Albion Pilot's Mangled Plane Back With Chunks of Ripped-off Jap Mast

OHNAWA, July 3 (UP)—An American Privateer search plane, its belly ripped out and its crew hanging from its sides like trapeze artists while its pilot fought to reach home, brought back two chunks of the mast of a Japanese freighter attacked in the Tushima straits between Kyushu and Korea.

"We came home on prayer and hope," said Lieut. G. E. Miller, Long Beach, Calif., the pilot.

Miller's Privateer with another pilot by Lieut. D. E. Ellis, Kalamazoo, Mich., flying wing to wing, pounced on a freighter and began spraying the decks with machinegun fire.

Ensign Robert A. Littman, San Mateo, Calif., the navigator reported:

"I was starting to pull out when there was a terrible rip-tearing noise going through the plane—

"The plane was torn in two by the nose of the plane and were ripped 25 feet through the middle of the fuselage. A marine photographer was injured in the nose as the mast hit and took out the deck. The crew was just hanging out of the sides from space."

"Shaking All Over" Miller pointed out only five feet above the water. Lieut. H. H. Ippworth, Alaska company, said:

"The plane was shaking all over and felt like it would fall apart. All the instruments were broken and an aircraft indicator and a magnifying glass were broken. The plane was still possible to fly."

"The wing plane co-pilot, Ensign Henry M. Page, Grove, Ia., Mich., signalled Lieut. to turn around and assist the stricken Privateer. He told them the Japanese freighter was in the suburbs and the first American soldier entered the Japanese-held center of Berlin today.

A reinforced herd of the U. S. army moved down Hitler Den Lincoln and women went with joy at the sight of the American. J.C. Harter, of the U.S. Indian reservation, who wears a silver star, broke his own purple heart and took a bullet in the chest, the first American soldier to enter the center of Berlin.

Anderson Set In Fight for More Meats

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson is going to fight the meat shortage, not the OPA, with extra power granted him by Congress, he revealed today.

Anderson, conferring with Price Administrator Chester Bowles about effects of amendments to the OPA extension bill, signed by President Truman.

The bill gave Anderson greater power held by any of his predecessors. Among them is authority to allow small slaughterers to ship meat across state lines and limit present slaughter limitations.

Anderson's conferees have been bluntly told that the present situation of the former New Mexico congressman reported that on a recent country tour with his house food investigating committee he found surplus beef "fast being wasted."

Local authorities, aided by the new flexible meat program, must coordinate in producing a black market, Anderson declared. He cited the example of Detroit where meat supply had been drastically cut by quotas placed on small slaughterers.

He made it clear that he does not intend to issue "blanket authority" to slaughter indiscriminately. It will be necessary to "lift restrictions" to permit to make sure that the extra meat slaughtered will go to spot areas.

MANILA, July 3 (AP)—Australian infantry, braving rivers of flaming oil and barges from Japanese five-inch guns, advanced through face-searing heat today and seized part of the vital southeast Borneo petroleum port of Balikpapan.

Australian radio reports asserted they also had captured both the Sepinggang and Manggar airfields, three and 10 miles northeast of Balikpapan.

The two-day-old invasion already was a "strategic" success.

Volcanoes of fire and dense black smoke from the blasting heart of the refinery area rolled over Aussie-held ridges that dominate both the town and the beach.

Standing atop the highest of these ridges, Lieut.-Gen. Leslie Morrison, Australian corps commander, declared that quick capture of the commanding ground had "initiated the Japanese plan to win a strategic success."

"The campaign is won," although Japanese resistance instead was stiffening and the enemy's concealed artillery still was spattering ridges and beachhead.

"Tokyo radio said approximately 200 heavy tanks and 50 medium tanks were being moved to support of this grand operation on 10th planes and noted an "increase of warships, including five cruisers, 50 transports and other types."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command located the invading Australian seventh division—nearly 100,000 men—within three miles along the seacoast.

Arthur did not confirm capture of the Japanese petroleum port. Press Correspondent Russell Brines reported that the first capture of Sepinggang, at least, was imminent.

