Nationalists Hurdle Great Wall of China for Toehold in Manchurian Territories

CHUNGKING, Nov. 17 (AP)—Chinese nationalists, fearing a communist coup, were reported cutting Manchurian capital of Changchun today even as their own troops fought into the province for the first time.

A field dispatch said nationalist troops—the communists asserted four U. S.-equipped divisions were in the vanguard—were pressing beyond the Great Wall into southern Manchuria, but they still were 400 miles from Changchun.

British and the capital stock communist forces stoutly defended the Chinese province, reports that well-armed communist bands had been seen near Changchun and appeared ready to take over as soon as the Russians withdrew.

The situation also remained tense around Tientsin, where many said Chinese communists had ordered a "red" attack after the first three days of fighting. DeWitt French, commander of the first marine division, said Chinese troops were "no closer to the duck" he said quack quack in the trouble some town.

The World Daily News, a Chungking newspaper, declared the invasion in Manchuria "is our national existence" and would bring a new era of relations between China and Russia.

The press, commenting on the invasion, said the nationalist officials had decided to quit Changchun and some already were in Peiping. Among the news reported to be Chiang Chung-king, son of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Big Manhunt For Oklahoma Outlaw Begun

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 17 (AP)—Matt Kimes, last of the bandit chieftains who roamed the south-west a score of years ago, was sought tonight in this area's big manhunt since this day of Party Boy Floyd.

Kimes, the FBI charged, used a letter from the state penitentiary where he was serving life term for slaying officers to engineer the $100,000 robbery of the First State Bank of Morton, Tex., last Sept. 6.

As word went out, Kimes was being sought in the Oklahoma territory with scores to settle with the one-time leader of an outlaw gang operating in the Oklahoma and Texas territories, after they guns and took up the hunt.

All were cautioned by D. A. Bryce, head of the FBI here and nationally known quick-draw artist, to use their wits and not their fists if they met up with the fugitive. Bryce said Kimes was sporting two twin pistols and a .38-20 Winchester rifle at last report.

In Washington, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of FBI, said Kimes was "one of the most vigorously sought fugitives in the country."

Kimes had served 18 years in McAlester penitentiary where he told the pen and post office he had learned his lesson and the bold outlaw now leaves to gather evidence to support his plea.

The "kid outlaw" of the 1930s was known for murdering Sheriff Percy Chaulsley in a Beavercreek county bank robbery and for killing W. C. Connelley, a nationally during a triple bank hold-up near Okla.

Salmon Caught With Potatoes

Mayor Bert Sweet proudly displays the salmon he received yesterday from Mayor William F. Devin, Seattle. The fish, which weighed 16 1/2 pounds, was sent Mayor Sweet as the result of a bargain made with Mayor Devin last April, to exchange a salmon for a sack of Idaho potatoes. (Staff photo-engraving)

By HARRY GUNNING
And the mayor of Seattle said to the mayor of Twin Falls, "Thanks for the Idaho potatoes."

Which is why Mayor Bert A. Sweet of Twin Falls is probably the only mayor in the nation who ever caught a salmon with potatoes for bait.

Sweet was all smiles Saturday when he opened a long wooden box from Seattle and found therein a large salmon packed in ice. It's good to have the salmon out in steaks and the steaks will be served with Idaho spuds. The mayor of Seattle didn't indicate what he'd eaten.

It all began last April when Mayor William F. Devin, Seattle's mayor, wrote Sweet to Portland to attend the existing exercises of the U. S. Twin Falls Fishery. At that time, the mayor of Twin Falls told Devin he'd like to trade a sack of Idaho potatoes for a salmon.

Japs Would Have Called Off Attack if Treaty Succeeded

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—A coded message "Elmoh M. Nittka" radiated from Tokyo Dec. 6, Hawaiian time, 1941, gave a Japanese tank the signal to launch its attack on Pearl Harbor, congressional investigators were told today.

It also was informed that the Japanese were prepared to call off the attack if diplomatic negotiations in the Washington had succeeded.

Rep. Adam T. H. Inglis related to the senate-house committee the story of Japanese planning as gleaned from captured documents, questioning of prisoners and, after the occupation, the Tokyo archives and records of the Imperial Japanese command.

As it was the fact "Elmoh M. Nittka" message was received when the tank force of four carriers and escorts was between 800 and 1,000 miles from Hawaii.

It may be that this was a provision of an earlier conclusion that the Japanese irrevocably cast the die for war on Dec. 7, 1941.

