HEAT GOES ON BLACK MARKET AT 400 A DAY

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Heat is on the black market. Especially the meat black market.

Suits against suspects are being filed by the OPA at the rate of 400 a day. Between May 7 and 10 about court actions were begun in 745 wholesale meat cases.

These figures are some indication of the determination with which Price Control Chief Chester Bowles is attacking violations of price and ration rules which have caused heated criticism of his agency in congress.

Congress allowed him 600 extra investigators. These men are getting better than any section chief and FBI agents. They are aided by Treasury income tax agents.

And they're out to stamp out all forms of illegal trafficking in scarce commodities of life—beef, mutton, sheep and counterfeiting of ration stamps and coupons, rent evasion and other violations.

So far OPA lawyers have won an imposing string of criminal convictions. These totaled 2,068 from January, 1945, to April 30, 1945. Over 2,000 damage payments had been made.

4,000 paid fines.

641 sentences.

In the first four months of this year 481 sentences were imposed on 481 black market operators. A large number of these violators were operating in the meat industry.

In rent control, OPA's investigators are keeping their attention directed to rents on private homes as well as rooming houses and hotels.

They are also checking rents on houses to check rents and compare them with OPA ceilings. Many violations of OPA regulations have been reported through this method.

The OPA is also enforcing enforcement activities OPA has sent to the treasury $35,219,200 collected from fines, multiple damage payments, judgments and settlements out of court.

Banks Assist

The treasury, also pitching in, on June 14 ordered all banks and financial institutions to report to their federal reserve banks all transactions of $1,000 or more in which currency denominations of $50 or more are used. These transactions involving $10,000 or more must also be reported, regardless of denomination.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., said compliance with the order is very important. He added that many of the evasion cases now being and has come to the treasury's attention as a result of bankers' cooperation.

Only One Japanese Airfield Left; War On Okinawa Faces

BRUNEL BAY, BORNEO, June 14 (AP)—Tank-led Australian troops are battling Japanese through swamps and jungle for the only remaining airfield on this invaded North Borneo area after overrunning the two others within a fight.

The 4,600-foot Labuan island airfield, occupied a few hours after the invasion opened Sunday, already is being used by artillery spotter planes. It is being developed as a bomber base, within 800 miles of Singapore.

Fourteen miles south of the mainland invasion beach at Brookton, the 3,500-foot Brunel airfield also was won easily. It is five miles outside the capture zone on which the Aussies are closing to two sides against enemy mortar, machinegun and rifle fire.

But the nipponese on Labuan island, which commands the entrance to Brunei Bay, showed more fight as the invaders drove within two miles of the 3,600-foot Timalai airfield. It is nearly five miles from the original beachhead outside Victoria town.

After recovering from the apparent surprise—the enemy only expected an invasion at Jesselton, 80 miles northwest—the nipponese started using mines and boobytraps extensively on both Labuan and Timalai.

Some of Borneo's finest rubber plantations lie in the Anasies in the north. It is nearly five miles from the original beachhead outside Victoria town.

SOME CROPS HIT BY SUDDEN COLD

BOISE, June 14 (AP)—Trot last night damaged beans, tomatoes, squash and vines of other tender crops in many places in the southwest and south central Idaho, the state weather bureau reported today.

Meteorologist E. H. Jones said the lowest temperature was in the state during the night was at Malad City, 29 degrees.

The mercury slid to an unofficial 31 degrees in many places along the Boise river bottoms and hit 32 degrees at Burley and Coalinga, he added.

Fruit is so far along and the duration of the low temperature was so brief, Jones said, that no damage is anticipated in orchards.

Occasional wind during the night kept the temperature from going to the frost on higher ground.

Jones said he believed the damage was confined primarily to domestic gardens because the slight frosts were usually covered their crops when the sun came out.

A light snowfall was reported in the high Coeur d'Alenes.

