Weather Balks Crew In Trip to Wreckage

BURLEY, Feb. 13.—Continued bad weather, including high winds, snow and rain, forced ground crews attempting to reach the wreckage of a large plane on Mt. Harrison, 20 miles east of here, to remain inactive this morning.

Meanwhile, at the municipal airport, a twin engine army plane and also two small single engine army ships were grounded because of the weather. The pilots of the planes attempted to fly over the scene of the wreck early this morning but were unable to do so.

Sheriff Paul M. Clark last night organized a civilian group to attempt to reach the wreck but the unit did not leave this morning, also because of weather conditions.

The plane was spotted Saturday afternoon by Lieut. Harry Harris, flight B leader of the Twin Falls CAP.

Planes of the Twin Falls squadron, as well as others from Boise, Mountain Home and Pocatello, were searching for a bomber which was missing from the Mountain Home base since Friday night.

The wreckage spotted on the rugged mountain is believed to be that of the army plane, but officials at the base said that positive identification awaits the arrival of ground crews at the scene.

The army ground crew Sunday reached a point several miles from the wreck. Storms and clouds were deep, however, caused them to give up the job and they remained in a ranger's cabin overnight. Monday the situation remained the same.

One Would Almost Think It Was Dog, up for Promotion

By FREDERICK C. OTTMAN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—A dog named "Spot" is being considered for promotion to the rank of sergeant in the U. S. Army.

The dog, a German shepherd, has been serving with the 1st Cavalry Division in Germany.

It is said that the dog has been "promoted" because of its "bravery" and "loyalty" during the war.

Killed

MANILA, Feb. 13 (AP)—Japanese suicide troops, cornered in south Manila's flaming battle pits by a juncture of three American divisions, were being compressed and liquidated today as their only possible havens of refuge, Corregidor and Batan, smoldered from a record 1,000-ton saturation bombing.

The final phase of the battle for the Philippine capital was mounting in ferocity as Yanks of the 37th Infantry, first cavalry and 11th air-borne divisions made contact with the Japanese against Manila Bay south of the Pasig river mouth.

While six division armored units far to the north rolled to the Pacific coast to cut Luzon in two, the three Yank divisions in Manila's shell-wrecked downtown area, braved rockets, heavy artillery, machinegun fire and mined streets in their drive to finish off the enemy garrison now confined to less than five square miles.

Across Manila Bay, American bombers poured a devastating load of more than 700 tons of bombs on the southern end of Batan peninsula and over 200 tons on Corregidor in a 48-hour period up to Sunday night.

Jeagerous Attempt
The hazard of any Japanese flight across the bay was reflected in Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique reporting that American fighter planes shot down a Japanese bomber over the bay.

MacArthur, describing the Manila fight as "extraordinarily fierce," said the desperate enemy penned up near the south Manila docks "now being compressed into extinction."

Rockets, 10 inches in caliber, are being hurled at the enemy positions, which is chiefly in the ancient walled city near the Pasig river mouth. The Japanese still poured artillery shells on the island of Corregidor, but American planes are moving tanks and guns across the Pasig, and tried to break Manila's water supply network.

They weren't, either. He said being a brigadier general was not like managing the hockey counter in a department store. He said the 24-year-old son of the President had had enough of the army and was going to leave.

It wasn't a bulidger, it was a mastiff, interrupted Sen. Charles McNamara of New Hampshire.

He weighed 119 pounds, said Sen. McNamara.

"One hundred and 19 pounds," said Sen. McNamara.

Stalin Likely to Turn On Japanese in April

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—Belgian gained headway in congress today that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill may have reached an agreement with Premier Stalin for Russian participation in the war with Japan.

This belief is based partly on the announcement that a "very close understanding" has been reached between the American, British and Russian general staffs at the big three conference in Crimea. There the allied leaders underwrote the terms of a "Crimean charter" for co-operative action on war and peace.

April 25, when first-rank diplomats of the United Nations will meet in San Francisco to begin the formation of a world security organization, is the date on which either Russia or Japan can, by giving a year's notice, denounce their non-aggression treaty.

The treaty is not denounced by them, it runs another five years, Russia's position in regard to future hostilities with the Japanese may become clearer at the time of the diplomats' meeting.

