FOREIGN POLICY. President Roosevelt sensed the approach of the war and prepared the U. S. for it in spite of Republican opposition in Congress. This was the most successfully conducted and the best provisioned one in all our history. The President is also laying the groundwork for peace in the same efficient manner.

TERM FOUR. President Roosevelt's reelection will mean a speedier signing of the war and a more secure building of the peace. The overthrow of the Executive Department and the Cabinet in this time of war, when everything is moving so successfully, must necessarily result in serious dislocation and disruption in carrying on the War Effort with consequent delay in its prosecution.

UNIONISM. The unions certainly have as much right to engage in politics as the big corporations and the money barons who are now furnishing the financial states in a huge deluge in a desperate attempt to bring about a Republican victory.

DEMOCRATIZATION. The President, together with the Army and the Navy, are committed and pledged to a speedy demobilization of the armed forces at the end of hostilities despite the inhuman and false charges made by demagogues.

DOMESTIC POLICY. Government and Industry must cooperate in maintaining jobs when peace comes. Industry must take the lead and Government must be ready to take up the slack, if and when any occurs.

1,300 PRINCETON CREW MEN SAVED

By GEORGE JONES
ABOARD CARRIER FLAGSHIP OF PHILIPPINES, Oct. 25—V-J Navy radio did not survive the great naval battle of the Philippines, related today how they swam ashore as four hours through shark-infested waters off Luzon before they were picked up by destroyers circling the doomed fleet. Once again the navy made good the policy of saving every possible life.

More than 1,300 officers and men emerged from their ordeal alive—more than it ever seemed possible would survive the tremendous series of explosions which were visible from this ship.

At 9:30 a. m. Oct. 24 a Japanese dive bomber dropped two bombs—either 500 or 1,000 pounds—on the ship, plunging through the Princeton's flight deck and striking the main engine room.

The Princeton was the first combat ship lost in the central Pacific campaign since Tarawa.

Two of the seven survivors interviewed today said the ship was hit by two bombs, one of which had gone down the main engine room.

Chief machinist mate Leo J. Sordani, Jr., of Baltimore, Md., wore the life jacket he carried when the ship was hit.

Chief Gunner's Mate Clark L. Zelenski, El Paso, Tex., survived the sinking of the Princeton nearly two years ago today.

Survivors said rescuing whale boats fired their light machine guns into the water to frighten sharks away from the swimming men.

"One gunner was firing a bullet ring around us. I looked around, but couldn't see any sharks. But I still lose any time getting into the raft of the destroyer," Sordani said.

seen. His wife is the former Lois Royger. Both he and his wife were in the invasion and capture of the island of Guam.

Garrison joined the marine corps in June, 1942 and was called to active duty a month later. He received his initial training at Camp Elliott, San Diego, and has now been overseas for the last 10 months.

Brennan, who recently received much publicity in the newspapers and through newscasts, was injured in the Guam invasion and was awarded the purple heart.

He has returned to Ft. Lewis, Wash., and is working in the maintenance shop while awaiting assignment.

Since his enlistment in the army he has been a member of two engineering bands. He was member of the Eden Grizzlies football and basketball teams before graduating from high school in 1934.

Japs Are Fanatical Fighters, Says Pacific Vet Now in Buhl

By MARTIN YEETER
Buhl, Oct. 28—(Trib.) John L. Jones, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jones, is home on a 21-day furlough after two years and a half of continuous service in Australia and New Guinea.

"Not too many Japs ever surrendered," he said, "no we didn't get any prisoners. They are fanatical fighters, though not so smart in some of the things they do. But they will fight to the death. When their ammunition is gone, they charge to certain death with bayonets."

Jones' first action was at Salamaua, New Guinea. He worked on the road built out from Buma, and fought with the delaying action at Lae. From Salamaua, he was sent back to Australia for a four-month rest leave, after which he went back to New Guinea to take part in three successful beach-head landings.

He is in Buhl.

"Many of the Japs hid in huge caves that were equipped like castles," he related. "They had everything with them and could not be dislodged except by overwhelming them, or pouring gasoline down in them and setting them afire. Some dug in pits of enormous size, and had to be treated the same way. All the caves and tunnels were being used as snipers' nests, and cost many of our men their lives. They also used the Japs, showed us many of the tortures the Japs inflicted on the native men and women, and their American prisoners when they caught them. The natives were especially bitter toward the Japs for their horrible treatment of the native women."

