China Heads Note List Of Names; Farley Waits Closing Talk by Truman

Why This One May Work
SAN FRANCISCO, June 26 (AP)—The most important difference between the new United Nations world organization and the old league of nations is the provision which obligates members to keep units of their armed forces in readiness for use at the direction of the security council when that becomes necessary to maintain peace.
One of the fundamental weaknesses of the old league was its lack of teeth to back up decisions.
There is also a striking difference in the basic philosophy of the two organizations. The league was empowered to deal only with acts of aggression—or war, or war-like situations. It could swing into action only after the trouble had started. The new organization doesn't have to wait until then; it can begin its peace-keeping duties when only threats to peace and security are being felt.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26 (AP)—A world still at war today placed its hope for a peaceful future in the charter of a new organization unanimously adopted by the United Nations conference.
Representatives of the 60 nations approved the charter last night and signed the document today in a specially built, flag-draped, Hollywood-like setting in San Francisco's state veterans' building. Late today they will hear President Truman give the charter his blessing and his promise to seek immediate United States ratification. The President's address will conclude this nine weeks conference.
Wellington K. M. Ambassador to London, and many of the other United Nations delegates, are expected to arrive here first to sign the new charter. The United States, host at the conference, will be last. The Chinese signer was Dr. V. K. Wellington K. M. Ambassador to London.

Lewis Wampler, 60-year-old pioneer rancher of the Three Creeks community, 10 miles west of Twin Falls in Owyhee county, was shot to death in front of his black farm residence on the W. B. Clark farm at 6:30 p. m. Monday.
His body was discovered by his daughter, Mrs. B. Clark, and Mrs. Laura J. Rutledge, and Mrs. George Clark, who had stopped to call on Edna and her mother as to his health.
He had been dead about three days.
Stumbled and Fell
Sheriff John Benjamin, investigated the matter as special agent of Owyhee county sheriff's office because of the remoteness of the Three Creeks area from the county seat of Owyhee. Lower said evidence at the death scene indicated that Wampler was not troubled with his eyes for some time, had stumbled and fallen while carrying a 22 caliber deer over rough ground in front of his residence.
"There was no evidence of suicide," Lower said. "The message of his residence failed to reveal any note and his financial affairs appeared in good order, the witness said. Wampler's body was across the rifle, his left hand in death grasping his barrel while his right hand was clutched near the trigger guard.

stood in the upper Cagayan valley today as a mountain and Filipino camp in the Philippines.
Girding troops and supplies wherever found, the Japanese forces are being given their most striking example of effectiveness.
The 13th division's 130th infantry regiment, pushing east along the coast from the Japanese base, found Japanese bodies, fragments of vehicles and scattered supplies along the valley slopes for miles between Bokod and Ambulocan, about 50 miles.
Dozens of the enemy's Toyota and Nissan trucks were blown sky high by direct hits. Fuel and munitions dumps were blasted while the Americans were fighting their way up the valley. When they finally entered the valley they found survivors of the Japanese division dead, starving and unable to offer worthwhile resistance.
Japanese were taking a similar beating from their near guerrilla-defeated Panaguero Cagayan province capital. The enemy was fighting a fanatical battle to regain the rail route to Bokod. It is reported the 27th division, last week, had been driven from Bokod.
One American officer with Col. Russell W. Volkman, commanding the 13th division, said the enemy was giving up their tommy gun and machine gun fire. The enemy was being driven into enemy machine gun fire giving the 13th division a heavy loss.

Whistle That Scares Birds Is In Demand

SPOKANE, June 26 (AP)—Les Kios, electronics engineer, hasn't been able to get his first "pigeon whistle" in operation but already he's had letters from all parts of the country seeking to buy the device.

Lack of one small part, held up by priorities, has prevented Kios from installing the device on the Spokane whistles to keep birds away from fruit trees.

That isn't out of line, although the instrument has been dubbed the pigeon whistle. Kios looks forward to using it on various birds as well as rodents, dogs, cats and most any other animal that proves troublesome around a given premise.

It's just a matter, he says, of finding on the whistle the "audio-frequency points" for each species of pest. The device, a high frequency oscillator resembling a small radio, lets out a whistle which cannot be heard by human ears but is disturbing to animals and birds if properly tuned.

Kios says when he achieves what he is aiming at, any home might furnish such a picture as this:

Cats start howling on the backyard fence. The homeowner doesn't bother even to shake the sleep out of his eyes. He reaches over to the "radio" at the bedside, turns the dial to the word marked "cats," and goes back to sleep. Of course, if mice have been troubling the house, he shouldn't forget in the morning to spin the dial back to "rodents."

Massacre of Prisoners by Nips Detailed

CHUNGKING, June 26 (AP)—A Korean lieutenant who deserted the Japanese at Swatow said today he witnessed the bayonet massacre of 143 American and British prisoners of war at Japanese prison camp near Zentauli Shinkuo island in the main Japanese group, April 20, 1944.

The officer, whose name cannot be revealed, deserted the Japanese at Swatow in March and arrived in Chungking this month.

