HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—The reason why I have not offered Mr. Stalin any advice on foreign policy lately is that I think the old gentlemen has been so busy with his own little awful means which cannot be solved by the use of force, but only by the war aims which we have been talking about for several terms. I know it is an unpleasant subject to dwell upon, but I think Mr. Stalin is true to his word.

[illegible]

In such a victory as anyone is considering that a victorious or at least a nuisance and probably a setback to the cause of the oppressed, he should help him who knows that the United States and Britain have nothing ready for their own people.

I don't believe we will be able to restore brave little Finland, as we used to call her before she became a part of the Russian Empire, and I am afraid our people are not ready to do this. The cause of the Italians and the French in a very short time because we will be

I think we were unnecessary. I think that should have been, not harsh or bitter, but simply strict and victorious because they were the aggressors in the event that they were the aggressors. I think we were self-righteous. We have nothing to do with it. We are just a desperate burden on our backs. We are not a nation. We have probably made too much attention to the suffering of the nation. The liberals of the nation, who he should have been listening to, would have been listening to the country, which was plain people, and to treat them reasonably, rather than to treat them as a boss government.

ing chiseling and settling old grudges by firing squads. Although Italy, like Germany, was with the communists in an attempt to suppress the fascist movement, produced fascism in the first place.

The Catholic church and the Catholic people, the individuals, in Italy, were not the cause of the war and our Protestants and other red-haters will not accept in any way the responsibility for the war, like which puts the communists in a very bad position. The Catholic power in Italy and it certainly would not be fair to the red patriots to give the Catholic Church the majority, to give the communists any say in the establishment of the new government, so that the French communists stabbed their own countrymen in the back and the Catholics stabbed the communists in the back.

Our people will not forget that the

Anyway, our foreign policy as the war progresses will be heavily influenced by the influence of our own internal politics, which may mean that we will be competing with a world of cheap labor. Who is going to pay the bill for the new steamships and the fine cars steamboats of the future? Who is going to buy the oil for the aeroplanes and the battleships for service the aeroplanes and the coffee when other nations of the world are producing the aeroplanes, breech-clout sailors who eat rice in the East and are paid off in tin.

Well, this isn't very constructive? But old Mr. Hull can't justify the war. He can't justify the war. Then think about something else. He is supposed to think about it all the time. He is supposed to give us some practical answers.

Buhl BPW Ready For Convention Session Sunday

BUIL, April 21—Senior group of the Business and Professional Women's club held a regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Vera Jon, with Mrs. Bertha Williams as guest hostess. Committee reports on the district convention to be held here April 23 were given and President Vera Mason appointed Katherine Good, Bertin Williams and Peggy Murray on the nominating committee.

The president also announced that the May morning breakfast will be held Sunday morning, May 1, at the home of Mrs. C. L. Allen, for both senior and junior groups. After the breakfast and program, the group will attend the Presbyterian church in a body. Both junior and senior groups are also hosts for the district convention.

Mrs. Junior Van Houten gave a fine talk on education in both war and peace. She pointed out that education should combine the regular academic courses with vocational and economics training and that schools should teach a more definite patriotism than they have heretofore.

A round table discussion followed on the things which meant the most to each member in their life this year, and the things each wished she could have taken.

Frances Womack, a member of the junior group, attended the meeting, and Mrs. Floyd Bechtel was a guest.

Romance Theme At Gooding From

GOODING, April 21—Poetess, song of romance, was the theme of the annual Gooding high school junior prom here in the Junior high auditorium. The hall was cleverly decorated with "moonlight" effect and blue and white streamers.

Musical for dancing was provided by Edith Thorndsen, high school music director, and Paul Johnson, Alban and Carol Caniglia, high school students. School sponsors are Leigh Ingerson and Miss Ruth Ellen Johnson.

Buhl Culture Club Chooses Officers

BUIL, April 21—Annual election of officers was held by the Buhl Culture Club at the home of Mrs. Oscar Johnson with John Baty and Mrs. R. O. Harding as audience hostesses.

New officers are Mrs. R. O. Harding, president; Mrs. Joe Rucker, vice-president; Mrs. Lyle Davis, secretary; and Mrs. Mary and Mrs. Nancy.

Two dollars was donated to the cancer control movement by the group. Roll call was "victory marches" and the meeting was preceded by a 1 o'clock luncheon.

Annual Formal Entertains Buhl Teen Age Group

BUIL, April 21—Buhl high school's annual spring formal in the Legion hall was sponsored and planned by the social committee, with George Lakerson, chairman; June Tice, Tommy Holmes, Lela Mae Gillette, Genevieve Johnson, Gordon Carlson and their adviser, Mrs. Charles Latham.

Decorations were of a lovely spring theme, with white picket fences and a grassy garden scene in one corner with fresh flowers and mirrored pools.