"One of my jobs was mine and booby-trap detection. The Japs will make a booby-trap out of anything—twigs in trails, shells half filled with dynamite, buried water drums, or anything else they can get their hands on. They will run over them, pull boxes, equipment or even the bodies of their own dead. A Jap would jump on a mine, then have knives or pistols concealed in his clothing, for a last-minute hand-to-hand fight. That is why they finally made them all march out ahead of them when they were rendered, to go away with their hands up. I saw one Jap surrender with a hand tied up as shown in the picture. He was later found to have a hand-grenade under the bandage."

Pink Diary
"We found a Jap diary in one of the caves, which told of this particular Jap saving one hand-grenade for himself when the surrender was made and surrender or death was inevitable. It contained the statement that he hoped his family would hear that he had died."

Jones entered the army Sept. 16, 1940, with the Buhl National Guard. Most of the boys who went from here served all through the New Guinea campaign. Garrison, and four of them, Jones, Primo Obadiah and Dale Gibson, Buhl, and Jim Jones, Buhl, were in the invasion of New Guinea.

Disarm Rampant
"A lot more of us got laid low with malaria than with Jap bullets," Jones said. "Disease is rampant among the natives. They have tropical skin disease, diphtheria, leprosy, and other diseases. We never dared to live in a native or Jap hut or quarters, for they were equally disease-ridden. We would burn everything, and start again with sanitary precautions which prevented our catching anything."

Jones is the holder of three campaign ribbons, the Papuan campaign, the New Guinea campaign, and the Dutch New Guinea campaign. He is in line for a presidential citation, another ribbon, and wears five bars which signify two and one-half years of overseas service.

He reports to Santa Barbara for physical examination and re-assignment, at the completion of his present leave.

RENTAL CONTROL PROSPECT LOOMS

Prospects of rent control for the Twin Falls, Rupert and Burley areas were discussed Saturday, according to information received from the district CPA by Mrs. J. W. Newman, consumer representative on the local war price and ration board.

A. T. Fredricka, state rent executive, was recently advised by the regional rent executives of Denver, Colo., that as a result of numerous complaints concerning increasing rents in Twin Falls, Burley and Rupert, the CPA at Washington had requested the bureau of labor statistics to conduct a formal survey.

The actual extent to which rents have increased in the Twin Falls, Burley and Rupert areas, embracing Twin Falls, Cassia and Minidoka counties will be determined by the survey, Fredricka said.

No further information concerning the survey requested by the bureau has been received by the district office of the CPA, according to word received by Mrs. Newman.

"If the requested survey discloses substantial increase in rental rates within the area specified, local civil organizations will be given an opportunity to control such rents by preventing further raising, should such organizations care to undertake the job," the information read.

"However, in the absence of such an undertaking, the CPA will nevertheless declare new defense rental regulations in the communities under consideration and will proceed to put federal rent control in the three-county section," Fredricka's statement concluded.

The MAN For PRESIDENT

Thomas E. Dewey, Republican candidate for President, is a man who has distinguished himself, not only as the best governor the state of New York has ever had, but as a capable, honest, fearless and conscientious public servant as well.

A man who has waged an open fight on criminals, gangsters, labor racketeers and corrupt political machines, instead of catering to such elements for their political support.

A man whose humanitarian actions in his present official capacity speak for themselves, much more eloquently than all political promises now being made merely to gain votes.

A man who challenges the defeatist theory that the United States is no longer able to maintain a high standard of living for everyone unless personal initiative and free enterprise give way to the dole.

A man who believes in a representative, cabinet form of democracy, rather than a bureaucratic government controlled by "official directives" and "executive orders."

A man who promises the greatest house-cleaning in the history of Washington if he's elected.

ON THE SPORT FRONT

Ye Olde Sport Scrivener notes with interest that Mr. Albert Duplax who died in Richfield the other day was once a sporting partner for Sam Langford, the Boston tar baby.

That was quite an honor because Langford was believed by many, and not without reason, to have been the greatest heavyweight who ever lived. In fact, no one since that time has been in his prime because in most of his fights he had to "do business" as you know what that means in sporting parlance—in order to get anybody to meet him.

The last time that he was fighting was the famous Joe Louis fight at the Madison Square Garden, where he was a light heavyweight and as such met the famous Joe Louis, who was then the heavyweight champion. The fight was a draw, although he lost the decision.

Langford was one of few fighters who needed but one punch to finish off a man. But this time he was the only other heavyweight than the pugilist one can recall who could call his shots in this manner. Jack Dempsey, for Joe Louis couldn't get a single one of his famed punching ability.

