JAPS REVEAL SIX ADMIRALS KILLED IN YANK ASSAULT

By The Associated Press
Six Japanese admirals were killed by "revenge" attacks on the U.S. Navy's base guarding the entrance to Tokyo's harbor, a Japanese broadcast reported today.

The "revenge action" may have been the shelling of an American submarine. Tokyo radio has previously reported submarines operating in waters near the Japanese coast. There have been no announced allied bombing attacks on Japan since Sept. 3, when Gen. Douglas MacArthur's raiders struck in 1942.

The announcement of the loss of a submarine and the shelling of a submarine was broadcast as the Japanese diet opened an extraordinary session to hear the war situation report from Premier Gen. Kuniaki Koiso.

His report tomorrow should include the increasing threat to the Philippines brought by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's bombers who knocked out more than 100 Japanese ships and targeted in one approach to the Philippines Japan and Monday.

Typical of land attacks on China was MacArthur's report today of the elimination of nearly 1,000 more Japanese by American and Australian troops on New Guinea.

No Resistance
No Japanese resistance was encountered in southwestern Burma. Indian troops pushed 10 miles closer to the Thai-Burmese border.

They have been pushing out for more than 30 miles along the banks of the Salween River. Allied planes pounded Japanese lines throughout southeast Asia.

Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell reported a heavy American bombardment of Kyang in southeast China, including tank attacks to the U.S. 5th Army at Lanchow, China. On the central coast, within bombing range of Japan, Japanese navy ships from captured Lanchow to the coast of Manchow.

SEIZURE OF PORTS
TRI-CITY STRIKE
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 6 (AP)—A threatened walkout of 64,000 workers in the plants of the Republic of Steel and Cleveland was averted today by the government seizure of the plants.

The seizure was made by the U.S. Army and Navy, which had been idle for 10 days because of a strike by 10,000 workers in the Republic of Steel.

Men Will Work
Matthew Smith, national secretary of the Mechanical Workers' Union of America and chief of the union, said he had been seen at the union members would work as long as the army retained control of the plants.

He said that a strike by the agency section of the NLRB's executive would be held today but would discuss moves to be taken should the two plants be returned to their owners.

Discharge to Be Rotated When Nazi Surrender

By WILLIAM FRYE
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Plans for a limited start at demobilizing America's huge army soon after Germany's defeat—based in part on the solicited suggestions of fighting G. I. Joes—were announced today by the war department.

Because of the continuing war with Japan, releases of troops from service at first will be slow and steady in number. The army cautioned soldiers and the public that the war with Japan will take "first priority" in military calculations and shipping.

The priority system will govern the release of the relatively small number of men to be demobilized under these conditions. The four factors will be calculated in this manner:

1. Service credit, based on the number of months of army service since Sept. 16, 1940, when the draft law became effective.
2. Overseas credit, based on the number of months overseas.

3. Combat credit, based on each award of the congressional medal of honor, distinguished service cross, medal of merit, silver star, distinguished service cross, or other combat credit, based on the number of months overseas.

4. Credits for each dependent child under 18, up to three children. Most of the reduction in total strength will occur in the "round force," with considerably more mobilization of air and service forces, which will be needed in greater proportion in the Pacific.

YOUTH FAIR OPENS AT
FILER; RODEO TONIGHT
FILER, Sept. 6—Annual 4-H and F.F.A. fair, being held in conjunction with the Twin Falls county rodeo which has its first showing at 8:30 p. m. today, opened at the fairgrounds this morning.

Boys and girls livestock was being shown today. The fair was held at the fairgrounds of the county. The rodeo will be held at the fairgrounds of the county.

On Industry
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—"Absolutely essential to assure the continued measure of production necessary to beat Japan," are to be removed immediately upon Germany's surrender.

After producing what is needed for the war effort, the government will have virtually a free hand in resuming civilian production.

A policy of allowing manufacturers to make "whatever people want," without restriction from Washington, was outlined today by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI.

Designs of the globe's exhibits will be made. The exhibit will be held at the fairgrounds of the county. The exhibit will be held at the fairgrounds of the county.

BOMBERS STRAFE
RETREATING FOE
"LONDON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Sixty 100 G. heavy bombers flying from Italy bombed concentrations of German troops retreating from below the Danube today, along with naval retreat routes in the Balkans.

They struck with great force on the German retreat routes, which were being used by the German army to retreat from the Danube. The German army was being forced to retreat from the Danube.

Patton Massing for Smashing Assault as Yanks Cross Moselle

By VIRGIL FINLEY
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Sept. 6 (UP)—American combat troops have invaded German soil for the first time in history at an undisclosed point and have smashed across the Moselle river in a drive toward the Siegfried line which a staff officer said today the allies "of course" can break.

United States patrols stabbed across the German border into the Nazi homeland and returned to France after a scouting mission as Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton massed his third army for coming blows at the Siegfried line. Only after the armistice did Americans cross the Rhine for the first time.

