Last Nips Being Squeezed out of Island Capital

MANILA, Feb. 9 (AP)—American divisions today are squeezing the last Japanese out of Manila and pushing the finishing touches to their campaign on the central Luzon plain.

Infantrymen, splashing across the Pasig river in amphibious tanks, drove toward the prized dock section of Manila in the face of new enemy demolition charges set off in the old Intramuros district, a death trap for its congested Filipino and Chinese residents.

The 37th infantry division, under Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, entered southern Manila by crossing the wide Pasig near the governmental Malacanman palace and began to root out the Japanese who had destroyed the four bridges.

The Yanks worked southeast through comparatively open spaces around the gas works, with the harbor facilities their prime immediate objective.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today the 37th was "squeezing the last Japanese out of Manila and pushing the finishing touches to their campaign on the central Luzon plain."

MacArthur announced destruction of 200 Japanese tanks—two-thirds the 11th airborne division in operations on the central Luzon plain, where the enemy is slowly being driven into the eastern foothills.

Enemy losses have been "very heavy" in both personnel and materiel in this second major battle. The 11th Airborne Division, which captured or destroyed 600 Japanese tanks, 100 armored vehicles, 100 trucks and 100 cars.

Not more than 100-150 Japanese are left in Manila. The remainder are being driven into the eastern foothills.

RUSS PINNACLES GO UPON FRANKFURT

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Berlin reported today that Marshal Zhukov had clamped a pincer on Frankfurt, and violent battles were raging on both sides of the city.

Eighteen miles north of Frankfurt Soviet armored forces fought in the streets of burning Kuesten, which the nazis said had been encircled "temporarily" at the junction of Russian bridgeheads across the Oder.

A Moscow broadcast hinted an impending announcement of the battle of the Oder would be made by the red army command. It said Zhukov's front had been "wreathed in official acclaim, which usually precedes some big announcement."

Bridgehead Crushed "Hard battles on the Oder on both sides of Frankfurt continued," Ernst von Hammer, Nazi military commentator, said, adding that the German line crumbled below the bridgehead across the Oder at Fuerstenburg, 43 miles southeast of Berlin.

PARIS, Feb. 9 (AP)—The big push has begun. From Holland to the Alps, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is hurling American, British and French troops into the climactic battle of Germany.

The aim is to destroy Germany's fighting forces before summer in conjunction with the red army's offensives in the east.

The chances of success are far better than they were in the allied offensive which ended Dec. 16 with German Marshal Karl von Rundstedt's counter-attack in the Ardennes.

This time, the western allies are attacking while the Germans are engaged in a losing battle to save Berlin in the east. The Siegfried line already has been breached in three areas, and the nazis are desperately short of two vital war necessities—men and oil.

Best guesses place German strength in the west at 80 divisions. But even these are understrength and probably total fewer than half a million men.

Armored and infantry divisions of the Canadian first army broke into the northern flank of the Siegfried line today in an offensive that carried forward almost five miles on a six-mile front aimed squarely at the German line.

Advancing steadily behind a screen of flame-throwing tanks, the first army broke through the German front southeast of Nijmegen and into the Reichswald forest.

Vanguards of the attacking force are pushing halfway through the forest early today, and are expected to reach the Reichswald forest.

First army paratroops, fighting as infantrymen, were reported to have pushed almost five miles into the forest.

German resistance, softened and in some places paralyzed by a thundering allied aerial and artillery bombardment, showed few signs of stiffening this morning, 24 hours to the start of the offensive that is expected to see the whole of western Europe in the hands of the Allies.

WALLACE BATTLE PUTTING HIGH GEAR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Senator Wallace is putting his legislative program in high gear today.

The committee failed to reach a conclusion whether to send to the house floor the so-called "George Bill" divorcing the RFC from the commerce department, prior to a Senate vote on Wallace's nomination as commerce secretary.

Rep. C. D. Cox, rules member, declared there had been a "horse trade" between the senate and Wallace's confirmation for a cabinet job was stymied in the house committee today after a noisy debate studded with charges of fraud.

Chattman Spence, D. Ky., of the senate banking committee, demanding that the rules group be cleared of the charge, bluntly asked the rules committee today whether it would pass on confirmation of the former vice-president until March 1.

Spence flared as Spence asked the rules members if they were questioning the integrity of his committee, which has approved the George measure.

Rules Chairman Beahm, D. Ill., shouted: "The banking committee is not on trial here, and Spence is usurping the powers of the house."

"You can slaughter Wallace if you want," Spence said, "but that is not the issue here."