The Melbourne radio said airforce crews had immediately to repair the bomb-crippled air wings which were being re-equipped. Japanese air support for the advancing Aussie forces was being cut off.

Carrier planes augmented Allied land-raise troops attacks against the beachhead. The U. S. army, however, was steadily hammering steadily at enemy emplacement.

East of the beachhead, a mile inland, the U. S. army was fighting bitter battles with the Japanese. The Japanese were counter-attacking inland from the beachhead. The U. S. army was steadily hammering steadily at enemy emplacement.

There was no confirmation of the capture of Balikpapan. Australian forces had made a new landing on the beachhead area.

Col. Boone, Who Slapped Jap General in '37, Killed

Death in action has overtaken Col. Ronald A. Boone, 48—the hero of the "Shanghai Incident" of 1937, in which he administered a much-needed and vigorous slap in the face to a Japanese general.

The marine corps colonel, probably the most widely known of the heroes of Idaho soldiers, had a spectacular career since his graduation from the U. S. Military Academy at Annapolis, Md. of the former 7th Infantry Division.

Boone was killed in action Tuesday by Hugh O. Boone, a brother. The telegram, sent by another brother, Julian Boone, of New York City, did not give the date of death or any particulars.

Colonel Boone was serving with the intelligence section of the 1st Marine Division in the Philippines.

He had been in the Philippines since the beginning of the year. At that time he was in the Aitupu Islands.

He told relatives that "things have been pretty close a couple of times, but I have never been hit."

Colonel Boone was a 1918 year foreign duty on his credit, including extensive service in China. His military record was outstanding.

"Common Sense" Fourth Is Asked

BOISE, July 3 (AP)—J. Peterson, administrative director of the United States public health department, today called for a "common sense" observance of the Fourth.

"Common sense can stop most of the carelessness that cause accidents and the resulting injuries that cost so much in pain, crippling and death," Peterson said.

"Swimming in lakes, rivers or ponds is the greatest drowning hazard of the Fourth," he said.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WASHINGTON CALLING

GERMANY—Powerful but hidden opposition has been organized in Washington and London to frustrate the plan to raise Germany's heavy industries to world standards. The plan is being kept out of the world into another global war within 20 years.

The movement has considerable support with certain big business interests in the department and in Downing street. The plan is being kept out of the world into another global war within 20 years.

The plan is being kept out of the world into another global war within 20 years.

Ray Tucker
The anti-Baruch industrialists do not openly state that Germany should be re-industrialized on a par with the United States. They simply indicate that it would be folly to neglect these resources in the rebuilding program.

Their suggestions have come from financial and industrial circles in Paris and London. It is stated here that in the areas assigned to the reconstruction, industry of a chemical plant was destroyed. Although surrounding structures, railroads and supply centers were ruined by precision bombing, the factories were not destroyed.

MEAT—Housewives should not get their red points too readily because Washington promises to have reforms of the OPA set up will mean a plentiful supply of meat for their tables. Although the amendments which must be set forth are not yet ready, well intentioned, a close study hints that the changes will be a boon to the consumer.

The provision permitting slaughterhouses to ship meat across state lines seems to offer the greatest hope of ending present conditions. It is a measure which people living near these centers could get good cattle, while those dependent on federal abattoirs which serve the entire country would be fortunate. It is supposed to benefit the population not so fortunate in the international care of these days.

IGNORANT—Requirement that OPA fix price of all products and handlers of meat should also increase the total supply. But the basic statute has always contained that proviso.

The law has been revised which has compelled many packers and distributors to go out of business. The new law is supposed to be a boon to the consumer of the interstates and ramifications of the meat industry. A change of personnel is needed, but few practical steps will be taken until this late date.

POLITICS—House's death and Truman's accession are the behind-the-scenes reason for the recent political situation. Majority loyalty has been responsible for numerous parliamentary upsets for given years. The House of Representatives has given its group several lectures.

