BURLEY, Jan. 17.—Wreckage of the Amalgamated Sugar company plane, lost since last Saturday afternoon... was discovered on a mountain peak.

Twin Falls Aviator Sought in Cascades

The public relations office of the 13th naval district at Seattle listed today no further report of Lieut. Harry W. Taber, 27, Twin Falls, naval pilot missing with three crew members in the rugged Cascade mountains east of Mt. Vernon, Wash.

Missing

LIEUT. HARRY TABER

It is believed that their light bomber, piloted by the Twin Falls officer, either crashed or was forced down somewhere in the mountainous country. The plane is unreported since Sunday but two of the members have been found alive in the Cascades after parachuting to safety.

Lieutenant Taber is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Taber, 219 Ninth avenue north, and is husband of Mrs. Elsie White Taber, who has been with him in Washington near the Whidley Island naval base where he was stationed.

First word of the plane's disappearance reached Twin Falls Tuesday night, Mr. and Mrs. Taber had received no formal notification.

By telephone Tuesday night, Mr. Taber learned from his son's wife, who was in London, A. A. short time after these men joined the first plane was flying at about 16,000 feet when the two crew members who were found were seen.

Taber said the wife who had been informed that the men found after being rescued by the other four men got out of the ship because of the engine trouble.

Left Saturday The plane was in a four-place cabin... was reported at 2,000 feet and there was a slight rumble on the controls.

More than 20 CAP members from Twin Falls took an active part in the search.

Information that the plane had been located was taken over by Fred Koopnick manager of Idaho Aviation, Inc., a flight service at the Twin Falls airport.

SURRENDER—Military men in Washington certain no particular fondness for General Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, but the more they hear evidence that the Roosevelt-Churchill demand for "unconditional surrender" has alienated German resistance, the more they like the idea of a "partial" surrender. Moreover, that striking phrase conveys an entirely new meaning to them, and they are now convinced that it does to the statesmen who legislate and execute the ultimatum at their Casablanca conference.

Nearly every document captured from the Germans, among them their orders and field communications and their reports to the High Command, bears witness to the enemy's realization that the western allies contemplate annihilation of the German people. The President for the authorization of the terms, the Germans shifted their tactics of Poland and the United States.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Now and again I run across legitimists and well-paid ideologists in the labor movement who are still clinging to the idea that the whole cause of unemployment is suffering from the fault of the fighting men in this war. They insist that the strike record has been exaggerated, that the unemployment figures do not argue just now, but they know that the fighters, nevertheless, because of the unemployment figures on them and are coming home sore and disappointed because of the war. I am sure that the soldiers, sailors and marines, themselves, when they get back to their homes, will find that the government control of unemployment which amounts to an American equivalent of the Nazi labor front.

I tell them in honesty, they ought to admit that the guy has turned a corner. He has not only turned himself but we are afraid to tackle until the bun has been sold. That's the way it was. It has been maneuvered over near the door where it has been sold.

A CHANGE IN NEUTRALITY

In the United States government's present attitude toward Switzerland certain London editors may find some of the "realism" that they have been anxious to see. For Washington seems to be leading the way in the allied demand that Switzerland change for the long time her neutrality has taken.

For a space time neither the allies nor the Swiss could do much about the shape which was imposed by Hitler. When the war began the Swiss armed themselves against invasion and prepared for an unequal struggle. But it is no longer necessary for them to invade Switzerland, which was quite useful as an island in an axis sea.

Switzerland's problem became one of trading with the axis or not trading at all. Britain did the latter. The United States, however, there was nothing to do about it until France was liberated.

All these are in a position and a mood to enforce a change. The Swiss haven't seemed to welcome this mood, and they have been tardy about making the change. They report that they have been anxious to see the Democracy's sympathies are with the United Nations. They say our threatened economic blockade endangers their national existence.

But German coal and other supplies are still going to Switzerland to be used for the production of munitions. These supplies are made into materials of war that are killing allied soldiers and prolonging the Italian campaign. The face of this, protocol doesn't cut much.

