U. S. FIRST, BOTT APPEALS TO BPW

KELLOGG, Ida. June 2 (AP)—American has to be critical of any solution to postwar problems which is not founded on the basic policy of national self-interest combined with an intelligent consideration of international responsibilities, Gov. C. A. Bottrell said today.

The governor, speaking at a joint luncheon of an eight-state regional conference of Business and Professional Women's clubs and the state convention of the Idaho BPW association, said America will be left standing as the most strong nation of the world at the close of World War II, "and run to lower consideration of self above participation in world affairs."

Mrs. Wilma Zimmerman, Tacoma, president of the Washington State BPW association, presided at the eight-state conference called by Miss Anna McGee, Twin Falls, president of the Idaho group.

Confetti pointed out that our allies have suffered more from the conflict than this country, and that they have been at war longer and have actually fought battles on their own soil.

The governor said postwar problems will multiply as the war ends, and that the final phase and emphasized the importance of American citizenship in a democratic society.

Bottrell said America must learn to understand the problems of all peoples of the world because we will all depend on her for the next half-century.

Jay-Cettes Given Praise of Board

The services of 13 Jay-Cettes, wives of members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, were being acted as volunteer workers at the luncheon during the rush of campaigning activities, were highly praised by the board of the Jay-Cettes.

The meeting will be open to the members of the party, both men and women.

A large attendance is desired and other business pertinent to the primary will be discussed.

WATCH THIS PRIMARY

Occasionally we do not agree in sectional issues as far as Idaho is concerned. There is already too much of this in the state for its own good.

But no harm will come from calling attention to a movement now under way in north Idaho in connection with the coming primary election.

The paper pointed out editorially the other day, the primary may prove more important than the general election, because of the number of candidates seeking nominations for various state offices.

It should be apparent in case the voting is scattered among all the candidates for governor, for instance, that it will be a horse race right up to the minute the last ballot is counted.

It should also be apparent that, unless some attempt is made to concentrate on one candidate, there's no telling who will win the nomination.

A story in the recent issue of the Bonner Perry Herald demonstrates that the northern part of the state is well aware of the possibilities in the primary. It reads in part as follows:

"In northern Idaho will support as its candidate for governor Edwin Nelson of Idaho county—present lieutenant governor—than the nomination of Edwin Nelson will be assured."

"This was the belief expressed in Coeur d'Alene today by former Sen. Ralph S. Nelson who has recently returned from a business trip to Boise. As far as he is concerned, many Republicans from various parts of the state who are optimistic about Nelson's prospects in the primaries."

The primary election, Magic Valley will also have a Republican candidate for governor—W. H. (Bill) Detweiler of Hazelton. And if the Republicans of these eight counties unite in supporting him, there is good reason to believe they will elect him to office.

They say anything's fair in love and war, but so, maybe it's well that the people of Magic Valley be informed as to what's in the state that's blowing down from the northland. At least it gives us something to think about.

THE PRICE IS GOING UP

In spite of relatively high resistance in recent Pacific engagements, the days of the Japs' invulnerable defense are not over. Wade Smith and proved that and gave promise of a lot more hard fighting between present allied positions and Tokyo. But Wade Island also proved that the Japs are paying more and more dearly as they advance.

It took two days for the American landing force to win Wade after the little two-by-three-mile island had been subjected to a pounding that sounds even fiercer than what General MacArthur's troops have been subjected to. They were dropped on it before the actual operation started. This was followed with a day-and-night blasting by ship and land artillery, and heavy, medium and light bombers.

But a battalion of Japs survived in their book. They sniped from caves, pillboxes and tree tops. They infiltrated into our lines in the uniforms of fallen American soldiers.

It was fierce, suicidal fighting. It delayed the taking of a small but important objective. But when the firing ceased not one of the seasoned defenders remained alive.

How long can it go on? To pay these prices in order to delay the inevitable? The force on Wade was small, to be sure, but the total casualties in these last-man stands are growing more impressive, in the month following the Hollandia landing April 22, Americans killed 76 Japs for every one of our men lost.

It should be apparent to Tolo that, for many months now there has been no question of the outcome of his engagements against the Americans. Admiral Halsey was not speaking idly when he announced "the virtual completion of the Pacific campaign, except for mopping-up and starving-out operations."

The Japs are up against superior equipment. They are being outfought on land and sea and in the air.

The Japs in Burma have discovered how well they taught their American adversaries the tricks of jungle fighting on Guadalcanal and the Papuan peninsula.

All this has happened in the "beat Hitler first" phase of the war against Japan. Surely no amount of fanaticism or boasting can give Tolo's mind any more than it deserves the full weight of allied might that is coming later.

