Nips Admit Yanks Win On Okinawa

GUAM, June 7 (UP)—Waves of American planes today bombed and strafed the 25-square-mile dead pocket on the southern tip of Okinawa where the last Japanese defenders are trapped, as Tokyo conceded final defeat is in sight on the island.

Land based tactical bombers, apparently scoring a lucky hit on an ammunition dump, blew up the side of a mountain at the edge of the rocky Yagyu-Duke plateau where enemy forces were making their last stand.

The Japanese, with no line of retreat except into the sea, face annihilation.

Nagasaki, the greatest prize of this campaign, has been captured by American troops. Tokyo said Okinawa's plight is due in part to the effectiveness of American rocket ships and planes in preventing Japanese suicide aircraft from crashing into American warships off the island.

However, the Japanese continued to throw the suicide aircraft recklessly against the fleet in an effort to delay as long as possible an American invasion of Japan itself.

Some 2,500 tons of fire and demolition bombs today in a second big raid in a week on Okinawa, Japan's greatest industrial city.

The broadcast hinted that the air war over Japan had entered a new phase with the completion of

Store Interior Guttured by City's Worst Fire

Firemen fought their way through the smoke-filled and merchandise-charred interior of the C. C. Anderson department store here for two hours early today before bringing under control and finally extinguishing a blaze that caused damage estimated by a firm official at $300,000. ### Worst City Blaze Hits Anderson's

The most expensive fire in Twin Falls history gutted the C. C. Anderson department store building shortly before dawn today, causing a loss estimated by J. L. Cahill, assistant manager, at $300,000.

Van Engelen's store, adjoining the Anderson building, suffered heavy smoke and some water damage. It was forced to close its doors today.

Firemen poured tons of water into the smoke filled Anderson building before bringing the smouldering blaze under control.

Only the fact that the flames lacked oxygen kept the blaze from spreading throughout the block, W. W. Thomas, fire commissioner, said.

Fire Chief L. Z. Bartlett said that the blaze started in the rear of the store, apparently from faulty wiring. Cahill told the fire chief and Police Chief Howard Gillette that the store had experienced some trouble recently with the wiring in that section of the building, and had employed an electrician to have the matter corrected.

The blaze was discovered by Les Farham, night clerk of the Regerson hotel, who called the fire department and called the fire department after noticing smoke pouring from the building at 5:05 a. m.

The fire department arrived for more than two hours before fully bringing it under control. Some of the fire fighters were so weak to escape the heavy smoke fumes as they carried hose lines into the front and side of the building.

Others who failed to use the mask gear today, suffered from fresh air after a few minutes in the structure.

YANKS SET FOR NIPPON PAYOFF

WASHINGTON, June 7 (UP)—Conquest of Okinawa winds up the arduous island hopping that started with invasion of Guadalcanal in 1942.

Next American move in the Pacific will be the payoff.

With capture of the Philippines, Marianas, Okinawa and two JMWs, American forces must be based from which they can mount a major thrust against either China or Japanese home islands.

Some minor island still may be seized to provide air strips, but the big job of winning the Pacific masses necessary as staging areas for the invasion air fleets and ground troops is over.

Just which way the next blow may fall is not clear. The Japanese are still in a quandary as to whether to have their money on both sides of the line.

On one hand, they talk of an imminent invasion of the home islands and of their own preparations of underground defenses to meet the invaders. On the other, they appear to be shifting part of their forces from south China to apparently getting braced for a showdown in the north. Strategic forces, however, still hold the important ports of Hong Kong and Swatow and Hainan in French Indochina.

Mexican Field Hands Strike for 80-Cents Per Hour; Work Halts

By BEN MENDEZZA

Some 300 Mexican farm hands, reportedly disgruntled because they have not obtained an hourly wage increase from the present 60-cent level to 80 cents, walked today at the Twin Falls labor camp and finally refused to work.

Their aidmen prevented others of their kind from working in the best fields.

Yesterday only 28 Mexicans could get on the job because the strikers refused to work. Those who did work, and in some cases threatened them. The strikers, lying in semi-bush yesterday at the camp gates, stopped cars filled with sending workers by the same expedient of throwing themselves on the ground in front of the cars and trucks.

None went to work today. E. M. Goss, placement officer, said.

Deputy sheriff reported at the camp this morning to keep the roads clear. Guest said the striking Mexicans were "hated."

