Raging Fires and Hurricane Threat Grip Floridians in Night of Anxiety

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 15 (AP)—More than 200 persons were reported injured tonight in a fire at the Richmond blimp base. Extent of the disaster was kept hidden by ripped communication lines, flooded roads and washed out bridges.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 15 (AP)—Hurricane winds of 143 M.P.H. and a fire that impelled the giant Richmond blimp base 30 miles from Miami gripped thousands of south Florida residents in a night of anxiety and terror tonight as the storm swept inland over the Everglades.

At 8:30 p. m. (MWT) the zone of the storm was reported extending approximately 50 miles west southwest of Miami over the blades, with a tendency to curve slowly northward later in the night.

The entire Florida peninsula was expected to be affected as the hurricane moved on after blasting the Florida keys, damaging scores of hundreds of homes and registering an official 90 m.p.h. in Miami itself.

Two big fires, whipped by the tremendous winds to areas 1000 ft. or more high, raged in the hurricane zone tonight. One was reported burning in three hangars at the Richmond blimp base 30 miles from Miami—the largest hangar in the world—and another blaze at a block of buildings was being fought by firemen on the fringe of downtown Miami.

An unconfirmed report said 47,000,000 worth of navy and private planes, shifted from the Miami area to the hurricane-proof Fort Lauderdale blimp base, were endangered by the fire there.

An advisory board by the weather bureau at 10 p. m. (MWT) "Extend hurricane warnings 5 p. m. of Florida peninsula to include Miami for last of September. The severe hurricane is central over the Florida Everglades 60 miles west of Miami, attended by winds of full hurricane force.

"High winds are reported at Miami was 99 m.p.h. "It is apparently moving northward toward the coast with a tendency toward a slow northward curve which will probably result in a definite northward movement while still over Florida, after emerging a short distance out in the Gulf of Mexico. This movement will cause the storm to affect all of peninsula Florida and adjacent water area.

Two More Reported Safe

JULIUS G. PETERSON (Staff Engraving) ARTHUR GRIFFITH

WENDELL, Sept. 15.—On the navy department's missing list since Jan. 15, 1941, Julius Grant Peterson, submarine radioman second class, was liberated from a Japanese prison camp by American forces.

News of his liberation came in a cable from him to his mother, Mrs. Lon Peterson, and his sister, Mrs. Nelson King, Wendell.

The cable said: "Was rescued by Americans. Am fine. Will be home soon."

Peterson was radioman on the submarine Sculpin when he was reported missing in action. No official word had ever followed the original missing report but the navy department, in October of 1944, told of a ship propaganda broadcast in which Peterson said he was fine and wished "the girls" to be released.

He enlisted in the navy in 1940, in October, 1941, he was assigned to the USS Holland on which he served until October, 1941, as radioman. He then transferred to the submarine Sculpin on which he was chief radioman.

Other members of his family in the U.S. are James Peterson, navy radioman at Brooklyn, N. Y.; ST. Joe Avena Lena Gilmore, in the U.S. Army at San Diego, Calif.; Miss Mae Peterson, WAVE for two years now discharged; Ira Lou Peterson, who has just completed cadet work training at Fitzhugh Army hospital, Denver.

38 Injured When Fire Engine Hits Over-Jammed Bus LANSING, Mich., Sept. 15 (AP)—At least 38 persons were injured today when a city fire engine, attempting to pass a stalled bus, struck it, according to a report from the city health department.

First reports indicated that only one passenger, an unidentified 12-year-old girl, was injured so critically that she might die. Witnesses said the bus was so crowded that it was impossible for the driver, Everett G. W. Green, to see to his right. They estimated that 60 persons were jammed into the bus, which had a seating capacity of only 35.

TRAPPED IN TROUBLE CLEVELAND, Sept. 15 (AP)—Eight men and two women were being held in a bus which had stalled today after they were trapped in a burning and pliosite-filled car. The bus had stalled on a main thoroughfare and was being towed by a fire truck.

Many passengers on the crowded car fell as the bus was being towed away. The plastic crashed into a honk-off, killed it instantly, and bounced upward to crash-half a mile away.

GOPs Ask Action to End Draft

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—House Republicans are mounting a drive to force congress to do something about ending the draft and getting men out of uniform faster.

They expect a lot of support from the Democrats in tackling what promises to be one of the hottest issues in many years.

