

ONLY 2 MORE DAYS TO SHOP FOR 4th NECESSITIES

NOTE: Our Store Will Be Closed All Day Both Monday and Tuesday, JULY 3rd and 4th

NON-RATIONED PLAY SHOES

REDUCED

THE SLING

Very flattering! Brown mixture. Sizes 4 to 9. Reg. $3.99

$3.27

OPEN TOE TIE

Smooth with laces! Red, Blue, Green, Army Russet. Sizes 4 to 9. Reg. $3.99

$3.27

SCAMPEROO

An ultra smart open toe sling pump with tailored bow. Sizes 4 to 8. Natural. Reg. $2.99

$2.47

SAMBA

A mighty substantial little play shoe with leather uppers and leather soles and trick tie. Natural. Sizes 4 to 8.

$2.98

COOL SLIPS

$1.00

Tailored satin slips, size 34 to 40. Teanose only.

PAJAMAS

$1.98

Floral print cotton pajamas. Butcher boy style. Ric Rac trim. Sizes 34 to 40.

PRINT GOWNS

Rayon crepe gowns. Striking floral prints in Blue, Teanose and white. Sizes 34 to 40. Lace and fagotting trim. $2.98

RAYON PANTIES

Elastic back striped rayon panties. Brief style. Teanose in sizes medium and large. 39c

Millay BARELEG HOSIERY

Now in Sizes

8 1/2 to 10 1/2

64c

Just as nature intended... that neat, trim look without troublesome seams to bother. They give that bareleg look to us who are not quite addicted to the stock-ingless vogue.

Colorful, gay ANKLETS

Choose yours for Summer Comfort

29c - 39c

Here's a grand group of anklets... Striped-up cuffs, links and links in sturdy, long-wearing anklets.

Fun in the sun! PLAY SUITS

Look your prettiest in these play suits $4.98

Seersucker or printed floral sateen play suits... so bright and so pretty, they'll double for dress! Sizes 10 to 16 in two-piece florals. Coat or pinafore styles in seersucker, 10 to 18.

Summer Toiletries

"Dorothy Gray" BEACH OIL

Made on a vegetable oil base, permits even tanning and counteracts burning. $1.00

Dorothy Gray "LEG SHOW"

To tint legs, simulate sun tan and give legs attractive, sheer, even tone like fine hosiery. $1.00

Chen Yu NAIL LACQUER

Chen Yu brings to your nails the rare color—charm and lustre of the most precious lacquers. 75c

TUSSY LIPSTICK

A new shipment just arrived. In four of the season's most popular shades. $1.00

"TRU AMERICAN" HAND LOTION

Large size. 25c

Hinds
Honey and Almond Cream
Regular $1.00
size 59c

ALL WEATHER COLOGNE

$1

Jergens Lotion
39c and 79c

"Arrid" Deodorant
39c

All Toiletries Subject to Federal Tax

SLACK SUITS

$10.95 and $12.95

Choose for summer wear from this big selection. Brown, blue, tan, beige, gold, red, green, rust in rayon and cotton gaberdine, seersucker or strutter cloth.

Cotton and Rayon BLOUSES

Either prints or plains, frilly or tailored. Grand costume stretchers for summer months.

1.98 to 3.50

For the small fry's 4th DENIM O'ALLS

Sizes 2 to 6 in this selection 98c

Real value in these sturdy little overalls with adjustable suspenders, clever pocket details and contrasting tape trim.

GIRLS' DENIM SLACKS

Sizes 6 to 16 in duty denims—sturdily constructed... full cut and comfortable. They'll give satisfaction the entire summer. $1.98

GIRLS' DENIM SHORTS

Sizes 7 to 14. Neatly tailored... of good quality denim. Cut full for comfort. Navy blue. Cool, comfortable and always neat! $1.29

GIRLS' POLO SHIRTS

Sizes 7 to 14. Wear them with Levi's, slacks, shorts and skirts. Gay striped shirts of fine cotton knit. Buy several for summer's wear. $1.29

HALTER BRA

Rayon crepe and novelty cotton halter "bras." Pastel shades and white. $1.00

WHITE GLOVES

Smart new styles in white fabric gloves. Tailored styles with novelty stitching. Sizes 6 1/2 to 8. $1.00

DURATION LEG-DO

A Sleek Finish For Bare Legs

49c

A small quantity in the palm of your hand... apply upward and around... spreads fast and smoothly. Allow to dry and you have a perfect stocking.

Anderson Co.

TWIN FALLS' POPULAR DEPARTMENT STORE

CARBONA
BLACK WHITE

1 lb. of	16c
Cleans and
polishes.....	19c
Shoe white.
Small size.....	10c

SAIPAN STRUGGLE TOUGH, DIRTY JOB

By MAC R. JOHNSON
Former Times-News Reporter

WITTI U. S. MARINES AT CHATELAIN VILLAGE, Saipan, June 28 (Delayed)—(via navy radio) (U.S.)—The marine major broke off conversation with me as a Jap mortar shell whizzed over the command post.

"It'll hand down there," he said, pointing.

I looked.

It did.

Just as the Japs are dropping them all in about the same area, the major said. "Maybe he's trying to destroy the Jap ammunition dumps."

Then he hollered to four marines unhindered.

"Did you knock him up?" he asked.

The answer was negative.

In American hands

This command post overlooks Magicienne bay. The entire bay is in American hands.

The marines have just finished clearing the Japs out of the cape, which is like a clenched fist from the east side of Saipan island and forms the north shore of the bay.

From tanks, tanks and vehicles move through the burned wreckage of what was once the tiny farming community of Chateau village.

Tanks spearheaded the marine thrust that resulted in the capture of the village. Then the tanks moved forward, combining the open fields, the farmhouses and underbrush on the rocky, high ground for Jap snipers and machine gunners.

Tough job

"It was a tough, dirty job," the major said, "but it was well worth it."

He pointed to the extreme end of the island, where the Japs had dug in with caves near a series of cliffs.

"We had to dig the Japs out of there," he said. "A private told me that the Japs had the Japs on them most of the time. They had to walk right in front of the Japs before they could see the Japs."

In the triangle formed by Mt. Tapachau, Chateau village and the deepest indentation of Magicienne bay is a 20-mile-long island where our front lines are non-existent. Jap snipers fill this little, primitive island. They are like lost on a wood-suit—you can't pick them all off.

An American marine bandaged a wound in a crossing position nearby. He was dead. There were half a dozen Japs dead to the area. This is how they fought to capture the road leading to Chateau village.

Last Rites for Mrs. Naomi Lang

GOODMAN, June 28—Funeral rites were held for Mrs. Naomi Lang at 2 p.m. at the St. Elizabeth's Catholic church with Father James Grady officiating.

Wife of Charles N. Lang, Mr. Lang was born June 2, 1899 at Goodland, Ore. She was married Aug. 2, 1921 at Mountain Home and came to Goodland about 10 years ago from there. She was a member of the St. Elizabeth's church here and of the Royal Neighbors of America at Mountain Home. She died at her home here after a lengthy illness.