This ancient word pugilist never had the opportunity to be used in the pugilist one can recall who could call his shots in this manner. Jack Dempsey, for Joe Louis couldn't get a single one of his famed punching ability.

PHEASANT SEASON UNDERWAY TODAY

Irish Outplayed but Luck Defeats Illini

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—The luck of the Irish saved Notre Dame, the country's No. 1 college football eleven, from an upset defeat today when by 7 to 6 in the last quarter at Champaign, Ill., the South Benders won, 13-7, on a 65-yard sprint by Chick Maggoli. Altogether the play covered 71 yards, Maggoli getting into the clear after taking a hit from Bob Kelly.

The one play wiped the advantage of a 74-yard touchdown run by Illinois' Buddy Young the first time he carried the ball. The Illini, who had two touchdowns recalled because of penalties, pushed Notre Dame all over the field, piling up 341 yards by rushing to 192. In addition Young was injured late in the first half and sat on the bench the remainder of the game.

Nav's unpredictable eleven bounced back from last week's 13 defeat at the hands of Georgia Tech to tumble Pennsylvania out of the top of the unbeaten and untied. A crowd of 75,000 at Philadelphia saw the Aldrich, beat to a 6-0 edge, for nearly three quarters, trample over the Quakers for three touchdowns and four field goals. It was the fourth straight year navy has beaten Penn.

In a battle of unbeaten and untied teams the Oklahoma Aggies entered Tulsa in a wide-scoring affair, 46 to 40. Ohio State, ranked No. 4 nationally, easily rolled over Minnesota, 20-7, to keep a clean slate. Miami (Ohio), St. Thomas (Ill.), Paul, Yale and Drake also started the unbeaten and untied ranks.

The University of Washington rebounded from its lopsided setback Monday night by USC to triumph, 33-7, while USC valiantly, 40-12; Indiana routed Iowa 23-0; Florida upset Maryland 14-0; Arkansas whipped Mississippi 28-0; Tennessee squashed Clemson 28-7; LSU Acheson defeated North Carolina 14-0; Denver rolled over the Jacksonville navy, 14-0; Denver rolled over the Jacksonville navy, 14-0; Denver rolled over the Jacksonville navy, 14-0.

Other games on this week's program are: James A. Wendell, Oakley at Bush, Miller at Burley and Combs at Gooding with the latter games in the Big Seven conference competition. Hagopian rang up his fifth victory of the season Friday by defeating an improved Halley team, 13-0. Coach Jack Martin's Pirates played without their star fullback, Byron Hagopian.

Hunters Fill Hotels On Eve of Shooting

Hunters, many of them from great distances, filled the hotels and tourist camps in the Magic Valley last night on the eve of the opening of the pheasant season today. In some notable the North Side Inn, all the rooms had been reserved as long as three months ago.

Reports from conservation officers indicated that the shooting would be as good as in former years. However, they said that the birds were more plentiful on the north side of the Snake river.

The season opens today in Gooding, Jerome, Blaine, Lemhi, Lincoln, Twin Falls, Coeur d'Alene, and Power counties. In the first three counties shooting will be permitted until Nov. 27, but in the latter four the curtain will be run down on Nov. 12.

The daily bag limit will be three birds, including one hen. Pheasant hunting is the same.

Some 140,000 waterfowl, big game and birds, are expected in the state next week from Canada's duck factory, beating the big north-of-the-border trade by a few days.

Ducks Unlimited, the sportsman-supported organization which aids and abets the breeding of ducks in 1,200,000 acres of dominion territory, announced today through Executive Secretary Ray Benson that the early flight of teal, pintails and mallards was already on its way and that some shooting has been heard in border states where the season opened a month ago.

But the heavy firing—and the good eating—will not come in the form of northern mallards, blue bills and canvas backs, along with the huge green canvas to make the "honkers."

This year's estimate of 140,000 ducks is 100,000 above that of the 1933-37 period, when hunting seasons were for 30 days. This year the hunters will bring away for 80 days.

Boise Takes Lead in Big Five With 13-6 Win Over Caldwell

BOISE, Oct. 28 (AP)—Boise high school took favored position for the Big Five Idaho high school football championship today with a 13 to 6 win over the highly touted Caldwell Cougars.

The Boise victory was a repeat of its non-conference 38-27 victory last week at Caldwell. Caldwell has beaten Twin Falls, Nampa and Postville in conference play.

