

SPUD SHORTAGE WON'T BE LONG, "EXPERTS" AVER

By the Associated Press

A potato shortage was reported Saturday in many areas but government food experts said it should not last long.

In fact, this year's early crop is the biggest on record. It is expected to be over 61,000,000 bushels compared with about 52,700,000 last year.

An agriculture department official said the trouble appeared to be that the 1944 late crop, now too big, was eaten up before this year's early crop came on the market. The result was a shortage which will end as more of the 1945 crop reach consumers.

Ferndale, Me., largest city in that potato state, is one of the cities reporting spud scarcity in an Associated Press survey of production in major communities.

In St. Louis there was a "acute shortage" attributed to a combination of bad weather and heavy government purchases.

Pittsburgh said the war food administration advised that a shortage there will be relieved by a "shortage on track" beans also in short supply.

Gov. Gossett Grets Democratic Friends

Jefferson's Standards Live Now, Demos Told

By AL WELLS

In a gathering heavily sprinkled with state officials, including Gov. Charles C. Gossett, 250 Magic Valley Democrats held a hotly Jefferson day dinner at the L.O.O.F. hall here last night to pay tribute to their patron saint.

Judge James R. Bothwell, Twin Falls attorney, in delivering the principal address of the evening, pointed out that "we have gathered to commemorate the birth of the Democratic party and to review its growth since it was founded by Thomas Jefferson, whom history has recognized as the most conspicuous apostle of democracy in America."

He declared that the principles laid down by Jefferson and followed by such men as Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt were carrying on in the present day. He said the National conference being held in San Francisco to build the foundation for preserving the peace of the world is the best example of Jefferson's principles in action.

SMASH-UP TAKES LIFE OF MOTHER

GOODING, June 16—Mrs. Edna Parry, 30, died in a Gooding hotel tonight at 10 o'clock of internal injuries she had suffered 30 minutes earlier in an automobile accident, Sheriff Fred S. Craig reported.

She was riding in the cab of a pickup truck, driven by her husband, Lawrence, a farmer who lives in the northeast Gooding. A son, Kenneth, 2, was also riding in the cab. Another son, Raymond, 8, and his grandfather, G. V. Larson, were riding in the back of the truck.

None of the other passengers were seriously injured.

The vehicle was driving toward Gooding and apparently applied the brakes as the truck when he saw a car coming from the west at an intersecting one mile north of town.

The vehicle skidded across the road oversteering, and landed in a ditch alongside of a road but headed in the opposite direction.

The cars did not collide.

Increase in Panic Seizes Women, Aged, Will Be Called up to Arms

WASHINGTON, Sunday, June 17 (AP)—Powerful carrier units of the U. S. fleet bombarded the Arami islands, within 200 miles of Japan Saturday and the 10th army wrested the last important heights from the enemy on southern Okinawa while Tokyo radio expressed increasing concern over signs of a homeland invasion.

The Japanese, said radio Tokyo, are getting set for the invasion which, it added, may be in the making at the present time. It reported an increase of American invasion ships around Okinawa, and told of steps to make Kyushu island a powerful fortress and said even women and the aged will be called upon to bear arms in defense of the empire.

Tokyo also reported the third consecutive day of an allied naval task force strike against Truk in the Carolines, and said a hostile fleet was bearing down on Balikpapan, oil center on Borneo's east coast.

Army and marine fighters joined navy fliers in bombarding radio stations, harbor facilities and other military installations in the vicinity of northern Okinawa, a little over 100 miles from the Japanese mainland.

Three heights, one the vital Okinawa Yuzui hill strong-point which had held up progress on the west flank, fell to the Yanks moving on enemy forces officially described by the Japanese as "retreating."

Testifying to the Japanese fighting determination, Nimitz said some of the 10th army troops were meeting "undiminished fire" augmented by very heavy mortar, machine gun and small arms fire.

Charges of the British fleet bombarded the one-time Japanese powerhouse of Truk in the Carolines, Sunday, and sank the battleship Yamato and advanced five miles beyond captured bases. The British fleet reported that it over Thursday sank a Japanese battleship and a cruiser.

WAR CHIEFS ASK PEACE TRAINING

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—A galaxy of starstruck and god-fearing generals and admirals by the civilian secretary of the war department, Congress today proclaimed universal peace training for the armed forces.

They were the final witnesses, except congressmen to be heard next week, before the house panel on military preparedness which two weeks has heard the testimony of such men as Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Gen. Curtis LeMay, Gen. H. H. Arnold and Gen. George C. Marshall, who called on opponents to offer a better preparation plan and appear a large percentage standing army as a requirement to America.

