With contributions in Twin Falls city and independent school district number one adding up to about $1,500 over the quota that had been set for the combined war fund-Community Chest drive, workers to-

In Twin Falls the drive called for $10,000 for the Chest and $10,000 for the war fund. R. W. Carpenter, county drive chairman, and Robert M. Deane, city chairman, announced

In the entire county the war fund goal—including the $16,000 quota for Twin Falls city—is $29,500 and at noon today officials announced contributions came to $25,762, leaving just $3,738 yet to go.

Filer became the third community in the county to go over individ-

Both Reese and Carpenter were high in their praise of the campaign workers.

These workers really put it over," Carpenter said. "The organization was well formed and clicked all the way through. In fact the entire county organization has been clicking much better than we ever hoped for and the county goal should be passed before very long."

Actually the Twin Falls quota was reached Tuesday evening, but because many workers had not yet reported and were still making solicitations, the news was withheld temporarily.

1,100 HEAD SOLD AT AUCTION HERE

With more than 1,100 head of cattle sold Wednesday at the Twin Falls Livestock Commission company, John P. Hines, co-manager, reported "the biggest one day's sale so far this season."

"All classes of good cattle were in good steadier than a week ago," Hines said.

In the steer classification, Chester Brackley, Caldwell, sold a load of steers at $11.35; H. D. Lee, Paulfield, sold a load of steers at $11.20; Dean Rogers, Gooding, $11.05; Frank Clark, Piler, $11.05; F. Nelson and Son, Paulfield, $11.25 and Ota Wells, Glover ranch, $10.50.

Hines reported a good run on fat heifers with the McVey Brothers, Brackley, selling a load at $11.20; Willard Nelson, Deutsch, sold some at $10.60; R. D. Redford, Clemons Ferry, sold a load at $10.05, and T. Sandmyer, Buhl, sold a few choice black heifers at $11.05.

In the weaner classification, Rubie Randall, Twin Falls, disposed of a few at $10.05. Several loads brought from $6 to $10.05.

Large feeder calves found plenty of takers at $5.50 to $8. Butcher bulls were steady at $4.50 to $5.50 a week ago.

Hines reported having "plenty of inquiries for feeder cows."

"We are going to have 400 weaner calves at next week's market," he said yesterday.

Pilots for Air Commander

Buhl Resident, Personal Pilot To Air Commander, Gets DFC

BUHL, Oct. 27—Capt. John Arthur Ahlin, Buhl resident, temporarily living at San Pedro, Calif., has received the distinguished flying cross from his commanding general.

Captain Ahlin is in the India-Burma-China theater, has been overseas a year. He has 75 million and 1,000 flying hours to his credit.

In a letter to his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ahlin, Buhl, he states that he is now serving as personal pilot to his commanding general, Captain Ahlin also holds two air medals and the oak leaf cluster.

He is a graduate of the Buhl high school, class 1925. Ahlin was married in 1942 to Mimi Hillman, Phoenix, Ariz. His wife and daughter are making their home in Phoenix at present.

RETIRING RANGER WILL BE FETED

Elmer C. Ross, Twin Falls, district forest ranger, who is retiring Saturday from the forest service after 20 years of duty, will be guest of honor at a dinner at 7:30 p. m. today at the Park hotel.

The courtesy is being planned by the personnel of the Minidoka national forest service, with the wives of members as special guests.

Ross, one of the last of the "old roughnecks," as the pioneer members of the service are called, entered the service May 15, 1927, as a forest guard.

His first assignment was in the Long Valley country, from Oneida east to Bear Valley. With the exception of a period during World war I, when he served out of the regional office at Ogden, Utah, he has worked in Idaho. He has been with the Minidoka national forest service since 1938.

Supervisor J. T. Mathews, Burley, will be master of ceremonies. The arrangements committee is headed by Edwin A. Atencio, Burley.

Democrats Plan Advertising Drive

County Democrats met last night in Democratic headquarters, 114 Shoshone street, to plan an advertising campaign. Lee Leichter, county chairman, said:

"All county candidates were present at the meeting," he said. "The only business accomplished was a general discussion of how best to advertise the things for which we stand."

NOBEL PRIZES TO FOUR SCIENTISTS

By EDWIN SHANKE

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 27—Award of Nobel prizes in medicine to four scientists now in the United States, three of them Americans, was announced by the Nobel foundation.

The 1944 award, covering work in both physiology and medicine, went to Joseph E. Blumberg, professor of physiology at Washington University, St. Louis, and Herbert Spencer Gasser, New York, director of the Rockefeller institute, for their studies of the different functions of the individual nerve threads.