Disaffected with failure of the house military committee to do something to speed up discharges, Republicans under the leadership of Rep. A. L. Miller of Nebraska are drafting a discharge petition to force a discharge.

A discharge petition is a procedure by which legislation bottled up in committee can be brought to the floor for a vote if 218 members acquire a writing.

Miller has asked Chairman Wm. D. R. V. of the military committee to take up the discharge bill to permit immediate discharge upon application of a man who has been a prisoner of war or who has been in the service two years.

He has served notice that unless the committee acts within thirty days, he will file a discharge petition.

He also offered proposals to discharge all fathers and men with dependents who are pending before the committee.

Miller said members of congress were getting more mail on discharges than on anything else, and the issue promised to be one of the most important during the 1946 congressional elections.

Revision in War Offices Is Expected Kansas City, Sept. 15 (AP)—President Truman said today that he will not request any more changes in the war department of his press conference next week in Washington.

He made the statement shortly after the first of an eight-day conference he could give a better answer to any question relating to the war department.

There have been persistent rumors that Henry H. Stimson, secretary of war, is anxious to retire and that the president is considering that of Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff.

Mr. Truman also disclosed: "That he will look into labor disputes in Washington but that he has no intimate knowledge of the situation in which he looks a leading part in the central government."

He added, however, that Rustan G. Parrish, director of the War Relocation Authority, had left the committee out of the picture.

He is Tony Papatheodorakou, a native-born Greek, who had been in the United States since 1923. He was appointed a few days ago as high commissioner to the Philippines and is expected to leave for Manila in a few days.

He said he had no comment on that.

UAW to Shoot the Works If Needed for Wage Raise; Idle List Reaches 218,000

The number of idle through work stoppages in major labor disputes in the nation rose to 218,000 yesterday (Saturday), as the CIO-United Automobile Workers announced its decision to petition for a strike vote among 325,000 workers in 135 General Motors plants.

The CIO-UAW announcement following closely a shut down order at the Ford Motor company plants, said General Motors had been singled out as the "most strategic spot" to launch the union's drive for a 30 per cent wage increase. To spark the industry-wide campaign, the union has set aside $4,000,000.

"We are ready to shoot the works to obtain our economic objectives," UAW officials said. "We are prepared to use our whole reserve funds, but we will not be forced to win our battle by higher wages."

"We sincerely hope that no strike will be necessary," said Walter Reuther, a UAW-CIO vice-president and chairman of the union's General Motors division.

Ford company officials ordered shutdown of their plants in the Detroit area because of supply shortages. The shutdown order made some 50,000 workers idle.

The largest single continuing labor dispute, involving 41,000 Washington Electric Corp. workers in western Washington, is expected to shut down two unions on the 13,000 clerical workers.

Involved in the unions dispute were the International Brotherhood of Radio and Machine Workers of America and the Association of Western Electric Employees.

The Ford plants were closed yesterday for lack of supplies from other strike-bound factories, and Ford executives predicted no loss when their plants resume production. A strike lasting 10,000 hours would cost the company $10 million.

Henry Ford No. 24, executive vice-president of the Ford Motor company, said the plants would not be able to get the new cars onto the market because of strikes at supply factories. Ford said the reconstruction program in Ford plants was otherwise on schedule.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—The sharp decline in nearly two months as growing labor discontent throughout the nation inspired extension of Friday's liquidation. While offerings were exceptionally urgent, losses ranged from $1 to more than $2 for leading stocks and rails.

The closed Press-Bostock average dropped 1 1/2 at $68.12. Transfers of $50,000 were made in Washington last Saturday. Bonds generally retreated along with principal commodities.

"WOULD RAISE STOCK" NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the United States Steel corporation, commented on demands of the American Steelworkers of America (A.S.A.) for a 42 a day wage increase, said that no wage increase was possible without higher prices for steel.

He said the union demand would mean an average increase in direct cost of at least $4 a ton.

'Death March' Homma Gives Self to Army

TOKYO, Sept. 15 (AP)—Lieut.-Gen. Masaharu Homma of Italian "death march" infamy and three other suspected war criminals surrendered to U. S. military forces tonight and were locked up in Yokohama prison.

The notorious commander of Japanese Philippines invasion, who fessed wrong to find his name on General MacArthur's list of possible war criminals, was forced to face court martial.