Beauty, Color Mark Flower Show; Mrs. Pierce Winner

Mrs. M. J. Pierce was judged first sweepstakes winner, with Mrs. Tom Speedy and Mrs. O. A. Schwartz tied for second in the annual "Twin Falls" flower show sponsored by the Twin Falls Garden club.

The show, offering a profusion of floral beauty and color, began yesterday in the Rogerson hotel lobby and will terminate at 5 p. m. today.

There were 110 exhibits in all, and the show was judged as follows:

ROSES: Mrs. J. H. Smith, first; Mrs. J. H. Smith, second; Mrs. J. H. Smith, third; Mrs. J. H. Smith, fourth; Mrs. J. H. Smith, fifth; Mrs. J. H. Smith, sixth; Mrs. J. H. Smith, seventh; Mrs. J. H. Smith, eighth; Mrs. J. H. Smith, ninth; Mrs. J. H. Smith, tenth.

Man Collapses of Frost Bitten Feet

SHAWNEE, Kan., an honorably discharged veteran of World War I, recently returned from the hospital, collapsed in the Perrine pharmacy early yesterday afternoon.

The man, who was taken to the county hospital for emergency treatment, was still unable to leave his bed in the hospital at a late hour yesterday night.

Dr. J. H. Smith, who examined the man, said that Sefton suffered a severe case of frozen feet, which he said was probably severe frostbite.

ROUEN FAR OFF BOND GOAL PACE

"Today, we're going to drive," Grant O. Padgett, Twin Falls county secretary, said Saturday morning hearing what he termed "bad news" from London.

The reason is: Padgett said bluntly "that Twin Falls county is $400,000 behind on bond sales today."

"That means the county needs also per week totaling $620,000 to complete its obligations."

"The seven counties in this area—Gooding, Malheur, Cassia, Jerome, Blaine, Lincoln and Caribou—have sold only a total of $870,000 against the area quota for those counties of $2,020,000."

Padgett concluded by saying that Twin Falls county voters had sold only $180,000 on Saturday in "B" bonds, a total of $627,000, and that the quota was $1,400,000.

SUCCESSION TO PRESIDENCY

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The coming big three meeting at Berlin whipped up congressional interest in legislation designed to clarify the line of succession to the presidency in an emergency.

The conference of American, Russian and British chiefs of state will take both Truman and Marshall as participants in the American succession to the presidency.

It is believed that the British president will be the first to be called upon to succeed to the presidency in the absence of a vice-president. From there on the order of succession is closed to uncertainty and conjecture. Some members of congress believe the office passed down through the cabinet, but most agree it's a matter of interpretation.

A house subcommittee recently approved a bill by Rep. Keafey, D. Tex., which if adopted, would remove all doubt. Keafey's bill provides that, if neither a President nor vice-president can be elected, the order will go to the secretary of state and then pass through the cabinet in this order:

Secretary of the treasury, war, agriculture, interior, navy, justice, general, secretary of navy, interior, agriculture, commerce, labor.

Gold Mining to Be Resumed on July 1

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The war production program, which would permit the resumption of gold mining in the United States, will be resumed on July 1.

The action will permit reopening of gold operations which have been closed since Dec. 8, 1943, under the war production program.

Granger Deplores Idaho Drinking

BOISE, June 16 (AP)—The Granger, publicly the public of the state, said today Idahoans spend $100,000,000 for beer and liquor in 1944.

The Granger complimented the Alcohol Control Commission, which is now in session, for its work in the state. He said that the Granger is a member of the legislature, and that the regular work program of the legislature is to be of the nature of the program to "promote cleaner living in Idaho."

The publication said beer consumption rose from 1,469,207 gallons in 1939 to 2,444,145 gallons in 1944 and value of liquor sold in 1944 was $100,000,000.

"Inevitable delinquency, drunkenness and other evils which are the result of the sale of beer and liquor are free and loose," the publication declared.

DATE SET FOR PRESENTATIONS OF TWO 'A' AWARDS IN TWIN FALLS AND BUHL

The war food administration's tribute to wartime food processing, given three plants in the Magic Valley area, will be formalized to take place on June 20.

The two area food processing plants are the regular weekly award in June are the Twin Falls plant of the Jerome Cooperative Creamery and the Buhl plant of the Jerome Cooperative Creamery.

The award is given to the plant which has the best record in the production of war food products.

SOLONS WONDER IF FISH IS FISH

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Is it congress' intention that a fish minus head and tail is a fish? That ponderous question was weighed recently today by the House banking committee and Fred M. Vinson, war mobilization director.

It came about when Rep. Peterson, D. Fla., complained to the committee that OPA is violating the intent of congress by holding that a fish is no longer a fish for the purposes of a minimum price stipulation—after it has been headed and tail-off.

