V-E Day Headlines Greet German Prisoners

While whistles and church bells gave official V-E day a noisy greeting in New York, thousands of German prisoners of war were being disembarked from ships in London. Here Pvt. Clarence K. Ayres, Evansville, Ind., reads V-E day headlines as the newly arrived prisoners wait glumly in background.

WLB Tackles Problem of Peacetime Wage Rates

House in Lulu of a Scrap Votes to Raise Own Pay

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—If you want to make a small loan the feller to touch is a congressman. They have just raised their own wages, after six hours of soul searching, and presumably are feeling prosperous. What they did was ignore the rubber dollar trick. Robert P. Rich of Pennsylvania held high in the air and voted themselves each an annual $2,500 expense account. While they were about it, they made it retroactive to last Jan. 1.

'42 RETAIL PRICES IN RECONVERSION

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Price Administrator Chester Bowles today pledged 1942 retail prices for most reconstruction commodities. Outlining OPA's pricing policies for long-term consumer goods, Bowles said he is in OPA must be directed toward making it possible for American consumers to acquire the skills to produce a record volume of high quality goods at low prices and high wages.

Conscription in Britain Continues

LONDON, May 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill on his fifth anniversary in office told Britons today they would have more gasoline and no help in conscription at home. Bowles said that "statements will have to be made later on Germany's future regime."

Signer BOY HUSBAND, 17, CONVICTED IN FAST

A district court jury of five men and one woman, after a 15-minute deliberation Friday morning, found guilty of murder in the first degree the 17-year-old boy, convicted in a fast. Judge J. W. Porter sat Monday at 10 a. m. as his time for sentence. Mrs. Viola Troutman, 18, an expectant mother, was the complaining witness in the case, tried by Prosecuting Attorney E. M. Swezey for the state, and Earl E. Walker for the defense.

Under-Age Wedding Testimony disclosed that the couple married Aug. 29, 1944 at Elbow, Nev. when the bridegroom was 16, and the bride was 14.

The state charged that Troutman lured the boy to her home on Oct. 9, 1944, by Mrs. W. F. Cox, mother of Troutman, setting forth that he was under legal age and did not have her consent at the time of his marriage. Annulment proceedings were not completed, and the couple lived together until late March 2, when the information was filed against him.

VICTORY MARKED BY SOLEMN RITE

GOODING, May 11—Gooding's Junior high school auditorium for a thoughtful observance of V-E day.

The general feeling seemed to be of happiness and relief at the close of the war with Germany.

Out of the war with Germany, the program opened with the invocation by the Rev. R. S. Anderson. Playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" preceded the presentation of the colors by members of the Idaho state guard, Robert Craig, Letterman and Frank Lee.

"Prayer of Thanksgiving" was sung by the congregation.

Miss Hazel Painter played piano accompaniment.

Mingled Emotions

The Rev. Gordon Moore gave an address on the "Spirit of Thanksgiving." He said, "With the emotions we are experiencing just how much should we give way to joy on this day.

He also felt the suffering of paroled prisoners who have been thrown in the manifestation of a belief in God, he said.

"One thing we have gained in this war," he said, "is the return to God and the church and the way of Christian living."

Memorial Service

The Rev. E. H. Krammer held a brief memorial service honoring those who gave their lives in the war. He said, "There are too many heartaches today to give way to a jubilation demonstration." Mrs. Helen J. Smith sang "Danny Boy" in memory of "all the Danny Boys who are now living all over the earth."

"War in the Pacific and the Warnings of the Peace" was the subject for Supr. Floyd W. Wilder's address. He pointed out some of the dangers which yet ahead of us as our armies come closer to Tokyo. He said, "We must die in and die for our man for of ours that our boys tell us of."

After this is all over, he said, we must return to our old philosophy of the brotherhood man to salute "Wars evoke courage, obedience and sacrifice. Why can't these capacities be developed into peacetime activities?" challenged Mr. Wilder.

Groups singing of patriotic songs and hymns was led by Mrs. Smith and the program concluded with the singing of "God Bless America."

JAYCEES' MEMBER DRIVE DISCUSSED

Plans for the membership drive now being conducted by the Jaycees were discussed by President Chic Crabtree at a board of directors meeting in the Park hotel Thursday noon. It was announced that all prospective candidates may send in their dues and that membership will then be granted.

Plans for summer activities at the Youth center were also discussed and it was announced that members of the Civil Reserve, under the direction of Alvera White Weir, will sponsor a program of ballet dancing and stunts May 15.