Big 3 to Move With Firm Hand

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—The major decisions reached by the big three at Yalta are:

Germany will be subjected to new and even more powerful blows, to bring her to "unconditional surrender." The big three agreed upon occupation and control. German militarism and militarism will be eliminated or controlled.

United Nations
An agreement was reached on voting procedure in the council of the contemplated world security organization, a question left unsettled at Dumbarton Oaks. To prepare the charter for a world security organization along the lines of that contemplated at Dumbarton Oaks, a full United Nations conference will meet in San Francisco on April 25.

Libertarian Europe
The three countries will jointly attack liberated Europe's totalitarian and former Nazi satellites to establish permanent peace, carry out emergency relief measures, form interim governments and hold free elections.

Russia, Gen. George S. Patton's troops routed the last German snipers from the Siegfried line stronghold at Remagen and extended their bridgeheads across the Rhine and Ruhr rivers.

Annual spring opening will be held Friday, March 9, with plans for a week of winter sports. S. N. Crowley, chairman of the U. S. Olympic committee, announced following a bureau meeting Tuesday that the U. S. Olympic team will leave for the games in Germany in the west.

The Lublin government, recognized by the U. S. as the legitimate government of Poland, will be "reorganized on a broader democratic basis with the inclusion of democratic leaders from Poland, its free press, and its free press."

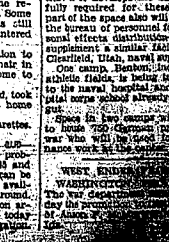

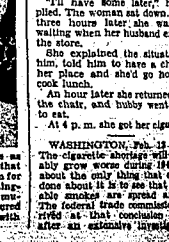

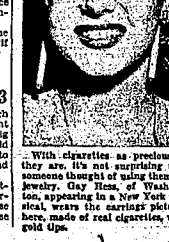

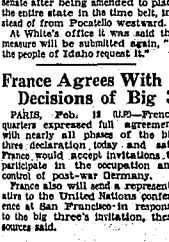

The Big Three recommended acceptance of a compromise calling for creation of a regency and broadening of the Polish cabinet.

Invited to participate in control and settlement of liberated Germany, and in settling problems of liberated Poland, also will be given a preview of the world security organization plan agreed upon at Yalta.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—Plans for the huge Farragut, Idaho, naval training station will be put to the board of the Navy Department today.

The station is located on the shore of Lake Shoshone.

Three of the station's eight camps will be operated jointly by the Western States Transfer as a "recreation" for men returning from the front, and by the Bureau of Naval Personnel as a housing unit for men in transit.

The Navy Department announced that if it develops the plans are fully required for these purposes, the station will be built.

The station will be built on the shore of Lake Shoshone.

political power in history to support the ideal of a peace based on the Atlantic charter, which thereby appears to take on new life.

But it provides also for the growth of France as a fourth great power in Europe and recognizes, through the agreement on Dumbarton Oaks, the potential power of China in the Orient.

Those are the over-all results of president Roosevelt's eight-day meeting at an old czarist palace in the Crimea with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill.

By their own words it offers the world renewed hope, after Germany's unconditional surrender, for generations of international security in which men "may live out their lives."

The three agreed not only on a mighty new blow to crush nazism and permanently disarm Germany, but also on peace machinery to guarantee independence and self-determination to the small countries of Europe. A formula for creating a new government in Poland, which will be acceptable to all three powers, is included.

MRS. BOETTIGER WITH BIG THREE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—President Roosevelt settled a family problem by taking his daughter, Mrs. John Boettiger, with him to the big three meeting.

The President fixed everything to suit himself, and his daughter got her way too.

He has wanted her to be with him much of the time during the past two years, but until now he hadn't taken her along to international conferences.

The chief executive has grown to depend more and more upon her for confidential secretarial work since she gave up her Seattle home to return to the White House in 1943.

But Mrs. Boettiger has been showing signs of restlessness these last few months.

When another big three meeting between her father, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Russian Premier Josef Stalin seemed to be in the offing, the President's daughter recalled pointedly that the group at Tehran included Churchill's daughter, Sarah Churchill Oliver.

MEMORIAL PARK PLAN-DISCUSSED

With an eye to the future, Twin Falls councilmen Monday night took under serious consideration the establishment of a memorial park here that would be dedicated to the memory of the young men and women of this city who have made the supreme sacrifice in World War I.