Survivors besides her husband, include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Smith, Goodland; a son, Charles N. Lang, Jr., aviation electrician, 3/4 of the way to the daughter, Miss Madeline Lang, Goodland; two grandchildren, the following brothers and sister: Arthur R. Smith, Detroit, Utah; William N. Smith, Walla Walla, Wash.; Mrs. Virginia Beaman, Grand View, Idaho; and the late Mrs. Mary E. Smith, Goodland.

Interment was in Elmwood cemetery. Pall bearers were B. W. Nelson, C. E. Jorgensen, Harry Cannon, Pay Hoyt, Neil Warriner and Jerry Estep.

Rosary was recited for Mrs. Lang Monday evening at the Thompson chapel.

EDEN

Mrs. A. J. Henry returned to her home here from a recent visit in Los Angeles. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loy and son, Dale, who will remain here some time.

Edgar Peria and daughter Alma, Woodland, Wash., called on friends here en route to Woodland from Pontiac, Mich. The Peria family were former residents here living near the Dixon district.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Caswell, visiting their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Caswell, near Caswell, they were accompanied home by a grandson, Herbert, who will spend the week here.

Mrs. Viola Wilson, Ogden, Utah, is a house guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips and her twin sons, Dale and Dick Wilson, and Mrs. D. C. Bates and Mrs. B. A. Lashley and their daughter, Collette, Kan., have returned to their homes after several weeks visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sletten and family.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Peterson, Oakley, were visitors here last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oila Burgeson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shroll, and daughter Charlene, Nampa, were visitors here last week at the C. O. Boise and Gordon Newbury homes. Mr. Shroll is a sister of Mrs. Boise and Mrs. Newbury. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Mary Newbury, Nampa, mother of Mrs. Shroll.

Charles Webb is spending his fortnight here and with his parents in Burley. He was accompanied by Mrs. Webb and small son who have been near him at Camp Bull, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rogers and children, who have been employed for some time on the former Floyd Brown ranch, have moved to Rio to the former Harry Heller ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Moser have moved to Wendover where he will be operator at the O. & S. depot. He has been relieved of his duties for some time and has been replaced by Alex Reels, Kula, Idaho.

Meet Glen Taylor, "Mr. X" of Idaho's Senatorial Race

Whether you're for him or against him, Glen Taylor, the Forcett Democrat who ousted incumbent U. S. Sen. D. Clark Clark, is a mighty factor in Idaho's November election. These pictures, first of a Times-News series on senatorial, congressional and gubernatorial nominees, introduce you to the "Mr. X" of the 1944 campaign, his attractive wife and their two sons. Top left, the Democratic candidate.

Here Mrs. Taylor types the statement for her husband, as the does most of his speeches. The speech, however, is written by Taylor himself. The two sons are Aron, left, and two-year-old Paul, sitting on his father's knee. Photo at right is a close-up of Taylor showing that his actual appearance is far different than the cowboy-hatted picture most Idahoans associate with him as a result of his previous campaigns for the senate. In 1942 he lost to U. S. Sen. John Thomas. Republican, by a narrow margin. Although he supports President Roosevelt, Taylor says emphatically that he will not be a "Rubber-stamp" if elected. (Photos by Joe Bunch-staff engraving)

Scout Camp Will Open on July 15

BURLEY, June 28—Boy Scouts in Burley, Idaho, are looking forward to July 15, the date for the opening of summer camp at Camp Independence, on Mount Independence.

Claude Highman, camp chairman for this district, says that plans are underway for all scout troops to camp with their own tents and equipment. Adult leadership has been arranged. He states, Special events will be a wilderness pack trip in charge of Ray Balmforth, area scout executive.

Jerome Rotarians Hear New Pastor

JEROME, June 28—John T. Maki-Fun was the subject of an entertaining talk by the Rev. Harry Hattner, new Presbyterian minister, who spoke here before members of Jerome Rotary club and the Wood care.

Members of the Rotary club are planning a picnic next party for the evening of July 11. No definite plans have been arranged as yet as to the program.

Col. Robert M. Peterson, former ACA secretary here, was a special guest of the club.

The bellows is a plant.

Sonotone Believes A PERSON WITH IMPAIRED HEARING IS ENTITLED TO:

A Hearing Aid Fitted by a Trained Consultant to Your Needs

No one standard instrument fits all cases. SONOTONE offers hundreds of possible adjustments to fit YOU.

Only Sonotone Gives You All of These Services. So Important to Your Precious Hearing

Mrs. Naomi R. Martin, Consultant, Sonotone of Boise

Regerson Hotel, Tuesday, July 4, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Wednesday, July 5, 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Parade of VALUES

Gamble's Special FELT BASED RUGS $3.98

Like a ray of sunshine a bright floor can make hours of work in your kitchen pleasant. These rugs are time-savers. The polished, gleaming surfaces can be kept spotless. Occasional light mopping will keep your kitchen spotless and span. Many choice patterns. 9 x 12 Size Only

HOLMES PRODUCE

WE PAY CASH for Cream, Fresh Eggs, Park Here—Handy to Shop

222 2nd St. South, Phone 2470

Gamble's

Like a ray of sunshine a bright floor can make hours of work in your kitchen pleasant. These rugs are time-savers. The polished, gleaming surfaces can be kept spotless. Occasional light mopping will keep your kitchen spotless and span. Many choice patterns. 9 x 12 Size Only

GERMANS AID TO FINNS BIG BLUFF

(Editor's note: Hubert Ukkala, United Press staff correspondent at Stockholm, spent several days in Helsinki this week and witnessed the arrival of German troops in the Finnish capital.)

By HUBERT UKKALA
STOCKHOLM, June 29 (U.S.)—Germany's promised military aid to Finland consisted of an impromptu force of second rate soldiers and a collection of dilapidated vehicles and poor equipment.

I just have returned from Helsinki where I saw the German "military" march through the main streets Tuesday night at the same time a communique announced that President Risto Ryti's government had taken Finland's fate to Germany.

If German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, who applied the pressure for Finland's commitment to Germany, thought he was imposing an even more humiliating the Pinnis with the military show, he was mistaken.

No Cheers

There was not a single cheer from the Pinnis as the first several hundred, first leading German, in ill-fitting great uniforms, tramp along, mechanically singing marching songs.

The only equipment of the marching consisted of two dozen broken-down horse drawn vehicles, mostly loaded with hay.

I saw what were supposed to be Soviet troops marching Wednesday morning but I am certain they were the same ones I saw the night before.

The highest estimate of the number of troops sent from Germany and Finland to Finland in Helsinki in 10 days was three divisions, but it likely was more than the complement of two divisions, mostly infantry and some artillery and tank units.

Decision Unpopular

In heated conversations with various Finns I learned the typical crowd reaction from such exclamations as "we are getting" and "the government didn't need to compromise us with the whole world for this."

I probably didn't see everything the Germans shipped into Helsinki. It was true that the sudden influx of warships—mostly light vessels and transports—of little glance appeared large in the harbors.

I actually saw only about 20 tons unloaded. They were small howitzers and heavy anti-tank guns. For no practical purpose they had been shunted back and forth in open ports and harbors during the severe and southern borders to let the people see them.

Infantry Guns

Only a few of the gun carriages had rubber tires which, along with the general inferior appearance of the equipment, made a poor impression.

