HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM DIFFERENT ANGLES

NEW YORK—I have just come away from my mirror and what do you know? The Republicans nominated the same man in Chicago. He's six feet, something, weighs 180, clean-shaven, except on weekends. With a disc.

you can protect him for a few hundred bucks.

Another one who out-acts Martin D. in a night stance and looks poor old Paul McNutt who has sold himself behind the eight ball of templates, gay, witty, popular, lovable and just the right age, 50 next month, if not any later. So they had to pick a little guy

In 1932, "There is a nice guy who by force of circumstances, was compelled to waste his own chances, serving the career of the very man who blocked his own ambition. Miss McNeill is a picture politician and one of his old managers admitted that he had around her that he was practically all looks, but was handsome to

with an eye-brow mustache with not a gray hair in his head and a serious preoccupation with the problems of national government, you don't try to tell them with gags at his press conference. And won't be 42 until after election.

These deficiencies are being exploited rather importantly against Mr. Dewey who doubtless will be called Tom Thumbs before long if he hasn't been so-called already and some of the objections from the direction of Sidney Hillman's campaign are:

They are particularly about such things as height. The minimum height would disqualify Mr. D. and I doubt that he could bring himself up to weight though he got away with water and bananas, a shy resort of border-line aspirants just before the election.

Mr. Roosevelt, by contrast, is a big, limousine job, about six feet even now, and back in the early twenties when he ran for vice-president there were fight managers in town who would have been glad to take him

Time put on long pants for the first time when he went to Teheran and True, Dempsey would have taken his share of the loot, but he had knocked him into the dollar street, with that Harvard-Graton Chestnut of his and his yacht on Plymouth. He had been around the old ancestral halls at Hyde Park, old Leo P. Flynn or his son, and he had cut him up for a million in those mockeries, with some of the

By-Products. Who were always willing to give a splash for a model consideration.

He might even have knocked over a few bucks on the square for he had plenty of height and left and get-around but it wouldn't have been enough. There is always a certain element who are always against a bum, so why leave with a promising skate with a million dollars worth of color when Guardia couldn't get into the chain without a ladder. This is a hell of a lot of credit just for the Buller was the last governor to use it.

Anyway, the comrades should be the last to rib Mr. D. about his size. That Hillman, himself, is no Carnera and moreover they are always so concerned that they get into a little piece of the U.S.A. That sounds as though they are against little guys.

WINNING—Whit's first, not that Cernuschi's horse is stumbling? The over-all strategic position of the NATIONAL is hoped for.

men in the war department cut off his salary, suspecting an early enemy collapse. A British source analyzed the good and bad features of the present situation this way:

General Montgommery, who commands the British, has bunched everything at the front tanks, cannon and infantry, and that he has very little to support a repitition of his desert tactics. It believes, too, that if this dam can be broken the allied flood will swirl on to Paris.

TRANSPORT.—Then, the layman may ask, "why don't the Germans pull out their divisions from the Balkans and come to halt the advancing allies?"

men in the war department, could be seen peering an early morning from the source analyzes the good and bad aspects of the present military situation in the Balkans.

General Monnet, who commands the British and the American armies in Normandy, cut short the interview by sending Dempsey's English and Canadians to hammer nail fortifications in the Cotentin peninsula. He observed that the Germans were shifting divisions from the front to the rear of the front. The front in the vicinity of Cherbourg was under threat. The Germans were weak in the Cotentin peninsula, like a winning football team, plunged through the front line.

FOOLHARDY—It is too soon to predict the outcome of the current campaign. The respondents were a lot ahead of our men debouching into "open country" where vehicles can make swift progress.

The description of the terrain as given by the staffs does not hold to transport like numbers of soldiers plus full artillery, ammunition, food, booze and other supplies. To the belligerent France would be a tremendous task.

GASOLINE—Hitler is short of trucks and gasoline too. The Russians dropped so many mines in the Danube that tankers barely creep along. The Germans are so short of fuel that they are using the oil from the Danube to run their own tanks.

