Yank Units Capture Sarrebouurg as Nazi Vosges Stand Fails

LONDON, Nov. 21 (AP)—French armor thrusting northward down the Rhine stormed Mulhouse today, and United States troops captured Sarrebourg, 32 miles from the Rhine, in an eastward drive collapsing the whole German stand in the Vosges mountains. The swift-paced French perhaps had already entered Mulhouse, an industrial city of 97,000, in exploitation of their Belfort breakthrough. This push was undermining German positions for 100 miles to the north.

"I Want More Supplies"

Both the American seventh and third armies were heading eastward toward Strasbourg and Saarbrücken, meeting weakening rear-guard resistance from Germans apparently retreating to the Rhine.

The 4th division of the seventh army captured Saarbrücken (population 6300)—70 miles northwest of Mulhouse—and mechanized patrols were slashing onward toward Strasbourg, 30 miles beyond.

Near Saarbrücken

Third army forces fought within 10 miles of Saarbrücken in the industrially-rich Saar basin. Still farther north, tanks of the third army had driven three miles into Germany.

French troops charged into the fortress city of Belfort—by-passed in the plunge to the Rhine—and were fighting to clean it up. Front dispatch declared tonight. Heavy reinforcements were moving into it, and into the power drive along the Rhine.

The sweep into Belfort was surprising, even to the assault French, for it and Metz—taken by third army doughboys—had been consid-

French sold.

But resistance continued strong in the north, especially against the

Need More Arms for Punch—Eisenhower

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE,
PARIS, Nov. 21 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared today his plan for future operations is to increase pressure steadily all along the western front until the Germans are crushed.

To do this, greater supplies are necessary, the supreme commander of the western front said.

An unconfirmed Swiss report said the French were attempting to bridge the Rhine southeast of Mulhouse. An assault was reported underway on Mulhouse itself.

At the north end of the front, beyond Aachen, American and British

Padgett, archbishop of the sixth war loan drive now underway, said Tuesday that "the workers are just beginning to believe that, following several sessions in various parts of the area, most workers will be hand at the capture of Belfort by the gallant French army and its reaching the Rhine." The general told correspondents that his plans were to hit and hammer the Germans with increasing pressure, reaching its peak on the Rhine.

people and if confronted by failure after failure of their armed forces, they would inevitably crack. It is a colossal job, he said, to confront the Germans with more and more of these failures.

Shortage Faces Nazis

He said the people had every reason to be optimistic as he himself, but should guard against becoming complacent.

Eisenhower reported German leaders were faced by a critical shortage of manpower and supplies and were stripping Germany bare.

Asked whether the situation was brighter than had been expected on this date at the time of invasion, the general responded that it was decidedly better in one respect—in that one could have believed that the allied armies in November would have massed before the Siegfried line. He conceded, however, that on any June 6, most people would have doubted that the Germans would have kept fighting after suffering such defeats as they have known.

By August it became apparent, he said, that the German leaders

BOBBY SOX THEFT WAVE REPORTED

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21 (AP)—A highway brigandage reported apparently growing in size, is causing Portland merchants and police to worry.

The increasing number of petty thefts from stores and restaurants, youngsters, some of them from good families, suggested, police said, that a "bobby sox" is in vogue in the area. It is a kind of organized crime, a division and a mercenary association added, however, that there is no evidence of organized plotting. Nor is there evidence that the thieves are for financial profit.

Jewelry, scarves, stockings, sweaters and gloves make up most of the loot. There has been a run recently on chain bracelets. Detection of parents is hindered, detectives said, by the practice of girls "swapping" such articles.

No Tax Slash for Campaign Charge

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—Here's bad news for political office seekers. You can't deduct campaign expenses in computing your federal income tax.

The supreme court by 5-4 vote laid down that rule Monday in turning down an appeal by Michael P. McDonald, Ashley, Penn., who sought to deduct $12,707 for expenses of his unsuccessful campaign for election to a county judgeship in 1935.

Frankfurter said McDonald's argument that since he was defeated, his expense should be deductible as loss incurred in "transaction entered into for profit" deserved "no more than short shrift."

JAPS' FAILURE LAID TO SLAPS

GENERAL MACARTHUR HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Japanese war blunder much of the failure of their "greater Asia" propaganda in the Philippines against their use of the military map.

There's no greater insult to the proud, vainglorious Japanese Filipinos than to see one of their menfolk flush red under a stinging slap administered by a soldier of the emperor against the "unpleasant blunder and buttresses the will of the masses to resist."

It was too late when the Japanese finally realized their mistake and ordered the soldiers to refrain from slapping civilians who were too slow to understand.

