Daring Doughboys Snatch 513 Yank Prisoners From Jap Camp in Night Raid

MACARTHUR HEADQUARTERS, LUZON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Men of Bataan, Corregidor and Singapore—513 were snatched from under the flaming muzzles of Japanese guns in an exploit of unmatched daring.

Some 400 picked men of the sixth Ranger battalion and Filipino guerrillas made a commando raid 25 miles behind Japanese lines to empty a prison camp and partially fulfill one of the Philippine objectives closest to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's heart.

They took Japanese guards by surprise and rescued 485 Americans, 23 British, three Netherlands and one Norwegian—all that were left in the prison camp in Nueva Ecija province of eastern Luzon.

Hundreds of more able-bodied war prisoners had been sent to work camps in Japan. Hundreds of others had died.

All but two of the men were brought out alive by the 121 men of the sixth Ranger battalion who stormed into the prison stockade under command of Lieut. Col. Henry Mucci of Bridgeport, Conn. Their encircled hearts flickered out when they were in sight of American lines.

The Rangers attacked with such merciless precision that not one of the Japanese stockade guards was left alive or able to resist, and they attacked with such care that not one of the prisoners was scratched.

Within a matter of minutes all were released and were on their 25 mile journey to freedom, walking, carried on backs of lucky Rangers or riding in carabao carts.

Nearly 100 got sick from typhoid disease and three-year-old wounds that they could not work when they were cut loose from Japanese bondage.

The rescue cost the lives of 27 Rangers and Filipinos in a guerrilla unit led by Maj. Robert Lapham of Davenport, Ia., who fought off a savage tanked-Japanese attack along the escape corridor.

The raiders killed 32 Japanese—more than one for every prisoner released—and knocked out 12 enemy tanks.

This first mass liberation of allied prisoners of war in the western Pacific was accomplished by an all-night forced march east of the American lines to Cabu.

The commando raid, ordered on short notice when intelligence reports disclosed the whereabouts of the camp, was such a success that MacArthur decorated every man in the force.

The lean and rugged captives received the homage of thousands of American soldiers now fighting to redeem the islands for which the veterans fought so valiantly and hopelessly.

When they were taken an impromptu honor guard, flanking a military highway down which the rescue party passed after it returned to American lines.

It was the last of many marches for the rescued men—marches which began with the brutal "death march of Bataan."

The freed men showed their happiness, despite their sores and ulcers, wadded bodies and ragged clothes.

Some looked helplessly up from litters. Others were proudly erect. There were old men normal weight. Others were limp from beri-beri. Their hair was fallowed. Shorts were patched and repatched. Several officers still proudly wore their emblems of rank. There were battered campaign hats, overseas caps and one pre-war type helmet.

MacArthur Greets Rescued Former Captives in Hospital

AN EVACUATION HOSPITAL, LUZON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur greeted this evacuation hospital today and greeted many of the prisoners rescued at Cabanatuan.

The general talked to them as they crowded around him and recalled the first time he had seen him. The first man MacArthur met was Lieut. Col. James Green, 40 years in the army. The general hugged Green, immediately and recalled he promoted Green to corporal 33 years ago.

ONOHIO, Ia., Feb. 1 (AP)—The legislature next week will be asked to provide a special $200,000 fund for the University of Idaho for research in the fields of agriculture, mining, engineering, and forestry to be available to the rapidly changing conditions," A. B. Curtis of Curtis, president of the Idaho Alumni association which for three years has been pushing for such a fund, said today.

The research and development program would be carried on in the state's best schools and in the state's best research laboratories.

Such a program would increase the state's wealth and increase its income by the development and processing of raw materials, power and other resources in which the state stands out.

The prisoners were rescued from a camp near the prison camp, said the kin of the father, "and we were hoping that our son would be rescued."

Government Flees Berlin As Russians Smash Last Great Barrier to Capital

LONDON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Brussels reports attributed to "undisclosed" military authorities said today that the German government is leaving Berlin and that the capital rapidly is being organized for street-by-street, house-by-house defense. The reports did not indicate where the German government might take refuge.