Tenton Labor Food Is Cut By Uncle Sam

HAUS, Kean, July 3 (AP)—L. O. Alcher, Port Hays experimental station, said today that food allotments to Germans in Idaho are being cut sharply following criticism of the amount of war atrocities in Germany so prisoners had had 10 to 12 pounds and no longer were able to do a full day's hard work, Alcher made his criticism in a letter to Rep. Frank Carlson.

The army desires to punish German prisoners who promoted in Germany that, of course, is the same thing as to punish them it would seem as the logical procedure would be to withdraw them from labor.

In Washington, the war department directed to its statement June 19 that the amount of food being fed from 2,500 to 3,700 calories a day or more depending upon the type of work they are doing.

The department said at that time that prisoners engaged in moderate activity receive 3,000 calories and those engaged in heavier work are given 3,700 calories a day. More food is to be given to prisoners engaged in extremely heavy work.

The Boeing will make Twin Falls a daily stop as soon as airport landing strip facilities, already approved by the city council, are completed.

The airplane, each have 600 horsepower and after it capable of lifting the loaded plane to an altitude of 8,000 feet. A second Boeing has been purchased by Bert Zimmerman, owner and operator of the airline, and will be put into operation on the intrastate service as soon as travel demand warrants its use.

He Wouldn't Talk Even When Germans Repeatedly Beat Him

By GEORGIA CHATBURN
JEROME, July 3—Threats by Hitler's Gestapo agents who promised him far worse treatment than the severe beatings he received from the Luftwaffe failed to frighten Sgt. Roy A. Lynch, 20, Jerome prisoner, when they attempted to extort vital military information from him after he was taken prisoner May 17 in northern Italy. Neither did the unfortunate experience he suffered when his plane caught fire, and forced crew members to bail out into enemy territory, dampen his enthusiasm for fighting.

For a prisoner, Lynch is getting right back into a plane right now. He declared eagerly, when telling of his fondness for flying.

On his eighth mission over enemy territory, when he and others in the crew had to bail out because the Flying Fortress became enveloped in flames by a shot in the oxygen supply system, Sergeant Lynch went down over Corsica Island on Nov. 17, 1944.

Now he is home, a liberated prisoner of war, and will report to Santa Monica, Calif., the latter part of August, at the conclusion of his furlough here. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Lynch, and his wife is the former Violet B. Hurtis, Twin Falls.

Beaten by Italian soldiers who were wearing the uniforms of the king's army, Sergeant Lynch was turned over to the Germans at Alibonno, Italy, Nov. 18.

"The gippo held eight of us in the camp for six days. We were moved out from there to a civilian jail at Trieste for two days. Later we were moved to an interrogation center at Frankfurt, and because I refused to answer their questions, I was beaten with pistol bolts, from the waist up.

Sergeant Lynch was sent to a prominent camp at Wehring, and later moved to prison camp Luft 4 at Wehring, where he was held for the advancing Russians, the prisoners were moved to another camp at Pölling, midway between Hamburg and Hanover, Germany.

Prisoners were moved in very small boxes, and about 60 men had to be crammed into the small conveyors. Lynch became ill while at Stalag Robert W. Otto, also a Jerome flier, who was later liberated, and Sgt. Lynch was hospitalized 21 days recovering from his illness, he was

Charter Can Work, Insists War Analyst

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
As our brand-new peace charter comes up for ratification by the United Nations, what do you yourself think are its chances of working?

"That question has been put to me by a man in a much disturbed over pessimistic forecast he has heard—the same sort of thing you have heard being said here and there. Well, what's the answer?"

We start from the premise, I take it, that the peace charter, or the Atlantic charter, or the Constitution of the United States, possess no inherent power to make themselves work. After all, they're just words on paper.

So if the United Nations want the peace charter to work, it will work. One big reason for the failure of nations didn't function properly was that important countries didn't really want it to work—that is, according to the covenant. They used it for initial support only.

Some people make the point that by putting decisive power in the hands of the big five, the ideal of sovereign equality among nations has been abandoned. Nothing of the sort has happened. It is true that as things stand the fate of peace depends on the big five—or rather on Britain and Russia—but no nation's sovereignty will be impinged on so long as the big three remain faithful to their trust.

