieut. Gov. Edwin Nelson, Dean, and Speaker of the House Milton H. Carbo, said they planned to announce their appointments on proposals of the educational investigating committee next week—pending the governor signs the bills.

BOISE, March 4 (AP)—The second extraordinary session of the Idaho legislature, achieved in its own turbulent fashion the objectives of a call issued by Gov. C. G. Bottolini.

Whereas the state's education had asked for an out and out $300,000 appropriation for the next year, the legislature had three times the amount of a struggle placed upon the committee the burden of raising funds for the state's school system.

"I'm going to give all of them thorough study before I sign them," he said, "I understand I have 10 minutes to go over the details of the measures were drawn makes it necessary for me to go over them carefully."

OSBURN, N. Y., March 4 (AP)—Louis C. Buchanan, 47, a prominent local businessman, was shot and killed today in a "murder," it was reported in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison for the 100th murder since 1900.

Copone was executed first followed by Weiss, then Buchhalter, 40, who was shot in the chest at 11:02 p. m. with a careful expression on his face.

The boss gangster, Buchhalter, walked into the chamber calmly at 11:15. He was accompanied by Rabbi Katz. His expression was that of a man who was not nervous.

Lepke's hopes of a further reprieve were dashed when the United States supreme court struck down an appeal for a new sentence.

Forts Rock Berlin in First Smash by American Bombers

LONDON, March 4 (AP)—Berlin was bombed by American Flying Fortresses today for the first time in the war as part of an exclusive daylight attack on eastern Germany by the U. S. eighth air force.

Plunging 600 miles into the heart of the reich, one formation of heavy bombers hit the capital itself, it was disclosed tonight, with the help of an escort of Mustangs which also went all the way to Berlin to equal the deepest fighter penetration over mainland Europe.

Fourteen bombers and 26 fighters are missing from the operations, headquarters stated in a tentative accounting that said nine enemy planes were destroyed by the fighters. The number shot down by gunners in the Fortresses was not yet known, headquarters added.

One communiqué announced simply that one formation of Fortresses bombed targets "in the Berlin district," but several hours after the objective had been described in the press, it was learned that the formation permitted the naming of Berlin itself as target.

The Fortresses thundered through blinding snowstorms and 50-degree below zero temperatures in the sub-sonic stratosphere to make the first

3,000 Japs Slain by Yanks on Los Negros

By LEONARD NEUBERGER Associated Press War Editor

Three thousand Japanese have been killed and wounded by reinforced Texas cavalrymen in the first five days of the battle for Los Negros island in the Admiralties, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today (Sunday).

Most of the Japanese were moved down as they charged in successive waves throughout Friday night and early Saturday morning into the lethal cavalry. Seven hundred were buried and two more ships and an aircraft carrier were destroyed by the invaders when they landed Tuesday.

Attacks Futile

"Again and again his (the enemy's) forces rushed, themselves against our lines in successive waves, but failed to reach the field," MacArthur said. "Wave after wave was destroyed before it could reach the field."

Against the surprise losses of 3,000 Americans were killed and 4,000 wounded.

After stopping the attacking forces, the Americans prepared to continue their advance, behind low

Richfield Vet Of 50 Bombing Raidson Leave

RICHFIELD, March 4.—With nine months' service as navigator on flying Fortresses in the Sicilian and Italian battle fronts to his credit, Lieut. Winfield S. Bascom has returned to the states for a rest period.

A former Richfield resident, Lieutenant Bascom is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Caldwell while waiting for his assignment to a delayed leave before reporting to an army rest camp at Atlantic City, N. J.

During his service in north Africa, Lieut. Bascom and another member of his plane crew purchased a motorcycle to better see the sights and visit bombed areas which they had seen from the air.

After three weeks the vehicle disappeared and was never recovered from the Arabs who appropriated it. Later a German jeep was acquired and proved a real find as the jeep used very little gasoline in the rear air-cooled four-cylinder motor.

Lieutenant Bascom has been awarded the nine-ankle oak leaf cluster for completing 50 successful missions and also wears two stars on his campaign ribbon denoting service on two fronts.

