Nimitz had timed his surprise climax with a delicate sense of surprise. The Pearl Harbor correspondent wrote the story with the chronological development. He had not counted upon speedy transcontinental transmission of his first sentences before the denouement was received.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—I have said before that President Roosevelt is the most sane of American leaders.

While many of the protesters in the crowd were young, many were not. In fact, many were older than the protesters in the crowd. In fact, many were older than the protesters in the crowd. In fact, many were older than the protesters in the crowd.

While many of the protesters in the crowd were young, many were not. In fact, many were older than the protesters in the crowd. In fact, many were older than the protesters in the crowd. In fact, many were older than the protesters in the crowd.

Read this excerpt from an emergency appeal for electricians to work on a vital, secret war construction job near Knoxville, Tenn. This vast plant is

And yet, in this almost hysterical appeal for detritidians, issued on behalf of the army, this paragraph appeared:

"Union requirements: Men must have been fighting in the war."

Apply for membership in local A.F. & electrical union. Initiation fee of $50 is paid $ down and $1 a day, when payment is completed, men then take union examination for electrician. If he fails test initiation fee will be returned, but he will continue to work."

Here, the ostensibly free American is imposed to give up his home and have his family crowded into barracks and work on a job to sustain the war and possibly save the life of his own son. Yet, as a first condition, he must give up $100 in tribute of $30 to a pocket licensed by one of Roosevelt's political acolytes.

When payment is completed, men are given a nominal "allowance" of $100. The "bargain" is not a bargain and a few lackluster gestures and not a man has spent as much as an hour in jail for so much extortion because Mr. Roosevelt is pleased with the result.

Do these victims "bargain collectively" through agents of their own free choice, as they are promised? No. They are not free to act! The appeal of the U. S. Government is to force them into employment service in the present campaign.

Plainly says the bargain already made. The American is not free to act!

Why? There men have to be qualified. And the question here they can be hired for "emergency" work" for men to complete an "urgent army plan" addressed to "elections" and "the war." The "war" is the war the Ind. Inst. after "payment is completed" the worker must take a job at the hands of a private organization. The "war" is the war men holding an extortion license issued by another private organization.

However, does anyone think the union excludes any flunkies of any kind? If so, the newspapers are urgently required to print a notice in their "help wanted, male" columns warning American labor that "all males over 16 may be hired only upon referral by or through arrangements with the U. S. F. B. and the U. S. A."

these men and give them the $50 per head? That isn't the way these unions have been working their racket under Mr. Roosevelt's privilege in this war. They never give up a dollar once it has been wrung from the victim.

Does anyone think Mr. Roosevelt, given four more years, would abolish these "controls" over the work and life and freedom of American "labors" as he calls the American workers and 50 permanent local members, that means that the per-

He has never yet given up a single "control" once it has been established.

UNIFORMS MADE TAX DEDUCTIBLE

By TOM REEDY
WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The gold braids boys of the army and navy got a break today from "Dink" Burt's income tax collection.

The internal revenue bureau ruled that uniforms, hats, shoes, socks, chin straps and other duds are a "legitimate business expense" and thus deductible on tax returns. It represents quite an item.

Many Uniforms
Take an admiral, for instance. He dells up in about 75 bucks worth of gold braid every time he gets up in the morning unless he's at battle around a carrier. He's got to get around on jungle beaches. He may have as many as eight or 10 uniforms.

A heavy lieutenant commander who offers his case as typical says he has spent $1,000 in four years on uniforms and probably 10 or 15 per cent of that was for these articles.

Just those little stars on the sleeve cost $2.50 a pair. When a navy man gets to rank of captain, he wears a cap with special scrolls on the visor—known to every sailor as "scratched eggs" and that costs $18.

No No Choice
There isn't any choice about either... an officer wears what the book says until he gets to such a high position he can rewrite the book.

The tax ruling covers changes in uniforms brought about by promotion. But only just four uniformed officers will tell you they're some times scared to death of promotion because they don't have the dough to look the part.

AT THE USO Center

Persons having rooms which they will rent to servicemen, are requested to notify the USO at their earliest convenience.

Mr. J. L. Dean, a USO center hostess, tells this anecdote. An aviator stationed at the Mountain Home Airbase, said in his address book, "The Lord is on the soldier's side, at least part of the time," and gave this as his reason for so believing.