The 1945 award, being made after a year's delay, was shared by Edward Adelberg, professor of biochemistry in the St. Louis (Mo.) university school of medicine, and Henrik Dam, Copenhagen, now at Strong Memorial hospital, Rochester, N. Y.

The prize for 1944 was for the discovery of the chemical nature of the "C" vitamin.

The 1945 award for medicine is worth $12,451 kroner ($25,000), which will be divided between the two winners. The 1945 prize is worth $12,500 kroner ($25,000) and also will be divided by the winners.

The prize also may be awarded this year in physics, two in chemistry and one in literature. There will be no award for peace this year.

AFL, CIO SPLIT ON LABOR BOARD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—A new rift, rooted in AFL-CIO rivalry, developed in the war labor board with AFL members threatening to withdraw from active participation in wage cases until a decision on a general revision of the "little steel formula" has been reached.

Chairman William H. Davis said such action would not lie up to the board, however. Davis said that George Meany, AFL secretary-treasurer, and his colleague Max Wehr, refuse to sit in on wage cases for the time being "until simply proceed with four CIO members."

The law requires only that four labor members be included in the tripartite agency, Davis said. There now are two from the AFL and two from the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Meany said he and Wehr are declining to participate further in the wage cases until the whole issue is disposed of.

The board voted Wednesday, eight to four, with the AFL and CIO members dissenting, to start discussion next Tuesday on a report to the president on wage and the cost of living.

The CIO men voted against taking the wage cases until the whole issue is disposed of.

it up next Tuesday because they wanted to begin deliberations yesterday. Continued demands of several CIO unions representing a million workers, for paid vacations guaranteed annual income, night shift differentials, and related benefits are to be taken up on Tuesday.

It was this decision which irked the AFL members. They feel that their CIO rivals may emerge with important gains outside the question of a horizontal wage increase.

The AFL's objective has been to modify or eliminate the little steel formula without respect to any specific case.

The CIO, in addition to wanting a general increase of 15 cents for the steel workers, has a sheet of other demands in a half dozen industries.

WARSHIP CAPTAIN CALLED LONELY

By ELTON C. FAY
ABOARD THE SUPERBATTLESHIP USS MISSOURI (BB-63) The captain is a lonely man.

He stands on the bridge of this greatest of battleships with more than 2,500 men around him—but not close to him. He is the manager of a hundred million dollar concern responsible for the lives and the money in his ship. On his captains are both the lives and the money in his ship. On his captains are both the lives and the money in his ship.

His loneliness is something he doesn't choose; it comes to him through any regulations, custom and a burning responsibility. Regulations say that he has "full command, authority and precedence over all officers and personnel of whatever rank" aboard his ship and that he must display "personal dignity."

His responsibilities are covered in page after page of the regulations. They mean that he must accept blame for whatever goes wrong aboard his ship, from the engine room to the sky control, but alone must answer to the navy department.

It is no wonder, therefore, that he stands so silently on the bridge, consulting with his officers in low tones, going to his cabin to eat. His voice rarely is heard on the ship's public address system; he speaks through the voice of his executive officer.

But the captain is not the only lonely man. Down below in the crew's quarters are some youngsters at sea for the first time. This is a strange world, where they are finding bunk beds from the steel walls of a machine in a mass of compartments, bulkheads, compartments, pipes and wires.

The youngsters who came from Brooklyn, the Tennessee hills, the west country, the northwestern woodland are becoming familiar with their surroundings. It is their standard cruise as a part of the ship.

Chow is plentiful aboard this ship—the navy feels that wherever the conditions do not interfere—but the boys have to make do with what they have. Remembering showers and an always ready drinking water tap at bunk they may grow about water limitations, but are informed that the 20 to 25 gallons allowed each month is a day's consumption with five gallons on ships of only a few years ago.

JUDGE CANCELS TWEED DIVORCE

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 27 (AP)—An interlocutory divorce decree granted Aug. 2 to George Ray Tweed, 45, navy radioman rescued from Guam last July after eluding the Japanese there for 31 months, was set aside yesterday by Judge Jacob Weinberger, the same jurist who awarded the decree. Tweed was not present at the hearing.

The petition to set aside the decree was filed by Mrs. Mary Tweed, 27, who contended that she was unfamiliar with the nature of the divorce papers she signed. Judge Weinberger upheld her contention and set aside the decree on the grounds the property agreement entered into by the couple was "manifestly unfair to the wife and child."

