LOS ANGELES, March 30 (AP)—Charlie Chaplin's attorney introduced further testimony today in an effort to prove that Joan Barry, the actor's accuser in his March 22 trial, had associated with other men.

Alfred Bunini, an army private stationed at Ft. Custer, Miss., formerly sales manager for a Los Angeles liquor wholesale house, testified that he was the company's manager in 1930 and 1931, the date Joan previously declared, she had been intimate with Chaplin in his life.

Jerry Gleaser, the actor's attorney, was completing his case with the witness, who testified that he had seen Barry in the company of Chaplin in 1930.

Bunini said he and Mrs. Barry visited two night clubs while she was in Los Angeles in the latter part of the year, he testified. Mrs. Barry remained alone in his car, he testified.

Today's first witness was Harry Cooper, operator of clothing store in Los Angeles, who testified that he had seen Barry in the company of Chaplin in 1930.

BOMBERS STRAFE VITAL JAP BASE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, March 30 (AP)—American bombers, maintaining a nonstop offensive against the Japanese position in the Ili-muk archipelago, penetrated the island's airfield, strafing the buildings at the enemy's battered New Britain base, was announced today.

(Tokyo radio said 13th allied plane hit Ili-muk again in Pacific today, adding that six of the craft were shot down and four "broke out of control.")

A communication said medium and light bombers, following night attacks, dropped 13 tons of local bombs on enemy supply dumps at Ili-muk. "Several planes and Ili-muk have starting extensive fires," it said, adding that 13 tons of bombs were dropped on the total amount of explosives unloaded on Ili-muk since Feb. 20. The communication did not mention an aerial interception although several Japanese planes were shot down.

The new tactic failed to reach 3,000 tons the total amount of explosives unloaded on Ili-muk since Feb. 20. The communication did not mention an aerial interception although several Japanese planes were shot down.

A human document of the war in the Pacific—found among the effects of a U. S. marine killed in action in the Cape Gloucester battle—has found its way to Magic Valley.

Unprecedented: the document is a copy of notes scribbled by the now dead marine in the intervals of combat action. The notes were found by a comrade of the marine, who gave them to Ross A. Trunkner, radio technician first class, according to the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Trunkner, Hansen, Trunkner was in the Cape Gloucester battle and his one other major equipment, his compass, a real leave at Sydney, Australia, and he was assigned to ship.

Thoughts From War

Here is what the dead marine's comrade found among his effects:

Life. Home and family. Clean thoughts. Baby and wife. Sound of whistles. Humble of vehicles along coastline. Am shooting. They do it, hold it. Chirping. Oxy to hell out from under. Sound of steam escaping from engines. Princess pier. Melbourne. Standing by. Shove it! Maybe tomorrow. Do what? No. Return to camp. Damn what a lark up. Perhaps change of orders tomorrow.

Night. Head. Headless. Insignificant. No sense of importance left. Alone. No real friends here. Future. Home. Love. Real. Shores. While and children. Clean thoughts. Belief in God. Green pine forests across air. Purifying mountain breezes. Crystal clear lakes like jewels against a green velvet ground. War. Pulse reports. Exaggerated stories of losses. All men are brave by nature. Mafab. Stupid propaganda. Worthless cause to die for. No use in courting over death of an unknown soldier. Who cares, except mother, wife, son, daughter or loving relative?

What After?

After war, what? Purge. Robust arm of God an honest man

WILLKIE FIRES AT 'BACK ROOM BOYS'

SUPERIOR, WY., March 30 (UP)—Wendell L. Willkie was scheduled to end his two-week pre-primary tour of Wyoming here today after blasting the "back room boys" of the Republican party who threatened to make the new deal the "loser of two evils" facing the nation in the November election.

Willkie told an Eau Claire, Wis., audience last night that certain factions of the GOP "think you can be elected by telling one group one thing and another group something else; by picking up so many delegates here and so many there, giving that fellow some hot air; that you can tell one group you are opposed to racial discrimination and then decide a racial issue in such a way that you won't offend anyone in the south."

Slumping the state in support of 31 delegates pledged to him in Tuesday's primary, Willkie demanded that the Republican party and its leaders take an affirmative stand on these issues before he leaves, when confronted by the leader of these two evils, the people will run to vote for the new deal rather than an undecided GOP.

"Back room boys" have been using all of the elements opposed to the new deal to build, through a series of important issues, through a merger, a party that could only force citizens to vote for the present administration again," Willkie said.

HONOLULU PERIL SEEN BY LEADERS

HONOLULU, March 30 (UP)—Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, and Lieut. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, Jr., army commander for the Hawaiian area, warned in affidavits filed in federal court today that Hawaii was still in "imminent danger" of Japanese invasion and had been ever since the Dec. 7, 1941, sneak enemy attack.

