

Operators Await Union's Okay to End Truck Tieup

SALT LAKE CITY, May 4 (AP)—A negotiated settlement was in sight today in the labor dispute which for two weeks has virtually paralyzed motor transport freight movements in Utah and southern Idaho and impeded shipments throughout the west.

Continuing upon the approval of Dave Beck, international vice president of the AFL truckmen's union, who is in Washington, the operators and both unions agreed at a day long conference yesterday to submit their differences to arbitration.

A copy of the agreement was telegraphed to Beck and his decision was expected sometime today. The approval of the union leader, who would remain immediately and both operators and unions would agree to abide by the decision of Nathan Feinsinger, chairman of the trucking division of the war labor board, who was selected as arbitrator.

Walk-Out Called Off
Stemming from the union's refusal to pick up freight from a non-union depot in Idaho, the walk-out of employees of four major interstate truck lines was called off. The strike, which had spread to three other lines operating between Salt Lake City, Colorado and west coast cities.

These other points were included in the agreement negotiated by Mr. C. W. Ferguson, industrial relations officer of the army's ninth transportation command.

1—Imposing by the trucking operator an embargo on the handling of freight originating with the Compton Transfer company, Boise, a non-union firm, and request that the interstate commerce commission conduct a hearing on this matter of the embargo.

2—During the period of arbitration there will be no further work stoppages.

3—The union agrees to countermeasures to slowdown of freight movement.

The ICC rejects the embargo before the union reaches a decision, the union will handle Compton freight until such time as the interstate commerce commission makes a decision.

Union spokesmen said they believed there would be no difficulties in the handling of the war material commission approval of certificates of authority for the union, which wanted to accept other jobs. Neither the union nor the operators would limit how many of the approximately 25 to 30 men affected has been employed.

Earlier, Major Ferguson told the trucking industry conference that military freight had continued to move, adding:

"The situation is being handled and by backing up civilian freight would affect military operations."

Louis Collier, chief legal counsel for the union, said that international representative of the union, the workers.

MAJOR OFFENSIVE THOUGHT HEARING ON ITALY FRONTS

By REYNOLDS PUGHARD
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 4 (AP)—Strong British and American ground forces were reported to be preparing for a major offensive in southern Italy today as allied bombers attacked Nazi railway communications from the coasts of Rome to Brindisi.

The tempo of battle quickened all along the main ground fronts below Rome as German combat patrols attacked a score of points in effort to unmask the allied preparations.

Simultaneously the Canadian army newspaper, "Maple Leaf," said that action was imminent on the long-stalemate Italian front.

"General MacArthur is going to take over and beat things wide open," the army newspaper said.

The non-controlled Paris radio said allied armies in Italy have taken up battle positions for a new offensive to be launched in the near future.

From the car of George Kay Tuesday night, was found Wednesday night just where a pair of bowlin shoes ought to be found—at a bowling alley.

Apparently the party who took the shoes in the first place decided to take them to the second place, that it might be a nice gesture to leave them in the right place for Mr. Kay to find.

them easily. So he sold them to a man at the bowling alley. Thus far that man hasn't gotten his money back.

SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKPAIN

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers believe nagging backache quickly, even if they discover that the real cause is a simple case of kidney weakness. The kidneys are Nature's "housekeepers," taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood and excreting them through the urinary tract. When diseased or hindered, the kidneys allow poisonous matter to remain in your blood, which causes a host of ailments, including rheumatism, indigestion, skin eruptions, itching, itchy palms of the hands, itchy soles of the feet, line on back, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, and general discomfort. Frequent urination, especially at night, is another sure sign of kidney trouble. Don't wait! Act now. Write for Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It will bring you relief and will bring you 15 miles of kidney trouble.

BALLOTING OPENS IN UNION DISTRICT

RUPERT, May 4.—An election ordered by the national labor relations board, to determine whether employees of three produce companies shall be represented by the farm workers' union, was getting under way here today, with first balloting at the warehouse of the L. C. Culbertson Produce company.

Between 12 and 15 persons were declared eligible to vote in the election, after a conference at the warehouse Wednesday between proprietors of the three firms and Theodore Allison, Seattle, field examiner for the NLRB.

Those voting in the election will be the employees of the J. H. Simpson Produce company, operating at Rupert, Paul and Debo; the C. N. Campbell Produce company, operating at Burley and Rupert; and the L. C. Culbertson Produce company, Rupert.

The election was ordered by the labor relations board upon petition of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America, to determine whether the employees shall be represented by the union for collective bargaining purposes.