None of the workers demanding relief and lend-lease meat and other necessities for their families during July, August and September to get more of the available meat into scantly areas.

Actually there will not be much, if any, more meat for civilians from the overall point of view this summer.

CROPS IN IDAHO LOOKING UP WELL

BOISE, June 7 (UP)—Higher temperatures and less frequent showers have permitted much-needed thinning of sugar beets in southern Idaho this last week. Hoto Moto, a B. H. Jones reported today in his weekly weather summary. An extension of hay has begun in southwestern Idaho.

The feed crop program is nearly ready to pick through some past weevil) is reported. Local strawberry, four miles west of and early cherries are beginning to ripen.

The Idaho index of prices received by farmers for their products was 206 in May, or one point less than for the previous month, the bureau of agricultural economics reported today.

The feed crop program was up two points caused by the 10-cent per ton increase for all hay and alfalfa.

Lamb was off 50 cents a hundred. Chickens were up one cent a pound. Eggs were down 14 cents a dozen. Beef cattle were up 10 cents a hundred and milk wholesale was down five cents a hundred pounds.

Japs Doped

NAHA, Okinawa, June 7 (UP)—Japanese military forces on Okinawa were heavy users of narcotics and may have "thus been" heavily doped, according to a report from the island, two Navy doctors said today.

"They were Lieuts. (L.) Frank Xavier Dwyer, Knoxville City, Mo., and John S. Schneider, Minneapolis.

"The Japanese were heavy users of morphine, heroin, and other drugs," said Dwyer. "We've found very few medical supplies—the Japanese apparently had almost no hospitals or aid stations—but those supplies we have found, mostly in caves, consisted principally of sterile stocks of morphine, opium, heroin and cocaine."

JAP ARMY ASKS JUDICIAL STAND

SAO FRANCISCO, June 7 (UP)—The army has called on the Japanese government to take a judicial stand in defense of the empire against American invaders, radio Tokyo reported today.

In a 20-page "people's handbook" the Japanese army has exhorted the "100,000,000 people" of the home islands to "become suicide units" and to cooperate with the landings, "thus defending the empire to the last," a broadcast quoted the news agency said.

A week ago, Vice-Adm. Daniel E. Darby, commander of the seventh fleet, announced to the army commander of the seventh fleet, a veteran of 52 amphibious landings, that the Japanese, based at his headquarters on Luzon that Japan would commit a suicide kamikaze if her leaders persist in the war.

France Invites 4 Powers to Confer

PARIS, June 7 (UP)—France has invited other members of the big five to participate in a conference on the middle east.

French emissaries in Washington, London, Moscow and Chungking were instructed to present the invitation, the statement said. France's reasons for calling the conference.

This will require formal answers from the other countries. Prime Minister Churchill, at odds with General De Gaulle in a conference, would discuss a five-power conference would cause great delay and require careful consideration on many grounds. He sought immediate mediation by the United States, Britain and France.

More Home Meat, But Less for Cafes

WASHINGTON, June 7 (UP)—More meat for the average American home this summer was seen today as OPA slashed hotel and restaurant rations for July and August.

The OPA's action included cuts of 20 per cent in their share of restaurant meat allotments, 12-15 per cent in hotel and restaurant fruit and vegetables and 20-25 per cent cut in sugar.

The meat cut for eating places tender, the civilian allocation for the third quarter is about the same as that for the second quarter. The banning of shipments abroad means so much that extra meat will go to Americans but that they won't have to suffer a further reduction and other source foods.

The meat cut for eating places tender in with other government moves to relieve the acute shortage of civilian meat supplies and, incidentally, halt growing criticism of government food handling.

Chief officer actions were banning of relief and lend-lease meat and other necessities for their families during July, August and September to get more of the available meat into scantly areas.

Chief Bluefeather Picks Roz and Rita

HOLLYWOOD, June 7 (UP)—Big Chief Bluefeather, who says he's a "village 102," came to town today, looked around and said if he could have his choice he'd pick Rita Hayward and Roz Russell as his new wives.

He found himself with some free time and decided to check the babes around town.

"I've met hundreds of the beautiful screen stars," Bluefeather said, "and I studied them all very carefully. But I think Miss Hayward and Miss Russell are the most beautiful of the two things we Indians look for in women."

RUSS AT PARLEY NOTES HOSTILITY

By United Press
A dispatch in the Soviet government newspaper Ivestia said today that there were no hysterical outbursts in Russia about American preparations for a third world war.