WAC Pvt. Emma Bascom, his sister, has been stationed in north Africa several months and the two enjoyed many leave hours together before he was transferred to Italy.

Detail for Today PX

PX is short for post exchange, known in some army camps as the canteen. It is the gathering place for all during after-duty hours. Here the soldier finds the closest resemblance to the corner drug store back home. He also finds girls, rummy in an arm camp for many of the persons behind the counter are soldiers' wives. The PX looks about everything. No one ever tells his buddies he's going to the PX for four he'll be asked to bring back something for everyone in the barracks.

PICARD TOURING ARMY HOSPITALS

HAILEY, March 4.—Cpl. Fred A. Picard, in the army medical corps and now stationed at Hagerman General Hospital, New York, visited Blaine county today on a cross-country inspection trip of the programs at various army hospitals. He is interested in the craft program being set up at the hospital, and displayed pieces of embroidery and rugs made by patients at Hagerman general where he instructs in this program.

Mr. Picard, who was born in Switzerland where he learned to ski, going to school in the winter, came to Sun Valley in 1938 where he operated a sports shop in the present personnel office of the lodge until the resort closed in 1943.

Many national and state style originated in his shop. His most popular design was a ski sweater with a string of cartoon encircling the body of the sweater. He also designed the sports wear which Sonja Heine wore in "Sun Valley Herald."

DAIGH ELECTED RUFERT, March 4.—O. W. Daigh, Minidoka county agent, was elected vice-president of the Idaho County Agents' association meeting held at Moscow, Ida.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

MYSTIFIED—The 30-odd senators who heard Alvin Karpis' behind-the-scenes story of his taxation struggles with P. D. H. doubt whether the old friend ship can be reestablished, despite the aftermath exchange of complimentary letters. The situation was a far more graphic account at the "Democratic" caucus which rejected him, majority.

He did on the floor. It revealed that he had pleaded with Mr. Roosevelt for more than an hour and a half not to veto the revenue bill, and had used every bit of eloquence he could muster to get the President to sign it. In view of the Blue Grass statesman's reticence, it is not probable, both a Chamberlain would break aside a White House veto, but this warning fell on deaf ears.

In short, he left no uncertainty as to his stand, and by eloquence, the reason for his attitude. He had exhausted his arguments that he did not make a second attempt to change the President's mind.

When on last Monday I read your portion of my tax bill, I was surprised to find that you had made certain changes as a result. You did not, however, in my letter my basic decision when you realized how around it. While I did not realize how strongly you felt about this basic decision, had known, I should not have permitted to dissuade you from your own judgment in overruling my veto.

PROBLEMS—Although associates under the first do not do minimize Mr. Karpis' courageous and independent public life, which has made him a factor in the history of the nation, his attack on the White House and P. D. H. non-congressional activity.

In his conference talk the majority leader placed responsibility for the veto squarely on Mr. Karpis. Mr. Karpis, former member of Congress, was a man on a hot seat and means committee, was the target for the senator's reiteration of the presidential charge that Congress was unwelcome for the interests of the nation.

"Mr. President," explained Mr. Karpis, "no man can be a member of Congress who is not a member of the tax committee in the Capitol of the United States. It was made by anybody who ever sat on a tax committee it was a deliberate and unjustified statement in order to place the blame on Congress for universal tax compliance."

Previous recall that Messrs. Vinson and Barkley have been found in the horse and whisky territory. They have been found in the horse and whisky territory. They have been found in the horse and whisky territory.

It will mean $600,000 acres of sugar beets in Twin Falls county, according to Mr. Bloock, and the highest prices ever paid the growers. He estimates that prices will range from $11.00 to $12.00 per ton depending on the sugar content of the beets. The average return will be somewhat over $12.00.

In addition to all this encouraging news, sugar labor-saving equipment is on the way to contribute still more to the favorable outlook for the sugar beet industry.

Indications are that mechanical tapers and tapers will be used in the method of breaking down sugar beet seeds into individual segments will do away with much of the work formerly required in thinning.

