CONGRESS BENT ON TAX-CUTTING

WASHINGTON, May 16 (UP)—President Truman's rejection of proposals for immediate reduction in taxes today left congressional circles still determined to press for a five-year program to ease the tax burden on individuals and corporations.

A congressional committee on taxation proposed the program, including immediate refund of an estimated $500,000,000 to corporations under a clause in the excess profits law authorizing a 10 per cent refund in excess profits taxes.

Senator Walter George, D., Ga., told reporters he also favored reduction in individual income taxes at the earliest possible date even if the Japanese war lasts another year or two.

George said he had "no wish to enter into a controversy with the President." At the same time he said an "economic note" would follow the end of the war if the government had a prompt tax-reduction program ready to go when the military phase is over.

He said he thought the government should afford to permit the refund to corporations and added he considered it necessary if business firms are to be encouraged to convert to peacetime production.

George said it was all right to talk about the military phase but economic necessity doesn't wait. Truman said taxes could not be reduced until the end of the Japanese war because the United States has obligations which must be maintained. One of them he pointed out is the fact that 85,000,000 people are in camps. These bonds must be protected, the President said.

"MR. MONEYBAGS" TOO MUCH TO DO

By FREDERICK C. OTTMAN
WASHINGTON, May 16 (UP)—The time has come to tell you something about the biggest business man in Idaho.

When you order shoes he buys 200,000,000 worth. He operates 920 factories in 46 states and breeds so many corporations he is fixing a list so the senate can learn which does what. He's the man who, all right, John W. Snyder, federal loan administrator, who took Jesse Jett's place as Mr. Moneybags.

He turned up before the senate banking committee to recommend doing away with a few of his corporations and absorbing their duties by his biggest holding company, the reconstruction finance corporation.

He told the senators how some of the money's been spent. Jotting down millions and billions in figures is confuting to me: if you don't mind I'll spell out some of the loan administrator transactions: His defense plant corporation, one of the outfit he wants to fold up, owns seven billion dollars worth of factories scattered all over the land. These include, for couple of things, 57 synthetic rubber factories and 177 synthetic rubber plants.

So far his defense supplies corporation has bought nearly three billion dollars worth of aviation gasoline, plus war materials. His metals recovery corporation had to buy up a stockpile of some metals for war and ran smack-dab into the OPA's price ceiling. The OPA didn't give the M-R corporation any special break and so far has had better success with its price ceiling.

Most of this, Mr. Snyder said, cost more than the OPA would let him charge for it.

For the record, Sen. Robert F. Wagner has introduced a bill doing away with the defense plant corporation, the metals reserve company, the rubber reserve company, and the disaster loan corporation. Biggest businessman Snyder thinks it a good idea.

15 Fathers of 287 Children in Prison

GALT LAKE CITY, May 16 (UP)—Fifteen male polygamists, with a combined total of 83 wives and 287 children, today began prison terms ranging from one to five years.

They filed through the gates of Utah state prison after Judge Allen Crockett denied a writ of habeas corpus from sentences imposed by the court. His ruling brought to an end the defendants' 14 months-long appeal from conviction on charges of illegal cohabitation.

"We accept this decision as final," Joseph White Muser, editor of the fundamentalist publication "Truth" and acknowledged leader of the sect, said. "But this does not mean that we surrender our religious principles." He quoted from the Bible: "Be fruitful and multiply, and a nation and company of nations shall be of thee."

Russell Jensen, father of merchant, died in the and dine stores and pointed out the difficulty in training personnel during war times.

Head critic of the evening was Hugh Phillips, assisted by John Paulsen, Calvin Love and Kenneth Kall.

Plans for the district speaking tour to be held here June 1 through 10, 1945, were discussed and it was announced that three persons outside the club will be asked to serve as judges. These will be either lawyers or other expert speakers. Dr. Gordon Tabin, deputy district governor, will serve as chief critic.

BOYD ASH, secretary of the Twin Falls club will be John D. Platt, O. J. Bohne, Robert Summerfield and Graydon Smith.

Order call now at Warberg's, Adv.

CHOCOLATE DROP? NO, NEVER AGAIN!

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—The following dispatch by Tim Lerner, Columbia Broadcasting System correspondent, was distributed by CBS:

ABOARD FLAGSHIP OFF OKLAHOMA, May 15—There are many Americans who will never see another chocolate drop without knowing almost in the center of our southern front stands a hill known as Chocolate Drop, so-called because of its original color.

Now, it has almost changed its color to blood red.