Only has been accused of sluggishness by park-bench strategists because he doesn't romp forward as fast as a weekend speed. A park-ranking official in New York points out that until we have more tanks and complete repairing of the armor, we are in a defensive armor. When he was in Africa, there superior there away from his whole tank force in a single leadership grandstand play.

FLOOD—But the Anglo-American press has been too busy with headlines to pick up the fact that the British have had knocked out 13,700 of which only 125 can be damaged.

The seven panzer divisions facing the Normandy beach had approximately 1,200 tanks at the start of the amphibious assault. Officially, only 100 tank losses have not yet been released. But it is safe to estimate that the Germans have lost more than three-quarters of their armor.

BRITISH EXTEND TIME
LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP) — Herbert Morrison announced accurately today announced British summer time would be extended from Aug. 13 to Sept. 17. At the same time he said that the British will not switch back to winter time until Sept. 19.

Time fox, (if he is still alive and fighting) must soon dip into his reserve—hoarded for another invasion—or rob the armies in Russia and Italy. His shell is tough, but hopes of Britons that the blackout might be ended by telling the house of commons that such a change would "not be desirable at the present time."

BALTIMORE PAPER TURNS TO DEWEY

BALTIMORE, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Baltimore Sun, (Dm.) has announced that it will support Dewey for the presidency—the third time in its 107-year history that the newspaper has backed a Republican nominee.

In 1924 the Sun supported William McKinley, as opposed to William Jennings Bryan, and in 1940 it backed the election of Wendell Wilkie in opposition to a third term for President Roosevelt. The newspaper supported Mr. Roosevelt in 1932 and made no choice in 1936.

The newspaper said in a three-column editorial announcing its support of Dewey that "Mr. Roosevelt's decision to run for a fourth term makes it necessary for the Sun to oppose him in order to do what it can to forestall the evils which such a decision brings into view."

"Fortunately," the Republicans have nominated an able candidate in Governor Dewey. Good Democratic and good citizenry generally can support Mr. Dewey with few reservations and no misgivings."

An administration which uses its power and the influence of its people to win the labor vote or the vote of any particular group is a corrupting administration. Its moral basis is as bad as that of an administration which tries to suppress the support of monopolies or any other vested interest."

The alternative to Mr. Roosevelt is Mr. Dewey, a practical, level-headed man with a mind more like that of a scientist than of a warrior on horseback. His position is orderly procedure. His interest is for the welfare of the people. His inspiration is not inhibition, but reason. He does not orate, he discusses.

There will be few brilliant improvisations, few inspired pronouncements by Dewey. There will be a leader with a capital L, had no vote for him. Then the other hand, those who feel that 12 years of government by ear are enough, and want a return to stability, will find in him something almost unique in the way of vigor, common-sense, understanding and clearity of thought."

Both men were unconscious when police found them in their bullet-riddled car on a south side street. They were pushed to the hospital but Mangano never regained consciousness.

Wounded Many Times
Eight men had been wounded more than a score of times, physically and financially, in a very critical condition.

A girl identified as Rita Reyes was taken with the two men who escaped unharmed, and she was taken to the police station for questioning. But said she crashed down between the two men when the other car drove up and forced them to the curb.

Witnesses said more than 14 shots were fired at the car. One blast was delivered when the assailants fired at Mangano's car, which was uncontrolled into the curb. Then they turned around for another run, following a second blast, as they raced away down the street, Mrs. Reyes said.

Police said the attempted double killing may have been an afterthought of the recent kidnapping of Jack Quirk. Mangano had been sought in connection with the Quirk abduction and it was known that he recently had been attempting to establish himself as a racketeer in the north side racket.

The Chicago racketeers since the prohibition era, he was taken into custody last June for failing to appear as a material witness in the $100,000 movie extortion case in New York.