Specifically, Peterson said the new law exempts OPA from making a price on fishery products below the 1942 average price, and the pricing agency held this does not apply to fish after they have been cut in half or put into cans.

Vinson came before the committee an hour or so later to explain the extent of the OPA law, he was asked about charges that OPA is violating the intent of congress. The fish story was told.

Vinson told the committee he is trying to do what congress wants but, as for fish and tails and heads — he will have to look into that.

Death Cheated Many Times By 83-Mission Bombardier

By JEAN DINKELACKER

It is hard to believe that a captain's uniform being hailed as "Adams," 1931 by Capt. Harold E. Adams, former pilot of the 83rd Bombardier Group, with 83 missions to his credit, and more medals, badges and ribbons than any other pilot in the group.

Those well-earned awards are a chapter in the life story of a man who died in war, it beginning with his activities with the combat engineers in the Pacific and ending with his exciting life after he transferred to the air force in 1943, where he served with the 83rd and 12th.

About the only phase of his war experiences not represented by the medals is the six-month period he spent in a German prison camp before making his escape and returning to active duty. He doesn't need any insignia to remind him of that half-year.

"What Was Not to Say?"

When he listed 14 pages of insignia and medals, he had to say concerning his prison experience, when he came back to the United States, the captain said Saturday.

He is now visiting his sister, Mrs. E. Stevens, at Buhl, prior to joining the armed forces, he was employed by the communications printing department of the Times-News for about three and one-half years. He was in the communications department and has orders to report to Salina, Kan., following his leave. He is reported to be leaving today.

Captain Adams received the distinguished service cross for a flying mission in Italy. He flew back the night after the mission, and all other members of the crew killed except one.

"I was the only one who got out of the plane and controls when the pilot and co-pilot were killed in an encounter with German planes. I was the only one who got out of the plane and controls when they brought down a couple of enemy fighter planes last year."

All of the gunners and the radio man either were killed or took off. One engine on the machine was shot out and the hydraulic system ruptured. The flight engineer got out of the wounded, and Bombardier Adams flew the ship in, landing at the end of the runway. The machine was left in the tank.

Adams was also awarded the silver star with an oak leaf cluster, the distinguished flying cross, awarded for an extraordinary feat of flight, the soldier's medal, the purple heart, the air medal with seven stars, and the American Defense Medal theater ribbons with four battle stars, the American Defense Medal, the good conduct ribbon and a presidential unit citation.

That's not all. He also was awarded:

PICNIC PLANNED BY BUHL LEGION

BUHL, June 10 (AP)—At the joint session of the American Legion and auxiliary, the group voted to hold the yearly picnic in July, in connection with the auxiliary elected new officers to serve for the coming fiscal year, who will begin their work on the first meeting in September.

Those chosen to guide the work are Mildred Eggleston, president; Beatrice Shott, vice-president; Marjorie Nelson, secretary; Irene Wilson, treasurer; Myrtle Farnsworth, chaplain.

The executive board will be composed of the new president and new members: Mrs. M. E. Scherer, Bernice Barron, Sarah Hobson and Florence Rice.

The ladies reported $121.85 from the sale of 1100 poppies on poppy day. They also voted to give a party or picnic for the fund and Camp Fire girls some time in June.

The Legion in separate session voted to support the national Legion entertainment fund. It also announced that Dolbert Lawrence had been secured as scoutmaster for the Legion troop. Don Brennan reported that so far 21 gold star citations had been awarded from this post to the next of kin of those who have lost their lives in the war. Mrs. M. E. Scherer has also been awarded to date this year, with a number more still to be received and sent to the next of kin. It was reported that the Legion hall is under the chairmanship of George A. Jensen, has begun practice at the ball park.

Legionnaire Al Amos announced that three young men, one of whom is on the grounds next to the ball park.

... with 83 missions and numerous medals. He is now in Salina, Kan. He was in active combat 21 months. (Staff engraving)

He and other members of his crew were obliged to bail out over Bavaria.

"We started to hide in some bushes, and the engine was shot out for us in that very clump," he said.

"Their treatment in the prison camp was 'too' too strict," in the vernacular of the air force.

"I was confined mostly to potatoes and potato peels during this confinement. He was served a piece of horse meat, which was good in comparison to the rest of the chow."

"As for the camp soup—'green dynamite'—I tested it once, but it was never hungry enough to eat it after that."

"I found the contents of a free Red Cross food parcel with several letters from my mother and two tin cans of biscuits, cookies, chocolate, cigarettes, dextrose and vitamin pills. They were very valuable at the camp."

"The English-printed newspaper was so full of propaganda, it was disgusting to read," the captain said.