For six days we have fought for this 130-foot mound and three lines have been thrown off, even as it seemed we might take it. In one six-hour period, we threw 30,000 rounds of artillery into the narrow confines, and ships off shore and planes overhead started to cover with their loads of shells.

In five days we managed to advance four hundred yards against so carefully hidden that they couldn't be seen from 25 yards away, chopped our men down in dangerous numbers. Almost 500 separate mines were staked over, and one dynamite mine was used to close the opening.

One unit suffered 40 per cent casualties. Jews and Americans were at times so close to each other they tossed grenades back and forth like baseballs. And even though the respect to kill thousands of Jews dead, when we finally take it, Chocolate Drop has still not been officially declared ours.

The drive into Naha proper from the outskirts seemed to almost less than a holding action as the natives fought off a Jap infiltration on the left flank, we have managed to get two companies on Conical hill, the high peak guarding the approaches to Yamahari. Although we have gained the summit of Conical, much fire still comes from the Japs on the reverse slope. Today's battle raged in under the yams of these Japs, and until they are eliminated, the strip can't be occupied, despite previous reports to the contrary.

LEGION SUPPORTS ARMS TRAINING

Voicing a belief that bills sponsored by the American Legion to make military training compulsory would be coming in for a lot of misunderstanding competition from so-called pacifist groups, J. G. Thorpe, commander of the local post of the American Legion, stated yesterday that local Legion members are automatically in accord with the planned fight ahead and will support the measure every inch of the way.

Thorpe, following a regular monthly meeting of the local post, held in the Legion hall, stated that members in attendance last night "clashed our significant current efforts to contrast the Legion's efforts both in congress and the senate to stoppage the bills now in progress."

UNDERGROUND IN NORWAY EXPERT

OSLO, May 16 (AP)—If you lived in Oslo, the chances are you wouldn't have known your next door neighbor during four of the past five years of German occupation. You might have known him as Ned Nelson—the way he signed his checks. But you wouldn't have known his underground or "cover" name was Gustav Jensen.

Anonymity has been the secret of the Norwegian underground or home front ever though it is Oslo. Leaders still prefer to remain anonymous even though the threat of German retaliation has virtually disappeared.

"We were working for country—not for ourselves," two undergrounders explained. "We want no personal credit."

Altogether an estimated 2,000 undergrounders lost their lives. Between 200 and 400 are known to have suffered the German death penalty and at least another 1,000 died in German prison camps. Several hundred others were wounded.

This count still is not complete, because underground agents never knew what agent did was doing—and that's how the Norwegians beat the Gestapo.

One underground editor estimated it would take a year or more for most undergrounders to discover the identity of those with whom they worked.

"We all worked in small links of about five men and women each," he said. "Only one person from each link was permitted to contact one person from another link."

"That way each underground worker knew only five or six other workers at most—all by assumed names. Often we met in garrets or cellars and those who contacted other links would wear masks to keep their identity secret."

He's First, but No Surprise, in War Loan No. 7

JEROME, May 15—Guy F. Sturgeon is probably the most consistent bond purchaser in the Magic Valley—he always seems to get there first.

When the seventh war loan drive opened in Jerome county Monday, Mr. Sturgeon was first purchaser for an E bond. He held down $750 for an $1,000 bond.

Looking back over his record it was found that he had been the first bond purchaser in every drive during this war—all seven of them.

And in addition the prominent rancher had a clipping in his hand from the Times-Herald of March, 1918, it stated that he was the first southern Idaho subscriber to the Victory Loan in 1918. He was also among the first in the Liberty Loans.

Before coming to Idaho, he resided in Chicago.

He was a veteran with the U. S. navy in the war with Spain in 1898, during which time he served as electrical machinist.

Party Conducted Night Club Style

General membership of the Twin Falls Youth center was entertained Tuesday evening in a night club party sponsored by the Girl Reserve. Assisted by the Jaycees who turned out as string waiters. The Jaycees in addition served drinks from zombies and black widows to the top hat special, all of which was mixed from a special recipe kept behind the coke bar.

In keeping with the theme, "Top Hat," the center was decorated in black and white paper streamers and in large black top hat suspended from the center of the room. A race arbiter was straggled over the entrance.

Music was furnished by Al Morgan and Hope Blaser, accompanied by Harry Walters, at the piano. A group of tapdancers also contributed to the floor show.

Singing waiters included Earl Rickford, Robert Crumhorn and Charles Siber. Serving at the bar were under the direction of Mrs. R. E. Reed and the Girl Reserves.