The tank force had left Hitokappu

Nimitz Raps Merging of U. S. Forces

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Adm. Chester W. Nimitz asserted today the "theoretical advantages" of merging the senate military committee, "has shown clearly enough that the merging of the two agencies is a serious threat to the coordination of thinking and action."

Nimitz said he favors not a single department of defense but a national security council composed of the secretaries of state, war and the navy, as proposed by Secretary of War Henry Stimson.

He said that this stand against the merging of the two agencies is his opinion of a year ago, he said.

"For this change of opinion I make no apology since it represents my conviction based on additional experience and further study of the proposed and its current implications."

Williams in as Governor

By CHARLES D. WOOD
BOISE, Nov. 17 (AP)—A simple, 10 minute ceremony and three signatures today made Arnold Williams of Rexburg and St. Anthony the governor of Idaho and made Charles C. Gossett of Nampa a United States senator.

Gossett signed his resignation as governor and received a telegraphic acceptance from Salt Lake City by Secretary of State Ira H. Masters.

Then Williams, lieutenant governor of the state, signed the oath of office as governor and signed Gossett's appointment to the senate, succeeding Republican John Thomas of Gooding, who died a week ago today in Washington.

The shift emerged after a hectic week of Democratic activity in which the list of county central committees which endorsed Gossett grew to 35 out of the 44.

Senator Gossett said his plans were uncertain. He said he would remain here for a week or 10 days before going to Washington. D. C. He said he would remain here until the executive branch and senate members will accompany the senator to the capital.

GOVERNOR WILLIAMS

Here's Story Of Joe--Fate Shows Irony

(From Page One)
That thing did that omeared around his life in the rain? What if they were to find that the boys that those overworked muck cars? Could he, Joe, say "take it easy, boys," and get out of the thing they could?

Didn't they realize that he was doing the thing they could? Unhappily, Joe?

Here, some guys were crying sick but they were not crying for Joe. What would he do if he got out of the thing they could? He had given his boys of the rice? What was his name? The old boy had said, "I'm the only reason Joe gave it to me is because he couldn't eat it himself."

And about the time he had given food away, they had to get up to the boys they had been getting enough to eat? They had said, "Sure, Joe's getting his boys by the boys."

The reason was more pronounced as Joe moved out into a clearing by the upper floor. How was he to get out of the thing they could? He was taking the last of his homegrown crop from his victory garden.

"I appreciate very much your thoughtfulness, and I remember correctly we had a bargain last summer that if you sent me a sack of potatoes I was to send you a salmon. I hope you will be enjoying the salmon as much as we are enjoying the potatoes."

Mayor Devin also added to Joe that he was very much pleased to hear that R. E. "Bud" Kimes arrived home at last. It was indeed a great day for the Kimes family. Please give them all my best regards.

Added to Mayor Devin's pleasure in receiving the big salmon will be the additional surprise for Dick Kimes. He could not resist the temptation that had piled upon him as he received the salmon.

The big plane had dropped, and was coming for the crew. Lew and Art had returned in the plane. We stood looking up into the open bomb bay loaded with packages, waiting for some word of their excellent escapade. "Let 'er drop! Let 'er drop!"

The special Thanksgiving service open to the public will be held at the Memorial United Methodist church, Third street east, at 11 a. m. Thursday.

The Rev. David Johnson, pastor, announced that special musical services will be provided by the Aberdeen First Methodist church with two piano solos featured. A guest minister will present Thanksgiving address.

went to a hardware store and purchased a dozen hackawack blades. Friday night they slipped the saws through the bars of the jail on the alley side of the jail.

Jacobson and Pease, who were in the run-around of the jail, managed to work on the bars, the chief warden, Fred Campbell, was alerted from the first of two sets of bars covering a window of No. 4 cell to search for the escapees.

Shortly before noon Gillette became suspicious because of Jacobson's recent complaints that he had been a "fine fellow" and a good police officer.

Knowing the man had twice escaped from jail to San Francisco, the chief decided to check this time in a ventilator. Plumbing had been torn up to get two pipes for use as ladders in bending the bars away from their position on the window.

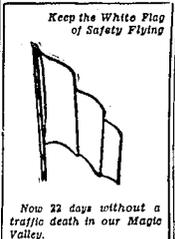

With luck, the two men would have finished their task Saturday night and escaped.