Yet anti-Soviet propaganda is read and heard in the United States, said the dispatch, written by Y. E. Zhukov, who has been covering the San Francisco conference for Ivestia.

The dispatch was broadcast by the Moscow radio and recorded by the FCC.

Zhukov said the propaganda against Russia in the United States "poisons the atmosphere, puts the man-in-the-street off his balance and gives rise to a lack of understanding."

CHURCHILL SURPRISES MOSCOW, June 7 (U.P.)—Prime Minister Churchill's attack on socialism was published in the Russian press today and took Soviet readers by surprise.

Ivestia said the British press already had noted a striking change in Churchill's words following victory in Europe.

The Soviet accounts of Churchill's election campaign broadcast Monday night included his assertion that socialism was closely intertwined with "totalitarian ideas and disgusting degradation of the state."

This is the Situation on New Electric Appliances

For nearly four years, electric appliances have been made only for the armed services and for war workers' housing. A few now are coming on the market. In the next few months, there will be enough to meet critical civilian needs.

Electric Ranges and Floor Lamps were among the first to be authorized for manufacture. Electric Water Heaters are now available in some localities, but under restricted sale conditions. Some Washing Machines may be in stock by next Fall. Refrigerators are still scarcest of all large appliances, and probably will not be on the market until next year.

Most of these are pre-war, 1941 models. The new designs and models won't be out until—well, we hesitate to predict but it will be at least late 1946 before you can buy many of them.

So—it's still very wise to take good care of what you have, to call a service man before small troubles become major breakdowns. Until the war in the Pacific is nearer won, we'll all have to do with what we have.

REDS FORESEEN FIGHTING JAPS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the questions most often asked is whether Russia is going to join in erasing the brigades of the Red.

This is not easy to answer since there has been no official pronouncement. Stalin has been emphasizing his nickname of "the sphinx" by playing cards close to his chest. Any guess as to whether Russia will join in the fight must be based on logic and significant trends.

On both counts, as I see it, the probabilities are the Muscovites will come into the war.

When Well, the bulk of their fighting strength in all categories is superior. Russia, we must allow time for the shifting of much of this strength to far-off Siberia—Russian undertaking, which will be several months before Moscow felt sufficiently well—perhaps into summer or autumn.

Looking at the thing purely from the standpoint of self-interest, it's to the advantage of the Soviet union not only to see nippon knocked out but to have a hand in the job.

Supper Held for Victory Workers

HEBERT, June 7.—With the closing of the Victory store here, which was opened in 1943 through the efforts of Mrs. R. D. Armstrong, assisted by several earnest helpers, a covered supper was given at the Christian church annex for all who had contributed their work during the past year.

The scope of the work is reflected by the $4000 in contributions which went to various funds such as the Red Cross, USO, China relief, Norwegian relief, Navy relief, Honor Bearer, Stamen's service, bonds for Mindanao, Hayburn, Paul and Robert.

Approximately 70 women worked untiringly to assist the store in its efforts and at the supper they were given praise for their long and continuous toil.

Life in Hitler's Prison Camp Described by Sgt. Robert Otto

By GEORGIA CHATBURN

JEROME, June 7.—After having been in two German prison camps for nearly a year, Sgt. Robert Otto, of Mrs. Fred Otto, Jerome, has returned home here, his fortune unimpaired by the experiences which befell him after he parachuted from an exploding plane over Austria in June, 1942.

Sergeant Otto was forced to parachute to earth from 2500 feet after the B-24 in which he was a crewman, exploded in air when flak and heavy shell fire from German guns caused it to disintegrate and disappear in a puff of blue smoke.

The escapee of the plane suffered burns from the explosion, and all except two, the nose gunner and the co-pilot, freed themselves from the plane.

Falls, 5000 Feet

Falling a distance of some 5000 feet before he could disengage himself from the flak suits, Otto finally managed to pull the cord of his chute and then floated downward where he landed in a tree. He freed himself from the parachute and hid in a nearby bush. However, the site was so close to a farm yard, that he had no chance of escape and was soon found by German civilians who lost no time in reporting him to German officers who appeared soon afterward to quiz him and take him prisoner.

The crew was let out the next day and removed to a hospital where their burns were cared for by interned English orderlies and French physicians. Previously they had received first aid treatment by a German physician.

They received Red Cross kits which contained human underwear, lig, slippers, shaving equipment, cigarettes, gum and candy bars.