Both Nimitz and Richardson contended that continuance of martial law and suspension of the writ of habeas corpus were necessary for the prosecution of the Pacific war.

The affidavits were filed as part of a protective brief in which counsel for Honolulu county Sheriff Duke P. Kahamamaka, famous Wakefield swimmer and surf rider, asked dismissal of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus that sought the release of a civilian war worker jailed by a military court.

The case was the second within less than a year to challenge directly the extension of martial law throughout the Hawaiian territory. Counsel for the war worker, Lloyd C. Duncan, charged that martial law no longer existed in Hawaii and said Duncan should have been tried by a civilian court.

Duncan was convicted by the military court of assisting two marine guards and sentenced to six months in the county jail. His attorney is "Attorney" Anthony, former territorial attorney general.

JOB CHIEFS PLAN VETS PLACEMENT

Procedures for handling placement of returning veterans were studied at a week's training session conducted by the U. S. employment service of the war manpower commission at Boise. It was said by Howard Staples, manager of the employment service office here, who has been appointed manager of the Boise office. All USNS managers were given the 10-hour course in job instruction training.

More than 2,000,000 physically handicapped persons, mostly unemployed, make up the largest single pool of available labor in this country today, said Staples. "To assist in placing this surplus in national occupations is the responsibility of the employment service."

Staples explained how the employment service is geared into the machinery for returning a veteran to peacetime employment.

"Notice of a service man's discharge is relayed through employment service channels to the local office nearest his home," he said. "There he is interviewed, assigned to a fitting work. Informing as to veteran benefit rights, referred to hospital, occupational or whatever his circumstances may warrant."

Many Never Suspect Cause Of Backaches

Many of us have experienced backache at one time or another, but few of us know the cause of it. The cause of backache is often a simple matter of poor posture or a lack of exercise. The back is a very important part of the body and it is important to keep it in good shape. Backache can be caused by a number of things, including poor posture, lack of exercise, and overexertion. It is important to take steps to prevent backache, such as maintaining good posture and getting regular exercise.

The Secret Weapon in Dan Mason's Attic

Dan Mason was always what we call a "sting" story. When he unwraps a package he rolls up the string-folds the paper-and puts them both in his attic for safekeeping.

"Never can tell when things'll come in handy," says Dan.

And we should know his attic. Stacks of paper, balls of string, empty bottles (Dan being a moderate man and sticking just to beer, old-fashioned—and good—ones knows what-all).

We used to kid him a lot. But then comes the scrap drive, and...

FLIER DISCIPLINE IS MORE CASUAL

By KENNETH L. DIXON
TWIN FALLS, March 30 (Delayed)—Many reasons are given to explain why discipline in the air force is more casual than in any other branch of the service, but you seldom hear one of the most likely ones. The officers are generally younger than the enlisted men. This is due to the age restrictions set on pilots, bombardiers, navigators and so on. It often results in the fact that they are serving as advisers and counselors to the younger officers who command them.

Altiman, too, doesn't get adobe or brick houses built here than they are there. One is the "Little Elmer" another "Sweet Home." One is "The Hot House" and it has a red carport.

Managers have made a terrific reputation over here despite the fact that they are young, but they're still not plans on takeoffs and landings. A serious accident has been a serious accident at the end of the line. The managers are not sure whether a group of about twenty to take off on a mission a prearranged time is considered as the service squadron has out of their and "on underground" the managers and the managers are not sure whether the takeoffs are over. Just playing safe.

CHAIRMAN SCANS PLANS FOR VETS

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Chairman Rankin, D. Miss. of the House Veterans Affairs Committee today is going through the Senate-adopted "GI bill" "line by line" to eliminate "anything that might stir up discord" in the north or south.

He explained he feared that the language in the section of the bill setting up an educational program for veterans of World War I might stir up federal agencies, including the fair employment practices committee, the right to interfere with the schools of the south.

Chairman Rankin, legislative representative of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said the provision was inserted in the bill only to insure continued supervision by government agencies over land grant colleges which veterans might attend.

The bill would provide a variety of benefits for veterans of this war including further education, employment, and loans for farms, homes and businesses.

Representative Fish, D. N. Y., urged one addition at today's hearing—appropriation of $5,000,000 for guide dogs for blind veterans.

CONGRESSMAN FINED
MIAMI, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Congressman Pat Cadden of Florida, who pleaded that he was not a frequenter of such joints, was fined $10 and costs Wednesday on a charge of disorderly conduct by being in a gambling place. Cadden said he would ask a new trial. He did not mention the $10 fine he paid after his arrest March 14 along with 30 others.