Though the Swiss supply line to Italy is the dominating factor behind our present attitude, there are other considerations. One is the fact that Switzerland is a neutral country used as repositories or clearing houses for the funds of Nazi leaders which would serve to finance their escape and future operations.

Another factor is the fact that Switzerland emphasizes the fact that there hasn't been any change in her neutrality. This is not a neutral European power in this war. Most of the neutrals after 1940 were swallowed up by the German army. Switzerland is a neutral power of a sort that, willy nilly, helped one side or the other.

Last summer Mr. Churchill bluntly told the Swiss that they had to choose between consideration at the peace table if she had come in on the side of the allies. Now we are telling Switzerland substantially the same thing. While we are not asking active military aid, we are demanding an end of their aid to the enemy.

THREE HELLS FOR HITLER

A Stockholm report that 40 per cent of the Germans are living on bad food from army or government canteens, that near-starvation may be reached by spring, and that there will be a famine in the mid winter offsets the severe coal shortage.

But the correspondent says that the Germans aren't complaining. In Berlin at least they are still eating well. When they greet each other now they still greet each other to convey doubt as to whether Hitler or Himmler is head man.

What a revenge first they held Hitler while he was in the hands of the Gestapo. Now, in their desperation, they are getting bold. Of course they don't dare stop Hitler. But they have their little joke. Perhaps, on a quiet street, they even murmur greeting with a rising and quizzical inflection.

It is easy to feel contempt for such a sheep-like tribe of humanity. It is less easy to feel hope for them, or for their contribution to a postwar world of free men intent upon enhancing the decency and dignity of their race.

OLD-TIME PRICE CEILING

It was rather surprising and encouraging to learn that in a recent poll of automobile owners, 78 per cent of those questioned said they would not buy a car if postwar prices were 25 or 30 per cent above the peacetime level.

After repeated predictions by economists and others, a lot of us had taken it for granted that it would be necessary to start a buying spree that would drive healthy bounds and make price control necessary for a long time after the fighting had stopped.

Maybe those controls will still be necessary. In the automobile field, for example, the controls should exceed the supply for some time to come. And yet, if this poll is representative, it appears that already the average citizen is anxious that little wartime monetary honeymoon won't last forever, and is beginning to feel the twinges of thriftiness.

Anyway, it's good to hear again the old price-control idea. It's a good idea that will be dog-gone if it'll pay it. It's the sort of control that businessmen have a way of complying with.

Leading a double life is likely to get you no place twice as fast.

MORGENTHAU—Herr Goebbels has also capitalized on Henry Morgenthau's written proposal to transfer from the fatherland to the United States.

Now the German government has elaborated on the proposal, which it has elaborated on the treasury. It has, naturally, with Roosevelt, and argued that the scheme for uttering the word of the president must have had prior Presidential approval.

The Berlin propagandist has commented that the Morgenthau memorandum was published during the Quebec conference between F.D.R. and the British. It was also published during the summit conference for the Canadian city. For Morgenthau and Stalin have declared publicly that they intend to bring about the liquidation of a conquered Germany. Goebbels has convinced his people that the Hudson river farmers' plan to reflect the United Nations' fundamental intentions.

TREATMENT—American military leaders seeking victory at a minimum sacrifice of American lives also want the Allies to accept distorted Grant's use of "unconditional surrender."

The Union command was discussing only the terms of the surrender, and the British General Grant referred all phases of the broader problem to Abraham Lincoln. The British, however, and Churchill would re-read the story of what happened at Appomattoch. The British, however, and Churchill's high command concedes that there should be a difference in the treatment accorded a gullible but resistant enemy. It is the British, however, and Churchill's insistence on stern measures and insurmountable future setbacks. This means that a more realistic policy would soften up both the embattled and civilian populations of Germany.

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUESS CHILDS POT SHOTS

WASHINGTON—Now that President Roosevelt about to enter on his second term, it may prove to be the greatest test of his entire career. It is worth noting that the President's health is not what it used to be. He has been suffering from a cold for some time, and it is possible that he will be unable to perform his duties.