On the opposite wing of the western front, the battle of the channel ports whirled toward a climax. Canadian troops reached the coast on both sides of Calais, clumping a pincers on the town, swarmed into the outskirts of Boulogne, and struck within some 20 miles of Dunkerque.

Nazi Shift Back
United Press Correspondent Robert C. Richards reported from the front that the German army's resistance had stiffened as the American thrust through the Moselle river, apparently in the Pons-Mouson area midway between Metz and Nancy.

Supreme headquarters cautioned against taking the patrol thrust into Germany to mean that the assault on the Nazi homeland had begun. Headquarters broadcast to foreign nations in Germany, however, said that "the collapse of the German armistice in the west means that battles soon will be fought on German soil."

Information lacking
Lacking official information, it was believed the American frontier crossing was made somewhere in the area of Tuller, just south of Luxembourg.

By forcing the Moselle the American thrust into Germany and the countering increased resistance, a senior staff officer made the "unofficial" statement.

"Of course the allies can break the Siegfried line—the primary defense belt of Germany proper."

Concurrent with the official assertion that Patton's operations still were in the initial stage and countering increased resistance, a senior staff officer made the "unofficial" statement.

PROBE LOOMS ON BALCONY BATTLE

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Los Angeles county grand jury today expressed an interest in how screen star Jon Hall got his nose cut in a fight with a woman, and whether he was involved in the battle of Dorothy Dorn's balcony early in the morning.

The grand jury said it wanted to find out how Hall got his nose cut on a flower pot, as Dorn's contention of being got, so the grand jury wanted to find out how the balcony railing.

They said the battle started when Hall returned to his apartment for a party belonging to Jane Churchill, which the singer mistook when she left a party at the band-leader's home a few minutes previous.

Hall, Dorn's said, patted his wife, the beautiful Pat Drake, like no lady could be patted, and that touched off the brawl. Hall, on the other hand, said he only patted her on the shoulder, nothing for Dorn to get mad about.

From there, according to principals, things happened so rapidly that it was impossible to keep track of developments.

Hall said he was jumped by someone wielding a knife and a broken bottle and nearly lost the end of his nose. Dorn insisted that he must have injured it on a granite pot.

New Hebrides Isles of Thick Jungle, Mud, Pests, Says Vet

By MARTINA YEITZER
BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 6 (AP)—Kenneth W. Smith, a specialist in tropical diseases, said today that the New Hebrides is the only place in the world where you can walk through mud and still have dust blowing in your face. The dust comes from the volcanic ash and the roads which are built of coral. As it rains practically every day in these tropical islands, the nearby jungles never dry out.

"New Hebrides is all jungle," he explained. "You can fly completely over the islands and never see the ground level except for the streams and beaches, and the occasional top of a mountain. There are a number of volcanoes there, but only one seems to be half-way active. One island has two lakes in the mountain country."

"Only a few white people were on New Hebrides when we arrived, and they were mostly French. The natives are small of stature and very black and primitive. They fish and hunt for their food. They have a number of small gardens of tropical vegetables. In the interior, some of the head-hunting tribes still exist, but they only hunt heads when warring with each other, and are no danger to white men."

ARTHUR KENNETH W. SMITH

"The world. Those huge snakes can be dangerous, too, and you have to watch your step when venturing into the jungle. There seems to be every kind of insect known to man there, too. It's a hot and muggy climate—ideal conditions for the breeding of all kinds of pests."

"When I first arrived on the islands, the native women were cheap, and some of them were very good. But they soon raised their prices. Towards the last, nothing was less than $10-dollars (five dollars) and the workmanship was inferior. You couldn't judge them, even though they sold very little as the boys would stand for the hold-up, and stopped buying."

"Are there any wild animals there?"

"Principally wild birds, which the natives eat. They are about the size of a good-sized hen, and can be dangerous," he showed us a long, thin, white-looking snake that he said he had brought home as a souvenir.

Where Frank Buck Caught Snake

"I was on the island where Frank Buck caught the largest python in the world."

DRISKELL PAIR TO STAND TRIAL

Arthur and Beale Driskell, Portland couple charged with forgery, both waived preliminary hearings Wednesday. Each was bound over to the full term of the district court under $500 bail provided by friends.

Arthur C. Driskell, 34, of Portland, was represented by W. L. Dunn, Twin Falls attorney. Mrs. Driskell requested the trial time for deciding whether or not she wanted a preliminary hearing when arraigned Tuesday. Her husband made the decision for her.

The woman, who is accused of passing fictitious checks in five Idaho cities, is said by police to have passed four checks for $25.35 in Twin Falls under a fictitious name through made payable to herself. She pleaded guilty in probate court at Idaho Falls to passing a check and was sentenced to 30 days in the Bonneville county jail. Sentence was suspended so that the pair could be returned to Twin Falls for trial on the felony count.

Neither posted the $500 bail and both were remanded to the custody of Sheriff Warren W. Lowery.

When to Put out A Fire? Farmer Faced Dilemma

When is one supposed to put out a fire? That question was asked last night by a farmer who owned a small farm near the town of Twin Falls when a fire broke out in his barn.