Men Hildebrandt, the government is believed to be Munich because of its associations as the birthplace of the Nazi party, its proximity to Hitler's retreat at Berchtesgaden, and its relative distance from both the eastern and western fronts.

Belief is growing in military circles that even the Berlin will not knock Germany out of the war. Although its capture will leave the Germans only a 300-mile wide area of maneuver, the Nazis are believed preparing to attempt a Stalingrad-like stand, using Berlin as the base of a line on which they will attempt to halt the Russians.

The red army is hitting the Germans back across the Oder river and has even reached the east bank, 40 miles from the capital.

Reports placed the Russians on the edge of the city of Frankfurt, some 100 miles south of Berlin, and the Germans conceded that other forces had broken through to the southern edge of Munich, 18 miles north of Frankfurt and 42 miles east of Berlin.

There is no indication that Hitler is leaving Berlin. He probably will remain until the last possible moment.

Red armies have completed encirclement of Koenigsberg, captured the city of Danzig, and are moving north and south of Danzig preparatory to assault.

The capture of Danzig would cut off the Oder river, the last line of communication between Germany and the Baltic states.

Mayor Councilmen Accept Nominations

Praising the record of the present city administration, a citizens' committee for the maintenance of good government in Twin Falls Wednesday night drafted Mayor Bert A. Sweet and three members of the council to seek reelection at the primary election to be held here.

They took action after a public hearing at Legion hall and the nature of the group's approval of the mayor and councilmen was acquiescent despite the fact that the mayor and Councilman T. T. Greenhough had declared they would not be candidates again.

Accept Nominations

Contacted after the meeting by the Times-News and advised of the proceedings, Mayor Sweet at first declined a statement, but then said that in view of the circumstances he could do nothing but accept. Councilman Greenhough was also advised of what had transpired and he, too, said that he would accept the nomination.

Both he and the mayor expressed their appreciation to the group bestowed upon them by the committee.

Councilman Orville H. Coleman and Kenneth H. Shook had previously said they were undecided in the matter. W. W. Thomas is the only holdover member of the council.

When Coleman and Shook learned of the trend of the movement and the acceptance of the mayor and councilmen, they said they would also accept.

MAYOR, COUNCIL GROUP 'DRAFTED'

accept an administration offered by the citizens' committee.

Thomas Hession stated his satisfaction of the action taken by the citizens' committee and that he looked forward to continued association with them in the administration of city affairs.

It was G. R. Nelson, who after reviewing briefly the accomplishments of the present administration and pointing out the postwar prospects they had, announced that it was the unanimous opinion of the committee that the present administration be dissolved by the public "who believes in the maintenance of good government" to seek reelection.

Cities Improvements
"The next two years are of great importance," he pointed out as he mentioned the improvement projects planned for the next two years: extension of city streets, continuation of plans to site this city an airport that will sit on the northwest corner of the northwest, solving of the present water supply problem and the need for a competent administration to cope with the same things that have struck Twin Falls in the past.

W. G. Swin, chairman of the nominating committee, also requested full discussion on the recommendation of the committee to the action by the committee.

Verle Moser, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, voiced his approval of the action taken and said in his opinion the nominating committee should be congratulated.

Less than 10 persons attended the meeting and only two of them were women.

Only voted opposition to the present administration came from G. P. (Rabbit) Myers, who told the group that the Highland area and all other sections of the county are heavily territory were entitled to the same things that have struck Twin Falls.

He was told that the city administration would give the new areas those things just as expeditiously as money and labor were available, but he was reminded that "there is a war on."

Other Projects Reviewed
The committee discussed for the time being, to sever another of their projects—the investigation of the three various types of municipal government—from the forthcoming city election.

It was agreed that the matter of continuing the present form of government, or changing to a mayor-municipal or city manager plan should await further study.

In any event the people of Twin Falls themselves must decide, by election, if they wish the present form of government changed.

