

Returns Hint FR July Nominations By Voice Voting

The Democratic party noted President Roosevelt's newest refusal to talk about election political plans today without showing its strides toward the election of fourth term supporting delegates in such numbers as to raise the possibility of a nomination by acclamation at the July Chicago convention.

Confronted with another opportunity to run and to name the allies which he did not deter party leaders from the fact that he would accept nomination, the President joyfully brushed aside at his news conference yesterday a request that he say something about the delegates being pledged to him.

Was Not Angry
Mrs. Roosevelt was advised that Mrs. Johnson and Stager, Oklahoma Democratic, told her that he "didn't seem angry" when they came to the White House to say that Oklahoma's 22 convention votes had been sealed for a fourth term. Similarly, the President said another incident had intervened and he had forgotten what they told him.

To the Democrats who want him to run—and to some who still continued refusal to talk was accepted as evidence that the President was not angry, the President said, however, a South Carolina group opposing a fourth term competed today with a Roosevelt group for control of that state's delegates, which will name delegates with 18 national convention votes.

There was no such move in Arizona where the Democratic state committee was called together to select delegates with 20 votes which are expected to be added to the total of 87 already pledged to support a fourth term.

On the Republican front a Vermont state convention met to pick delegates with 10 votes, indicating that several, if not all, of them would favor a second term of Gov. Thayer E. Dewey of New York.

Dewey Has 31
Dewey's total of pledged and claimed delegates stands at 31, including 10 from the Vermont delegates yesterday in tying that state's group of eight to him through resolution.

Strikes Keep 50,000 Detroit Workers Idle

DETROIT, May 17 (AP)—The outcome of a long struggle by the Ford Motor Co. against the United Auto Workers' recognition as a bargaining agent for supervisory plant employees will make today as 50,000 of the union engaged in a showdown battle with the war labor board over the merits of the case for the idleness of nearly 50,000 workers in the Ford plant.

The exact total made idle because of the foreman's dispute could not be determined because the Ford Motor Co. announced only that it was shutting down the number of workers it could not make known the number of employees involved.

Approval Claimed
Claiming they were acting with the approval of army officers, Ford officials said the shutdown was "because of the unauthorized absence of certain supervisory personnel in order better to insure the quality of its product."

The union followed by only a few hours the closing of the Briggs Manufacturing company, which was also shut down after the union protested to the WLB and the war department that 35,000 employees had been sent out from their work on the basis of the company's dispute with the independent foremen's union. The union closed its own plant on Friday.

U.S. Studies Turk Nazi Exports

LONDON, May 17 (AP)—The state department in Washington is studying the military may do so whether to demand complete cessation of Turkish exports to Germany, it was learned today. The state department is studying reports on shipments recently were forwarded from Washington to the state department to stop sending such badly needed supplies to Germany.

These factors, it was believed, will be taken into making any decision on the matter. The state department is studying the reports on the enemy's war machine and their efforts to produce it from the home front, Russia, The cost of the allies in getting the Turks to agree to stop such exports, and the possibility that the United States might be able to supply the line and make diplomatic discussions unnecessary.

ANKARA SMASHING AT LAS BARRER Come Offensive; Ete Troops Back upon Adolf Hitler line

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Full Russian participation in political arrangements for the final military drives into Nazi-controlled Europe appeared today to be an accomplished fact.

Ranking American diplomats feared the three-power collaboration thus achieved as a "substantial" step toward harmonious cooperation among the United States, Britain and Russia for creation of a permanent United Nations organization in the reasonably near future.

Disclosure of agreements between the United States and the governments of Norway, Belgium and the Netherlands for civil administration of their European areas furnished the latest example of the American position in pre-war diplomacy.

In the case of Norway the agreement was made jointly by the United States, Britain and the Netherlands. The agreement was made by the U. S. and Britain with the Netherlands.

In substance the agreements provide that the allied military forces shall have full authority over civil affairs of invaded and liberated areas, and shall be required for war purposes, but as soon as the necessity no longer exists, the military forces shall be required to the respective governments.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 17 (UP)—The fifth army has reached the Adolf Hitler line, believed the last fortified barrier to the Roman plains, at key points along a five to six-mile front after smashing all Gustav line defenses from the Liri river to the sea, it was disclosed today.

While the fifth army advanced nearly three miles to contact the outskirts of the Hitler line, the British eighth army deepened its bridgehead across the Rapido river to perhaps 500 yards, and the enemy's main lateral supply line across the Liri valley, and pushed to within a mile of the Germans' own escape route from Cassino.

(A German communiqué said Nazi troops were carrying out "disorganizing movements according to plan" on the main Italian front in fighting reminiscent of the "great defensive" from the Anzio beachhead.

The communiqué added, "In view of the expectation that a large-scale attack will be launched there soon as well."

The German-controlled Radio reported the allies had achieved a local breakthrough in the Liri valley where the eighth army was said to be attempting to cut the Cassino road.

GEORGE ADE, 78, NOTED WIT, DIES

BROOK, Ind., May 17 (AP) — George Ade, 78-year-old humorist, author and playwright, who was the exponent of the "good-neighbor" policy in this community, died last night at the home of L. E. Hirschman, an old friend.

