U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

PHILIPPINES KEY TO U. S. VICTORY

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
(Washington Post Staff Writer)
The occupation of the Philippines has been as a matter of fact, subject of revision for accuracy, but it perfectly into the picture of the Pacific war which has been building up for some time.

Whether the Leyte out action is actually a part of a general offensive or merely a preliminary to the main offensive—either way it means that within a comparatively short time General MacArthur will have kept his promise to repel the "Terrible Battle."

Never in our history has there been such a battle as that for the Philippines, which is actually the end of the Pacific war has amounted to so far. Japanese outposts have been pushed back gradually for thousands of miles to prepare for this action.

Ever since Hainley's activities of the last few days, in a comparatively small corner of the great ocean, have been staged in a scale to suggest the imagination. He has taken a great deal of protection between the Philippines and Japan, destroyed 51 enemy planes; sunk 10 enemy ships; and damaged 312 ships, and smashed many of the bases from which the Japanese have been operating.

Now Hainley's greatest feat, which will give him the place in the history of the Pacific war, is placed at the disposal of General MacArthur.

It brings the climax of two long years of fighting a stunning ending to the Japanese in the Pacific with one hand while holding aloft the banner of the new world of priorities for Europe, the striking force for the return to the island of Luzon.

The battle will be bloody, but we can hope that it will be a decisive one. Japanese have never been able to entrench themselves firmly in the Central Philippines, and even some Americans have continued to resist. The Japanese have been expected to be repelled by the American forces, and even that might be expected to result in a full-scale clash of arms.

The Japanese have been reduced, through constant air attacks, to a desperate situation. A few determined points are evident in the solomons and New Guinea.

FRANCE AWAITING STABLE CURRENCY

By GLADWIN HILL
PARIS, Oct. 10 (Delayed)—France is waiting for the French franc to be stabilized by the allied high command at two cents and whether, when and how this stabilization will be achieved is a matter of some importance to the French people.

The franc now brings about half a cent in the free market (illegal black market) and less than a half-cent in the official market.

Since the British half-penny unit is a synthetic unit, it is not adopted by international agreement is regarded as one cent, this indicates that the French are being deceived by the French at more than double the rate of exchange.

The free market, illegal though it is, reflects what the people really think it is worth, so the French are manifestly skeptical when they will give 200 of their francs instead of the legal 50 for a U.S. dollar and around 170 instead of the legal 30 for a pound.

Allied military economists set the two cent value for the franc before the invasion to avoid further inflation by dumping in excess of the national productive potential.

Officials feel that as paralyzed French manufacturing resumes, trading will soak up the surplus money now floating around and stabilize prices.

There is a big question mark concerning French industry, currently struggling back to life in the face of the multiple handicaps of war damage, shortage of raw materials, power, labor, transport and communications. Here long the recovery takes will be a major factor in measuring France's future prosperity.

State Guard Here Plans for Winter

Members of Company K, Idaho state guard, meeting last night at the Legion hall held a critique of the inspection held last night. Lieut. Orrin Puller, company publicity director, reported late yesterday.

Following a close order drill under Sgt. Foster, company members were dismissed because of a meeting of non-commissioned officers.

During this meeting plans were laid for the winter. Since drill work cannot be done outside, drills and drill detail work pertaining to company work will be conducted within the hall.

At such winter meetings lectures will be given by different non-commissioned officers. Lecture next week will include first aid and discipline.

BUHL VET ON VISIT DESCRIBES LIFE AND FIGHTING IN PACIFIC

By MARTINA YETTER
BUHL, Oct. 10.—T/4 Loren H. Gurnea, veteran of 28 months in the South Pacific, is home on a 21-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gurnea, Buhl.

Gurnea spent two years in southeastern New Guinea, where he was in the supply transportation corps.

Things were pretty hot when we first landed in New Guinea," he said. "We had a mortar light and for several months. In fact, we were ready to evacuate our headquarters two weeks after we landed, for the Japs got to within thirty miles of us, but the monsoon held them off. There were no roads to hang on. We were right on the edge of the jungle, and our only means of evacuation would have been by boat to Australia."

Turn Japs Back

"The boys were waiting, but the infantry finally turned the Japs back. The town we were in was about the size of Buhl, with a good bit of white population from Australia. However, only the men were left when we arrived, for the women had all been evacuated to the mainland. They have not been returned as yet."

Gurnea says Australian cities seen from the air, but the country as a whole is about twenty years behind the time. On their run from Melbourne to Townsville, on the northeastern coast, they had in charge cars three times, on their way into the three eastern colonies, as no two countries had the same type of car. The boys spent about a month in Australia before embarking for New Guinea.

Says Marla E. Good

"The morale of the boys is generally good," he assured me, "though most of the boys who have been here a long time are pretty homesick. Not many of us escaped a touch of dengue, a mild form of malaria, but not many had it very bad. We lived in screened tents, and everything going was done to make it comfortable and safe."