There has, however, been no important news in the past year. Mrs. Anna Boettger, the President's daughter, has been somewhat more than a year ago, when she was in the White House. She has been somewhat more than a year ago, when she was in the White House.

15 YEARS AGO, JAN. 17, 1930
 Owing to bad weather which prevented many of the spectators from attending the installation of officers of the 10th Cavalry at the post, the last evening voted to postpone the work for one week and to hold a regular meeting there.

BOB HOPE

It Says Here

Meatless days in Idaho become porkless days, and beef and mutton may be eaten on any day desired, according to Carl Olson, of the Roosevelt Hotel, Boise, Idaho, who returned from the hotel men's convention. The new order will be in effect until March 19.

The "corkers" were really here. In fact I asked the store detective if he would check the corking of my son's holiday books. He couldn't say it away, with the tracks down, but he would check them for me. I exchanged my gift, all they asked for was my name and address, and the first money on my front.

RED CROSS WORK ACCORDED PRAISE

High praise for the production work of women in the Twin Falls Red Cross chapter has been accorded by the San Francisco office of the American Red Cross, Mrs. Helen Balley, executive secretary, advised Wednesday.

Although reports indicate that a great many of the all-time packed by various chapters must be rejected and returned to their origins, Mrs. Balley explained that no production items have ever been returned to the local organization.

Mrs. C. J. Haggert, production chairman of the Twin Falls chapter, announced that 144 bags for servicemen had been packed and inspected Tuesday afternoon by the packing committee.

Mrs. R. L. Van Engelen, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Vern Tardiff, Mrs. C. G. Waller, Mrs. R. C. Decker, Mrs. H. B. Bentley, Mrs. Stella Phillips, Mrs. Elmer Good and Mrs. C. C. Bacon.

Contents of each kit include one sewing case, one fiction pocket book, one package of razor blades, stationery, one package of shoe laces, one cake of soap, one package of plastic soap box, one package of algebraic mix candy, one box of candy and one first aid kit.

These kits are packed into small compact kits and inspected by individual chapter members before being shipped to the inspection depot, where they are checked and sorted them. They are then distributed to each serviceman embarking for overseas duty.

Twin Falls Reunion in Britain

AN AIR SERVICE COMMAND DEPOT IN ENGLAND—A pleasant half-hour of reminiscing ensued after these two Red Cross workers and the air force sergeant discovered they were all from Twin Falls, Idaho. They met recently at a Red Cross club at this great overseas supply center and aircraft repair depot of the air service command.

Mrs. Betty L. Peavey, left, is the daughter of one of the ABC Aero-Club here, she is the daughter of Mrs. A. J. Peavey, sr., Twin Falls, and was born in England since late this past summer.

Mrs. Helen Balley, right, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fricke, Twin Falls. She is recreational director in a U. S. general hospital here. She has been overseas since January, 1943.

Both Red Cross workers were classmates at Twin Falls high school, graduating in 1933.

AGE ASSISTANCE CHANGES ASKED

BOISE, Jan. 17 (AP)—The legislative interim committee on public assistance today also stepped on the legislative initiative to amend the law and define senior citizens grants and declared old age assistance recipients are receiving "100 percent of their minimum needs" in its report presented to the Idaho house and senate.

Discussing the result of a two-year study committee headed by Sen. George Ambrose, R., Custer, presented as its principal recommendation that the program should be made more flexible to variations in the cost of living.

This would be brought about by "requesting" studies of living costs.

Sharp Distinction

The committee drew a sharp distinction between present age assistance and pensions as provided in the senior citizens grants law passed at an initiative on the 1943 ballot and repealed by the legislature in 1945 before it became operative.

The Idaho system, the committee said, is based on an initiative on the 1943 ballot and represents an attempt on the part to raise the level of minimum standards of living for the elderly.

The Ambrose committee said the 1943 legislative resolution creating it was for a $40 per month pension to all Idahoans 65 years of age or older and was one of the major points of the present relief laws, or the public assistance program.

"The senior citizens grants act, taking particular notice of the need for a financial program relating to both plans."