In the center of the hall was a table covered with flowers and plants, through which the grand march passed. Each couple passed through the trellis to kiss and exchange rings. Members of the social committee and their escorts led the Melody Maes furnished the music, and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Annual Tag Day Drive Will Be Held Saturday

Mrs. Lee Smith, from the Good Will club, who is in charge of annual tag day activities Saturday for the Women's Field Army for the Control of Cancer, has announced names of Camp Fire Girls who will sell the tags on the streets all during the near future to enter the air corps.

Women from the club on Mrs. Smith's committee include Mrs. D. Thompson, Mrs. Jack Bell and Mrs. Boyd Smith.

Wausau Camp Fire Girls, with Mrs. N. O. Johnson as chairman, will sell Saturday morning, including Arlene Barry, Marjorie Boone, Dorothy Lee Barry, Doris Ann Weaver, Marjorie Peterson, Barbara Lehman, Margarette Gaudin.

Jeannie Hooper, Betty Ann Milner, Betty Ann Russell, Barbara Johnson, Jeanne Skidmore, Annette Coulter, Ida Mae Smith, Virginia Higgins, Theda Hall and Theda Hall.

Talskuk group, with Mrs. H. H. Boper as chairman, will sell in the afternoon, including Nola Minnifield, Lois Soper, Mary Jean Deagle, Jean Fisher, Lucille Langdon, Louise Hall, Pauline Love, Glenna Hostetter and Mary Connely.

Earlier this month, members of Mrs. Wallace Bond's Canteen group distributed papers to downtown business houses, including Betty Bohannon, Bonnie Olson, Beverly Bond, Carmen Cunningham, Edith Gillette, Natalie Robertson, Patricia Raithe and Shirley Holmes.

Miss Ethel Compton and Robert Banning United

KIMBERLY, April 21—Miss Ethel Compton, Boise, daughter of Mrs. Nora Compton, and Robert Banning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Banning, Pleasant Valley, exchanged vows at impressive double ring nuptials performed in the presence of immediate relatives and friends by the Rev. S. D. Trefren at the Kimberly Methodist church at 4 p. m. Sunday, April 16. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. R. B. Banning sang "Oh, Promise Me" and "Rocking," accompanied by Miss Ruth Criggen, who also played the Lohengrin wedding march.

The church was beautifully decorated with tall baskets of flowers, colored and white snapdragons, and calla lilies, and many tall white tapers.

The bride wore a gown with a gray suit with pink accessories, and wore an orchid corsage. Mrs. J. A. Powell, Boise, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gold suit with brown accessories, and so wore a corsage. Mothers of the bride and bridegroom were seated in blue chairs and each wore a corsage corsage.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Lloyd Perich, Boise, Ralph Banning, uncle of the bridegroom, was best man. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Perich, Mrs. Ralph Compton and Mrs. John Van Engelen, all of Boise, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wood, Gooding.

Following the ceremony, the bride and groom and immediate relatives attended a wedding dinner at the Park hotel in Twin Falls. Guests were seated at one long table, which was topped with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom, which the bride cut and served in traditional manner.

After the wedding, the bride and groom and their bridesmaids and groomsmen and guests of honor and friends of the bride and groom were entertained at a wedding party at the Park hotel.

Mrs. Banning will make her home in Boise after Mr. Banning leaves in the near future to enter the air corps.

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

Grownup people who have the responsibility for rearing children, would do well to read the following, which is a true story of a child who was brought up in a home where the parents were not interested in the child's education.

A child makes mistakes because he knows no better. He must be taught. The growing soul in which he lives is complex and sensitive to him. He does not know how to live. There is no difference between the two situations. That must be taught to him through experience with his leaders. If they are wise they will make the same mistakes, or experiences, brief and frequent. When one situation has been grasped, he can try the next one and carry the first along.

One Cure at a Time

Nothing is gained by a rush until the child has woven his experience, his learning, into the behavior of his life. Keep it at it until you see the lesson you have been trying to teach affecting his behavior. For example you have tried to teach him to be truthful. That is something that will not come out of his day and you keep repeating it until you see that he tells the truth, and the truth, in the terms of the truth as near as he can approach it. After this is accomplished, he will very likely be teaching you by his example, for children, once they catch the idea, are terrible in their truthfulness.

Overworking the Teacher

In school throughout a major principle of teaching, to make mistakes, to accept poorly done work, to let a child find out after day without giving him difficulties and setting him free, is crimes in education. In a teacher worthy the name will willingly commit. When these things happen, it is to the individual child to find his difficulty and to help him overcome it because she has more pupils than she can see individually. She has more material to teach than the time allowed will permit, and into the best of her demands from the administrative heads that time and strength can allow. Overworked teachers cannot be thorough.

Give the teacher the right working conditions. Let her teach in peace. Stop opening the door of her classroom every half hour or so to ask for a report on the room temperature, attendance, lateness, fluency, the number of pupils and eleven and six months on block management. She should be free to sell, penny mail to distribute to just give the teacher a chance to

Lt. and Mrs. Luke Will Be Honored During Reception

Honoring Lt. and Mrs. William A. Luke, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Luke and Mr. and Mrs. C. Robert Helreht, will entertain at an informal reception Saturday, April 22, at 8 p. m. in the ballroom of the second ward L. D. church.