Miss Idaho Contest Winners

Complete details involving changes in the lumber regulations which went into effect Aug. 1 were made available here Wednesday. A copy having been sent to the Times-News by the Farmers Equity company of Burley.

The new regulations provide a limit on the amount of construction possible at the present time and also provide that special permits either through the AAA office or through the war production board must be obtained to purchase lumber.

The limits
Lumber for all jobs began the same year include the following:
1—$200 for a home, including the entire residential property.
2—$1,000 for a farm including the farm house. However, not more than $200 of this sum may be spent on any farm home on the farm.

"Farm" means a place used primarily for raising crops, livestock, dairy products, poultry, etc. for the market. The poultry concern pointed out that the $200 for new construction of a city dweller's home has to include all labor, brick or other material used in the construction and is not to be considered as cost of lumber alone. The same applies to the $1,000 limitation on farm buildings.

Figuring Cost
In the new regulations the following is found:
"How to figure cost: (1) For the purpose of determining whether a construction job may be started without getting permission from the WPA, 'cost' means the cost of the whole construction job as estimated at the time of beginning construction, except that the cost of used material or used fixtures may be disregarded."

"(2) If any materials or fixtures which have not been used are obtained without buying them, their value must be included as part of the cost."
"(3) The cost of processing machinery or equipment need not be included but the cost of installing it and the cost of plumbing, heating, and air conditioning equipment and all other equipment installed directly in the processing of the materials must be included."

Must Include Paid Labor
"(4) The cost of labor must be included, but if labor is unpaid, its value need not be included. Contractors' fees also must be included but architects' and engineers' fees need not be."

"(5) All construction on the same unit must be included. The word 'unit' means any group of buildings or structures (including roads, pipes, pipelines, etc.) which are situated near to each other, and which serve the same general purpose or closely related purposes."

"(6) The cost per year must be determined on a calendar year basis, beginning with Jan. 1, 1943, except that a company which regularly keeps books on a fiscal year basis may use the fiscal year."

The regulations point out that any person who is willfully guilty of violation of any provision of the order, or who furnishes false facts, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining any further delivery of, or from processing or using, material under plans or contracts, and may be deprived of priority assistance.

The cost is expressly planned to limit construction in order to conserve materials, construction equipment, labor and transportation.

Details Told for New Ruling On Restricted Use of Lumber

Complete details involving changes in the lumber regulations which went into effect Aug. 1 were made available here Wednesday. A copy having been sent to the Times-News by the Farmers Equity company of Burley.

The new regulations provide a limit on the amount of construction possible at the present time and also provide that special permits either through the AAA office or through the war production board must be obtained to purchase lumber.

The limits
Lumber for all jobs began the same year include the following:
1—$200 for a home, including the entire residential property.
2—$1,000 for a farm including the farm house. However, not more than $200 of this sum may be spent on any farm home on the farm.

"Farm" means a place used primarily for raising crops, livestock, dairy products, poultry, etc. for the market. The poultry concern pointed out that the $200 for new construction of a city dweller's home has to include all labor, brick or other material used in the construction and is not to be considered as cost of lumber alone. The same applies to the $1,000 limitation on farm buildings.

Figuring Cost
In the new regulations the following is found:
"How to figure cost: (1) For the purpose of determining whether a construction job may be started without getting permission from the WPA, 'cost' means the cost of the whole construction job as estimated at the time of beginning construction, except that the cost of used material or used fixtures may be disregarded."

"(2) If any materials or fixtures which have not been used are obtained without buying them, their value must be included as part of the cost."
"(3) The cost of processing machinery or equipment need not be included but the cost of installing it and the cost of plumbing, heating, and air conditioning equipment and all other equipment installed directly in the processing of the materials must be included."

Must Include Paid Labor
"(4) The cost of labor must be included, but if labor is unpaid, its value need not be included. Contractors' fees also must be included but architects' and engineers' fees need not be."