STRAIGHT TALK

ABOUT THE

SIXTH WAR LOAN DRIVE

AS WE MOVE closer to victory, it wouldn't be surprising if you were saying to yourself—"What's the big idea of asking for all this additional money now? Isn't the war almost over?"

No sir, it is not! Not by a long shot. Of course, for many months now you've heard mostly about the war with Germany, where our greatest effort is concentrated. That's why many people have the idea that the war's practically over.

But make no mistake about it—nothing could be farther from the truth! The Japanese war is a tremendous undertaking, and victory will come high. We'll have to fight every inch of the way.

Everything Costs More—in the Pacific War

The European war is expensive, but almost everything in the Pacific war will cost more. Take transport costs, for instance: Because of the longer distances, the same amount of freight costs 25 per cent more when shipped to the South Pacific than to Europe. And it takes twice as many cargo ships in the Pacific to support a task force of a given size because turn-around time is twice as great!

More Planes . . . Tanks . . . Ships . . . Oil

In addition, we shall need more of everything. More B-29 Superfortresses that cost $600,000 each. More P-47 Thunderbolts that cost $50,000 each. More M-4 Tanks, with bulldozer blades, that cost $67,417 each. More amphibious tanks —more aircraft carriers—more supply ships—more gasoline and oil than it took for the invasion of Europe!

Care for the Sick and Wounded

And lest anyone forget, we shall need more battalion aid stations—more clearing stations—more evacuation hospitals—more convalescent hospitals—more hospital ships.

For many, many years the sick, wounded, and otherwise disabled veterans will require medical attention and care. That's the least Uncle Sam can do in appreciation of what they've done for us.

Maintenance for Millions

Did you ever stop to think how much money it costs to maintain the 11 to 12 million men and women in our army and navy? Whether the men are actually fighting or not, they must be fed, housed, transported from one training center or battle area to another, cared for in a hundred and one different ways. That all costs money and will continue to until the last man demobilized is back in civilian clothes.

In addition, millions of dollars will be required for mustering-out pay, for various benefits and services voted by Congress to help the boys get started in civilian life.

These are reasons enough why patriotic Americans will want to buy heavily during the Sixth War Loan. But here are still more—

Winning the Peace—for Your Country

If we're to win the peace as well as the war, the cost of living must be kept down and the purchasing power of money preserved. A reckless inflation that would necessarily be followed by the catastrophe of deflation—with its unemployment, bankruptcies, misery and heartache—must be prevented at all cost.

Let's make no mistake—a dangerous period lies ahead. The American people have nothing to fear, however, if they show in the future the same common sense they have shown in the past, and continue to put every penny over rock-bottom expenses into the purchase of more and more War Bonds.

Winning the Peace—for Yourself

Want another important reason? Yourself! There isn't a better or safer investment in the world today than War Bonds. In helping your country, you are also helping yourself! Never in our entire history has it been so necessary to save as right now. We'll need money, individually, for education, repairs, replacements, retirement—and we'll need a lot of it.

As you can see there are many reasons, important reasons, why our Government must have the financial support of everyone, and have it for many months to come.

Let all Americans do their part—for their own sake, for their country's.

Ye Old Sport Scriverer is glad that the big seven coaches decided to pass up that annual bit of fool-telling when they had their meeting here today—the selection of an all-star team.

The big one long ago decided to refrain therefrom from picking such eleven because of the fear of working an injury to a kid that really belonged but didn't get there because he happened to be having one of his bad days when the ancient word polder was around.

Then one in point, everybody tells YOSS that Ray Strawser over at Bull is a shade of a tangle and just as good as his size and age, never say he should be. But if the old typewriter tamperer would be expelled to enter an all-star team, never say he should be. But if the old typewriter tamperer would be expelled to enter an all-star team, never say he should be.

Then there's the legend of Ruppert. All the Rupperts will swear that the big seven coaches decided to pass up that annual bit of fool-telling when they had their meeting here today—the selection of an all-star team.

There's a lot of good players who never even get a nod from the pickers. But the coaches have decided to pass up that annual bit of fool-telling when they had their meeting here today—the selection of an all-star team.

Thanks for the correction! Mr. Merrill, Glenn Ferry, reports via postcard that it wasn't John Hurler who threw the last-mentioned pass that was the goodie game for the Pipers in the third 12-5. It was John Hurler, Johnny Wallace, who put over the clincher.

And that's that for now except: Richard Hurler, who reports via postcard that it wasn't John Hurler who threw the last-mentioned pass that was the goodie game for the Pipers in the third 12-5. It was John Hurler, Johnny Wallace, who put over the clincher.