"There should be paid them," declared Mayor Bert A. Sweet, "and I know of no more fitting salute to them than a park that will be dedicated to the things for which they fought and died."

Taking up the matter of building permits, the council indicated that hereafter the permit and building and improving will be harder to get than in the past.

They voted to require a draft of the proposed work to accompany application for a permit and said that the matter must then be approved by City Engineer John E. Hayes.

Name of 'Hoover' Looms Large In Capture of Prison Escaper

The name "Hoover" proved the nemesis yesterday for a prisoner held in the county jail on a charge of forgery.

The prisoner, arrested here as "Charles W. Coplin" on Jan. 29, when he allegedly cashed a forged check for $22.50 at the DeLuxe auto court, Twin Falls, was later found to be Charles Franklin Barney, an escaped prisoner from the Colorado state penitentiary, Canon City, Colo.

Routine finally caught up with Barney, according to Sheriff W. L. Lowery, who sent the man's fingerprints to the federal bureau of investigation.

The names of H. A. Hoover, H. N. Hoover and Fay Craft, owners of the auto court, appeared on the complaint which charged the escaper with forgery. The telegram which proved him to be escaped from the penitentiary was signed by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI.

Sheriff Lowery said the man had waived extradition and will be returned to the Colorado state penitentiary.

BIG 3'S A HATE BUNCH, SAY NAZIS

LONDON, Feb. 13 (AP)—The German radio screamed to the world today that the big three had conspired to "wrestle political existence of all times," but made no broadcasts for home consumption apparently because propaganda mikes in Paul Joseph Goebbels had been caught off base again.

Ever since the big three conference had been rumored, Goebbels and his lieutenants had been busy in the facilities inside Germany to warn the Reich against the big three assault on the German people. He assured them that the big three would issue a honeyed plea to Germany which would make "unconditional surrender" sound appealing. He warned of the Nazis to beware of any such "Wilsonian" tactics.

But when the big three conference ended, the Nazi propaganda built-up didn't work. How could the German people be told how the big three had conspired to "wrestle political existence of all times," when the big three had not issued a word of "hate and destruction," toward Germany. Broadcasts bemoaned the United States said that the big three had adopted the "Morgenthau plan for enslaving and destroying the Reich, and had committed 'the greatest political crime of all times'."

Broadcasts to Europe attacked the Polish solution and made sarcastic references to allied plans for trials of liberated countries.

POLES DEMUR TO BIG 3 DECISIONS

LONDON, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Polish cabinet is expected to defy the big three today and reject the invitation to join the provisional government in liberated Poland.

President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill doctored the cable to Poland's eastern border to recognize the Soviet-supported Polish provisional government, even though it has been recognized by the United States.

The formula agreed upon for the solution of the Polish question represented a compromise between the Soviet and Anglo-American positions, though the Soviets had not "handed down."

DEMUR AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—The big three agreement on Poland was bitterly denounced last night at a dinner here by the Polish section of the American-Polish association in the east.

A statement by the directors of the committee said the Committee established the Curzon line as Poland's eastern border and providing for a coalition government of Poland constituted a "bitter partition" of the country.

30 Gilts Sell At Average of $95 at Filer

FILER, Feb. 13.—The annual Southern Idaho purebred gilt sale, held here Monday at the fairgrounds brought an average price of $95.16 for the 30 head of gilts sold.

Top price, that of $130 for a purebred Duroc Jersey gilt, went to Roy Shuttell, horse, consignee to the sale. Buyer was S. E. Biehl, Buhl.

The $130 average was well over the $93.41 of last year, and that was high in Idaho in 1944, according to Marvin Jorgel, Buhl, secretary of the South Central Idaho Swine Growers' association.

Average price of Durocs was $99.79, with other averages priced as follows: Spotted Poland-Chinas, $84.00; Black Poland-Chinas, $95.62; and Hereford hogs, $98.00.

Col. E. O. Walter, Filer, was in charge of the sale.

Strange Marriage Customs in China Told by Local Officer

In China when a couple marries, it's the custom for the bride and groom to do a "wedding dance" on the "bottoms up"—with everyone present at the wedding feast.

When the bride and groom are seated, there were at the recently attended by Lieut. Norman Coghill, Twain Falls, the newly-married couple, "more than reeling" before the feast.