Thousands of prisoners were moved to Stalag Luft 4, they were put in a barbed wire enclosed prison camp. Inside were "Lagers" which housed 2500 prisoners each. A room slightly larger than the average dining room of a home housed 25 men, who utilized the place as a sleeping quarters and all round "home." Prohibited were out-of-door congregations. Roll call was taken twice each day. There was no radio. Reading materials were furnished by the Y.M.C.A. However, the daily newspapers from Germany were interpreted for the soldiers.

As pastimes, they received permission from the commandant of the camp to organize music clubs and small classes, where subjects of English, history and languages were taught by the interned prisoners.

Types of punishment for infractions committed were varied. Otto said. He stated that on one occasion, a prisoner was shot because he failed to observe the strict rule against jumping outside one of the low windows to his quarters.

No Fear of Death

Though the camps were maintained under surveillance of the Gestapo, Otto said the men experienced no great fear of death, though rumors had come through that it was Hitler's plan to ultimately exterminate each one of the Americans and other allied prisoners.

Squad, served twice daily, comprised the food allotted the men. It was made of kohlbiel and potatoes, unseasoned. En route to a second camp, the men were ordered to eat small hills of cooked potatoes, supplied from large black cauldrons onto the ground.

Liberation came on April 16. A few miles distant, the imprisoned men watched, with eyes glued on the huge tanks approaching around a bend. They stood immovable and trembling with joy as the allied tanks came nearer.

Otto was on his 12th mission when his plane crashed. He entered service in 1943 and went overseas May 28, 1944.

LIEUT.-COL. RICH JAYCEE SPEAKER

It would not surprise marines Lieut.-Col. George Rich, Miller, if Japan surrendered tomorrow.

On the other hand he wouldn't be amazed, either, if they fought on for 10 years.

That was the answer the wearer of six battle stars gave members of the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night as he addressed them during their dinner-meeting at the Park hotel. He gave his answer even before the usual question of "how long can Japan last?" was put to him.

He did declare, however, that "it will take some time to defeat the Japanese unless they should suddenly surrender."

Colonel Rich, introduced by his schoolboy class, Charles E. Siebert, in his address, some of which had to be off the record, described the people of the south Pacific, what the marine corps has done in that theater and the problems America faces before she defeats Japan.

Out of the battle of Tarawa, he said, were learned lessons that brought forth new and more scientific equipment with which to battle the foe.

He told of the natives on the islands that were invaded by the Japs only to be taken later by the marines. To the missionaries on these Pacific islands, he paid the highest tribute—they were responsible for many hot fires reaching safety and ultimate return to their homes because the natives follow the missionaries' lead.

The missionaries, too, had educated the natives to the point that, instead of every invasion staged by the Americans they were welcomed and aided in their fight against the Japanese.

For the past year Colonel Rich

Regulation of Salmon Water Use Tightens

A resolution limiting the water deliveries to eight-tenths of a second foot for each user was adopted by Salmon River Canal company board of directors at a meeting Wednesday.

"Many farmers want to draw large heads of water and when all farmers wish to draw water at the same time the capacity of the ditches will not carry the amount ordered, and consequently the rule had to be adopted to protect all water users," Barney Glavin, president of the company, announced.

The resolution read, in part: "Therefore be it resolved that simultaneous deliveries of water for the year 1945 will not exceed eight tenths of a second foot for each 100 acres of stock which shall be entitled to draw water and that all water users shall be required to regulate their demands accordingly."

Glavin reported that the gauge height of the salmon river reservoir is now 530 with a capacity of 100,000 acre feet of water.

Approval of the second allotment of the season was granted for expected to reach the 1944 average of one acre foot per acre.

Prospects for water this season are brighter than usual because of rainy weather this spring. Glavin said, and water deliveries may be for every $1 interest.

Care of Your Children
By ANGELO PATRI
Wasting food is unthinkable. To throw any away is a sin against the starving people of the war-stricken lands. Under any circumstances wasting food is the worst of sins as a traitorous act against the army of our country.

That is not so good. Food eating is not nourishing either to body or soul and the food we eat should nourish the body and the soul. In repugnance, distress the stomach instead of comforting it and can do no good. It can and does do harm.

Children who pick at their food annoy those who prepared it for them. But scolding a child, forcing him to eat, or forcing him to eat what he is going to give him an appetite. He is going to eat him up. He is going to eat him up. He is going to eat him up.