"God Will Not Forget These Names"

1,500 Bow Heads in Tribute at Solemn Honor-Roll Dedication

By O. A. KELLER
Around 1,500 Twin Falls residents bowed their heads in tribute to the names of 1,500 American soldiers and sailors whose names appear on the honor roll at the dedication of the honor roll at the local USO center Monday night.

The honor-roll dedication came in solemn tribute to all listed and the 33 boys who have a gold star before their names, indicative they have given their lives for their country.

Rev. Rice, Herman C. Rice, pastor of the Baptist church, who told the listeners that the names would all too soon be forgotten by men, but added:

"Let us strive to have our names and the names of our loved ones inscribed in God's book of memory."

Rev. Rice said that each family will remember their loved ones for faithful service to the nation in time of need.

But for the community to remember is another matter, and far more difficult. Therefore this honor-roll has been erected to keep before the eyes of all the names who have given their full measure of devotion, and those who are just as willing to make the supreme sacrifice it called upon to do so.

"I should like to call attention to the fact that we are incapable of grasping the full significance of such a large number as represented on this honor-roll. Few if any will stop to count them, to say nothing of listening over each name, long enough to really remember, as many of you are doing now, and look at the entire list."

God Can Realize
"Fortunate are we indeed that there is one who can take them all in, one by one, and that is God."

"... two years, 10 years and we are forgotten. This has been true of nations. How many people do you remember? A few will remember their great-grandparents, more will remember their grandparents."

Man's Memory Short
"But there are some who do not even remember their own parents. 'In my turn will all too soon be forgotten.' Therefore, let us strive to have our names and the names of our loved ones inscribed in God's book of memory. To insure that our purpose we dedicate this honor roll."

Way to End Wars
The other principal speaker at the dedication was Harry Benoit, local attorney and American Legion member who is now judge advocate for the department. The board was erected through cooperation of the Legion and the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Benoit called for an end to all wars. "This war must, and will in fact, be the war to end wars for all time to come," Benoit said. "There must be no compromise, no negotiated peace."

He said that as much as we want these boys and girls named on this board to come home, we, as good Americans, know that they must not come until the job has been done.

He called for the punishment, tempered with justice, of the Germans and Japanese responsible for this war, and added:

"We cannot be soft and sympathetic."

Vets Shall Have Jobs
He asked Americans to do their full part in victory comes and said that upon their return, the veterans "shall have jobs and every consideration to which they are justly entitled."

Also speaking briefly at the ceremony were Jack Thorpe, commander of the local post of the American Legion; Verne Moser, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; and Jay Hill, one of the Jaycees.

Invocation was by the Rev. H. O. McCallister of the Methodist church, while benediction was by the Rev. C. L. Clark, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Mark C. Cronberger, pastor of the Christian church, was master of ceremonies. James C. Reynolds was in charge of community singing, and musical numbers featured the high school band and the high school chorus.

The band was under the direction of Charles Baskin, and the chorus was led by Miss Frances Februn.

During his brief talk, Mr. Thorpe praised the work of Herb Smith, of the American Legion post, and Harry Benoit, of the Jaycees, in making erection of the board possible.

Members of the color guard, from the Rupert camp were T/Sgt. L. J. Bandura, Sgt. Gay T. Hanley and Sgt. Gordon R. Bennett.

The program was arranged by Larry J. Hall, Jaycee member.

RAILROAD LABOR SHORTAGE GROWS

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 10 (AP)—Lack of manpower on railroads in the eight western states revealed itself as a vital weakness recently when army movements to the Pacific theater were increased. Gen. W. H. Hastings, commanding officer of the ninth transportation zone, told railroad executives, representatives of railroad brotherhoods, railroad retirement board officers and WAM and OZZ officials yesterday.

The operating departments of several of the major systems found themselves almost unable to carry the load due to lack of manpower," he said. "These occurrences will be more frequent, and with the advent of all-out war in the Pacific after cessation of hostilities in Europe, the load will become so great compared with the manpower available that the most serious consequences cannot help but follow."

Hastings reported a shortage of 5,000 railroad workers in the Pacific Northwest with a decrease of 100,000 that number in the Los Angeles area. He said that freight men are available to man special military trains from Salt Lake City and Ogden.