Coach Floyd Holt's Cougars managed a touchdown in the third quarter when Jim Hammond, 200-pound fullback, scored, but the kick which would have tied the count was wild.

MEGOGO WINS HANDICAP LAUREL, Md., Oct. 28 (AP)—Megog won the 31st running of the Washington handicap worth first prize of $10,000 and a crowd of approximately 15,000 persons at Laurel park today.

BOSTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox added the 26th star to the club's Fenway park service flag today when Manager Joe Cronin learned that catcher Roy Partee had been inducted into the army at Fort MacArthur in California. As a result, Bill Conroy is Boston's only third baseman Jim labor telephoned club officials from Fort Devens that he had been inducted on Monday and was waiting an early transfer to an infantry training camp.

Packer to Meet Detroit's Lions

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Whisper argument there may be about the personalities of the ornamental Cleveland Rams and the invincibility of the unbeaten Detroit Lions, the Packers should be added Sunday in a pair of repeat performances in one of the NFL's most important days. And while the western end of the circuit is getting a couple of problems solved, the eastern division has some important business to settle, too, when unbeaten New York clashes with unbeaten, but tied, Philadelphia.

Flier Visits

MOSCOW, Oct. 28 (AP)—L. Frank Katz, who held the national collegiate boxing championship in the 127-pound class and is now on leave after completing 12 combat missions over Europe as a laborator bomb pilot, has returned to the University of Idaho campus for a visit.

GERMANY WILL TRY IT AGAIN

By Sigrid Schultz

As an American newspaper correspondent in Berlin from 1918 to 1924, Sigrid Schultz saw at first hand the events that led from World War I to World War II. And she saw the behind-the-scenes preparation for the coming "war-to-end-all-wars" that she wrote about in her book "The World as I See It." This is the story of Germany's plans to win the peace, plans that even now are being put into effect.

When we realize that we shall face a new German (and she shall face a new German) from the man of the 19th century, different again from the man of 1918, a German molded by pen-Germany, and not by the sword, it is a very intelligent tool for conquest, then we shall have gone a long way toward understanding what could possibly occur in Germany. For this same German will try desperately to convince not only foreigners but his own people that he is not a threat. Millions of such people will shed their own red coats outwardly, but inwardly they will remain loyal to the German cause, and will be ready to follow any leader who promises to lead them to the promised land.

We shall meet in Germany the leaders and the adherents of the underground, intelligently brave men and women who are doing their utmost to keep the German cause alive. They are not only the heart-breaking battle against the Nazis, but they are also the heart-breaking battle against the Nazis. They are not only the heart-breaking battle against the Nazis, but they are also the heart-breaking battle against the Nazis. They are not only the heart-breaking battle against the Nazis, but they are also the heart-breaking battle against the Nazis.

The conclusion came to me in conversations with some of the very few men fighting for the unit they can be of use to their nation—drifters and brave German, speaking carefully, never in front of German witnesses. I remember them best, therefore, in an approximate dialogue form.

"The German people themselves," said one, "must be made to take the law into their own hands and destroy the evil which befalls them. If the other nations compel the Germans to punish their own criminals themselves, or surrender them voluntarily to punishment in the hands where they committed their crimes, the real cause of peace would be furthered by decades."

"And then what?" "Why, within that certain nation, let the German fight it out among themselves."

"Many of us," another said, "hope that at least some of the army leaders are against the Nazis, even if some others furthered the Nazi cause. They must prove their worth."

PAMPHLET STIRS UTAH'S POLITICS

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 28 (UP)—"Blackie the Magpie," a pamphlet charging corruption in the Salt Lake City of Price, Utah, today precipitated violent political and personal repercussions throughout the state.

The pamphlet, signed by Dr. Francis Kirkham, Salt Lake City, was mailed to various persons throughout the state.

Price citizens said the pamphlet "disparaged and blackened the community." They requested a delegation of 16 to see Gov. Herbert B. Maes.

The governor was out of town, but the delegates left a petition accusing him of "political attack" on the publication of the pamphlet.

Dr. Bracken Lee, mayor of Price and Governor Maes's Republican opponent in the coming election.

All state and all local headquarters district have had anything to do with the pamphlet. Maes's secretary, Miss J. Strain, said she was the first to get the pamphlet.

Meanwhile, a variant was issued for the state of Utah. Price City Judge S. P. Swearington said an affidavit was filed with the court.

He is recovering from leg wounds received during the invasion of Normandy.

He was en route by plane from his combat post to an army hospital in Spokane.