Lieutenant Coghill is serving with the air force in China.

Lieutenant Coghill described the wedding like a society editor on a newspaper, in a recent letter to his wife, 4600 Third avenue south.

"One of my company commanders had a wedding at our local hostess' home. The bride and groom were a beautiful young couple, Chinese, not more than 15 or 16. All the American officers were invited, as we went... I dined out in our Sunday party were invited."

The Diplomatic Front

First, the guests were given wine, coffee, cakes and lots of conversation—mostly about the bride and groom. Approximately 100 dignitaries were present. After an hour of conversation, some one yielded, "Now it's time for the ceremony." All the guests were seated in ceremonial fashion.

One Chinese officer stood on the left side of the table, and the bride stood on the right. The bride wore a white dress, and the groom wore a white suit. The bride wore a white dress, and the groom wore a white suit.

The bride, bridegroom, bridegroom and best man came "crispin" up the center of the long room, with

'44 FEDERAL TAX OVER 42 BILLIONS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Federal taxes took $42,150,000,000 of America's big war time income in 1944. This is an increase of $10,350,000,000 over 1943 or more than the total tax bill in peacetime.

The largest chunk of revenue came from individual and corporate income taxes. The combined total for 1944 was $34,130,000,000 compared with $23,779,000,000 in 1943.

An internal revenue bureau report shows that the 20 per cent withholding tax on salaries and wages of war workers accounted for $8,842,391,291. Normal and surtaxes on individual incomes brought in an additional $1,092,203,849.

Corporation incomes were taxed for $18,088,833,313 of which normal and surtaxes totaled $5,133,235,919 and excess profits taxes amounted to $11,053,597,394.

Miscellaneous internal revenue and employment taxes accounted for $1,028,107,799.

By states, the grand totals of total income tax for 1944, from all sources, were $14,130,000,000 for corporations, $14,130,000,000 for individuals, and $14,130,000,000 for miscellaneous taxes in 1944, then withholding taxes 1944 in parentheses, include:

Hymns Born of Pain, Asserts Composer; Raps Swing Music

By BONNIE BAIRD
Most of the great hymns have been written out of intense suffering, says the Rev. George Barnard.

And this holds true in the composition of "The Old Rugged Cross," the most popular of any song of the day, and the hymn which made Rev. Mr. Barnard famous.

The composer, visiting Twin Falls as the third stop in a tour of four western states, explained that out of a great trial in the life of a close friend, he had been able to gain a deeper understanding of life and the meaning of the cross. This, he said, enabled him to complete the hymn which had been started sometime earlier.

Three years after it was written, 1919, the song was published by a close friend of Rev. Mr. Barnard. Thousands of copies and recordings were then made to meet the demands of sudden popularity.

"I have gone into many colleges, churches and prisons and have found to my astonishment, the people are not only familiar with the song, but able to sing it word for word," remarked the composer-ecologist.

"One of the most happy occasions I recall," he stated, "is the day I

HORNETS SURPRISE QUIT OF BIG 7

Oakley Once Counted Out as Title Aspirant

OAKLEY, Feb. 12—Two weeks ago when the Oakley Hornets went to Twin Falls and took a severe drubbing, the critics began counting 10 over the team as a contender for the Big Seven conference championship and possible repeater in the district tournament to be held in March.

But they failed to consider Coach Alon Fairchild and the basketball spirit of Oakley, city and school. That's what they discovered today with the Hornets in third place in the Big Seven and if they beat the Indians in their game at this Twin Falls evening, they still have a chance for the championship, even though slim.

The Hornets are three and one-half games behind the leading Burley Bobcats but have five more games to play against the Bobcats' three. They are a half game behind the second-place Rupert Pirates. As a result the league title will hinge on the games among the three teams within the next two weeks.

Finch by Fairchild. Fairchild has done a fine job here. He lost all but one regular from the 1944 district championship and that was Don Taylor, who was lost a week ago to the navy.

But Oakley has a basketball tradition to uphold and the 1944-45 Hornets are making good on that tradition.

Twelve games are on tonight's Maple Valley basketball will see several of the games winding up. The Hornets are in the class B school.

Two of the games will be in the Big Seven conference. Coach E. Hays Rupert Pirates can cut Burley's Big Seven conference lead to two games with a victory over Coach Elmer Parker's Gooding Bobcats.