Whether you have a peace charter, or whether you don't, the big three still must dominate the situation. That is true because they have the physical strength to enforce peace—so long as they stand together.

From the standpoint of small nations this may not be ideal. But we must remember that at its inception peace in Europe is in no precarious position as a light-year walker over Niagara falls with a kitchen-sink on his back. If any one of the big three so much as tipped a hostile beam, there would be another war. Peace depends on their solidarity, and we must have affairs in their hands right now.

West Ender Hurt By Okinawa Mine

BUHLI, July 3—Port. Pete Inchausti, 29, had been on Okinawa only a few days when he was wounded by an explosive mine on May 26, according to word received by the war department.

Private Inchausti was sent to the Hawaiian Islands for hospitalization after receiving wounds in his chest, neck and left eye from shrapnel from the mine which exploded at night. His mother received a telegram from him June 28, saying that he had been transferred to Hamilton field, Calif., for treatment.

One brother, Tony, is stationed at Camp Hood, Texas, and August 14, having been a farmer at Buhal, Okla., had been in the army.

By RICHARD C. BERGHOFF
WITH JET DIVISION, Minnesota, July 7.—On some military maps you find chicken scratches extending from Klamath to central Idaho to Idaho at the head of the Snake. This identifies what is known as the "Yankee trail". The trail is the Japanese war control of Minidoka early in the war they started work on the "Yankee trail" as an alternate route from central Minidoka to Idaho, but, according to the present-day highway built by the Filipinos before the war.

The Japanese trail wasn't marked as a highway because even the diligent trail is enough of a restriction. Actually it is nothing more than a route from one place to another, a route based on the least strenuous means of struggling through wild, unexplored mountains.

You would have to see the horrible nature of the facing the doughboys of the Dixie division to appreciate why it is called "heartbreak trail" around three parts. And even the word "trail" is a concession to military terminology and printable English.

At no time are foot-slogging doughboys less than one-third in the mud; most of the advances are made after struggling through mud up to the waist.

That's why it's understandable why the way that the entire operation is run. Albert H. Todd of Lincoln, Neb. What makes him so ambitious is that he is in charge of the only area means of getting food and supplies to the front lines. It's a "Yankee trail" that's half mile a day through mire impossible to any kind of vehicle.

New Film Pays Tribute to Ernie Pyle

Movie fans will see a realistic portrayal of the life of the late Ernie Pyle, famous war correspondent killed by a Jap sniper, in "The Story of G.I. Joe." These are stills from the film, in which Burgess Meredith plays the lead role. War correspondents in photo at left gather around Pyle as he writes his column at the front. Typical is the scene in which Ernie Pyle is characterized, right, parading of a G.I. snark during a lull in battle.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 3 (AP)—Ernie Pyle has lived again for his admirers in Ernie's column, and the American soldiers when the late war correspondent died.

Mrs. Mary Dill, the "Aunt Mary" who lived in Ernie's column, and William G. Pyle, Ernie's dad, saw an authentic showing of the movie, "Story of G. I. Joe" at Fort Benjamin Harrison. The GI audience reacted with typical enthusiasm.

"I lived those battles over again," said Pvt. Riley Tinslow, who figured in the famous Pyle story about the love of fighting men for their dead commander.

The highlight of the film was the scene of "Tinslow" holding the hand of a dead captain in Italy after he had been brought back from the front on a mule. The weary foot soldiers filing silently past their dead leader was a tribute to the Yanks.

"I think that Ernie would have liked the picture," Aunt Mary said. "When he was home last fall, he said that it was coming along fine."

"He didn't like war, and we had a letter the day he was killed that said he didn't like his last invasion. He won't see the picture, but I know that he would like it," she said.

Yank Shoots Way out as Parley Fails

MANILA, July 3 (AP)—A first cavalry division officer walked boldly into an enemy camp in the hills of central Luzon and talked 10 minutes with a Japanese colonel in an effort to induce him to surrender his men.