To facilitate planting, one of the nation's leading chemical manufacturing concerns is now working out a method of placing these individual segments into pills that can be planted as easily as seeds or corn. A little vitamin compound added to the seeds off to a good start the crop has all kinds of new possibilities.

All of which is good news to Magic Valley because sugar beets are a cash crop and busy sugar factories mean bigger payrolls.

SHOULD WE AIM TO PLEASE?
 Sen. Ralph O. Brewster, a former Ambassador Joseph E. Davies have made two interesting observations in recent speeches on what might be called the "personal" aspect of this country's diplomatic relations.

"We must," said the senator, "grow up and assume among the nations of the earth a position commensurate with the great power that is ours."

And Mr. Davies said: "As to the future, the situation will depend largely upon the degree with which the Soviet people will trust the avowals of purpose and good faith of our officials and government. Neither will we enter into a long-term contract except on the basis of trust and confidence and good faith of the other party."

It may be more important as to what the Soviets think of us, than what the western democracies think of the Soviets."

It is neither imperialistic nor isolationist, we believe, to ask Senator Brewster, and to question the wisdom of part of Mr. Davies' statement. We have been, throughout the war, rather largely an altruistic nation. We have been, throughout the war, rather largely an altruistic nation.

But when the vision has threatened to clash with reality, we have shown signs of being a nation of men and women, individuals can safely and handily be diverted into two groups—those who defer, and those who expect deference. And the fact that the present leaders of the nation are the nicer and more livable group of the two does not alter the fact that these people are often imposed upon.

The same division holds true as regards countries. But just as there is no reason why four people of different types and temperaments cannot live happily side by side, so there is no reason why the United States, England, Russia and China cannot exist in harmony, even though by reason of size and strength they are destined to dominate the world.

There is no reason why any of the four should be forced to the other three to come. Each is different, each strong and each important, and necessary to the other three. We do not think that it is more important what the Soviets (or the Chinese or the English) think of us, than it is that we should have sufficient strength, and dignity, and respect for honor, to live with our allies as a "grown-up," and in friendship, without worrying too much about whether we are being "taken in" by them. We are always being

WASHINGTON—Robert Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, called the other day on the "Republican" chairman, Harry Truman, to discuss the situation in the country.

These two distinguished leaders of the party, in a little matter of private business, were looking for a way to get on with the work of the party.

Hannegan walked into the room, and the two men began to talk. They talked for a while, and then they both stood up and walked out of the room.

"You know how it is," Spangler said. "I know how it is," Spangler said. "I know how it is," Spangler said.

This line will be different. Prominent Republicans, including all the candidates except General MacArthur, are expected to be in the line.

When a Republican nominee is chosen in June, Spangler will be expected to be in the line. When a Republican nominee is chosen in June, Spangler will be expected to be in the line.

But it is a sure bet that he will not be in the line. But it is a sure bet that he will not be in the line. But it is a sure bet that he will not be in the line.

CLOCK LANDMARK TOPPLES IN GALE

The sun set clear last night to end a day of freezing weather for Twin Falls, which was highlighted by the fact that the clock tower landmark, and an unexpected snow which fell in the afternoon.

The sun shone yesterday morning as a high wind set sailing on downtown streets. The clock tower had to be buttoned tightly to be kept on their feet.

Before the day was over, and snow began falling at about 3:30 p. m. The thermometer dropped below the freezing point only briefly, if at all, and light snowfall had caused only minor inconveniences.

The "landmark" was a street clock on a cast iron post in front of the Roberts jewelry store, 117 Shoshone street.

R. L. Roberts, proprietor, said the clock was put up when the Bough building was built in 1913. The clock holding the post to the sidewalk had become rusted in the years.

It could not withstand Idaho's swirling winds. The clock became rusted in the years. Roberts said, and he painted the face to make it a street clock when the heavy eastern pole cracked to the side.

Idaho Power company officials said last night that the wind caused no interruption of service or damage to company property.

Bright Prospects Loom in '44 For Beets, Says Sugar Chief

Bright 1944 prospects for south Idaho's sugar beet industry were outlined by Harry E. Crook, Idaho district manager of the Amalgamated Sugar company, at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce general membership meeting Friday.