Former Twin Falls Lad Leading Cagers In Los Angeles With 27-Point Average

If it weren't for the fact that Bob Kloppenburg's parents decided to leave Twin Falls three years ago, Coach J. Stuart Halliday's Twin Falls Bruins today would probably all be odds-on favorites to take the district and state crowns next month.

Bob Kloppenburg, who played "donut basketball" at Twin Falls as a seventh, eighth and ninth grader, is now a senior at Marshall high in Los Angeles and the outstanding cager in that city's prep basketball.

A clipping from a Los Angeles newspaper, received by John Hughes, Bruin's uncle and former coach of the Kloppenburg youth, tells of the lead power on the basketball court.

A SONG TO REMEMBER

by Willard Wines

THE STORY: At the age of 10, Freddie Chopin decided at the piano that he had made up his mind to become a pianist. He had already made him a person of note in the little Polish village of Zolazna, Vol. Count Skarbek, owner of the village, has requested that he play in a public concert at Warsaw. Freddie confides to Professor Elmer that he and his young friends have been having secret meetings and when they grow up intend to fight for the freedom of Poland, which is under the rule of the Russian Czar. Elmer is sympathetic, dreams of the day when the Polish musical world will acknowledge Freddie's genius.

THE CONCERT
The excitement of preparing for Freddie's first public performance has its effect on Mamma. Chopin was put to bed with a fever and it was thought she would not be well enough to attend. It is not until Mamma asks "How perfectly ridiculous!" She called for Pritchen and the boy went into the bedroom and stood alongside Mamma's bed and took Mamma's hand.

"Freddie, did they tell you Mamma was sick?"
"That is a terrible thing to tell you. Look at me. Does your Mamma look sick?"
"No, Mamma."
"Can you not see, yet they won't let me get up. What am I to do? I am as well as anybody but to them that doesn't make any difference. I must still do as they say. Well, I will do it, of course. I am not so stubborn. I will do it if only to show them. But when they say I am sick, then I don't know what to say. I want to laugh in their faces. Pritchen, my darling, your Mamma can laugh as heartily as any of them." She laughed and Pritchen joined in the laughter.
"Now, my darling, there are just one or two things I must tell you."
"Yes, Mamma."
"Your Mamma is not sick. That is the first thing. But do you have to tell you that you can see for yourself. Now the next thing. Pritchen, the night air is not good for you. You will please see that your coat is light about your neck, and do not let it, what you say."
"I won't open it, Mamma."
"Well, then I am sure you won't. Now, my darling, there are just one or two things I must tell you."
Freddie placed his lips on her warm cheek that was wet with tears.

"No, Pritchen, I am not crying. Why should I cry? This is all such nonsense. My children—they are all beautiful, talented children—every one."
"Well, there is only this to say—when you walk out on the stage and you see all those people in front of you, looking up at you, you must not cry, or run away. Hold your head up, firm. Pritchen, show me exactly how you are going to hold your head up."
"I will hold it like this, Mamma."
"Yes, Pritchen. And always, no matter what happens, hold your head up. And when you play, Pritchen, remember you are playing for your Mamma and your Papa and your dear sisters, who are always proud of you, and for Professor Skarbek. Nothing—nothing in the world must make you forget that."
"I won't forget it."
"I will be thinking of you, Freddie, all the time—every moment. I will be thinking of nothing else. Yes, another thing. I had almost forgotten. Count Skarbek will be there. He will be in a box, on the side of the stage. You can be sure he will have his eyes on you. That is nothing to be afraid of. It might be a nice thing, Pritchen, when you have finished, to take a step or two toward the box where he is and make a special bow to him."

"But why should I bow to him, Mamma, and not to all?"
Mamma picked her lips. "Pritchen, the Count is a very, very great man."
Freddie said, "Yes, but he is not so great as Professor Elmer."
Mamma could not sleep; she could not even close her eyes. She tossed and was very restless. All her thoughts were of the concert. Would Pritchen remember all she had told him? Her mind would wander to the sounds of the returning carriage, she heard nothing but the wind in the eaves.
One thing she had managed to do before they had put her to bed, a perfectly well woman; she had managed to see that Pritchen looked his best. She and Papa had laid out the money for the very finest velvet trousers and a new collar and a handsome smock with a broad collar and sturdy straps with which to keep the smock in place about the child's neck. He wore mittens, too, for his fingers must be warm if they were to be limber.