When Lt. Terrill R. Price, riding Park Pa., saw his effort was not succeeding he shot his way out with freedom with 45.

The surrender venture began when a POWman captured by Price's platoon told an interpreter he had 100 friends who would surrender if a lieutenant approached them.

With the interpreter and an interpreter, Price set off for the enemy lines with his fifteen bringing up the rear. An hour later the POWman said a Japanese emerged from the brush and told Price there were 60 Japanese on a small hill just ahead.

"My platoon was about 300 yards back and under cover," Price said. "The guerrilla interpreter and I went on alone."

"They carried out a barbed wire fence and through a hedgehog to face several uniformed Japanese in front of a small shack. A Japanese lieutenant stepped out of the shack with a gun in his hand. Two more followed him and a third rounded the corner of the shack.

"I told the lieutenant if he'd take command with the commanding officer we could get on with the surrender business. I told him the war had ended and that the Japanese were in the United States army hospital in England."

"The colonel and my interpreter talked 10 minutes and then the colonel walked away. My interpreter told me he had ordered two holes dug, perhaps our graves."

"Five or three Japs and aprinted back to the American lines."

Care of Your Children

Children love noise, excitement, activity and even confusion is joyful to them at times. When an adult insists upon imposing his idea of quiet upon the healthy active growing child, he wrongs the child because he checks his growth which lies in activity and in the noise that goes with action. Children have no manners. They are quick happy eating with their fingers, making loud sucking noises, when they spoon their soup equally joyful as they slurp down their milk. And they are not disappointed.

Tractor Case Goes to Combat Request May Mean Appeal

Court records in the case of Twin Falls County vs. W. H. Hubert are wanted immediately by the state...

Twin Falls County Attorney E. M. Sweeley contended that the county with a tractor to sell, should sell according to a request of Mrs. Jepperson...

"Whether the OPA will seek a review in the United States supreme court of the case, or take other steps, we do not know," Sweeley commented Tuesday.

The state information county officials have concerning the request for records in the telegram from the enforcement attorney which reads:

"The United States solicitor general requests that certified copies of all proceedings, including the entire record that went before the state supreme court, be sent to the state attorney general, Washington D. C. Time is limited. Please expedite."

Buhl Captain Is Raised to Major

BURLI, July 3.—Capt. John Sandmeyer, a surgeon with the medical corps stationed at the 40th General Hospital in France, has recently been promoted to the rank of major according to word received by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. Sandmeyer, 12th and 10th streets.

Major Sandmeyer had been over seas for about one year, and in the conflict for two years, during which general surgery branches, Major Sandmeyer has been doing a great deal of plastic surgery.

He is a former surgeon of Boston, Mass. where he was on the staff of a large hospital in that city.

Plans Completed for Annual Swim Campaign of Red Cross

Annual Red Cross swim campaign, sponsored by Twin Falls chapter, American Red Cross, will be held from July 12 to July 21 at Twin Falls municipal pool, James C. Brady, director.

Registration will be in charge of the Junior Red Cross, assisted by members of Beta Sigma Chapter, Daughters, Mrs. Alvin Dingledy, Jean Kline, Alton Speck, Maurine Doren and Barbara Johnson.

Clases will be conducted under the competent supervision of Red Cross-trained teachers—probably more, he added.

Shirley Howell with two years experience as an instructor for the local campaign, and Irene Meeks, the instructor of the Twin Falls and Mary Jane Chubb, who recently completed a training course at the Red Cross aquatic school at Como Springs, Utah, will be the teachers.

There will be classes for beginners, intermediate and advanced swimmers. Instruction will be given all aquatic training by recognition of 15 minutes of the swimmer's progress among the Red Cross instructors.

He pointed out that there is an increasing desire on the part of civilians throughout the country to learn to swim not merely for recreation but for their own safety and survival.

Before entering the air corps in 1941, he was on the staff of a large hospital in that city.

Reserved tickets for the four-day rodeo to be staged at the Jaycee ball park, beginning Wednesday, July 12, will be on sale until 10 p. m. today at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Official of the sheriff's mounted posse and Frontier Riding club said the posse will include the members of Commerce office from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m. on Wednesday for the sale of tickets.