From what I saw and heard, the entire maneuver was a clumsy bluff, making it the harder to understand why Finland's government accepted Ribbentrop's demands unless it previously had decided to go along with the Germans anyway.

The Maid of Orleans was burned to death in Rouen France, in 1431, following the English conquest of Normandy.

Gamble's TRADING POST

FOR SALE: Brown Walnut table, excellent condition, $19.95.

FOR SALE: Folding iron bed, good condition, $9.95.

FOR SALE: Rust bed with springs, full size, $12.95.

FOR SALE: Universal Cook or Wood Range, $29.95.

FOR SALE: Home Comfort Range, five burner, $29.95.

FOR SALE: Hickory top dining table, $19.95.

FOR SALE: Treadle top sewing machine, $29.95.

FOR SALE: Alvarado West Canada Range, $29.95.

FOR SALE: 6 volt Grove Radio, Model type, $12.95.

FOR SALE: 10 lb. T. bench with Dialer Separator, $19.95.

FOR SALE: Pro-War baby buggy, folding type, $22.95.

FOR SALE: Three place dining table, $12.95.

WANTED: Used furniture and appliances. Call $24.95.

RICHFIELD

Mrs. Merl Jelderman and daughter, Los Angeles, Calif., are visiting at the J. O. Jelderman home. Merl and daughter are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Ethel Lowman, Rich.

Mrs. Clyde Cappa and son are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cappa, near Denver, Colo. to Paro, Wash., where her husband is employed in war work.

Mrs. Stella Freeman has been hired as teacher at the Burnham school. Mrs. Stella Freeman has been employed at the Consolidated Aircraft factory. She has visited here several months with her parents, the Oscar Johnsons.

Beverly Carter and Faye Wilson have gone to Boise where they plan to work this summer.

Mrs. and Mrs. Glen Borenson of the Cottonwoods are the parents of a daughter, born June 22, at the Gooding hospital.

La Veta Stubbs was a tonsillectomy patient at the Gooding hospital last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Howard, Pocatello, were guests of the Elmer Kivimaki after a business trip to Hailley last week.

Mrs. Roy Johnson and daughter have returned to their home in Twin Falls after their visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ruppert.

FIRST CHOICE OF MILLIONS

None faster. None surer. St. Joseph Aspinwall—world's largest seller at 10c. Economy size, 50 tablets for only 50c. Why ever pay more? Why accept less? Get St. Joseph Aspinwall.

Let Gamble's Specialists Install Your HOME GUARD INSULATION

Pays for itself in Fuel Savings Alone

You can't lose when your home is insulated with Homeguard by Gamble's Trained Specialists. During the first few years Homeguard pays for itself in fuel savings alone. From then on the savings (up to 1/3 of your fuel costs) are yours to spend as you wish. During the hot summer months your home will be 10° to 18° cooler.

FREE ESTIMATE

Our Home Engineer will give you a free estimate on a complete insulation job. Make your plans now. Call or write.

The Complete Insulation Job Can Be Purchased on

CONVENIENT MONTHLY PAYMENT PLAN

Like a ray of sunshine a bright floor can make hours of work in your kitchen pleasant. These rugs are time-savers. The polished, gleaming surfaces can be kept spotless. Occasional light mopping will keep your kitchen spotless and span. Many choice patterns. 9 x 12 Size Only

Gamble's

Twin Falls Phone 856J

U.S. PRESS LAUDS ACCEPTANCE TALK

By United Press
Editorial comment today on Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's acceptance speech.
New York Times—In a vigorous address last night to the convention Mr. Dewey's first effort to put force and clarity into a timid and ambivalent program.
New York Herald Tribune—A strong and telling speech. It would be difficult to find a parallel for its hard-hitting eloquence in contemporary history.
New York Daily Mirror—He has demonstrated that in the last analysis, it is not the theory, but the rainbow-promising personality-like Wendell Willkie, for instance, that the people want now.
New York Daily News—It is the young (42), nonagenarian, tried and true worker, constructive in job and a consistent and powerful voice.

By The Associated Press
Salt Lake Tribune (Ind.)—The resolutions... adopted by the Republican convention... contain at least one controversial declaration—that which calls for "international peace officers" to prevent future wars.
On the whole, the platform is a creditable document that will satisfy almost every Republican, appeal to many Democrats and meet the general approval of all Americans.
Denver Post (Ind.)—Dewey has everything it takes to be a winning candidate and a successful President. The way he cleared the air of the rackets in New York demonstrated his fitness for the job that he has ahead of him in Washington, D. C.
Cleveland News (Ind. Rep.)—The two governors with the greatest national reputation for leadership and achievement were chosen to lead the Republican party yesterday for the third campaign.

Washington Post (Ind.)—Gov. Dewey must have much more than youth and experience and administrative ability which he has to win. He must have a policy. The platform on which he will stand leaves many holes in the carpeting, many loose statements that he must amplify or clarify.

Highlights

CHICAGO, June 23 (AP)—Highlights of the acceptance speech of Republican presidential nominee Thomas E. Dewey.
Dewey, in this talk a free man, has made no pledges, promises or commitments, expressed or implied, to any mass of voters.
This election will bring an end to our mass government in America.
The military conduct of this war is outside this campaign. It is an issue that remains completely out of politics. If there is a civilian intervention (with the military) the new administration will put a stop to it forthwith.

The present national administration... in its various days did not only get the job done but it also did it in office. It has become tired and quarrelsome.

We have men in Washington who are not only weak in certain branches of arithmetic but who are also weak in vision.

We shall have to work and pray and be patient and make sacrifices to achieve a really better world. It is no task to be entrusted to stubborn men, grown old and tired and quarrelsome in office. We learned that in 1912.

It is the new deal which tells us that America has lost its capacity to grow. We shall never have a better world by listening to those counselors of defeat.

I have not sought this responsibility. With the help of the crowd, I shall try to be worthy of the trust.

81,900 Hours on One Job Record of Hotel Clerk
There's a man in Twin Falls who has worked approximately 81,900 hours at the same job. Broken down into days, he's been greasing the public for nearly 2,170 of them—and that, in simple figures, is spending 25 years of your life giving service to the same employer.

That man is Lou Farnham, and yesterday he celebrated his 25th birthday. Farnham, complete with a birthday cake and other gifts presented him by his employer, the Hotel Farnham, and guests.

Farnham recalls serving Frank Buck, explorer; Tom Barker, in baseball, and Mrs. William McCord, daughter of the late ex-President Woodrow Wilson.

"Of course I enjoy my work," he said. "Haven't I been on the same job for 25 years?"

What could anyone add to that?

Mrs. Dewey Shares Riotous Ovations
CHICAGO, June 23 (AP)—Her gown eyes, petite and pretty Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey today with her husband on the bright-lit platform while he received thunderous applause last night.

Then, as it were, the wife of the New York governor went to the quiet to one side and watch and listen to her husband with unfailing attention. Her smile beamed above the white orchids pinned to her short black frock. Her only other ornament was a double strand of pearls.