Arm, Leg, Skull Injury

In north Africa, Captain Adams acquired the purple heart. An arm and leg were "shot up" and he sustained a skull fracture. He sustained those injuries in 1942.

It was also his Africa that he experienced his most dangerous moments. "We didn't expect to get out alive, and then a miracle happened. A bunch of P-40 boys were coming back from a training mission. They hadn't found the column of Germans they were to have attacked, so they let the derrick who was bothering us have it," he confessed.

Captain Adams, who graduated from private school in northern Idaho, worked on the Griffin ranches in the Buhl vicinity for a time after he first came to Idaho. Later he joined the Times-News commercial printing department staff. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Adams, Lamm, Colo.

Red Cross Report Made in Jerome

JEROME, June 10—Members workers of the American Red Cross chapter handed 24 cases and made several trips during the past week, it was reported by Mrs. P. H. Beveridge, chairman at a meeting of the board.

Other reports were made by the treasurer, Mrs. William G. Hoover; Mrs. C. E. Arndt, production chairman; Mrs. A. H. Hartshorn, claims representative for the home service department; Mrs. Roy D. Smith, camp and hospital council home representative; and Miss Ruth Meyer, R. N., home nursing chairman.

It was stated by Mrs. Arndt that the work on the current setting quota was progressing satisfactorily but that some cutters could be used Tuesday and Friday afternoons, in order to make ready the materials for 106 1/2 bags and their contents. The past few days have been devoted to making dresses for the day room at Paul. Twenty have been made, leaving five yet to be completed.

Mrs. Beveridge reported that four workers have been on duty during the month and in order to have a party to keep the numerous donations, incident to home service work, a filling cabinet is needed. Miss Meyer said that the class in home nursing had completed its work and soon would be presented with certificates.

The next meeting will be held July 6.

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP)—An inventory of some 100,000 tons of clothing, shoes and accessories is being made in New York, the head office of the Red Cross, in order to supply the needs of the war zone.

Over more than 60 combat missions, his outstanding proficiency and steadfast devotion to duty have reflected great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States, the general said.

TRUMAN TRIP TO BE 16,500 MILES

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—President Truman plans to travel 16,500 miles the next 40 days.

He will go from Washington to Olympia, Wash., to San Francisco, back to Washington; to Kansas City and Independence, Mo.; back to Washington; across the Atlantic to meet Stalin and Churchill at Berlin.

The White House disclosed that Truman plans to address the closing session of the United Nations conference at San Francisco June 29.

President will fly to Olympia Tuesday or Wednesday to be the guest of Gov. Mont C. Wallgren, who was in the senate with Truman, from Olympia Truman will fly to San Francisco the day before his address.

After returning to Washington, probably June 24, the President will make another flying trip to Kansas City June 25 to attend home-coming celebrations at nearby Independence that afternoon and at Kansas City the next day.

Before leaving for the mid-west, Truman will confer with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York at the White House June 25.

Sgt. Major Loses All but His Socks

OKINAWA — When Sgt. Major Charles R. Hepler, Twin Falls, Ida., founded a "wet wash" service on this island he thought he was saving time and effort.

The laundry service was started when he found that local natives would do the washing for a yen per bundle.

A major, his squadron commander, and a captain, the intelligence officer of the unit, followed the enlisted men's example and rent off a huge bundle.

Three days later when Hepler went for the laundry he found that the native had moved to another village, leaving behind him a pair of socks and one towel.

Wandering around the field he found the guy, dressed in a hat up to his ears, and a pair of shoes, the sergeant major reached the conclusion that you can't trust anyone. From now on he does his wash himself, using the limes tested "low grade" method.

BEST BET—Robert H. Jackson has suddenly leaped into the field as a prominent, possibly a secretary of state in the office of Edward R. Stettinius. It is understood the latter will be rewarded with a major ambassadorship for his participation in the Stettinius administration.

The Supreme Court's decision in the Ex parte Trueman case, former attorney general's resignation, and the fact that Jackson's present service as American prosecutor in the War Criminals Commission, with further experience, when he is appointed to the post, for around Washington will be a more intimate association with the problems and personalities of the administration.

Jackson also fills the bill as a War Criminals Commission prosecutor in the event he should be summoned to that office. He would be a helpful running mate for Truman in 1948, a factor which must be considered in making that office. The secretary of state will be in the headlines every day when Japan has been vanquished.

Jackson has a record of practical politics, the association with many major states, as a state liberal, but he does not stand so far left as some of the younger men in the State Department organization man, but the politics is his. Coming from New York, he would give geographical balance to the State Department.