Now is about the time when months start enjoying your winter overcoat.

The only time it is smart to be good for nothing is when you are fit for a loan.

ANALYZING CURRENT NEWS FROM NEW YORK

RESISTANCE.—There are many misconceptions, intensified by exaggerated propaganda about the resistance played by European patriots and the assistance they can give in invasion.

But the public will be let down in the estimate of high ranking officers. If it plans its hopes on rebellion breaking out as soon as the American-Americans land.

From a staff report, preliminary views of the activities of the underground and minor resistance movements are given. It would be extremely unfair, however, to overlook the services of the underground and minor resistance movements.

Farmers of State Are Saving Straw

Research findings which demonstrate that straw utilization was an important factor in checking erosion and rebuilding productivity of the land have been an important factor in the conservation trend.

At the experimental station at the branch station at Telenia, nearly 3 bushels an acre better yields resulted from using the straw than where it was burned and one-way disked. The straw also burned and six tillages resulted in 22 bushels an acre soil loss, while losses were but 2 to 3 tons an acre where the straw was hauled.

Stubble-mulched tillage in all cases was more effective than any other

Here the lots, approximately the same area as the Pocatello set-up, were furnished by the city and water furnished free. About 50 separate gardens were made. The products were mostly sold to the Pocatello project staff as kind of vegetables grown and results obtained.

An interesting observation concerning the municipal gardens was that practically no produce was allowed to go to waste. That which could not be sold or given away was canned, dehydrated or blitted.

FISHING LICENSE SALES SET RECORD

1,989 More Purchased Than in Spring of '43

A new record in the number of fish and game licenses sold during April and May is expected when the final check of the sales is made by the Idaho fish and game department, according to Allen D. Miller, chief clerk of the department. Miller said that the sales of licenses for the first two months of the season were 1,989 more than in the corresponding months of 1943.

Since the 1943 licenses were placed on sale in April 23, 1943, there have been purchased, according to reports from vendors throughout the state, the previous high total was 19,225 in the first two months of the sale last year. In 1942, 12,725 were sold, and in 1941 the figure was 16,610.

The increase in fishermen has been made, Miller pointed out, in spite of gasoline rationing and the absence of many men in the armed forces and war industries. Unusually large crowds were seen on opening day, May 21, and thousands more were on lakes and streams.

At the present rate, a new record for the year is likely, the game department officials predicted.

Miller said that the present high mark of 100,000 regular licenses was set in 1934.

Stories of fish trout catches continued to come in. Barney Greener, Burley, was reported to have made an eight-pound, 22-inch trout in Wood River below the diversion dam.

Buhl Outbid Half Dozen Schools For Services of Coach Anderson

Buhl outbid a half dozen schools when it obtained the services of Loren D. "St" Anderson as the Indians' coach and principal for the 1944-45 school year, announcement of which was made in the Times-News Thursday afternoon edition.

The Times-News sport department learned some time ago that Anderson was being sought by a number of schools, several of them quite large, but that he was reluctant to leave Buhl, where he had coached for the last two years. Then, too, his status in the draft was uncertain for a time and this disintegrated him in making new plans.

Anderson is a big fellow, six feet three inches in height, with unlimited enthusiasm for athletics. At Buhl he produced two national 11-man football teams and had a state championship in basketball.

Compromise to Be Sought

An effort to remove the objections to Junior fishermen among the town of Slougher House creek which runs through the town, a compromise will be made by the town and the fishing community.

The setting aside of Slougher House creek as a fishing area for boys and girls under 14 years of age is one of the chief projects of the organization. The association has sought a considerable expense in purchasing land and stock the creek for the purpose of fishing.

ON THE SPORT FRONT

Ve Old Sport Striver hopes the city council will find some way to get Slaughter House creek open to the Junior fishermen, even though it might inconvenience some of the citizens of the municipal council through which most of the stream flows.

At the present time many adult organizations in the city are embarked on a recreation program which has as its goal the curbing of juvenile delinquency. Can anyone think of any better means to that end than to give a lad a fishing pole and sending him off to angle for the Junior fishermen, even though it might inconvenience some of the citizens of the municipal council through which most of the stream flows.

If the Junior fishermen damaged the stream or put themselves in a way of flying golf balls, it was probably because they kid, just as the Junior fishermen, even though it might inconvenience some of the citizens of the municipal council through which most of the stream flows.

The state fish and game department is valuable. The Slaughter House creek project clearly, according to Governor Davis, after conservation officer for this area. If it proves a success similar projects will be encouraged throughout the state. YOSS wants to see the Junior fishermen keep on fishing and the city keeps on fishing. Look news there is too little sport now.