Telephone survey in the Twin Falls territory Thursday indicated that damage to crops was slight. Beans and garden vegetables as well as an 11-degree drop in temperature in 24 hours.

The mercury slumped from 64 degrees Friday morning to 55 degrees, which was below freezing, early Thursday. Had a dozen bean growers in the survey said they did not believe bean loss would be serious. One added: "I don't believe the frost hurt my beans as they've suffered far more from drought rotting my late-planted beans."

Production of crops did not expect any appreciable loss from the 35-degree temperature.

PRESIDENT ASKS SPEED ON PACT

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—President Truman was reported today to want quick senate ratification of the world security organization treaty to strengthen his hand at the big three meet.

The president's desire to have the treaty approved before his conference with Churchill and Stalin is a major factor in the administration's plan to submit the treaty to the senate as soon as the San Francisco conference ends.

If the treaty isn't ratified by the time of the big three meeting, administration leaders still are hopeful this nation will be the first to give the charter legislative approval.

Toward that end they are willing to postpone or even forego a summer recess which has been set for July 10.

If it becomes evident that the foreign legislative committee may stay in Washington to conduct treaty hearings while other members of the senate take a shortened vacation.

It is problematical whether the treaty can be approved prior to the big three meeting. The San Francisco conference is expected to end June 30. If it does Truman plans to submit the treaty to the senate June 25.

4 Furloughs Given For 5 Live Nippones

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14 (AP)—T/Sgt. William Brown, De W. Ark., has won four furloughs by capturing five live Japanese. He had never captured a Japanese until he saw a notice on his company's bulletin board, announcing a furlough would be given the first man to bring in an ambulating enemy. Brown captured one, went to Australia, got married to an Australian girl, honeymooned, moved to Luzon.

He tried another bulletin board with a similar offer, got busy again, captured a Jap tank man, and went off to Manila with his reward, a three-day pass and a case of beer. When he got back, the offer was still good, so Brown went hunting again, and found a Jap lieutenant who wanted to fight and Brown talked him into laying down his grenade and coming along. Again, he headed into Manila with another three-day pass.

On his fourth try, Brown hit the jackpot. He got two live prisoners. The first he captured with a foot-hall tackle. The second he got with a cigarette. When he offered the Japanese a smoke with feigned nonchalance, the Jap put down his grenade. Brown grabbed him. He got a pass and another case of beer.

Got a Match?

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Popular brand cigarettes were displayed openly on many retail counters in the New York area today for the first time in many months, and tobaccoists said today there would probably be an easing of the nationwide shortage soon.

Retailers reported almost normal deliveries from five big brands. Spokesmen for the manufacturers said there may still be some hoarding by dealers because of the widespread black market. However, they said because of lessened military demand the cigarette situation will probably be normal by January.

U. S. CAME NEAR BEING ROCKETED

PARIS, June 14 (AP)—If the European War had lasted another six months, Germany might have been barred New York, Washington, London, and Boston with rocket bombs.

Ordinance intelligence experts said that a huge rocket arsenal had German scientists were within half year of perfecting the mass production of rockets capable of pinpoint bombing at a range of 300 to 400 miles.

The allied experts based their statement on the results of a month-long study which has been conducted by plant 800 feet under the Kohnstein mountains near Nordhausen in Germany.

Blueprints for the long-range rockets were found in sufficient numbers to make a German satellite said they were prepared to turn out the missiles in sufficient numbers to make a German satellite.

Maj. William J. Bromley of Orange Park, Fla., said he had seen rocket rockets obviously were intended to subject the United States to a new type of the same rocket-bombardment London suffered beginning last summer.

The Germans might have begun their bombardment of the United States even before the end of the war. The rockets were built on an RFP said that smashed the engine of a B-24 bomber on the Pennsylvania coast.

GENERAL LAUGHS AT GOERING TALK

OWAM, June 14 (AP)—The general who gave the German air force what Goering called "the only surprise" in the last few days of the war—chuckled when he heard of the last former Reichsmarschall's announcement.