With Homma were Lieut.-Gen. Shigeo Kuroda, his successor in the Philippines, and three other prisoners on MacArthur's "wanted" list: Col. Kinzo Hashimoto, a Dutch Dragon society leader who ordered the bombing of the U. S. submarine USS T-37, and Yoshitaka Ueda, suspected secret leader of the Imperialist Geo-political bureau.

Adm. Shiro Shimada, former navy minister who ordered the attack on Pearl Harbor, and possibly other war criminals, were already ready were confined in Yokohama prison pending court martial.

After spending three hours in the police station, Homma and Kuroda signed a statement in U. S. upon the arrival of American forces at the headquarters of the U. S. eighth army in Japan.

The soldiers sent word up to the second floor of the police station that they had signed the statement and that Homma came downstairs.

"Jail" snarled Kuroda in contempt for his destination as he walked down the stairs.

Homma previously had told interviewers that he would accept the terms of the Japanese capitulation, but he had not raised over the "rock."

The death march he had ordered in the Philippines, in which American and Japanese troops were taken prisoner, was a "hell" for the Japanese guards. He said, "I don't think it was such a tough march."

But in an interview Homma said he was ready to "take full responsibility for the acts of his subordinates."

Beet Crop Predicted At Record $3,000,000

Twin Falls and the other Magic Valley counties of this area will produce their greatest beet harvest in history this season—a $3,000,000 crop.

Harry A. Elcock, district manager of the Amalgamated Sugar company here, made this estimate Saturday after an inspection of fields and a check of company records.

He said the yield this year will exceed by $1,000,000 the big wartime crop of 1944. Elcock estimated that the crop would produce 100,000,000 pounds of sugar.

A few more months are needed at this time here and in the Magic Valley, he said, but generally speaking the labor situation is satisfactory.

These figures were based on a survey of the Magic Valley counties. The beet plant will open Oct. 3 or 4 and the Twin Falls plant on Oct. 10 or 11.

The firm's potato plant at Burley opened last Monday.

All public buildings including schools, police stations, post offices and drug stores were thrown open as emergency storm shelters in virtually every south Florida city. Hundreds were under cover in these some late arrivals bedlam and soaking wet.

The Lake Okechobee region, scene of Florida's greatest hurricane in 1928 when some 2,000 persons were killed, was included in the area in which the grim red-and-black warnings were hoisted.

Storm forecasters sought further information which would bring the dangerous winds to a halt. Winds have reached 150 miles velocity at Twin Falls in the Bahamas yesterday - closer to Miami.

Witness — Key witness in the congressional Pearl Harbor inquiry will probably be retired Admiral Admiral Richardson, C. K. They were among our leading naval authorities on the far east, they sat through the war on the sidelines in Washington.

Another spectacular feat-achiever could be Adm. Thomas C. Hart, once the commander of our Asiatic Squadron and a Republican senator from Connecticut.

Admiral Tausig should be an important figure in the months to come. He made a speech describing our weakness on the water and declaring that Japan would be no pushover, naval-wise. He was immediately purged from his job and observed the conflict, although he probably knew the Japanese military situation better than any other officer then in service from his home near Newport News, Va. He paid the penalty for talking too much and too frankly.

But Richardson has the complete, inside story. If the congressional investigators will force him to talk, he will undoubtedly tell. He happened to be the naval commander of the fleet which was directed at any moment. He was one of the few men in the navy department who tested that our diplomatic effort in the war was an inevitable, hard battle showdown.

THE TRUMAN APPROACH

The program for pacemaking prosperity which President Truman presented to congress could scarcely be called atomic. Yet it was a bit of a bombshell which touched off national explosions. Its effect would surely be felt in new ways and in new places for months to come. And the extent to which it is followed, altered or abandoned by congress will have a decisive effect upon our country.

The program is secretly an air-tight, copper-riveted plan, charting undeviating and uncompromising courses toward a multitude of goals. Thus it can't safely be hailed or cursed in its entirety. Nor is there space to give detailed consideration to all its points. So perhaps it may be enough for the moment to comment upon the program's general outline.

This was Mr. Truman's first pacemaking message to congress. It included a continuation and even extension of some long-cherished policies toward a multitude of goals. Thus it can't safely be hailed or cursed in its entirety. Nor is there space to give detailed consideration to all its points. So perhaps it may be enough for the moment to comment upon the program's general outline.

