Yank Force Nears City After Capture Of Ste. Mere Eglise

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 9 (AP)—American troops hammering toward Cherbourg have captured Ste. Mere Eglise, advancing within 18 miles of the strategic port, the Germans conceded today.

Supreme headquarters made no mention of the town, but declared allied forces were making progress in all sectors despite fierce Nazi armored counter-attacks over the green wheatfields and orchards of Normandy.

The German communication conceded the loss of Ste. Mere Eglise, astride one of the main German arteries leading to Cherbourg, saying the Americans were pushing "north and south" from the landing head there.

Then a Berlin broadcast said U. S. troops had advanced a mile beyond the town toward Valognes, 12 miles southeast of the port that would form a great funnel for allied reinforcements and supplies into the battle for France.

American Rear Adm. John Leslie Hall, Jr., on a tour of the beachhead, told correspondents operations were going well, but stressed the necessity of quickly building up our forces.

At least 1,500 Nazi prisoners have been taken, a field dispatch today said. Americans had captured 600, including German soldiers and Poles.

City Occupied
Dunkirk, which occupied Fortin, one of the main German strongholds, a field dispatch said. For many, one of the towns identified as being captured when the U. S. troops moved north of Bayeux, and three miles inland.

Berlin broadcasts reported that fighting in Caen, and an allied push toward the city, had been reported.

West, and 20 miles from Cherbourg. Supreme headquarters gave no comment on the news, but declared the steadily-advancing front was under counter-attacks of increasing weight and "making progress" on all sectors.

Front dispatches said the battle was developing into a rare for supply, and it looks as if the allies are winning. There was a freshening breeze over the misty English channel after a hampering overnight rain.

The Germans railed up more tanks, dropped parachute troops, and sent some supplies charging to the front behind lines.

Pincer Movement
The Germans took the mention of parachute troops earlier reported handed on the west coast 20 miles from the front, but they were sent to pinch off the tip of the peninsula.

Ten German divisions now are engaged, supreme headquarters said, while the Germans set up to the allied divisions had been thrown in.

The allied command was silent on the battle for a few days. A 600,000 population, Caen was declared as a pivot of German defenses.

The Germans said the allied pincer movement, five miles below the six miles west of fallen Bayeux, and said allied beachheads had been struck.

One front dispatch said American troops had been sent to the front.

German Forces in Full Flight on Italy Front

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, June 9 (UP)—Germany's armies were in full retreat across the Italian peninsula from the Adriatic to the Tyrrhenian sea, almost 50 miles above Rome today, but front dispatches indicated the Nazi high command was struggling to reorganize and turn on the pursuing allies.

Waves of allied bombers and fighters downed German troops and transport columns today and returning pilots said units of the retreating Nazi 14th army had reached a point north and west of Lake Bolsena, more than 60 miles north of Rome.

Allied reconnaissance revealed that the Nazis, despite a great part of their transport by savage allied strafing, were commandeering farm carts and horses in a desperate effort to withdraw their troops and equipment.

The crawling enemy columns provided a little aid for low-flying allied attack planes, and pilots reported to have downed at least 60 trucks and cars and 60 troop-picked farm carts were destroyed today. More than 100 railway cars were damaged.

Nevertheless, the Nazis were slowing the rate of their retreat and trying to reassemble their battle groups for further delaying tactics.

Reports from German planes indicated the man was attempting to stage a counter-demonstration against the allied forces.

He had just stepped out on a palace balcony to wave to some 5,000 royalist demonstrators gathered in the Piazza Quirinale when the revolution broke out.

Yanks Complete First France Landing Field

WITH ADVANCED NINTH AIR FORCE UNIT IN FRANCE, June 8 (Delayed)—U. S. ninth air force engineers have completed the first American emergency landing strip in France.

Ninth air force engineers arrived in France with early invasion waves, landed on the beach with one group from an LVT only four and one-half hours after the initial assault.

By sundown of the first day, the emergency strip had been laid out.

This is the same engineering outfit that has been building airfield after airfield in Britain during the last two years to keep pace with the mounting number of planes being poured on that "fixed aircraft carrier."

