Japan's Offer Starts Wild Celebrations

(From Page One)
Radio reports that Tokyo had said Japan would accept the Potsdam terms. They fired off guns and flares. Cheers accompanied the city. Men yelled and beat on buckets. They hammered one another's backs shouting:
"The war's over."
News that the Japanese had accepted the Potsdam terms had been in the air since the machine guns opened up. Bells were falling everywhere.
"Let somebody's gun get lost," they said.

But nobody did. The Yanks were certain they were going home soon and the news was the ultimate realization ever seen in the western Pacific.

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 10.—News that Japan had accepted the Potsdam terms of unconditional surrender today at this mid-Pacific city with its 100,000 people, suddenly three years, eight months and three days ago.

The first report that Tokyo had broadcast a peace request was received here in the middle of the night when most of the city was asleep. But it didn't take the city long to awaken.

The initial salute was one of spontaneous joy. It gradually gave way to jubilation and in the case of thousands of army, navy and merchant seamen it was a long and noisy holiday.

At Hickam field, the army air base, adjacent Pearl Harbor, a celebration started. GIs and shopkeepers and whooping sailors soon joined by the WACS. Celebrations moved into the streets and the bands and the dancing started in front of the hangar line. Trucks and cars loaded with yelling soldiers and sailors sped through the streets.

At Pearl Harbor, the navy yard was quiet. There was scant celebration. But the sailors who got up were ordered back to duty.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—An air of tense expectancy dominated New York city millions today as they awaited official announcement of the end of the Pacific war.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (AP)—A million cars crowded the streets of Chicago today.

Trucks bulging with American soldiers roamed the packed streets. The soldiers were being fed by every Chinese dog enough to starve.

The news that Japan said it would accept the Potsdam terms was received in Chicago at 8 p. m. It caught the city completely by surprise.

There was no official Chinese government reaction.

Only emergency beds were available at the Twin Falls county general hospital.

Keep the White Flag of Safety Flying

"Framed," He Says Soviets Push 100 Miles to Take Hailor

one forward base on the Chinese railway. He said the diatribe ahead was the difficult Takshan Shan range which cuts the Chinese main line and runs south toward Peiping in China.

He said the Russians struck from the maritime provinces to protect their important railway at base of Vladivostok, the Russians also were making steady progress from Khabarovsk and came to the town of Harbin, rail head of Manchuria 400 miles distant.

Moscow dispatches said the weight of the Russian attack in the north was not only being developed, and this offensive from Khabarovsk to reach only the perimeter of strong bases anywhere to the south between Khabarovsk and Vladivostok.

This indicated that Tokyo's report that the Russians had "crossed front" was likely to be confirmed by Moscow shortly. The Korean front was a strategic position of a long and bloody Soviet-Japanese clash in 1928, 30 miles north of Chungking.

An imperial headquarters communique broadcast from Tokyo by radio said this invasion was in the vicinity of Keeloo, about 20 miles north of Chungking.

The invasion of Japan's half of Sakhalin Island was at several points along the Baulic frontier, Tokyo announced.

Bombardments at Bunka and Khabarovsk were reported. The southern half of this island, which is called Karafuto by the Japanese, was awarded to them as a result of the treaty of Portsmouth in 1895.

Victims in Fight
Moscow dispatches said 275 million of the war with Germany, veterans of previous clashes with the Japanese in 1904 and 1905 were sent to Manchuria with rifles and shotguns.

Strong points were smashed by typical Russian artillery barrages, or "barrages."

Huge fires were declared left burning in supply dumps, warehouses and railway stations by the air force bombing of Harbin, including the Manchurian capital, Kirin, and the city of Jiamusi, the two Korean ports of Tsushin and Suifu.

A Chinese army spokesman in Chungking declared the Japanese were being met by the Chinese volunteers back to Manchuria from north China. He estimated Japanese strength at 100,000 men, 200 tanks, 100 aircraft and 200,000 puppets troops.

Atomic Bomb Plant Worker Morale Soars

By Dave James
 RICHLAND, WASH., Aug. 10 (AP)—Discouraged that they were making the heaviest explosive waste handling in the world, plant workers here today are enthusiastic about their mysterious job.

The Atomic Plant manager, Walter O. Blinn, of the DuPont de Nemours and company said today, "Workers here are the men who are responsible for making the materials that fill the new bomb, morale soars."

Blinn said one group of workmen have taken a vote and pledged "never to complain again."

Security regulations have closed out all details about the actual conditions within the atomic energy plant, and the processed product is never seen by the workers who actually make it. Blinn said the employees feel no danger of being "wiped out" by ingredients which have the Japanese pleading for "humane internment."

"We have it under control and risks here are no greater than within the average factory," he said. "We haven't had any type of injury since production began last February."