Smooth Sailing

A railroad's roadbed has a lot to do with travel comfort. A well-built roadbed does away with annoying, sleep-disturbing bumps... like a boat breasting a choppy sea. It gives you "smooth sailing."

Thus, even the ballast used on the railroad's roadbed plays its part in the efficient, round-the-clock transportation of troops and essential battle-line freight over Union Pacific's Strategic Middle Route, uniting the East with the Pacific Coast.

Future "smooth sailing" over life's highway

can be assured by holding tight to the war bonds we now have... and, as an extra measure of economic protection, buying as many more as we can possibly afford.

Twin Falls County Helps Feed Our Hungry Allies

This official U. S. Army photograph released by the Office of War Information shows refugees eating their noon meal in a courtyard somewhere in France.

The Sego Milk that goes to the undernourished people of liberated countries—and to our men overseas—means more to them than any of us here at home can ever know.

Milk is the kind of food that helps give them the strength and endurance to keep going and evaporated milk is the PRINCIPAL form of milk that can be had.

But you people of Twin Falls County know this. Thanks to the dairy farmers and to the loyal workers in the Sego Milk plant, last year more than a quarter of a million cases of Sego Milk were shipped from Twin Falls County to the Army and Navy and to Lend-Lease. That's a large portion of all the Sego Milk produced in the Buhl plant in 1944.

This year, the Government is asking for even greater milk production. There are more hungry and starving Allies to feed. If the weather is favorable, there'll be plenty of milk coming in from the farms. But more men will be needed in the plant to process the milk, if we are going to keep faith with our gallant sons.

IF YOU CAN TAKE PART IN THIS ESSENTIAL WAR WORK, SEE OR CALL BEN BENSON AT THE SEGO MILK PLANT IN BUHL. THIS PLANT HAS BEEN DECLARED A CRITICAL WAR INDUSTRY BY THE WAR MANPOWER COMMISSION.

$150 FEE SOUGHT IN NON-JURY CASE

A bill of $150 for professional services administered by Dr. Joseph W. May to the late Joe Brady, who died Dec. 7, 1941, following an automobile accident March 20, 1941, has been filed in civil case No. 10,000, which was tried without jury before Judge C. W. Carter Wednesday in district court.

It was an appeal from a probate court decision awarding the plaintiff, Professional Adjustment Corporation, $100 for professional services, $25.00 interest from Dec. 1, 1941, and $23.85 from William I. Dunnington, deceased, as executor of the estate of the late Joe Brady.

By stipulation of the attorney, J. H. Barnes and Frank L. Stephens for the defendant, the case was set for trial for the defendant, the jury was waived and the case submitted to the court for decision.

The plaintiff contends that the executor of the estate of the late Joe Brady was riding in the time she was fatally injured, "promoted" all expenses involved in her care. Mrs. Brady was the fiancée of Dunnington's son, it was brought out in the testimony.

Dr. Marshall, one of the physicians who attended Miss Brady at the time she was fatally injured, testified in support of the plaintiff's allegation.

Other witnesses called by attorneys for the plaintiff were Harry Smith, manager of the Professional Adjustment Corporation; Juanita McKenna, Miss Brady's nurse; and members of the Twin Falls county general hospital nursing staff.

Both sides in this case rested shortly before noon, but the plaintiff moved to reopen the case at 2 p. m. recalling Mrs. Wake to the stand prior to the presentation of oral arguments by counsel.

Members of the jury panel were excused until Monday, May 21, when the damage suit of Nellie Grayson against John Blatch, Jr., will open.

Earl E. Walker is attorney for the plaintiff, and the defendant is represented by Perry and Thomas.

Dry Food Called Real War "Baby"

The future of dehydrated food was given in a humorous and prophetic talk by Graydon Smith, Twin Falls attorney, at the Wednesday noon luncheon of the Lions club in the Park hotel.

Smith, a member of the club, said that, in his opinion, and in the opinion of a number of other persons, with whom he has corresponded, dehydrated food should be called "a war baby."

Struggles of Civil War Told In Letter by Jackson's Nephew

The Civil war sounds pretty slow by-passed and drabby, in contrast to the speed-up and super-activity of mechanized World War II. Capturing a couple of flat boats, one loaded with lime and the other with hoop poles, wouldn't seem like much of a "battle" spree to an American sailor, marine or coast guard man of today.