This was a far greater show than the Texas-born Frances Elton Hunt of Sapulpa, Okla., ever dreamed of when, as a chorus girl and music student in New York City, she met and married young Tom Dewey, police student and struggling lawyer from Oroon, Mich.

Busy Pair

Bob Bradshaw, right, and his younger brother, Carl Donsett, left. Their Times-News careers at King Hill. (Olive May Luck photo-staff engraving)

2 Brothers Take Same Navy Path

MYRON G. DONSETT, machine sergeant, and Carl Donsett, petty officer, first class, sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Donsett, both sons of Twin Falls, are taking the same path. If the navy is any judge, Carl, who has just received a promotion to aviation metalmith first class, attended the metalmith training course at Norman, Okla. Now his younger brother, Myron, has been transferred to that camp for the same course of training.

MYRON DONSETT CARL DONSETT

Both boys worked in aircraft plants in California before entering service. Myron was in the first American platoon, Fulwood, came to this task a free man, has made no pledges, promises or commitments, expressed or implied, to any mass of voters.
This election will bring an end to our mass government in America.

The military conduct of this war is outside this campaign. It is an issue that remains completely out of politics. If there is a civilian intervention (with the military) the new administration will put a stop to it forthwith.

The present national administration... in its various days did not only get the job done but it also did it in office. It has become tired and quarrelsome.

We have men in Washington who are not only weak in certain branches of arithmetic but who are also weak in vision.

We shall have to work and pray and be patient and make sacrifices to achieve a really better world. It is no task to be entrusted to stubborn men, grown old and tired and quarrelsome in office. We learned that in 1912.

It is the new deal which tells us that America has lost its capacity to grow. We shall never have a better world by listening to those counselors of defeat.

I have not sought this responsibility. With the help of the crowd, I shall try to be worthy of the trust.

81,900 Hours on One Job Record of Hotel Clerk
There's a man in Twin Falls who has worked approximately 81,900 hours at the same job. Broken down into days, he's been greasing the public for nearly 2,170 of them—and that, in simple figures, is spending 25 years of your life giving service to the same employer.

That man is Lou Farnham, and yesterday he celebrated his 25th birthday. Farnham, complete with a birthday cake and other gifts presented him by his employer, the Hotel Farnham, and guests.

Farnham recalls serving Frank Buck, explorer; Tom Barker, in baseball, and Mrs. William McCord, daughter of the late ex-President Woodrow Wilson.

"Of course I enjoy my work," he said. "Haven't I been on the same job for 25 years?"

What could anyone add to that?

Mrs. Dewey Shares Riotous Ovations
CHICAGO, June 23 (AP)—Her gown eyes, petite and pretty Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey today with her husband on the bright-lit platform while he received thunderous applause last night.

Then, as it were, the wife of the New York governor went to the quiet to one side and watch and listen to her husband with unfailing attention. Her smile beamed above the white orchids pinned to her short black frock. Her only other ornament was a double strand of pearls.

This was a far greater show than the Texas-born Frances Elton Hunt of Sapulpa, Okla., ever dreamed of when, as a chorus girl and music student in New York City, she met and married young Tom Dewey, police student and struggling lawyer from Oroon, Mich.

New Steam Machine REMOVES ALL OLD WRIN, AS CALIFORNIA AL WATSON'S ACME PAINT STORE 142 2nd Ave. E. Ph. 1222

Eager Youths Look Ahead, Survey Finds

By OLIVE MAY COOK
The youths of today—what are they planning for the future? Through interviewing about 60 boys and girls, Times-News carriers during the past few months, I have found they are eagerly looking forward to their plans for fitting into the industrial, civic and general picture of the future are many and varied.

Talking with Bob Bradshaw and his younger brother, Vernon, sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bradshaw, King Hill, I found they both aspire to become engineers. Bob has been doing railroad work for the past two years, so naturally I thought it was a locomotive engineer he planned to be.

Civil Engineer Ambition
However, he hopes to attend college when he completes high school and take special training for a career as a civil engineer. He is now a sophomore, the subject he finds most interesting in him is mathematics, and his hobby is compiling a sports scrapbook.

White Bob has been busy with railroad work, Vernon has been in "man Friday" and carried on with the newspaper route.

Like the boys, Vernon stated, "but sometimes it's quite a job to get when the weather is bad and I have to wait."

Lois of Blaine
While the number of papers has so large there, Vernon has to go all the time out town and many carriers are out some distance, so in all it takes him more than two miles each way. Not bad when he can ride his bike, but when the snow is deep, and he has to walk, it's a real job. He likes reading best in school. His hobby is collecting old rocks. Yes, Vernon also wants to be an engineer, but not a civil engineer—he wants to be a steam engineer on the shipping rail.

Mr. Bradshaw is interested in the boys' careers as carriers. "Not only because it is good business training for them, but I want to be a paper boy myself," he said. "I carried a route in St. Louis, Mo. and I know from experience that it's worthwhile."

House Roof Burns, Interior Damaged

Fire, reported at 9:30 a.m. Thursday by an unidentified neighbor, completely destroyed the roof and caused considerable interior damage to a five-room frame house at 147 Quinn, owned by C. E. Adams and occupied by the C. W. Brown family, according to Sam Gibbs, assistant Twin Falls fire chief.

The blaze, erroneously reported by the fire chief to be in the 200 block on Quinn, started near the chimney at the back of the house and burned down the side of the house. It was caused by the fireman's failure to get the chimney cleaned according to Gibbs, who said that no chimney had been cleaned for some time.

Members of the family had finished breakfast before they became aware of the fire, which is believed to have started either from the chimney or from sparks from the stove.

Insurance in the amount of $10,000 was carried by the owner. The fire was the first reported since June 21 by the department, Gibbs said.

Heart Attack Is Fatal to Woman

BURLEY, June 23 (AP)—Mrs. Wilma Williams Blackburn, 37, wife of Ernest Blackburn, Murtagh, died Thursday morning in a Twin Falls hospital following a heart attack at 10:30 p.m. Wednesday at her home in Murtagh.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, July 2, at the L. D. Church in Murtagh; interment will be in the Myron cemetery under the direction of the Burley funeral home.

Before her husband, she is survived by six sons, Kenneth, Russell, George, David, Ray and Milton, and one daughter, Iona Louise, all of Murtagh; two brothers, Elton and William, locally; Paul Williams, naval training at Pahrump; six sisters, Mrs. Mildred Kidd, Burley; Mrs. Ornel Hill, Rupert; Mrs. Iva Steele, Oakley; Mrs. Dora McCord, Oakland; and Mrs. Fern Simons, Topeka, Kan., and Miss Viola Williams, Burley.

Grange Sets up Its Service Flag
Twin Falls Grange, No. 216, met Wednesday night at the Odd Fellows hall and set up a service flag for sons and daughters of members who are in the armed forces. The flag was made by Mrs. Harry Capps, Mrs. I. T. Creed and Mrs. Ben Harvey.

The 25 members present held a round-table discussion on the manufacture of potato starch and on the starch factory.

Guests and members for a banner Grange were read by the secretary, Mrs. Harry Wohlschlag.

Special guests to the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wark, former members, who have lived at Adair, Mo., for the past year.

The group has been furnishing clothes to the USO for the past month and plans to continue doing so into July.