The USO puts on some good shows for the boys. We have movies, basketball and baseball. And the USO puts on some good shows for the boys. We have movies, basketball and baseball. And the USO puts on some good shows for the boys. We have movies, basketball and baseball.

NAZIS DEFENDING TOWN WIPED OUT

By HENRY T. GORRELL
WITH U. S. INFANTRY IN GERMANY, Oct. 10 (Delayed)—Your map probably does not show the little village of Scherndorf, five miles northwest of Gernsheim, but it does not matter now. American infantrymen have rubbed it out of existence.

A few days ago Scherndorf was a veritable fortress, with its civilians evacuated and a stubborn German garrison refusing to surrender. Today it is in complete ruin with all its defenders, except 99 who were captured, buried beneath the rubble.

Attacked at Dawn

The death stroke was administered in a dawn attack organized and carried out under the command of Lieut. Col. Oliver H. Jones, 5th Infantry, 3d Division, 1st Army. Jones' attack, after a long and hard fight, resulted in a devastating barrage.

No one knows how many German soldiers were killed, but the battalion defending it fought to the last man.

The infantrymen moved forward for the attack at 4 a.m., creeping silently across hundreds of yards of flat, open terrain until they came to the edge of the village.

Surprise Assault

Sound by sound, Col. Jones' men infiltrated well inside the defenses before the Germans became aware of their presence. The Germans moved with rifle fire but by then the doughboys were pouring over the parapets, house and building by house and they began shooting all night.

Sgt. Roy Mills, Cumberland, Md., and Sgt. Edward Foxwell, Cambridge, Mass., took their men into the head of the raiders.

With infantry covering them, engineers went forward with their tools to clear the rubble.

Air Base Head Tells What to Do in Case Airplane Crashes

POCAHELLO ARMY AIR FIELD, Oct. 18.—Pvt. at the Pocatello army air field are continually warning the many over Idaho hills and valleys in carrying out their training program.

Daily from dawn to dusk, and even sometimes after dark when special night missions are flown, planes are sent out from the field on combat training flights.

Wash. Air Activity

With so much activity taking place in the air over Idaho, especially in the eastern section, farmers, ranchers, and other residents can be sure that if a plane crashes down near their property.

Leut. Col. John E. Eaton, commanding officer at the Pocatello army air field, stated that many thousands of hours are being spent by planes based here and by transient planes, and while accidents are not anticipated, every precaution is taken to prevent them.

May Help Search Parties

Since there are stretches of lava mountainous territory in Idaho that could not be reached by military search parties for hours, Idahoans may find themselves in a position to give much needed help.

TAYLOR SAYS GOP SCUTTLED LEAGUE

By The Associated Press
Oliver H. Taylor, Idaho Democratic candidate for the senate, said last night in a radio address at Nampa that the Republican party "scuttled the League of Nations in 1920."
In an address at Cascade, Republican Nominée C. A. Bolles said the primary conflict of the current campaign was between "those who believe in our kind of government and those who believe in communism."
Ruined Peace Hope
Taylor said that in "scuttling" the league the Republicans destroyed humanity's one hope of maintaining peace in the world. "At that time they promised to give us something better, but they haven't given us anything at all," he said. "Can we trust them any more now than we could in 1920?" he asked.
Replying to Secretary of the Interior Fred Ives speech in which he said an administration can be judged by those associated with it, Bolles said "Republicans can't proud that Sidney Hillman, Earl Browder and others" were never associated with their administration.
Talk of Wallace
He referred to Vice-President Henry A. Wallace's failure to win re-nomination at the Democratic convention, and said "if the theory of changing horses in the middle of the stream is good for the vice-presidential office, it's good for the presidential post as well." He added that Great Britain "chained horses" when Prime Minister Churchill succeeded the late Neville Chamberlain.
Taylor said some Republicans are

In just 10 minutes they'll need your help

Back home, the headlines read—60 U.S. Planes Lost.

The full news account may mention that 600 airmen were shot down with them. But nowhere will you find mention about how many of those men landed alive and are now in enemy prison camps. There is no way of knowing.

Actually, about 60 per cent of all American airmen shot down over enemy territory survive—as prisoners of war.

Some prison camps are devoted exclusively to airmen. But these camps are little different from the others. In all, the men behind the barbed wire live the same empty life. There is nothing to do but wait—wait—and try to hold on to your sanity while you wait.

That's why War Prisoners' Aid was formed. It provides the wherewithal to buy for prisoners of war the things that will help them hold on to their sanity during those empty days of waiting. Books. Games. Athletic equipment. Make-up kits for amateur theatricals. Musical instruments.

It takes money to buy these things. More and more money as more and more of our men wind up in prison camps. The only way War Prisoners' Aid can get that money is through your contribution to your local community drive. Your gift, is also shared by war refugees, the U.S.O., Merchant Seamen, welfare services here at home. Give once for all these.