Try Substitutes
In spite of the science of diet, certain foods do not please certain appetites and it is likely that certain children who refuse certain foods may be hampered by them because of an idiosyncrasy beyond their control, beyond their consciousness. When a child consistently refuses to drink milk let him go and try to give him other foods.

Marriage is a Serious Business

By Randolph Ray

CHAPTER 12

Overcoming Difficulties That Lead to Divorce

Marriage is never finished. The lesson is never learned. The effort is never at an end. Marriage, like life, is a matter of continuous things. The big ones generally take care of themselves. It is a matter of attending to the small and the preferences.

At luncheon, a friend of mine was speaking about his summer vacation. "Where did you go?" I asked. "Oh, the shore, at Astoria."

"But," I thought you hated the ocean," he admitted, "but my wife loves it. All winter long she does the thing I want to do—go to the places I like, see the people I prefer. It seems only fair that I should give up something for her in the summer."

It is a curious paradox that today, in some ways, wide social developments are being formulated, outstripping interest in personal development. We are learning step by step (taking the lessons of the world war) and of the world war to treat that individual rights must yield place of times to group rights, and that the result is not an end to freedom, it is merely a wider application of the same.

The same thing holds true of marriage. Individual rights lead to separation, a justifiable yielding of personal rights to union.

Many divorces, I am convinced, come about because a man or woman decides to go their own way—not because they are not fond of the other, but because they are so eager for freedom. "I'll go my way and you go your way," sounds like a reasonable idea. But it will not work. People grow together only if they keep their interests for apart, they are bound to grow apart and to find at length, that they have nothing in common at all.

So many times the woman takes life—she is a business, she is a housewife, she becomes sloppy, uninterested and uninteresting. Her husband, meanwhile, either goes ahead or falls behind. He cannot stay in the same place. If he is going ahead, he is developing, competing with other men, his interests are clear and varied. If he is going behind, he is not in business, alert, well-groomed, and making him feel that he is important.

It is not easy, in the intimacy of daily life, to keep attractive. Many husbands founder into middle age because no effort is made to keep one's life attractive and hidden. A woman who has a cold-creamed face, hair curlers, and a child dress may look attractive in public, but she has destroyed romance in her own home, where it is more important. This is one reason why each individual should be able to have privacy in his own home.

Spiritual privacy, by the way, is as essential as physical privacy. Divorce is a problem which cannot be evaded in any discussion of marriage, but divorce itself can often be evaded—as I have learned in many years of working out these matters with unhappy couples—by a clear understanding of the difficulties and mutual goals in attempting to overcome them.

HOLD EVERYTHING

The woman, of course, is not always the one at fault. The husband, begins to take things for granted, who has no respect or regard at his best before the girl he wanted to marry, forgets to ask her to go places. After all, he has given her a home, hasn't he? He forgets to pay her little compliments, to not let her have the best of everything, she loses interest in her appearance.

It is not easy, in the intimacy of daily life, to keep attractive. Many husbands founder into middle age because no effort is made to keep one's life attractive and hidden. A woman who has a cold-creamed face, hair curlers, and a child dress may look attractive in public, but she has destroyed romance in her own home, where it is more important. ### M'ARTHUR AND STILWELL CONFER

MANILA, June 7 (AP) — Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commander of ground forces in the United States, has visited the southeast Pacific and conferred with Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Neither the purpose nor the results of Stilwell's mission were revealed. However, the visit came at a time when Gen. Douglas MacArthur, as new commander of all ground forces in the Pacific, was deep in plans for the next phase of the American march on Japan.

Radio Tokyo already was reporting that American invasion forces next will land on Japan itself. American naval sources in another theater said as long ago as last month that preliminary preparations had begun for an amphibious landing on the Japanese home islands.

Stilwell has charge of the training of American ground forces for the Pacific, and his conference with MacArthur took on added importance in this respect.

Douglas Speaks At Weed Parley

BOISE, June 7 (AP)—Thomas J. Van Meter, Boise forest supervisor, today pledged forest service cooperation in fighting the growing infestation of western larval and noxious weeds and described the need for some type of control which could be applied over large areas on an economical basis.

The forest official addressed a meeting of the western weed conference meeting here including representatives of state agricultural agencies from nine states.

Dr. Douglas of the U. S. bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, Twin Falls, read a paper on experiments with halobron, which he described as a host to the beetle pathogen. The beetle also acts as a reservoir of curly top virus, he said.
