Yanks Drive Toward West Coast In New Attack to Divide Norman Peninsula; Nazi Lines Give Way

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Sunday, June 18 (AP)—The U. S. ninth division, which shattered the Germans at Bizerte in Tunisia, teamed up yesterday with the 82nd airborne division in a powerful break-through of German lines which put the Americans on high ground only four miles from the west coast and virtually cut in two the Cherbourg peninsula.

Thousands of German troops were on the verge of being trapped inside Cherbourg port, 18 miles north of the corridor driven west of captured St. Sauveur, said a front dispatch from Don Whitehead, Associated Press correspondent. The west coast road was under American artillery bombardment.

Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, ground commander who led the Americans to their triumph at Bizerte in May, 1943, was directing the swift break-through which had rolled to within a mile of St. Lo-D'Ouville on the west coast road—last possible German escape route out of Cherbourg.

Some front dispatches said the Germans were fleeing southward to escape the American trap, but General Bradley earlier had predicted a last-ditch German stand in Cherbourg, whose harbor is vital to the allies in order to hasten supplies and reinforcements. German troops were making a scrap for the west coast of that Marianna island, 1,500 miles from Tokyo.

The beachhead has been pushed inland to a depth of 10 miles and the Yanks have reached the western edge of Aillye Island, a 2,000 ft. high ridge.

Planes Destroyed
United States military planes destroyed the bulk of 500 soldiers on the ground at St. Lo, on the northwest tip of the new Guinean, Gu. Douglas MacArthur reported today. Exceeding lightness also in the southwest Pacific have been knocked out.

Guam, 1200 miles to the north-east, was heavily bombed by the ships and cruisers spearheading the central Pacific drive toward the China coast. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said the Japanese fleet was yesterday did not disclose the results. Both actions occurred Friday local time.

The bombardment was a possible prelude to a second invasion of the island of Saipan, which the Marines and infantrymen fought for Aillye Island on nearby Saipan. The island is a key to the Philippines. The southwest Asia took two significant steps toward repelling the Burma road to China.

Hit by Warships
Guns of warships, fleet artillery and carrier planes combined to knock big holes in the batteries of mortars the Japanese are relying on to hold back the American troops drove toward the airfield through stubbornly resisting Japanese.

Behind them was an small captured field and the ruins of a low town in ruins. A long, slow fight for Saipan is under way.

Capture of Aillye would give the Americans one of the oldest airfields in the world and one of the closest bases to the China coast. Japanese columns, trying to cut off American air bases in eastern China, are being repelled.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

PROSPERITY—Entrance of the war into its actual phase—the conquest of Europe—has stimulated private and public enterprise in a positive manner.

designed to maintain "full employment," although no one has yet defined that term.

Military men have given off-the-record warnings of the danger of overprints for cancellation of huge contracts affecting shipping and aviation.

But no practical or specific plan has been evolved, and the widespread discharge of the liberator plan revealed.

The Bureau-Hancock report has never received White House approval, and it is still kicking around in Capitol Hill.

Somebody has adequately explained how fifty million industrial employees can be kept on their jobs.

STAGGERING—Here is a single dramatic example of the difficulties we will face when Hitler has been driven out of his main business.

The government has built a $200,000,000 plant in Detroit for Chrysler to make tanks.

As IFPC chairman, Jesse H. Jones advanced the money for this and many similar projects.

When it is realized that Washington has invested $100,000,000 in the automobile industry.

BLAME—Indiscretions look toward the future with foreboding. They begin to approach their direst.

They have suddenly awakened to the realization that FDR has dumped this appalling problem right in their laps.

JOHN—Industry leaders, while belatedly, its prospective dilemma. Its spokesmen have begun to deny the generally accepted dogma that it is their duty to provide work.

Joe—"I've worked an hour. I demand a dollar. High wages start the wheels going, you know."

Joe—"Right, Joe. Here's your coffee pot. Mrs. Bargain Hunter—Don't care any more about Joe's time. Coffee pots aren't worth a cent more than 75c. I'll keep my money."

Joe—"Sorry, Joe. You'd better accept a 75c wage. No order means no job, and we must get started."

Joe—"The hell I will. You said high wages get business going. You're nuts! A buck or I quit."

Joe—"Now where are we? Oh, I have it. Guess we do need Grandpa, the investor, after all. Grandpa, you invest your money for our business. Then we can pay a dollar for making the coffee pot, and we can sell it to Mrs. Bargain Hunter for 75c."

Grandpa—"Oh, yeah! I'll keep my money for the coffee bowl."

Joe—"Come, come, now, folks. You're not cooperating. This is all planned for your common good."

Joe—"Bedlam breaks loose—'I'll strike'—'I won't buy'—'I refuse to invest'—'We'll strike monopoly'—'Free enterprise is a failure'—'The frontiers are gone'."

Joe—"I know what's wrong. The money isn't being put into the business. I'll get WPA started again and government officials to prime the pump. Only a few Shuffles can handle this."

Joe—"With my money, I'll still, a little business man finally gets the floor—I think I can solve your problem. All my life my customers have demanded bargains, labor has demanded work, and my stockholders a dividend. And they should. That's just human nature."