More than 1,200 prisoners were captured in the northern corner of the district wall at a moment when Hitler said spokesmen were predicting a breakthrough farther south on the British second and American ninth army fronts.

The British and American armies massed along the front were preparing for a grand assault on the Cologne plain.

Bill Fisher south, the American front broke through the Siegfried defenses opening the Roer river dam. While the German forces were still in the Roer, American troops breached the west wall on an eight mile front before German and British crossings of the Sure and Our river lines between Luxembourg and Germany.

Resistance Ended

At the bottom of the allied front, all organized German resistance ended suddenly in southern Alsace.

The German Paratrooper Corps American army cleared out the Colmar pocket after more than a month of fighting.

Germany's strategic troops recaptured several cities which had been vacated in the battles of the Ardennes and the Sempron forest.

The march of the remaining German forces varies with rank. Common soldiers are beginning to show signs of demoralization and are fighting stubbornly when well equipped and well fed.

German officers are showing less obedience than ever.

PLATOON SOUGHT IN MEDICAL WACS

A platoon of 18 Idaho women to work in the field with the medical department in army hospitals is critically needed at once, Lieut. Marjorie Nelson, captain, declared here Friday.

Lieutenant Nelson, recruiting officer for Idaho, is here to interview women to serve as medical and surgical technicians, administrators and clerical workers in this branch of the service.

In cooperation with the state guard, delegated to cooperate in the recruiting program in Idaho, Lieut. Marjorie Nelson Friday was interviewing the possibilities of setting up a recruiting office in Twin Falls.

Gov. Charles E. Condit this week declared a 90-day emergency to recruit women to take care of the imperative needs of American wounded being returned at the rate of 30,000 a month from the battle areas.

As soon as the platoon of Idaho women has been recruited, they will be sent to the same training center as the women of other states for their training course, to go to a hospital general hospital, Pocatello, Wash. where most of Idaho wounded are being cared for, Lieut. Marjorie Nelson explained.

To qualify for this vital work, Lieutenant Nelson said, a woman must:

- Be between the ages of 20 and 49.
- Have at least two years of high school education.
- Have no dependent children under 16 years of age.
- Meet the required physical and mental qualifications.

Women who have WAC hospital jobs of infinite importance in wartime, but who can list a career, women trained in the kind of work will find medical, nursing, dental, hospital, pharmacy, etc. in their skills in years to come," the lieutenant pointed out.

$14,000 Aristocratic Bull Added to Fields & Sons Stock at Gooding Ranch

GODDING, Feb. 9—Pride of the Idaho Hereford ranch and its owners, Ernest E. Fields & Sons, is the newly acquired Royal Essar III, son of T. Royal Rupert 60th, $14,000 Hereford bull which they purchased Jan. 10 at San Antonio.

Leaving Gooding Dec. 21 with their big stock truck, Fields and his son Wesley attended stock sales and shows in Oklahoma, Texas and Colorado. They purchased three registered Hereford heifers with which they hope to improve their herd and the bull which is considered as the highest scored animal sold at the San Antonio sale.

While at the Roy Turner sale in Sapulpa, Okla., Mr. Fields and son appeared on radio station WKY with the farm reporter, Ed Adams in the interview conducted by Mr. Lemons. Mr. Fields and Wesley related several interesting facts about their 200-acre ranch near Gooding and told of their first start in the registered cattle raising business which was inspired through Wesley's work in the 4-H club.

Fields purchased a $3,000 bull at the Turner sale last year, which incidentally he lost in early December by shooting.

Royal Essar III is a descendant of the Robert H. Haskett herd founded in 1828 which was inspired through the get of his two most noted sons, Beau Brummel and Campbell. Royal III was named in honor of the death of Mr. Haskett at the Madison place, El Dorado, Kan., June 15, 1937, and according to specifications in his will to be a grand champion.

The Essar ranch, owned by Tom Black, Esq., U. S. N. R., is near Gooding. The program was being worked out as a result of congressional approval earlier in January on insurance program and flaxseed and experimental insurance on the program.

As an overton in the new authorization, the program can be operated in any county. The program will be established when details of the program are completed.

Crop Insurance to Be Available Soon

Crop insurance will be available on 1945 spring wheat, flaxseed and premium rate schedules can be developed, says Tom Jagan, county AAA committee chairman.

The insurance, similar except for a few details to the program operated from 1932 to 1934, will be offered through the agricultural adjustment administration, says Jagan. The committee is expected to have local responsibility for the program in cooperation with the federal crop insurance corporation.