Concentrated mortar fire from enemy batteries met us at the water-line as we waded through hip-deep water. We had to dig foxholes as we waded up a mile of beach under constant bombardment.

Getting away from the beach under fire was only the first step from danger. While the engineers drove the invaders toward the beach, the rest of the force moved inland.

Shells started over the heads of the engineers, who were working on the beach. The shells were aimed at the engineers, who were working on the beach.

ENGINEER FORCES IN FLIGHT FROM ITALY

American units were reported for the first time in the Italian coastal zone, and pushing ahead toward Rome, the major objective on that route, Orbetello, 38 miles to the north.

United States engineers reported received from Civitavecchia disclosed that the coastal zone had been completely wrecked by allied bombers.

Further inland, other allied forces rolled through Capranza, 35 miles northwest of Rome, the east shore of Lake Vico, and 10 miles further east another armored column occupied Civitavecchia and pushed on along highway 2.

Junco Threatened
The twin towns of Junco and Viterbo and the main railway line connecting them from northern Italy.

Other allied units were reported moving in from the north, and around Lake Bracciano, more than a dozen miles behind the fifth army spearhead.

Strong German rear guards opposed the allied advance, but there was no indication that the fifth army was holding the line of retreat.

On the east bank of the Tiber river in the hills east of Rome, the main Italian army continued its slow, fighting withdrawal.

British gain
Advanced British elements captured Palombara, 17 miles northwest of Rome, and pushed on a strong point eight miles to the north of the city.

I DIED TODAY...
WHAT DID YOU DO?

IF WHAT you did for the war effort today was an easy thing to do, it isn't enough. We can not hope to give as much as the boy who gives his life... but we can do our utmost!

For instance, if you have not yet found yourself scheming and figuring on a way to buy extra War Bonds, it's a pretty good sign you aren't buying enough!

When your neighbor calls on you during the 5th War Loan to ask if you'll increase your purchases, say "Yes"... even if it takes a lot of scheming and figuring afterward to pay for them.

That's the way our men are doing their part... in the Pacific, in Italy, in England. Ordered to attack, they do not first consult themselves to determine whether it's safe or convenient or comfortable. They're thinking of you at home. To protect you, they attack first... and figure out how to do it as they go.

Uncle Sam needs your dollars to finance this war and he needs them now! Not just the dollars you can earn, but every dollar you can earn that you don't absolutely need for food, shelter, clothing and the operation of the farm.

War Bonds savings mean more to the average farmer or rancher than to almost anyone else. For they form a financial reserve indispensable for the profitable and efficient operation of his business. War Bonds are safe, they pay a good return, they're easy to buy. When they mature, they mean new machinery and equipment, new conveniences for the house, money for the children's schooling, funds for retirement.

The next time you pick up your paper or listen to the radio news, have a conference with yourself "Am I doing as much as I can to help win this war? Am I matching what I can do with what the boys are doing over there? Am I investing every possible dollar in War Bonds today to make my future and my family's future more secure?"

Most of us haven't yet begun to do our best. Uncle Sam needs it now! BUY MORE THAN BEFORE in the 5th War Loan!

5 REASONS FOR INCREASING YOUR WAR BOND PURCHASES

1. The tempo of this war is hitting its highest point. Government expenditures for war are at the peak. MORE MONEY IS NEEDED... NOW!
2. In proportion to WHO HAS THE MOST MONEY, individuals are not buying their share of War Bonds. America must correct this situation.
3. War Bonds provide the farmer and rancher with the financial reserve he must have to survive the ordinary ups and downs of farming as a business.
4. Money will be needed urgently at a future date to replace and repair farm equipment, machinery, and buildings. War Bonds will provide it.
5. War Bonds are the safest investment in the world, return a good rate of interest, are easy and convenient to buy... from bank, post office, rural mail carrier or Production Credit Association.

Admiral Praises France Invasion

NEW YORK, June 2. (P)—Adm. Harold Raynsford Stark, commander of U. S. naval forces in European waters, tonight praised the successful landing of allied troops in France but added: "I do not wish even for a single moment to convey the impression that we have anything like easy sailing."

