TAYLOR HITS AT ROOSEVELT FOES

SHOSHONE, Oct. 17.—Stating that the maintenance of peace is as important as winning the war, Glen H. Taylor, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, lashed out at opponents of President Roosevelt last night at a Democratic rally held in the Shoshone high school auditorium.

"The present administration," he said, speaking of maintaining what he termed as lasting peace, "has this problem well in hand, the general outline of a plan having been drafted at the Dumbarton Oaks conference."

Taylor, speaking of Deway's speeches regarding the matter of creating a permanent peace, stated: "The fact that the groundwork for such a peace has been laid has not put a damper on Mr. Deway's criticism. He has intimated that if elected he will offer something better, but only last week I read a statement by senator Blinn of Minnesota, a Republican, saying he could not support Deway on the strength of anything the latter has said to this date."

"Inasmuch as the non-isolationist leaders of Mr. Deway's own party do not trust his own intentions in respect to establishing an organization to maintain world peace, I hardly think he will poll many votes."

Other speakers on the same program were Ira Minter, candidate for reelection to office of secretary of state; Miss Ruth Moon, Pocatello, candidate for office of state treasurer, and G. C. Sullivan, St. Anthony, candidate for state superintendent of public instruction.

RAPS AT HOOVER

GOODIES, Oct. 17.—Lashing at the Hoover Republican philosophy, Glen H. Taylor, Democratic nominee for the U. S. senate, declared here at a Gooding county Democratic meeting that the GOP theory of "rugged individualism" ran this nation "into the worst depression of our history."

Taylor charged that Thomas E. Dewey, "a self-styled lawyer to the hopeless philosophy of frustration, and Mr. Dewey is the national emblem."

The Bourbon candidate claimed that the Hoover-type Republican applied in the streets rather than to create the sacrifices and privacies of rugged individualism by having the government step in to regulate business and distribute the nation's wealth.

ATTACKS TAYLOR'S THEORY

IDAHO FALLS, Oct. 17.—A. L. Merrill, Pocatello attorney, tonight criticized Glen H. Taylor's Right address saying the Democratic senate candidate believes "farmers are unable to handle their own affairs."

"As a species prepared for delivery over radio station KID, text of which was released by the Republican state committee at Boise, Merrill said Taylor's philosophy was that farmers 'must be regimented and told what to do.'"

United Air Lines' Proposal

Here's the comprehensive setup planned by United Air Lines if CAB approval is granted. Twin Falls and Gooding would be made regular stops for the big Mainliner. The map shows comparison of United's present and proposed routes for the entire U.S.

Air Service From Here To 55 Cities Planned

Direct airplane service from Twin Falls to 55 key cities in the United States is proposed by United Air Lines, whose application to provide this service for Twin Falls will be heard by the civil aeronautics board examiners at San Francisco Nov. 1. Mayor Bert A. Sweet and the Chamber of Commerce airport committee were advised by United late yesterday.

The service would be offered with the 21-passenger mainliners of the same type that now serve New York, Chicago and the larger cities of the nation. Stanley O. Halberg, district traffic manager for United Airlines, said he conferred yesterday and last night with the airport committee and the mayor.

The CAB decision will come some time after the San Francisco hearing, since examiner recommendations must go to the board at Washington.

Other Applications

Several other applications to serve Twin Falls will also come up at San Francisco. United's request, however, will not depend on securing any mail contract.

United Air Lines, which flies only a few miles from Twin Falls on its regular transcontinental service to the Pacific Northwest, proposes to make Twin Falls a stop thus giving it a new trunk-line service to Boise, Portland, Seattle and Tacoma, as well as connections at Salt Lake City for San Francisco, Los Angeles and numerous California points. Placing Twin Falls on United's main line would give it direct and through service to Salt Lake City, Denver, Chicago, Cleveland, Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, as well as a score of other cities.

