

ARMY WILL GET THIRD OF SPUDS

(From Page One)

Representing the national headquarters of the WPA, A. M. J. presented an overall picture of the potato situation in the country at the present time. He stated that the present crop of potatoes is estimated to be 1.5 billion bushels. However, the proportion will change as army requirements change. He told them an open discussion of the economic questions of the potato industry, with the exception of the mechanics of the regulations, in the opinion of George B. Peters and Potatoes Association, satisfaction to Shippers Association, satisfaction to growers were given to all the dealers questions and the meeting was conducted smoothly.

Dr. Peters also indicated that Idaho dealers, by and large, were satisfied with the regulation of the potato trade.

An army captain, from the quartermaster market office in Chicago and having been in charge of the distribution of potatoes, explained the advantages of selling the potatoes produced in Idaho to the army.

Last week, when Twin Falls dealers predicted the army freeze in Idaho, they were not alone in their prediction. The army freeze in Idaho was not alone in its prediction. The army freeze in Idaho was not alone in its prediction.

The report added that the freeze order announced in Idaho Falls follows the freeze order in the district of Columbia that of four "auto" charging violations of selling prices in potato sales to growers to dealers.

LEGISLATOR DIES ON TACOMA VISIT

WENDELL, Dec. 9.—Dr. R. W. Ritchie, 70, prominent Idaho real estate circles and elected in November to his fourth term in the Idaho house of representatives on the Democratic ticket, died this morning, Tacoma, Wash., it was learned this evening.

Death, according to word received, followed a stroke Dr. Ritchie suffered while visiting his son, Dr. C. W. Ritchie, in Tacoma, Wash., with his wife, the former Myrtle Journey, for a number of years.

The body will be returned here with services tentatively planned in the local Presbyterian church, where it will probably be at Gooding university at the direction of the Thompson ministry. Funeral day and time are pending.

Dr. Ritchie came to Tuttle in 1900 after practicing dentistry in Idaho for 10 years. While here he purchased a ranch and developed it from a scrubby, undeveloped land into a thriving farm.

In the Idaho legislature he was chairman of the educational committee, and also on the board of directors of the American Falls rearing district and the Idaho State company. He also was a director of the Hayden highway district.

He was a long time member of the Presbyterian church and was especially active in religious work. He was born in Illinois on Feb. 18, 1874.

In addition to his wife survivors include four children by a former marriage: Mrs. W. H. Ritchie, Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Ritchie, and Mrs. Ritchie.

Survivors include seven grandchildren: a brother, James Ritchie, of Olat, Cal.; a sister, Mrs. Ritchie, of Olat, Cal.; a sister, Mrs. Ritchie, of Olat, Cal.; a sister, Mrs. Ritchie, of Olat, Cal.; a sister, Mrs. Ritchie, of Olat, Cal.; a sister, Mrs. Ritchie, of Olat, Cal.; a sister, Mrs. Ritchie, of Olat, Cal.

Little Al Copeland, the old-time professional sports writer, was about it when most of our old sportswriters of the era of wonderful men were. He was a little heavier, as he used to say, two pounds lighter than a straw hat, and a cocky, temperamental fellow who covered the horse-tracks as a writer in his latter years, but, back in the thirties, he was a real sportsman union, with a representative for collective bargaining and working conditions. He was a fat fellow, but on well, I was just going to carry on frivolously about the customs of unions as applied to us intellectuals. I was just going to yelp like a dog on a tub of a horse, and a cover-the telemondo mullin: in the shape of a suggestion that once we intellectuals were in the sportsman union, with a representative for collective bargaining and working conditions, we would be able to carry on frivolously about the customs of unions as applied to us intellectuals.

one or more of the big eastern colleges. In his professional days he rode the old division trains with Square Garden and other amateur riders and his favorite animal was a square-head, because he could easily outrun the big, beefy bulls in the quarter and half mile races. Although he couldn't even lift the 55 pound loss he had gained after coming out the back door.

After a night at the Pseudo Roman made him American debut as a professional Amateur rider, Al sat square at the Pump House and watched the old tramp, fascinated by the shape of the fabulous horse's legs and ankles and watching him clock himself around and around the track with a wristwatch.