Speaking on the March of Time program over the NBC network, he declared:

"The toughness of the days immediately ahead and of the days beyond must not be minimized. Our combined navies and merchant navies are providing a bridge to France—a bridge from a free world to a world in bondage. Across this bridge an army of liberation is streaming at this moment. We have gained a foothold. We have won the first round."

Religious Music History Entertains Presbyterians

Developing the theme, "The part that music plays in expressing religious thought," members of the program committee of the Women's Council of the Presbyterian church presented an outstanding musical program at the monthly meeting of the organization Thursday afternoon at the Phillips. The program was introduced by Mrs. Hugh Phillips, member of the committee which was headed by Mrs. William Scott. Mrs. Reese M. Williams, first vice-president, presided at the business meeting and with Mrs. G. L. Clark, presided at the face-covered table during the social hour following the entertaining program.

Mrs. Scott gave a talk on the connection between music and religion, tracing the development of religious music from earliest days. Her talk was interspersed with examples of the various periods by soloists and a chorus.

Initial solo was sung by Mrs. Thomas Weaver, who offered a hymn melody, followed by Mrs. Scott, who then traced the development of music up to the 18th century. The chorus sang a Ukrainian chant dated from that century.

Members of the chorus included Mrs. W. C. Pierce, Mrs. J. H. Breckenridge, Mrs. L. H. Patterson, Mrs. Anna Williams, Mrs. Lillian Evans, Mrs. Clyde Koser, Mrs. J. B. Nolan, Mrs. Elmer Ross, Mrs. Peavey and Mrs. Gertrude Brown.

Next selection offered by the chorus was an Alleluia by Calvin, followed by a discussion of this century music, when religious music reached its highest development. As an example of the first music of this period, Mrs. Oren Boone sang "I Shall Feed My Flock," from the "Messiah."

Development of hymns up to the 19th century was traced by Mrs. Scott to conclude the program, with final vocal selections by the chorus. Devotional poems were led by Mrs. Ella White.

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

Because of the excellent record for the unusual age of delinquency, there is a trend toward care of children in the hands of the state. It is never in all my years of experience have I known it to do anything for a child, but to encourage and embitter him.

What I mean is, and most people believe, mean by corporal punishment is a whipping, a beating, something that I have neither sympathy nor understanding. I can see that it may be necessary now and again, very seldom, to whip a child who is bent on doing something that will injure him or herself.

A smart slap on his seat will check him and do him no harm. But that is not the sort of child who needs treatment that is meant by the usual term corporal punishment.

Beating Is No Cure

The children who are sentenced to such punishment are usually those in early adolescence. They can be very troublesome, most annoying and dangerous in their behavior at times. But beating them will not help them to think in character, to judge more correctly and to act more intelligently. Intelligent action is what we will want to express and a beating does not stimulate his intelligence. Quite the contrary.

Mrs. E. M. Snodgrass is in charge of the program, while Mrs. Edna Henry is in charge of lunch and plans. Mrs. Guy F. Sturgeon is president of the club for next year.

Intersectional Contests Will Return to Fall Grid Programs

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Intersectional football games, glimmering glimmers of the pre-war schedules, are making a return appearance this fall.

The cross-country type of grid contest went into a two-year hibernation following Pearl Harbor but now a definite comeback is being made.

Prima, Princeton, however, is unique in that the Quakers will have their home games all season. Duke comes to Plunklin from Oct. 11 and Michigan will have the same game on Nov. 11.

Many of the fall schedules put in in Boston for a single with Dartmouth on Oct. 11 in Baltimore for the navy game on Nov. 4 in New York City. For army and Air Corps the game will be on Oct. 27 in New York City.

Army and Duke collide in a New York City stadium on Oct. 27. No all the traveling will be confined to the eastern sector. Texas Christian comes north to Kansas City for a game on Sept. 23.

Tulsa, a participant in the last two Sugar Bowl games, is co-opponent of Mississippi University in Memphis on Oct. 23 and host to the Iowa Hawkeyes Nov. 4.