It is not unlikely that some of congress's most vigorous and new ideas will be surely be felt in new ways and in new places for months to come. And the extent to which it is followed, altered or abandoned by congress will have a decisive effect upon our country.

Take, for example, his request for passage of the full employment bill. He has made the role of government and government spending, the measure's core of controversy. He emphasized government's "ultimate" duty to use all available resources to maintain full employment.

"Full employment," said Mr. Truman, "means full opportunity for all under the American economic system—nothing more and nothing less. It means that every man, woman or child has the opportunity to work, or making peace work. . . . Full employment means opportunity to reduce the ratio of public spending to private investment."

Probably some opponents of the Murray-Wagner full employment bill felt a little more kindly toward it after reading Mr. Truman's remarks.

None of this comment is intended to accuse Mr. Truman of hypocrisy or deception. His record thus far shows that he has a way of saying what he means. It is evident that, though he rightly claims his power and responsibility, he does not regard himself as the final authority. His nature seems to welcome the achievement of objectives by common and friendly cooperation. That is a trait for which the country may reason to be grateful in the future.

A MEDAL FOR MR. HOPKINS

A lot of people in this country don't like Harry Hopkins. A lot more don't know precisely what he has done for the country during the past decade. But we imagine there are few who would begrudge him his recent honor.

Mr. Hopkins has been awarded the distinguished service medal for "services of outstanding value to the United States of America from December, 1941, to July, 1945."

He helped disburse the fruits of American war production, he presided over the munitions administration board, and engineered, presumably delicate negotiations as head of the President's Soviet protocol committee.

After Mr. Roosevelt's death he put himself at President Truman's disposal at the same time, and it seems safe to say, helped break some of the dams of Russian opposition which for a time threatened to wreck the San Francisco conference.

Through most of these activities Mr. Hopkins was a very sick man. He wasn't a rich man and he received a relatively modest annual salary. He has retired from his semi-public life which has been a great deal of public service. But he stuck to the jobs assigned him by two Presidents. And the first public recognition of his service to the nation is undoubtedly deserved.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGGER'S AIRGIE

NEW YORK—Harold Laski, once of Harvard, and now secretary of the labor party, which has just been elected in Britain, seems to misunderstand the equation between the American and British people.

Gossett Asks More Liberal Relief Plans

BOISE, Sept. 15 (AP)—Gov. Charles C. Gossett will forward the federal security bond Saturday to determine whether Idaho old age assistance payments may be liberalized.

The governor said that under the existing practice a case worker visits all old age assistance recipients every month and determines whether the recipient has helped himself by gardening or odd jobs.

In the event he has received such income his next monthly payment is reduced in a comparable amount.

Dangling 400 Feet on Rope Alongside Glacier—It Was No Picnic Reaching Alaska Plane Wreckage

By JACK ROTTIER
Dangling a rope from a plane as it was lowered by a hoist in 40 degrees below zero was just "part of the job" to reach the wreckage of a C-47 which had crashed in the mountains, said T/4 Sgt. Van Ballantyne, returning from the Alaskan.

Sergeant Ballantyne was the first of a rescue expedition to reach a troop transport which had the aid of an unusual glider, one near Mt. McKinley, with 10 soldiers aboard. The ship was on route to the States and the soldiers were enjoying a short furlough.

Volunteer Searchers
When a report reached Ft. Richardson that a plane had gone down in the mountains a rescue expedition was organized immediately.

Camped at Glacier Head
Driving the bulldozer, Sergeant Ballantyne opened a road to Wonder lake which became their first camp. From there they made their way to Cache lake which was 14 miles distant.

By this time the temperature had plummeted to 40 degrees below zero and a blizzard had stopped operations. However, after three days the rescue party, now composed of 11 men, received its supplies dropped by planes.

Wife of Two Husbands Has No Comment

TWIN FALLS, Sept. 15 (AP)—While her No. 2 husband took the position that the entangled marital status of Mrs. Vaudie Richards Shaw Madden, 23, was "no concern of the public," his attractive wife refused to discuss complications created by the return of her first mate "from the dead."

She, Dwight L. Shaw, first husband of the former Salt Lake general hospital nurse, was recently liberated from the Japanese prison camp in Japan. He had been reported missing in the Philippines and later he was listed as dead.

Clarence Madden, 25, Fly farm machinery salesman, the second husband, said he and his wife will try to see Shaw as soon as he returns to this country "to straighten this out. We don't want to hurt anybody."