The senior citizens grants act provided for a $40 per month pension to all Idahoans 65 years of age or older and was one of the major points of the present relief laws, or the public assistance program.

Repealed in 1945

The 1943 legislature repealed it on the ground the state was without money to finance it. Former Gov. C. A. Bottelers signed the legislative repealer, and the Idaho Independent Voters League sought unsuccessfully to recall Bottelers.

Rep. Thomas D. Wood, D., Kootenai, has announced he will introduce the league-sponsored "80 and up" plan at the present session. It would provide a $40 per month pension for persons 80 years or older.

The average payment is $30.38 but it varies according to other income of the individual recipient. In October, 1944, one of the 927 recipients of old age assistance received $1 and 2,518 received the maximum $40.

The committee declared Idaho's system is not as generous as that of other states and is relatively better cared for than the dependent children.

WRECK QUERIES NOT ANSWERED

BOISE, Jan. 17 (AP)—James McDonald, 44, engineer of the Southern Pacific express which crashed into a passenger train at Bagley, Dec. 21, said he never saw the "sudden shock or heart failure" just before the impact, a three-man jury decided at the conclusion of a Weber county inquest conducted Tuesday.

The verdict was in line with an autopsy report by Lieut.-Col. Frank W. Hession, medical general hospital pathologist, who performed an autopsy on McDonald the day after the accident and was the chief witness at the inquest.

The inquest, which accomplished its main purpose—that of determining cause of death of the engineer left unanswered numerous questions being pondered by the public.

Among them are: Why did testimony of the fireman who broke on the train seem amplified for the last time at a point between Bagley Mountain and Bagley conflict with testimony of at least three other crew members who testified there was a heavy application of brakes just prior to the impact?

Why didn't the fireman, schooled in operation of an engine, attempt

PRESIDENT TERM DEBATE SUBJECT

Arguments for and against a six-year term for President and vice-president, with certain terms barred, were presented last night in a lively debate at the Twin Falls chamber of commerce.

Charles E. Steber, coastsman in charge of the program, originally selected for the night, introduced the debate subject.

The constitution of the United States should be amended to provide for one six-year term for the President and vice-president, neither man being able to succeed himself.

Leading the affirmative debate team was Glenn Shilby, who was criticized by William Foltz, others including I. H. Haman, negative, criticized by Russ Jensen, Kenneth Kall, affirmative, criticized by Merwin Hemblom, G. J. Bohne, negative, criticized by W. W. Rose, critic of the entire debating team.

During the business session, Dr. George Schole and Jay Hill of the Idaho State Medical Society, and members of the names of Lloyd Anderson, John Fankhauser and Art Johnson, who were elected to the executive committee. They will be taken in as regular members at a later date in the 25 membership limit will permit.

Plans were also made for a "debate night" to be held in the future in special honor of the wives.

Prudling was the principal speaker of the president, Hugh Phillips, minutes were read by Dr. G. H. Tobin and it was reported by the outside activities committee that during the past two weeks speeches had been given by G. H. Edgerly, Bishop Wilford W. Eggers of the Oakley First ward was charged.

STRIP-TEASE GIRL ASKS 'OLYMPICS'

PARIS, Jan. 17 (AP)—Glasy Varga, who might qualify as one answer to the Parisian fuel shortage, suggested tonight (Glasy doesn't awaken until five days) that the athletes hold "strip-tease Olympics" after the war.

Named after an island near her Balkan birthplace, Glasy, who is nearly six feet of spectacular contour, said the idea came to her suddenly while she was reading that Evelyn Dista of England had challenged any American contester including Ann Corbin and Margie Flett.

Something to learn
"Don't you think it's a wonderful idea?" she asked enthusiastically. "What better way can people learn about each other than by stripping?"

"... better make clear, though, that I mean by watching actresses do it."

"Then she added in thoughtful disbelief:
"Is it true that in other countries they still wear clothes on the stage?"

Glasy, who never commits social errors, was changing her costume backstage at Bal Tabarin—his first skin.