Collier called John N. Orin, a local fireman, to the scene. Orin, who is the owner of the fire insurance company, said that if the fire could be put out without risk of the whole contained exploding, he would not put it out.

Orin did not know. No one seemed to know. So the farmer burned at a cost of 45 cents a gallon while Orin waited with fingers crossed. The tank was "pumped" on a truck at the Collier place.

Orin added: "Always around these containers with a chain before opening them and no one will get hurt."

JURY HOLDS AREA DRAFT VIOLATORS

BOISE, Sept. 6. (AP)—A federal grand jury indicted 14 men today, mostly on selective service violations, and four of those accused pleaded innocent before federal District Judge Charles A. Smith.

The indictments included four men charged with failing to register for the draft. One of the men, a resident of the Minidoka relocation center, was charged with failing to register for the draft.

Smith said the indictments were filed in the federal court at Boise. The men were charged with failing to register for the draft.

Dec. Set as Deadline for Domestic Christmas Mailing

All Christmas parcels addressed to any place in the United States must be mailed by Dec. 15, according to the Postmaster General, M. A. Runk announced Wednesday.

This ruling has no effect on the overseas mailing dates—Sept. 15 to Dec. 15.

Mailings should begin in November and must be deposited in the post office by Dec. 15. The deadline for domestic mailings is Dec. 15.

The information from the postmaster general's office, received by the local postal authorities, declared that "the necessity for mailing earlier than heretofore is most important in the case of parcels."

Parcels may be marked "Do Not Open Until Christmas," and caution must be exercised to insure that the parcels are not opened.

Business concerns and department stores are being asked by the postal department to cooperate in urging the public to ship and mail parcels earlier.

The Life of EISENHOWER

First Biography of America's Great General

Copyright, 1944, Ann Woodward Miller. Distributed, NEA Service, Inc.

THE END OF THE WORLD

XXVI
The fall of Mussolini and the surrender of Italy were but the prelude to the great drama soon to be played out on the stage of history.

Seventeen days after the collapse of Italy, and timed with the Italian surrender, the curtain rose for the next act.

The German invaders must now be driven from the Italian mainland. Eisenhower knew the axis were reviving on but one hope in Europe, would throw all the forces it could rally against the allies in an attempt to keep the battleground in Italy, rather than to fight on German soil.

But the war in the air upset his plan. Germany was being devastated by British and American bombers based on England. Berlin was already in ruins. Every large city in Germany was in shambles, millions were homeless.

The invasion of Europe through Italy was begun. The veterans of the British eighth army, which had fought its way across the African desert, stormed across the Straits of Messina into the toe of Italy on Sept. 3, 1943. With them were the doughy Canadians. They landed on the west coast of the province of Calabria in the Marina di Gioia del Colle.

From the first, the Allies met umbrella and pulverizing bombardments from air, sea, and land. Powerful aerial forces were advancing up the attack along the Italian coast. American and British ships sank high explosives into key targets.

Eisenhower threw a stream of reinforcements and supplies across the Straits of Messina. American Commandos troops established their footholds. Allied planes bombed the Italian battle lines and the German rear.

After the battle, the Allies moved forward. Gen. Mark Clark, American commander of the Fifth Army, informed Eisenhower, "We have arrived at our initial objective and the beachhead is secure. Additional troops are landing every day, and we are here to stay. Not one foot of ground will be given up."

In the fifth army were many Italian-American boys whose fathers had come from the villages, towns and cities of Italy. They were cheering, Salerno, Salerno, Salerno. They were cheering along the coastal road skirting Mount Vesuvius, and breaking through the mountainous hinterland, led by British tanks, they entered Naples on Oct. 1, shortly before dawn, 22 days after landing on the beachhead below Salerno.

The scene before them was one of desolation. The city had been devastated by fire and explosions. Smoke and clouds hung low over the mountains.

The harbor was full of wreckage. The city was a mass of ruins. The Americans and British as their liberators.

The name of Eisenhower to these beleaguered people assumed a greatness equal to that of Garibaldi. There was singing once more in the streets of Naples and the hills of the gulches.

These peace-loving folk, who had been victims of the machinations of Mussolini and Hitler, could laugh again. They greeted Americans, who had come to help drive the Nazis from their sacred soil, as brothers.

Eisenhower's boys looked up in wonderment at the grim Mt. Vesuvius growing and growling in the distance. Huge clouds of smoke and flame poured from its crater.

The grumbling volcano, rising through the acacia, seemed to resent mere humans engaged in warfare. Peasants prophesied that old Vesuvius would yet enter World War II, as a victor, and exclaim:

"Better cut out that back-fence gossip and get back to your machine, Mrs. Jones!"

"What do you want to look like today, Mrs. Jones? A grandmother, mother, or daughter?"

"I don't know, but I want to look like a woman."

"I don't know, but I want to look like a woman."

"I don't know, but I want to look like a woman."