It was a very low standard of living, but it was his own money, so he refused to out-finance either other competitors or himself. He was able to get by thinking up new thoughts than the public could follow. As a result, he was Prof. Shattain may have been a little bit of a con man, but his key-business to him, might create surplus which could be warehouseed until needed for some emergency. Dear Friends:
If you haven't already mailed your Christmas boxes, please do so just as soon as possible. Our postal workers are snowed under with packages which we all hope will be delivered in time for Christmas.

Just one word of precautionary warning: Be sure that each package is securely wrapped and accurately addressed. Incomplete addresses mean returning bad headaches for the post-office and disappointment for all towns concerned. Even though the towns are small it's important that route numbers and box numbers be included. Here is the correct form. Mr. John Doe, Route 2, Twin Falls, Idaho.

By the way, do you have all the Christmas wrapping paper you need? We still have some left at $1.99 per kil. We also have a good selection of Christmas gifts. Look

His Blood Boils at New Proposal That Bonus Be Paid War Workers Who Stick

Editor, Times-News:

As I read the editorial page of the Times-News Dec. 5 I could not help but wonder, or should I say shudder, at the audacity of some of our people who I am sure think or suppose they are superior.

Well, if they are, then an alien and haven't yet learned the meaning of Americanism. What, you ask, am I trying to say? Well, as Tom Dwyer would say, "you asked for it here it is."

On this editorial editorial page of the Times-News Dec. 5 I could not help but wonder, or should I say shudder, at the audacity of some of our people who I am sure think or suppose they are superior.

Admits Youth Wide Awake— But Not Enough to See Peril

Editor, Times-News:

I am pleased that my article was an incentive to bring forth even an expression of wrath if thereby we can get wholesome opinions from our young people.

Perhaps in this way our nation will be able to hold the line that has happened to Germany through the youth movement which Hitler set up and which Mrs. Roosevelt has been so anxious to build up here.

I intended to move some time ago the issue of Hitlerism in Germany and thought of you. I am sure that the youth movement here was something "Hitler" and that Hitler would have been so anxious to build up here.

The "national socialist German labor party" known as the Nazis was founded in 1920 in Munich by Adolf Hitler (Austrian-born). He was opposed to the Republican constitution of the Reich. The Republicans were not strong enough to defy the young upstart from the underworld.

Now we have would-be dictators, "Hitler-borns" here in America who are opposed to our constitutional form of government. They have tried through the new deal and labor union to bring about national socialism.

The Republicans tried to bring to stop these un-American activities but the P. A. C. had their agents in every state of the union. Just like the communists have their agents in every country in the world.

Suggestion: Put Gift Money Into Red Cross Fund

Editor, Times-News:

Just that election and Thanksgiving are in the past, Christmas is just ahead. I am suggesting that as our resolve to make it a real Christmas will do REAL things for him whose birthday we celebrate, let us all forget the present going we have indulged in from our childhood and give the money to the National Red Cross.

There is not a child but what will gladly do without the trilling toys that have always been given him or her when they are made to understand what the Red Cross is doing in our own and foreign lands for our soldier boys and girls who have preserved themselves for our dear country that the enemy may be defeated and our glorious Christmas still continue.

I am suggesting that every school teacher take it up and stress what it means to them and what they are sacrificing and all manner of suffering in all manner of Christian countries.

Further suggest that every Sunday school teacher make it a part of the church school lesson that each child is helping to carry a present to some weary soldier who has stepped in a Red Cross shoe and been given a cup of hot coffee, a doughnut—with maybe a piece of pie. You can't emphasize too strongly what that really means.

Here's a Blast at "Smear" About President Roosevelt

Editor, Times-News:

After reading Mr. W. R. Bradshaw's letter in last Sunday's Forum, I can see his concern was not so much about service men whom he claims a Times-News article referred to as being vulgar and all of them craving whisky—but that he, like a couple of old ladies and our patriotic cracker barrel politicians, Mr. Daumann pillars of the Forum column, still harbor that die-hard split over the election. Still smearing Roosevelt.

Mr. Bradshaw goes on to say in above mentioned article, "But since the committee-in-chief takes God's name in vain, NO WE ARE TOLD; we cannot expect too much reverence from our sailors and soldiers."

This dirty smear has been denied by Mr. Roosevelt, by the press and radio, by a minister who was present at the time Mr. Roosevelt voiced. Yet time "hotter than thou" hypocrites preach God's command to love thy neighbor, in one breath, and in the next breath preach for Roosevelt and the new deal.