After the discovery, Chief Gillette ordered both men locked in separate cells. When Jacobson took the wooden frame from the window of his cell, he handcuffed the prisoner to the top of his cell.

"And that's where he'll stay until California authorities come for him," added the chief.

The Carpenter and Smith women were locked in the women's jail, then moved to the county jail. Chief Gillette said they would be charged with aiding in an attempted jail break.

A veldier late Saturday afternoon considered the job of repairing the severed bars.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WATERLOGGED

HOOPERHAM—Conservative students of legislation cannot understand why President Truman's smarter advisers have permitted him to headline the full employment bill...

DECEPTION—The inside story behind the demand for this legislation is that the sponsors do not expect that the full employment bill will be passed before the 1948 congressional session...

In the meantime, however, the party in power will be able to divert the misadventure of the bill...

MANDATORY—Under the Texas' scheme the President would submit a national economic budget estimating the amount of federal money that must be appropriated...

GRANDIOSITY—The senate finance committee flipped the bill to the floor so watered down that even the reactionary Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio...

SOCK—When the senate committee has studied the presidential proposal, it will forward the recommendations to the various committees that pass on different aspects of the proposal...

Both the Jews and the Arabs, tired of conflicting claims for solution of the most delicate Palestine problem, now are demanding fulfillment of these promises.

That the conflict—which has raged intermittently as a matter of course since 1917—is at a critical stage, is evidenced by the fact that the pressure on both sides is stronger than ever before.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES

WEEK-HOLIDAY G. O. C. 423

LOTS OF GOVERNMENT

He has submitted for the President's consideration a four-point program for undertaking reorganization of the executive branch of government with legislation now pending in the senate...

As an example, he pointed out that federal civilian personnel at present totals 3,649,769 compared with 922,953 in August, 1939, and 917,760 on Armistice day, 1918...

The senator's memorandum outlines fields of activity to which reorganization could be applied for the mutual benefit of the public and the government...

1) place all executive agencies under cabinet control; 2) place all executive departments under a central departmental organization; 3) effect consolidation and coordination throughout the government...

This chart, nearly twice the size of the ordinary chart, tabular top, lists in comparatively small space the hundreds upon hundreds of departments and agencies that make up the executive branch of our government.

For instance, there are 13 branches under the secretary of the interior, 10 under the department of agriculture, and 10 under the department of the interior...

One look at this chart which Senator Byrd calls attention and anyone can understand why our government is so costly, to say nothing about inefficiency.

Under a League of Nations mandate, Great Britain in 1922 committed itself to eventual independence for Palestine. Britain also undertook to establish a Jewish national home...

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS POT SHOTS

WASHINGTON—The relief and rehabilitation of Europe by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA) is being swung down through the failure of congress to appropriate funds already authorized.

It is this gambling with the future of the world's children that is the most shocking example of the dilatory indifference with which our lawmakers seem to face the crisis of our time.

The United States owes UNRRA, an international organization, $500,000,000 which UNRRA had counted on for use in the early winter. The house took an unreasonable time over appropriating the money...

But that cannot be done without the substance line is so close to actual starvation in the most fortunate areas in Europe, the dietary level is not much more than half what it was in 1939.

For lack of funds, UNRRA has cancelled $50,000,000 of rehabilitation supplies that had already been arranged for shipment to Europe. The money left in UNRRA's cash drawer is needed for food to keep Europe from starving.

Included in the $50,000,000 of cancelled supplies are supplies and medical equipment intended to help make Europe a going concern as well as to provide medical supplies. One of the chief aims of UNRRA is to get Europe off the debt as quickly as possible.

Union Funds For Politics Bring Attack

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—A treasury report that 250 labor unions and organizations took in $2,000,000 in one year brought renewed insistence among some lawmakers today that cuts be placed on union financial contributions in elections.

Congress also confronted one of its most explosive tax problems as the report disclosed that tax-exempt organizations, including unions and farm cooperatives, had gross income of $5,000,000,000 in 1943.

Farm co-ops, the report said, collected a gross of $2,232,000,000 that year.

The report on income of tax-exempt organizations was passed on direct instructions from congress. The requirements were written into the law last year when there was wide controversy over contributions to political campaigns.

Representative Smith, D. Va., co-author of the Smith-Connally war labor disputes act, told newspapermen this first report on the income of unions "shows a very definite trend for strengthening the corrupt practices law to prevent unions from financing elections, as was done in 1944."