During the roster to be presented in Twin Falls July 4, 5 and 6, Jaycees will handle the grandstand concession.

The resignation tendered by Joe Corey, secretary, was accepted and kept here indefinitely as part of the allied occupation air force.

He indicated that large numbers of Flying Fortresses and Liberators used in bombing Germany would be shifted to the Pacific, where they would be used in the role of "medium bombers," augmenting operations of the ever-increasing fleet of Superfortresses.

DOOLITTLE VISIONS HUGE AIR RAIDS

LONDON, May 11 (AP)—Lieut.-Gen. James H. Doolittle, commander of the U. S. eighth air force who led the first air raid on Tokyo, predicted that 2,000-plane raids would be made on Japan.

"The aim of the American air force operating against Japan will continue to be increased as airfields and communications bases are established," he said.

Doolittle disclosed that the personnel of the eighth air force in England now numbered approximately 200,000 men and women, and that another 100,000 had served on a rotating basis.

He said part of the eighth air force's manpower and equipment would be moved directly to the Pacific and the rest would be sent back to the United States or would be kept here indefinitely as part of the allied occupation air force.

Reich Prisoner Freed, In U. S.

PHILADELPHIA, May 11—(AP)—Donald MacKay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacKay, who was wounded in action in Germany last January, captured by the Nazis and later liberated from a prison camp by American doughboys, has been flown back to the United States and is now a patient at Madigan general hospital, Tacoma, Wash.

He made the trip from Scotland to New York in 24 hours, flying across the United States, he found time to call his parents when the big hospital ship landed at Ogden Monday to refund.

Later from Tacoma he called his mother to tell her that he expected to have a furlough shortly so that he could come home for a visit.

He suffered wounds in the arm and thigh while serving with the Century division of the seventh army.

MacKay was home last September before being shipped overseas in October.

GRADUATES HEAR 1945 CHALLENGE

By VIRGINIA BARRON
Facing the challenge to help keep America "the hope of the world," 173 Twin Falls high school graduates received diplomas here last night in the 27th annual commencement exercises.

Student speakers spoke briefly from a stage on which was projected the 1945 graduation theme, "E Pluribus Unum" (out of many, one). The class marched into the gymnasium to the strains of Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance No. 1" played by the high school band under the direction of Charles L. Haffner. The invocation was presented by the Rev. E. Leslie Rolfs, followed by another band number, "The Crusades Overture" by Schubert.

The first speaker, Patricia Dwyer, highlighted the commencement theme with "E pluribus unum . . . out of many, one is woven into the texture of national life. She also expressed the hopes and ambitions of young Americans everywhere when she stated, "America is a dream unfulfilled."

Chief speakers
At this point the speaking chair, made up of 34 voices, quoted from the declaration of independence: "We hold these truths to be self-evident . . . That all men are created equal . . ."

Lester Quint, the second narrator, gave emphasis to this when he pointed out, "The word ALL has become the most explosive and controversial word in American history." He gave as examples, women suffrage and outstanding educational opportunities, benefiting all the people instead of just a favored few.

Hope of the World
After "Faith of our Fathers" by Henry F. Henry, sung beautifully by the entire class, accompanied by Ella Mae Wessell and Josephine Throckmorton, Kathryn Graves, the third narrator, served as an inspiration to both the class and the audience when she stated, "The American dream goes beyond America; for America is the hope of the future—the hope of the world."

Audrey Smith expressed the belief "the nations of the world must learn to give and take . . . We must have no country, whether it be England, Russia or the United States. We must live up to the motto upon people who are unwilling to accept their responsibilities." John Hood, continuing with that thought, stated "perhaps America is the nation that is able to help others in establishing a world federation; we have the blood of all nations in our veins."

Assignment for Future
This assignment for the future, "We, the youth of the world, are building America! Building tomorrow for generations yet unborn" was made by Roger Wagner.

The series of remarks ended with Vincent Brooks' "Prayer given by Lawrence by Marilyn North." "God is the fire, he pledges our hearts and lives today to the cause of all free mankind . . . not only for the length of this bitter war but for the days to come."

"Bring Love, Sweet Charity" was sung by Robert Diez Hinshaw, accompanied by Frances L. Peterson; "Let Us Forget" also accompanied by Miss Peterson, was sung by the girls' choir; the choir, accompanied by Miss Throckmorton and Miss Wessell, gave a breath-taking arrangement of "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the final musical number was one presented by the band, Diez's "Intermezzo."