Why blow the band that fed you the past 12 years, Angelo? You will never bring back the Republican old deal by resorting to dirty lies, hatred and smear, such as the Republican multi-billionaires resorted to this past campaign.

Ferry Exceeds Quota In War Fund Effort

GLENNIS FERRY, Dec. 9.—Glennis Ferry has come over the top again, said Sam Jones, this time referring to the war fund drive recently completed here. The $1500 quota was topped by more than a hundred dollars in this area, including Kings Hill and Emmet, Russell McMillan was chairman of the drive at Kings Hill, while Mrs. Earl Hoadson was chairman of the drive at Emmet. Jones is chairman of the drive in Glennis Ferry.

Declares Answer To Forum Letter Wasn't Complete

Editor, Times-News:

I deeply appreciate the answer I got from Mrs. Bruce Norman to my Public Forum letter, only she didn't quite answer all the questions correctly.

To start with was the gasoline. Why some get gas to drive their cars nearly every day and not holding down a steady job. I will leave it to you. Who is the most able to walk, as she said I could, the fellow who pulls in from eight to 10 hours a day as I do or the one who sits around the fire and day out? It is a shame that I offer a Harvard student. I guess I should have lost it years ago, then I wouldn't burn up gas that someone else needs.

She also criticized me for not helping in the war effort. I wonder if she has bought as many war bonds as I have. She has son in the army, whom we are all proud of, to be in Uncle Sam's uniform and the bonds that I have bought help that son as well as all others to speed the day of victory.

And another thing that interested me, was why some folks quit their jobs without any reason at all, but perhaps they didn't belong to the party politics. People don't quit jobs unless they have some reason, or get caught without cause. The 20 per cent tax wasn't answered correctly. To my belief it is helping pay the war effort, why is the debt getting bigger every day? And why does one pay more than the others? If this is right, then I will keep all.

I have written several Forums for the peace of which some were all and some were pretty good. No one can please all the people all the time. I have my faults the same as all others. We all make mistakes. And I can roll my own cigarettes.

THE boys who win our battleships on foreign shores expect us to hold the home-front intact, for those who will come back. They have every right to expect this.

The War Bonds you buy now do just that—in two vitally important ways. First, they answer Japan's belief that our home-front is "too soft" to carry on the war against them. Japan firmly expects us to quit and give them an easy peace, because they think we are unwilling to sacrifice any of our comfortable living. Japan knows the B-29's that bomb Tokyo cost $600,000 each and that even a torpedo to sink a Jap ship costs $12,000. They think well say paying before they stop fighting. JUDGE EXPLAINS DELAY IN PROBE

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 9 (AP)—Wilcoxon refused to have evidence on "corruption in public office" brought to trial, writer of editorial statements under oath of a group which last night at a mass meeting requested that the judge call a grand jury investigation in Bonanza county.

The meeting of the group, which last September asked Judge Wilcoxon to call a grand jury, attracted more than 175 residents to the district court house. The group, headed by Grant Anderson, chairman of the Bonanza county allied civic force, called the "citizens committee" but was made up mostly of members of the allied civic force. The committee rectified recurring rumors that all is "not as it ought to be" in the county, according to the editor.

Free-for-all Debate

Before the meeting was over, however, the members of the "citizens committee" to leave without having an expression of view expressed by Hoyt Ray, Idaho Falls attorney. Some who said they were "free-for-all" remained, however, and the meeting toward the close turned into a free-for-all debate on general moral conditions in the city, the power's reputation in outside communities, law enforcement, gambling and juvenile delinquency.

Judge Wilcoxon, speaking before the committee left the room, made it plain that he had not decided whether to call a grand jury and that he would not decide until the "proper time" came to make the call before the next term of court, scheduled to open Jan. 22.

The judge declared that evidence so far submitted to him by counsel for the committee, Attorney Anderson, Idaho Falls, and Ben Johnson, Preston, had been "based on hearsay." He declared that witnesses so far had refused to make written statements or oral statements under oath to the court regarding charges.

Judge Sees Connection

Judge Taylor struck too, at a contention by a spokesman of the committee that there was no connection between the demand for a grand jury and the recent special investigation into alleged law enforcement violations, conducted here by Attorney General Bert H. Miller, Ival Warshaw, director of state law enforcement, and Kent Naylor, county prosecuting attorney.