BUHL HERO GETS OFFICIAL PRAISE

HEADQUARTERS, 21ST BOMBING COMMAND, Jan. 17 (AP)—Four men from Idaho including Pfc. Joseph H. McElroy, Buhl, are among the ground specialists in this B-29 organization who took up the unfamiliar task of abseiling construction in addition to their regular duties, and who have received a special commendation from Brig. Gen. H. B. Hamell.

With the aviation engineers absorbed in the primary task of completing the giant airstrip, ground mechanics were called upon for the unusual assignment of building administrative and service facilities as well as living quarters.

Men whose regular jobs were those of clerks, typists, medical technicians, truck drivers and chemical warfare instructors, moved in on the area of battle wreckage, and in less than 20 weeks B-29 Superfortresses were bombing Tokyo from the completed base on Salpan.

The Idaho men besides McElroy are Pfc. Reese L. Bybee, Downey; Pfc. Raymond G. Scoble, Orofino; Cpl. Millard B. Christie, Troy.

RICHFIELD

Roller skating for Richfield students at the school gymnasium was started last week under the direction of Robert Hoffman, Jerome, who brought the 80 pairs of skates. Several types of floor coverings are being experimented with to insure against permanent damage to the floors. A nominal fee is being charged the students.

John Workman was taken to Boise Sunday for further medical treatment after dismissal from the Gooding hospital following surgery two weeks ago. John Herring, Rupert, and Gus Krodel are in charge of the Richfield Tri-State during manager Workman's illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmon Sweet, Baker, Ore., are visiting his mother, Mrs. Walter Stevens and family.

Mrs. Keith Hand has been dismissed from the Wendell hospital after five days medical treatment. Her mother, Mrs. Ivan Johnson, has arrived here from Richfield, Calif., to visit her daughter several weeks.

Miss Veda Cooper has gone to Pocatello to study telegraphy, she had been employed at the Richfield pharmacy.

Antonio Kodach has returned to Grand Island, Neb., after spending a month here during the holiday season with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Kodach.

Gooding Men Buy Shoshone Market

SHOSHONE, Jan. 17—New owners of the Shoshone Meat market, D. D. Heller and William Cash, Gooding, will begin business operations Jan. 16, it was announced.

For the past nine years, Heller has been employed by the market which was owned by the late William Cutler. Since his death Mrs. Cutler has been operating the business.

Cash was formerly employed by the Everybody's market, Gooding.

A modern slaughter house will be built at the Ed Walker ranch, also recently purchased for this purpose. Custom butchering and processing of meats will be the specialty of the market under the new ownership.

Gen. Eisenhower Donor of Blood

SOUTHFIELD, Mich., Jan. 17 (AP)—In response to an appeal to soldiers assigned to suppress the headquarters for blood needed at the front, one officer "valued bravely into the clinic and took his place in line with the other volunteers.

He gave a pint of blood, drank a cup of coffee and started to leave. Then one soldier in the line noticed that it was General Eisenhower who remarked, "Fritz that would be blood to get!"

The general overheard the remark and replied:
"If you do, I hope you don't inherit my bad disposition."

RUPERT, Jan. 17—Ben Spittler, well known Mindoka country farmer, has sold his 100 acre farm, near Rupert to Gottlieb Schenk, also a farmer, for $30,000 cash. This is one of the most modern farms in this section of the country.

The buyer has purchased the A. W. Frick house in Rupert where he will reside when he and Mrs. Frick leave to make their home in Boise.

Holy Name Group Chooses Jellison

JEROME, Jan. 17—Wallace Jellison was elected president of the Holy Name society at a dinner meeting at the American Hotel. Other officers included Stanley Karel, vice-president, and C. E. Pleasant, secretary.

Forty-two members and guests attended the dinner which was served by the committee headed by Mrs. Mary Hottel of the Catholic league.

The program, under the direction of G. H. Wellworth and Mr. Fleenor, was presented, including a group of accordion selections by Miss Joan McIntyre; a tap dance by Miss Nancy Clapton and Sharon Stead, accompanied by Mrs. Chapman and slims by a group of members. These were preceded by a talk by the Rev. Eric Scherhammer, pastor of Jerome's church.