He said he was forced by the Japanese to join their army and was on a mission to the Zentauli camp when he witnessed the massacre, which he attributed chiefly to the shortage of food but also to provocation for Japanese army recruits. The Japs picked sick prisoners for the bayonet practice and about 200 soldiers participated in the bayoneting.

The Japanese tied each prisoner to a wooden cross and the major in charge made a speech to the victims, telling them:

"You are all Christians and it will be glory for you to die in the same way as Jesus Christ. As Jesus Christ had a crucifixion in three days you will certainly have one."

The major then ordered his soldiers to attack the prisoners. The Korean said the Japs were inexperienced and "chivered" so that they could not wield their bayonets effectively. They were seldom able to kill a man with one stroke.

Hail Damage to Beans at Knoll Reported Heavy

A check-up of hail damage, suffered by farmers in this area late Sunday afternoon, was reported by Albert Myrtle, county agent, late yesterday and indicated that bean crops "were the heavy losers."

Myrtle said that Harold Brown, west of Knoll, on the George Thomas place, lost "about 75 acres of beans."

"Beans are at the tender stage, when a little bit of hail can do a lot of damage," Myrtle said.

He also stated that "some beans were damaged on other farms in the same area."

Brown stated late yesterday that "I lost about 75 acres of beans. Some places to the east of me were also hard hit, and then there received a lot of hail."

"My grain was damaged, and I expect to take at least a 20 per cent loss on the present planting."

Myrtle said that when he drove into the district at 9 a. m. yesterday "hail still filled some of the borrow pits."

The general consensus indicates that "the bean crops is a great measure will have to be replanted."

IDAHO FALLS, June 25 (AP)—The service officer school continued today in connection with the annual convention of the Idaho Disabled American Veterans.

Dow V. Walker, Newport, Ore., in the main address, criticized the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign War for their handling of veterans at veterans' hospitals.

"They are making a political football of the returning disabled veterans and making it hard for General Bradley to overcome public sentiment created by these unwarranted attacks," he said.

Burley Elks Label Gives Him Thrill

Pvt. Remo Treasley was so thrilled at what he saw on the Time magazine cover, that he tore it off and mailed it home to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Treasley.

The torn bit of paper said "Compliments of Burley Elks club," and it was removed—with permission of the club's second service officer— from a magazine on board the ship that was taking him to "corrophiere in the south Pacific."

Private Treasley told his parents that "he was told by the officer to 'go ahead and take a look' at some stacks of magazines and books, and the first he picked up was the Elks' contribution."

Most of the reading material on board that ship is donated by the Red Cross through the Burley Elks club, Private Treasley was told. He joined the service last October.

Shangri-La's Private War Halts Rescue

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea, June 25.—A private war among the natives of Shangri-La and their belligerent neighbors added today to the confusion in the mountain valley. WAC and 14 escorts from the hidden valley of New Guinea.

About the first mechanical failure and lack of sufficient equipment to place the work of the army air force rescuers, along came the battle among the aborigines.

Now that the fight between the Shangri-Lans and their unidentified native enemies is limiting the party stranded in the mountain-valley, but the warfare is ending uncomfortably close.

The natives of Shangri-La seem unable to adjust to the warfare. They have erected stockades around their villages, and have mounted machine guns on the walls, where also-foot warriors of Shangri-La are being maintained.

Tests still are in progress to determine if glider rescue is practical. The glider has been made that little two-seater cut artillery motor planes might bring the 14 cut out.

WAC Capt. Margaret Hastings, Capt. and Lt. James H. McHenry, Trenton, Mo., and Sgt. Kenneth Decker, Kelso, Wash., the only native persons who are willing to assist when an army transport on a slight-slope road crashed against a mountain side in the valley.

With 13 paroled rescuers, they are now waiting for the army to get them out.

In a recent letter the youth stated he was at an ordnance post obtaining his rifle for a week when a German plane came over, dropping a bomb which directly struck his rifle rack at a nearby station. The youth said he sustained bruises and contusions and had seen some terrible sights that he did not care to discuss. He has suffered the loss of hearing in his right ear and will not have to go back into combat. He stated he had been to Paris twice and had visited a cathedral a thousand years old. Nazis All Set To Bomb N. Y. In 6 Months

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Foreign economic administrator Leo T. Crowley reported today that Germany's war-making potential is tremendous despite years of allied bombing. He said if the Germans had held out six months longer they might have been able to hit New York City with V-bombs, a little afterward they could have sent jet-propelled planes against Washington, and if left alone now they could be better prepared for war within five years than they were in 1939 when Hitler launched his blitz against Poland. Crowley gave a senate military affairs subcommittee investigating Germany's war-making capacities a summary of what his agency has been able to learn on the subject through 20 surveys covering virtually every phase of German industrial economy. He said the allied powers must be prepared for a long-term occupation of Germany and high industrial control of the German war machine is not enough to threaten the peace of the world. If we were to leave Germany to its own devices and not to institute a program of economic and industrial disarmament, Germany could be far better prepared for war in five years than she was in 1939, Crowley said.