With U. S. beet goals for this year 34 per cent over those for 1943, he said that the government now expects a beet crop of 1,000,000 tons. Thirty per cent of the U. S. sugar supply comes from sugar beets, he said, and it is to raise more beets. He mentioned too, that each acre requires fewer than one season to mature.

As for the amount of sugar available this year, Crook said that there would be 5,700,000 tons for civilian use, representing six per cent less than 1943.

"Even though we expect increased beet acreage all over the country, civilians will still be cut because of three factors," Crook explained. Alcohol, he said, has been coming "very extensively" from grain, but it is now discovered that grain surplus and supplies have dwindled; alcohol must now come largely from molasses.

The increase in the armed forces, a second factor, means that much more sugar will be going for severance and wartime shipping, as a third factor, means greater difficulty in getting sugar from Cuba and sources outside the U. S.

High increase in goal compared with other goals for crops and industries, the 1944 beet goal, for example, other increases, Crook said. Only a two per cent increase in potato production goal has been named, and 18 per cent increase in dry beans and 11 per cent increase in milk and dairy products.

Figures substantiating the fact that beets are a vital war crop showed that the average ton of sugar beets will yield approximately 300 pounds of sugar, 600 pounds of pulp and 80 pounds of molasses.

An average acre of sugar beets in Twin Falls county will yield nearly 3,000 pounds of sugar, one of the highest yields in the nation, about 120 pounds of compressed yeast and 200 pounds of dried "mud."

Dressed "meat" brings up the by-products angle which is very important, he said. Crook asserted that the government's agreement to pay support prices and the well-organized set-up in the county for importing sugar, he saw no reason why Twin Falls county could not meet its goal of 6,000 acres.

C. Weary Edwards, Twin Falls public relations representative of the Idaho region of the smaller plants corporation, will speak at the next general membership meeting on Friday, April 7.

Drift-deferred farmers, and those employing men with agricultural training, he said, "There is no mistake" in looking to the war requirement for onions and carrots and that required to raise bread and peas and beans and peas are raised the same, whether they are for commercial or seed use.

The complete list of crops and other farm activities which would toward deferred file several pages in the book of regulations. Following, however, is a partial list of the activities which constitute one unit—of which, remember, 16 are needed for deferment.

One unit is counted for the planting, cultivation and care of two acres of potatoes, 10 acres of wheat, 10 acres of barley, five acres of dry edible beans, two acres of sugar beets, or seven-tenths of an acre of onions, carrots, parsnips or turnips grown for seed.

The care of 75 laying hens or 40 turkeys or geese constitutes a unit. The care of one milk cow is counted one unit, as is the care of three brood sows to farrow in either spring or fall.

The beef cattle breeder can count one unit for 10 cattle in a farm herd, 20 cattle in a feedlot, or 10 range cattle.

Joe L. Baerters, chief clerk for board No. 1, said questionnaires had been sent out to 245 single men who have received agricultural deferments from board No. 1. There are 10 married men without children holding farm deferments, and they are scheduled to receive questionnaires next.

$45 Cash, Found By Careyite, Put Into Red Cross

Somebody's loss was the Red Cross' gain when $45 in currency, found by Mrs. Evans, Carey stockman, was turned over to the Twin Falls Red Cross chapter Saturday afternoon.

Carey found the money behind the Perkins hotel late last fall and brought it to the police station here. Chief of Police Howard Gifflette declared the man involved on leaving it in the station's custody. Though an effort was made to find to whom the money belonged, no one claimed it. When Evans appeared in Twin Falls Saturday, the money was turned over to him; and he went directly from the police station to the headquarters of the Red Cross where funds drive, giving the whole amount.