Called in Blang, "had been ill since last June, when he suffered a stroke which caused temporary paralysis of one arm. He had been in a coma since last Saturday morning, when he suffered two heart attacks, and his death was not unexpected."

Ade began his career like hosts of other writers and newspapermen who emerged from the turn of the century, bringing with them the luncheon philosophy and temper which aptly portrayed American life and ideas.

He was born Feb. 8, 1866, in Kentland, Ind., where his father was a county banker. After graduating from Purdue University in 1887, he joined the staff of the Lafayette, Ind., Evening Call.

Just soon Ade heard the "call" of the big show. He went to New York and got a job with the Chicago Morning News, where he quickly caught on as one of those "muckrakers" which usually occur only in fiction.

The lake steamer "The" exploded in Chicago harbor one night, and he was the only reporter in the city room. He was assigned to the story, and his excellent work converted him into a star reporter overnight.

He wrote his first success-ful play, "The Sultan of Sulu," in 1902 in a hotel room in New York City. T. McCulloch, another humorist who was to become a famous cartoonist, Ade never married.

NORWAY READY TO AID EUROPE PUSH

BAIT LAKE CITY, May 17 (AP) — Norwegian patriots are ready to increase their sabotage efforts against German occupation forces the instant allied troops land in western Europe, an escaped former Norwegian soldier said today.

"The Norwegians will do everything they can to disturb German communications," he said, "and they will stop everything they can. But they have to be careful not to begin their operations too soon and they don't rely on any rumors."

The Norwegian soldier is using the assumed name, Peter Johnsen, to avert persecution of his family. He left Norway in a fishing boat in September, 1941, landing in Scotland. He spent seven months in a fighter pilot training school in Canada, then rejoined the Norwegian merchant marine, to which he had belonged before transferring to the army when Norway was invaded.

Now he's on leave and is traveling to the west coast.

Little more than one per cent of the Norwegians are disloyal, he said, but you never talk to anyone. Nine-tenths of the people are patriotic but you don't trust them."

YANKS AT FRONT BLING TO HUMOR

By KENNETH L. DIXON
WITH THE AEP IN TOWN, May 17 (Delayed)—Nobody knows better than the editors of the 44th Division News that while war isn't funny things happen in war and sometimes humor is the safety valve which saves the soldier's sanity. So almost every weekly edition of the crack army news sheet is crowded with such stories as these: It was getting hot and sunny and the observation post when Cpl. Andrew Zapkeki, Toledo, O., tried to contact his regiment by radio and found a German radio operator jamming the frequency with a conventional device which went "One, two, three, four—sorry, you can't get through—five, six, seven, eight—you can't get through—nine, eleven and so on."

Didn't work. Zapkeki "Gee the hell out of the air, you blabbering idiot and so on." It didn't work. Then he had an inspiration. "Say," he yelled at the German, "what's the news from the Russian front?"

The German shut up. To say the GIs are "unhappy" about the regulation permitting them from leaving camp with the commissioned army nurses is putting it much more than realistic. So the cleaning company boss at the beachhead hospital snatched at the soldier's words, "You're not just up about their tent area and the nurses," saying the nurses were "a lot of trouble to all army girls" except officers. Laughing and in the soldiers' words, "the nurses are the clothesline, behind the line, on which the nurses hang their flimsy, feminine lacy undergarments, brassieres and such stuff."

But Cpl. Eugene Moore, Durham, N. C., was not a man to permit such treatment to go unchallenged. In front of the clearing company's tents he erected a huge sign reading "Self-Defense to all nurses" and then as the final defiant touch he strung up a clothesline behind it. And there each day several suits of Moore's long underwear underwent the wash cycle to the pink underlies on the line across the way.

Then, Sgt. Carl J. Culler, Brookmann, Pawnee, Okla., was just back from the hospital and he suspected that what with new replacements coming in and all, discipline might have gone somewhat to pot while he was away. So when he spotted stragglers several yards behind the outfit in a march in the rain he stepped over with a glacial gleam in his eye and snarled sarcastically, "What platoon you in, soldier, and who do you think you are?"

"I," supplied Lt. John Kopczynski, Tulsa, Okla., whose rank was slightly hidden by his raincoat, "happen to be your new company commander."

Bereaved Dick
And then there was Cpl. Antonio D. Morales, San Juan Pueblo, N. M., who reported for sick call one day. Morales said he had a cold until a German shell burst into a nearby building, knocking down both him and the doctor who was examining him. When he got to his feet the "cold" was miraculously gone.

"Guess the concussion killed the germs," he said, heading back for his foxhole. "I feel fine now."

He also thought he had a thermometer in his mouth when the shell hit but when he got up it couldn't be found anywhere. "He doesn't think he actually... well, er... no, he's sure he didn't—but every time he gets a twinge in his lips he wonders..."

"BOOBY TRAPS" TALK SUBJECTS

"Booby Traps in American Life" was the general program topic at last night's meeting of the "Booby Traps" club, held in the Ferguson hotel dining room. Russell Jensen, Jr., was in charge of the program. Kenneth Kall was chief critic and Claude Driscoll acted as chairman.