Taking note of the gross income of co-ops, Chairman George W. Brown, of the senate finance committee said:

"We have to look into this matter from a tax viewpoint. The co-ops are growing by leaps and bounds. The possibilities of their qualifying for tax exemption have multiplied. They present a problem not only for other taxpayers, but they are a tax problem."

Burley Elks Back From State Meet

BURLEY, Nov. 17—A. T. Klink, district headquarter, and Tom Church have returned from the fall meeting of the Idaho State Elks association in Boise. They flew back over the Seven Devils range in a Zimmerly air plane.

The meeting was held mainly with plans for and discussion of the new crippled children law to be supported by the Elks. The Elks had possession of the property about four years ago, but due to the shortage caused by the war they were unable to perfect their plans. Now, however, they plan to have the home open by fall.

This home will serve as an interim care for crippled children from the time they leave the hospital until they are ready to go to their homes. It is a statewide project of all the Elks clubs in Idaho.

Kernels, Not Love

The chipmunk alone isn't biting Len A. Chaplin—it has a far more utilitarian goal. Read Charles C. Merrill's accompanying article. (Staff engraving)

Popcorn Can Be Bait—Here's How You Can Woo Chipmunk

By CHARLES C. MERRILL

What good is popcorn that won't pop? Just ask Len Chaplin, Huskon peasant, when they go scouring, lake along a log of sunflower seeds.

When Chaplin goes for a summer outfit he takes popcorn, preferably kernels that will pop. If the corn won't pop it may have its use, says Len. Not every female has the opportunity for such a treat in the woods with an ex-cooper as this one exposed so shamelessly.

Enough kidding. Here is the story. While camping in the woods last fall, Chaplin carried some of his life time trying to make friends with a chipmunk that had its home under a log a hundred yards away.

The frisky creature ventured chest and floor. Greedy for more and the chipmunk crumpled its sleek pouches so ludicrously in its effort to get all it could while the getting was good, that many a fine camera shot was wasted by untimely laughter.

But the mayor's wooing prevailed. Here's the evidence in two distinctly different poses.

It was popcorn, not love, the thrifty creature wanted from the lips of a patient, persistent fellow.

Chicago Host For Legion's Postwar Meet

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP)—The American Legion moved into Chicago today for its first postwar war 11 convention, facing such prime postwar problems as universal military training, employment, housing and rehabilitation of veterans.

Hotel rooms for the four-day convention opening tomorrow were scarce than congressional medals of honor. The Legion had only some 3,000 rooms reserved for 2,011 delegates, as many alternates, plus officials, staffs, distinguished visitors and speakers.

Legionnaires without official convention business and without reservations made through their state adjutants were strictly on their own.

Committees began work on settling 617 resolutions.

One official spokesman said that, since the legion had advocated

Crowds Flock To See Buick, Pontiac Cars

After the long waiting death of new motor cars, auto rows in the new show yesterday in Twin Falls saw more than 1000 people flock to see two more 1946 models drive around—Buick and Pontiac.

The Buick display was held in the case J. Brownling showroom. The models exhibited here is a series 80 open, a four-door sedan on 124-inch wheelbase. It is one of the first new cars since the outbreak of the war.

Those who stated that they drove the car "down from Boise Friday night" added that "the 1946 Buick eight-cylinder car is one of the best on 121 inch wheelbase—on 124 inch wheelbase, which will come into production after final output goes under way."

Although the new Buicks are already in delivery to dealers, they incorporate important changes in their improvements in styling and mechanical details. Their styling embodies full airflow fenders, completely revised grille and bumper design.

The straight eight, valve-in-head engine is designed to give more torque, especially in the low range, and features a new design in the combustion chamber. Browning said.

The Buick on display locally was painted in Prospective customers examined the car throughout the day and evening.

Still better and not being able to buy, scores saw a Pontiac Streamliner on display at the Ford Auto company—and were informed by Manager Bob Bultman that it was a display model and not for sale.

Bultman reported that the potential customers were pleased with the machine.

The biggest exterior change in this Pontiac is the bumper. Bultman said it carries over the fenders and when you're backing it up, the hood of the car is the fender. It also protects your fenders from getting bumped.

On the color, the new machine has an eight-cylinder engine which develops 103 horsepower, he said.

The customers, who hadn't seen new cars in four years, wanted to buy. But they were told by Bultman that he did not know when models would arrive for sale.

The OPA had not yet announced prices. Bultman said he had no estimate on them, but they will fill out conditional or reservation cards.