This, the committee decided, could best wait until after the April election. However, Chairman Greider, said that a meeting on this issue would be called after the complete study of the three plans is made.

Finance Group Named
Chairman Greider appointed a finance committee consisting of C. L. Nelson, chairman, Claude Dickweller and Jay Merrill.

Nominations and acceptance of the present administration officials thru the use for mayor into a five-man fifth incumbent, and the Koehler, former mayor of the city, has already announced that he would be a candidate for the office. Koehler has announced that he would run as an independent.

Wife Whose Husband Gave Life Signs up as Army Nurse

By MARTINA FEITZER
TWIN FALLS, Feb. 1.—Mrs. June Chidester Moore, 23 daughter of Mrs. Hazel Chidester Kirkman, is a young woman who has already contributed a supreme sacrifice for the war effort—but still intends to do more.

Her first husband lost his life but Mrs. Moore has enlisted in the army nurse corps, and has received her commission for active duty Feb. 8 at Madigan general hospital, Tacoma.

"My only regret," she said today, "is that I did not take this step before, nurses are so urgently needed to care for our wounded boys. I couldn't seem to do it right after my husband's death. I don't think I could have stood the thought that I know army nursing entails."

Under the terms of the new regulations of my profession, and do my all toward caring for the wounded the way I would want some one to care for my own husband, if he were alive today. You see I still have two brothers—in fact that greater share of my entire family—in the service."

In truth it is a family which has gone "all out" for the war effort. Six members are now in uniform.

Her first husband, Lieut. Kenneth Chidester, was recently rescued by submarine in the south Pacific, while floating in a rubber boat after a crash landing near the Bonin islands on the return from a raid on Japan.

Another brother, Lieut. Kenneth Chidester, is stationed at Ft. Lewis with the army engineers; her two step-brothers, W. O. and Byron Kirkman, stationed in the Aleutians, who has seen nine years of service.

He had received his pilot's wings only a short time before. Mrs. Moore was in Texas with him at the time of the crash.

She is a graduate of the L. D. S. hospital, Idaho Falls, receiving her diploma in September, 1943. In 1941 she worked as office nurse for Dr. David McCluskey, and continued in his employ for some time after he left to assume management of the state hospital at Blackfoot. She also worked for a short time at the Twin Falls county general hospital.

The defendants also were told that under the American bill of rights they could refuse to testify against themselves. They waived the privilege, insisting their sworn testimony be heard, and proudly admitted their part in Kluwe's liquidation.

German Captives Death-Sentenced

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Newsweek says in its current issue that five German prisoners have been sentenced to death by court martial for killing a fellow prisoner at Camp 10, Okinawa, Nov. 3, 1943, and are awaiting "their doom in a federal penitentiary."

Under the non-commissioned officers, the magazine says, "proudly admitted" as their trial—the first American court martial involving a capital offense by German prisoners of war—that they killed Cpl. William Kluwe, former American soldier, with slugs and bottles.

The magazine adds that the court had no choice but to pronounce the death sentence, "the magazine adds that the news appeared entirely satisfied."

Newsweek said prisoners at the camp regarded Kluwe "a traitor to the rich and to the fuhrer" because "some of them had seen a statement Kluwe gave American army officers, information they believed had been of value to the allies in bombing Hamburg."

The defendants also were told that under the American bill of rights they could refuse to testify against themselves. They waived the privilege, insisting their sworn testimony be heard, and proudly admitted their part in Kluwe's liquidation.

The second half of the evening's meeting was spent in a critique of last week's written examinations.

State Guard Here Sees War Picture

Members of Company K, Idaho state guard, meeting last night in the citizen Legion hall witnessed a showing of "Combat America," sound motion picture obtained from the office. It was informed through the efforts of Sgt. U. N. Terry.

The picture depicted the bombing of Germany by U. S. war planes based in England.

CIVILIAN MEAT TO BE MORE SCARCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—The government is getting ready to take a new tack in the already slim meat rations of civilians. Neither army nor lend-lease has been getting enough meat and an upward revision is imminent in amount of beef and pork packing plants must receive for the government.