Joe—"No what?"

HOW THE APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S SAGLE

NEW YORK—Always a champion of unpopular and losing causes, Pegler, in the interests of his own country and his own people, undertakes to show to those who have something to offer.

It is almost hard to say that it is all immigrants and refugees enabled by their sufferings abroad, but there is nevertheless much to be gained from the study of the geographical data to prove that many who came here for asylum from European tyranny did not join the nation's cause.

This nation has immigration laws adopted for the purpose of excluding undesirable persons. These laws have been administered in a very strict manner.

Nevertheless, even this generosity has been flouted upon in recent years by the admission of individuals in the guise of visitors who have been allowed to remain in the country.

Obviously the first 1,000 are to be just a sample because 1,000 refugees, make no appreciable difference in the number of the nation's population.

OUR "PLANNED" FUTURE

Foring over detailed reports of the annual meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers association, held in New York recently, we came upon a talk by Frederick C. Crawford, president of Thompson Products, Inc.

We think his picture of a reporter going out to discover the secret of wealth after the war is the pay-off. Here is how he "opened the window" into the bright new future planned by the bureaucrats:

"The American people are assembled and a 'planner' is speaking:

"A bright new future is ahead—we have planned it that way. When the bells ring the war will be over—then we are at it. While the delegate rise and state his name and demands."

"A young man in work clothes rises—'I'm Joe Hunter, I represent labor. I demand a job and high wage. High wages are purchasing power. That's what we need.'"

"A motherly-looking woman gets up—'I'm Mrs. Bargain Hunter. I represent all consumers. We demand a lower cost of living.'"

"The white-haired old man rises—'I'm Grandpa Workhard N-Save. I represent all investors. I tolled and sacrificed and saved a little nest egg. I want at least an even dollar to invest for a profit to take care of me in my old age.'"

"Then the bell rang—in the happy new planned future.

"Mr. Planner goes into action—'Ring your card, Joe, and start putting in your time. Let's get going!'"

"Joe—'Fine. But what do you want me to work on?'"

"Planner—'Let's see. I have it! Let's ask Mrs. Bargain Hunter what she wants so we can make a profit for her.'"

"Mrs. Hunter—'I want a coffee pot with a wooden handle.'"

"Planner—'Okay, Joe. There's your order.' (An hour passes while Joe makes the coffee pot.)"

"Planner—'Fine, Joe. Nice piece of workmanship. How much?'"

"Joe—'I've worked an hour. I demand a dollar. High wages start the wheels going, you know.'"

"Planner—'Right, Joe. Here's your coffee pot. Mrs. Bargain Hunter—Don't care any more about Joe's time. Coffee pots aren't worth a cent more than 75c. I'll keep my money.'"

"Planner—'Sorry, Joe. You'd better accept a 75c wage. No order means no job, and we must get started.'"

"Joe—'The hell I will. You said high wages get business going. You're nuts! A buck or I quit.'"

TRUCK DRIVERS VOTE TO STRIKE

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—More than 20,000 over-the-road truck drivers in eight midwestern states will strike July 1, the Central States Drivers council of the A.F. of L. teamsters union announced today.

The strike date was set by the executive board of the council after the drivers voted overwhelmingly in favor of a walkout in balloting throughout the area last weekend.

Dexter Lewis, director of the council, said the strike would tie up inter-city truck shipments in the area immediately after it began and would affect 200,000 truckers within a few days. It probably will extend to states outside of the region, he said.

The strike was authorized for the 12-state region covered by the council, Lewis said, but will be called only in the eight western states in its initial phase.

The strike was a result of the failure of 12 major trucking organizations in the 12 states to comply with a war labor board directive of last Feb. 7 which granted the drivers a 12 per cent wage increase. Lewis said, and will be called off if the wage increase is not granted.

Midwest Operators' association, which represents the operators, agrees to comply with the order. The operators had announced their intention to defy the order, which gave the drivers a seven-cent hourly increase.

The strike will begin in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, the Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas, Lewis said, and another 20,000 drivers in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan will be affected within a week.

He said, shipments passing through these states either will be rerouted or halted.

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

Usually we speak of the physically-handicapped children when we use this term but we should include those who are socially handicapped as well. But though it is, we must remember that there are many children in this country, and not a few, who are handicapped by their own faults and the atmosphere of unliking people. Out of this group of children, many of them are self-deficient and should make the greatest effort to improve in their own children of their burden of self.

As far back as 1929, Commissioner William J. Zilla presented a bill of rights for these children at the World House Conference in Vinland Training School of New Jersey. In my experience, the best school for training feeble-minded children in this world has remained the one that I am proud to call because of its great need today. Our delinquency rate is rising and we are to be doing very much to reduce it. Please read and publish this bit of information for educational policy.

Bill of Rights
"The Handicapped Child has a right:
1. To be regarded as a human being with a human mind.
2. To an education adapted to his handicap.
3. To be treated as a person, not a case.