Krupp "Sub" Ruled Out in Nazis' Trials

WURZBURG, Germany, Nov. 11 (AP)—The international war crimes tribunal ruled today against the indictment of Alfred Krupp as a co-officer in the trial of his son and ordered the trial of other Nazis to start next Tuesday.

Under another ruling Martin Bormann, missing since he left Hitler's side during the battle for Berlin, is to be tried in absentia with co-officers. German attorneys contend Bormann is dead.

The fate of Rudolf Hess, one of the 24 Nazis originally indicted, remained in question. Two of his former secretaries were ushered into his presence by authorities studying his story of amnesia, but Hess professed not to know them.

The request of Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor, that 24-year-old Alfred Krupp be tried in place of his father, Gustav Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach, was dropped in a session which lasted 21 minutes.

Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, the British chairman, said "The motion to amend the indictment by adding the name of Alfred Krupp has been considered in all legal aspects and is rejected. The tribunal will now adjourn."

The decision means that no family representative of the Krupp armament and steel empire is taking over yesterday by the British military government, will be in the dock at initial hearing.

Fewer Clothes Is New Trend

By DOROTHY ROE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17 (AP)—You'll be brown and tanned on the beach next summer, if Fred Cole of California has his way—but in any event you'll be bare.

New swim styles, two of which can be seen above, were shown to visiting fashions editors reduced coverage to bare minimum, with expanses of sun-drenched skin the most important part of every outfit. The scope of fabric which make up the high-style swim suits, however, are stretched and draped with fascinating and functional effect. As Cole explained:

"We want to keep you bare, but flattering. We want you functional, but beautiful. And the average figure is bad."

With the average figure in mind, Cole does swim suits in elasticized shirred treatments which have the effect of a girdle. He ties his legs with the artistry of a cobbler. He adds brief ballet skirts to cover the widest part of the female anatomy. His undergarments are almost uniformly bare, but have one strap or nose at all, and all suits have an air of carefree abandon very popular, says he, with 17. S femininity in general.

Ill-Kept Jap Prison Fatal To Radioman

Frank H. Kidd, former radioman listed one who rallied in the navy in Twin Falls in 1940, died of illness and stomach disorders in a Japanese prison camp in Dec. 22, 1944, according to official word received from the navy by his mother, Mrs. Minnie Kidd, who now resides in Blaine, Kan.

Mrs. Kidd is in receipt of a letter from a prison mate of her son's, Marvin W. Halborn, Garrison, Ia., who was also a radioman in the navy. The men were captured on Wake Dec. 21, 1944, and taken to Japan where they were together until Kidd was taken to an unknown hospital in October, 1944. He died there soon after his admittance, a Jap officer told Halborn.

The prison mate of the former Twin Falls man stated that the internees were kept busy copying code messages for their captives who would designate a frequency and then make prisoners copy it in Morse code.

The food varied and when the guards went to sleep or outside, the internees were allowed to go for the messes and then letters to the allied broadcasting stations for news or musical programs. In this way, Halborn wrote his dead father's mother, they were able to follow the progress of the war until the end of the fighting.

NEW PASSENGER CAR TIRE

COMING SOON: A SYNTHETIC TIRE THAT'S OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!

It's not a guess. It's been proved! More than 2000 tests and nearly 17,000,000 miles of the toughest kind of actual road service show that this new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown will outwear prewar natural rubbers.

Better, hotter rubber

B. F. Goodrich has developed a rubber that's better than ordinary synthetics... so much better that for months it was another reason why new B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns outwear prewar tires.

Better, hotter rubber

B. F. Goodrich has developed a rubber that's better than ordinary synthetics... so much better that for months it was another reason why new B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns outwear prewar tires.

Flatter tread covers more ground

The new Silvertown has a wider, flatter tread. We call it the "road level" tread. It puts more rubber on the road. Result: a further increase in mileage, less scuffing, better distribution of weight, better traction, more safety on the turns.

3 years' EXTRA experience!

18 months before Pearl Harbor, B. F. Goodrich offered tires containing synthetic rubber to American motorists. That was 3 years ahead of any other tire manufacturer... 3 years in which B. F. Goodrich was piling up the extra know-how that is reflected in the coming B. F. Goodrich Silvertown. Soon these new tires will begin to be produced in large volume for shipment to our dealers, but supplies may be limited for quite a while. So take good care of the tires you have—and in the meantime if you have any kind of tire problems, see your nearest B. F. Goodrich dealer. The B. F. Goodrich Co., Akron, O.