He said Du Pont would make a profit of just $1 from the $350,000,000 operation.

Sure-Enough Station Agent

Just about the country's remotest railroad station agent is 47-year-old Arnold Herzig, above, of Blomington, Ill. His school superintendent, Mr. Herzig was made agent at the Tonica station of the Illinois Central, to replace the vacationing regular agent. Arnold treated the Morse code and other railroad depot chores at a tower station after school hours.

Lieut. Larsen Killed With Man He Heroically Saved From Sea

By a strange quirk of fate the man Lieut. Charles Larsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Larsen, 811 Spokane street north, saved from death on April 8, lived to die with him in the ready room of the aircraft carrier Bunker Hill on May 11, according to an article by Herman Edwards, appearing recently in the Portland Oregonian, Lieutenant Larsen and Lieut. Gilbert E. Roberts, McMinnville, Ore., were among pilots of the Fighting 44th, the fighter plane squadron of the Bunker Hill.

When it steamed out from Pearl Harbor to join Admiral Mitscher's task force 50 to Hainan, it was on May 10 that Lieut. Larsen was shot down when task force 50 shelled and bombed the island of Hainan. The Bunker Hill was at two times on the 10th, but when the marines landed on the island they began hitting Okinawa. Lieut. Larsen and Lieut. Roberts were 300 miles from the Bunker Hill on a search mission April 8, when they sighted a freighter and made a run on it. Roberts was hit by anti-aircraft fire and was forced to land in the water.

Larsen checked him until he could get in touch with a rescue plane. When a P-51 reached Roberts, Larsen checked back to the Bunker Hill. He wished his legs held him on the return trip, which he landed on Hainan. The task force was slugging at Okinawa, and the Jap aerial oppo-was pointed out, even though the local Jaycees were the tournament themselves. It needed a substantial profit to the club, which the committee estimated would provide a fund for the entire season's softball program.

It was announced that the Jaycees had been given exclusive concession rights in its grandstands during the 15 months club rode to be held Sept. 13 to 15 inclusive. Appointment of these concessionaires was to be made later in the week by the board.

The Jaycees have been given entire charge of the Kangaroo court in connection with the rodeo, in enforcing the wearing of bright shirts and cowboy hats from Aug. 23 until the close of the rodeo. Plans are now being made to make it all advisable for anyone to be on the streets during the above period if not dressed in proper cowboy attire.

Grim Truman Threat Given Shaky Japan

The conference resulted in no secret military action from Truman's decision to join the Pacific conference.

Japan First
The President said that American proposals and objectives dominate the Potsdam party, and chief among those objectives, he added, is the complete and unqualified surrender of Japan.

Will Acquire Bases
High up in his 30-minute address the President said he intends to acquire all the military bases it needs for future America and world security.

Through the United States wants no territory or profits of colonies, he declared, "we are going to win the complete protection of our interests and of world peace."

He emphasized that the bases would be the American flag in a manner "consistent with the United Nations charter."

Reaffirming the country's determination to fight distress and starvation in Europe, Mr. Truman reiterated that the United States will not help to the limits of our strength," he said.

Nazis Had This Up Their Sleeve, too

Japan Offers to Surrender if Emperor Can Keep His Place

This Tokyo broadcast was received by the Associated Press from an English-language wireless transmission to the United States. The broadcast came shortly after Truman announced that Japan was protesting the main Japanese channels of the United States' use of atomic bombs, and coincided with news of the Tokyo-Berlin talks.

It would mean the end of hostilities if the emperor, he said, would renounce his position as God and become a mere mortal.

Topsoil Loss In This Area Told to Club

In Twin Falls county, 94 per cent of the farm land has lost one-quarter of its topsoil, said Luther Jones, district soil conservation officer.

Another survey made by his office showed that one-quarter of the topsoil is gone from 64 per cent of Jersey county farm land. Both figures are based on a topsoil of virgin land, Jones said.

The federal government gives support to organized soil conservation districts, he said. Idaho now has 14 such areas. For this county, Jones said his office had written individual farm plans, most of which were based on the contour tillage conservation method.

Thirteen to 15 inches of topsoil are lost each year in the county, Jones said.

W. O. Smith, chairman of the agricultural committee, said the Twin Falls club was again offering a war bond party to 4-21 and JFA participants on the Piler Junior.

Atomic Force Greater Than Gravitation

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—One million times greater force of gravitation is the calculated value of the atomic force which the atomic bomb produces. Presumably trapped in a small degree of gravitation, the atomic force force is so terrific, unless the atomic force is bigger.

The million-fold gravitation was made before the war by Dr. Gregory Birkhoff of the University of Chicago. It was based partly on observations at Chicago and partly on the explanation of an apparently new force of attraction, which exists only so far as known, in the centers of atoms.