The government already buys 40 per cent of all pork and 25 per cent of all beef.

This restriction has resulted in unequal distribution of supplies. Worst shortages have developed in areas relying on federally-inspected plants for their meat.

As a result of the pressure of civilian demands an increasing number of meat plants are getting up outside federal inspection. They have pulled more and more meat animals from packing plants which supply non-military requirements.

To head off this tendency, WPA has placed a cap on the number of cattle and hogs that small slaughterers may kill and still receive government subsidy. Without the subsidy slaughterers would be unable to sell within the ceiling price brackets.

Army Assures Wool Industry Only Minimum of Foreign Use

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—The war department today assured Rep. Anderson, R. Calif., it would hold to a minimum the amount of foreign wool used in filling army requirements.

Lieut. Col. James V. Hunt, assistant in the quartermaster corps, wrote Anderson:

"This office has conclusively, during the entire emergency, used as much domestic wool as conditions permitted. This same policy will continue during the present procurement and preference will be given to the use of domestic wool insofar as the stocks on hand of the required grades are available."

"Due to the urgency of our requirements to conserve manpower and to attain the greatest volume of production it will be necessary in some cases to use foreign wool, but this will be held to a minimum."

Meanwhile, Chairman O'Mahoney, D. Wyo., of a special senate committee.

Bribers of Basketball Players Indicted, Held on $25,000 Bail

Two-Time Cage Captain

BROOKLYN, Feb. 1 (AP) — Action in the basketball gambling scandal moved fast today as the Kings court grand jury indicted the two men allegedly to have bribed five Brooklyn college players, state officials prepared to prosecute an elaborate felony and sportsman throughout the country urged prompt steps to curb rampant on intercollegiate sports.

Second Indictment About the same time, Rosen also was indicted by the New York county grand jury on charges of grand larceny, the first degree for receiving stolen property.

The players involved—Jerned Bernier, Leroy Deaton, Jerry Green, Robert Leder and Stanley Simon—also were named as conspirators but were not charged with any crime. Testimony showed that the players were in fact under agreement to throw the game scheduled against Akron University.

Dropped from Squad The quintet, all regular except Paulstein, dropped from the squad after practicing action by school football.

Manhattan police disclosed that the five players had been arrested since Jan. 18, 1945, when they were in the U. S. in connection with a case on sports events at the garden.

Led by Dr. Forrest (Phog) Allen, Kansas University sports official, asked that something be done quickly to curb gambling. Allen, long a member of intercollegiate sports, called for immediate action.

Bruins Invade Eastern Idaho

By The Associated Press Idaho Falls' perch atop the Big Six southern Idaho high school basketball standings remains unshaken as the Bruins open their fifth week of conference play.

The schedule starts in Twin Falls, where the Bruins will play tonight for a game between the teams tied for third place. On Friday the touring Bruins play at Idaho Falls, but the Tigers' 4-0 win record still is too much of a statistical hazard for them to be pulled out of the league lead.

Second place Caldwell with a 4-2 win-loss record plays its neighboring Casper county team at Nampa also on Friday to round out the week's play.

Beaten by Milway Idaho Falls had no conference games last week. Coach John Thompson's boys beat Bearup 26 to 25, and lost to Milway, 40 to 37.

Emmett Still Unbeaten Tiny Emmet, which has beaten its only opponent in the invader Bruins. The Indians went down, 37-21, before Caldwell and lost, 38-22, to Boise early this week.

ON THE SPORT FRONT

About the 'sleek'—and by that I mean the ones that don't blink—basketball team that the Ypsilanti Scraper has seen during his last two seasons at the Ypsilanti Pirates that Coach George Hays had on the Twin Falls floor this evening.

They have speed in abundance and pass like veterans although there is only one senior on the squad. In fact, their passing game is down so far that it is hard to click of the opposition in a pass to score.

Here the Pirates literally passed the Bruins into defeat and that they did with a larger score was the fault of their youth which are still in the red.