In Twin Falls, Mrs. Glen W. Higginbotham, Shaw's sister, said she had a 25-word message to her brother following his liberation, but she refrained from revealing it until his second marriage. "He'll have to find out about that when he comes home," she says.

In Salt Lake City Mrs. A. A. Richards, mother of Mrs. Shaw-Madden, said her daughter and Shaw eloped only a few weeks before Shaw left for the Philippines. That was in 1941.

The young nurse and Madden were married Dec. 24, 1948, in Salt Lake where they resided until Madden accepted a sales position in Nevada, Mrs. Richards said.

STRAINED REUNION

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 15 (AP)—Navy Lieut. James H. Cole, Jr., faced an uncertain marital future today after he arrived by air from Japan where he was from a prisoner of war camp. He saw for the first time his baby boy.

Laurie has not indicated which husband she wants—Coles or army Lieut. Ehan P. Bernheim, wounded European veteran, who has filed suit for annulment but has not determined if he wants to remarry.

"This is going to take a long time. I've married two wonderful fellows," Laurie said after Cole told her he wanted to remain married to her.

Laurie said she wanted the three of them to discuss the matter together. However, Cole said he had never met Bernheim and definitely doesn't want to.

Coles and Laurie met at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Charles Alway, and Cole seemed fascinated with his son-in-law's military life. He spent the afternoon playing with him.

The Times-News crew when it reported in Friday's "Enchanted Evening" that Dwight L. Shaw and his wife, the present Mrs. Vaudie Richards Shaw-Madden, had religious difficulties.

Mrs. Glen W. Higginbotham, the sister, 239 Fourth street, south, said Saturday that although her brother and his wife were of different religious faiths, they had never had any trouble on that account. The girls' parents, however, were opposed to the marriage because of the difference in religions, Mrs. Higginbotham said.

Work on Bridge Road Under Way

Work is well under way on the approaches to the Sun Valley bridge over Snake river, preparatory to placing a steel trestle on the structure, contractors said Saturday.

Steel for the job is expected to arrive within the next 30 days, according to Don J. Cunningham.

The work on the approaches is in a preliminary stage in that bidders for the new steel trestle on the bridge are being prepared. This work will be completed, however, by the time the shipment of steel arrives.

Caution flags and lights warn approaching motorists of the repair work being done to the bridge approach.

Zimmerly Name Contest All Over

The red men annual Pocatello probably aren't interested, but the Zimmerly Airlines contest for the naming of its three new planes, Indian names excluded—ended at midnight Saturday, announced Beth Hanson, the firm's representative at the Rogerson hotel.

No one said Miss Hanson why Indian appellations were banned. But folks haven't worried about this, and have been submitting their entries of the 10-passenger plane. Each of the three winners is to receive a Zimmerly plane ride from the lucky person's stop on the route to the next station, Miss Hanson said. She did not know where the judges' decision would be announced.

Chamber Member Drive Succeeding

The membership drive of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, which started with a kick-off here last Friday, is proving a "great success," James A. Spriggs, secretary of the chamber, said Saturday.

"As all members working on the drive are not turning in their applications, they are asked to do so at their earliest convenience so that final tabulation can be made," Spriggs said.

The drive for members saw more than 40 volunteers participate.

'45 Spuds May Set All-Time Idaho Record

BOISE, Sept. 15 (AP)—The USDA division of agricultural statistics issued its September forecast for Idaho's 1945 potato production today, putting the figure at 43,650,000 bushels, but adding that "actual harvested production will depend very largely upon weather conditions between now and harvest."

The forecast figure is unchanged from a month earlier. If it should materialize it would break the all-time production record for Idaho. It compares with 30,675,000 bushels raised last year and the 16-year average of 28,000,000.

The previous record was set in 1943 when production was about 300,000 bushels less than this year's forecast.

The indicated yield per acre is 225 bushels, the same as last year and one bushel per acre above the 16-year average.

Nationally crop prospects improved in potatoes during the month for an indicated U. S. production of 422,825,000 bushels.

Indicated Idaho production of other crops 1945 estimate listed first 1944 production second:

Wheat 19,572,000 bushels 17,780,000; spring wheat 12,464,000 bushels 12,229,000; all wheat 22,128,000 bushels 20,260,000; corn 1,450,000 bushels 1,531,000; oats 6,764,000 bushels 7,262,000; barley 12,384,000 bushels 12,279,000; all tame hay 2,231,000 tons 2,148,000; wild hay 352,000 tons 345,000; dry peas 1,220,000 cwt. 1,088,000; dry peas 1,522,000 cwt. 1,072,000; sugar beets 827,000 tons 818,000.