He said a national priority rating had been given recently for brake-men, switchmen and firemen needed by 13 western railroad lines. He said that many additional credits would be added to this.

A committee of railroad men is preparing special requests to the national priorities board for awarding top priority rating for recruiting mechanics and other needed personnel.

THUNDER MINERS GO BACK TO WORK

HAILEY, Oct. 10.—With the two strikes at the Thunder mine ended and all miners back to work, production will be back to normal in a few days.

Referral of the dispute, brought about by a union demand that the mine be closed for 30 days, was made to the regional labor board, Denver, by H. Snyder, Seattle City mine company executive.

The mine was closed because of the demand, which came after the arrival of a WFLC courier, possibly before the end of this week. Result of his negotiations will be forwarded to the WFLC for action. Final approval of all disputes rests with the stabilization director of the WFLC.

Thursday morning, was the result of a meeting of the WFLC, the union, CIO, local 261, the previous night at which time the demand to quit work until the wage increase was granted. The entire mine, including 100 men, refused to report Thursday. The mine yields approximately 300 tons of zinc ore daily.

WORDS ARE AT BULLET REQUEST

BURLEY, Oct. 10.—Words fired here by a miner's request for the closure of the mine, were ended Sept. 11 when struck by a bullet. The bullet was fired by a miner of the mine.

One of the miners called this morning, William H. Thompson, trustee of the local Masonic lodge, who was present at the meeting, was a radio artist in connection with the service. He was in the mine at that time, he said, the grating service had offices on the second floor of the city hall.

The grating service has since moved to other locations. Thompson said he could not recall whether the application for permission to close the mine was made.

The present grating service, Thompson said, was in the mine when he was there. He was in the mine when he was there. He was in the mine when he was there.

NIMITZ HINTS AT CHINESE LANDING

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Former Times-New Reporter
PEAK, HONOLULU, Oct. 10.—Adm. Chester W. Nimitz was confident today that his American Pacific fleet, with first class strength enough "to go anywhere," will be able to land on the Chinese coast when they are ready.

Pointing out the strategic value of the captured Taiwan islands as a base for operations, Nimitz said the Americans were moving at a rapid pace as possible to extend their power westward and "in due time that will include landing on the China coast."

The commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet acknowledged, however, that the Chinese situation is a "fact" and that the Japanese had made progress on the Asiatic continent.

"I hope they can be stopped," he said at a press conference here today at his Pacific fleet headquarters.

Complete success of the Japanese in China would be very serious, Nimitz said, for it would mean the Japanese effective positions in China. It will make more difficult for the United States to base there. But when we are ready to go, I think we will be able to do it.

Nimitz emphasized the vital importance of securing land bases large enough and close enough to Japan to deploy large air forces. We will have to do this.

Strong Enough
Regarding his first, he said it was now "strong enough in combatant types to go anywhere," but still did not have sufficient shipping to project operations westward.

"We need more cargo ships than we have," he explained. "We want more ships to stay on the job. They have accomplished miracles and we want them to continue. Nimitz again reviewed the details of full support for Gen. Douglas MacArthur's return to the Philippines, pointed out that one of the principal objectives of the Pacific invasion was to obtain airfields from which central Pacific forces can attack MacArthur's operations in the Philippines.

DISCHARGE PLANS PREPARED BY U.S.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Maj. Gen. William P. Tompkins, director of the special planning division of the war department, said today that the number of men to be released from the army and the speed with which they are to be returned to civilian life "will be controlled by the manpower and transportation requirements of this war in the far east and by our occupation responsibilities in Europe."

Speaking at a meeting sponsored by the New York Times, Gen. Tompkins said: "On one thing, however, I wish to offer emphatic assurance: It is not our intention to retain within the army more men than is required to fill our military needs. We will release as promptly as possible every man who can be released consistently with the military situation and transportation facilities."

He said that the war department had been preparing for more than a year for the problems that would have to be faced after Germany's defeat.

Col. Arthur W. McDermott, New York director of selective service, said that the official interpretation of the selective service act was that the veteran should be reemployed with his old employer "even though this may mean that a non-veteran may be laid off to make room for the veteran."

"There has been considerable talk," he said, "about the 'veteran in uniform' and the so-called 'veteran in overalls.' The only veteran selective service recognizes as such is the 'veteran in uniform.'"