Dempsey Takes All of Blame
CHICAGO, Nov. 21 (AP)—To Coach Jack Dempsey of the coast guard, only one person was responsible for all the fuss and fury that followed that "honk count" incident in the fight to regain the heavyweight championship, from Gene Tunney—and that person was Dempsey.

Back at the scene of that 1927 battle, his bitterest regret was that he had not been able to get the "honk count" incident in the fight to regain the heavyweight championship, from Gene Tunney—and that person was Dempsey.

BRUINS EXPECTED TO BE STRONGER IN CAGE SPORT

Penn's Savitsky, 252 Pounds of TNT In 14-1-2 Shoes, Is "Physically Unfit"

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—The name of Savitsky, the American, being taken on the list of the names of a lot of Army and Navy guys, but you pull up in the process. There are other good football players in the list.

According to mind officers, he looks like a North of Ohio State, the incredible history of William Penn State and the history of the University of Illinois, the fastest man in the world.

And then definitely in the picture is Paul Walker of Yale. There are many more names that at least one will have to be placed at the top of the list.

Savitsky served in the marine corps for six months and got one of those medical discharges only a service for physical condition. He is now in the service of the United States Army.

There's a lot of good players who never even get a nod from the pickers. But the coaches have decided to pass up that annual bit of fool-telling when they had their meeting here today—the selection of an all-star team.

74,000 to See Big-10 Battle

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 21 (AP)—A football "natural" is coming up here Saturday between Ohio State and Michigan, the two great college football teams.

Over the years, there have been red gladiators rivaling more intense than that between Ohio State and Michigan but that's only incidental this year.

The game Saturday will have more angles than you'll find in geometry. It's a battle of the brains as well as a battle of the brawn.

First, Ohio State now is just 60 minutes from the top of its first perfect regular season in 24 years.

A combination of circumstances has made this game the water center of the championship. Ohio State can take the title for the second time in three years.

Michigan's victory would give the Wolverines the crown, with six wins and one loss, against five wins and one loss for Ohio State.

And then there is the intriguing how possibility. If the 10 division Saturday night game is a no-contest, Michigan will have a perfect record.

Coach Carroll Widdoes, Ohio State, reported today the Bucks came out of Saturday's game with Illinois without any serious injuries.

Ohio State has won every game by at least two touchdowns and Widdoes described the Michigan game as the toughest one yet.

Assistant coach Elmer Godfrey, reporting on the scouting trip to Michigan, said that anyone who says Ohio State should be the big favorite just doesn't know the game.

Cub Graduates to Aid Coach Monk Halliday

Don't count J. Stuart "Monk" Halliday and his Twin Falls Bruins out of the scramble for Magic Valley basketball honors this season. That's the advice that a follower of the local sports editor gives the sports editor of the Times-News last night.

And this gem makes out his case as follows: 1. Coach "Monk"—one of the best case mentors in the state—what a winner on the floor if there's any material there at all.

2. Tom Olmstead, six-foot-two-inch center of last season who can score with the best of them.

3. Gerald Painter, the tall hot-shot coming up from a good 1943-44 Cub team.

Other Reasons, Too
And there are a lot of other reasons, but the best said that those mentioned above were the really big reason why a winning case season is in the offing.

The basketball program was pointed out at Al Starna, another Cub, rang up 20 points against a strong Hamilton last season.

"Yes, and don't forget what's left of the 'fencing' done," he stated. He meant Billy Dwyer, Lou Lether and Dick Loe, who with a number of others graduated or in the military service, were barred from basketball last season because they shook a mean hoof on the dance floor when Coach Halliday thought they should have their energies for the cage sport.

Real Sharpshooter
These three in a number of Don't count J. Stuart "Monk" Halliday and his Twin Falls Bruins out of the scramble for Magic Valley basketball honors this season.

He also pointed that Halliday will have Jimmy Russell, the golfer; Webb Malone, Roger Wagner and Jackie Wagner, three from among the lettermen, while Bill Matson, Stewart Wagner and Tom Penick were coming up from the Cub.

Don Whitmire Best Tackle

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—Spokesmen for the Army and Navy teams addressed the New York football writers with their enthusiasm and politeness, warning out the clutter of the dates at the weekly luncheon.

But it was all in reverse. Mac Andy Gusterson, Army backfield coach, discussed Navy's prowess and strategy, while Billy Lindell, Command E. E. (Rip) Miller, Middle line tutor, divulged all the secrets of the Cadet scoring machine.

Gusterson rated Don Whitmire as the best college tackle in the country and one who created very little help from anyone in halting plays. Hal Henders, Navy's passer, got almost as much praise.

Miller, one of the seven miles at Notre Dame, ranked this year's Army team on a par with the Irish squad a year ago before Angelo Bertelli left for the mainland.