Purpose of the Burley center yesterday was to determine in which company would be eligible to vote in the election, Allison said. In general those voting will be employees who were working for their respective employers immediately prior to April 12, when the election was ordered, and also those who were working for the same companies in March. The reason for the March designation, it was said, is that approximately 90 per cent of the farm workers who had returned from the farm by March 12 were in order to hold their agricultural draft deferments.

Balloting today was to be from noon to 1 p. m. at the warehouse office of the Culbertson company, from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. at the Campbell company warehouse office, and from 4:45 to 6:45 p. m. at the Simpson warehouse office, all in Rupert.

Friday's balloting will be from noon to 1 p. m. at the Simpson warehouse office at Paul, from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. at the Simpson warehouse office at Declo, and from 6 to 7 p. m. at the Campbell office at Burley. Ballots will be counted separately for all the companies at the Simpson office in Burley.

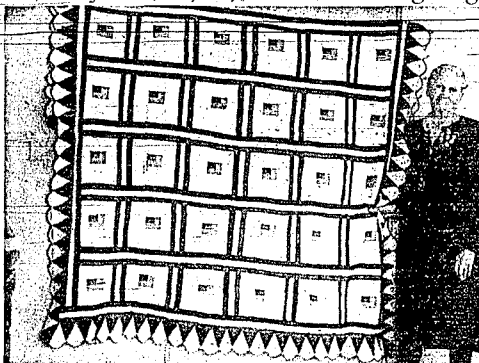

Allison said last night that a worker is not bound to vote at the place where he works. "Any of those voting may vote at any one of the places," he said. "Any Rupert employee missing the Thursday balloting at Rupert may vote Friday at Paul, Declo or Burley polling place."

JOINT OIL GROUP AGES PEACE JOB

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The joint Anglo-American military supply committee will be retained after the war and may be assigned the task of coordinating production and distribution of middle east oil by both American and British interests, it was learned today.

The disclosure followed a state department announcement that Anglo-American technical experts have ended two weeks of exploratory discussions on postwar petroleum problems and will now report their recommendations to their respective governments.

No Famines
The participants revealed that both groups were agreed that fears of a world oil famine are unfounded—that known and indicated oil supplies in the world are adequate, and that future plans should be built upon orderly development of those resources rather than on a prospective oil rationing program.

The conferees were said to have agreed that the control for such development should be placed in an advisory committee of experts in the United States and Britain in the area but which, according to informed officials, will be retained for some time after the war.

Merging of Wool Sale Turned Down
WASHINGTON, May 4.—Representative Craney, R., Utah, said today that commodity credit corporation and defense supplies corporation, each holding a portion of the wool stockpile, have declined to accept the proposal of wool growers that the government's holdings be consolidated and sold through one agency.

The situation, he said, would have no effect on previously announced arrangements for marketing the current domestic crop which the commodity credit corporation has agreed to take under the same arrangements and at about the same prices as last year.

Dorothy Scott Ross (left) and Dorothy Finley Regan, both of Burley, and both former Aberdeen school teachers—need no prodding to keep them constantly at work on the famous B-24 rehabilitation line at Hill Field. Dorothy Ross' husband is a prisoner of the Germans and her brother-in-law is held by the Japs, while Dorothy Regan's husband is a liberator pilot in the south Pacific and recent winner of the air medal.

"We're doing everything we can to get this thing over with," Mrs. Ross declared. "I have my husband and brother-in-law to work for but all of us have a vital stake in the war whether we have relatives directly involved or not."

Dorothy Regan's husband, First Lieut. Frank E. Ross, navigator on a B-17 Flying Fortress, is a prisoner of the Germans, while her brother-in-law, First Lieut. James Ross, was taken by the Japs with the fall of Corregidor.

BOTT CITES NEW FARM LAND NEED

WEISER, Ida., May 4.—The war expansion of the Idaho food production in the years after the war can only be filled by bringing under cultivation the vast areas of new and old land, Gov. Bottelstein said Wednesday.

"Economists say it will take 400,000 acres a year for 10 years, or 4,000,000 acres in all, to meet the increase in population, let alone the food production which will be needed to feed the rest of the world," the governor declared in a speech prepared for the new and old land, sponsored by the Weiser Lions club.

Bottelstein was introduced by Albert Linkous, president of the club, which invited farmers and business men of western Idaho to attend the dinner meeting.

"Most of the additional land needed will be found in the new arid areas of the west," the governor said. "We now have five governors; 10 senators, and 11 representatives speaking for the people of Idaho. Before Idaho had one governor, one senator and two representatives," he said.

Bottelstein predicted a growth in Idaho's tourist industry after the war as scenic attractions such as the Snake river and the Snake river canyon would experience an industrial expansion as a huge market for outdoor make themselves felt in western America.

Total number of stars have been estimated at between 30,000 and 50,000 million.