Guests included Tony Hof, the Rev. Fr. L. H. Tobeat, Hunt, the Rev. Fr. Thomas F. English, Wellworth and T. F. McElroy, Jerome.

AT THE USO Center

Service men come and go in rapid order at the local USO, but they do not forget their Idaho "home away from home" and often return to the spirit route to "revisit" the spot where they found the warmth of hospitality and friendship.

The letters come from small towns. "Must send to the USO," they read from station hospitals and from various points in the United States and overseas.

Here's a Batch
A shuffle through a recent batch of mail to USO centers reveals such expressions as these:
"The Patna Indians are my home for an unlimited time, but believe you me, I would much rather be at the best little USO on earth—Twin Falls! You would be surprised at what your letters did to my morale. There is no way to tell you just how much I appreciated them."
Cpl. W. C. Compton.
Pfc. Ed Kopolowski, formerly of the 22nd military police at Hunt, and one of the first men to be entertained at the USO when it opened, sent "the good old-fashioned wish, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year" from the general hospital at Fort Lewis, Wash.

From France
"I want you to know how much it meant to me to be remembered, wrote Miss. Davis J. Fuller from southern France, expressing appreciation for the birthday card he received. It bore the names of those who had enjoyed the birthday and was backed by his mother, who lives in Buhl, and which was served Nov. 12 at the USO in honor of his birth anniversary.

He concluded, "Continue to do these nice things. There are times when you don't feel you are being appreciated, but these boys want to get back home so badly and settle down to the good American way of living."
From Fuller Mangewia, formerly of Wendover, and now in Italy, came this "Remember me, from Salem, Mass? The guy who held health meetings in Cambridge? Look me up in the USO refector, Christmas, 1947."
"I just wishes to you now and all ways from a homesick, crown brown—Lena, P. R. Becker, Grayville, Ark. S. A.

STANDARD AGAIN BOOSTS GASOLINE PRODUCTION FOR OUR FLYING FIGHTERS

HOW STANDARD HAS INCREASED ITS 100-OCTANE GASOLINE PRODUCTION IN 4 YEARS

One of the first to manufacture 100-octane gasoline on a commercial scale, Standard of California was poised for rapid expansion on Dec. 7, 1941. Each year, since then, production soared. Now, with the great new 100-octane plant in operation, Standard is far and away, the Coast's leading producer of aircraft fuel. And our new plants will not be idle after V-day. Almost overnight they can be converted to make the world's improved automobile gasoline. Standard has blue-printed for the post-war West.

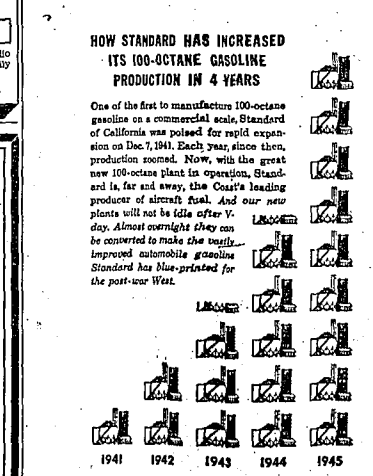

STANDARD OF CALIFORNIA

Giant New Refinery is latest step in program that increases 100-Octane Gasoline Output 800% since Pearl Harbor

Already the largest producer of aviation gasoline in the West, Standard of California began this week to pour into the fight thousands of additional barrels daily from a new high-octane plant at Richmond, California.

Shown in the picture are the towers of this giant new unit, which climaxes Standard's 10-year leadership in aviation gasoline production. Since 1935, when Standard of California started building its first high-octane plant, it has led in this field. Now our refineries turn out enough aviation gasoline daily to send more than 200 huge Superfortresses on the round trip from Saipan to Tokyo.

It's a lot, but Standard Oilers are not satisfied... they never will be until they make the high-octane gasoline and the oils that will bring the last victorious fighting plane home.