Mrs. Tweed denied any kind of misconduct justifying a divorce and contended Tweed has no grounds for divorce.

Mrs. Tweed argued the amount share in possibly $250,000. Tweed may receive from him and her rights to his "Ghost of Oran" experience.

Newspaper From China Shows Terrific Impact of Inflation

By JEAN DINKLACKER

How would you like to pay $250 a copy for a newspaper, or $200 a copy for the China edition of the Reader's Digest—still better?

Or perhaps you'd just rather shoot $100 on a ticket for the first public dance in wartime Chungking, under the sponsorship of Miss Sun Van-den, to keep needy artists and writers.

Such are the "inflation" prices in Chungking, China, according to a copy of the Chungking edition of the Shanghai Evening Post and Mercury sent to the Times-News by First Lieut. Norman H. Cowgill, Twin Falls, an American army officer who is instructing Chinese soldiers.

Sends Newspaper

LIEUT. N. H. COWGILL

"Among the headlines in the Sept. 17 edition of the Post are these: 'P.D.R. Churchill Meets at Quebec to Map Plans for War Against Japan,' 'Maine Goes O.P. by Landslide Vote as Dewey Pulls Out Campaign in Midwest,' 'Court Orders Company to Hire Vet Back at Old Job He Did Before Draft' and 'Miss America Named.'"

"Spot" stories concerned an on- of free speech at the Chinese capital, and what was said. Resembled the soundings off in this country, just before election.

The item said in part: "In an historic meeting that opened the floodgates and allowed members to criticize openly to their hearts' content, the People's Political Council met last week and heard member after member demand an end of corruption and do-nothingism and a prompt all-out effort to wage a modern war against Japan."

Answered Meekly

"Government members were especially calm and in most cases the responsible ministers answered meekly if at all."

A House member, Hsu Teh-yen, asserted that a young woman, now in the United States, had been the cost of lipsticks to the finance ministry.

Other typical remarks from the PPC members were:

"The secret of getting ahead in the government today is to do as little as possible."

"Gasoline in Chungking is as precious as blood so why is it wasted, providing transportation for wives and girl friends of officials on shopping tours?"

Estate's Residue For Iven Crisp

Iven Crisp, administrator of the estate of the late Edward L. Halley, is entitled to all the residue of the estate of the late Maude R. Halley, according to a decree of final distribution filed Friday by Jean Britton, administratrix of Mrs. Halley's estate.

Rayborn and Rayborn represented the administratrix in the action. Mrs. Halley's estate consists of real estate in Twin Falls.

Arrange to Mark Anniversary Day

Mountain Rock Grange will observe the ninth anniversary of the group Monday, Oct. 30. A picnic dinner at 7:30 p. m. will be followed by a Halloween party, the affair to be held in Community church basement. Members are asked to bring a covered dish, dessert and table service.

Quiet Title Suit

The city of Buhl, through J. W. Taylor, Buhl attorney, filed an action Friday in district court against Ole Johnson and others, seeking to quiet title to lot 8, block 98 of Buhl.

BOTT-TAYLOR TO DEBATE ON PEACE

By The Associated Press

Idaho's opposing candidates for United States senator—Republican Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen and Democrat Glen H. Taylor—will debate postwar peace proposals at a debate meeting Nov. 4.

Also engaging in the debate will be Phil J. Evans, Preston, Democratic candidate for second district representative, but Mrs. E. N. Torbert, president of the Bole League of Women Voters, which is sponsoring the program, said she had not heard from Rep. Henry C. Dworkshak, Republican seeking reelection.

Dworkshak earlier declined a proposal that he debate with Evans, but Mrs. E. N. Torbert, president of the Bole League of Women Voters, which is sponsoring the program, said she had not heard from Rep. Henry C. Dworkshak, Republican seeking reelection.

The Bole League of Women Voters is a non-partisan study group.

Taylor and Bottolfsen already have met in debate at Rigby. Taylor, in a transcribed radio address over station KIDO at Bole, said last night that Bottolfsen's endorsement of postwar peace proposals contained "this reservation: 'I want to preserve the sovereign rights of our country in any alliance.'"

"Almost those identical words," Taylor said, "can be found time and again in the utterances of the Republican isolationist snailers who defeated the League of Nations in 1919. This plea is a tired excuse for refusing to ratify the President's plans for an organization to preserve peace."

ation of revenue bills in the legislature ahead of appropriation bills thus placing state finances "on a businesslike basis."

Ira H. Masters, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, left Boise last night to join other Democratic office seekers in an east Idaho campaign trip. The group planned to be at Blackfoot today, Preston tomorrow, Rupert, Oct. 31, Oct. 30, and Montpelier, Oct. 31.