Section of approximately 600 or more services—both for men and women—is filled, half-price tickets will be sold to the members of the posse for other parts of the grounds.

Other food racks include boys, fourth and fifth grades, girls, fourth and fifth grades, boys and girls, third to eighth grades, boys' three aged and girls' three aged racks, all ages, boy's sack race, wheelchair race, and novelty clothing race, tree races.

More, Thinks This Admiral

OORONADO, Calif., July 3 (AP)—The Japanese fleet made its final formal salute charge soon after Okinawa was invaded, and today has virtually no effective fighting power left, Admiral George H. B. S. Henderson, commander of an escort carrier task unit, said in an interview today.

The officer spent three years overseas and is at the Coronado home on leave. He was executive officer to Vice-Adm. Marc A. Mitscher when the latter was commander of the carrier Battle Group during the Okinawa raid on April 1, 1945.

Interception by task force 38 planes of the Jap battleship, cruisers and destroyers which steamed south Okinawa led to such destruction that today the Japs have left "only a few destroyers, two or three cruisers, and some old capital ships," Henderson said.

His advice, however, that despite this calamity, and the loss by Japan of vital natural resources, the war will last at least two more years. "We'll have to hunt them out and kill them one by one, and that may mean about 100,000 Japs of the military force," he said.

Spiritual Chapels Necessary As Bridges to Fighting Yanks

By JEAN DIMICKLACKER
Somehow the Philippines stands a regimental chapel—until it has been destroyed by Japs and shell.

It has been dedicated "for the reform social workers till all men learn to live together in peace."

The chapel, built by the 112th engineers, central service region, under direction of the commanding officer, Lieut.-Col. Elmer Jones, and his staff, was dedicated at special services Sunday morning, June 3.

It is a masterpiece of the materials that were constructed. The framework is of bamboo. There are also bamboo benches for the soldiers and Nips alike.

The chapel is a pretty nice job, and will hold about 400 men. Colonel Jones wrote his mother, Mrs. Jessie May Jones, Twin Falls.

All Fitch is half-world away from home, the fighting men in the regiment gathered one Sunday at 9 a. m. to dedicate the chapel of worship "to the glory of God, whose blessings have come to us."

Among those blessings are the lives of the men of the regiment who have not been killed or captured by the enemy.

This chapel is but one of hundreds over the surface of the globe which Americans in uniform have erected "for worship in prayer and song; for the preaching of the Word; for the celebration of the Sacraments."

It has been dedicated for many things, according to the service of dedication program which Colonel Jones sent to his mother, the chapel in that outpost of the Pacific.

Symbol of Mankind
These things include: "The comfort to those who mourn; for strength to those who are tempted; for increase in courage and wisdom."

"For the purification of the home; for the leading of every child to the knowledge and love of God."

"For sharing the lot with the needy; for the essential unity of all men in Jesus Christ."

"For the building of character; for the technique of morality, temperance and justice."

"For missionary endeavor at home and abroad; for world-wide evangelistic education, till all the kingdoms of the world become the Kingdom of our Lord."

Blessings spiritual needs
Army engineers recognize the importance of building roads, emplacements and other construction required by moving, conquering military units.

They have come to recognize, too, the importance of providing spiritual sanctuary for the weary, lonely, harassed serviceman.

And because "there are no atheists

Only 16, She Jujitsu 180 Pound Man

LOS ANGELES, July 3 (AP)—A 16-year-old girl today applied a jujitsu hold on a 180-pound sandlot fighter, tossed him into the air and slammed him—kerplunk!—right in the middle of Judge Frank Carrel's courtroom floor.

The girl, Margaret Tarleton, had the husky Douglas McLean, 29, arrested on assault charges. She claimed that while taking her home on his motorcycle a week ago, he attempted to force his attentions upon her.

On that occasion, she said, she threw McLean with a similar hold, then fled.

McLean pish-popped her claim, telling officers: "If a slip of a girl like that can throw me, I'll plead guilty."