The Way Our People Lived

By W. E. Woodward Copyright E. P. Dutton & Co. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

WHEN NEW YORK WAS YOUNG

To send them food and clothes.

The town of New York, in the 18th century, was considerably different, in habit and temperament, from any other colonial community. A large number of travelers and strangers were always to be found on Manhattan Island. To accommodate them there were numerous inns, with such names as the Edger Arms, the Merchant's Coffee House, the Blue Room, the Three Pigeons, the Sign of the Spread Eagle. Anybody who had the money to pay his way could come to New York and stay indefinitely without being questioned by the authorities if he behaved himself.

Most of the coastwise vessels, carrying passengers between New York and the southern ports, put all of them. They found Jason Kittie. He was a nervous-looking man in a white shirt and dark suit of clothes, the long trousers of the working-man, the stout shoes, the checked shirt—so called that it looked black, and a coat of coarse gray wool.

Next morning, as Major Lawrence and Charles Mason left the house together, the Major said, "I'm going up to the debtors' prison, and I thought you might like to see it. Mason said that he wanted to see everything, but that the Major's purpose in going there."

As they stood outside the door, the young Virginian, the Major, and the shabby man with the bundle under his arm, the Major said, "Now, Kittie, we're saying goodbye to you here. Wait—he drew out his pocket book, counted 30 shillings, and placed the money in the man's hands. "This bit and buy yourself some warm clothes. I'll add it to what you owe me. Go to your wife, take a good rest, and come to me the day after, and I'll find some work for you. No, no, not another shilling. You can't have any more."

What was his crime? Mason seemed somewhat bewildered. "Was it nothing but owing debt?" "That's all," was the reply. "I owed four pounds and some shillings."

Next to the Major, the Major seemed somewhat bewildered. "Was it nothing but owing debt?" "That's all," was the reply. "I owed four pounds and some shillings."

AMERICAN REDS OPPOSE TREATY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (UP)—American communists have begun a blistering campaign of protest against the Vandenberg plan for an Anglo-American-Russian-Chinese treaty to keep Germany and Japan permanently demobilized.

BAUMGARDNER WHITAKER

The vigor of the American communist objections is causing speculation here whether by chance they may be representing the thinking of Moscow in connection with the Vandenberg proposal.

President Roosevelt, Prince Mikho, Winston Churchill and Marshall Joseph V. Stalin will meet within two or three weeks. It is said that the Vandenberg plan is so American communist, it scarcely can figure in any agreement reached at the conference.

On Jan. 19 Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R. Mich., a moderate isolationist, proposed that the United States, Great Britain, the Soviet Union and China immediately sign a "hard and fast treaty to keep Germany and Japan permanently demobilized."

Chairman Tom Connally, D., Tex., of the senate foreign relations committee, gave Vandenberg a frosty response.

American communists, who have been as active as any group in support of the President's foreign policy, took China immediately sign Vandenberg proposal and began shouting "foul!" Their attacks culminated last week in a Madison Square rally on the 21st anniversary of the death of V. I. Lenin, founder of the communist state.

He graduated from Twin Falls high school with the class 1941, enlisted in the army air corps on April 22, 1942.

Appeal Bars Federal Prober From Detweiler Co. Records

BOISE, Jan. 17 (UP)—U. S. District Judge Chase A. Clark has ordered Detweiler Brothers, Inc., Twin Falls, to open its books to federal wage-hour law investigators but an immediate appeal by attorneys for the firm halted execution of the order.

The action is a development in the dispute between C. H. Detweiler, president of the company, and the department of labor wage-hour division which began in May, 1943.

Detweiler refused to open his books at that time when wage-hour inspectors visited the plant, contending that the firm was engaged in business within the state and thereby exempt from the law.

Z. Metcalfe Walling, national wage-hour administrator, issued an administrative subpoena compelling that the inspection was necessary to determine whether or not the firm actually was engaged in interstate commerce.

Howard Hubum, Idaho wage-hour division inspector in charge, said the case is the first of its kind in the state.

Detweiler Brothers is engaged in plumbing, heating and refrigeration work and repairs and has 24 employees, Hubum said.