At last they were home at last! Mamma sat up. She flung the bed-covers from her, but, on second thought, pulled them back, then shouted: "Well! Are you there?" Pritchen was at the door first. Mamma saw by the light of the candles how his eyes glowed. She knew the concert was a success.

"It was, wasn't it?"
Papa Chopin, his high hat still on his head, was in the doorway. "Well, don't say any more anything!"
"I wasn't afraid, Mamma."
"No, not that well. I know that. What was there to be afraid of? But how was it? How did the people act? Did they applaud?"
That's what I want to know. Did they applaud? Well, don't you open your mouth? Don't you say anything!"

"They looked at me, Mamma. Well, not so much at me. But they all looked at my nice collar!"

"NO CIGARETTES! NO GUM! NO CANDY! NO NOTHING!"

BURLEY CAPTAIN IN JAP AIR RAID

BURLEY, Feb. 13.—Capt. Max D. Gudmundsen, U. S. army medical corps, after a exciting trip from New Guinea, has arrived in the Philippines as a member of a field hospital, according to a letter received by his wife, Mrs. Helen Gudmundsen.

Captain Gudmundsen volunteered to go to the Philippines on a liberty ship as an assistant chief surgeon, and the only doctor aboard. During the trip the ship's motor quit when they were three miles off a Jap inhabited island. A tug came came for them and the first cable attached broke, but the second one held. They caught up with their convoy the next day.

In the letter, Capt. Gudmundsen told of an attack:

"I could talk for hours on the experience I went through when our ship was attacked by Jap planes. I've never been so scared in my life and if I never hear another shot fired it will be enough. Just as the sun was going down all hell broke loose. Nine zero, his as life and plenty low, came in. Our ship was firing full blast. The air was full of tracer bullets. I was called to the top of the bridge, the topmost part with the sky for a roof and shells going everywhere. I looked back and there was a zero about 15 feet off the water coming straight for us. We were firing as fast as we could. Our navy gunners stayed right at their guns although he was coming right at them. I watched until I was sure he'd been ducked behind a smoke stack. Metal just buzzed by where I'd been. The gun hit the Jap plane square on about 50 yards from the stern and he exploded. The whole motor landed on deck. It weighed about 1,600 pounds and was about 15 feet from where I sleep. The Jap pilot landed on the deck. He was mutilated, although plenty there to recognize as a Jap. I was too busy to see any more and I worked all night. Of the nine planes in the attack, seven were shot down. The Jap pilot, Captain Gudmundsen also told of the shelling of the beach in the Philippines. He stated that in the morning and evening the country is beautiful, and that black smoke screens are laid everywhere, so you can't see a ship 100 yards away."

Paul Sailor Now In New Hebrides

PAUL, Feb. 13.—Capt. Harry McMillan, whose parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Luke McMillan, is now stationed in the New Hebrides. He wrote to friends in Paul: "It can be raining here one minute and five minutes later it can be 100 in the shade as it is right now."

JINXED

PIER, Feb. 13.—Last week was a jinx for Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Smith, Pier, who are visiting relatives at Ocean Beach, Calif.

They were in an auto accident one day when a car crashed broadside into the auto Mr. Smith was driving. Next Mrs. Smith had her purse stolen. It contained her glasses and a sum of money.

The third day Mr. Smith suffered a heart attack and is still confined to his bed.

TWO HORSES HIT BY TRUCK, KILLED

JEROME, Feb. 13.—Two horses were so seriously injured they had to be destroyed, and a third suffered major injuries when a truck operated by Henry Schwab, Jr., Eden, struck the animals on-fourth mile west of that town. Deputy Sheriff James Purdy said today:

The animals had strayed out of a field and were in the process of being rounded up and driven inside the fence when the accident occurred, Purdy stated.

Deputy Purdy reported that Clarence Bolin was the owner of the horses and that Ullid Davidson, also of Eden, was ahead of the animals attempting to flag traffic in an effort to prevent an accident. Apparently, Purdy stated, Schwab failed to see the signaling of Davidson. Approximately 450 damage was done to the truck. Schwab suffered a scratched hand.