Government Help Needed for Long Sugar Beet Hauls

DENVER, Sept. 15 (AP)—It took sugar from the west is sent farther east than usual to supply acute shortages. It probably will be necessary for the government to absorb some of the additional expense involved, processors and government representatives agreed today.

Any official action for such movement from large western producing areas would be taken jointly by the U. S. department of agriculture and the OPA, said H. H. Pickett, chief of the sugar rationing branch of OPA.

Discussions by federal officials, beet sugar processors and west coast cane sugar refiners brought out that western areas have larger sugar supplies than other parts of the country and supplies from the Caribbean will not be available until early next year.

Pickett said final conclusions were withheld until numerous technical problems linked with sugar movement and later information on supplies were obtained.

The plane was bound from Newark, N. J., to the west coast and had stopped to refuel.

Army officials at Fairfax airport withheld names of the passengers and immediately placed the wreckage under a military police guard.

Atom Story Told To Buhl Kiwanis

BUHL, Sept. 15 (AP)—W. Taylor Buhl, Kiwanis, spoke to the Buhl Kiwanis club this week. Basing his talk on the beginning of atomic energy, he traced the history of world development from early days of man's use of fire to the present steady advance of scientific study and general world understanding of atomic power.

He noted that for a long time after the discovery of the atom, scientists were faced with the question of how to control the energy thought was the limit of accomplishment. In that direction, this now the new power of atomic energy, as it is called, and the beginning of the atomic age. He stated there is no limit to which we may go in advancement, with the harnessing of atomic power.

Robert Coak, local photographer, was welcomed as a new member of the group. Dr. John Wuerter was a guest. Members of the Buhl club and their ladies will go to Burley Monday by bus to meet with the Burley group for presentation of the charter to this new citizens club in Magic Valley. The bus will leave the Hotel Buhl at 6 p. m.

Winter Wheat Now Guarded By Insurance

Drought, hail, frost, insects, excessive moisture and other natural hazards need not hold the same threat to Twin Falls county winter wheat farmers this year as in the past, according to Ben Jaussen, chairman of the county A.A.U. committee.

Farmers now are able to obtain all-risk referent crop insurance on winter wheat for the first time since 1942, following revival of the crop insurance program by congress. Jaussen stated.

Two contracts are being offered on winter wheat. One protects the farmer's production returns up to 75 percent of his average yield, the other up to 50 percent. Both contracts are for two years, covering the 1946-48 crop. Premium rates, which were established in accordance with each county's past history of crop yields and losses, are uniform throughout the county for each type of insurance.

Although the program in Idaho this year applies only to wheat, Jaussen said the net provision for bringing other crops into the program. Twin Insurance on potatoes now is now under study, and a considerable interest has been expressed in Idaho for insurance on sugar beets. Jaussen pointed out that the success of the program and the eventual extension of insurance to other crops depends on the participation of a majority of growers. Administrative costs are carried by the government, but otherwise the program must be self-supporting, so that premiums paid in will cover interferences paid out for losses.

CVA Official Lauds Result Of TVA Work

BOISE, Sept. 15 (AP)—Clayton Davidson, president of the CVA Information League here, today lauded the result of the Tennessee valley authority's "brilliant" work in the past 20 years as among the most backward in the nation.

Davidson said that TVA paid $2,000,000 last year in lieu of taxes to counties, states and municipalities, and added it was set up for repayment of its original investment to the government in 20 years, "having paid $14,200,000 last year exclusive of money paid in lieu of taxes."

Meanwhile an opponent of the proposed Columbia valley authority, addressed the Lions club saying the project would create a basic reconstruction "three times as large as government."

Martin said that under the plan as now outlined "three times will head the project, who would know nothing of the needs of Idaho and the project, but who would control all of its natural resources."

Davidson contrasted the arguments of the TVA with those of the opponents of the project, saying that existing water rights would be harmed by the project.

"The Mitchell bill states clearly," he declared, "that a priority on use of water is to be established in this country in the mining and industry. 2. Flood control. 3. Navigation. 4. Power development."