The man is 54-year-old Lieutenant General Hans-Joachim Fieseler, commander of the army air force Pacific Ocean area and deputy commander of the 20th air force, successor to Lieutenant General William T. Sherman, last of the 20th air force.

Goering was quoted as saying upon his capture that "we scarcely believe America had a fighter plane that could escort bombers from Britain to Germany and back."

Fieseler told how an deputy commander of the army air force under Gen. H. H. Arnold he sponsored the "surprise."

"I simply demanded and got increased ranges from O-353, P-47's and P-51's," he recalled.

"The Germans were knocking down our bombers and we had to stop them," he said.

He said that he had sent out 700 to 1,000 fighters on our bombing missions. Germany had our bombers down, but we were able to afford to send her planes up against that many of ours."

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

SNOWY—The parliamentary pollens which have been generally sown by each other will be duly sashed if members of the upper chamber persist in their holler-than-thou attitude toward colleagues' determination to obtain a non-taxable excise on the wine, beer and liquor business. It is doubtful whether personal and legislative relations between the two houses have been so strained at the present moment.

Should the senate block the next attempt at a raise, the house appropriation committee will authorize a full-dress investigation into the hitherto private financial affairs of the members of the house. Its aim will be to depict its uppy members as a group of "fish" and "fish" members of a "fish man's club."

In the same bill carrying the $2500 bond for house members, the senators enacted a mammoth benefit for themselves. They increased the "fund for continuing expenses" by more than $100,000. Although this money is supposed to pay for the "continuing expenses" in line of duty, the house members will get a week's rest at home.

EXPENSES—The senators enjoy free service in the district under this side of Paris, whereas lesser and lesser pay for their own district and managers. The object of the $2,500 trip allowance is to enable them to pay for their own expenses. They cannot charge them out of income tax time and must also give Henry Morgenthau his 20 per cent levy.

These $2,500 bloc complies bitterly about the difference between the two groups' allowances for traveling. The senate's allowance is $2,500, while the house's allowance is only $1,750. A chairman of important committees, as well as their Republican opposites, are given even larger sums. If these men are held to a maximum of $5,000, even though many have more people in their districts than the other, it is also pointed that portions of the money find their way into senatorial bank accounts.

MORGENTHAU—A backstage picture of the controversy over the money measure reveals that hypocrisy and demagoguery characterized its inception and the attempted revision. Morgenthau is partially at fault. They say that he has been more strict in allowing expense deductions than any of his predecessors. He fears, according to the lawmakers, that he may be suspected of going light on his own district's favorable legislation for the treasury. Privately, they admire his stand, but it penalizes them.

FIGHT—Next, the Republicans and Democrats bunched organized a joint movement to get the extra $2500 through a mere appropriation. Speaker Sam Rayburn, however, was not so easily convinced. He canvassed both sides of the aisle and turned up an overwhelming majority. The two steering committees failed almost immediately.

ANALYZING NEWS IN NEW YORK
SHIA—Charles De Gaulle's insistence on making France show off as if she were a great power—on a broken with him—back of the latest bloodshed has been the subject of a French note to the United States. The note has already emboldened Washington and London in the most serious clash with Paris since the occupation of Stuttgart.

SHOOTING—General de Gaulle came to have reverted to the old, discarded strap the whip method in dealing with marauding nations: "Do as we say or die."

BUNGLING—Why is De Gaulle so high-handed? New York authorities on foreign policy think that De Gaulle's extra drive to get France to fight is the reason. The native government repaid this in interest by treating the militia to a banquet before the extra drive to get France to fight is the reason. The native government repaid this in interest by treating the militia to a banquet before the extra drive to get France to fight is the reason.

PSYCHOBUREAUCRACY
 Judge Jerome Frank of the Federal bench thinks he is merely a man of the hills that bureaucratic folk hear to. He says, "not factually," he assures us that the cure for Poloma fever, swelling of the ego, tape before the eyes, and such, lies in psychiatry.