Today Judge Carrel ordered the girl to demonstrate.

"That's just how I did it last week, your honor," she told the court as McLean sheepishly picked himself up off the courtroom floor.

McLean didn't plead guilty, and the judge took the matter under advisement.

Idahoans Face Big Assignment

Difference in Cigarettes Is Found Slight

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—The show today through an agriculture department witness that there is little difference in the effects on smokers produced by various popular brands of cigarettes.

FPO officials said P. Lottier and company failed to have attorneys at today's hearings, a continuation of hearing which started recently in New York on the basis of complaints that the company misrepresented in connection with the sale of "Dial" cigarettes.

Dr. C. D. Wright, the agriculture department expert, testified for the commission seeking to show that the differences in nicotine content among the popular brands were so slight as to be insignificant so far as any effect on the throat was concerned.

Dr. Wright's testimony was technical but officials said it was intended to clarify "rumors" that there was more than a nominal difference in nicotine content among most brands.

Buhl Private Is Given Army Honor

WASHINGTON AIR FORCE SERVICE COMMAND UNIT, Germany—(AP) laurel leaf insignia signifying duty with a meritorious service unit has been awarded to Pfc. Frank H. Buhl.

He is a veteran member of the 122nd quartermaster company, 8th Air Force, which has been commended by Brig. Gen. Myron H. Wood, commanding general, 8th Air Force service command, "for performance of exceptionally difficult tasks and superior performance of normal duties in England and liberated countries of Europe."

The quartermaster company is part of a mobile air service team which maintained, repaired, supplied aircraft and equipment from pre-invasion to V-E day, for the famous "Hell Hawk" fighter group. It is currently awaiting reassignment.

Overseas 18 months, Private Hatti has served continuously at advanced bronze battle stars for participation in the Normandy, northern France and Germany campaigns. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hatti, route three, Buhl.

Last Rites Held For Hailey Man

HAILEY, July 3—Funeral services were held for John Sumner-Hailey at the Catholic church in Hailey, the Rev. Father David of Blomhous officiating.

Mr. Sumner-Hailey was rarely known by the name of "John." To many he was "Bottle" because he carried a Scotch-Canadian, having been born in Ottawa, Canada, on Oct. 18, 1882. To many others he was known as "captain." This name was acquired when he led a company of volunteers in protecting the citizens of North Dakota from Indians during the raid in that part of the country in 1877. He came to the United States in the year 1877 and was married at Grand Forks, N. D., in April, 1881.

He came west and settled on Wood river, where he had remained since by occupation he was a sheepherder, having worked for Harold Blankenship, the late George Brooks and other shepherds in this part of the country. He was a member of the Catholic church.

He came to the Hailey clinical hospital several weeks ago.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. at St. Pagan's, St. Pagan's, Morris J. Welch, John Seymour and Harold Blankenship burial was in the Hailey cemetery.

Private Licenses Given Two Fliers

JEROME, July 3—Howard Bird and Elmer Hoffman, both members of the Jerome flying club, were recently awarded their private pilot licenses, after a routine inspection of Clarence Rega, civil aeronautics inspector. Both club members now have their private pilot licenses, the first being Fred Stumpf, of Fred's Auto Service, Jerome.

It is anticipated that several more members will apply next month for their licenses.

Become Citizens In Idaho Brewery

SHOSHONE, July 3—Those receiving naturalization papers in disbursement today were: Gregoria Bibbo, Pedro Aguir, Shoshone; Permin Ohnanda, Ketchum; Marjorie Jensen, Emmett; Carl Glednickie, and Andrew Schlander, Hailey.

Colonel Jones, whose military service record includes a longtime affiliation with the Idaho national guard, is a former faculty member of Twin Falls high school.

Interest Bought In Idaho Brewery

SHOSHONE, July 3—William Scherer, who is Fossilville distributor for the East Idaho brewery, has bought an interest in the concern, becoming the fourth largest stockholder.

He said that the firm now has 32 employes and a 25,000 barrel capacity yearly. In the past three years $20,000 in improvements have been made.