The three main speakers and their topics were: Melvin Throckmorton, "Booby Traps in Education"; Merwin E. Helms, "Booby Traps in Religion"; and Walter Staehle, "Booby Traps in Government." Present for the first time of the evening were Throckmorton, Deane Stinson for Helms, and O. J. Bohne for Staehle.

With Dr. Gordon Tobin presiding, Walter Staehle opened the meeting with an irreverent talk and was formally inducted into the club by the president.

Table topics on "What Are My Post-War Plans?" "Will Russia be a Threat to World Peace After the War?" and "The Future of the Atomic Valley," preceded the prepared talks and were led by Dr. Tobin.

It was announced that the subject for the next meeting, to be held June 6, will be "A Date on Bureau-cracy," with H. L. Sumnerfield as hostmaster. Specific questions will be "Resolved: That Bureau-cracy Hampers Good Government."

Outlook for Food Called Reassuring

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The outlook for food production this year is "on the whole reassuring" and the danger of a milk famine has passed, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard told the senate appropriations committee in testimony made public today.

He declared the outlook is for a winter wheat crop "somewhat higher" than a year ago, that poultry production has remained at a high level and that milk production has gone up slightly in contradiction of predictions made by some farm leaders several months ago.

His testimony was given April 15 during hearings on the agriculture department appropriation bill.

"We heard a lot last year about a reduction in the number of dairy cows, but that has not materialized," Wickard testified. "The number of cows is about two per cent higher than a year ago."

War's Effects on Business Told

Effects of the war on real estate, legal and insurance businesses were discussed briefly by local Rotarians at the club's weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday.

Stuart Taylor, program chairman and "Booby Traps" club speaker, spoke of the insurance business; Attorney H. P. Parry discussed the legal profession; and Bruce M. Williams, local real estate agent, told of the war's effect on real estate and the insurance business.

Both real estate and insurance businesses were said to be generally active. Less criminal and court work but considerably more documentation was said to be the effect on legal activities.

One visitor, Mrs. Vera Every, president of the Rupert Rotary club, was present.

Irrigation Hours
Curtailed at Ferry

GLENN'S FERRY, May 17—Low level of water in the village wells has necessitated curtailing irrigation hours in Glenn's Ferry. Previously they have been allowed for three hours a time and a day, but the new hours limit use of irrigation water to 7 to 9 a. m. and from 5 to 8 p. m., according to William Peterson, chairman of the water committee of the village board.

The situation is critical, and strict conservation will be necessary if entire discontinuance of irrigation is to be avoided. Residents are discouraged from planting large areas, in order to conserve the available water supply.

What happened to our 110 million dollars?

- 1 During 1943, Union Oil Company took in 110 million dollars from the sale of its products. But at the end of the year, the people who own the company (and there are more than 31,000 of them) wound up with just 4 1/2% of this in dividends. What happened to the rest?
- 2 Well, the largest single share, 34% million dollars, was paid out for the raw materials from which we manufacture our finished products. The next largest, 24% million, went to Union Oil employees who got approximately $5.21 in wages and salaries for every $1.00 that went to the stockholders.
- 3 Another 14 million went for depreciation of tools, oil fields and equipment—all of which have to be replaced as fast as we "wear them out." 13 million went for materials, supplies, research and other expense. 8% million was spent in transporting our products to our customers.
- 4 6 million was paid out to local, state and federal governments in taxes. Interest charges took another 1 million, and 1 1/2 million was put into a wartime contribution fund we've had to set up because of abnormal operating conditions. The last 2 1/2 million was plowed back into the business.
- 5 That left just 4 1/2% million to be paid out in dividends to the 31,375 Americans who own Union Oil—an average of $148.73 per stockholder. Since these stockholders financed all the wells, refineries, service stations, etc., without which we simply couldn't do business, this seems a reasonable return.
- 6 For the only alternative to this private financing of American industries would be government ownership, which would eliminate the freedom of the individual, the efficiency of a free economy, and that all-important human incentive—competition.

Apology to Bishop
Restores Priest

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 17 (AP)—Upon receipt of a letter of apology, Most Rev. Thomas H. O'Leary, the bishop of Springfield, today lifted the four-day-old suspension of Rev. Stanislaus Orsman, the Catholic priest who gained headlines by his visit with Marshal Stalin recently.

Father Orsman, who was suspended by Bishop O'Leary on his arrival last Sunday from Moscow for leaving his parish without permission, still was under a doctor's care.

His physician, Dr. William C. Kozmar, reported the priest was "on the verge of a complete physical and mental breakdown."

In the letter the Polish-American priest wrote to Bishop O'Leary, he regretted his "seeming disregard for the legislation and directives" of his church and he hastened to apologize for the lack of respect for the ecclesiastical authorities which could be inferred "from his absence."

"It is now my fixed purpose and plan to cease and separate myself from all activities which are not in accord with the rule and mind of the Catholic church," the letter read.

JEROME BOYS IN NAVY
