Break in Siegfried Line Victims as Yanks Follow Tanks Deeper Into Reich

LONDON, Oct. 4 (AP)—American tanks tumbled today into a 2 1/2 mile breach torn in Germany's Siegfried line above Aachen and fanned out, bringing their guns and armor into support of a doughboy drive against backstop defenses guarding Cologne.

The first army smash had carried two miles into Germany itself, AP Correspondent Don Whitehead reported. Supreme headquarters earlier declared the drive had carried three miles beyond Ubach, a mile inside the frontier, to one of the enemy's main escape roads above Aachen.

Infantrymen had torn the broadening hole in the westwall defenses, beating off three German counter-blasts.

U. S. third army men 126 miles to the south fought as bitterly at Fort Donat, strongest of the ring of fortresses guarding the Supreme headquarters announced capture of the fort, but a later front dispatch said doughboys were clinging to surface positions in the fort, which is honeycombed by tunnels, against increasingly furious enemy resistance.

The Americans broke into the fort on the Moselle river's west bank after a two-day battle, and now try to exploit the breach by driving into tunnels to underground fortifications in the area. Their units captured Mafzes in Metz, seven miles north of Metz.

The U. S. third army, again at Aachen fought with air and artillery support to widen their new breach. Their units captured Mafzes in Metz, seven miles north of Metz.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 4 (AP)—Trial of 31 "fundamentalists" charged on polygamy continued today with testimony by another defense witness. The trial is expected to continue for several days. The defense attorneys are expected to call a number of witnesses to testify to the "special mission" by which the church was organized to "try to save young people from the clutches of this cult."

Defense attorneys said they desired to question Peter concerning his testimony into the private doings and affairs of these defendants, and to question the "special mission" to which he was named. "Fundamentalist" cult members contend they are following original Mormon doctrine in refusing to recognize the 1890 church manifesto which outlawed polygamy.

Efficient attorneys testified for the defense yesterday. They told of attending the trial in Salt Lake City and said they heard little or no talk of plural marriage.

Several acknowledged, however, that polygamy was discussed and one of them, Charles W. Peterson, Salt Lake City trucker, said "I'd just be lying if I said I didn't hear it talked about."

Wayman insisted that plural marriage was discussed "just anything else." The witness, who said his marriage is the wife of Janthus Winford Barlow, a defendant, and that he is a brother-in-law of a fourth, told of hearing John Yates Barlow, 70-year-old cult president, also a defendant, tell three years ago of a premonition of trouble.

Forensic Trouble
He said Barlow told a July, 1941, meeting that he felt "I was going to be lots of trials and trouble."

The testimony trial is the first resulting from a worldwide investigation of plural marriage. The trial is to be submitted to a jury. Federal court convictions of eight men and women on white slavery, kidnapping charges and district court convictions of 15 men on charges of unlawful cohabitation were obtained in "paper" trials with the president judge reviewing evidence submitted in written statements.

DRUG CUTS DOWN ON WINTER ILLS

BY HOWARD W. BLANKENHORN
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—From 15 to 20 per cent of winter common respiratory diseases have been prevented in more than 800,000 service men by use of a small daily dose of sulfadiazine.

This is the longest medical step yet made toward turning winter into summer, as to diseases, and was reported to the American Public Health association today by Cmdr. John H. Blum, M. D., of the Army and Air Corps, and Capt. Richard C. Hodges, M. D., of the Army Air Corps, at Ft. Belvoir, St. Louis, Mo.

"In the navy more than 600,000 men were given this sulfadiazine preventive in the army air corps 500,000. In both groups large numbers of men were given the drug to compare with and validate the sulfadiazine. In both groups the results were almost identical."

Scarlet fever and strep throat were reduced by 50 per cent. All other streptococcal infections were similarly reduced. Meningitis was wiped out in some camps and reduced in almost every other where. Rheumatic fever and pneumonia dropped markedly.

Furthermore, the ability of the streptococcus bacteria to spread from one center to another was virtually stopped. Before the sulfadiazine use, virulent infections had been carried from the United States to navy centers in distant parts of the world.

Colds Cut Down
The common cold and other respiratory infections were also strikingly decreased. But there is a puzzle concerning the common cold. Neither report is sure that the cold reductions were due to the sulfadiazine.

Colds are supposed to be caused by a virus, rather than by germs. Both reports agreed that sulfadiazine apparently does not affect the virus. Captain Hodges suggested that the apparent improvement in colds could be due to the sulfadiazine knocking out the germs which usually become active and cause some misery in addition to the cold virus.

Disguise Fails

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Edward N. Schellering, 26-year-old newly-elected commander of the American Legion, went to work at headquarters today for the first time and predicted there would be as many as six million Legionnaires within a few years after World War II.

The commander, at a press conference, announced the Legion has drafted plans for what he termed "the world's largest 'children's party' with approximately 500,000 Christmas gifts to go to disabled, wounded and sick service men and women—in government hospitals throughout the nation."

The commander, an Albany, N. Y., lawyer, said the program would require the cooperation of 12,000 Legion posts, the 8,400 units of the auxiliary, other thousands of the Legion and the nation's retail stores.

Gift boxes, to be purchased by individuals under the program, would be forwarded by retail stores to local Legion posts which, in turn, would present the gifts at Christmas ceremonies in veterans' hospitals.

Surplus gift boxes in any one locality, Schellering said, would be forwarded to the next closest hospital so that no service man or woman in a hospital on Christmas day will be without a 'Yule box'.