Training Should Be on Voluntary Basis, She Thinks

Editor, Times-News: There are lots of people and one on the subject of compulsory military training. If we make too many boys who will not be in the military but who not just leave it open to be why not do so to train for the parents that they wish for their boys. If one boy would make a law that said, "This boy has to go when he is 17 years old, it would place the army and navy in the same category as a reform school."

The whole world is tired of troops and that means that they are heavy laden. I will say let the boys that have been in the army and navy to go and give the rights of freedom to the American people.

Parley Still Snarled Over Wage Issues

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The labor-management conference made its first step toward industrial peace today with the filing of a report, indicating conciliation and voluntary arbitration when employers and workers disagree.

In negotiating initial agreements between a union and a company, a conference committee agreed to strike or lockout should be called only if peaceful bargaining measures have been exhausted.

The report, subject to approval by the executive committee and the full conference, was the first to be made by six committees working on methods of reducing industrial strife.

But on the hot issue of a national wage increase policy, the conference was more snarled than ever before.

Three resolutions now are before the national committee, agreed to in principle or lockout should be called only if peaceful bargaining measures have been exhausted.

The report, subject to approval by the executive committee and the full conference, was the first to be made by six committees working on methods of reducing industrial strife.

Veteran Officer

CAPT. GLENN R. TYLER
European veteran now discharged, is working with the French mission in Washington. He was formerly attached to the American embassy in Paris (Staff engraving).

Glenn R. Tyler, who served as a captain in the army engineers, received his discharge at Fort Meade, Md., on Oct. 25.

He served one year at Camp Roberts, as a technical sergeant, two years in Virginia and North Carolina in the engineer training centers, and one year in France.

He participated in the battles of Normandy and central France and served the corps of engineers in stabilizing the ports of Brittany and France.

Among other duties, Tyler spent five months as a rubber expert in the development and production of tires for the army in the French and Belgian air plants.

The veteran, who was later assigned as a military attaché in the importation of raw rubber, manufacturing materials to France and Belgium.

Tyler returned to the United States in July to work with the White mission in Washington. D. C. and is still employed there.

While in the service Tyler received the ETO service and two bronze stars. He was wounded in the battle of Normandy, but not enough to receive hospitalization.

Shipments of Spuds Ahead Of '44 Mark

IDAHO FALLS, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Shipments of Idaho potatoes today were running ahead of last year's.

Carload shipments to date totaled 13,155 compared with 12,627 at the same time last season, Leroy W. Gay, representative of the production and marketing administration, reported.

Leading potato shippers claimed that the present average supply of 175 freight cars per day was sufficient. They estimated that 200 cars would be required daily from now to May, 1946, to move the bumper spud crop.

Completion of crop movements elsewhere led some farmers to expect that more cars would be available for potato shipments in December or January.

Potatoes with Gem and other shipments were ahead of 1944 figures for the normally heavier producing districts were smaller. Eastern Idaho has shipped 5,331 carloads compared with 4,302 during a corresponding period last year and 4,370 compared with 3,975 in 1944.

The increase was accounted for in what Gay listed as "other districts," which have shipped 3,214 carloads this year compared with only 2,737 in 1944.

During the entire 1944-45 season, the "other districts" shipped only 2,750 cars of potatoes.

A Balanced High School Program

Sixth and last point of a well-balanced high school program is an adequate provision for competitive experiences in every field of human endeavor. Including athletics, art, music, commercial work, debate and oratory.

The American boy and girl like competition, determined Principal John D. Platt of Twin Falls high school. By being on some team students are able to enjoy competition. Most schools have gone to need on athletics, however, competition should be furnished for students in the fine arts, vocational work, academic work and other valuable courses.

Competition develops keenness and alertness, developed Platt. It also provides an incentive for efficiency in any technique. In addition, competitive experience teaches appreciation. Students must learn to be modest when they win and to be good losers when they are defeated.

Twin Falls high school provides for many major sports including football, basketball, baseball and track. It is making plans to have extended activities and numerous minor sports.

Attacker of Trio Guilty

EMKO, Nov. 17.—A jury Thursday night convicted James M. Monroe, Wells, Nev., railroad worker, of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do bodily harm as the aftermath of a shooting affray last January in which three Japanese were injured.