No Mail Subsidy

United's exhibits state that not only will it give Twin Falls the Mainliner planes, stewardess service, and all features afforded the larger cities in the country, but it will fly the route without benefit of a mail subsidy rate, Halberg said.

United Air Lines also has an application that it proposes to link Twin Falls not only with existing cities on its present route, but to give Twin Falls direct service to twenty additional cities that it is now asking the civil aeronautics board to add to the Northwest territory. If these applications are approved it would give direct service to the following cities, exclusive of lines now on United's network: Lewiston, Spokane, Walla Walla, Yakima, Chehalis, Centralia, Aberdeen and Hoquiam, Washington.

United's application states that it can provide Twin Falls with this service with the addition of less mileage and less expense to the government than by any other routes or applications.

United Air Lines, according to the information supplied to the Chamber of Commerce, has other expansion plans in the West, which plans will be reviewed with the return of additional equipment to the airlines by the army.

United recently placed an order for $22,000,000 of new equipment, the delivery of the first of which, however, cannot be expected until some time after the first of Germany.

United Air Lines is the nation's oldest air transport system, a company which had its start in the west, one of its predecessor companies being the Boeing Air Transport system.

United also proposes a new service from Twin Falls to Boise to Reno and San Francisco, which would substantially reduce the travel time to San Francisco Bay cities.

United proposes fares which are, in many cases, no higher and in some cases lower than first class rail transportation, and the fares to be charged from Twin Falls will be the same as over United Air Lines' entire system. Illustrative of the time and fare savings proposed by United are three examples: Flying time Twin Falls to Boise—47 minutes; Boise to Salt Lake City, by train, and a fare saving of $2.17 over rail-Pullman. The 12-hour train trip to Salt Lake City would be reduced to one hour four minutes by air and cost $4.40 less than by rail. From Twin Falls to Spokane, the railway to the Idaho Panhandle, it is approximately 20 hours by rail and three hours by air.

Signing of a contract for 13 more Douglas DC-4's by United Air Lines, making a total of 79 four-engine planes costing a total of approximately $25,000,000 which the company now has on order for post-war service.

Some Planes Cost $300,000

United originally contracted for 13 Douglas DC-4's and 20 DC-3's at New York City on Sept. 11. The price of the 240-mile-an-hour DC-4 is approximately $400,000 and that of the 300-mile-an-hour DC-6, approximately $500,000.

W. A. Peterson, president of the United Air Lines, in announcing the order for additional planes, said that while the Douglas company has not specified exact delivery dates, United hopes to obtain some of the DC-4's next summer. Then, he said, will be able to reduce coast-to-coast elapsed time for passengers, mail and express to less than 11 hours, with one stop enroute. Non-stop Chicago-New York time with DC-4 is expected to be "near" 7 1/2 hours; two-stop Los Angeles-Seattle time, less than six hours.

The five-mile-a-minute DC-6, to be delivered later, will be able to reduce these times still further, flying coast to coast, with one stop in approximately 8 1/2 hours; Chicago-New York, non-stop, in 3 hours, 40 minutes; Los Angeles-Seattle, with two stops, in about five hours.

When the war is over we are all going to have Better Light for Better Sight. In the meantime let us have better vision, better sight and light. Take care of your eyes, for don't miss light.

Eyestrain Picks Its Victims YOUNG!

ONE school child in five, on the average, has defective vision. Four college students in ten are victims of eye troubles. Accustomed for centuries to outdoor living, mankind has never adjusted eyes to lower levels of indoor lighting.

Fortunately, science is bringing sunlight indoors. And the science of seeing is teaching us how to use indoor light with least danger of eyestrain. Here are four simple rules for eyesight conservation it will pay every family to follow.

1 Do all reading, studying, sewing, or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.

2 Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.

3 Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your book or work. Shadows strain eyes.

4 Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

When the war is over we are all going to have Better Light for Better Sight. In the meantime let us have better vision, better sight and light. Take care of your eyes, for don't miss light.