Details of the program are being worked out as a result of congressional approval earlier in January on insurance program and flaxseed and experimental insurance on the program.

As an overton in the new authorization, the program can be operated in any county. The program will be established when details of the program are completed.

Commodity Price Changes Slight

BOISE, Feb. 9—On all commodities except potatoes, prices in Idaho during January either increased slightly or remained unchanged.

The U. S. department of agriculture today listed the following price changes:

Wheat up four cents per bushel, oats up one cent per bushel, barley up three cents per bushel and alfalfa seed up 50 cents per bushel. Dred cattle up 20 cents and lamb up 20 cents per hundredweight; hay up $15.00 per ton; eggs down 8 cents per dozen and chickens up one cent per pound.

Maine Beats Idaho On Spud Shipments

IDAHO FALLS, Feb. 9—Idaho's total potato shipments during the 1944-45 season dropped behind those of Maine this week as that state took over the lead in the nation's largest potato shipping state.

According to information from the daily bulletin of the office of distribution, Idaho shipments for the season reached 25,877 cars today compared with 26,000 for Maine.

Idaho shipments to date also have fallen behind the number of ships during the last week of the season. Idaho's total potato shipments up to Feb. 5 of last season were 26,261 cars. Maine shipments this season are behind Idaho's season, however, as the state had shipped 26,292 this time last year.

45 GOODING CROP GOAL ANNOUNCED

GODDING, Feb. 9—Production goals for 1945 for Gooding county are as follows:

Corn, 1,250 acres; oats, 3,000 acres; alfalfa, 4,000 acres; wheat, 8,000 acres. This shows a 60 per cent increase over 1944 goals on the four grain crops.

Hay and seed goals are 27,000 acres of alfalfa, 10,000 acres of beans, 1,100 acres or 100 per cent of the 1944 goal; sugar beets, 1,200 acres or 125 per cent of the 1944 goal; potatoes, 3,600 acres or an increase of 12 per cent; seed peas, 500 acres.

Livestock goals are set at 100 per cent for 1945 goals with a two per cent increase in milk production over 1944.

Information has come from the AAA office that it expects to start making applications for 1944 payments about Feb. 15. The total payment is estimated at about $100,000 for the county. Quite an amount of this money depends on farmers furnishing the office with all receipts for seed, phosphate and other supplies needed to complete their papers and Feb. 15 is the latest date for 100 farmers who have not submitted proof for their November and December milk payments.

All papers not completed by that time will be voided and no payment will be made for those farmers who have not submitted proof for their November and December milk payments.

MORE WATER FOR TETON AREA, PLAN

BOISE, Feb. 9—U. S. Newell, acting regional director of the U. S. bureau of reclamation, said today that as a result of conferences with State Sen. F. C. Gillette, R. Tex., the reclamation service has agreed to survey small reservoir sites on tributaries of the Teton river in eastern Idaho next summer.

In Washington, D. C., Sen. Glenn H. Taylor, D. Ida., said he had been asked by Gillette to aid in working out a plan for additional irrigation water for the Teton basin area. Taylor was told by Harry W. Bashore, commissioner of reclamation, that the Boise regional office would take up the problem.

Newell said arrangements for the survey will be worked out with Earl R. Kulp, reclamation engineer, after the legislature has decided whether to appropriate $100,000.

The joint senate and house appropriation committees have approved such a fund as asked by the governor.

For the past two years, Gillette said, water had been diverted from lower areas in east Idaho, allowing Teton basin users to take water direct from the river which otherwise would have gone to the downstream irrigators.

He said he has, however, that this water has been insufficient to meet needs of the Teton basin farmers.

AGRICULTURE HELD TO BE IN SOUND POSITION

IDAHO FALLS, Feb. 9—Despite disturbances due to war agriculture is in a much sounder position than it was at any time during or after the first world war, Howard J. Gramlich, general agricultural agent for the Chicago and North Western, told guests of the eastern Idaho chambers of commerce.

Gramlich said "there is definitely a touch of inflation with us now but if we keep on a cash basis I don't think we will get in a jam. It will be necessary to work together."

45 GOODING CROP GOAL ANNOUNCED

GODDING, Feb. 9—Production goals for 1945 for Gooding county are as follows:

Corn, 1,250 acres; oats, 3,000 acres; alfalfa, 4,000 acres; wheat, 8,000 acres. This shows a 60 per cent increase over 1944 goals on the four grain crops.