To Parris Island Marine Base

Many of the athletes who gave the University of Michigan a great football team last year were transferred to Parris Island, S. C., following the transfer of the University of Michigan to the Marine Corps base at Parris Island, S. C., as announced Thursday. The shift will be made following semester examinations here in the next fortnight.

Local Grid Star at Michigan Transferred to Marine Base

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 9 (AP)—The transfer of Elroy (Curly) Leroy Hitchcock, 25, another University of Michigan athlete to the marine corps base at Parris Island, S. C., was announced Thursday. The shift will be made following semester examinations here in the next fortnight.

Dodgers Down Phillies Twice

BROOKLYN, June 9 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers took both ends of a double header from the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-3 and 8-1, before 11,123 paid admissions.

The double triumph enabled the Dodgers to leap from seventh to fifth place only half a game behind the fourth place New York Giants. The Dodgers were the only team scoring four unearned runs in the night.

Head coach Ned Hanlon, one of the reasons for the team's success in the nightcap, hit the Phillies for six hits while the Dodgers made five of their eight hits off Al Cohnberger in the two innings he worked.

Alvin Karpis hit safely in the opener to extend his hitting streak to 19 games, was stopped in the second.

The second game saw Frenchy Bordaberry of the Dodgers hit his 10th home run in three years of major league baseball.

CINCINNATI, June 9 (AP)—Bucky Walters just missed his third straight shutout against the St. Louis Cardinals last night but the Reds squeaked the game for him on a pair of unearned runs, 2 to 1.

Walters, who blanked the Cardinals in his last two tries against them, threw a scoreless string to 30 innings before the Cardinals scored in the ninth on singles by Debs Garms and Stan Musial and a fly.

The victory was Bucky's ninth against three losses, but Max Lerner outpitched him in the early innings. Lerner, seven before he was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

Two errors by Eddie Rector and Bill Zuber helped the Reds in their path of runs in the sixth inning. The infielders were slow to get to the ball after Rector's error.

Walters came back to second base after a relief and then pitched three more innings. Walters went to third on a hit by Stan Musial in the ninth.

Pardee's Homer in 9th Beats Yankees, 8 to 7

BOSTON, June 9 (AP)—Just as darkness threatened to enforce a deadlock, Catcher Roy Pardee punched out his first homer of the season in the ninth inning to give the Boston Red Sox an 8-7 win over the slumping New York Yankees in a twilight engagement.

While going down to the ninth defeat in their last 11 starts, the Yankees wiped out 6-0 and 7-0 leads, only to be held in check by the veteran Mike Ryan, who relieved Pudge Woods on the Boston mound with men out in the fourth frame.

The Sox scored five runs in the ninth on a double by Pardee, an error and three bases on balls. The Yankees scored in the first two innings.

HIT THE RIVET, SISTER

By Ann Pendleton

The real-life adventure of a society girl who goes to work in a war plant.

IT'S A SMALL WORLD

Curious are the ramifications of coincidence's well known arm. It is a lamentable thing, but I have never got over an unfortunate accident for making a casual remark to a friend. It was only a few days or weeks to explain away. For example, the time when, after drilling out the fifth count-attive had rivet out five, my sister wrote up the plans, drop them in the "Suggestion" box, and get the big hand award. There are drill-motors that run, not by electricity but by air pressure, as our machine, operated on the railroad, had originally. It was in the third, F-2-2-2-2-2 drill it out. I was working with Kitty and with a new comrade unfamiliar with my mental lapses. She looked at me in bewilderment. Looked at Kitty, and back down the line of the machine. Looked back again at me. "But how could it be done?" she asked curiously.

I explained, eventually that I seemed to be nervous. That I should have known what the machine would do. Why, then, did I do it?

And there was she then I declared that my great ambition was to get fired.

