STETTINIUS SEES DISPUTES SOLVED

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP).—Undersecretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., today places high on the list of success at the London conference—the results of his talks with allied government officials and discussions with the British on middle east questions.

He talked with officials of all the allied governments on all levels, and predicted that the contacts made will prove highly important in the solution of problems that have plagued the allies for several years.

His optimism about discussions on middle eastern problems was considered especially significant because of the importance now attached to future development of the vast oil resources of that area.

Stettinius emphasized these two points at a press conference yesterday during which he discussed for publication general aspects of his trip. He then spent more than an hour discussing specific questions with correspondents of the record.

The undersecretary plunged into the business of making reports to Secretary of State Cordell Hull a few minutes after he arrived at the airport Thursday afternoon.

He also continued the same practice he followed in London of keeping in touch with the Russians. In addition to calling on British Ambassador Lord Halifax, he visited Soviet Ambassador Andrei A. Gromyko yesterday.

Stettinius was enthusiastic about his trip. He made this general analysis of it:

1. The United States should have such a working relation to London long ago.

2. The amazing how two fellows of good will and with reasonable attitudes can find things out together. He emphasized how quickly wrong impressions created by difficulties of correspondence through mail and cable vanish when such talks occur.

3. A tremendous number of items which had bothered both sides were quickly resolved in the complete satisfaction of all. Thus, he said, was not to imply that there were no difficulties and some things not accomplished.

FDR VINDICATION IN SEIZURE SEEN

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—Administration leaders in the House today have expressed belief that an impartial investigation of the seizure of Japanese assets and company affairs would uphold the President's order.

In an overwhelming vote of 300 to 60, the House yesterday authorized a committee to investigate the seizure of Japanese assets and company affairs.

The committee, composed of four Democrats and three Republicans, was authorized Wednesday to be carried out by its Judiciary committee.

Only a week ago, such a vote in the House would have been improbable because of the opposition that developed in Democratic ranks.

This opposition was absorbed among most of the Democratic leaders after they read the opinion of Attorney General Francis Biddle, which stated the government's case against the firm. Among those who dropped their opposition was Chairman Adolph H. Sabath, D. Ill., of the Judiciary committee.

The new deal supporter who held in his hands the power to prevent the seizure of Japanese assets, immediately to appoint the committee.

Other Democratic leaders had taken no part in the committee's work to the making of the committee which probably will be named early next week.

Meanwhile, the House yesterday developed another legislative proposal. It came from Rep. Benji Connelley, D. N. Y., who introduced a bill to provide for a court review of decisions of the war labor board.

The bill, which would provide for reviews by the circuit courts of appeals of the board's decisions, is a property seizure power of the President to war industries where an actual interruption of operations impedes the war effort.

Mrs. Deiss One of Outstanding Anti-T. B. Workers in Idaho

Mrs. Herman E. Deiss, past chairman of the Twin Falls county Anti-Tuberculosis association from 1924 through 1940, was a member of the McCloskey health camp board from the time of its inception, the best of Idaho's outstanding workers in the national fight against tuberculosis.

Twenty years ago Mrs. Deiss became interested in the work of the Anti-Tuberculosis association, and when in 1911 the McCloskey camp at Hail was set up, she saw it as an important preventive project. The association was the sponsoring group for the camp until the time it closed two years ago.

With the expiration of the year 1929, Mrs. Deiss was local seal chairman for 16 consecutive years and from 1930 through 1942 was county seal chairman. After the war, she says, it is the health association's aim to establish a state hospital for tubercular patients.

In reviving one of the old-time aims of the McCloskey camp, Mrs. Deiss said that in the early years of the depression when lambs were scarce, she was closing their camp to make room for the sheep. She said she was a taxpayer who had helped pay the cost of the camp and she felt that she had a right to make the check good for the full amount.

Besides her work as county and local Anti-Tuberculosis seal chairman, Mrs. Deiss has been a member of the Twin Falls library board for a number of years. She was on the library board from 1935 till January of this year.

In October of 1938 Mr. and Mrs. Deiss and their three children came to Twin Falls. She has one son who is in the service, Lieut. Earl Robert Deiss, army flight instructor at St. Simon, Ont.; the other sons are Joseph Deiss, Red Cross field director at Cheeger field, Spokane, Wash., and Edwin Deiss, with the federal bureau of investigation, Washington, D. C.

ORDER COAL NOW!

A VITAL MESSAGE from your coal dealer

Read it! All coal dealers placed on special allotments! Help us... help yourself to keep warm this NEXT winter!

Government regulations now apply on all shipments of coal to your dealer... requiring that he take his coal over a full 12 month equal allotment (tonnage), taking into account of tons in May or July or October or December. And he must take whatever kind of coal that is shipped him, regardless of what type he needs, or the type you have previously bought from him. While he is allowed and prorated some of all types or sizes—BLACK, FE, NUZ, or STOVE, he must take whatever kind is shipped in any month or less his tonnage for the same amount, as his monthly shipments are not accumulative. There is no way in which your dealer may regulate the shipments—and none of his "back orders" will be filled.

DEALER STORAGE IMPOSSIBLE. No matter how badly your dealer wants to store and handle your coal for you until winter, this is an impossibility—YOU MUST DO YOUR PART BUY YOUR COAL NOW — ORDER YOUR BIN FILLED DURING THE SPRING AND SUMMER MONTHS. Even if you place an order today for some type of coal, it may be weeks before your dealer will have that particular size in to fill your order. Therefore, under this government prorated allotment plan to dealers it is necessary that all those who expect security in warmth next winter—to ACT NOW!

Dr. C. J. Potter, Deputy Solid Fuels Administrator, says that users of domestic coal in the far western states, where the supply was ample this past winter, can best protect themselves against the possibility of serious fuel shortages during the next heating season by purchasing and storing as much of their next winter's coal as possible this spring and summer.

"I want to advise every domestic coal consumer in the far western states as emphatically as possible against being lulled into a false sense of fuel security by the facts that the coal supply was ample during the heating season just drawing to a close," Dr. Potter said.

WHY STORE COAL NOW? There are factors related to the possible increased war activities that warn those who think ahead that there is a very grave danger to face this next winter. In the way of coal shortages, one of these is the ever increasing loss to the nation's economy of MAN POWER from the mines, railroads and local handlers. The strong possibility of very demands completely taking over oil, will bring about a requirement for more coal for utilities and commercial plants.

THE RESPONSIBILITY RESTS WITH YOU
The Deputy Fuels Administrator has placed the responsibility on us, your dealers, to see that our customers' bins are filled this summer. WE GIVE YOU THE FACTS IN THIS MESSAGE—the final responsibility rests with you!

...Use Pure REFINITE Soft Water Always!

Medical authorities generally agree that hard water is a menace to health and beauty. The lime in hard water ineffectively cleanses the digestive tract, develops a tendency to calcareous diseases such as gravel and kidney stones, and adheres to the inner linings of the veins and arteries of the heart causing much of the cause of heart disease. The microscopic, gummy soap scum formed by hard water penetrates into the pores of the skin and usually obstructs "body breathing."