"(5) All construction on the same unit must be included. The word 'unit' means any group of buildings or structures (including roads, pipes, pipelines, etc.) which are situated near to each other, and which serve the same general purpose or closely related purposes."

"(6) The cost per year must be determined on a calendar year basis, beginning with Jan. 1, 1943, except that a company which regularly keeps books on a fiscal year basis may use the fiscal year."

The regulations point out that any person who is willfully guilty of violation of any provision of the order, or who furnishes false facts, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining any further delivery of, or from processing or using, material under plans or contracts, and may be deprived of priority assistance.

The cost is expressly planned to limit construction in order to conserve materials, construction equipment, labor and transportation.

OFFICIAL BLASTS

(From Page One)
ment to leave the project on several occasions in May, 1944, to work on neighboring private farms. On one such occasion, Connor stated, he had the equipment loaded by military guards at the gate, only to have it sent out by direct orders from the administrative office. On other occasions, he said, the equipment was driven directly across the fields. On one occasion farm equipment, including tractors, Connor charged, was sent to private lands near Eden where it remained for several days.

Encouraged Threat
The statement alleged that Stafford deliberately encouraged labor unrest. Citing one occasion where a case of Japanese experienced in maintenance was ordered to unload trucks in the warehouse division, Connor stated that they refused to do so and the trucks were left standing while personnel were ordered to get out. Connor charged that the equipment was loaded on loaded freight cars. The shift in crew was reported, he said, resulting only in confusion and attendance refused to listen to their argument for additional help and a shift in hours. Thirty-five bodies were allowed to die out and the project was for several days. Connor charged, was the result of inefficiency in handling the equipment personnel and incompetency in dealing with a situation which affected the health and sanitation of the entire project. Stafford was not on the project at the time.

Attitude Rapped
The statement, according to the statement, is one of "antagonism" toward the entire membership of the project. It is quoted as Connor as having told a staff meeting he wanted the project to go down, he would like to see it go down, and he would like to see it go down.

Proper clothing for evacuee workers during special health examinations has been refused, although removal by the WRA and present in warehouse on the project, it was said. Stafford, to the project, it was said, Stafford, to the project, it was said, Stafford, to the project, it was said.

Refused Permission
It is declared to have refused permission without grounds for installation of a motor vehicle, although to unload coal cars on a siding near the project although the motor vehicle was available. The coal must be unloaded by hand. This, the statement charged, is indicative of his policy to "work" the project.

Methods employed by the personnel to the project, it was charged, are equally high-handed, Connor alleged.

Ratings Lowered
Citing one case of the recently lowered personnel rating on his own staff, Connor pointed out that the lower rating had been given to him on the question had been given to him on the question had been given to him on the question.

Organization doing the same work. His rating was recently lowered on salary increases denied with the obvious intention of making it that it took the personnel office 22 months to find out the man was not fit for the position. It lowered his rating and refused more salary, yet keeps him on the same work on an "acting" capacity.

The "acting" designation has been applied to most of the men in key positions, he said, which strips them of priority, disregards their experience and service and makes them subject to summary dismissal from the project.

Common Practice
It is a common practice of the personnel office, Connor charged, to advise an employee of his impending termination with the alternative of taking it "the easy way" or the "hard way." The "easy way," he said, is to resign quietly with no loss of credit for rating. The "hard way" entails the lowered rating, an unsatisfactory classification resulting in loss of length of service and attendant dismissal in Washington.

Administration Condemned
A spokesman for the Community Council, Japanese self-government group on the project, has condemned Stafford's administration "Thursday. He refused to be identified because of possible reaction but declared that the present administration is creating "unrest and resentment" among the evacuees and admitted belief that a change in administration would lead to better morale, increasing efficiency of the evacuees and lessening resentment caused by the present administration's attitude toward the evacuees. These sentiments, he emphasized, were his own and not those of the Council which obviously, he pointed out, could not make a statement on the issues involved.