We were working together, Kitty and I, and I was in a daze. "Oh, to be anywhere else" sort of mood. Things had gone wrong for the past hour. Kitty had said, as one might say that perhaps the machine would fall, that if we were on like this we'd both get fired. "Oh, wouldn't it be heaven?" I exclaimed. It had been too much even for Kitty, who was accustomed to me. And when it had been overheard, directly, to revealing of a somewhat unbalanced mentality, had been repeated up and down the line. That it was making its way up the ladder from headman to foreman to "super" I did not realize. What lay behind the summer I could not imagine when, coming in to work one afternoon, I was told to report to personnel.

Perhaps they had thought to see, unhealthily an attitude of indignation that I must be an enemy agent, whatever the reason, personnel had looked up my records. They had made the discovery that I could read blueprints, that I had once known something of mathematics, that I was a wonderful thing, a college graduate. How I had slipped through their fingers, personnel could not understand. With all that, I was to be working in the shop! No wonder, said personnel, I was disabled!

This took a little clearing up. It was all a mistake, I declared. I was quite content. A splendid attitude, personnel said, splendid, and showing a very fine patriotism. But hadn't I sometimes felt that there were fields in which I could be more useful? Had I thought of all of going into drafting?

In a rush and a happy torrent the plan was laid before me. Had I read in the plant paper that Kitty had been picking candidates and sending them, all expenses paid, to a technical school, there to take an intensive two months' course? I didn't, I said modestly, think

JURIST OUTLINES AXIS JUDGMENT

By GENE HANDSAKER
TWIN FALLS, June 9.—For the solution to the problem of how to deal with the beaten axis, a California federal judge offers that of wise simplicity. That is, to the law books, and make the punishment fit the crime on the basis of American justice.

Offering the suggestion is U. S. District Judge J. P. O'Connor, former commissioner of the currency and presiding judge at the recent Mann act trial of film comedian Charlie Chaplin.

He made his first public statement on the proposal at a dinner here last evening, elaborating on it recently he said the application of American law would decide this course.

1. Make no treaty at the end of hostilities, Germany and Japan, he declares, would not keep a treaty. Germany wrangled out of the Versailles treaty of 1919, and Japan stands the "distinctive inequity" of Pearl Harbor treachery.

"If you were going away for the summer, would you want to leave a house to somebody you know might come and leave you out of it? You would not want to leave a house to somebody who might come and leave you out of it?"

"These nations are criminals. Put them on probation for a number of years, just as you would a criminal in one of our courts until they have established to the satisfaction of the world that they are worthy of membership in a civilized society."

2. Establish courts of justice in every invaded country, big or little, according to the laws of the country.

"If a man kills somebody on a Los Angeles street and runs away, what happens? Why, we bring him back here where the law was committed and try him for murder."

"Let's bring back those Germans to Ladder, where they lived up to that time and saw and were guilty of nothing more than enjoying the sunshine that God gave them."

3. Keep the axis armies in invaded countries to rebuild, under the supervision of allied military units, every road, harbor and building they have destroyed. Repair larger and better roads, harbors and buildings if they need be.

"Suppose an old couple in our country has the misfortune to hit a pedestrian with their car. They may say it will take our whole life savings to pay the damages, but the judge, however sympathetic, must require them to pay."

"So when our enemies say, 'This will go in slavery and our country will be the equality of our country,' remember that old couple. Let's either repair our laws or enforce them over there."

Judge O'Connor wants a United Nations commission appointed to deal with immediate postwar problems—deviations, civilian governments, food and medicine.

Finally Judge O'Connor, who has his fingers serving in this war, wants some sort of international organization to prevent future conflicts. Otherwise, he says—

"Appropriate music for the greatest standing army and the biggest fleet the world has ever seen, and tell every school boy: 'Get ready, young fellow; you probably will be the equality of the next war which will be here in 25 or 30 years.'"

GERMANY TAUGHT TO DESPISE U. S.

By LARRY ALLEN
NEW YORK, June 9.—In the afternoon, day and night hatred of the American people is the order of the day in Germany. Here groves and radio point it into the war-torn brains of the German people constantly.

Leading the campaign is Robert Ley, chief spokesman for Hitler. Let's job as chief of the labor front is to keep every able hand working for the war machine. But he traveled over all Germany with his cry of hate and blazes it daily in the Berlin newspaper, "Der Angriff."