Monroe had been charged with assault with intent to kill Harry Gomi, 37, but the jury reduced the charge. The conviction carries a sentence of one to two years in prison or a $1,000 to $5,000 fine or both. He will be sentenced Monday.

Monroe allegedly ran amuck in a Wells cafe Jan. 25, firing in bullet from his pistol when the Japanese police declined to cash a check. Frank Fujita and Ken Kobayashi were injured in addition to Gomi. All later recovered.

Attorney defended Monroe's plea for innocence with the argument that he did not remember the event, but District Attorney George P. Wright said Monroe disposed of his gun and hid on a freight train. He was apprehended at Twin Falls, Idaho, where his former home lived.

District Girl Reserve Meet Attracts 175 Here Saturday

Ruth Stroud, Buhl, was elected district president of the Girl Reserves at a convention held here Saturday at the Presbyterian church attended by more than 175 girls throughout Magic Valley.

Other officers elected at the morning business session conducted by Buelah Moore were Phyllis Burkhardt, vice-president, Twin Falls; Joyce Fisher, Kimberly, treasurer, and Nancy Jo Duerig, Filor, secretary.

The district convention was welcomed by Mrs. Orville Brooks, president of the Twin Falls YWCA. The opening service was conducted by Filor Girl Reserves. Betty Bardsley and Filor Bardsley presented a vocal duet, accompanied by Barbara Lancaster. The three flag salute—Christian, American and Girl Reserve—were given by Ruth Esslinger, Helen Ruth Hill and Eileen Timbers, led by Miss Stroud. Barbara Lancaster offered a prayer and Nancy Duerig sang "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," accompanied by Janice Ramsey, presented duet selections.

Princess Charming
Lunch was served by the YWCA board, Twin Falls. Speaker at the afternoon session was the Rev. George Roseberry, superintendent of the eastern district of the Methodist church. He stressed that the girls should look for their prince charming, rating the qualities on a blackboard.

"How would you like to look on the bracket table for 40 years at a man who averages one year every 100 years?" the citizen said.

To obtain a prince charming worth the 100 per cent she urged the girls to develop good traits in themselves. "It will usually come to a cathedral made up of the highest ideals and someday that cathedral will house two youngsters and your prince charming," the Rev. Mr. Roseberry said.

Miss Otten
Also featured on the afternoon program were acts by the Filor group, entitled, "The Girl Who Said No." Blanche was also given by the seventh and eighth group, Twin Falls. Miss Howard, Hazelton, presented a vocal solo.

Club plays were held on various group problems, including a play by Vivian Matson, executive director, Pocatello; Attendance, Mrs. E. L. Reed, executive director, Twin Falls; and music and decorations, Miss Douville, Boise.

Original Devotions
Decorations at the banquet served by the General association of the Presbyterians church were made by Lois Ann Erickson and hand colored by members of the seventh and eighth group. The girls presented four different figures, portraying formal attire, and the girls were formal attire, and the girls were formal attire. The motto carried out the conference theme, "Accentuate the Positive."

Toastmasters at the banquet were Mary Lou Smith, president of the Twin Falls club, who presided; and the JOY chorus under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Erickson. The minute talks were given on the topic, "Special Day to the Maximum" by representatives of Filor, Pocatello and Kimberly.

Willieita Warberg presented a piano solo. The closing vespers service was conducted by the Hazelton club on the theme "Have Faith."

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

BY ANGIELO PATRI

"Tell us how you would give children religious instruction," says a mother and I am glad to explain my ideas. In the first place, children must have religious instruction if they are to be well-rounded human beings. If they are to have what is essential to their success and happiness in the world, they must have the fine characters and giving them religious instruction is the soundest way ever found to achieve that end. They need to learn the creed and the prayers and the ritual of the church of their fathers, and they need to know something of their church history. But we are not here to discuss that. That is not enough. We must build in their minds and hearts a sense of righteousness and a sense built on the practice of right doing. Children learn to do what is right to do and what is wrong, by experience, their own and others'. When they do what is right, their conscience approves though other folk may not approve. When they do what is wrong, their conscience gives them no rest though others may applaud. Conscience must be cultivated and the cultivation of a quickened conscience is the result of religious education.

How are children to learn who respect morality, who have a conscience as tender as the winces at wrong doing personal or another's. Children who speak up for the right, who denounce the wrong, anywhere possible. We want to rear a generation who hear God and follow Him.