1917 was, naturally, being canvassing the field for the Big Five to succeed Stettinius, and to his political background, Jackson's name has been a strong contender. Others mentioned have been a former member of the State Department, but so far Jackson appears the best bet. He would be permitted to finish his present assignment, which means that the prospect is not imminent.

OLD FEARS, NEW PEACE

It is easy to grouse at the Russian government for its adamant stand for a veto power in the United Nations organization that would curtail and curtail the right of the United States to investigate and even discussion of international disputes.

It is easy to foresee that, under such an arrangement, the organization would be powerless even to begin doing the job envisioned for it. It is easy to say that the new league would not even be the old League of Nations, but it is extremely difficult to find a Russian determined stand which, if persisted in, might wreck the organization before it is formed.

All the rules of reason, Russia needs peace and a breathing spell more than any other of the United Nations. Her people have paid a heavy price for victory in lives and incapacity and extensive fighting, the scorched-earth policy of defense and retaliation have done great damage to her most populous and industrially developed regions.

Any country needs friendship, help and a quiet atmosphere for economic convalescence. It is Russia. Yet, by her government's stubborn defense of a destructive proposal, she is making many friends and causing a split among the big five.

Why? The most plausible conjecture is that the Russian position reflects an old, deep-seated fear—fear of Winston Churchill, frank opponent of the philosophy of communism; fear of the United States, which belatedly recognized the Soviet union under an administration now passed into history; fear of other powers which kicked Russia around in the old league when her government was suspect, unstable and unpopular.

All these are political, balance-of-power fears that seem to fall within the sphere of the old League of Nations. The original purpose of the San Francisco conference, which was to draft at least the first form of a lasting charter to guarantee a peace and a breathing spell more than any other of the United Nations.

World peace is too heavy a responsibility to place on the mortal, fallible men who happen to be the chiefs of state. The great states, leaders die and governments change and power shifts from one nation to another. What is wanted from San Francisco is a charter which will come nearest to guaranteeing the peace under good world governments and bad, a charter based on justice, not power.

What is wanted is a peace mechanism to take the place of the anonymous military men who fight, suffer and die in wars, and who pay for them. These are the people for whom the world peace plan was designed. And these are the people who seem to be the most interested in the diplomatic vacuum by the Golden Gate.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's column on communism in the Common Sense movement is to me the most interesting any she has written. It is an important position, and she has taken it with a great deal of courage.

Mrs. Roosevelt's article has at least recognized the fact that the American communists are out to force a change in the political system on the United States. She has also acknowledged that she has a right to her own opinion, and she has expressed it.

The speaker we clear up authority. The speaker we clear up authority. The speaker we clear up authority. The speaker we clear up authority. The speaker we clear up authority.

As a sincere suggestion, I would urge that Mrs. Roosevelt take an active part in exposing and discussing the whole matter. She is better acquainted than most of us and in destroying their old prestige of "objectivity" she should invade Russia to compare the established government and the social and economic system in force there. But we have suggested that she should do this, and she has not done so.

Mrs. Roosevelt's article was provoked by the recent course of organized communism in the United States. Having suspended their state-war program for the duration of the war, the communists in New York paper printed a statement amounting to a declaration of independence written by a French communist.

Times-News Aid In Rent Control Stories Praised

Editor, Times-News:

A couple of weeks ago I read in the Forum an article by Mr. Fred Harrison entitled, "Pegler is a Communist." I am sure that the fact that Pegler is criticizing the labor movement, the labor leaders, the communists, there is an old saying that goes, "If you throw a bunch of dogs, the ones that are the best are the ones that are the best." Consequently, the ones that Pegler criticizes are the ones that are the best.

Editor, Times-News:

May I address this to the dog owners of the city of Twin Falls and to those of the Twin Falls county? There is a good many companies of dogs being sold or stolen from city law state that they are placed up must be held in the kennel until they are sold or destroyed. There is an average of one dog for every two people in the city of Twin Falls, and many of them are nice looking. However, many of them are placed up six months old, they are sick with distemper, or are dying.

Editor, Times-News:

To Fred Harrison: As an answer to your letter in the Twin Falls Times-News, I would like to give a bit of rebuttal on the "PAN" as a commensurator.

Editor, Times-News:

As you may have noticed, I was out in the west for a long time during the winter and without the care and services of my excellent secretary who undoubtedly have made me think you a long time ago for the play on the Pegler controversy in Pot Shots and the Vox Pop.

Editor, Times-News:

No long ago an article came out in the Boise Statesman, similar to a Forum letter which appeared in last Sunday's Times-News, in which the writer called a Granger writer and added various other epithets derogatory to his intelligence, because said Granger made remarks favoring reclamation projects that would bring new lands under cultivation.