Typical Trade
This is typical:
"Hotel! Hotel! Hotel! Every German must hate the Americans, the murderers, the assassins who come from the center of world Jewry and capitalism—the United States of America."

"The intelligencers murder your women and children, they destroy your homes."

"In this war, there can be no compromise with these half-breed Americans who come across the sea to die in a war that does not concern them."

Hummer is Reichminister Alfred Rosenberg, who travels from the Baltic countries to Romania. Recently, before a capacity audience in Prague, he said:

"There is more culture in the German army of a German present than in all of the United States. Sneer at culture."

"Americans are the bloodiest savages on culture and freedom the world has ever known. They are great and powerful, they live on sex, and propagate a cross-section of the world's worst examples of humanism."

"The average German thinks Americans are 'soft' because they feed on cream and good food and eat potatoes of war."

German prisoners released from the United States frequently told that American food was "superior" and treat them as guests.

Under Nazi Rule
"You," a German prison camp official told me, "are a prisoner of war. You are subject to the same German military control. This isn't Hollywood—out what we give you or go without anything. German prisoners soldiers. Here everyone works. In America, everyone plays and hopes the war will go on for a long time so everyone will make more money."

"To us, this war is life or death. For us, this is just a game. It is just another episode in a Hollywood film, and of course, as long as your prison camp officials treat Germans as guests, they accept it. But secretly they think you Americans are soft and foolish."

DETAIL FOR TODAY

Bedsore
If a private is found at more than frequent intervals reclining peacefully on his bunk, he is immediately dubbed BEDSORE, for obvious reasons. BEDSORES take advantage of every opportunity, stretched out on a bed. They are the first to strike at night and it usually takes a miniature earthquake to get them up in the dawn's early light. When a soldier is found in a bed, he is taken into the ground. He will be the last to see the sun and the last to see the stars. In this is considered a successful feat.

Help Send a Man to the United States Senate For Idaho Who Has Direct and Personal Understanding of the Problems of Agriculture, Business and Government

VOTE FOR Ben
Johnson
FOR NOMINATION FOR
U. S. Senate
ON YOUR
Republican Ballot
PRIMARIES JUNE 13

Idaho is on the very threshold of great opportunity. When the war is over and this state's tremendous agricultural and livestock resources may be devoted once again wholly to uses of peace, we shall need in the United States senate a young, vigorous, progressive fighter, who intimately understands the problems which western agriculture must contend with. Such a man is Ben Johnson of Preston.

Ben Johnson is a native of Idaho with a remarkable record of personal success and civic service. He is unspooled by any allegiance to any group or individual and is completely free to devote himself utterly and completely to the best interests of the state of Idaho. He combines the necessary qualifications of legal training, and actual business and agriculture experience. And he has the additional qualification of a fresh, up-to-date outlook on the larger issues of the day. He is in the very prime of his usefulness to his state, and he is a man whose presence will be noted in the national capital.

This state is approaching a turning point at which it can go forward or stand still. One of the first necessities for going forward is representation in the senate by a man such as Ben Johnson, whose viewpoint is forward looking and who has the will and the capacity to work hard for his state and nation.

CAST YOUR VOTE FOR RETURN TO CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT

CAST YOUR VOTE ON JUNE 13 FOR BEN JOHNSON who has long advocated that the American way is the way of a constitutional government . . . by laws instead of decrees. CAST YOUR VOTE for a man who believes sincerely that the States were given certain inalienable rights and who will work to recapture those rights which have been taken from them by federal fiat. CAST YOUR VOTE for a man whose word is reliable. CAST YOUR VOTE for a man who recognizes that the world has changed and that new methods must be applied to old problems, but who believes that the framework of our constitutional government permits America to reach new heights of glory without resorting to foreign methods and ideologies. CAST YOUR VOTE to give Idaho a clear, vigorous voice in the senate for human and individual rights, for freedom and for opportunity for work, thrift, honesty, and faith in the American way.

He will be paid by the American people as their servant, and their interests will be his paramount thought at all times. And in dealing with foreign powers, the American people's interest must always come first.
