

CITIZEN ECONOMIC CONTROLS URGED

CHICAGO, April 4 (AP)—The Republican party will go to farmers during the coming campaign with a promise to curtail government participation in the nation's economic life if it follows recommendations of a major portion of organized agriculture.

A party committee of five governors, including C. A. Bottelstein of Idaho, and four members of congress opened the second of a two-day series on a post-war farm program with three of four national farm organizations on record calling for fewer government controls and with two others prepared to make similar recommendations.

The farm organization majority said it feared governmental domination of the economy would destroy economic and political freedom.

The organizations favoring less governmental action in the field of economics included the American Farm Bureau federation, the National Grange, and the National Association of Commissioners, Secretaries and Directors of Agriculture.

SOUTH'S OUTPUT OF COAL TO DROP

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP)—A drastic war-caused shortage of "smokeless" bituminous coal from southern Appalachia means next winter was forecast Monday by Dr. C. J. Putter, deputy solid fuels administrator, who said this would "come as a shock" to eastern states and would also be "bad news" throughout the midwest.

Domestic consumers in northeastern states cannot expect to receive next winter more than seven million all kinds of solid fuels every eight days but last winter, he said in a speech prepared for delivery to the New England Coal Dealers association in Boston.

Three consumers from Maine to Virginia, who are accustomed to depend on anthracite almost exclusively, are already limited to even rations of their normal supply of anthracite.

VETS TO GET WAR EMPLOYERS' POSTS

BOISE, April 4 (AP)—Those who came to the aid of the nation's war effort by taking jobs that they otherwise would not have taken must give up those jobs at the end of the war if the unemployment problem is to be solved, Perry Foster, veterans' placement officer of the U. S. employment service, told the monthly meeting of the Boise Council of Social Work Monday.

He said the married women and civilian men and women who came out of retirement to take war jobs will have to make way for returning veterans.

He suggested that women who interrupted their schooling to enter the service return to the classrooms rather than seek their first jobs at the war's end.

Foster said that between 4,000 and 5,000 Idaho men have been released from the service for various reasons since selective service went into effect in 1940, and he estimated that about one-third of those now being released need counsel and aid.

He said the veterans' bureau is the major source of aid for the returning men, but that a veteran placement office is stationed in each of the 21 U. S. employment service offices in Idaho to keep veterans informed of the service available to them and to aid them in securing work.

TESTS SHOW FOR CONDITION GOOD

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt, recently bothered with bronchitis, has undergone a new thorough physical examination, and his personal physician said today "the checkup is satisfactory."

The physician, Vice Adm. Ross J. McIntire, said the examination was a routine annual affair which had been somewhat hampered by the fact the President has had a head cold and the bronchial disturbance.

Stating that Mr. Roosevelt is getting over everything in a satisfactory manner, McIntire said:

"The only thing we need to finish up on is the removal of his bronchitis and of his sinuses, and they are clearing very rapidly."

McIntire disclosed that he had cut down a bit on the chief executive's food and was giving him a "pretty good vitamin boost."

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRIS

Nature never made two children alike. No man, woman or child is alike. She sets a different pattern of tastes, gifts, strengths, weaknesses in each child. Most parents the child she gives us and make the best of him. We may have prayed for a boy and got a girl; we may have hoped for a genius and got a plunger; we may have said, "nothing, Lord, just so he is healthy and intelligent, and won't pester."

That is as it may be. The thing we have to remember is that we cannot show with our eyes of the children we have tried to teach him. We show us.

We have found after many years of trial that most children can learn to read and write and count, learn the processes of arithmetic as far as long division. They will say we have tried but they will usually be able to do much if we try hard and intelligently to teach them. After the third grade the difference begins to be marked. We must take heed of the child's mind. If the child is in the fundamentals, take immediate steps to discover the cause, and if possible, help him overcome it. Don't ever give up hope for a normal-minded child, and hold the faith for the feeble-minded one until the sun goes down.

Hand-Minded vs. Book-Minded
Along about the sixth grade sharp differences appear. It is plain to the experienced teacher that there are certain children who are going to be book-minded, the professional group; others who are hand-minded—the skilled specialists, the mechanics, the laborers, the craftsmen, the tradesmen, are likely to be here. Now we should provide the schools, the teachers, the equipment that is needed to perfect these differences.

ifferences creating human needs, indeed, testing them, has its roots in nature. In the family, every father and mother must realize that no two of their children are alike, and do not need to be treated alike, and should be treated according to their needs, not according to what their brothers and sisters want. This means that if one child wants to be a musician, and another wants to be a writer, the musician carries a tune, the musician carries a tune, the musician carries a tune.

Such a simple matter as dressing all the children alike is fundamental here. They should be dressed according to becomingness, suitability, and color. The difference between a standard family pattern and differences are precious and to be trained and cultivated for the honor and glory of the individual.

JURY CHARGED IN CHAPLIN'S TRIAL

By JAMES LINDSEY
LOS ANGELES, April 4 (AP)—The jury in the trial of Charlie Chaplin, charged with sedition, today returned a verdict that he is guilty of the charges.

Conversely, the judge declared, if the jury determined that Chaplin was charged in the indictment, was not for immoral purposes, then there was no violation of the Mann act, even if an act of sexual intercourse took place between Chaplin and Miss Barry as an incident thereto.

POLITICAL FIGHT LOOMING IN IDAHO

By CARL WELTZ
SALT LAKE CITY, April 4 (AP)—The way the Utah political situation is shaping up, it appears today that a hot battle may be in the offing for the state's chief executive post.

Such is the case, it will be in the primary election, that will be the central election, and it will be central to the state's political future.

The deciding factor in the case of whether the party primary will be a free-for-all and there are plenty of them—can agree on a candidate to oppose incumbent Gov. Healy.

Opposition Strong
Anti-New Democrats have grown strong since the governor resigned and the state government machine and ousted many old time members.

Despite the breaking-away, it is not clear if the political situation has not reached the point where it will allow another party to come into power.

Political observers point out that if Mr. Roosevelt runs again for president, there is a little doubt that he will win popularity with the voters will be likely to sweep back into office.

Two Persons Named
Only two persons have been named as potential prospective candidates to run against the governor.

Richard W. Johnston, United States Representative from Idaho, and Senator Stanley M. Gandy, both of whom have been in the state for many years.

However, it is reported that lead candidates for the governor's office are still in the race. If he does run, he will be a formidable opponent.

In the Republican ranks several possible candidates are being discussed for governor, but none have been named.

Most soldiers that DOUBLE DECKERS is a difficult problem. The G. I. who chooses the lower bed in the barracks is relatively simple to hit the hay, but discovers that if the soldier in the upper arrives late, his face may be used as a target for the higher stairs.

It is not suggested that the troops in the top bunks be lashed with whips, as too many soldiers forget the distance to the floor when they make a dash for the door and make like a demolition bomb.