Hay and seed goals are 27,000 acres of alfalfa, 10,000 acres of beans, 1,100 acres or 100 per cent of the 1944 goal; sugar beets, 1,200 acres or 125 per cent of the 1944 goal; potatoes, 3,600 acres or an increase of 12 per cent; seed peas, 500 acres.

Livestock goals are set at 100 per cent for 1945 goals with a two per cent increase in milk production over 1944.

Information has come from the AAA office that it expects to start making applications for 1944 payments about Feb. 15. The total payment is estimated at about $100,000 for the county. Quite an amount of this money depends on farmers furnishing the office with all receipts for seed, phosphate and other supplies needed to complete their papers and Feb. 15 is the latest date for 100 farmers who have not submitted proof for their November and December milk payments.

All papers not completed by that time will be voided and no payment will be made for those farmers who have not submitted proof for their November and December milk payments.

Chick Chats

In raising poultry, as in growing apples, the chicken worms are essential to production. In growing chickens, the chicken worms are essential to production. In growing chickens, the chicken worms are essential to production.

Internal Parasites

The control of worms in laying flocks is necessary that they are to stay strong and remain in condition to continue heavy production throughout the winter months. Many poultrymen practice an individual treatment before housing birds and later give a flock treatment with a convenient medicated feed.

It is this treatment that is given during the laying season are sure there are plenty of feeders so that all the birds have easy access to the medicated meal. Following a worm treatment, the poultry house should be cleaned thoroughly to remove as much of the danger of re-infection as possible. A good disinfectant is desirable. You can obtain commercial disinfectants that enable you to disinfect without moving the layers from the house.

External Parasites

Lice produce irritation by running over the skin of laying birds. Heavy lice infestations cause nervousness, lack rest and loss of appetite and brings about loss in egg production, loss of flesh, body weight and easy susceptibility to disease. Fleck treatments may be accomplished by cleaning the roost poles and applying a lincosin solution directly to the birds' roost. This treatment kills lice by penetration of the fumes up through the feathers. The warmth of the bird's body volatilizes the fumes, making it an easy, effective treatment. Remember always, the best bred layers can fly profitably with heavy parasite infestation. It is one of the biggest problems confronting you in the laying house.

Crops of Snake River Valley Top Quarter Million in War

BOISE, Feb. 9—The $7,825,841 in crops produced in 1944 on the Minidoka irrigation project and other districts of the Snake river valley in southeastern Idaho brought the total value of crops grown on this million-acre area in 1944 to more than a quarter billion dollars, R. J. Newell, acting regional director for the U. S. bureau of reclamation, said today.

The annual gross returns for the past five years from the development, which is served wholly or in part by the bureau, are as follows: 1944, $7,825,841; 1943, $7,450,731; 1942, $5,207,507; and 1940 and 1941, $4,200,000. Approximately half the 1944 return was from lands served under Warren act contracts, by the Twin Falls Canal company, which are owned and operated by the North Side Canal company, on which crop values totaled $1,600,000.

On the project, which Newell said is the largest irrigation development in the West for which the bureau of reclamation provides a full or supplemental supply of water, again in 1944, as in previous years, was a major source of basic food crops, including potatoes, beans, vegetables, and sugar beets, and of alfalfa, which is vital as winter feed for beef and dairy herds. On that part of the project for which full crop details are available, an area containing more than 20,000 irrigated acres approximately one-half of the acreage was planted to these crops in 1944. The proportion probably holds true for the remainder of the 920,000 acres under cultivation.

Of the 1944 crop value, 190,000 bushels from 10 of the bureau of reclamation's 44 irrigation projects in 1944, approximately $1,600,000, said that the Minidoka project's irrigated area, 100,000 acres, or one-fifth of the bureau's total crop return for the year, $39,000,000.

Greater Than '41

The preliminary returns indicate that the net area in cultivation on bureau projects in the west in 1944 is 10 per cent greater than in 1943, and that the total value of crops produced in 1944 is 15 per cent greater than in 1943. Alfalfa production is expected to show an increase of 50 per cent, an increase of 24 per cent, and a 20 per cent increase in sugar beets.

Newell explained that the average per-acre return in 1944 or the entire Minidoka development was $77.13, approximately 84 cents less than in 1943.

The program presented by the lecturer, Mrs. W. E. Jackson, consisted of reading Mrs. Hiram Rogers' reading from the Grange paper by L. F. Gaudin; a detailed report on the AAA by Harvey Hoyer; and group singing.

Full Speed Ahead For Beets, Is Plea

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—The U. S. bureau of reclamation today called for a maximum acreage of sugar beets to meet military and civilian requirements.