PSYCHOBUREAUCRACY
 Administrative posts in government are required periodically to consult government psychiatrists. As a result, things are being done to become creatures of inner drives and obsessions of which they have no awareness.

PSYCHOBUREAUCRACY
 A harassed cabinet member couldn't sneak off to his own private adviser. No, he'd have to make his appointment with the government's cerebral sawbones in a government building on the top of the press as he emerged.

PSYCHOBUREAUCRACY
 And think of the opportunity for scandal. Let us suppose that Senator Booper is having a fight with Chairman Doakes of the OPX.

PSYCHOBUREAUCRACY
 No, we can't agree with Judge Frank that a regiment of psychiatrists would flood Washington with sweetness, light and soothing words.

BIG 3 TO PLAN FOR FAR AHEAD

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The impending meeting of the big three will map Europe's future for years to come. A White House correspondent said that for all practical purposes Truman's conference with Churchill and Stalin will be the final peace conference of Europe.

It is evident here that the functions of the big three will be to discuss the final peace conference which will probably have some modifications, the decision being made at the Truman-Churchill-Stalin pact.

Officials disclosed that the program for the big three will include points: Decisions on several of the 30 territorial questions which must be solved amicably to insure Europe for peace. These include Poland's claim to a slice of distant territory in return for Polish lands given to Russia.

Marriage is a Serious Business

Happiness Is Within Your Reach
 It is a curious thing that none of the discussions of marriage mention the simple fact that children play an immense part in cementing a marriage together, providing the parents with their greatest common interest, and in building the family unit which is greater than any single individual in it.

None do it point out how large a percentage of weary and dissatisfied mothers come from broken marriages, and how many of these solve their own problems, have left their children to suffer for their mistakes.

There was a 12-year-old boy whose parents got a divorce and placed him in boarding school. One afternoon, the headmaster came to tell him that a table had been arranged for him because his father was coming to dinner, bringing his new wife, so that the boy could meet his stepmother. The boy was embarrassed but took the news very quietly. An hour later, the headmaster returned once more came in search of him.

"Your mother just telephoned," he said. "That she will be here for dinner, bringing her new husband. He wants you to know your step-father."

The child was very wite. "What will the other boy think?" he burst out, and then, with a bitter smile beyond his years. "Oh, he'll think I'm a flake. I beg your pardon, sir. I've flunked."

"That night he sat before a telephone, his eyes staring at the dial when he had never seen before. While his own parents looked on with interest, and with the curious eyes of his schoolmates waiting in the quiet and very well-behaved. For days afterwards, he lay in his infirmary, too sick to get up.

The religious ceremony had stood as a stern correction upon which thousands upon thousands of marriages have been founded. These marriages pass before my eyes like a giant kaleidoscopic picture.

A young couple came in not long ago to be married, accompanied by the bridegroom's parents. After the wedding, the older couple came up to me.

"We have been married 25 years," the man said, "but it was a civil marriage, and my wife has always been out and then, till a little while ago, I wonder," the woman asked, "blushing a little, "if you would bless our marriage."

A young soldier whom I married was terribly anxious to have a child. He was with his wife for two months and left, as though believing that he was not to have one. A few weeks later, his wife wrote to him: "We are going to have a baby. I know how happy you will be. In reply there came a letter from the boy's commanding officer. The wife's letter came, the boy was killed in action, but not before he had read it. They found it tucked in the little book which the church had given him, and on it he had scrawled an answer to his wife's letter. It did not come back, he wrote: "do not grieve for me. You have given me the greatest happiness in life. You will have something nice and I will be carrying on into the future."

Love and romance, rich and rewarding, stand at side, and we see them only in shadow on the movie screen, unattainable, remote, unreal. Here is your life, now, at hand. Do it and welcome it, and mold it to the heart's desire.