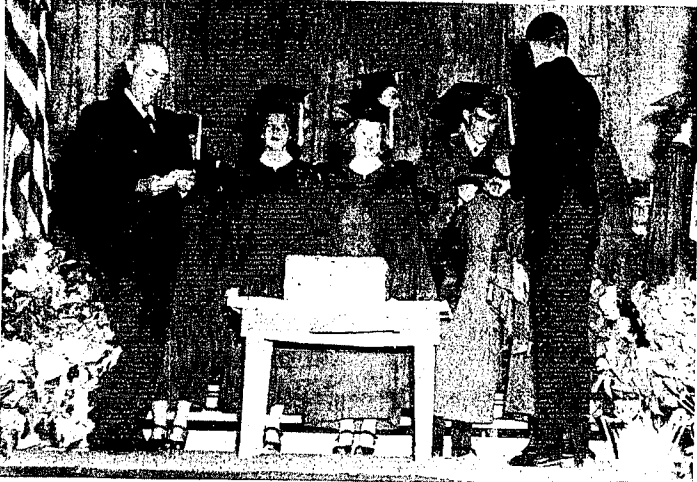

John D. Flatt, high school principal, made the presentation of the class.

Presents Diplomas
Presentation of diplomas was by John H. Breckenridge, chairman of the school board. Through his words the class came to the full realization that they were not being presented with a symbol of the 12 years but being them, but with the years that lie ahead.

"You are assuming grave responsibilities in your country. You are assuming the task of being Americans abroad . . . preserving her industrial power . . . preserving her morale and her morals."

Acceptance of the diplomas on behalf of the class was made by John Hood, president of the class.

JAYCEES SELECT CITIZEN LEADERS

JEROME, May 11—Awards for outstanding service to the community were presented to two Jerome citizens by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening in their third annual community awards dinner at the Woods cafe.

Winners were Mrs. Bert Shimmitt, who has served for the past four years as home service chairman of the Jerome county chapter of the American Red Cross, and the late Paul Study who was given the award posthumously.

He was a member of the city council, active in all city enterprises, a volunteer fireman, member of the Moose lodge and the Senior and Junior Chambers of Commerce. His wife, Mrs. Helen Study, was presented the award in his behalf. Mrs. Shimmitt filed.

In addition to work with the Red Cross, Mrs. Shimmitt was an active church member, past president of the district Legion auxiliary and of the Jerome post of the Legion auxiliary for two years.

The awards, fashioned from sagebrush wood on backgrounds of walnut, were made by Frank Avery. Presentations were made by Dr. Lawrence Rachel, Frank Titus, newly elected Jaycee president, conducted the program.

The Rev. Harvey Harper, pastor of the Jerome Presbyterian church, gave an address on the significance of V-E day and Jay Merrill, president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, discussed city welfare and community service.

Winners of the awards last year were Edith Buchanan, high school teacher, and Walter Hedrick, cattleo, secretary-treasurer.

With seven members present, the meeting was held in the office of Dr. O. M. Garvin, father of the newly-elected president of the association, Dr. Tobin reported.

Convict Who Fell Four Stories In Burley Jail Given Reprieve

BOISE, May 11 (AP)—James Edward Jones, who fell four stories to a concrete walk in an escape attempt from the Burley jail last summer, was reprieved from the Idaho penitentiary today for medical attention. Gov. Charles C. Gossett issued the reprieve order, effective May 15, upon recommendation of the state board of pardons.

Jones received a broken back, broken legs and broken feet when a thin rope broke as he was attempting an escape from the Coeur d'Alene jail, the governor said.

Convicted of first degree burglary and sentenced to 5-20 years in the penitentiary, Jones was being held in the Burley jail awaiting delivery to the state prison.

He was received at the prison July 13, 1944 on a stretcher and has been confined to a wheel chair since.

Robert Eugene Tuggles, 42-year-old inmate of the Idaho penitentiary, had his first food in 10 days tonight after returning voluntarily to the prison from which he escaped May 1.

Warden Louis Clapp said Tuggles returned to the prison "two-thirds starved," after becoming lost in an out woods.

Officers Named By Chiropractors

The state association of chiropractors meeting last Saturday and Sunday in Boise, elected officers for 1945-46, according to Dr. G. R. Tobin, Twin Falls, interim president of the association.