The couple was married March 14 at the Sioux City, Ia., army air base chapel. Lt. Luke will leave Sunday to report at Omaha, Neb. He is expecting orders for overseas service.

Invitations are being issued to all friends of the couple to attend the reception at the L. D. church. Mrs. Luke will preside as master of ceremonies during a variety program.

Mrs. Naauride Luke, sister of the bridegroom, will come from Nampa to attend the reception.

Mrs. Luke was formerly Miss Gwen Helreht. She expects to resume her studies at the summer session at the University of Idaho, southern branch, Pocatello.

Surprises Await C.A.P. Guests at Mystery Society

Second in the series of monthly club meetings of the C.A.P. Mystery Society will be held tomorrow evening in the C.A.P. club room in the Park hotel at 8 p. m. It was announced last night by Joe Donahue, entertainment chairman.

In charge of the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Lionel A. Dean, chairman of the C.A.P. club, and Mrs. Lowell Kinney and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Smith.

The committee met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean and decided the affair would be a "surprise" party in type, and that no further details would be given out except for the date and time.

However, it was revealed that music will be furnished by the Bob Vaden orchestra and that "fun" will be the "order of the night."

"Honorees and entertainers were purposely kept secret," said Mrs. Dean. "Come and find out for yourselves." was the last word on invitations to C.A.P. members yesterday.

Southern Plantation to Be Site of Annual Prom

In a setting of cotton blossoms and southern hospitality, the junior class will give its traditional prom in honor of the senior class this evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Twin Falls high school gymnasium.

The dance is under the supervision of Miss Helen Lindenman and Miss Elfride Reinsdorf, junior class sponsors, with Miss Barbara Beymer as general chairman. In order to carry out the theme, "Old Plantation Days," the gym will be decorated in the manner of a spacious plantation. Cotton bushes will be on either side of the floor to simulate cotton fields. At one end of the gym will be a moon and stars.

At the other end of the gym will be the great plantation house with its stately white pillars and large front door. On the steps of the mansion will sit the musicians. A false ceiling of blue, white and possibly other pastels will extend from under one balcony to the other.

Committees working on the decorations are Miss Pat Dwyer, Miss Agnes Taylor, Fred Van Engelen, Miss Margaret Dahlquist, Miss Audrey Smith, Marshall Yates, Miss Marilyn North with Melba Virginia Fuller as chairmen. This committee had charge of one end of the gym and Miss Lois Beitz, Miss Vivian Beals, and Miss Edith Hall under the chairmanship of Miss Margaret Povey, will decorate the other end.

Miss Gladys Bayless and Miss Elfride Graham were co-chairmen of the clothing committee which consisted of Miss Marilyn Dwyer, Miss Peterson, Bill Turner, Marilyn Pavey, Duane and Melba Van Engelen, Miss Jack Bell, Miss Elaine Glenn and Miss Margaret Dahlquist.

Miss Gene Osterlander is chairman of the information committee and they are planning a program of southern folk songs and other numbers.

As a token of esteem, the faculty presented a gift to Miss Call. This event marked the final get-together of the faculty this term.

John D. Fall, principal and A. W. Morgan, superintendent of schools, presided. The table was festively decorated with spring flowers.

Twin Falls Business and Professional Women's club members reminded that the district meeting will be held in Buhl Sunday, April 23, beginning with a 1 p. m. luncheon. Cover charge will be $1.

"How different a basic position America would have been in dealing with the starting of the negotiations in Manchuria and elsewhere had we been members of an effective League of Nations. The League, without the United States, was doomed to failure; but the United States it was the hope of the United States. It was the hope of Wilson himself. Wilson himself said so clearly. Here, this is what he said in 1918, the day before he fell ill." And his eyes cure more oil in the book. "Without the adherence of the United States to the covenant of the League of Nations, the covenant cannot be made effective. I am not stating it as a matter of power. I am not stating it with the thought that the United States has greater material wealth nor greater strength than any other nation. The police world is not a very profound point; the only point is that if the United States gets into the world that has been

THAT MIGHT BE IT! THEY MIGHT BE SOME OF OUR MEN TRYING TO RIDE ONS IN A GERMAN PLANE! WELL... ITS WORTH INVESTIGATING!

YOU GUYS WANT TO...

IF THEY ARE OUR MEN WE OWNE THEM PLENTY FOR KNOWING THAT JOCKER OFF OUR TAIL, AND BESIDES, WE OWNE THEM AN ANALOGY TOO!

TOO!

WHEN WE GET THESE ARRANGED ON THE FIELD, THEY SHOULD TELL THE STORY... IF OUR JOES ARE CURIOUS ENOUGH TO COME BY AND READ IT!

LOOK, OSCAR, ARCHAEOLOGISTS HAVE GONE OVER THAT PART OF THE WORLD WITH A FINE-TOOTHED COMB... SOME DODD MILES YES, BUT NOTHING FABULOUS!