MADE TO ORDER RUBBER STAMPS PACKERS! SHIPPERS! GROWERS!

Mark your books with rubber stamps. Write in or stamp it.

AL WATSON'S ACME PAINT STORE 142 2nd Ave. E. Ph. 1222

FIRE WON'T HALT AIRPORT PROJECT

JUNLEY, June 23—Although a fire at the Burley airport Monday night destroyed several thousand dollars worth of wiring and other essential equipment, the Burley project will still have its $25,000 limit. The project, which is being completed on schedule, according to A. M. Solomon, city engineer, and James Hight, resident army engineer, is not affected.

Already reordered are most of the necessary replacements, and since airport projects are high, the new material is expected to arrive within a month, he continued.

W. L. Leaser, city engineer, declared to set an estimate of damage done at the airport. The fire department here set loss at about $10,000.

Insurance adjusters are here to make a settlement with the city, Mr. Solomon has reported.

Idaho Bean Stocks Drop 165,000 Bags

BOISE, June 23 (AP)—Farm and commercial stocks of dry beans amounted to 11,535,000 bags in Idaho on June 1, a decline of 165,000 bags over last year's holdings at this time.

The figure was reported by the U. S. D. A. bureau of agricultural economics here. Dry pea stocks were given at 875,000 bags, a decline of 190,000 bags over a year ago.

Only 3,000 bags of peas and 13,500 bags of beans were held on farms, March 23, 1943. Stocks of beans included 533,000 bags of great northern, 102,000 bags of small red, 20,000 bags of pinto, 4,000 bags of pea and medium white and 30,000 bags of milk spots, mostly, principally garden seed types.

Taylor Cold to Dewey's Choice

BOISE, June 23 (AP)—The nomination of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York as the Republican candidate for President made little impression on Glen H. Taylor, Pocatello, Idahoan Democratic nominee for U. S. senator.

"I heard most of the Republican convention," the senator once declared, "and Dewey's nomination didn't impress me much."

"I look as if the Republicans have the same old thing to offer and might just as well have nominated Hoover."

Taylor is here conferring with gubernatorial candidate Claude C. Grossett, Nampa, and other Democratic leaders preparing for the party's platform convention tomorrow.

Dances at the Rodeo were scheduled for July 3 and 4 with Wayne Brown providing much the first night and Russ Fox playing the second night.

Full Guard Unit Will March Here

Capt. Ralph L. McFarlane, commanding officer of Company K, 4888 Central Postal Directory, 88th night that the entire company, 55 enlisted men and three officers, would march in the Independence day parade here.

The group's weekly meeting at the American Legion hall followed an hour's close order drill on the Bickel school grounds, local drill public officer, stated.

Terminating the meeting, war department films were shown to the men, demonstrating anti-booby trap measures and interior guard duty.

Twin Falls Girl Goes in WAVES

Another Twin Falls girl to join the WAVES is Miss Amanda May Bartlett, daughter of Mrs. Benial Bartlett, 250 Fourth avenue west. Miss Bartlett attended Twin Falls high school.

She made her application for enlistment at the local recruiting station and was sworn in at Boise yesterday. She will go to Hunter College, N. Y., and from there will be sent to other schools for specialized training.

BUY A GOOD USED CAR From a Good Dealer While Times Are Good!

41 Mercury 4-door Sedan Clean
42 Chevrolet 4-door Super Deluxe
43 Ford Convertible
44 Chevrolet 4-door Sedan
45 Oldsmobile 4-door Sedan
46 Chevrolet 2-door Sedan
47 Completely overhauled.

41 Packard Club Coupe, Locally owned. Extra good shape.

Shoshone St. & 2nd Ave. West Twin Falls Phone 453

Drop 165,000 Bags

BOISE, June 23 (AP)—Farm and commercial stocks of dry beans amounted to 11,535,000 bags in Idaho on June 1, a decline of 165,000 bags over last year's holdings at this time.

The figure was reported by the U. S. D. A. bureau of agricultural economics here. Dry pea stocks were given at 875,000 bags, a decline of 190,000 bags over a year ago.

Only 3,000 bags of peas and 13,500 bags of beans were held on farms, March 23, 1943. Stocks of beans included 533,000 bags of great northern, 102,000 bags of small red, 20,000 bags of pinto, 4,000 bags of pea and medium white and 30,000 bags of milk spots, mostly, principally garden seed types.

Taylor is here conferring with gubernatorial candidate Claude C. Grossett, Nampa, and other Democratic leaders preparing for the party's platform convention tomorrow.

Dances at the Rodeo were scheduled for July 3 and 4 with Wayne Brown providing much the first night and Russ Fox playing the second night.

The group's weekly meeting at the American Legion hall followed an hour's close order drill on the Bickel school grounds, local drill public officer, stated.

Terminating the meeting, war department films were shown to the men, demonstrating anti-booby trap measures and interior guard duty.

Taylor is here conferring with gubernatorial candidate Claude C. Grossett, Nampa, and other Democratic leaders preparing for the party's platform convention tomorrow.

Dances at the Rodeo were scheduled for July 3 and 4 with Wayne Brown providing much the first night and Russ Fox playing the second night.

The group's weekly meeting at the American Legion hall followed an hour's close order drill on the Bickel school grounds, local drill public officer, stated.

Terminating the meeting, war department films were shown to the men, demonstrating anti-booby trap measures and interior guard duty.

Taylor is here conferring with gubernatorial candidate Claude C. Grossett, Nampa, and other Democratic leaders preparing for the party's platform convention tomorrow.

Dances at the Rodeo were scheduled for July 3 and 4 with Wayne Brown providing much the first night and Russ Fox playing the second night.

The group's weekly meeting at the American Legion hall followed an hour's close order drill on the Bickel school grounds, local drill public officer, stated.

Terminating the meeting, war department films were shown to the men, demonstrating anti-booby trap measures and interior guard duty.

Taylor is here conferring with gubernatorial candidate Claude C. Grossett, Nampa, and other Democratic leaders preparing for the party's platform convention tomorrow.

Dances at the Rodeo were scheduled for July 3 and 4 with Wayne Brown providing much the first night and Russ Fox playing the second night.

The group's weekly meeting at the American Legion hall followed an hour's close order drill on the Bickel school grounds, local drill public officer, stated.

Terminating the meeting, war department films were shown to the men, demonstrating anti-booby trap measures and interior guard duty.

Taylor is here conferring with gubernatorial candidate Claude C. Grossett, Nampa, and other Democratic leaders preparing for the party's platform convention tomorrow.

Dances at the Rodeo were scheduled for July 3 and 4 with Wayne Brown providing much the first night and Russ Fox playing the second night.

The group's weekly meeting at the American Legion hall followed an hour's close order drill on the Bickel school grounds, local drill public officer, stated.

Terminating the meeting, war department films were shown to the men, demonstrating anti-booby trap measures and interior guard duty.

Plan every hour for relaxing fun that will make you better fit to return to your job. Here in the Men's Store are clothing to help you enjoy every holiday activity at very moderate cost.

DRESS SHIRTS

Fine young men's white shirt Mark-Twin quality shantung broadcloth with a regular soft collar.