Here are the 10 players on the squad in which there is really no first or second team:

- Dale Mendenhall, a Junior. Gerald Colley, a Junior. Harvey Cainin, a sophomore. Leroy DeBlain, a Junior. Glenn Gold, a Junior. Henry Collins, Harvey's twin, a sophomore. Jimmy Frielen, a sophomore. Vicgent Penon, a Junior. Bill Lesterly, a Junior. Nils Osterlund, a senior.

Although the squad is the youngest variety aggregation in the Big Six conference, at no time has it been disgraced by the other squads, generally losing by only a few points which can be charged up lack of experience.

Yoss said predicting the district championship for the Pirates but he is not sure they will be able to make it this year.

And if they do make this time, who is to say that the Bruins will not win next year and probably the year after when the present sophomores on the squad are seniors.

Now don't misunderstand this. I am not trying to impress you with the word judiciously in the hope that you will compare the Pirates with the Oakes Hornets team that Coach Allen Fairchild put on the boards last season, nor even the Heyburn Panthers that gained the class B district crown.

Perhaps the Pirates aren't as good as Shoshone's team that won the class B title last year and the team of Glenn Perry in the class B bracket or Burley and Bull in the class B. But this old typewriter keyboard still contends they are about the "sleek" basketball article that has been in two columns.

And that's that for now, except all that lead to the District tournament for the next three days. At least they will for the pudgy one—Saturday.

CHICAGO—THE YOUNG GALS

Jeff Martin had been in Chicago only one week when he received a written invitation, through the mail, from Caroline Henderson in Illinois, for him to come to a little party on Sunday evening, she wrote that she had a number of young people, friends living in the neighborhood, were coming in from Chicago to see the wife of Charles Henderson, whom he had not seen since the time they were both young reporters at the Baltimore Sun many years before. Jeff's smiling about the invitation was a pure coincidence. While strolling about the streets as a stroller, he had seen the Daily Star in the House and noticed that establishment offered the entire stock of reduced prices. Remembering that he had brought with him only a few dollars, he had bought a pair of socks, a pair of pieces of underwear, and needed more right away, he went in. The proprietor turned out to be his friend, Henderson.

When Jeff had made up his mind to accept the invitation, he sent a messenger boy all the way out to the Henderson home with a polite and stilted acceptance written on hot paper. He himself was starting for the city of Chicago downtown until he got settled.

There were six or seven young men and women at the Sunday evening party besides a number of their elders. They ran all over the house as if they owned it, calling about in the kitchen, in the living room, in the parlor, and in the bedrooms. Some played games, such as cards, checkers, and dominoes; others went in for riddles and trivia that one plays with words. Jeff was surprised to find that Henderson's beanie checker champion of the party.

Miss Henderson had a supper served at 8:30, though she did not call it supper but a "collation." It was really a substantial meal, served in places which one had to hold carefully on his knee to keep from spilling the contents on the floor.

After the collation the girls gathered around the organ and sang the current ballads and such old stand-bys as "Beulah Land," and "Old Black Joe."

In the gloaming, on my darling, from the lights are dim and low, And the quiet shadows, falling, softly come and softly go.

The young girls with their heads bent together over the organ, formed a beautiful picture, and their gentle voices made up the life as a delightful emotion rather than as a harsh reality.

At about a quarter to 10 Charles Henderson went out on the lawn to see if all the chairs had been brought in. He returned quickly to the sitting room and beckoned old Jeff Martin and another man. They wandered what was in his mind until he got Carolyn and Henderson's pointed southward. Over that section of the garden Henderson's attention—there stood a fiery glow that cast shadows of the three men standing on the Henderson lawn. "That's a big blaze," said the heavily bearded man—Mr. Pollard was his name—who had come out with Jeff and Charles, "and it covers ground, too. While as a dozen stinks."

"Where do you think it is, Pollard?" Henderson asked, rather anxiously, or so it seemed to Jeff.

"It's hard to say, but my guess is that it's on the West Side, down below Harrison Street, across those lumber yards. It's a good three miles from here."