$5,545 Suit in Fatal Accident

A suit to collect $5,545.13 was filed in district court here by the Garrett Freightlines, naming Saunders' Mills, Inc. as defendants.

Basis for the suit, according to the complaint, was a collision between a Garrett truck and a trailer and a pick-up truck, the latter owned by Saunders' Mills and operated by Bur Melton Bland. The collision, which occurred late July 14, 1944, on Blue Lakes boulevard near the Jerome rim-to-rim bridge, resulted in the death of Bland's wife, Mrs. Charles D. Durrell, Welford Jensen and Dean Littleton, the latter 15 years of age.

The petition states that because Bland drove his truck in a reckless manner, the Garrett truck was practically demolished. The suit seeks to collect truck damages of $2,838.42; towing charges, $100; cost of labor at the scene of the accident, $53.85; loss of the plaintiff through inability to use the truck, $1,759.68, plus costs of the suit.

R. P. Parry, J. R. Keranan and Graydon Smith, Twin Falls, are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Religion Class Compared With Peanut Vending

URBANA, Ill., Sept. 15 (AP)—Religious education teachers in Champaign public schools were compared with peanut vendors at a meeting today at the closing session of a five-day trial of a circuit court suit.

"Religion teachers have no more right in a school building than a peanut vendor, and if a superintendent allows them to go into schools he is misappropriating public funds," Leonard said.

He expected the decision to be given within 30 days after receiving the last brief on Oct. 22.

At the conclusion of Chapman's final argument the three-judge court, presiding without a jury, indicated it would be more than a month before a decision would be given. Whenever the court decides, the losing side will appeal to the United States court to carry the legal test to finality.

At the trial Leonard said he expected the decision to be given within 30 days after receiving the last brief on Oct. 22.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRISI
My experience teaches that it is often a mistake to allow a child of a high school student for that matter, to turn his back on a task because he says, "I'm not interested."

I have often considered this point. Is a child interested because he has become acquainted with the idea or is he instinctively interested because he was born with a gift for understanding and appreciation of that idea?

What is strange rarely appeals to us. We shrink from new ideas, new tasks, strange people, new things because we do not know them. We become used to them the more we know that is really what it is, leaves us and we begin to love them. We know these people. We like what we know brings us pleasure and we dislike what we know nothing about.

There are children to whom a new subject brings positive interest. They shrink back and try to get away from it. Be gentle and patient about it and persuade the child to give a little. Make the little easy for him to get hold of, praise his least effort, his slightest success. Get the points that you like best yourself and present them. Work gradually toward the time when accomplishment will give the child rewarding pleasure that he will be keenly interested that he will be keenly interested.

I am speaking now of healthy intelligent, able youngsters. They do not despise you through the senior class in college. There are sure to be the subtle and take shall will refuse. Don't give up too soon. It is the pupil that needs the teacher most. Those who learn easily require but little of the teacher's attention. But those who balk at attention demand that the teacher's effort of the teacher that compels success.

Few children, only the rare child, know master the school subjects to get acceptable grades. The normal children of course are helped by themselves but the regular school end, it is a well led and

ONLY FIVE OF AREA'S 11-MAN TEAMS UNBEATEN

Gooding, Kimberly, Oakley and Wendell Fall in Friday's Games

(Lineups and summaries of all games on page 13) The Magic Valley's gridiron season is only two weeks old, but—strangely—only seven of its 18 schools playing 11-man football are undefeated and untied. And that's a very small percentage, especially when two of the schools have yet to commence play.

Four 11-man teams fell by the wayside last week—Gooding, which lost to Burley, 25-6; Kimberly, downed by Hagerman, 13-0; Oakley, defeated by Twin Falls, 44-6; and Wendell, which was nosed out by Shoshone, 13-0. The games were the first for Oakley and Wendell.

On the other hand, the six-man teams' records are a bit more presentable. Of 14 schools, only three, five have still to lose a game. Three went off the unbeaten list during the week—Kimberly, Kimberly and Albion, with the latter two playing their first games.

The five unbeaten and untied 11-man teams are the Twin Falls Bruins, Jerome Barberly in the Big Seven conference, Hagerman and Coach Tom Ryan's Jerome Jays, and Coach Ernie Grauer's Burley Jayvees played to a 7-7 tie with the Twin Falls Cubs in their only game.