CIO WILL SET UP POLITICAL GROUP

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The CIO political action committee revealed plans today for establishing a new national political organization which will take a more direct part in the 1944 campaign than the PAC could be permitted under the Smith-Connally law.

The plans were disclosed at a national conference of 300 representatives from CIO and affiliates. The program calls for establishment of a new committee—called the CIO Political Action Committee—which will include members outside the CIO to accept and spend voluntary political contributions from individuals.

The CIO expects the new committee will campaign for the re-election of President Roosevelt and Vice-President Henry Wallace, who were endorsed by the conference yesterday when it adopted a platform for the 1944 campaign.

Union Donations Halted
Because the Smith-Connally act forbids labor unions to contribute directly to political campaigns, the committee will accept no union donations. Hence, CIO leaders said, the new committee may contribute directly to the Democratic national committee or individual candidates, subject to the limitation on amounts set in the Hatch act and corrupt practices act.

David J. MacDonald, CIO member and secretary-treasurer of the United Steel Workers, told the conference.

"We recognized from the beginning that certain political activities in connection with the election could not be financed by funds contributed from union treasurers. We recognized also that our movement was finally established. It would become desirable to seek financial support through voluntary contributions from both the membership of the CIO and from all other progressive Americans who support our program."

To Broaden Scope
"Therefore, we propose to broaden the scope of the work which is being carried on. To secure the broadest possible participation in it and to secure strictest compliance with the letter and spirit of federal law, a new committee is now in process of organization. This committee will be known as the national political action committee, or by some similar name. It will be composed of a number of the leaders of CIO and outstanding progressive Americans outside of labor's ranks."

MacDonald said each of the 300,000 CIO members would be asked to contribute $1 to the new organization, with 50 cents to be used locally and 50 cents going to the national committee.

The PAC will continue functioning, apparently limiting its activity to additional registration drives and "educational" work on the campaign stage.

Under the Hatch act, the new committee's total spending would be limited to $5,000,000 and the maximum individual contribution it could receive would be $5,000.

Former Resident Has 3 New War Songs Published

Three songs of World War II, composed by John G. Friedman, of Twin Falls, Idaho, a former Twin Falls musician, were released by the publishers almost simultaneously yesterday, and copies of the sheet music are now obtainable locally.

Both the words and music are the work of Friedman, a son of Mrs. Friedman, 122 North 2nd street, north, whom he visits each summer. Titles of the songs are "Jehel is the Bell of the Canyon," "Yankee Doodle's Goin' to Town (That Ain't No Joke)," and "We'll Make Them Cry 'Uncle' to Uncle Sam." All have catchy easy-to-sing lyrics and pleasing rhythms. The cover designs are attractively done in red, white and blue.

Friedman came to Twin Falls from Milwaukee in 1908, and was graduated from high school here in 1920. Both the elementary grades and high school classes were held in the public school at that time. Later Friedman conducted the Pius and Blaise choruses, and played for theaters, dance halls and for private parties.

"Flowers" and "Shells," as the flaming lyrics of the postwar era following World War I, were Friedman's dance numbers which he composed for orchestras in the early '20s. In addition to orchestra direction, he also taught violin. He went with the Idaho state militia to the Mexican border in 1916, and served with the army during World War I in 1917-18.

He moved to Savannah in 1925, and has continued his musical pursuits in the south.

Navy Crew to Demonstrate Link Trainer

WAVES Lillian Baker, Seattle, seated in the cockpit of the airplane instrument instruction device, and Hannah Barnes, Blackfoot, standing alongside, took over the radio range map with Aviation Chief Macintosh's aid. The Link Trainer will be on display at the Link Trainer in actual operation here for the first time. The display will be open in the public test room of the Idaho power company office in Twin Falls four days, June 17-20. Free rides will be offered to persons 18 years of age or older in the device which is used to teach pilots instrument flying without leaving the ground. (U. S. navy photo)

Hours Set for 4-Day Showing Of Link Trainer Here by Navy

Fights in France

What is termed the top Navy attraction ever brought to Twin Falls—a Link Trainer in actual operation—will be on display Wednesday next at the Idaho Power office, 104 Main avenue, south, it was announced yesterday.

The show will continue through Saturday from 10 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. daily. State airplane rides, without leaving the ground will be offered to persons 18 years of age or older during the demonstration.

All But Flying
A Link Trainer is an electrically operated machine that looks like a miniature airplane and will do everything a real plane does—fly. Complete with noisy cockpit, stick and radio controls and all the instruments found in a real plane, the Link Trainer is used to teach navy pilots "instrument flying." The trainer is so named because it was invented by Edward Link.

The public is invited by the navy to watch the device in operation and, if they wish, to ask the WAVES on duty for a "hop" in the trainer and an opportunity to handle the controls personally. Although they were plotting a plane.

The display presently is in operation in Boise where it has attracted such crowds that it has threatened to be extended a week.

WAVES Hannah Marie Barnes, Blackfoot, Ida, and Lillian Baker, Seattle, who have been in the navy more than a year, will come here from the naval air station at Seattle to operate the trainer. They are Link instructors at Seattle, teaching navy pilots instrument flying and radio procedure.
