WARM "PURREY" BLANKETS!

Purrey Blankets are really insulated, indeed... we mean it. That's why they're extra warm. The special crinkly rayon fibres make "nap traps," little pockets that catch and hold the warm air and reflect it back. They're washable. Purrey blankets stay soft and springy, the nap deep and fluffy even after countless washings. The colors stay clear and bright. They're moth-proofed. Colors: cornflower blue, dusty rose, willow green, cedar rose, white.

The effect of this on the morals and morale of the home front were foreseen and the reason why they congress said no.

Moreover, there were strikes at the rate of more than $,000 a year which were waste manpower to a far greater extent than Mr. Roosevelt or anyone else in the administration would have done. The statistics which the President cited from time to time were his own statistics and were further deceptive because they did not reckon the loss of hours imposed on non-strikers.

As an illustration, only a few hundred men could be called strikers in the Philadelphia transit strike but also a million workers were affected. They could go to work and from there to another place. A strike in the ball-bearing and roller-bearing industry can lay off millions of non-striking workers in the steel, coal, shipping, automotive and airplane industries.

There is one much greater fear of J. Edgar Hoover. When the President says that, theoretically, he

Former Twin Falls Girls Are Wed to Men in Armed Forces

Nuptial news of interest to Twin Falls friends of Miss Lois Austin and Miss Grace Lucille Bruggeman, formerly of this city, was received here this week.

Miss Austin became the bride of S. J. Harold W. Driver, navy hospital corps, at Cour d'Alene Friday, Oct. 20. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Austin, Pocatello, formerly of Twin Falls, and a niece of Mrs. Cora Stevens, Twin Falls. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Driver, Ogden, Utah.

Miss Bruggeman's marriage to Tech. Sgt. Ralph (Buck) Clark, Phoenix, Ariz., was solemnized at Bergstrom field camp, Austin, Tex., Oct. 28 at 6:30 p. m. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Clark, Phoenix, Ariz.

The Driver-Austin nuptial vows were pledged at a double ring ceremony at the Cour d'Alene Methodist parsonage at 5:30 p. m. with the Rev. Chester C. Blair officiating. P. M. and Mrs. Claire Scott, school colleagues of the couple, were the attendants. Mrs. Hudson is the former Mary Lou Jones, Pocatello.

The bride wore a pale blue gown with a white collar and a white veil. She was escorted by Miss Helen Smith, a former classmate. The groom wore a tuxedo and a white shirt with a bow tie.

The bride was a graduate of Pocatello high school and attended the University of Idaho. She was a member of the Beta Sigma Phi chapter at Pocatello. The groom was a member of the Beta Sigma Phi chapter at Pocatello.

The bride and groom were married by the Rev. Chester C. Blair at the Cour d'Alene Methodist parsonage. The ceremony was attended by a large number of guests.

Miss Louise Outpost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gaudin, Twin Falls, left Tuesday for Norfolk, Va., to meet her fiancé, Richard G. Heyburn. The marriage was performed by J. O. Humphrey, justice of the peace, at his home here. The ceremony of the bride and groom was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Betty June, daughter of Mr. George Rouch, 111 Park street, left Tuesday for the University of Idaho. She was a member of the Beta Sigma Phi chapter at Pocatello. The bride and groom were married by the Rev. Chester C. Blair at the Cour d'Alene Methodist parsonage.

This Is Enrollment Month

After establishing a production record of 12,000,000 combs for the school year, the Junior Red Cross is conducting its annual November 1-15 enrollment campaign, confident of an all-time high in membership and even greater production.

Although most of the children in the Twin Falls schools have already enrolled in the Junior Red Cross, endeavor will be made to make enrollments 100 per cent in each school room during the period of the drive.

Principals of local schools said Thursday that Junior Red Cross enrollment would be better during the month, and other activities would be underway.

None too young. The Junior Red Cross points out that not one boy or girl in America is too young to be a part of the war effort, and provides a program of activities in which even the youngest can participate.

By the things they have done, they have proved that in their schools, they have carried on the work of the Junior Red Cross. There are not only a half million of them enrolled in the organization, they are a large army in themselves.

In normal times, Twin Falls Junior Red Cross would send a party of November in preparing good mailings of Christmas cards to children in other countries.

Mailed these early. This year, however, because of early mailing of Christmas cards to children in other countries, the children in September assembled their Christmas boxes for boys and girls in England and France. The boxes contained letters, toys and other small gifts, and cost from $1.00 to $5.00 a box.

Membership during the 1943-44 school year amounted to 100 per cent of the nation's elementary and high school population.

Mr. Cecil G. Jones is chairman of Junior Red Cross activities in the grade schools, and Mrs. Stanley Phillips is chairman for the Junior Red Cross in the high schools.

Dinner for Father. JEROME, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Helen Giles and Mrs. Rachel Stueckweh honored their father, T. W. Newman, on his birthday anniversary at a surprise dinner party at the Giles home. In addition to members of the two immediate families, there were 10 grandchildren present.

At the party in her honor, Miss Clinger was presented with a gift by her society sisters, having already enlisted, she will leave in the morning for Fort Detrick, Md., for basic training.

Phil O. Kingston, secretary-manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, delivered informal talks on the development of the city and on the influence of travel in foreign countries.

Nurses Told of WAC Experiences

Highlighting the Wednesday night meeting of the First District Nurses' association at the home of Mrs. June Garrett was an informal talk by WAC Sgt. Mary Jo Ryan, Twin Falls, on her experiences in the north African and Italian theaters of war.

Home on a 30-day furlough from her station with the Fifth army in Italy, Sgt. Ryan also exhibited photographs and souvenirs she brought with her, many of them from Algeria and the tale of Capt. Home. Also featured at the session was Mrs. Dorothy Collins, district nurse who spoke on the control of communicable diseases.

Plans for cooperating in the Red Cross hospital and camp Christmas program were made at the meeting. A Christmas party, to be held Dec. 10, was also projected.

Acting as hostesses were Mrs. Jean Reynolds, Mrs. Nell Wheeler, Mrs. Betty Miller and Mrs. John Garrett.

Milk production in 1943 totaled 56,263,000 quarts.

AMERICAN JUNIOR RED-CROSS

More than 18 million Junior Red Cross members are turning out for the annual service poster by the artist J. E. White.

After establishing a production record of 12,000,000 combs for the school year, the Junior Red Cross is conducting its annual November 1-15 enrollment campaign, confident of an all-time high in membership and even greater production.

Although most of the children in the Twin Falls schools have already enrolled in the Junior Red Cross, endeavor will be made to make enrollments 100 per cent in each school room during the period of the drive.

Principals of local schools said Thursday that Junior Red Cross enrollment would be better during the month, and other activities would be underway.

None too young. The Junior Red Cross points out that not one boy or girl in America is too young to be a part of the war effort, and provides a program of activities in which even the youngest can participate.

By the things they have done, they have proved that in their schools, they have carried on the work of the Junior Red Cross. There are not only a half million of them enrolled in the organization, they are a large army in themselves.

In normal times, Twin Falls Junior Red Cross would send a party of November in preparing good mailings of Christmas cards to children in other countries.

This year, however, because of early mailing of Christmas cards to children in other countries, the children in September assembled their Christmas boxes for boys and girls in England and France.