Sizes 14½ to 16½ $2.46

A new white rayon sport shirt with two button flap pockets. An ideal garment for the 4th of July vacation. Sizes, large, medium and small.

Young Men's SLACKS

A new arrival of a shipment of young men's "all wool" Bedford Cord Slacks in a group shade in sizes 28 and up $8.90

Work or Play Trousers

You will need a pair of Men's Sun Van Trousers for your vacation or work. They are made from dry cloth and reinforced, in sizes 28 to 42 waist $2.98

Cloth HATS

For comfort buy a nice light weight Gable Hat. They are well made and good style shape, in sizes 6½ to 7½ and priced from—

Hickok BELTS AND SUSPENSERS

A new shipment of Hickok Belts and Suspensers received. A nice western style that you will enjoy wearing with those new slacks—and they are priced from—

Polo Shirts $1.39 $1.19 $3.98 $1.00 to $2.50

Western Style Ties

This tie is made with your new gableline shirts. They are plain shade. Suede stitched by hand with real cow-hide leather. Typically western.

Sport Jackets

A large stock of Sport Coats and Leisure Jackets in plaid, pattern and plaids. This will be a garment you will get a lot of pleasure wearing—and are priced from—

WORLD FAMOUS JANTZEN

SWIM TRUNKS

If you are going swimming over the holidays you will like to wear a pair of Jantzen Trunks. They are good looking and fit good—and very moderately priced for—

Other Makes $1.49 to $1.98

WORLD FAMOUS JANTZEN

SWIM TRUNKS

Other Makes $1.49 to $1.98

IDAHO DEPT. STORE MAIN FLOOR MEN'S STORE

Ferry Auxiliary Fetes Head With Gifts and Party
 OLYMPIA, June 28—Mrs. C. J. Bloom, Los Angeles, general president of the Old Timer's auxiliary, paid an official visit to the local auxiliary. A business meeting and party followed the visit at the home of Mrs. M. Miller. Mrs. J. C. Barnes, a member, was also honored. She expects to leave soon to make her home in an eastern state. Members presented Mrs. Bloom with a scarf and a miniature arrow head. Mrs. Miller presented the visitor with a collection of miniature arrows. Mrs. Barnes was the recipient of a gift, also.

In plenary, Mrs. Sims received a prize, and also Mrs. Bloom. All-out went to Mrs. Walter Harris.

SERVICEMEN HONORED
 FRIDAY, June 28—Lyle and Lynn Thomas entertained Saturday evening with a party for Walter Thomas, who left Sunday for the army, and Dale Nash, who is home from Walla Walla, Wash., where he is taking navy training. The evening was spent playing phonics.

Portland Guests Party Honorees
 JEROME, June 28—Honoring Mrs. and Mrs. I. M. Towle, Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Woolley completed the guests here during a moved plenary party.

Plans for each change of cards were explained in the tiny envelopes presented each of the players. High scores were Mrs. I. M. Towle, Keith Johnson, and low, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Meeks. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Variety Auction Entertains Club At Graham Home
 Mrs. Kate Graham was hostess at a recent meeting of the Shamrock Club. Amusement for the afternoon was furnished by an auction of articles brought by members. Mrs. J. Albee was auctioneer and proceeds went into the flower fund. Contents on feet and flowers were presented by Mrs. John Gilmartin, who had charge of the program.

At the business meeting members decided to send canned fruit to the children's home in Boise. Also, the club plans to have a picnic at Hartman park July 9.

Twenty-one members and four guests were present. Mrs. Hilda Kessler, Mrs. Marie Thompson, Mrs. H. Thompson and Miss Eleanor Pulley were guests.

Mrs. H. K. Bush will be hostess at the next meeting to be held July 20.

Lingerie can be laundered by gently squeezing out of warm soapy water. The shoulder straps will usually need a little extra rubbing with a soft brush.

FOR ALL "SHINE-UP" JOBS

Cross Country CLEANERS - POLISHES

Keep your car clean—polish and dust it regularly. Do the job better, easier with Sears Cross Country cleaning and polishing aids. The finest products available—regardless of price.

Paste Cleaner—14 ounce can	37c
Paste Wax—8 ounce can	37c
Touch-Up Enamel—6 ounce with brush	35c
Chrome Polish—1/2 pint can	19c
Polishing Cloth—generous supply	39c
Duster Mitt—slips on like glove	30c
Spencer—medium size	45c
Cleaner and Wax—20-ounce can	59c

LIQUID RUBBER
 Cross Country quality! Restores appearance of black tires, running boards, overcoats, all black rubber articles! Pint can—49c

Cross Country TIRE PRESERVATIVE
 and anti-oxidant, gives good coverage and protection. Quart—98c

CARNU
 Cleans and waxes in one operation. No excessive rubbing. 59c

SIMONIZ NOW!
 Combination of cleaner and wax for spraying, protecting, lasting beauty. Each 49c

TOP DRESSING
 For cracked leatherette tops. Seal waterproof. 39c

Cross Country Batteries
SPECIAL $2.00 TRADE-IN ALLOWANCE

C.C. Heavy Duty BATTERY
 45 PLATE TYPE
 18 Mos. Guarantee

A long-life battery because it is doubly insulated with highest quality Port Oxford cedar separators and fiberglass mats. 45 "chem-seal" full size plates. 100 amp. hour capacity—125 amp. 20-minute rate. 70-amp. delivery vent caps. 18-months written guarantee. Exchange Price—$7.10

Spec. $2 allowance for old battery

More POWER

TRUCK AND TRACTOR OWNERS
 Get Sears low prices on quality batteries

BUY WAR BONDS

CHANGE TO SUMMER LUBRICANTS NOW!

Save! SEARS ANNUAL OIL SALE

CROSS COUNTRY 100% PURE PENNSYLVANIA MOTOR OIL

STARTS THURSDAY

FINEST PENNSYLVANIA OIL AT ...

Season's Lowest Prices

IN YOUR OWN CONTAINER

75¢
 GALLON
 SUMMER GRADES

54-GAL. DRUMS
 Special for bulk users... farmers, truckers and fleet owners. Special Price—39.50

GOLD CREST MOTOR OIL
 Insures safe lubrication! Guaranteed wax free—100 per cent vacuum distilled. Low priced, durable, dependable, economical. Full 10-qt. can—$1.49

IN 1-GAL. JUG
 If you do not have a container, buy Cross Country motor oil in the gallon jug. Reg. 86c. Spec. Price—85c

Also Save on Cross Country Grease and Lubricants

C.C. GEAR LUBRICANT
 None better at any price! For efficient lubrication of transmission and differential gears. Save money... change your own! Saves repair bills, too! 5-lb. can—89c

ALEMITE GUN
 A lever-type gun that can be used for any type grease job on cars, trucks, tractors, farm implements. Each—$3.49

Puts Out Fire
 S.O.S. double action fire extinguisher puts out all types of fires. Underwriters Approved. Fluid, wall bracket included. Why pay $15? Sears Price—7.95

C.C. Gun Grease
 Do that lubrication job yourself... save! Cross Country quality grease assures you best lubrication. 1-lb. size. 29c

TRANSMISSION GREASE
 Heavy duty grease for cars, trucks and tractors not requiring extreme pressure type grease. 1 lb. can. 29c

1-LB. CAN CUP GREASE
 No. 3 grade for all cars, trucks and tractors; also farm machinery using cup grease. 1-lb. can. 29c

Cross Country Motor Tune
SAVE GAS AND OIL

Saves gas, expensive overhauling! Removes gum, sludge... dissolves resin... frees sticky valves, rings! Easy to use. Pint 49c Quart 79c

FALK'S Selling Agents for

SEARS HAVE TIRE REPAIRS

SLIP-ON AUTO SEAT COVERS
 A wide variety of styles, heavy woven cotton fibre, plaid fabrics, leatherette trimmed. Reinforced at points of strain. $8.95
 Sedans and Coaches $5.50
 Coupes

Sears, Roebuck and Co.