Officers elected were Dr. Harry W. Garwin, Boise, president; Dr. Robert E. Franz, Idaho Falls, vice president; and Dr. A. N. Miller, Pocatello, secretary-treasurer.

With seven members present, the meeting was held in the office of Dr. O. M. Garvin, father of the newly-elected president of the association, Dr. Tobin reported.

VICO MOTOR OIL
100% PARAFFIN

A New and Better MOTOR OIL

LESS CARBON! GREATER ECONOMY!
Fewer added quarts between drains

Our chemists with advanced refining methods have improved the mileage characteristics (less oil required between drains) and further reduced carbon-forming tendencies.

The mileage improvement goes up as high as 12% in the most popular grade. The reduction in carbon means extra pleasure for those extra miles, through the better performance of a clean engine . . . By switching to VICO, you also get protection against sludge, varnish, acid corrosion, and other dangers of faulty lubrication.

That's why it is fortunate at this time when wartime cars need every possible advantage, that we have developed the greatest motor oil advancement in years. This new motor oil has been tried and proved in laboratories and actual performance in thousands of automobiles and in strenuous tests. It marks an epoch as great in the improvement of motor oil as the self-starter was over the old hand crank.

The Gospel of Christ

Room 118 1 Cor. 9:16 Col. 1:8
A MESSAGE TO INSPIRE CHRISTIANITY
J. Lloyd Moyer Box 563, Twin Falls, Ida.

Subject: "WHAT IS A CHRISTIAN?"

Attitude of Mind Concerning the Name: Not a religious name, but a name which is given to those who are brought face to face with that work, and meet their obligations promptly and in the Word of God. They are wearing a name religiously upon the forehead. Notwithstanding, when it is pointed out, they will say, "I am not a Christian, but I am a Christian."

POPULAR OBJECTION OF THOSE WHO WEAR OTHER NAMES
Many in effort to justify their name "Christian" was given in Antioch by the apostle Paul to his early disciples. We beg to call the attention of those people that the word "Christian" was not given by the Greek word "khrēmatizō" to mean to speak as an oracle, to divinely warn to be called or named from a divine source. It was given to those who were named by the inspired writers. The apostle Peter in 1 Peter 4:15 says, "If any man suffer for Christ, let him not be ashamed; but glorify in it, for he shall have the crown of life which God will give to him who overcometh." Or, "I am glorified in you, for you have not denied me, but have confessed me before men."

ORIGIN OF THE NAME CHRISTIAN
In Antioch, we read: "Then they called them Christians, because they first began to be called so in Antioch." And in the words of Paul, "I would to God that not only thou, but also they that have believed with thee, should be so called." Therefore, speak of those who do not have the name, but who do not blaspheme that worthy name by which we are called.

Mat Star to Wrestle Here

FLOYD HANSEN With the headline billed arrangement—Hansen vs. Ralph Mosley and the Green Dragon vs. Brock Lipcomb—for wrestling show at the high school gymnasium next Wednesday night, the Jayces today had turned their attention to ticket sales with Joe Covey leading the committee. Tickets are on sale at the H. and M., Drummick's, Del's, Samuels and Diamond Hardware. The Jay-Crites will have the soda pop and dog concession. All money from the show will be used for juvenile recreation.

ON THE SPORT FRONT These rasbals fellows always have amazed Y. Oldie Sport Scribner because they talk more punishment than the headline enters a fight or whatever you want to label their exhibition. It's not that they are on the side of the war, but that they thrive on it—night after night. They're here now for a second night under the auspices of the Jayces and there's one thing that you, me, you, and you, too, can be assured of—they'll not receive on anything that goes for a thrill. Way back yonder, YONS' N. sport assignment was wrestling and he saw and water about nearly all the great ones—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, Joe Stecher, Jimmy London, Matt Flinn, Sam Peck, Herb DeGline, Don George, and the Angel. It was then he learned that the unwritten law of wrestling was: "If you can't take it you're out of the game." The pudgy one recalls only one wrestler that wouldn't take it and several that just didn't know how without causing the spectators to doubt his authenticity. That had you wouldn't take it, he was a big strapping fellow by the name of Floyd Burdick from Mr. Pat Sholar claim master at the University of Illinois. He'd been on the Big 10 tackle and that conference's No. 1 mauler. He was a natural for the pro game and the promoters spent a lot of time and money trying to educate him in its secretions. He had a few bouts but soon this old ward pudger was reading about him as each of Knox's college. "What happened to Floyd?" the pudgy one inquired of Burdick's former tutor. "Ah, he didn't want to take it and of course we didn't have any use for him," the pudger said. But the wrestling boys who were take it are few and far between. They'll take it and they'll take it, even to leaping from the ring and coming down in this type writer's corner. It was the pudger who once thought was quite the thing. And that's that for now, except Remember your admission fee to Wednesday night's wrestling match may have a lot of pleasant hours this summer for some kid — and YONS knows you'll not throw the kids down.