Contracts implementing the sugar beet acreage program for 1945 have been sent to all sugar beet processors by the commodity credit corporation.

The program is designed to yield about 4,000,000 bushels of sugar beets (including receipts from processors, payments under the sugar act of 1937 and the payments by the CCC), of $12.50 a ton.

About 83 of this sum will be paid by the CCC to growers through processors.

The WRA said it will assist to the utmost in providing labor necessary to produce and harvest the crop.

Eggs held in storage up to six months can be made to equal fresh-laid eggs in quality. To get quality packing firms must obtain eggs not more than 24 hours after they are laid, treat them with a chemical oil solution and store them where proper humidity and temperature can be maintained.

Army nurses are entitled to all benefits afforded by the "G. I. Bill of Rights" according to the 2nd Service Command surgeon.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI
There is such a thing as getting too close to the job and when that happens it is not good for the child involved and positively bad for the health of the parent.

Teachers and mothers, in their anxiety to reach a perfection standard for their charges often fall into this error. They start out to help a child grow gracefully into usefulness and here they find him making an effort to accomplish a task and they must try his assistance.

"Hold your pencil loosely, Granddaddy, don't press so hard. Look out there, boy, you're going to smudge that line. There you did it. When you get a brush stroke in. Now you've spoiled the whole thing."

That teacher and mother who had just passed by her seeing that Granddaddy was trying to do a bit of work a little while when the pen might have done better. At least he would not feel that irritation that now fills him makes him look guilty and stubborn.

"And you wouldn't look at me that way, too, trying to help you. You save you making a mess of your work. Take another brush stroke and see if you manage to keep it clean. Just remember you're not working with a hammer but with a pencil, a crayon and a brush. You don't need the strength of a bull behind them."

A SONG TO REMEMBER

by Willard Wiener

THE STORY: At the age of 18, Frederic Chopin's dexterity at the piano has already made him a person of note in the little Polish village of Zelazowa Wola, Count Zaslowski, owner of the village, has requested that his play in a public concert at Warsaw. Professor Elsner, Frederic's teacher, and the whole Chopin family are looking forward to the event.

THE LETTER

Prof. Josef Elsner, his baggy clothes dripping wet, stepped over the threshold of Mamma Chopin but he did not hold him off—he would have embraced her in his rain-soaked arms.

"Good day!" His face was one big smile. "Madame Chopin, good day!" He nodded to Minister Chopin, who had had only this moment come to the door. "Madame, good day! Your sisters, little one, are they in health?"

"Nicola in Warsaw," Izabela said. "Josef Elsner closed his lips, nodded, then with a quick gesture, as Nicola Chopin bolted the door against the driving rain, he said: "What was that?"

"In the direction of Fritzchen's music room," (Superb! Yes?) "Fritzchen didn't say anything but his expression said plainly enough: 'Who thinks of music on a day like this?'"

"The professor smacked his lips. His cheeks were wet as the rain water dripping even from his eyebrows. He was groping in his coat pocket for something."

"And how are you this fine day, my little one?" he said to Izabela. "Izabela answered stiffly: 'Very well thank you. But it isn't a fine day.'"

"Josef, you are an idiot!" Mamma Chopin said. "Minister Chopin had been rolling his tongue in his cheek. He said: 'A fine day for a straw hat and slippers.'"

"What is that, a straw hat? Please—Josef Elsner is not such a fool. He looked at his hat. Why it was, of all things, his fine straw one, hardly fine any longer. He looked at his feet. Elsner, what is the matter? Have you got out of your head completely? For his feet, of course, were in slippers. Tech, too. So many things a man must think of in these days. How can you do everything! In a day there are only so many hours and every where there are so many people and you are only one person. Anyone can see how difficult it is."

Mamma Chopin took his wet hat, his wet, music roll, and Izabela, in response to her mother's quick words, brought out Papa Chopin's thick warm slippers which Josef Elsner thankfully exchanged for his own.

"The professor now had in his hand a crumpled paper, the thing he had been groping for in his pocket."

"Madame," "Yes, Josef!" "Yes, Josef!" "I only say to you my friends, my dear warm friends—Josef Elsner! It was too dark where they were to read anything. They moved into the kitchen where the light was better. Mamma Chopin took the paper. She opened it, read, while Elsner looked on, his own face beaming. Mamma Chopin read from the top of the paper to the very bottom.

"I don't understand it," she said, when she had finished.

"Tech, she handed t' paper to her husband. 'Maybe you can understand it.' Nicola Chopin held the paper away from his eyes.