Editor, Times-News:

We wish to extend to you an expression of our sincere appreciation for the excellent cooperation given to us by your newspaper in extending rent control to include Cassia, Minidoka and Twin Falls counties. You, Mr. Granger and Mr. Ounning were especially cooperative.

These puppies are dumped upon the city and if you people who raise dogs don't want them, then you have provided a way for you to get them. You're not cooperating in doing that which would save the city of Twin Falls a lot of money.

It is a known fact that Pegler never writes or says a thing that does not have a purpose. He is well versed in all of his fields and keeps this country free from the outside influence of the world.

As we are European nations going over to communism, we are not in a position to give our money to a man who is not a citizen of our country. We are not in a position to give our money to a man who is not a citizen of our country.

As I think of the thousands of acres of land in Idaho that could be turned into homes for people by irrigation it sort of burns me up to have some crack-brained thing done by the government.

We have delayed extending the rent regulations to include this new area hoping that it would not be necessary. But inflationary pressures became so numerous and so great that it was necessary to do this.

Previous to our entering World War II, congress appointed a committee to investigate the un-American activities of some of our important men. This committee found a deplorable state of affairs in the number of un-American propagandists, both in and out of the country.

NO INCREASE IN FEE FOR GRAZING

BOISE, June 16.—Idaho sheep and cattle ranchmen unopposedly greeted Secretary of Interior LeRoy Anderson's announcement today that his department proposes to allow upward increasing grazing fees on public lands under the Taylor grazing law.

M. O. Cramer, secretary, Idaho Woolgrowers Association said Anderson's announcement "shows the results of unified opposition on the part of sheep and cattle raisers to the out-of-the-way proposals to increase grazing fees."

A senate public lands subcommittee, headed by Sen. Glenn Taylor, D. Idaho, has reported to the senate a bill which would cut the fee per head on sheep from five to three cents per head and from five to three cents per head on cattle in Idaho.

The bill also would prohibit any grazing fee proposal to increase fees at this time without back of a three-fourths majority in the house.

"They contained the proposed legislation and it was not a complete range study," Cramer said.

Cramer said stockmen agreed in 1942 to consult with the grazing secretary "when conditions warranted and after the grazing fee had been established by the secretary."

Secretary LeRoy said he has instructed C. F. Ponding of Elmer Lake, Idaho, acting grazing director, to continue a range appraisal study to determine a "reasonable" grazing fee.

Secretary LeRoy said that he believes the senate public lands hearings make possible the voting of a bill to bring the grazing fee to its present position.

"The hearings of the department of interior here we feel about the increase at this time," he said, "I believe the hearings did a lot of good."

1,500 Slaughtered by Robot Bomb, Jerome Youth Reveals

By GEORGIA CHATTURAN
JEROME, June 16.—All the questions which have been asked by a Jerome youth, 2nd Lt. Harrison L. Barnes, who recently wrote home of a shocking incident which occurred when a German buzz bomb made a crash hit on a theater in Berlin, killing 600 allied soldiers and 700 civilians.

As far as he knows here, this is the first public revelation in the U. S. of the 1,500-death robot bombing which occurred in the city of Berlin, following the European cessation of hostilities.

He further stated that the robot was the most horrible scene he has ever seen, he prophesied, "I'm more yet to see."

Lt. Harrison L. Barnes stated that the allied soldiers were not his unit, but some of the men were on detail being sent to the front line to deal with the twisted mess of steel, and the loss of their lives, he said.

Reports Given at Final Meeting of Falls City Group

JEROME, June 16.—The Falls City club held the annual potluck luncheon at the auditorium in which the year's work was reviewed during the session by the retiring president, Mrs. Phoebe Johnson.

A gift was presented Mrs. Florence Johnson, member, who has attended every meeting in the two years.

Mrs. Thompson stated that the club had carried out the project of the teachers. They also conducted a successful hot lunch project.

There were 43 children served last year. Mrs. Johnson said she received again the coming year to carry on this program in the school.

The members also sang the schoolhouse, sang the schoolhouse, and sang the schoolhouse.

This is a familiar question in telephone business offices all over the country today.

Trufully, the removal of telephones is expensive and we would prefer leaving them for incoming families. However, many people here applied for services and have already walked over a long period of time for their telephones. At the present time the only way we can give these people service is by removing the telephone instruments of former customers, who no longer want or need a telephone.

Richan-Bott Wed In Church Rites

Held in Rupert

PAUL June 16 - Elvira Bott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bott, became the bride of Mr. 2 1/2 Clyde LaMar Richan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Richan, in a double ring ceremony performed Saturday, June 9, in Rupert. The Rev. Father McElligott celebrated the rites at the St. Nicholas Catholic church. Lighted candles on the altar and spring flowers formed the setting.