Pavot out of Race Class

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—Walter M. Jeffords' unbeaten Pavot deflated his bid to start a new winter turkey derby when the barrier is released for the $75,000 three-year-old turf classic at Churchill Downs probably on June 2 or 3. "We announced last fall that he wouldn't be pointed for the derby," said Jeffords as he and trainer Oscar Wright left the track. "I've been out after a brief workout at Belmont park. Even though the derby will be run a month later than usual we are sticking by our decision. In fact, we didn't even enter him." White pointed out that he could have had the 1944 two-year-old champion Pavot for the derby except for the fact that he was a pinto and the colt picked up a pin last month in the Berlin, Md., winter stakes. "That set him back two weeks so we decided not to rush matters and will point him for the Premaux's," the White added. The Premaux's were expected to be run at Pimlico the week after the derby. "After all, the Premaux's is a 2 1/2 mile shorter," said Jeffords. "And it will be easier to get him in shape."

Dempsy Still In Fine Shape

BY WHITNEY MARTIN NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—What kind of a guy is Jack Dempsey, anyway? Well, he's been an ex-champion heavyweight for going on 19 years to date. He's been able to hold a title to a ring with no more preparation than a little more than 90 percent of the current crop of pugilists. The other one per cent is his hair still is thick and let fall though he is fighting with it. His figure is considerably better supported than it was in his fighting days. He is still a well-distributed and doesn't leave him bulky. His coat guard commander's uniform fits him like he was bought into it, and wherever he happens to be he is the focus of all eyes, and all admiration. He moves with the same quick, nervous energy that characterized him in the ring, and his huge paws never come to rest. He talks in a voice a little above the average pitch, and his words come out very rapidly and with a certain pride in his own ability as if each was pushed by the other behind it. His deep brown eyes under heavy brows take on an intense, earnest look as he concentrates to put over his ideas clearly. As his physical director he is coast guard by teachers by example, and to see him in a ring, a matter, a match stick and move about with delicate speed and grace in demonstration of his own skill and technique in rough-and-tumble pugilistic work, you marvel a little and wonder how he does it. He takes to the ring with a little more pride in the work he is doing so well and in the boys he has taught and who have gone out to the fighting fronts and

Nova and Barlund Get off Floor to Box, Which Is Precisely Where We Came in

By HARRY GRAYSON NEA Sports Editor NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—Lion Nova and Gunnar Barlund will clash in a 10-round battle at historic old St. Nicholas arena in midtown Manhattan tonight. Clash is the word you see big hooks bumping nose. Another you might also say splash. Either is likely to stuff rain at any second. Why shop-stump heavyweight can continue on indefinitely is a question that has puzzled sock scientists for generations. It must be that the customer likes to see them fall. A reverse rent machine in ectomorph is always spectacular. Fighting for no reason at all, Nova and Barlund take boxing to its lowest wartime depth. This is also where we came in. Following six rounds of a slow-motion mulling at Madison Square garden, Oct. 3, 1938, Nova, who then held some prouder despite his 2 o'clock feat, knocked out the ancient

Memberships in City Golf Club Increase

The greatest season in the history of Twin Falls golf is in front of the local addicts to the niblick game. That much was indicated yesterday by Fred Stone, popular course master of the Twin Falls municipal golf club, who said that more memberships had been taken out by golfers already this year than had been obtained by the last part of June in any previous year.

Victory Smile?

GEORGE HAYS

Stone said that the increase in membership was from new residents of the locality—"golfer" that I had never seen before." The play has been exceptionally good for the time of year. Stone said after revealing that he had been even making plans for the tournament season. He said that he expected to announce the dates for the golf ball tournament, the first to be held in this section, by next Monday. He expects an entry in this event larger than the one last season.