PLANS OUTLINED FOR JEROME FSA

JEROME, Aug. 3—L. W. Bannan, county farm security supervisor, Jerome, announced this week the plans for the new fiscal year together with the responsible and most members of the Jerome FSA committee.

Joe Hanley, Jerome, Route two, was responsible for studies, Jerry and Sydney A. Clark, Hazelton, was named a new member of the committee, replacing J. E. Pool, Hazelton. Other members of the committee include Lloyd J. Williams, Hazelton; Robert L. Hawley, both of Jerome.

Plans for the new fiscal year will be taken over by the county FSA committee for the new fiscal year which began July 1. It will be an inventory of community and individual borrower needs for Farm Security loans and services, Mr. Bannan said.

This will provide the basis for the future of the FSA program to meet local farm conditions both in terms of individual, community and county needs.

All FSA loan applications for operating goods, water facilities, crop services and farm ownership are reviewed and approved by the committee to make the best possible use of available credit and management techniques, reported Bannan. Funds appropriated for the new year provide about the same amount for rehabilitation loans as last year, but farm ownership loans will be heavily curtailed in different areas.

Work of the county FSA committee has been largely responsible for the local accomplishments of the program. It is hoped that the time and thought they have given to the program will add further to the welfare of local production and farm acres of every community.

ON THE SPORT FRONT

Y-Baseball

Y-Baseball players have the pleasure of seeing the great Negro league players in the field. This is the first time that the company of athletes who erected a magnificent park for night baseball in its town discovered early that their investment wouldn't pay the bill for the cost of the new attraction.

Consequently when the Harlem Globes Trotters played the House of Davids at Javere park on the night of Aug. 16, it was the homecoming day for the players, not because he has learned that the Harlem Globes Trotters will be the first Negro team to be selected for the Negro league.

That player, George "Chip" McAllister, who is a professional is now, one of the greatest players in Negro baseball. He ranks right up with "Doc" Cramer, Sam Rice, "Shoeless" Jose, and a number of others, who would be pitching major league baseball right now. It is a great honor for the color of their skin.

This greatest word pitcher has a full voice with a terrific speed and a lightning drop ball. He is a right hander, an all-around player situated behind a great lever at the conference of the Negro Club and Mississippi river.

Later he was with the Memphis Red Sox in the Negro National League. He was a pitcher for the St. Louis Stars of the same circuit.

If YOSS's memory isn't playing him tricks, he believes he saw McAllister hold a team together in Negro baseball, and major leagues to three hits and strike out 16 of them. He is a right hander, a pitcher, a fielder, and a player.

So, if it's McAllister's turn to pitch, he will be a great pitcher in action. He will be a great pitcher in action, because he is a right hander, a pitcher, a fielder, and a player.

Also, they're doing something for the kids in the field. It may be used for the Negro league, but that fact alone will be well worth the trip to the park.

Service Men To See Fight

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—Fifty-eight Negro soldiers, including 14 from the 8888 Central Postal Directory, are expected to see a fight between the Harlem Globes Trotters and the Memphis Red Sox at Javere park on the night of Aug. 16.

The Globes Trotters are expected to see a fight between the Harlem Globes Trotters and the Memphis Red Sox at Javere park on the night of Aug. 16.

Each was granted a furlough from army duty to participate in the fight.

Bear Met on Trip Bringing Daily Fish Limit

Shooting elephants with arrows? That's the experience of one of the men on a fishing trip up the Snake river.

Red Lead, 100 Lincoln Avenue, assistant manager of the Amalgamated Fish and Game Company, thought it would be a good idea to shoot elephants, but he didn't get a chance.

All I had was a 22 caliber revolver. I took a shot in the air at the bear to frighten him away from the camp, and all he did was to come around, smile at me and then sit on a log and eat.

Least, though, did not ask me to come in to fishing. "I caught the fish every day," he said. "There were plenty of every kind."

A girl softball team is being organized here at the Youth center to meet a challenge put to Twin Falls girls and women by the Idaho girls softball team.