JUDGING OF BULL ENTRANTS OPENS

Judging and classification of bulls in the fall fairness event sponsored by the Idaho Cattlemen's association started at 1 p. m. today at the grounds of the Twin Falls Livestock Commission company.

O. W. Hickman, president of animal husbandry at the University of Idaho, and Lymon J. Jones, Idaho, are acting as judges for the event, according to Leon Webb, book secretary of the association.

The bulls have been termed by Webb as "the most uniform and absolutely the best we've ever seen."

This evening gathering will meet at a banquet at the Fair hotel with Rev. W. Swanson, Pocatello, association president, serving as chairman.

The purebred Hereford bulls will go on sale Saturday, being placed in A, B and C lots by the judges. Heifers will be classified under the association system now in use for several years.

GERMANY WILL TRY IT AGAIN

By Sigrid Schultz

As an American newspaper correspondent in Berlin from 1939 to 1941, Sigrid Schultz has seen the events that led from World War I to World War II. And she has seen the boldness of the German plan for the coming "war-in-peace" that she has now published in this World War III. This is the story of Germany's plans to win the peace, and that even now are being put into effect.

... XVIII ...
A false peace is more dangerous than no peace at all.
Ever since the Germans suffered their first serious setbacks in Russia, they have been launching one campaign for peace after another along three different lines—economic, diplomatic, and military. On our wisdom in seeing through the false offers depends the future of the real peace.

The economic campaign started first, to secure German supplies and holdings throughout the world. Businessmen from Germany or from occupied countries descended on towns in Switzerland and Spain, Turkey and Sweden. In a lawyer's office, for instance, a group of officials met with one of their men, found a building company of some sort, and were eager to sign a contract. They were told that they would all depart, leaving a minimum of money for their transactions. But their purpose would have been accomplished. They had created legalistic ties in Germany, and after the war, either directly or indirectly, the Germans started receiving black markets in neutral countries. They came as "anti-nazi" refugees, and often told interesting tales of persecution. They brought news, always in French, of German concerns, shares in foreign industries seized by the Germans. Everything they had brought they sold cheaply—they were refugees, and they had to live. Only rarely many of them were the very men and women who had been the most trustworthy men when we used to meet them in Berlin as late as 1941. These people were not merely fast in fleeing the sinking ship. Many of them were sent by Berlin to do "front" jobs in foreign lands which finances had propaganda and purchases abroad, and to get involved in the interests of the German economy.

The second German peace offensive came to us in the person of several diplomats, businessmen and politicians. I shall take our man from a neutral country as their prototype.

In the fall of 1942 this important businessman arrived in America with introductions from men more important persons and instructions to confer with leading bankers. He carried a list of names of men more important persons and instructions to confer with leading bankers. He carried a list of names of men more important persons and instructions to confer with leading bankers.

Germany realized, this man said, that with our tremendous economic machine we would need enormous markets. As for Germany, after her intense sufferings in this war, she would be content with very modest markets and business transactions. The visitor was asked what Germany had conquered? Germany was willing, he replied, to withdraw from her western conquests, perhaps even from Norway, but she insisted on retaining Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, and a great part of the Ukraine.

Germany further insisted, according to the "neutral" businessmen, on keeping every economic holding acquired through the years in France, the British told them the same wouldn't work. The Americans and the British, continued, noted. The trial balloons collapsed.

The militarists played another tune, a melody of well-worn words—the strength of the German army. To the Russians it was decried as the "bulwark against aggression from the capitalist countries, which hate the home of communism." The inference is that the German army loves Russia. It has then a rather unpleasant way of showing it.

England, the United States, and China were urged to remember that unless the German army remained intact how could they hope to destroy communism, or restore order in Europe and Asia?

Would Russia perhaps exploit her vast victories to establish sovietism in central Europe? Would this development then lead to the formation of that Russo-German coalition which the western powers have feared ever since Russia began to rise? Would this coalition be the first step toward the final triumph of the Axis?

Unhappily, much of the strongest underground movement in Germany is committed. It is equally true that the situation between the Axis and the communist states is very close. But even should Russian-German leaders consider it expedient during the transition period after the war to renew their cooperation, the populations of both countries would still have to be won to the idea.

In the end, the extent to which the Soviet government will seek to strengthen its hold on central Europe will depend on the ability of Britain and the United States to strike the right note both with the Russians and with the Germans. A desire for hegemony in any of the United Nations cannot be disastrous to future peace.