Any Purchase
 Totalling $10 or More
 Can Be Made On
Sears
 EASY PAYMENT PLAN

PHONE 1640 TWIN FALLS

& MALTING CO.
E. G. Sick, Pres.

God's Front Porch

A Novel By KETTI FRINGS

Copyright, 1944, Ketti Frings—Reprinted, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.

To Those Who Came In Late: This is the story of what happened to a young man after he was killed in a fumble. The scene is Heavenly Bend Junction, half-way between the Earth and Hell. Travelers stay here until they stop looking back in Earth.

The new home in Heavenly Bend Junction, the home of the Third Reich, was, to Ron Schumacher, the basement and biggest and coldest house he had ever seen and where.

The boys entered the main front hall, were dismissed, and then sent back to read the announcements on the various bulletin boards.

"Her, Schumacher—detail duty for you tomorrow."

"Yes, I know."

"You certainly didn't work all time, did you?"

"He started up the great stairway, Schumacher, the rear stairway."

"Yes, sir."

"He remembered how the front stairway was for officers, and the rear stairway for privates."

"Hans Wagner, who was watching Ron's puzzled expression, laughed delightedly. 'Don't tell me you don't know about Schumacher, you boys. She's here under our "custody". The Lieutenant's protection, he added pointedly."

"Yes?" Ron looked away. He didn't like Hans Wagner, yet for some reason every time he turned around, there he was.

"Want a glass of beer, Ron? I've got the key to the door."

"No, thank you."

"Where are you going?"

"Upstairs."

"Wait, Lutech! He is a half hour. Stay around, are the new arrivals."

"I'm going upstairs," Ron repeated absently, and let him quickly adding through the lower hall to the rear stairway.

He went up two steps at a time, entered the large breakfast room, and on the fourth bed from the end, threw himself down.

He felt angry, and his blood pounded with a strange feverish intensity.

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. "Why do I react like this?"

"He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter, Schumacher?" It was Wagner, moving toward him from the doorway. "The man of the hour, aren't you? You don't have to worry. You'll have your chance."

"To hell with Hans Wagner, too," Ron thought bitterly.

"Look, Wagner continued, 'Captain Hoffman sent me up. You and me, architectural engineering, didn't you?'

"I studied it for a while."

"Then you can begin to study these plans. He threw a stack of blueprints on the desk. 'We can use you. So far, of course, may not, but for now, the Square with all those other houses demolished, you're the only one left. You think?'

"Ron didn't answer, and Wagner was silent for a moment. Then he was watching a girl she was moving through the square, her eyes, a little defiant and curious, on the face of the Third Reich."

"What was that girl like?" Wagner asked. "The one who got off the train with me yesterday?"

"Ron glanced quickly at the other's face, trying to control the feeling of such pleasant confusion which, stirred through him. 'Terrible,' he said."

"Well, I got through. She looks smart. You ought to have a talk with her. You might be able to make changes which are going to be made here. She may want to get in on the ground floor. See you at lunch, Schumacher. He strode away."

"(To Be Continued)"

RUPERT

Mrs. Belle Tremaine, formerly of Ogden, Utah, has returned to Rupert to make her home and will be employed in the office of County Agent C. W. Digh.

Paul Punderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Punderson, who has been employed by Robert Brooker at Moscow, is at home to spend the July 4 holiday.

OAKLEY

Mrs. Omer L. Baker and little Mont, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Stella Black, and her new baby daughter.

Pat Lester, Pipe, Amarillo, Tex., is here on a business trip to visit his wife and baby daughter, Sharon Lee, at the Omer Baker home.

What's the matter with me? he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

BOARDING HOUSE

MAJOR HOOPLE

LOOK, HOOPLE! I WAS AWAY YESTERDAY! I SEE YOU WROTE TWO COLUMNS ON A BASE-BALL QUESTION—THE ANSWER WAS "INTERFERENCE," WHICH YOU BALLOONED UP TO 2400 WORDS!

"To hell with Hans Wagner, too," Ron thought bitterly.

"Look, Wagner continued, 'Captain Hoffman sent me up. You and me, architectural engineering, didn't you?'

"I studied it for a while."

"Then you can begin to study these plans. He threw a stack of blueprints on the desk. 'We can use you. So far, of course, may not, but for now, the Square with all those other houses demolished, you're the only one left. You think?'

"Ron didn't answer, and Wagner was silent for a moment. Then he was watching a girl she was moving through the square, her eyes, a little defiant and curious, on the face of the Third Reich."

"What was that girl like?" Wagner asked. "The one who got off the train with me yesterday?"

"Ron glanced quickly at the other's face, trying to control the feeling of such pleasant confusion which, stirred through him. 'Terrible,' he said."

"Well, I got through. She looks smart. You ought to have a talk with her. You might be able to make changes which are going to be made here. She may want to get in on the ground floor. See you at lunch, Schumacher. He strode away."

"(To Be Continued)"

Mrs. Belle Tremaine, formerly of Ogden, Utah, has returned to Rupert to make her home and will be employed in the office of County Agent C. W. Digh.

Paul Punderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Punderson, who has been employed by Robert Brooker at Moscow, is at home to spend the July 4 holiday.

What's the matter with me? he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

RED RYDER

"HUBBARD MARKET, I DON'T KNOW YOU WERE IN THE CATTLE BUSINESS, I'D OF WHERE SMALL FLEE THEE? HUH?"

"To hell with Hans Wagner, too," Ron thought bitterly.

"Look, Wagner continued, 'Captain Hoffman sent me up. You and me, architectural engineering, didn't you?'

"I studied it for a while."

"Then you can begin to study these plans. He threw a stack of blueprints on the desk. 'We can use you. So far, of course, may not, but for now, the Square with all those other houses demolished, you're the only one left. You think?'

"Ron didn't answer, and Wagner was silent for a moment. Then he was watching a girl she was moving through the square, her eyes, a little defiant and curious, on the face of the Third Reich."

"What was that girl like?" Wagner asked. "The one who got off the train with me yesterday?"

"Ron glanced quickly at the other's face, trying to control the feeling of such pleasant confusion which, stirred through him. 'Terrible,' he said."

"Well, I got through. She looks smart. You ought to have a talk with her. You might be able to make changes which are going to be made here. She may want to get in on the ground floor. See you at lunch, Schumacher. He strode away."