VIII.
After a moment she heard the back door close sharply and swung around. It wasn't him, it was Randall.
"Kitty," he said, "Kitty, what can I say?"
"You shouldn't have followed me," said Kitty. "Mindful, go back in right away!"
"What do you take me for?"
"Please, Randall—"
The back door banged a second time. Kitty had known it would. It was like a lightning bolt. She lived there before they happened, while they happened, and after they happened.
"Are you trying to comfort her, Randall?" cried Mac. "You'll have a job." "Mac," said Randall sharply. "Are you out of your senses?" "Yes, and I'm not beyond either. You needn't try to smooth me down by offering me a drink and a game of poker. This is where I came in. Randall, listen, and it's where you go out. How do you think you'll like being correspondent in a divorce case, Kitty? Listen! You'll be an expert on divorce courts. Won't you?"
"You don't know what you're saying," interrupted Randall. "You're revenging yourself on Kitty for my sake." "Oh, no! I don't know what I'm saying, and I know what I have to do. Do you think you'll like being named as correspondent?" Mac turned again to Kitty. "That'll upset your little candy box, won't it?" "Mac," said Randall, "answer me. Are you in earnest?" "Yes, I am. Why should I want you in my life? And now I have a good reason. Nobody can say now that it's my fault if I leave you and suppose yourself in death. You've spoiled my life. I can't spoil yours, but I can spoil her. And I mean to!"
"What do you mean to do first?" "Go back to the party," said Mac. "And play poker. You won't dare come back, Kitty, and they'll all know why!"
She went back toward the house. The kitchen door banged triumphantly.

"Kitty," said Randall, in a thin, compelling voice, "you go on in, too." "It's not that I don't care," said Kitty. "It's not that I don't care, the way she said, but Randall, I can't." "But, Randall, it's not true, is it?" "Yes, it is, she will, unless I stop her. But it's all right, Kitty, because I will. You've got to go to it, say though and go in the house. Wait a minute—Randall gave an eerie imitation of a chuckle. "Don't Peg still make Ben mad because she leaves the key in the car?" "Yes," said Kitty, bewildered, "he was mad just this morning. And I suppose they're in it now, because the drive downtown just before dinner, but—"
"I need Ben's car. I'm going to borrow it for a few minutes. I don't think you'll get caught—"
"No, of course not. But, Randall, what can you do?" "I can do something I should have done years ago. I've thought of it often, but I haven't the courage. It can do it now, though. Won't you trust me, Kitty? Nobody's trusted me for years. Maybe right in a way—about you, about me. I can make everything all right and I will. You've got to go. Right away!"
To didn't touch her but Kitty felt his will around her like a force. Unvoluntarily, almost like a automation, she moved away, toward the house.

GOP CALLS MEET FOR FARM PLANK

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—The Republican party today called a conference of farm organization leaders at Chicago April 3 and 4 to work out a "conservative farm agricultural platform" for submission to the Republican national convention in June.

Traditionally Republican, midwestern farmers swung over to Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932, a year marking the deaths of agriculture's worst depression and supported him again in 1936.

Supported Roosevelt

Although the Democrats won a big share of the midwestern states in 1940, farmers support of the party was by a narrower margin. In the 1942 congressional elections and in subsequent special elections, Republicans have staged significant victories.

This change has been attributed by leaders of both parties to farmer discontent with the administration's farm policies.

The Chicago conference will be conducted by the committee on agriculture of the Republican Party. It will be held at the Hotel Statler, 1000 North Dearborn St., Chicago.

Speakers invited

Speakers for such farm organizations as the National Farmers Union, the National Farmers Federation, the National Farmers Organization, the National Farmers Cooperative, and the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation will be invited to the conference.

All these organizations, with the exception of the Farmers Union, have been sharply critical of President Roosevelt's wartime policies and programs affecting farm prices, particularly food subsidies.

DAIRY TRUCKMEN WILL BE CALLED

BOISE, March 4 (AP)—Southern Idaho dairy and creamery representatives were told today by Lieut. Col. Norman B. Addison, state secretary of agriculture, that they must start replacement of younger dairy trucks.

Addison estimated that 150 men who drive milk trucks for creameries and dairies in southern Idaho were faced with induction and the creamery operators from Twin Falls, Pocatello, Idaho Falls, Jerome, Payette and Boise asked for a declaration of policy.

Addison said trucks from 18 to 21 will be inducted immediately and advised operators must make bona fide attempts to replace men from 22 to 25 with other men outside of military age within the next three or four months. He added that gradual replacement of trucks over 26 must also be made.