Winn Planning for Running of Derby

CHICAGO, May 11 (AP)—The date for the 74th running of the Kentucky derby will be announced at Louisville Saturday, Col. THE AMERICAN HOUSE

XIV
By the middle of October the following were from the birds nests and birds. In fact the birds nests here. The burdock withered, and the milkweed started to be little bunches of white. Except for one long, green line of morning glories, the growth along the shore was slow and stunted. Lobster pots toppled above the high-water mark. Ducks were drawn up and turned over, power boats crashed and hoisted. Every morning there was a thin shell of ice in the pond above the dam.

In November it grew steadily colder. My father had promised that we would be home by Christmas, but he had never seen the exact day. If he put us off by staying, "I'm tired out in good time." Though we were impatient, we were not apprehensive, for we know that there was almost enough money on hand to pay the note.

The cold kept up until the end of November. Still there was no snow. My father was getting worried, for the rats in the road were hard on the wheels. They lostered the body bolts and raked the wheels. A haul early in December only made the situation worse than ever, for at noon there was mud to come and mud at morning. The children repeated with me, "I don't like it." On the twelfth, just as the Christmas snow was beginning to melt, a truck that meant only one thing to a new wagon. It would cost $12.

My mother decided to tell us, but she couldn't put it off, for we were making her daily. She had no other gifts to make our things. That night she had to take the medicine when we were playing P. "Girls," she said, "we won't be going home after all. We have our tree here in the corner."

At the end of January we over the best. Profit from the single had become very small. People didn't travel now unless they had to, and those who had never transported their own belongings to keep them from freezing on the road. I didn't help our feelings any to discover that my father's car for the winter had been $500 lower than that of his closest competitor.

We girls were having our winter vacation, a long one in our village, and for us already becoming dull. The excitement of the winter had worn away under the routine of filling wood boxes and watching the arrows of the furnace gauge. I saw that the fire did not become too hot. It was not so warm in the American House as it had been in school. You wore a sweater all day, and your feet began to burn as soon as you stopped moving. There were very few transients. Except for my father got as payment from his patients, we would have been operating at a loss.

Mr. Culler had been growing lazier and lazier. He never swept the place or shoveled the snow from the sidewalk without being reminded. One after day he let the clock run down. His naps grew longer. When he was awake he sat on his stool drawing his briefs or handling some of the bright new Lincoln pennies. Sometimes he picked them up in his fingers, and sometimes he dropped them. He kept harping, too, on Mr. Culler. His laziness, his extravagance, his appetite. The master of the lamp plagued her terribly. She didn't say much about that, but she kept her eyes open.

One afternoon she came hurrying down to the kitchen where my mother was frosting and listening to my complaints about how drab the days were.
"I've found out," she gasped.
"Brightened, for her face suggested an outbreak."
"Found out what?"
"What he does with it." He, spoken so emphatically, could mean just one person at all. Mrs. Guphill was concerned.
"Does what with it?"
"The keroseene."
"Oh, my mother had never begrudged Mrs. Culler his keroseene. His extravagance was the last thing she held against him. We girls and never given it a thought. "Well, what does he do with it?"
Mrs. Guphill's face took on an expression of disgust. "He uses it to soak his hands in."
From Mrs. Guphill's manner, my mother, too, must have been expecting something more. "Well," she said coolly, "that's probably the way he keeps them so nice and white."
Mrs. Guphill's face took on an expression of disgust. "He uses it to soak his hands in."
"If you ask me, I think something should be done about it," she said indignantly. Then she left and went back to her work.
I felt quite late down. Still it was a story.
"Mrs. Guphill going to tell Papa?" I asked my mother.
She raised her head. "If my father had not been moved by the discord Mrs. Culler was causing, he was unlikely to be impressed by the fact that she soaked his hands in keroseene. Besides, she had her pride. For some reason my father could not dislodge Mrs. Culler. If he did not care to dislodge her, she could not ask it. She would not even bring the subject up."
"The salt all I intend to say," she told me.

DECLO

Mrs. Lee A. Wright, Boise, is here visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harley Mayers, and family. Mrs. Mary Hawkins has returned home from Denver, Colo., where she lives.
Helen and Archie Jones were in Declo.
Mrs. I. M. Cole left for Teton. She and her daughter, Mrs. M. A. Smith, and granddaughter, Mrs. M. A. Smith, who have spent several months visiting in Declo. Mrs. Ainslie will make her home in Declo. Mrs. Cole will visit for some time and then return to her home in Declo.

Mr. Culler had been growing lazier and lazier. He never swept the place or shoveled the snow from the sidewalk without being reminded. One after day he let the clock run down. His naps grew longer.