Gravitation's force reaches out over vast spaces. The terrific atomic force appears to be almost wholly contained within the nucleus, or heart, of each atom.

Difficult to imagine
That nucleus is the hot scientists topped with the gravitation forming the atomic bomb. It is difficult enough for them to imagine the effect of the small size of an atom. But this atomic force exists in a force exceeding that of gravitation.

A uranium atom's diameter is calculated to be a half of a thousandth of an inch. The space between atoms is a space estimated at 100,000 times smaller. The space between atoms is a space estimated at 100,000 times smaller. The space between atoms is a space estimated at 100,000 times smaller.

Now comes the almost fantastic part of the picture, which nevertheless is well verified in the physical books.

100,000 Times Smaller
This is a lot to make him forget the holiday season of 1944 because those Yale days were no more than a nightmare to the engineer-gunner of a Marauder bomber after his ship was shot down over Germany on Dec. 23.

He eluded the nets for five days before he was liberated. He was taken to a prisoner of war camp on Dec. 28. After that he just existed.

It was on May 1—almost the end of the war—before he was liberated. Russian troops stormed the camp and freed Werner along with other American and allied prisoners.

The staff sergeant was returned to the United States recently and is now spending the last half of a day furlough visiting in Twin Falls. He will report to a California army camp Sept. 1 for reassignment.

Ex-Prisoner

Sgt. Leonard Werner

... is home for a furlough with his father, Robert F. Werner, route three, Twin Falls, after being liberated from a Nazi prison camp by the Russians a few days before Germany fell. (Staff contributor)

Every day is Christmas for Sgt. Leonard Werner, 21, son of Robert F. Werner, route three, Twin Falls. It'll be a lot to make him forget the holiday season of 1944 because those Yale days were no more than a nightmare to the engineer-gunner of a Marauder bomber after his ship was shot down over Germany on Dec. 23.

He eluded the nets for five days before he was liberated. He was taken to a prisoner of war camp on Dec. 28. After that he just existed.

It was on May 1—almost the end of the war—before he was liberated. Russian troops stormed the camp and freed Werner along with other American and allied prisoners.

The staff sergeant was returned to the United States recently and is now spending the last half of a day furlough visiting in Twin Falls. He will report to a California army camp Sept. 1 for reassignment.

Thomas Asks Furloughs to Aid Farmers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Sen. John Thomas, R. Ida., asked in a letter to Secretary of War Simon today that the war department grant furloughs to United States citizens in farm work in lieu of actual discharge, to insure top soldiers the best of production.

The letter was made public by office attaches of the Idaho senator who has been under treatment at the Bethesda, Md., naval hospital for several months. Members of the staff said Thomas is doing well and is expected home soon.

Hutchinson, a professional rodeo man, presents shows at Burley and Pocatello each year, in addition to his engagements as numerous other out-of-state shows.

The rodeo will complete the county 4-H fair week which is scheduled for Sept. 11 and 12. Work of preparing for the district 4-H fair will begin Sept. 13. The district event will be held Sept. 14 and 15, coinciding with the date of the rodeo. The fair attractions will complete the activities during the day while the rodeo will feature the night entertainment. A carnival also has been arranged for both day and night, officials said today.

Workers are now engaged in preparation of the event and are building the corals and chutes, equipment being delivered to the fairgrounds, including lighting equipment and poles which are soon to be installed. It is expected that the seating capacity, greatly enlarged after war, is completed at the grandstands, will be 8,000.

The three night events will be:

War Action Zone 15 Hours Ahead Of Local Time

By the Associated Press
Battle action in the Pacific is largely centered in a zone 15 hours ahead of mountain war time. This belt covers a region from east central Siberia across Manchuria, Korea, Japan, the Marianas, western New Guinea and central Australia.

By the combination of international date line, calendar and clock, the American newspaper reader often has read of action which occurred before the hour was reached on his own time piece.

Long Way to Go for Equal Freight Rate

By VIRGINIA VAN DER MEER
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—They have a major victory under their belts, but the south and mid-west still have a long road to travel toward their goal of freight rate equality with the industrial east.

More than two months ago, the interstate commerce commission made railroad history with its order for uniform freight classification from coast to coast and uniform class rates east of the Rocky mountains.

No one least of all the commission, expected instant, docile obedience. A year, maybe two, maybe more, would be needed to narrow the nation's highly complex class rate and classification structure.

As for class rates, the order today is exactly where it was May 19 except for two thick files of objections, raised by railroads, government and states north of the Mason-Dixon line from California to Maine.

Classification fared better. Railroads in northern, southern and western territories led the commission when they would undertake to call a spade a spade and a radio set a radio set from coast to coast. It would take a long time.

The job at least, is under way. Class rates are the charges governing some 20,000 articles—less than 10 per cent of the nation's freight load. For years, the same articles have travelled as different