But in 1861 to me an event worth writing home about, J. V. Lacey of Lacey's Upholstery company here, has in his possession a letter written by the late Mrs. Joseph Lacey, the great-great-uncle, a member of the 8th Illinois regiment, in which he tells something of the war before the states.

The tempo of the entire letter, the filled-up expressions characteristic of letter-writing of that period in American history, and interesting in contrast to the machine-gun rapid, slangy, expressive letters being milled out by servicemen of 1945.

Author of the letter, Major Lacey, was a nephew of the famous American general, Andrew "Stonewall" Jackson, seventh President of the United States. Major Lacey was in military service for 20 years.

Tells of Camp The letter, written at Camp DeWitt, Cairo, Ill., Aug. 13, 1861, begins: "Dear Sir, I do with love and respect that I take my pen in hand to inform you that I am well at this time and I hope to hear the same from you soon."

He tells his male relative that the camp is located at Cairo, between the Mississippi and Ohio rivers, and that "we have about 20,000 men here in sight of each other. The talk is sometimes that we will have to go down to Memphis in Tennessee, but

AN OUTSTANDING DEMONSTRATION Of Magic Valley Women's Intense Reader Interest in the TIMES-NEWS

16,348 PATTERN OFFERS IN 2 YEARS

2,787 Orders in the First 3 Months of 1945

Reproduced herewith is a letter just received from King Features Syndicate, Inc., from which the Times-News secures its popular MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN SERVICE. This letter tells a whole of a story about the reader interest in the Times-News, particularly among the women of Magic Valley—a story which should be especially significant to every newspaper advertiser in south central Idaho.

As this letter from King Features Syndicate points out, the Times-News record for pattern sales is "substantially above what is considered normally good response" and the record for the first three months of this year "reflects the increasing reader interest."

The fact that the Times-News has the largest circulation in the United States for any newspaper published in a city of comparable size is proof in itself that the newspaper holds tremendous reader interest.

That's why the Times-News is the outstanding advertising medium by far in Magic Valley. It gets results and results are what count.

Dear Sirs:

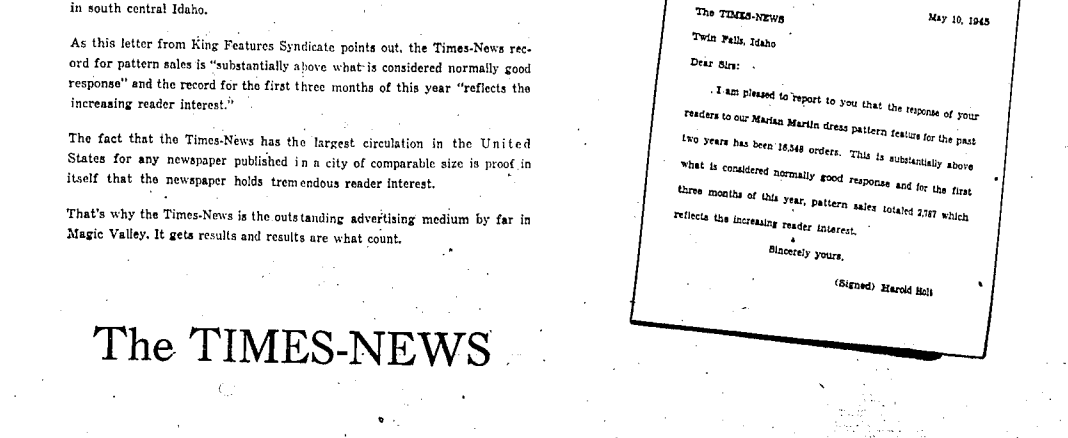

I am pleased to report to you that the response of your readers to our Marian Martin dress pattern feature for the past two years has been 16,348 orders. This is substantially above what is considered normally good response and for the first three months of this year, pattern sales totaled 2,787 which reflects the increasing reader interest.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) Harold Holt

Care of Your Children

By ANGEL PATRI

Children are the first concern of their parents and as teachers take over where the parents leave off for the best hours of the day, the children become the chief concern of their teachers for the length of the school day and afterward. School boards are usually composed of men because they are still chiefly concerned with the politics of the situation. They took their places in the days when administrators were permitted a voice in the affairs of the community and still cling tenaciously to them. That leaves the children's concerns in the hands of the teachers and mothers.

