

CROP CONDITIONS GOOD FOR IDAHO

BOISE, Aug. 18.—July rainfall was light over Idaho, but conditions were generally favorable for crop growth and for harvesting of such crops as were mature. Production prospects for potatoes, apples, peaches and cherries improved during the month, though slight declines were noted for some hay and barley.

It is indicated that the state's overall crop production will be high this year. The winter wheat crop is estimated to be the second largest in record, barley the third highest, dry beans fourth, dry peas second and potatoes second.

Spud Progress Good
The potato crop made good progress especially in eastern Idaho where nearly two-thirds of the acreage is planted this year. The crop is still late and the final outcome will depend more than usual upon the time killing frosts are received. Yields of early potatoes in the southwestern district were generally disappointing, due to freeze damage in May.

The bean crop is also late and growers in the important south central counties are fearful that many of their fields may not mature before killing frosts occur. Consequently they expect the lowest yields for very small crops. However, the crop is still indicated to be the second largest in record. The north Idaho crop has suffered from the dry July.

Prospects Bright
Improved prospects for dry peas in southern and eastern Idaho were offset by some damage in the north. Early planted fields are suffering from heat and dry weather. Grain prospects are bright in nearly all parts of the state and near record yields are in prospect. Fruit crops other than apple and cherry improved during July. July crop production, estimated by the state department, was about 4 per cent larger than in July 1943.

With so many things in the world come any it is a welcome change to see an excellent example of teamwork. A monument to just such teamwork can be seen by following the Coeur d'Alene highway five and half miles south and west of Buhl. There, on the left hand side of the road is a large, unimpaired building. To an uninitiated passer-by it would appear to be just such an unimpaired building. To someone who is familiar with the history of the structure it is a symbol of something truly American.

Originally it is called the Fairview Grange hall. Actually it is the product of many weeks of perfect cooperation on the part of the Grange members. To begin with the hall was one of the best buildings erected in Buhl. It served its purpose as a schoolhouse in its youth and later became a local landmark and fire hazard.

After the Grangers bought the building it was used only a matter of days before it was reduced to piles of lumber. These were transported to the present site. At that time on the present hall developed. It is a building made up of a large front hall, a full sized basement, and an attractive reception room. It represents months of hard work, unaided between the Grangers regular duties. Now, after more than a year of usage, it stands as many of the things our boys are fighting for overseas in the war: leadership, democratic meetings, and many boys or leaders in the enjoyable company of friends. This is truly an accomplishment of which any American may well be proud.

Straw Scatterer Beats Machine Shortage

This home made straw scatterer, constructed from an old automobile rear end, has proved very successful and was one of the few which successfully scattered peas and bean straw—(Photo by soil conservation service staff engraving).

The above picture shows one of the many farmers who are using to beat the shortage of farm machinery. It has been used very successfully by farmers to scatter peas, beans or bean straw, says Luther Jones, district conservationist, soil conservation service.

From a conservation standpoint, there are a number of advantages in returning all possible plant residue to the soil. Straw from peas, beans or grain that is left on the land adds plant food for higher production of future crops. The straw scatterer will scatter the plant residue evenly over the field so that it can be worked into the top soil. It is a surprising how effective even a thin layer of straw worked into the top soil will be in keeping the land from blowing or washing during the non-crop season. It will also help to keep the organic matter in the soil built up. Soils containing plenty of organic matter are more fertile because of the increased bacterial action which helps to release nutrients which can be taken up by the crops.

The organic matter also provides "body" in the soil and gives it that spongy open effect which causes it to hold better under irrigation and to retain the moisture longer. This type of soil does not bake or run together after irrigation and it also plows better.

Straw from beans and peas that is not needed for feed will return big dividends if scattered evenly over the fields and worked into the top soil. The soil scatterer is expected to continue to produce high yields if everything is taken off and nothing put back.

Hemsley Bows Out as Yank

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Holt Hemsley bowed out of baseball for the duration and probably for keeps Thursday, with a personal vote of thanks for a job well done from President Ed Barrow of the New York Yankees.

Rolling back and forth to the rolling and settled down to consistent everyday big league catching when Joe McCarthy rescued him from the discard pile an hour of need, was induced into the navy this morning.

Aside from a brief announcement the first time he came to the plate there were no farewell ceremonies for Hemsley but President Barrow earlier took time to praise the 37-year-old veteran as a "true blue Yankee" in a personal pre-game talk in his office.

McCarthy had a warm spot in his heart for the durable catcher who performed with six big league clubs during his 17-year play in the big show. Hemsley had done two turns with Cincinnati and one each with Pittsburgh and Chicago in the National and St. Louis and Cleveland in the American when he was traded, his unconditional release by the Reds on July 17, 1942.