Religious observance is fine, holding the creed and the prayers are essential, attendance at services is necessary but the greatest influence lies with the father, mother or of the children. Children hear, see and feel with the experiences they have with their parents. What they do speak louder to their souls than any teaching anybody else can do. And what important people do, what the neighbors do, what the leading officials do, what from the moral standard, affects children's attitudes.

The church, the school, the home and the community must bear, each, their share in the formation of the character of youth. There are days that indicate the need of a quickened conscience in this matter.

Report On the War

By General George C. Marshall

Special Report of the Chief of Staff of the U. S. Army
Published by the Times-News, Inc. in cooperation with the War Department

THE AMERICAN VICTORY

Dear Mr. Secretary:

For the first time since assuming office six years ago, I am able to report to you that the security of the United States and the world is in our hands. Since my last formal report to you, the state of the army, our operations in Europe, and our ground forces, have contributed mightily to the ultimate destruction of the axis enemy. In the Pacific, Japan has been completely defeated and the fighting started. For two years the victorious advance of our army, our air and land forces, together with those of our allies, were virtually unopposed. They had the sea and the sea and air army could successfully defend behind their tanks and factories, exerting only a similar effect on the land. The people everywhere with whom we were joined in the fight for democracy and justice were able to reinforce their efforts through the aid of our ships, military aircraft and supplies.

Hitler's Fatal Decision

The campaign in Poland, Norway, France and the Low Countries developed along the lines of the general staff as to the details of execution of strategy. In each case the general staff favored the offensive, Hitler an unorthodox attack with objectives deep in enemy territory. In each case Hitler's personal military prestige to the point where his opinions were no longer checked. The first such occurred in 1938 and resulted in the removal of von Blomberg, von Fritsch, and with the last effective conservative influence on German foreign policy.

Hitler's Fatal Decision

"When Italy entered the war Mussolini's mistake was not the expansion of his empire but the clock of German military success. Field Marshal Kellie reveals that Italy's declaration of war was contrary to her agreement with Germany. Both Adolf and Joseph knew that it was unwise. From the very beginning Italy was a burden on the German war potential. Dependent upon Germany and German-occupied territories for oil and food Italy was a constant source of economic attrition. Mussolini's unwise action in attacking Greece and Egypt forced the Germans into the Balkan and African campaigns, resulting in over-extension of the German armies which subsequently were the cause of their defeat.

Hitler's Fatal Decision

Not to three evidence of close strategic coordination between Germany and Japan. The German general staff recognized that Japan was bound by the neutrality pact with Russia but hoped that the Japanese would be done, sea, air and land forces in the far east. "In the absence of any evidence to the contrary, it is believed that Japan did not unilaterally and not in accordance with a unified strategic plan.

Hitler's Fatal Decision

Here were three critical nations eager for loot and seeking greedily to advance their own self-interest by war, yet unable to agree on a strategic over-all plan for accomplishing a common objective.

Hitler's Fatal Decision

As evaluated by the war department general staff, the interrogations of the captured German commanders disclose the following: "The available evidence shows that Hitler's original intent was to create, by absorption, Germanic peoples in the areas contiguous to Germany and by the strengthening of new frontiers, her greater reach which would dominate Europe.

Acreage Curb Matters Left Up to States

DENVER, Nov. 17 (AP)—The National Reclamation association left it up to the individual states today to get congress to remove the 100-acre limitation on lands for irrigation water from reclamation projects.

Delegates passed a weakened version of a resolution asking congress to lift the limitation at a meeting closing session of the convention yesterday over the protests of Colorado, California, Nevada, Idaho, Kansas, New Mexico and Oregon.

The resolution as passed states that "cure of lands and soil and occupation have developed, and vested rights have attached through ownership and use," practices which make it "difficult and uneconomical to conform to limitations."

J. E. Shrock of Austin, Tex. said the limitation "is a socialist device, trying to stifle to high heavens." Secretary of the interior files in a message to the members, and said a "dangerous tendency" to large farms which could lead to an "American peasantry" and degrade the life of the servicemen of irrigated land.

Other resolutions adopted would: Uphold state's rights in water development.

Oppose all river authority bills. Increase federal power rates to remove most of the cost of multiple purpose projects from water users. Promote forestation studies.

Secure equal rates to all irrigation consumers. Request states to establish facilities to do their share of development planning.

Urges congress to appropriate money to resume war-interrupted projects.

Secure overtime pay for irrigation maintenance employes. Omaha was selected as the 1946 convention city.