Leo Henschel, cousin of the bride, was also a best man. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Betty Raush who also accompanied Vera Clark and Phyllis Stone in a duet "Ave Maria."

The former Mrs. Bott chose for her wedding an afternoon dress of powder blue. Her accessories were white. For her flowers she wore gardenia corsage and carried a white prayer book with white streamers.

The bride was attended by a classmate Elvira Heine. Miss Heine wore a blue afternoon dress with a white corsage and carried gardenia with pink roses.

Joe Bott, uncle of the bride, was best man. The bride is graduated from high school at the studio of Beaman Richan, a hospital apprentice, was a senior at Paul high school before joining the merchant marine, later joining the navy. He will report to San Diego after completion of his leave.

Immediately following the ceremony, the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's parents, where a dinner had been prepared by Mrs. Bott. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with pink roses and bridegroom. The cake was baked by an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Bill Henschel.

LEGION BASEBALL TO CONTINUE DESPITE LOSS OF JAYCEE PARK

Although the preparation for and the aftermath of a rodeo sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Twin Falls Riding club will be the use of Jaycee park to some 65 youngsters for at least 30 days, the American Legion Junior baseball program will be continued, Gene Ostrander, athletic officer of the local post, said last night. Through his offices at Cameron, the owner, the Legion has secured the use of the old ball grounds on second avenue formerly used by the Twin Falls crew in the old Utah-Idaho league but from which the stands have been removed and the diamond filled with wood. Ostrander said the local post has promised to put the ground in shape for the use of the Legion Junior City League and to have the field ready to play in national competition with the first game against Rupert a week from today.

The game had originally been scheduled for Jaycee park, Ostrander said, but he has been advised that the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Sherita mounted polo and George Brennan riding club would not begin installation of roof equipment there until July 1, and that the use of the grounds would be barred to the boys for only six days.

Verbal Chats Results
However, the work of preparing the park for the rodeo began yesterday — to which the boys appearing there for practice Friday objected and this restricted the boys' use of the park. Ostrander in the meantime has had the local post purchase new riding club equipment there until July 1, and that the use of the grounds would be barred to the boys for only six days.

Stakes driven into the ground in laying out the field for the rodeo had been broken during the previous night and a ball had been thrown to the benches at the use of the grounds by the boys. The argument between Beuhman and Day then followed.

This resulted in a meeting in police headquarters last night. Present were members of the city council, Attorney H. P. Parry, Curtis Burns and George Brennan, representing the riding club; Junior Chamber of Commerce committee; Charlie Silbert, athletic officer of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Day and Beuhman.

Agreement Reached
The outcome of the meeting was that the local post would repair the old grounds in shape and repair whatever damage that the rodeo might do to the grounds. Beuhman agreed to call the boys together and make an announcement.

Mayer Bert Sweet said that two weeks would be necessary to put the grounds in shape. He also stated that the interval would give the city an opportunity to do some work that had been needed for some time.

Program Begun Year Ago
Legion baseball playing to the fore a year ago almost to the point of starting under Ostrander's direction. Although he has little to work with in the Legion, he has placed a team in national competition and made a good showing.

More than 65 boys — some of them hardly able to swing a bat — have been trying out for a team to represent Idaho for the state crown. The Idaho winner then will enter a tournament to be champion of three other northeast states.

Legion Loop Mound Results

Hoop, jr., Second to Polynesian at Pimlico

Sport editor's note: They just couldn't keep Idaho out of the Preakness picture. Hoop, jr. didn't get up in time to make the Preakness picture, but Wayne Ivan Parks, Decis, a winning Preakness trainer, but Wayne Wright, who hails from Boise and has relatives in the Magic Valley, was the winning jockey—on Polynesian. Wright rode Shut-out to victory in the derby in 1942.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 16 (AP)—Polynesian, a 12 to 1 shot, abruptly ended Hoop, jr.'s bid for the turf's prized triple crown today by soundly whipping the Kentucky derby winner in the final and richest Preakness at Pimlico.

Swinging into the lead after the first three-sixteenths of a mile, the son of Unbreakable from the stable of Mrs. P. A. B. Widener, Philadelphia, romped home with two and one-half lengths to spare under the guidance of veteran Polynesian trainer, but Wayne Wright to pick up his own claim to the three-year-old championship.

Hoop, jr., carrying the alms of Fred Hooper, never came far off the pace but he didn't have the answer Wright pointed Mrs. Widener's colt home, and pulled up lame at the finish.

Seven Second Money
As it was he had difficulty saving second money from Mrs. W. G. Brierley, who came far off the back on the rail to get into the money picture—the same place he earned in the derby. Ivan Parks, Decis, trains Hoop, jr.