"There is a very definite connection," the judge told his audience. "Transcript of the special hearing, held behind closed doors, is now locked in a Bonanza county vault and is available to the judge in determining whether to summon a grand jury."

The judge also disclosed that Attorney Denman and Johnson had asked the court to stop the special investigation which was held here in November. He said he informed the attorney that the law gave the county attorney and state liquor law enforcement director full power to conduct the probe and that the court had no authority to interfere.

"Welcome" Attorney General

Anderson asked the judge if he had requested the special probe, which the committee opposed. The judge said he had "welcomed" the attorney general here after the latter had offered to aid.

Deben Grobert, Idaho Falls realtor, kept the committee's request for action during the "indecision and delay . . . very unfortunate." He said he "intended to see any reasonable conclusion" between the special probe and the request for a grand jury investigation.

Critics who spoke during action to "clear up the rumors" were A. W. Schender, former Bonanza county assessor, Pamel Hansen, potato dealer here, and Fred Porter, county clerk.

After the committee members had been called from the room, Ray took the floor and denounced the request for a grand jury, pointing to the heavy expense involved and the lack of evidence of need for the probe. He invited questions from the floor and at once started a free-for-all argument during which sharp remarks were exchanged.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE BIRTHDAY TODAY

BY BURTON THOMPSON
CHICAGO, Wyo., Dec. 9 (AP)—Women's suffrage in the United States is 75 years old tomorrow, the anniversary of a law guaranteeing equal voting rights for women in the territory of Wyoming.

The Wyoming birth of suffrage resulted from a tea party given by a determined pioneer woman, Esther Morris, a former New York state milliner, who emigrated in 1869 with her family from Illinois to South Pass City, a gold-mining town south of the Wind River mountains.

She did not have much time to press her conviction that women should have equal political rights. The first election of the territory of Wyoming, newly-carved from the territories of Idaho, Oregon, Utah, and Idaho, was held Sept. 2, 1869.

Both Morris and her husband, John, were on the list of voters.

Mrs. Morris gave a tea party for her cause a few days before the election and invited Col. William H. Bright, Democrat, and Capt. H. C. Nickerson, Republican, candidates for the first territorial legislature.

We desire here and now to receive from them a public pledge that whichever one is elected will introduce and work for passage of a bill conferring upon the women of our new territory the right of suffrage.

Mrs. Morris told the guests. Both candidates pledged. Colonel Bright was elected and became territorial governor. The council passed it six to two and the house of representatives agreed to four. Gov. John A. Campbell promptly signed the measure.

Veto Stands

In 1871, the second territorial legislature repealed the suffrage

Funeral Services For Mrs. Howard

BUHL, Dec. 9.—Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Howard were held at the Methodist church, with the Rev. D. S. Campbell officiating.

Special music was furnished by Mrs. Vivian Watt, who sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. D. S. Campbell. The service and the postlude was also played by Mrs. Campbell.

Funeral services were Charles Rogers, Soren Jensen, George Graver, Ival Warshaw, A. R. Sigal and Ned Larson, Pifer.

Interment was in the Buhl cemetery, under the direction of the Albert funeral home.

BLOND ADMITS $40,000 THEFT

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—A Robin Hood story, with a 70th avenue luggage shop the Blueford forest locale and a blond bookkeeper in the role of the beneficent outlaw, unfolded today in felony court.

There, a pretty accountant, Mrs. Madeline Dunnigan, 22, was arraigned on a grand larceny charge—a prosaic phrase to describe this story which Assistant District Attorney Francis X. Clark said Mrs. Dunnigan told him.

In the past year, Mrs. Dunnigan told Clark she had stolen approximately $40,000 from her employer, Oscar H. Grogger, distributing the money in increased salaries to fellow employees, cash gifts to friends, including servants, and her parents.

One fellow employee's salary was increased from $25 to $5 a week. Another employee was raised from $4 to $15 a day. One friend received $25 weekly. Mrs. Dunnigan, who earned $40 a week, used some of the money to purchase clothes for herself.

Clark said Grogger learned that his money bags were empty when creditors asked for checks and Mrs. Dunnigan told him funds were not available.