What Makes America Great?

It takes great people to make a great country. It isn't just the government that makes a country great, and a government that stifes the individual must someday find itself stifled.

A lot of people overlook the fact that the government produces nothing and does not itself create any new wealth. Actually a government is only as strong as the individuals and institutions and businesses that make up the country and pay the taxes.

Consequently, the way to have a strong country is to have a strong people. That's why so many Idaho people favor free enterprise and oppose the idea of constantly increasing Federal bureaucratic control of our lives and our state governments.

BOTTOLFSSEN STANDS ON THE SOLID GROUND OF AMERICANISM

Bottolfsen has shown that he believes in free enterprise and the rights of individuals.

FIRE AT WENDELL HITS SPUD CELLAR

WENDELL, Oct. 17.—Firemen to-day were still pouring two streams of water on a potato-cellar fire which since last night has consumed the entire front and one-third of the interior of the structure, owned by Ray Ward from P. W. Chapman, both of Wendell.

Damage could not be estimated because the fire has been so intense that the cellar is expected to be larger than the loss from the blaze. Believed to have been started by a defective wiring near the entrance, the fire started at 11 p. m. last night while one truck was being unloaded and others were waiting near the structure.

When firemen arrived the wood frame had burned away and the flames were creeping slowly through the straw and bales. Ward, a Wendell potato and onion grower, said today that he would try to partition off and use the unburned section after the water had been pumped out.

Firemen are pumping water from a nearby canal and have succeeded in preventing the spread of the flames to the main building. Much of the destruction occurred because firemen could not enter the structure and work from the inside for three hours after their arrival.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are coming on, it's not just a sign of a tired body, but a warning that your kidneys may be in trouble. The kidneys are the body's filters, and when they are overworked, they can cause a variety of symptoms, including backache, leg pains, and a general feeling of fatigue.

It is the waste of kidney toxins and fluid that build up in the body, which causes the symptoms. The waste products of the body are filtered out by the kidneys, and when they are overworked, they can cause a variety of symptoms, including backache, leg pains, and a general feeling of fatigue.

Don't wait until you are in a hospital to find out if you have kidney trouble. Get a check-up now. A simple urine test will tell you if your kidneys are working properly. If they are not, you can take steps to improve their function before it is too late.

COUNCIL DEBATES MILK ORDINANCE

Consideration of a proposal to amend the city's milk production ordinance to prohibit the bottling of raw milk by any person other than the producer was taken up by the city council last night's city council meeting.

During the affirmative, Mayor Bert A. Sweet pointed out that a bottler who could not keep milk supplied with enough milk should either expand or get out of business. Likewise, the milk dealer, anyone who produces enough milk should have the equipment to bottle it.

O. R. Coleman took the stand that the amendment would force out the small producers of raw milk who had to depend on larger dairymen to bottle their product. He further pointed out that the dairies sometimes are unable to produce all the milk they need because of the conditions of the cows.

Was Omitted

The suspension of the single part of a federal agreement, which the city adopted several years ago, that was omitted. At the present time state milk officials are requesting management of the dairies in order to eliminate the work of inspecting small producers' farms and cattle. Bringing in only the federal city approving of the display of evidence in the dairies, as against one which disappears. For example, the city council that the dairies would be forced to approve of the display of evidence in the dairies, as against one which disappears. Assessments Delinquent

Quoting Judge James R. Bothwell, American Pacific reserve district attorney, City Attorney J. H. Blandford informed the councilmen that reserve assessments on the lots in Twin Falls are delinquent. Over a stretch of years from 1926 to 1943, residents had fallen $352.60 behind in the payments, he said.

In the absence of Coleman, T. T. Greenhalgh, a proposal that the city make good the back assessments was tabled until next week. Blandford pointed out that the reserve district can order the Twin Falls Canal company to cut down the flow of city water in proportion to the debt.