RED ASSAULTS U. S. PRESS FREEDOM

MOSCOW, June 14 (AP)—Twenty-five leading American newspaper editors covering the San Francisco conference, said today differences in concepts of press freedom between the United States and other countries need not be understood as a threat to the press. They said they are not in agreement with the Soviet Union had no intention of trying to dissuade them.

He condemned what he described as the "normal" type of freedom of the press in the United States and other countries, but said that if these countries were to be free to press the Soviet Union had no intention of trying to dissuade them.

Zhouk said that the American conception of "freedom of the press" actually brings up a completely different situation: Calumny against private persons and "murder of an individual is set upon by law, but calumny against a friendly country and starting a war with it, this is an appeal to mass murder and mass annihilation."

He continued: "Pro-fascist propaganda which is carried on in the United States under the disguise of freedom of the press is not only directed against other countries and against, first of all, American democracy. In this case formal 'freedom of the press' is absolutely undemocratic results."

Guardsmen Clean Their Equipment

Members of company K of the Idaho state guard devoted their Wednesday meeting primarily to the floor rifle practice with .22 caliber rifles and to the cleaning and checking of equipment used on the range last week-end at the Minidoka forest ranger.

Lieut. Orin Fuller, publicly officer, reported that as most of the drill on the trip was carried out in rain, mud and snow, the men were given a complete lesson in cleaning the rifles, bayonets and other equipment.

The group is now busy with rifle practice in preparation of going on the outdoor range this summer. Lieutenant Fuller announced, they will then switch to regular 30 caliber army rifles.

O'Grady competitive drills were conducted following rifle practice and one new recruit was inducted into the company.

USES ASKS NEED FOR VETS FILED

Employers who wish to hire veterans are requested to place their orders at the U. S. employment service office and specify that veterans be referred to them.

Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, as representative of the businessmen of Twin Falls, Thursday recommended this course of action. A recent survey indicates that local businessmen are in favor of hiring discharged veterans who are capable of filling available jobs and positions.

An increasing number of men and women are being discharged from the armed forces and are returning to Idaho, according to information received by the C. of C. from Terry Prater, Boise, veterans' employment representative.

Since demobilization on the point system began, more than 100 Idaho men have been separated under this plan, according to information received from Prater.

A majority of men being discharged now have had long periods of service, the average being about four years. Prater pointed out to local Chamber of Commerce of Idaho.

"Having been in the armed forces for a long period of time, some of these men may find it a little difficult to readjust themselves to a civilian routine. We would suggest and urge that all employers be as patient and helpful as possible during this period of readjustment," Prater added.

"We would like to emphasize the point that these men are the cream of the crop, both physically and mentally. We can remember that they fought our battles and that they are entitled to the best. We need your help in our efforts to help them."

He listed as top steer prices as "load of steers sold for Ft. M. O'Connell, Wendell, at $15.00."

Other prices listed by Callen included Holstein steers, $12.75 to $15.50; feeder steers, $14.00 to $15.50; yearling steers, $50 to $52 a head; veal calves $13 to $15.50.

Callen also said that "fat cows brought $10.50 to $11.75, and cows with calves at side, per pair, $10 to $12."

"Fat heifers brought $12.50 to $13.00."

"We'll have a nice supply of yearling steers, cows and calves on hand for next week's sale," Callen said.

Dear Pops

Once a year we get a chance to thank you for all you've done ... helping with the home-work and getting us out of jams. (Which reminds us, Mr. Berkly, our neighbor, wants to see you tomorrow.) No kidding pop, we think you're a solid sander so we put our heads and greenbacks together and picked out a few things we hope you like. The tie is from Jimmy (Don't worry, mom didn't pick it out.) The jacket is from Steve. Hope he's home by next Father's Day. Sue gave you a belt that's a d justable after dinner. The slippers are from little Babs, or weren't you hinting? The shirt and sweater are from me. It's not bad having so many kids after all, is it pop?

From all of us ...

...with love to dad...