"(To Be Continued)"

Mrs. Belle Tremaine, formerly of Ogden, Utah, has returned to Rupert to make her home and will be employed in the office of County Agent C. W. Digh.

Paul Punderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Punderson, who has been employed by Robert Brooker at Moscow, is at home to spend the July 4 holiday.

What's the matter with me? he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

WASH TUBBS

"THAT JAP GUY JUST SHOT CAPTAIN WASH TUBBS OUT EASY!"

"To hell with Hans Wagner, too," Ron thought bitterly.

"Look, Wagner continued, 'Captain Hoffman sent me up. You and me, architectural engineering, didn't you?'

"I studied it for a while."

"Then you can begin to study these plans. He threw a stack of blueprints on the desk. 'We can use you. So far, of course, may not, but for now, the Square with all those other houses demolished, you're the only one left. You think?'

"Ron didn't answer, and Wagner was silent for a moment. Then he was watching a girl she was moving through the square, her eyes, a little defiant and curious, on the face of the Third Reich."

"What was that girl like?" Wagner asked. "The one who got off the train with me yesterday?"

"Ron glanced quickly at the other's face, trying to control the feeling of such pleasant confusion which, stirred through him. 'Terrible,' he said."

"Well, I got through. She looks smart. You ought to have a talk with her. You might be able to make changes which are going to be made here. She may want to get in on the ground floor. See you at lunch, Schumacher. He strode away."

"(To Be Continued)"

Mrs. Belle Tremaine, formerly of Ogden, Utah, has returned to Rupert to make her home and will be employed in the office of County Agent C. W. Digh.

Paul Punderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Punderson, who has been employed by Robert Brooker at Moscow, is at home to spend the July 4 holiday.

What's the matter with me? he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

By FRED HARMAN

"HUBBARD MARKET, I DON'T KNOW YOU WERE IN THE CATTLE BUSINESS, I'D OF WHERE SMALL FLEE THEE? HUH?"

"To hell with Hans Wagner, too," Ron thought bitterly.

"Look, Wagner continued, 'Captain Hoffman sent me up. You and me, architectural engineering, didn't you?'

"I studied it for a while."

"Then you can begin to study these plans. He threw a stack of blueprints on the desk. 'We can use you. So far, of course, may not, but for now, the Square with all those other houses demolished, you're the only one left. You think?'

"Ron didn't answer, and Wagner was silent for a moment. Then he was watching a girl she was moving through the square, her eyes, a little defiant and curious, on the face of the Third Reich."

"What was that girl like?" Wagner asked. "The one who got off the train with me yesterday?"

"Ron glanced quickly at the other's face, trying to control the feeling of such pleasant confusion which, stirred through him. 'Terrible,' he said."

"Well, I got through. She looks smart. You ought to have a talk with her. You might be able to make changes which are going to be made here. She may want to get in on the ground floor. See you at lunch, Schumacher. He strode away."

"(To Be Continued)"

Mrs. Belle Tremaine, formerly of Ogden, Utah, has returned to Rupert to make her home and will be employed in the office of County Agent C. W. Digh.

Paul Punderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Punderson, who has been employed by Robert Brooker at Moscow, is at home to spend the July 4 holiday.

What's the matter with me? he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

"What's the matter with me?" he kept saying. Why do I react like this? He'd known people like Hans Wagner all his life. In every class room, even when he was a kid, there'd always been one like that. A boy you didn't like, one you secretly hated—and yet the one who suddenly was telling you what to do. Staring in small ways like this, but after a while, even guiding you when you thought that of no value, suddenly, this other boy, or this other man, had seemed power and authority, and needed it over you."

"Next it happens to him again, like this? Ron wondered."

"No one would ever know his disappointments. He'd been chosen at the station. The old men standing there, with their wonderful warm welcomes. And the contentment on the travelers' faces."

"Home at last. At that moment he wouldn't have cared what he was named. Or Mohammed, or anything else, if only he had a father to come home to. But who had it been? Lieutenant Drabacker?"

INDEPENDENCE DAY VALUES

selected from our well stocked store

In a real effort to serve your every Fourth-of-July vacation or outing need under present day circumstances, you will, as always, find our store anticipating your needs—not just meeting them. Shop every department for worthwhile values in need summer apparel or accessories.

BOYS' RAYON AND GABARDINE SHIRTS ...

in green, navy or brown. Western trimmed with white felt and white pearl buttons sizes 2, 3, 4, 5, 6

$2.98

MATCHING GABARDINE TROUSERS

IN SIZES 2, 3, 4, 5, 6

$3.98

MAIN FLOOR DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT

RAYON CHEMISES ...

to wear with slacks. Tearable only. Sizes 32, 40, Up from ...

$1.29

MAIN FLOOR DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT

LADIES' HICKOK BELTS ...

tooled, western belts in saddle leather. Sizes 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 waist. Up from

$1.50

MAIN FLOOR DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT

LARGE PLASTIC COMPACTS ...

Nail head, plain or painted designs. A must for the particular woman. Assorted colors. No luxury tax.

$2.98

MAIN FLOOR DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT

$7.95 to $8.95

• Don't be tired feet out you down these busy days. Put them in your ration stamps for Massagic Shoes and let their natural Air Cushion and flexible Arch let give your feet day-long comfort. Come in today.

Main Floor Shoe Dept.

For the FOURTH AMERICAN FLAGS

Made of good quality cotton bunting, 19" x 30" size on wooden stick—

25¢ EACH

Girls' and Ladies' Bathing Suits

A number of styles and fabrics. Assorted colors and sizes.

$1.49

and up

MAIN FLOOR DRY GOODS DEPT.

LADIES RAYON

KNIT SLIPS
White lace trim, $2.98
Sizes 32 - 38—

Novelty

Table Cloths
Checked and striped combination, rayon and cotton, 54" square, assorted colors—Green, Red, Blue and Gold (Picnic Cloth). $2.98

Slacks

In cotton gabardine, strutter cloth, and light weight woolen in light and dark colors. Sizes 22, 32

$4.98 to $8.90

Blouses

Ideal blouse for slacks. In brown and white pin check, long sleeves and mannish collar to be worn open or closed. Sizes 32 to 38

$3.98

MAIN FLOOR READY-TO-WEAR DEPT.

OUR STORE WILL BE CLOSED ALL DAY MONDAY and TUESDAY, JULY 3 & 4

END OF THE MONTH SPECIALS

IN OUR MAIN FLOOR SHOE DEPARTMENT

Ladies' Non-Rationed Play Shoes

Extra values are offered in this clean-up group of NON-RATIONED Play Shoes for the ladies. Plenty of large sizes in the lot and a good selection of blues, reds, tan and white combinations in ties and sandals. Original values are to $3.45.

$1.99

MEN'S SPORT OXFORDS

$4.95

These are especially priced for this month-end clean-up and represent year qualities in original values to $5.95. Browns and two-tones ... some summer ventilated patterns and most all are leather soled.

NEWLY ARRIVED—JUST IN!

Non-Rationed
WHITE SANDALS
$4.95

IDAHO DEPARTMENT STORE

"If It Isn't Right, Bring It Back"