Only a half length separated the derby champ and Jay Dieppe at Pimlico when the Dodge, a third outsider from the Pennington stable in fourth place.

Pavot at 12 to 1
Despite Polynesian's victory over Pavot in the Withers mile, he was permitted to go postward at 12 to 1 as the perspiring fans rushed to get on the Hoop, jr. and Pavot bandwagon. Mrs. Widener's colt paid $6.70 and $230 across the board. The derby winner returned $320.

WE FLEW WITH GUNS

This is a true story of the men who fly the "hump"—carrying mail and cargo over the high Himalayas between India and China. Please call it the toughest airline route in the world.

There are two kinds of ice found over the Himalayas in northern China and lower Tibet: The wet, slippy kind that slides over most aircraft and molds itself to the shape of the wings and fuselage; and the hard, and the "clear" ice that comes in sharp, jagged lumps on the leading edges of the wings and even on the blades of the propellers. It breaks their smooth contour, that enking-up of ice on the wings cuts heavily into their lifting power.

For the first half-hour after we got into the storm we had wet ice, and our only real difficulty was holding our altitude against the increasing weight as the ice accumulated. But our oxygen was getting dangerously low and I had to tell the pilot to take off his mask. We could go along if he passed out, but there had to be someone at the controls. That meant simply that either I or he had to keep going; we could not afford to let both of us pass out.

With that the oxygen I felt a little easier, but our supply was still short if we were going to have to stay at that altitude for any length of time. And with every passing minute it seemed more evident that the storm was a wide one, accompanied only with channels of ice in the sheet formations—one minute wet ice and the next minute clear and chunky—but the wind was changing, too.

Tail was pretty light on his feet when he got out of this, and he was looking at the passengers. Concentrating on an engine that was making a noise I was still aware of his opening the door into the cabin, and then, in a moment, tottering forward and leaning over my shoulder. He dropped a smoke into my hand. "Three passengers conscious," it read.

I shot a glance at the passengers and I knew that the passengers weren't the only ones taking a beating from the altitude and the lack of oxygen. As that slapping back to the cockpit when Fox and I began to feel some real alarm myself.

The oxygen gauge showed that we could hold out about 20 minutes more if Fox and I both continued to draw on the supply. If I cut off Fox, I could hang on twice as long, perhaps even for three-quarters of an hour. On the other hand, if we were on our course the breakthrough was due in less than half an hour.

I handed one toward Hill and said, "We'll take the stuff in shifts. Two minutes at a time, then switch." I had my coffee going off with a popping spout; in fact, I had pulled it off before I turned to speak to him. As I turned back to the cockpit when I looked at the windshield—only then did I realize what we were really up against.

The glass was turning gray on the inside. My breath, condensing inside the mask until then, was now condensing on the windshield itself. My hands and feet had been getting colder and colder for the last hour; the heater wasn't worth a damn under those conditions; and when I took off that mask it was like blowing warm air into a refrigerator. Even the heater of the windshield in front of Fox was heated with my breath before I had fully realized what was happening.

Then we were closed in completely.

ly. The ice on the outside of the glass had allowed us at least a dim glimpse of the outside world. Through that ice we had been able to tell the direction in which the aircraft was blowing, and thus the direction of the wind. Being that as an index, I had a certain amount of confidence that no mountain peak would suddenly loom up in our path, and that we would not be betrayed by the shifting currents in the sheet.

We were at 20,500 feet when I started clearing the windshield, and when two thin scratches had been done in the frost I told Fox to let us down to about 18,000 while I kept on digging with the mail file. The chafing was about one inch deep and three inches wide—a couple of minutes later when I suddenly let out a yell that for its sheer terror ought to be legend in those Tibetan hills of now.

We were at 18,500 feet and the overhead had abruptly begun to thimble. The next instant we were in the clear and heading directly at a snow-capped mountain peak that rose to a good 19,000 feet. "I've got it!" I shouted, and grabbing the controls I knew that did not do him any good. Pull throttle and hard left; rudder, with her nose pulled almost straight up, the old craft rounded and he swung straight on. As violently we could hear the ice cracking and every joint. And then all we could do was wait.

It seemed like a lifetime, but it was only a matter of seconds before we knew we had cleared the peak.

'Strong Arm' Jag Adds to His Woes

HAILEY, June 16 — M. L. Olsen of Mountain Home appeared before Probate Judge George A. McLeod, after having been arrested for being drunk and disorderly in the Mont. He was fined $35 and costs. He was then charged with willfully injuring the State's interest and was bound over to the district court for hearing, with his bond set at $1,000. He was represented by Attorney E. B. Taylor. It is estimated that he did approximately $100 worth of damage to the jail.