The unbeaten six-man teams are Paul Hagerman's Gooding, Portford and Heyburn. Coach Clinton Nelson's Oakley before a losing week may become one of Coach Hank Power's finest Twin Falls Bruin aggressions before the season's end.

How the Bruins scored: First quarter—Byron Snyder, left tackle for 40 yards; Block, 45 yards on a pass interception; Snyder, 19 yards on end run; second quarter—Snyder on the line back after a Veager; this quarter—Byron on lake reverse for 29 yards after Crandall's 35-yard run; Williams, end run; fourth quarter—Burkhardt, 19 yards through line; Oakley counted in the second period, Powers running 30 yards on a quick opening.

Coach Hulen Berger's Bobcats jumped up alongside their rivals, Coach John Sotter's Jerome Tigers for the leadership in the Big Seven conference race by their victory over Gooding.

How Burley scored: Second quarter—Byron Snyder, left tackle for 40 yards; Block, 45 yards on a pass interception; Snyder, 19 yards on end run; second quarter—Snyder on the line back after a Veager; this quarter—Byron on lake reverse for 29 yards after Crandall's 35-yard run; Williams, end run; fourth quarter—Burkhardt, 19 yards through line; Oakley counted in the second period, Powers running 30 yards on a quick opening.

Coach Harold Brown's Paul Panthers, the Magic Valley's defending six-man champions, kept their record clean after a hard struggle with Coach Charlie Hawley's Eden team. The score, 16-6, with Eden scoring twice, but runs of better than 20 yards and D. H. Rogers, left halfback, counted both of Hagerman's touchdowns.

Hearts Bleed Longest

The car sang with speed now. His new foot here down on the accelerator. He wanted to go faster. He wanted to go to the fair to get away forever from Drumhelt Hill. The road topped the divide before Brock brought the car to a stop.

"Well . . . Moya said and she turned toward her little daughter. "It's like old times. Suddenly she slid her body over against him. There was neither guilt nor fear here. There was only Brock's strong shoulder. Her head was up and back and her eyes were looking at her mouth smiling. Her arms reached up as his went around her, and dress in his arms. He kissed her with a sort of fierce abandon, as if with every kiss he would burn from memory the things he wanted to forget.

"Darling!" Moya laughed and there was no triumph in it. "You know you hadn't really. But I knew you were the only one who did know it then."

"Am I my sweet? Kiss me again. I think I've become terribly patient with you, taking all in all."

Hildreth said, "Thayer, what is the matter? You're going into my job's mouth. It's not interesting to give it up."

"I know. And then when Mr. Tipson came down with his certificate, I've been in the department longest. And somehow accident that thing got continued without any of my momentum was tied up with his note. I was here with a deep breath. 'So—' said Moya. 'Mona, I'm sorry. I'm sorry. It's—' it became important to me, too."

"What do you mean, Thayer?"

Her voice was low, light. "Well— you making good at something. The Hildreth's sharp gaze bored into her. "Surely things are better between you and Brock. You're doing it. It's— it's become important to me, too."

"What do you mean, Thayer?"

Her voice was low, light. "Well— you making good at something. The Hildreth's sharp gaze bored into her. "Surely things are better between you and Brock. You're doing it. It's— it's become important to me, too."

"And now?"

"Now there are three."

"I can believe that, Thayer. That boy loves you."

"Doesn't he? The first day he came home, wearing his artificial leg slumped in front of me. He looked at me as if he hated me."

"Oh, I know, child; he's young and foolish—and proud."

"So did my proud Aunt Hildreth. Abruptly Thayer rose. "I must go. You need someone."

"No—no, I can't talk. I've got to work things out myself. Then she swung suddenly to the older woman. "You see, I know the other Brock's Aunt Hildreth. That's why I haven't quit. I'm working at the plant—to give Mr. Tipson a check. Brock is. His mother loves him. Moya knew him, all right, but it isn't the kind of love that will make him want to stand up and fight back to life again. Her hands clenched tightly. "It's important that Brock be that sort of person again. It's— it's so important."

"Thayer!"

"The girl's voice broke suddenly. "Don't keep me. I've got to go. She was done the steps before Hildreth could speak. She was blind not look back. Tears were sliding her eyes. "It's important," she whispered to herself chidingly. "It's important."

The big Kittredge house seemed deserted and still as Thayer left herself in. Instead of the stain showed their polished trends. To climb them seemed suddenly too great an exertion. In a little while