Buddy Roser picked a torrid July 19th week-end with a Sunday double-header coming up to leave the Yankees and rush home for Buffalo to take a police force examination. McCarthy, grasping for anything, welcomed Hemsley's free agent.

McCarthy caught both ends of a twin bill and almost collapsed from heat and exhaustion in the fifth but made himself a place on the New York payroll that has been good for two world series allies.

Browns Increase Lead to Seven Games by Defeating A's as Red Sox and Tigers Tie

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns resumed their march toward the American league pennant by bunting their hits for a 10-5 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday.

The 15 hits the Browns smote off Joe Florio, Carl Schein and Woody Watson included Vernon Stricker's 13th home run of the year. The wallop touched off a four-run rally that derided Schein in the seventh inning.

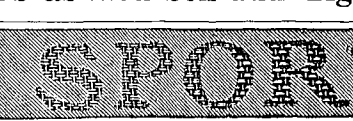

Nelson Miller, a former McKean coach, led his 12th victory of the year, and his first over the Athletics, although he needed help from George Custer in the ninth.

The Browns scored a run in the first and added two in the fourth when Miller and Schein and Watson worked a double play of singles by Mark Christman and Potter.

In the fifth, Stricker and Brown shared and both scored on a double by Ed Gartin, Christman and Miller, and a wild pitch produced the seventh inning scores. Potter doubled and Miller drove in the ninth.

Baker, playing second because of a hurt left hand, had a stiff right arm and a double and two strikes led Dutch to the same for the first time.

At home, the Athletics had a 2-1 lead in the first and added two in the second and a third in the third. The Browns scored a run in the fourth when Miller and Schein and Watson worked a double play of singles by Mark Christman and Potter.

The teams separated by only a half game, will play a one-dayer tomorrow.

The Red Sox lead the American league by seven games.

At home, the Tigers had a 2-1 lead in the first and added two in the second and a third in the third. The Browns scored a run in the fourth when Miller and Schein and Watson worked a double play of singles by Mark Christman and Potter.

Byrd, Wood Lose in PGA

SPRINGFIELD, Wash., Aug. 18 (AP)—While the two tournament hot shots breezed through to easy victories, two other name players were tumbled in the second round of the 1944 national P. G. A. golf championship.

Byron Nelson, Toledo, O., and Harold G. Hoge, Philadelphia, Pa., were the former walloping Mark P. O'Connor, 7 to 0, and Fred Hunter, 7 to 0, in the first round.

Their wins were expected, therefore it was just so much routine, but the dumping of duration of the Open Champion, Gabe Wood of St. Paul, Minn., and Sam Byrd, Detroit, Mich., furnished the thrill for a gallery that numbered more than 3,000 fans.

Art Bell, Inky San Francisco power hitter, ousted Wood by a 3 to 2 count. It was to make sure that the 2 and 1 win posted for Charles Cramer, Tacoma, Wash., over Byrd, the ex-New York Yankee outfielder, Byrd and Wood, incidentally, are the third and fourth highest money winners for the year, trailing McPadden and Nelson.

Tobin Gives 14 Hits but Wins

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Jim Tobin was combed for 14 hits Thursday, but secured his 14th victory as the Boston Braves routed the Chicago Cubs pitchers for a 7 to 5 triumph that ended the series at a game apiece.

The Braves making 15 hits, disposed of Bob Chapman in the second inning and Eddie Haysowski in the fifth, continuing against Bill Plummer in that frame until they had batted up five runs.

Chapman, who had been the Braves' ace pitcher, was hit for four runs in the second inning and was hit for four runs in the fifth.

Bruins' Opening Game To Be Against Pirates

Coach Hank Powers last night announced that his Twin Falls Bruins would open their season at Lincoln field on the night of Sept. 1, a week earlier than he intended to open the schedule—with the Rupert Pirates as opponents.

The Bruins will take the place of the Twin Falls Bruins who were originally down on the Rupert schedule for the Sept. 1 date. However, it is not known whether they will be able to find a team this season to complete the lack of a coach. Duke said that Coach Hays was anxious to complete his schedule for the season.

The Pirates and Bruins both will put practically new teams on the gridiron. The Bruins will have only two lettermen back with Coach Hays will be compelled to fashion a team around a single letterman.

We Wish Becker's Beer Were as Plentiful as It Is Popular

But, friends, the best we can do is to go right on brewing as much of this fine product as wartime restrictions on materials and labor will permit. So long as there is not enough Becker's American Pilsener Beer to go around, be assured we will continue to do our level best to see that the limited supply is equitably distributed to beverage dealers and to you. We would make more beer if we could, but we couldn't make Becker's better however hard we tried!