"I thought I'd never see a better team than the Notre Dame squad of a year ago, but this Army team is at least its equal," he declared.

Castano, a 1-6 Pennsylvanian, whom Army polished off by a 62-0 score last week-end, made considerable yardage over the Cadet tackles and that much work that he did before the Navy game in Baltimore's municipal stadium on Dec. 2.

MERRITT DOWN TOWN
CHICAGO, Nov. 21 (AP)—Jim Merritt, 217, Chicago, put Dan Merritt, 208, Cleveland, down for counts of eight and nine in the third round to win an eight-round title.

THE STORY: Kabatek has had such a good time with Mickey and his friends, he decides to pick up on his drive across the continent, that he is sorry when they near their destination.

We got into Hollywood at about 10. After stopping a couple of times to ask the way, I pulled up in front of the Mayberry apartments on Van Ness avenue. The place had been recommended to Mickey by a friend, and I was sure it was the place where I was expected.

Maybe I was out of sorts from lack of sleep, but I couldn't show as much enthusiasm. There was a depressing air about the long dark corridor, and it was about as stuffy as Mrs. Watling's house. I decided they bring up the suitcase, the keys, the room, and the other necessities, and the apartment began to look better. You can get a view of the hills if you leave out the window.

"Well, kid, I said, 'I'll be running along. You better clean up and take a nap. I'll be back at the hotel, and some time this afternoon I'll be around to get you and your equipment ready. We can't afford to waste time."

"Better make this evening, too," said Mickey. "The crowd this is on vacation for us. Don't have to go out to the stadium and I'll be ready to go to work tomorrow. We can't afford to waste time."

"One day just going to make much difference."

"We're here to see, but please don't make a mistake."

The girl had a mind of her own. I really found that out.

"Okay, Mickey. I'll be around at 7. We'll have dinner together."

At the door of the apartment she took my hand.

"You'll never know what it meant to me, meeting you like that."

"Forget it."

I pushed back the lock of hair that tumbled over her eye, gave her a pat on the cheek and started down the corridor.

The Plaza hotel was all right. I signed the register. The clerk glanced at the name, then leaned forward.

"We've been expecting you, Mr. Kabatek. Here are a couple of telegrams for you. And Mr. Perez wants you to call him in room 528."

"Mr. Perez. Don't you know the gentleman?"

"Never heard of him."

Fluttering the two envelopes, I slipped down in an armchair. This was a nasty job. The only person who knew my address was Boglio, and Boglio wasn't the kind of guy to send messages of welcome.

Finally I opened one of the telegrams. It was the second. In the strongest language compatible with the rules of Western Union, Boglio told me not to have anything to do with the first. I opened it in turn. It was three days old and ordered me to sell my car and take the first plane back to New York. There was no explanation.

I sat there a day, then pulled myself together and re-read the message. The dirty airline was actually telling me to sell my car and come back before I'd had a chance to spend a single day in Hollywood. Was he nuts? Or did he think this was funny?

Maybe this fellow Perez was in on the secret. If he knew I was coming here it could only be through Boglio. I showed the telegram into my pocket and went back to the desk.

"What was that room number again?"

"Mr. Perez? 528. The house phones are over there."

The buzzer rang several times before I got an answer. Then I heard a voice that was deep.

"Who is it?"

"Leo Kasper. I've just arrived and I got your message."

There was a short pause. Perez must have been getting his way out of a fog.

"Oh, yes," he said, "Kabatek! Come on up."

"The shows were drawn and the lamp at the bedside was on. Outside the California sun was shining but in here you'd have thought it was New York on a winter morning.

Perez had just got out of bed. His silk pajama top was open and his feet, and with stockings like a football player, he never saw so many contact lenses in one person.

The physiognomy of a goliath and the hair of a baboon. Perez's effort I noticed when he slipped on his feet, but when he began talking to me, he was a boy, a cultured boy.

"Sit down, Kasper. What was the story?"

"When I saw you supposed to get here or there last night."

I wasn't supposed to get here at all, expected time. I'm on a vacation. My car is in the garage. I'm sitting on the edge of the bed, waiting and waiting for you."

"Mind if I sit across?"

He pulled off the pajama top and walked over to the bathroom. I heard him turn on the water. Then he began singing and singing as he washed. The man was either bawdy or absent-minded. For a moment I thought he'd forgotten all about me, but then he came back, drying his ears with the corner of a towel.

"Have a cigar?"

I took one from the silver box he presented.

About your wanting to see me. I mean, I like it you're a friend of a friend of mine."

I represent Virgil Boglio interests, out here."

"That was the last I saw of him. He was general sales manager for Standard Oil. Then he went back into the bathroom and began listening to his face."