Mothers and parents, we will include the fathers because they belong even though they seem disinclined to believe it, get together and serve the children they will not be served. We shall continue to have the dull rounded school, old style books and not enough of them, scant materials and rigid programs. There will be no money to pay teachers adequately, there will be dirty school toilets, dirty walls, ill-kept playgrounds, and no provision made for the hundreds of children who cannot go home for them. The buses will still be leftovers and the drivers men who know somebody on the board but know nothing of children.

Many years ago I learned that if school children were to get schooling they needed it would have to come through the drive and the vote of those children's teachers and parents. P. T. A.'s are not vital forces in the schools and no school can be without one and prosper.

THE AMERICAN HOUSE

XVIII
 "Eunice Sawyer was in the kitchen when Julia and I came down on Friday morning. She looked as large as ever, but she moved, we noticed, with real grace. 'Will you have Patricia or Cream of Wheat?' she asked us quietly. This was something Mrs. Ouphill always decided for us."
 "The door opened and she glanced up nervously. It was Betty with the milk. When she gave us our cereal, we saw that it was Cream of Wheat."
 "We looked at each other wily. All that day I kept speculating. Suppose they met and found they were very calm? Would he say 'How are you?' or would they still be mad? Maybe they wouldn't speak at all. Or maybe he would come right out and blame her for the past. 'It'd be a different man today if you'd stood by me.'"

"I went to school I went into the cellar where Julia was sitting, eating a doughnut. 'Wouldn't you like to know?' she said. I didn't need to ask her what she meant. I knew. 'Of course,' I might just happen to come down to the kitchen. That night she chattered a good spot on the stairs and wailed. Once her work was done, Eunice Sawyer was very uneasy. She had her hat and coat on before her husband drove into the yard. We went to bed very disappointed. It was cold the first day and Mrs. Ouphill took on terribly. Things had come to a pretty pass, she said, when you couldn't keep warm in bed. Every time someone went up to her room her hot water bottles were a long list of reminders ready. She used to come down there every night. She knew everything was bedlam. "Wasn't it a shock the drivers were lined with Bopit cakes, apple and Boston cream pies. The boys were drinking their hot water. The potatoes were sliced, the fish boned and ready for chowder. At 3:30 I called and I found Eunice Sawyer sitting by the table, her hands folded. "She's upstairs and rest in the parlor," Julia urged. There was just a possibility that Mr. Tapley might have come home early from the store. "I'm comfortable here."
 "It's hot almost again." I put in that she was deterring.
 "We had almost given up hope when we went into the cellar. 'Maybe he'll be down there tonight,' Julia suggested. I shook my head. There wasn't much hope. "I could make him," Julia boasted. "I thought a minute. 'I could tell him there was some Boston cream pie left.' Mr. Tapley has a weakness for pie. It was a real inspiration. The dinner was a great success. The Odd Fellows were so pleased that they called my father into the dining room, where he made a speech, taking full credit for everything. It was a 6 o'clock before the hot dish was wiped and put away. Then Sue and Ada rushed over to the hall, where the Rebekehs were giving a social. My mother went upstairs to see Mrs. Ouphill settled for the night. Eunice Sawyer was alone in the kitchen. Her husband would be coming soon. We would have to hurry. "You stay right here in the serving room," Julia told me. "With the kitchen door open. He'll go down through the cellar. He always does." She started for the office. I could hear her things together. The snap of her rubbers over her heels. Her recumbent, heavier she straightened. The click of her coat button against the table. A little whispering sound as she drew on tier gloves. "I don't know before I heard Mr. Tapley coming down the office

WAR MATERIAL TO ORIENT SPEEDILY

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Paris, May 15 (AP) — All war material in Europe will no longer be needed in Europe, will be transferred to the Pacific theater as quickly as possible, it is being shipped directly, Brig. Gen. Morris W. Gilland, deputy chief of staff for the European theater of operations, disclosed today. Calling this theater a major base for the Pacific, Gilland outlined a broad program of redeployment of equipment, material and supplies which his organization must handle while still supporting troops remaining on the continent. Troops going directly to the Pacific will take all their equipment with them, Gilland said. Those going to the United States will carry only their maximum essential equipment, leaving the rest behind to be serviced and then sent directly to the Pacific. The end of the war in Europe found the American armies with more than 5,500,000 tons of supplies on the continent. This included 500,000 tons of ammunition and more than a million separate items ranging from locomotives to match repair tools. American armies in Europe have roughly 3,000,000 small arms, 11,000 medium and light artillery pieces, 200,000 automatic weapons and mortars, 65,000 combat vehicles and 371,000 general purpose and special purpose vehicles among other equipment. It was disclosed for the first time.
